Bud, Bill and the Waiter—Kalem—December 1.—Bud, courting Mildred, is cut out by Bill, his big brother, and hungers for revenge. Bill, in an ice cream parlor with Mildred, escapes having to pay for his order when a Fly is discovered in his dish and he complains to the landlord. This gives Bill an idea. When he takes him to the police station, he finds a button of Bill's father's pocketbook in his vest pocket and manages, by dropping them in the dish, to again escape without paying for his food. Bud, growing desperate, writes to six former sweethearts of Bill and summons them all to Wrec'tor's, where Bill is to dine that evening with Mildred. The manager learns how Bill is apt to drop flies into the food to escape payment, and prepares to foil the trick. All six of Bill's sweethearts descend upon him, and he has to handle a rush of fly dropping the fly trick unsuccessfully, he is ejected from the place and Bud, rescuing Mildred, is once more restored to his former place in her affections. Ruth Rowland and Bud Duncan featured.

Coupon Collectors—Lubin—December 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Gink are coupon fiends and buy all sorts of articles in order to get coupons. The wash women, street cleaners and blind finders give coupons and the local dentist offers four coupons for every tooth pulled. The Ginks store their coupons in a safe in the living room, but two burglars break into the house and, despoiling the money and jewelry, escape with the coupons. When arrested they are permitted to pay their fines in coupons, since the sergeant is a coupon fiend himself. On the same reel is

For A Widow's Love—Lubin—December 1.—The judge and the mayor both love the dashing young widow, Daisy Dunne. They quarrel over her and the quarrel eventually leads to a challenge to a duel. Daisy is delighted to know that she is to be the heroine of a duel, but when neither man has fallen after two shots have been fired, it is discovered that the guns are loaded with blanks. The two duelists decide to turn the tables on Daisy and with the aid of some red paint and bandages they soon appear as candidates for the undertaker. When Daisy sees them she is hysterical and flees the scene, followed by the doctor, who adorns an opiate in the shape of an engagement ring. May Hotely featured.

The Rival Stage Lines—Selig—December 1.—Tom Mix and the Selig cowboys are seen to splendid advantage in this one-reel western, a drama of the country which concerns Harding Martin and David Patrick, both desperately in love with Elsie Johnson. Both young men decide to go west to fame and fortune. The rivalry continues in business, and when it is announced that the local expressman will award the contract to this stage line or that stage line, the rivalry increases. A band of Indians hold-up one stage, and a band of cow-boys the other. Meanwhile the express manager takes the two stage coaches to the winning point, and not only wins Elsie, but announces the express company will install its own stage line.

Saved from a Life of Crime—Vitagraph—(Two Reels)—December 1.—Tom, a street waif, holds up and robs an old woman with his toy pistol and "blows" his pals to an ice cream treat. The feast is interrupted by the police and Tom is taken to court, where the judge places him on probation. The probation officer, believing that Tom has the making of a good man in him, permits the boy to be adopted by Mr. Barns, a wealthy philanthropist. Amid surroundings of refinement and wealth, the boy grows up to be a fine young man and in time becomes a prominent and successful lawyer. Tom has learned to love Helen, his adopted father's daughter, but on account of his humble origin hesitates about proposing. When a Christmas tree causes a fire in his home, Tom proves such a hero that Helen declares her love for him and the two become engaged. James Morrison and Dorothy Kelly featured.

The Fable of the Club Girls and the Four Times Veteran—Essanay—December 2.—Some very good camera effects are achieved in the opening scenes of this film into which the book is featured. The photography and direction is worthy of mention. A girls' club is organized to discuss the current evils, principally men. Many theories are explained by the members of the club, but all have a flaw in them until at last the widow who has been married four times to four entirely different types of men tells what she has learned from actual experience. She also tells that in time a woman forgets that there is such a thing as a husband. Moral: Absurd! Marriages heart grows accustomed.

The Prodigal—Slippery Slim—(Two Reels)— December 3.—Slippery Slim, the half-breed son of a mountain Range, is a young man, with a love of adventure, has been trying to ensnare Gordon, but finds him proof against her wiles. He goes to the city to seek employment, and is amazed to learn that she is engaged by a company of which Gordon is the president. Gordon eventually wins Violca's heart, and they are married. Marie, however, resolves to separate the two and leads Gordon to drink. Violet returns to the company, and Gordon, realizing the result of his conduct, follows her and at last effects reconciliation. Tom Moore and Margaret Laird.

The House of D'Or—Louis—(Two Reels)—December 2.—When D'Or, a plunger, dies he leaves Sanford, his son, an immense fortune and the "House of D'Or." Falling death of his father, Rockland, another financier, sets out to "break" Sanford Herne. He obtains an appointment in the "House of D'Or" and Mary, the girl Sanford loves, acquiring possession on July 1, 1895, remarking to her secretary "this is a bonanza, but I remember July 1, 1895." Sanford, ruined, also has occasion never to forget that important date. Years later when Sanford is a minor, a street urchin, Bar- ber, a street urchin one night, who once more inspires him with the desire to rise in the world. When later Barber is seen by Rockland, now a millionaire, the latter takes him for a poor derelict, gives him a card and tells him that if he will call at his office next day he will give him a job. Barber bets Sanford that the millionaire has some secret in his life and that he will play upon that he can blackmail Rockland and offer him and name a certain date when the money is to be forthcoming. Sanford suggests, and for the following day when Barber at Rockland's office declares "I have not come for a job, but to demand restitution. Remember July 1, 1895," Sanford tells him to start at recollection which this date brings to mind and offers Barber money. With this as a basis, Sanford speculates and eventually is successful in the stock market as to crush Rockland. This turns the tables on the millionaire, though constantly the two are reconciled.

The Lion Hunter—Selig—December 2.—One of the Selig jungle zoo pictures in which the Selig maneges plays an important part, for in this single-reel subject, two elephants and several lions are strongly featured. Hans Fredericka, a South African Boer, resides with Williammina, his daughter, in a comfortable bungalow, in love with Peter Grosse, a young Boer who lives nearby, though, upon the arrival of Law- rence, an English hunter, who has visited them before with a hunting trip, Wilhelmina is distracted from her love for Peter by the handsome Englishman, who is engaged by her as a keepake-talismen, which she hangs about her neck with a ribbon. Peter becomes jealous, and engages a

The House of D'Or—Louis—(Two Reels)—December 2.—When D'Or, a plunger, dies he leaves Sanford, his son, an immense fortune and the "House of D'Or." Falling death of his father, Rockland, another financier, sets out to "break" Sanford Herne. He obtains an appointment in the "House of D'Or" and Mary, the girl Sanford loves, acquiring possession on July 1, 1895, remarking to her secretary "this is a bonanza, but I remember July 1, 1895." Sanford, ruined, also has occasion never to forget that important date. Years later when Sanford is a minor, a street urchin, Barber, a street urchin one night, who once more inspires him with the desire to rise in the world. When later Barber is seen by Rockland, now a millionaire, the latter takes him for a poor derelict, gives him a card and tells him that if he will call at his office next day he will give him a job. Barber bets Sanford that the millionaire has some secret in his life and that he will play upon that he can blackmail Rockland and offer him and name a certain date when the money is to be forthcoming. Sanford suggests, and for the following day when Barber at Rockland's office declares "I have not come for a job, but to demand restitution. Remember July 1, 1895," Sanford tells him to start at recollection which this date brings to mind and offers Barber money. With this as a basis, Sanford speculates and eventually is successful in the stock market as to crush Rockland. This turns the tables on the millionaire, though constantly the two are reconciled.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.

The Mysterious Mr. Davey—Vita- graph—December 2.—Though recently released from a confinement in the Bungalow, in Wal- lock and Adela Lane featured.

N. G. C.
given a taste of his own medicine by being ducked.

Making Them Cough Up—Biograph—December 4.—A local reformer, seeking material for his lecture, follows Mr. Gayboy and Mrs. Bobb to a cabaret and obtains the most voluminous results. On the night of the lecture he asks the ladies to withdraw and then announces that a certain married man present took a trap from Mr. Gayboy and perhaps he will be exposed. Practically every man in the room empties his pockets and the reformer decides he has come to the end of his song's world.

Who Goes There?—Edison—(Two Reels)—December 4.—H. A. De Souchet's famous book of this name is the foundation of this comedy featuring Walter Perkins. Much of its humor must have been in its line for, though it is a good comedy and above the average of the length, it really could not be termed exceptional. It is at a little advantage in having to develop complications before the identity of the character is clearly fixed in the spectator's mind. Straight out as time as do the mixed-up love affairs of Walter Perkins, Augustus Phillips, Harry Beaumont, Sally Crute, Ethel, and Viola Dona. Story revolves about the difficulties encountered by three young military officers in obtaining leave from duty to become mates. Whatever Newman, "Toppy," obtains legitimate leave, but his friends, Upton and Enright, have to take French leave. The irate fathers arrive and have their scolding, rendezvous about and threaten, but finally give their consent to the marriages and assist in the ceremony.

The Place, the Time and the Man—Essanay—(Two Reels)—December 4.—When Mrs. Walker addresses the Shoestring Makers' Union, her daughter, Ethel, takes advantage of the opportunity to eloquise with Gustave Henri, son of Mrs. Walker's despised neighbors, and Mr. Walker attends a masquerade ball in devil's attire. Mrs. Walker awakens the return of her husband with a rolling pin, but his costume frightens her, and he warns her that in future she is to treat her husband more kindly. The following day Mrs. Walker is lavished with attentions by his wife, and when Ethel and her husband return home, Walker yanks the daughter into the same old man-made beds and out on the street. A telegram, telling Walker that he has won first prize at the masquerade ball, is received by Gustave, who rushes to Walker's at once. Walker at once understands the mistake she has made and when she proceeds to "beat the devil" Ethel and Gustave make their escape.

A Believer in Dreams—Lubin—December 4.—Helen Ainsley, in the conservatory, waiting for her admirer, Philip, to bring her her fan is charmed by the singing of Bruce McCartell, the opera star and as a result Helen dreams that night that she is back in the swashbuckling age, in a garden full of masked revelers, and that she is charmed by the singing of one of the troubadours. In many ways the scene corresponds to the one that night in the conservatory and on awaking she realizes that her dream means that she should marry the singer rather than Philip, her other admirer. She sends for Bruce next morning and he becomes engaged. On their marriage day Bruce is detained by getting rid of an old flame, one of the many with whom he has had affairs in the past and Helen is momentarily over by the heat and odors from the flowers in the church, and one more believes herself back in the middle ages. This time, however, she gets a better look at the face of the troubadour who has bewitched her and discovers that he resembles Philip. Happily, in the morning, awakening she refuses to go on with the wedding and returns the engagement ring to Bruce. At home once more she sends a note to Philip. Their engagement is renewed. Ormi Hawley and Edward Peil featured.

Love's Acid Test—Selig—December 4.—The exciting, though rather obsolete story of a love-sick drug clerk, who puts poison in a prescription made up for a sick man, and after discovering his mistake, rushes wildly to the home of his victim, in the hope that he may arrive in time to save the patient the taking the medicine. Needless to say, the drug clerk arrives in time and all is well.

The Methods of Margaret—Vitagraph—December 4.—Dick Stanford, an easy-going business man, is impressed upon by Miss Blake, his flirty, gum-chewing stenographer. His wife, Margaret, objects to Miss Blake and demands that she be fired, though Stanford insists that he does not interfere with her servants and that she should let him manage his office help. Returning home that night he finds that she has installed male servants in his home, that the butler is smoking his best cigars, the cook is loudly swearing in the kitchen, and the general toppy-turvy. When he attempts to change things Margaret requests him not to interfere with her servants. He eventually capitulates, discharges his stenographer and hires a man, whereupon Margaret once more restores the former house servants to their positions.

The Deacon's Son—Biograph—December 5.—The deacon's profligate son leaves for the city and at his boarding house becomes a gangster with whom he falls in love and to whom he is eventually married. The boy does not give his age in his eights and two years later his wife and baby visit the husband's native village. The child is placed in the care of a stranger and the mother secures as his tutor the home of her husband's former friend, George. The deacon, calling one day at the place where the child has been left, learns in the deacon's son has met his maker in straight way visits George and insists, "you must send her away at once, she is a disgrace to the community." Instead of discharging George, the former gangster marries him and the deacon is much surprised over what he thinks a scandal. The next morning a trap is thrown from a passing freight train, is found and taken to the home of George, where it is discovered he is the deacon's son. When the deacon again visits George to find out why the maid has not been discharged he is amazed to be confronted by his son, who acknowledges the maid as his wife, and he dies of exposure and the bruises he receives by being thrown from the train.

It's a Bear—Edison—December 5.—A successful comedy though founded on an improbable plot. A trap, dressed as a bear, goes to a state prison to attempt a bear and is sent out to kill it and thinks he has done so when the trap's pal discloses the secret and extorts money on the threat of exposing his fine piece of bravery. Buskins, pays, and is then threatened with arrest by the sheriff for hunting without a license. As the guests walk back to the hotel they hear angry voices and turning, discover the "bear" and his pal quarrelling over the disposal of the money. This ends Buskins' chances with Jean, and his appeal to the tramps to return his money is met with a hearty laugh.

Broncho Billy's Judgment—Essanay—December 5.—Broncho Billy and his pal are in love with the same girl. Broncho suggests that they go to her home and settle the matter. They arrive just in time to see the girl marrying a gambler who is known to be a good-for-nothing by both Broncho and his pal. They decide to leave the country together. One morning Broncho awakes to find a note from his pal, saying that he fears the girl living with that man and intends to devote his life to watching over her. Ten years later the gambler is killed in a saloon by an unknown man. Broncho is now sheriff and sets out to find the criminal. He discovers him to be his old pal. Broncho takes off his star rather than arrest his pal for defending their old time sweetheart.

The Stolen Engine—Kalaim—December 5.—Another of "The Hazards of Helen" series. Tom O'Grady, section foreman, is discharged for carelessness, and while walking gloomily down the track, finds a valuable package, lost from an express train, and takes it home to Quarry, is requested to search for the package and soon comes upon O'Grady, who has been knocked unconscious by a gangster. O'Grady, upon examining the package, the crooks hold up the crew of a freight engine and compel the engineer to go ahead at full speed. Helen, the telegrapher, finds him on a nearby side-track and sets out to follow the thieves. Traveling on a parallel track they overtake the freight engine, and Helen leaps from her locomotive to the freight, to help her husband, who manages to overpower the two yeggys.

The brave girl recovers the package and her story results in O'Grady's re-instatement. Helen goes to the station, confident of her future success.

Brown's Cook—UBERN—DECEMBER 5—Bob Johnson is invited to dinner at the home of his friend, Judson Brown, and meets not only the new Mrs. Brown, but also the cook who has provided a splendid dinner. Johnson, returning home, discovers his own cook gone and conceives the idea of kidnapping Brown's cook. He engages a gunman to kidnap the cook, but the gunman abducts Mrs.
Brown instead. Brown telephones Mrs.
Johnson what has happened and trouble commences. Eventually, after much confusion, the two men come to an understanding and the complications are straightened out. clay Hotely featured.

On the same reel is

"He Wanted His Pants"—UBERN—DECEMBER 5—James Jimson wins several hundred dollars playing poker and returns to the frontier home. He snores away his wealth and she finds not only the money, but a hole in one of his pockets and takes them down stairs to mend. Lacking the money, he sees his chance, while Jimson wakens and finds neither his wife or his pants, and decides both have been stolen.
Clad in a frock coat, silk hat and a table cover, he rushes out on the street and calls for a policeman.
They eventually locate Mrs. Jimson and break in on her, but the money and the money are restored to their owner. Raymond Mckeel and Frances Ne Moyer featured.

Her Sister—SELIG—DECEMBER 5—A

A dramatic tragedy from the pen of Gilson
Willets in which Stella Razeto and Adda
Gleason are the leading roles, those of Molly and Kate Adams, two pretty sistaers, who live at home with their ins-valid mother and are employed in a department store. Kulp one of the floor walkers in the store, becomes smitten with the charms of Molly, though his intentions are dishonorable. When Molly is threatened with discharge, Kulp makes her believe he will assist her, though in doing so he compromises her. She wears home a gold bracelet given her by Kulp and Kate, her sister, fearing the worst, conceals a poisoned dagger in her waist, and sets out to visit the Kulp home. Vengeance precedes her, for Kulp in a sub-normal condition is killed by the sting of a wasp, the poison having entered his juglar vein. Eventually Molly finds a home and a true lover in with the love affairs of Ethel Peyton, a pretty society girl, who is adored by both Sam Reynolds and Henry Warner, room-mates. Each plans to attend a ball at Ethel's home, but when Sam sees her dress coat, he helps himself to Henry's, and Henry, later, has to mend the only remaining coat, as best he can, in order to get to the ball. Arrived at the socierity, finding himself so embarrassed to have the coat rip again, but Ethel comes to his assistance, and by a clever subterfuge regains his own coat, which Sam has been wearing. Henry, meanwhile, has found Sam's engagement ring in the pocket of the coat he mended, and truly little Sallie, his half, places it on Ethel's finger.

Mutual Program

Mr. Hadley's Uncle—KOMIC—DECEMBER 5—Mr. Hadley writes his uncle, whom he has never seen, advising him to invent some of his money. The uncle wires Hadley saying he will call on him and bring money with him. In the meantime, the money escapes from an asylum and wanders into Hadley's office. Ethel, thinking he is the rich uncle, draws and tries to tempt him for Hadley. The keepers trace him to the office, the real uncle arrives after many painful experiences, and things are squared.

Mutual Weekly—No. 100—Mutual

NOVEMBER 26—Several hundred feet of the latest pictures from the seat of war, a close up view of the U. S. cruiser Tennessee which was recently fired upon by the Turks and a recent picture of Lord Roberts, England's fighting general, who died recently. Views of the British contingent sailing from Shanghai, China for the front, and a glimpse of one of the modern dances, "The Fox Trot".

The Beggar Child—AMERICAN—(TWO REELS)—DECEMBER 5—A beautiful American feature, staged among beautiful scenic backgrounds. Ed Coxen and Winifred Greenwood are featured in the story which has the life history of Hugo, a poor artist, who is inspired to paint a great picture, which wins him both fame and fortune. He adopts his little model, and when she grows to womanhood, she becomes the wife of Dan Street, an American art student, who has met and fallen in love with her. See review on page 777, this issue.

Cupid and a Dress Coat—BEAUTY—December 1—Margarita Fisher and Harry Pollard in a clever little comedy dealing of a man who is cast off by his family because his mining investments have been declared worthless. His wife then spends her time trying to marry her daughter to money. Denby, a wealthy young fellow, falls into the trap without knowing on the girl's father. Just before the marriage ceremony he discovers the father hidden in a coat for which he has been paid, and insists that he, and not the selfish son Oscar, give away the bride. Thereafter Denby and the old man are chums, and the father tells his son-in-law that he is sober and gainful. Denby becomes interested, and invests his entire fortune in it. When the rest of the family learns of it they are curious. At first the report is that the mine is worthless, but later on, when properly worked, it proves to be all that the good-for-nothing had believed it to be. Later father meets his unworthy son, now ruined, and gives him the proceeds of the mine's first dividend.

The Strength O' Ten—AMERICAN—December 2—A temperance story of the mountains in which William Garwood and Vivian Rich have the leading roles.
Betty, a mountain girl, is beloved by a score or more of the rough natives in her mountain valley. When her Czoo weds a man, the social order of the valley is upset. Betty does not respond to the love of any of her men, for she knows that all of the boys are heavy drinkers. When Jep, a hunter, enters Betty's life, she is so delighted to discover that he is the son of the man who decided, on his independence, to quit drinking, that he can withstand the refusal of his proposal without taking drinks that she will marry him. She makes the test and, though sorely tempted, Jep resists temptation by proving his strength superior to all of her suitors in a rough and tumble scrap which results in her acceptance of him.
Jep so conclusively proves his metal that the rough mountaineers determine to forebear drink in the hope that they may become as strong as Jep.

N. G. C.

A Romance of Old Holland—(Two REELS)—BRONCHO—December 2—Hulda Mott, a pretty Dutch girl lives in an old mill with her father, the miller.

Absolom Van Spratt a wealthy old man, holds notes from Hulda's father for the mill. Absolom wishes to marry Hulda, but she is in love with Peter Veltis, a fisherboy. Peter leaves on a fishing trip, after first gaining Hulda's consent to marry him upon his return. Absolom arranges to get rid of Peter. During the trip Peter and another man are out in a small boat with fishing nets and are swept at sea. At last Peter sees an old duck and manages to get aboard.
His companion dies. Peter finds the Brooks, the manager of the store, while Kate wins the affections of Dr. Holt, the family physician.

N. G. C.
Who Shot Bud Walton?—RELIANCE—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 5.—Adapted from the story of this name in the Popular Magazine by George Patullo. Bud Walton and left-handed Japanese fisherman has arranged to have his daughter marry Owaru, against her will. Kenjirō, son of a wealthy Japanese merchant, is in a wreck at sea and is washed on the wreckage near Mira’s home. She rescues him, they fall in love and her engagement with Owaru is cancelled. Kenjirō is appointed “One Year Godmaster,” a Japanese custom, which although quite an honor requires him to live the life of a hermit for one year, and if a calamity comes on him it is to be caused by some negligence on the part of the God-Master to his religious duties. A ship from Asia brings the plagues of war and Owaru’s fires of suspicion against Kenjirō. Kenjirō is put in prison. Believing Owaru guilty of having drugged Kenjirō, Mira imprisons his sweetheart and plays upon his religious fears. She frightens him and he falls over a precipice. Dying, he confesses to having drugged Kenjirō.

The Lucky Shot—RELIANCE—DECEMBER 2.—Clark loses his job in the East, and goes West prospecting. Promising his mother that he will send for her as soon as he has made good. He secures a position in a mine, and is one day entrusted with a large sum of money to take across the mountains. On the way he determines to steal the money and leave the country. An outlaw takes him for the would-be-thief. He finds that the bullet which passes through his hat has clipped off a bit of rock, disclosing a rich vein of gold. He abandons his plans for stealing his employer’s money, establishes a claim to the land, and sends for his mother.

Mother of the Shadows—(Two Reels)—KAY BEE—DECEMBER 4.—Laughing Moon, sister of the Sioux chief, saves the life of Lieut. Eldridge, after he protects her from a drunken Mexican. The friendship ripens into love. Sometime later, the chief arrives at the post with his tribe and Laughing Moon and demands to see the Colonel, whom he informs that Laughing Moon has a child, of which one of his officers is the father. The Colonel orders all the officers to forego him and tells Laughing Moon to pick out the man. She refuses to betray Eldridge, but he admits it. The Colonel demands that he marry her. The tribe in a dispute that follows one of his warriors is placed under arrest. The chief attacks the fort. During the battle a bullet strikes Laughing Moon, using her arm as a bolt, holds it shut. She dies a heroine in the eyes of her husband and in the annals of posterity.

Universal Program

Animated Weekly No. 142—UNIVERSAL—November 14.—One of the kaiser’s battleships; King Baggot, Universal star, conferring with Mayor Mitchell in regard to aiding the war sufferers; little girl who saves a twenty-year-old man from war Lindley M. Garrison and General Scott, the newly appointed chief of staff; the Grand Opera singers arriving in New York from Europe and a view of the Yale-Harvard football game witnessed by 75,000 people, the largest crowd ever attending a sporting event, are to be found in this issue of the weekly.

A Lonely Salvation—Victor—(Two Reels)—November 30.—Steve is the name of a young woman, whose environments have always been those of the hard side of life. She is trained by her father to steal, and one night enters the home of Stonleigh. He notices the police, but is, however, too furious to confess his guilt. Often the temptation to return to her former ways is hard, but Stonleigh’s vision rises before her and makes her resist it. She drags away his letters stop coming. She returns to the East and learns that Stonleigh is dead.

A Barber Shop Feud—CRYSTAL—DECEMBER 1.—A slap-stick comedy in which two barbers are seen courting the manicurist, Myrtle, during working hours. One succeeds in having the other fired, and the latter’s form of revenging his discharge nearly wrecks the shop. After the free-for-all fight in which everyone becomes covered with paint the discharged barber steps in, secures his old position, reforms the shop, and wins the fair Myrtle’s hand.

Charley Woos Vivian—CRYSTAL—DECEMBER 1.—Slowboy loves Vivian Catchon, but is too bashful to propose. The hero comes to town on love-making, and while Slowboy peeks through the keyhole, he proposes to Vivian and is accepted. When she learns that he is only fooling she grows angry, and sues him for breach of promise. After considerable argument they decide to let the matter stand as it is, and announce their engagement, much to Slowboy’s sorrow. On the same reel with “A Barber Shop Feud.”

Called Back—Gold Seal—(Four Reel)—DECEMBER 1.—Dr. Manuel Ceneri and Sig. Macari are two conspirators in London, fighting for what they believe to be the freedom of Italy. To further their cause they appropriate money belonging to Anthony March’s inheritance. When Ceneri’s nephew starts an investigation Macari kills him. The shock of her brother’s death affects Pauline’s mind, and leaves her memory a blank. Gilbert Vaughan, a wealthy gentleman, meets Pauline, and becomes infatuated with her, but does not know, until after their marriage, that her mind is a blank. In time her memory is restored, and she remembers the events leading to Anthony’s death. In the final denouement the conspirators are seen to meet in the deserts, and Vaughan and Pauline look forward to a new and happy married life.

The Girl Stage Driver—ECCLAIR—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 2.—Webster Cullison, director-in-chief of Eclair, has again demonstrated his ability to make a film crowded with punches. The story tells of a plucky western girl who takes her dead father’s place as stage driver, and single-handed brings to justice two desperados who have terrorized the small western town. Edna Payne as the girl stage driver and Norbert A. Myles as the sheriff lend true western personality to the story and the hold-up of the stage coach, running fight with the bandits and their final capture in a deserted well, forms most exciting and interesting incidents.

Fielding—JOKER—DECEMBER 2.—Father and son confide in each other about their respective engagements, but do not know that they have both given diamonds to the same girl. One night the son calls on his fiancee, and is pushed into the closed closet and finally buried by a trap is heard. Enter father, who also is relegated to the clothes closet when someone else is heard at the door. They quietly open the closet and find a woman and finally break down the door. A stalwart and angry man, who says he is the girl's husband, drives them from the house.

The Young Philanthropist.—Decemb—Matty plays the good Samaritan to this rich, the "Real Boy" series. He takes a sickly infant from the hands of a little girl of the slums, and springing to the act of compassion, he returns to the girl her necklace. The girl tells her mother of the occurrence, and the woman hurries to the milk station and demands the child. The nurses point out to her the benefit of sanitary feeding, and she realizes that it is for the child's good. On Matty's appeal the rich man's wife has the poor family sent to the country until the father is able to work, and then secures him a position.

The Mystery of Sea View Hotel.—Rex—(Two Reels)—December 3. Ben Wilson is here featured in a mystery the only clue to which is a queerly perfumed handkerchief found in an abandoned trunk but without satisfying results, it branches in many directions and involves people who, the detective believes, have no part in the many secrets being committed at the hotel. A new clue develops. Ben is visited in his room twice by a person in the garb of a monk. The detective finds women's shoes, women's dancing shoes, and the second time, men's shoes. An attempt is made on Ben's life and he decides to quit the hotel. He engages a female detective to take his place, and sets a trap for the thieves. The first evening the woman wears a beautiful, but fake, diamond necklace. That night the thief takes the bait, and the trap is sprung, disclosing a kleptomaniac.

Love, Luck and Candy.—Sterling—December. The fact that their hearts are with the maiden, Max, calling upon them. Heart Dot, finds another rival has won her. He goes to a drug store and orders some poison, but the clerk, seeing that something threatens his job, tells him he won't supply the sugar instead, and Max, after mixing the supposed poison with some candy, sends it to Dot. Dot, in the meantime, is thrown over by the new lover, and her love returns to Max; she sends him a note. Max starts on a mad dash to prevent her from eating the candy. In the meantime Dot, after eating some of the candy, is frightened by a rat and falls in a faint. Max, arriving at Dot's home, finds the same scene, and finds the police 'phones for the ambulance. He takes the poison and telephones the ambulance. He thinks he is a murderer and decides to end it all by eating the remainder of the cause. He stumbles, staggers, and is dying. Dot revives, appears in the doorway, and Max thinks it is her spirit returned to haunt him. The ambulance has been mixed up with a construction gang and is blown up with dynamite. Dot and Max are happily reunited.

When Lizzie Got Her Polish.—Nestor—December 6. The daughter of a western ranch owner and is very much of a tomboy. Her uncle, desiring to make the girl his heir, has sent to an eastern university for her, but her western manners cause consternamuch to the amusement of her crowd, and after finding an infant babe in her arms, becomes changed for the better in character. The life of the gay cafes causes her to attract to her. On Leon she is a model—nothing more. The young artist wins the prize and his old sweettheart, Marie, approaches him and offers her love. He accepts in a preoccupied sort of way. Later he is brought to realize that the reformed Clarine is the one who has captured his heart, and they become married. The picture is full of human appeal and touching scenes.

Papa Buys a Bale.—Victor—December 4. To revenge himself on Elsie's stubborn dad, Reggio raises the man's cotton order from one bale to one hundred bales. A merry war ensues in which bales of cotton figure conspicuously. It ends by Reggio's throwing out a couple of tramps who are trying to impose on dad's good nature, winning the girl by virtue of his chivalry.

Ponding of Father Time.—101 Bovv—(Two Reels)—December 5. A pathetic story of a man who, after having given the best years of his life in the service of his firm, is discharged when he is un- able to stand the swift pace of progress. His wife attempts to cheer him up, faithful co-worker that she is, but it is of no use. He cannot secure another position. The old couple fall exhausted one rainy day on a bench in a public square, unnoticed by the crowds engaged in the usual activities. The police calls them, speaks to them, approaches and speaks, but they do not answer. Closer examination discloses that their spirits have gone over the Great Divide.

The Dream of a Painting.—Joker—November 25. In an art gallery Henry Peck becomes enamored with the painting of a girl by Eugene Egbert, and his wife, much to his wife's chagrin. She slips from his better half's sight, takes a position in front of the picture, and is startled to see her husband. A boy who, when asked if he is the girl's husband, says he is the girl's husband.

The Heart of a Magdalene.—Powers—(Two Reels)—December 4. One night at a café Leon Hewitt, a young artist, is attracted to a painting and beauty of the notorious Mlle. Clarine Caldec, and asks her to pose for him a painting of the Madonna that he is going to enter in a contest. She agrees to do it.

The Higher Impulse.—Eclair—December 6. Ben, a drunkard, neglects his wife and child until they leave him and attempt to earn a living themselves. When this story of affairs cannot be prevented, the woman retires, and the usual thing happens. The princess attacks Peck with a dagger and the man wakes up to find his wife poisoning him in his sleep. The man is saved with an anesthetic.

Fido's Dramatic Career.—L-Ko—December 6. Fido, a dog of the streets, answers a pet pup. He is bought by everybody, crawls upon the lawn of a beautiful residence to take a nap. He dreams that he is the same dog, and is struck by the sameetical figure of the woman, and he wakens from his dream. He goes over the street and looks out with her encounters all the people who have been rough to him, and места them their love the way the looks out. He is and the contest between Mike's Billy Goat and Fritz's Grizzly Bear is the guest of honor occupying a private box. From his father's dream he is gradually awakened by the owner of the lawn turning the horse on him just as he was about to be pursued by the goat in a lake. Both the situations are unique in view of the fact that all the participants are animals, and throughout the picture the comedy inter-

Womje Find's Love in Unwonted Manhood.—Rex—(Two Reels)—December 6. On completing her college course Agnes Dunne returns home and learns that her son of the Earl of Dorincourt and marriage with an effeminate little minister. Her abrupt refusal shocks her straight-laced New England parents and the girl returns home determined to overcome her rudas ways. There she meets two brothers who have a feud of long standing between them. Both in love with her and the sheer strength and wonderfull physique of one of the brothers attracts her. She is about to confess her love to the giant when she meets a real man, the Reverend Hugh Baxter, to whom she surrenders uncondi-

Feature Programs

Alco

Little Lord Fauntleroy—Exclusive—(Four Reels)—November 16. The prologue shows the worthlessness of the son of the Earl of Dorincourt and the worthiness of his young son Cedric Erroll. Because Cedric is not an aristocrat and marries an American girl his father disowns him. One of the elder sons marries an adventuress, who has deserted her son and husband. The two older boys die in disgrace and Cedric's life is taken by a man who wishes to have Cedric's son come to him, but the boy and his mother will not part. The opening of the story shows the gentle and loving character of little Fauntleroy. His mother, in destitute circumstances, finally sends the boy to his grandfather, and his many actions endear him to the old man. The adventurous plans to feather her own nest by having her son become Lord Fauntleroy and to marry a princess. Cedric's son is to be upheld. Through the influence of a boot-black, whom little Fauntleroy had at one time befriended, the first husband of the adventurous is discovered and arrives in time to upset her plans. The earl then takes the little son and the wife of his worthy boy into his home, and together they live in happiness.

Eclectic

When Fate Was Kind—Eclectic (Three Reels)—Joel Lang, to avenge himself on Edwin Forbes, decides to use Stella Le Roy, a girl whose shabby past he knows, to corrupt her and consequently her husband. Stella and the girl are cast here off. The boarding house in which the seamer lives is next door to the house in which the blacksmith's daughter is living. Little Sunbeam plays on her violin, and the old songs influence the erring girl next door to go home. Eventually she finds her sister while posing for an artist, who has fallen in love with her.

Eclectic

Eccentric—A loitering man gives out that his pets is a scientist friend and the beast escapes from his cage. In turn an artist's studio and a military shop are visited by the leopard. Listening to the baying of his heart Enraged, he drives all the male patients out of the place and insists that his wife forget that is an "M. D." and become a real wife and mother.

General Special

Under the Gaslight—Biograph, Klaw & Erlanger (Four Reels)—Judas, a servant, is discharged by the Courtland family and she substitutes her baby girl as their little daughter. Judas, the Courtlands adopt the little child, thinking it to be a girl of the slums. Twenty years pass and Laura, their own child, is in love with Ray, as is Pearl, Judas' daughter. When Judas' husband tries to blackmail Laura, Pearl sees a chance to separate Laura and Ray, which she uses to her own advantage. Laura is saved by the society set, and becoming dependent, leaves her entire fortune to Ray and runs away. Judas and her husband move to a country house, but she is saved by Ray and Snacky, an ex-soldier, after a fight in the thieves' den near the river, in which Judas' husband is killed. Judas shatters Pearl's dream of the future by telling him that she is really a girl of the slums and Laura comes into her own. She is rescued by Ray and Snacky, and the two of them work the crime out. She forgives her adopted sister. Judas goes away forever. incidents. A complete review will be found on page 732 of the November 28th Motography.

The Spy’s Fate — Lubin — (Three Reels). — The Amalgamated Smelting Company, supported by the U. S. government, brings suit to recover damages done by the rebels in a foreign country and as envoy to the arbitration commission who meet at Bar Harbor, Frederick Thurston is opposed by Henri Sutro, who represents the foreigners. Sutro exalts the services of Jean Thiers and Madame Laroche, detectives, and Thurston secures Jack Maher and Mary Joyce, secret service agents. A battle of wits takes place, as the foreigners are determined to secure the American documents by fair or foul means. Madame Laroche and Thurston fall in love. Thiers secures the papers and when he sees the infatuation of his partner and the American man, tries to persuade her to return to Brussels with him, but she refuses. Maher finds out that Thiers has secured the papers and almost succeeds in getting them, but fails. Thurston attacks Thiers, but is vanquished and thrown into a vault and a water-faucet turned on. Madame Laroche kills Thiers and secures the papers, rushes back in time to save Thurston from drowning, and in turn manages to deliver the papers to the arbitration room in time to settle the affair peaceably.

Paramount

The Straight Road — Famous Players — (Four Reels) — Moll O’Hara interests Ruth Thompson, a settlement worker, and with her fiancé’s help she tries to reform the girl. The fiancé is a worthless fellow, however, and Moll exposes him. Her tenement lover threatens Ruth’s fiancé at the same time, and it looks as though Moll would have to remain in the old life, but all turns out right in the end. A complete review will be found on page 730 of this issue.

The Country Mouse — Bosworth — (Four Reels) — November 24 — Billy Balderson, though rough in his ways, has a wonderful brain, while his wife Addie can do nothing but cook and admire her husband. When a smooth “gent” tries to deceive the Baldersons, Billy takes up their cause and in the argument which follows on the meeting platform, makes use of his wonderful power to control any situation. He is nominated for legislature and wins, but when he goes home with his flowers and writes poems about her anonymously, but when she discovers who it is she is scornfully rejects him. Citizen, again courting Pauline because he lacks a title. Beausant proposes to Claude that he pose as the Prince of Como and inveigle his title. Claude agrees and the plan works perfectly, despite the suspicions of Colonel Damon who Claude worsts in a duel. He brings Pauline to his home and she is overcome by the discovery. He is thoroughly penitent of what he has done and decides to go away to war. Beausant calls upon Pauline to take her away, but she says she really loves her husband. The citizen attempts to force his attention upon her but Claude rescues her. He then goes away and is heard of no more for two and one-half years, during which time he wins fame for his heroism in the army. He returns a colonel, only to hear that Pauline is about to wed Beausant to save her father from financial ruin.

Syndicate

“The Million Dollar Mystery” — Episode 1 — Thanhouser — (Two Reels) — November 23 — Zudora, the uncle and guardian, Hassan Ali, seeks to cause her death, and secure the fortune which has been left her. He tells her that if she will solve twenty mysteries, she may marry her lover, John Smith, who is the first clue in clearing up of a murder mystery, and the saving of her lover’s name. A complete review will be found on page 728 of the issue of November 21.

Thanhouser Syndicate

Zudora — Episode 2 — Thanhouser — (Two Reels) — November 30 — Zudora’s uncle and guardian, Hassan Ali, solves the second of the twenty mysteries, given her by Hassan Ali, when he learns the cause of the sleep which comes over all the Arabs in a certain house. Complete review of this subject will be found on page 727 of the issue of November 28.

Universal Special

The Master Key — Universal — (Two Reels) — November 30 — The third episode of this serial begins with Wilkerson’s master key gone. Gilbert Gallon is the henchman of the mine. Shortly afterwards Gallon dies. His will names his daughter, Ruth, as heir to the key. He appoints the daughter as guardian. Dore is given a letter, on the envelope of which is a written command not to open the letter. Dore is exposed as the key is discovered. Dore’s birthday makes her welfare threatened. The miners revolt against Wilkerson’s domineering manner and Dore for them. Dore is discharged. The miners strike at this, and demand that Dore be re-instated. Wilkerson’s better judgment overcomes his hatred for the man, and he re-instates him in his old position of mining engineer.

Warners

* "A Taste of High Life" — Denis O'Neill is a trench digger in New York. In Ireland is another Denis O'Neill, the son of a wealthy baronet. The baronet disowns his son when the latter declares that he intends to marry Nora Keene, a country girl. Denis goes to America to seek his fortune. Penniless, he is compelled to take lodging in the very tenement in which the other Denis O'Neill lives. The baronet leaves his wealth and title to his son. By mistake, the inheritance goes to the wrong Denis O'Neill, who is not at all averse to accepting it. He at once takes to high life. One morning he awakens with an awful headache to be confronted by the stern fact that he has been using another man's money and title. Back to the shovel goes this Denis O'Neill and the other one weds his Nora.

The Price He Paid—HUMANOLOGY

* (Five Reels).—The man neglects his wife to court the society girl but the price he pays atones for his act. Adapted from Ella Wheeler Wilcox's poem. Complete review will be found on page 796.

Noisy Neighbors—WARNERS.— Si and Fritz were neighborly neighbors until Si installed agaudy, raucous rooster in his backyard, and then trouble began. Fritz, finding his sluiper disturbed of mornings, bought a big base drum, and had his daughter Lena beat it beneath Si's window. Si, angered at receiving a taste of his own medicine, had his son cut a hole in the drum, but Fritz, catching him at it, forced him into the body of the drum and sets it adrift. But still the rooster crows of mornings, and so Fritz resorts to dynamite. He blows up the rooster. The upshot of the feud is a thirty-day sentence in jail for Si, and this gives them ample time to meditate upon the folly of being anything but good neighbors.

World

* Lola—SCHUBERT (Five Reels).—Lola’s father is heartbroken when his daughter is killed. His scientist friend has perfected a machine whereby life can be restored to a person, without returning the soul, and he asks him for aid. Together they attempt the important experiment and the father is overjoyed when his daughter is no longer the sweet and generous girl she was, but rather selfish and unfaithful. She throws over her lover, neglects her father and follows in the path of riches. In time she is told by a doctor that any day she might die of heart failure. She returns to her father, but is not repentant enough to save her life. When she dies she must get another lease of life, as he had restored her to this state before. The father, crushed by the news, again wishes to apply his discovery for medical purposes, but the father, heartbroken at the result of the first experiment, and the rooster taking away the last opportunity his daughter has for life and shattering the life work of his friend.

Miscellaneous

* Jane Eyre—WHITMAN (Four Reels).—This is a picturization of the world-famous novel by Charlotte Brontë. Jane Eyre, a tutor in the home of Edward Fairfax Rochester, whose wife became insane after the birth of their first child, is coveted by the rich, restless man. Rochester plans to marry a young Siamese princess but is secretly married Jane without disclosing to her the fact that he has a wife living. The insane wife learns of her husband’s infidelity and employs the cunning succeeds in burning down the Rochester mansion, but herself perishes in the flames, thus leaving the way clear to an honorable union between Jane Eyre and Mr. Rochester.

Strand War Series (No. 10)—STRAND.

* The Fall of Ostend. Lady Dorothy Fielding arrives at Ostend to join the British forces which are landing there. The Allied troops are landing on Ostend. The Belgian dog-drawn maitrise leaving for the field of action. While the Allied forces arrive from the battlefield attended by priests, Belgian troops and inhabitants of Ostend leaving the stricken city. On their way to Dunkirk. Refugees boarding train.

* The Witness Invisible—BLINKHORN (Three Reels).—George Neville, son of an eminent professor of medicine, is reminded by a letter from a European century of his promise to create a sensation on her behalf by making magnificent artificial diamonds, and thus gain for her a tremendous fortune. She is so rich she seeks to frustrate the plan, but cannot be certain of Neville’s identity, as he always wears a black mask when going to and from the theater. A secret camera is therefore installed, and this invisible witness takes pictures of a terrible accident —some of which give the true state of things, while others seem proof that Neville is the murderer of Hedda. Neville’s father is terribly upset, and is forced to believe his son guilty, and hands him over to the police. Neville, bewildered, makes his escape, unconvinced of George’s guilt, begins an investigation on their own account, with eminently satisfactory results.

Strand War Series (No. 11)—STRAND.

The Vanishing Cinderella—HOLLAND.

* In this one reel picture Miss Fealey plays the role of a young lady reporter and, judging from the work done on the assignment, she will be one of the front rank of her profession. Tom MacEvoy and George Pierce are featured in this production and are ably assisted by George Newsom, Nora Koch, Kate Griffith and Sandy Chapman.

The Charlotte Street Mystery—GREAT NORTHERN (Three Reels).—Count Warden, an auction sale purchases a jewelled ornament, much coveted by Davidoff, an adventurer, and Kate Meredith, his associate. Kate obtains a position as nurse to the children of Detective Barker, and Davidoff secures an apartment next door to Barker’s and cuts a passage between Kate’s room and the apartment of the young Baroness. The Countess Warden, in the guise of his friend, goes to the apartment where the countess becomes unconscious and Kate dons her clothing, and returns to the countess’ home where she steals the necklace. When the countess returns home, she discovers the robbery, and summons Detective Barker. He is led by various clues to suspect Kate, but investigation by the Countess reveals her life has been blackmailed by Barker. Barker recovers the necklace, and the countess becomes conscious and Kate and Davidoff are arrested.

The Woman He Wronged—APEX (Four Reels).— Baron Rothschild orders his son George to Paris on account of a plan he has had with Helen Holt, the miller’s daughter, to go to Helen and the baron has another family adopt it, telling Helen it died immediately after birth. Count George marries Princess Louise Turner, and after the baron’s death returns to take possession of his estate. Lieutenant Berloff is sent to a district near the estate as a spy for his country, which is on the verge of war. He encounters the countess, who is his old sweetheart, and they hold clancular meeting. The countess get the plans from the army of her husband’s country, which is in a nearby camp. Incidents follow in rapid succession which lead to the pursuit of the countess and Berloff, who take refuge in a ship, the discovery by George that his child still lives, his meeting with the moldering Berloff when the ship is blown up, and the subsequent reuniting of Helen, George, and her child.

Blinkhorn Investigator—BLINKHORN (Three Reels).— William Horner, an ex-aviator, endeavors to steal the plans for a new high-powered aeroplane made for General Griffith. Through the services of an ex-aviator, Martin is proprietor of the Martin Auto and Aero Company, by whom Stewart is employed, and who are making the machine. Hornet is Gertrude's cousin and marshal of the plans. After the art refuses a bribe. He takes a train and Stewart pursues in his aeroplane. He lights on a hill, unseen, and introduces the car in which Hornet is riding and regains the plans. He then takes them back to Gertrude, and they then discover their father's cunning. The employee gains an understanding of the employee to each other. During the course of the photodrama numerous views of the scenes to which an aeroplane may be put to war service are shown.

The Suicide Club—A PEP (Three Reels).—Prince Florizel is ready for any mad freak in order to vary the monotony of his existence, so when Colonel Geraldine to whom he is introduced by a young man suggests visiting the "Suicide Club" he agrees and they go to an underground apartment where a number of men are seated around a table drawing cards to see which one will be killed and which one of the number will kill him. At first he thinks it is a joke and leaves; but on the return journey he is horrified. At the next meeting the prince himself is doomed but is rescued by Geraldine. In the message the president saying he will not betray his secret but insists that he shall accompany the colonel's son to Paris and that one of them must die. In Paris the president's accomplice, a beautiful woman, lures the young Geraldine to his death. The prince determines to give the president no quarter but on account of this act and at the next meeting of the club the president is doomed to die and the prince selected one to take his place. The president attempts to escape, but the lights are flashed out and the prince slays him. He then politely bows his way out of the room.

Children of the Jungle—E. & R. JU- NICE FIEI.-A young scientist searching for animals in the jungle becomes acquainted with an old man and his daughter. The girl has been raised in the jungle and her father is the only man she has ever known. Her knowledge of the beasts and the young man's interest in them can be learned in 15 minutes in their marriage. They are cared for by a tribe of savages, but one day the savages carry them on an inhabited island and put out to sea. The three white people left alone on the island become acquainted with a strange person, half man and half ape, who has a pet chimpanzee. Two years later while the mother is away from her child's bed the chimpanzee steals it and begins to make him a human devotion. It is only through the powers of the ape-man that the baby is rescued. Signal fires attract a ship and a few days later the white people sail away, while the ape-man remains behind.

The Last Dance—PICTURE PLAYHOUSE.—(Five Reels).—Jean a poor struggling artist falls madly in love with Conchita a circus dancer, but she can never strike her off the stage. His model Ninon enforces him in his efforts but he cannot achieve success. On the night of her last recital Conchita gives him a flower sent her by Jean and later Ninon persuades her to pose just once for the artist. He then makes a picture of her and gains undying fame. She comes to the studio while he is asleep and dances before him; then she kisses him and leaves and the picture he paints from the inspiration, ranking the highest award at the academy. Jean becomes famous overnight but it is not a life of dissolution follows for both Conchita and Jean. Broken in health he returns to the home of the faithful Ninon and on his deathbed he is again visited by Conchita who dances for him before he dies in her arms. As life holds nothing more for her she follows him into the unknown.

Thirty Leagues Under the Sea—Wil- liamson.—A submarine film taken by the Williamson brothers, showing under water views of the many strange fishes of the tropical Atlantic ocean; also a fight between a man and a man-eating shark; a deep sea diverexploring a wreck; native Bahama boys diving for coins; famous submarine gardens in the West Indies; a forest under the sea and numerous other views, which are seen for the first time on the screen.

Through the Valley of Shadows—HEW- WORTH-AMERICAN (Four Reels).—Flor- ence Turner retires her popularity in this drama, which affords her unusual opportunities for emotional work, which she carries through in a difficult part. At the opening of the story Miss Turner appears as a winsome, refined young princess for years after she is a worn-out, wretched creature, embittered against life, who is filled with a frenzy for revenge when the cause of her unhappiness and impoverishment is placed in her power. Dr. Cross' absorption in his work deprives him of the attention due her, and she naturally seeks the aid of her faithful lady-in-waiting. This leads to a misunderstanding, and the leaves and the picture he paints from the inspiration, ranking the highest award at the academy. Jean becomes famous overnight but it is not a life of dissolution follows for both Conchita and Jean. Broken in health he returns to the home of the faithful Ninon and on his deathbed he is again visited by Conchita who dances for him before he dies in her arms. As life holds nothing more for her she follows him into the unknown.

Thirty Leagues Under the Sea—Wil- liamson.—A submarine film taken by the Williamson brothers, showing under water views of the many strange fishes of the tropical Atlantic ocean; also a fight between a man and a man-eating shark; a deep sea diver exploring a wreck; native Bahama boys diving for coins; famous submarine gardens in the West Indies; a forest under the sea and numerous other views, which are seen for the first time on the screen.

Through the Valley of Shadows—HEW- WORTH-AMERICAN (Four Reels).—Flor- ence Turner retires her popularity in this drama, which affords her unusual opportunities for emotional work, which she carries through in a difficult part. At the opening of the story Miss Turner appears as a winsome, refined young princess for years after she is a worn-out, wretched creature, embittered against life, who is filled with a frenzy for revenge when the cause of her unhappiness and impoverishment is placed in her power. Dr. Cross' absorption in his work deprives him of the attention due her, and she naturally seeks the aid of her faithful lady-in-waiting. This leads to a misunderstanding, and the bears arms against them. When death ultimatums are made, and his troops arrive and save them. After a skirmish, Ashby again returns to the front and joins the main body of his country's troops in a fierce two days battle, returning victorious. After the war, the lieutenant returns to again court Ruth and this time he wins her heart and objects to him, as he has discovered a new significance in a biblical assertion that 'The Lord is a Man of War.'

Press Agent Says

That Ben Turpin, the Essanay comedian, court all the bumps and knocks that Turpin remarks, "Everytime I get smashed out of shape, I am just so much more vulnerable to the joker's particular looking, and after I had my teeth knocked out and my head pushed out of shape, I began to look like a caricature. I can't walk along the stage without someone one laughing at me. I should worry. That's what brings me my 'ham and'

That poor little Toby is dead and that blankets and blankets of gloom have temporarily shrouded Mary Fuller's happiness. Her dearly beloved doggy has gone and died. Miss Fuller really loved the dog, Toby. She had brought him back with her from the country and a horrible hotel clerk had informed her that she must "take that dog somewhere else." She cried a little, and then put the dog in a private kennel. The dog, unused to the strange surroundings, refused to eat, but spent the days whining for his mistress. Gradually the little animal became weaker, until he just lay down and died slowly.

That William Pike, one of the actors who have helped film the story of "Salomy Jane" for the California Motion Picture Corporation, has actually hanging a man is a step too far in the direction of "movie" realism. At that, he may be right.

That Harold MacGrath, the noted author, who wrote "Adventures of Kath- lym," has written Miss Williams, expressing the hope that he may have the opportunity of preparing another screen story for her in the near future.

That Margaret Joslin, the well known "Miss Snub" of the western Essanay "Snakeville" comedies, is now the proud owner of a handsome machine given her by her husband, Harry Todd, for a birthday present. She allows her husband to use it, but when the two go for a spin, it is noted that she is always at the wheel. The clever woman is rapidly becoming an expert in driving the car.

That Lee Morris escaped from the Selig Jungle-Zoo a few days ago, but has been brought back again. Lee is a comedians and enjoys the racket from a dog called for the Morris leg in a bear trap. Lee entered the set for rehearsal and began to tread towards the trap. The affair looked rather genuine to him and he paused to investigate. He discovered that some intelligent property man had planted a real bear trap, large enough to hold a grizzly. It sat with mouth open waiting for its leg. With a yell the nervous Morris person fled the scene and had to be persuaded back after the dangerous contraption had been eliminated.

That J. Barney Sherry, the popular veteran character actor of Thomas Ince's New York-Mutual Company, is a comedian. This is well established with those who know Mr. Sherry intimately, but to those who don't it must become known through association. Mr. Sherry isn't funny by reason of any slap-stick activities in or about Inceville, but he is funny because he has the asset of ability to grasp a situation and create a laugh with a word.

That in staging one of his big scenes for "The Clansman," D. W. Griffith, the Mutual's $100,000 a year director, proved that he could ride an unruly horse with as much ease as a professional cowpuncher.

That Violet Mersereau, the charming Imp leading woman, came home the other night and skipped lightly down the corridor in her apartment where she lives with her widowed mother and sister Claire. Nearing the dining room she stopped suddenly, for there she heard a strange noise. She knew that her mother and sister had gone out. The little actress was just about to turn and flee in terror when a tall, handsome man stepped out and confronted her. It proved to be her brother, who had been in Canada for the past six years.

That John Cossar of the Essanay stock company narrowly escaped getting a good beating recently while taking some exterior scenes for "The Fable of One Samaritan Who Got Paralysis of the Helping Hand." He was made up as a laborer and was violently beating Thomas Commerford, when a burly fireman jumped off a street car and stepped between the two, threatening to whip Cossar for mistreating the old man. Not until the bystanders began to laugh did the fireman realize his mistake, but he admitted the joke was on himself.

That on account of the breathless interest in the world's baseball series, the war in Europe, and it being the anniversary of Columbus discovering America, Victor Potel, "Slippery Slim" of Essanay "Snakeville" fame, all but forgot that it was his birthday on October 12 until five minutes before midnight. However he immediately proceeded to celebrate, and you know you can do a lot in five minutes. Next day on being asked how he felt, Victor merely and meekly answered, "Well, boys (and then brushing his hand across his brow), too many big events in one day."

Moving Picture Scenarios

We are in the market for one and two reel comedies and comedy dramas. Submit in typewritten form to

SCENARIO EDITOR
Dept. 6.
105 Lawrence Ave., Dorchester, Mass.

HOLLAND FILM MANUFACTURING CO.

IN THE ALLIANCE PROGRAM

When Fate Leads Trump
A FOUR part photo play from the book by Alice M. Roberts
with Gordon Demaine,
William A. Williams
Octavia Handworth
In the Leading Roles
Previously Released

The Path Forbidden
In FIVE parts, produced by EXCELSIOR COMPANY

The Man Who Could Not Lose
A FIVE part photo play from the book by Richard Harding Davis
with
Carlyle Blackwell
Supported by a Cast of the Greatest Merit
Previously Released

The Key to Yesterday
In FOUR parts, produced by
FAVORITE PLAYERS FILM COMPANY

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
EXPLOITING MOTION PICTURES

Vol. XII CHICAGO, DECEMBER 12, 1914 No. 24

BEATRIZ MICHELENA WITH CALIFORNIA
Selig Current Releases for Week of December 14-19

The Lure 0' the Windigo

RELEASED MONDAY, DECEMBER 14

More new European war pictures taken by our own camera men on the battlefields. Thrilling, exciting and interesting. First showing in America.

The Man from the East

Released Tuesday December 15
One Reel

Another of those delightful and exciting TOM MIX pictures in which this indefatigable hero performs his extraordinary feats of horsemanship while portraying a lover in a pretty story.

The Test

Released Wednesday December 16
One Reel

Those sterling Selig players, THOMAS SANTOSCHI and BESSIE EYTON present a series of most amazing events which are part of an unusually interesting sea drama, written by JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD. The two stars perform some swimmingly “stunts.” It is an excellent picture.

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 83

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 84

Released Thursday December 17
One Reel

Again first in the field with original European war pictures taken on the battlefields by our own camera men. Also interesting news pictures of other international events. First time shown in America.

The Tail of a Coat

Released Friday December 18
One Reel

A genuine Selig comedy which will delight all audiences. The principal parts are played by LYLLIAN BROWN LEIGHTON, ELSIE GREESON, JOHN LANCASTER and SID SMITH. It is a story of a family trying to break into society. Full of laughs.

The Lady or the Tigers

Released Saturday December 19
One Reel

One of those enormously popular Selig Jungle-Zoo wild animal pictures in which the intrepid KATHLYN WILLIAMS works in a den of ferocious tigers and puts them through their “stunts.”

In the Days of the Thundering Herd

A Great Selig Five-Reel Special

Depicting a story of love and adventure on the western prairies when the buffalo and the Indian roamed unmolested. Exciting and thrilling. Featuring BESSIE EYTON and TOM MIX.

Released MONDAY, NOVEMBER 30

Through the Special Feature Department of the General Film Co.

The Selig Polyscope Company
Executive Offices, 20 East Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill.
There's Profit to Exhibitors in The Pathé News because today more people are interested in it than in any other one film. There's profit to the public in The Pathé News because it educates them in a way only to be equalled by years of travel and thousands of dollars of expense.

The Pathé News from every standpoint is the most profitable of films and the one most widely circulated in the world.

The Pathé News is issued twice a week and may now be obtained through the Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges.

Exchanges in All the Principal Cities of the United States

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY
110 West 40th Street NEW YORK CITY

"The Cream of American and European Studios"

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
The Third Screen Club Ball
A Tremendous Success

A RAINBOW splashed its Thanksgiving eve allurement of tone and tint over the gold ballroom of the Hotel Astor—and they called it the third annual ball of the Screen Club.

It was an event, the dominant note of which was "members and friends of the Screen Club all are we." It swayed to the rhythm of orchestral time, thrilled to the demonstration of men's liking for a man—as exemplified by the club members' presentation to King Baggot of a life membership in the club he founded. The jollification of the Screeners ended in the dawn of a bright Thanksgiving and a knowledge that this, of all film events, had been quite the best and nicest.

In the lobby which led to the ballroom there was offered by a guard in Puritanical costume, a proclamation on brown paper decorated with a red seal. It had to do with the whys and wherefores of the third annual ball and a favor that met with appreciation by the women was a dull gold brooch decorated with the Screen Club's insignia of green enamel and intertwining letters.

The popularity of dance-floor and box-tier, of supper-room, parlors and smoking-veranda bespoke a large attendance. And the grand march, which led its serpentine way amid a colorful tangle of light effects, a credit to the ingenuity of Mr. Smith of the Nicholas Power Company, was not a complete index of the guests, as the various rooms off the ballroom all held a goodly number at the same time the march was in progress.

Mary Pickford, in a white lacy gown of semi-transparency, scalloped in silk of a delicate blue and pink, and with a narrow ribbon of palest blue holding her curls in place, led the procession with the Screen Club's president, James Kirkwood. It was shortly afterward that the club's presentation to King Baggot was made. It was a surprise, entire and overwhelming, to the former president of the club. Mr. Kirkwood made the speech of presentation. In a few words he expressed the appreciation of the club for the three years' work of Mr. Baggot, but more especially for the worth of the man himself. The gift, which is no small one, as a life membership in the Screen Club has assumed the proportion of the sum of $250, was given the form of a gold card of membership. On one side was engraved "King Baggot, founder and first president the Screen Club. Thanksgiving eve, 1914." The other bears the quotation from "Hamlet":

The beginning of the grand march at the Screen Club Ball.
A combination and a form indeed.
Where every god did seem to set his seal
To give the world assurance of a man.

Mr. Bagott's response was brief and unmistakably expressive of his surprise and deep feeling. He had been summoned to the ballroom by a message which said that somebody was ill. He faced the evening's many guests and the presentation that was significant of the fact that he counts his Screen Club friends by the enumeration of the club's members.

The orchestra was faithful to the last departure of guests—somewhere about 4:30 o'clock—when many went to the home of the club in Forty-seventh street for breakfast. But all shared in the decision that the third annual ball of the Screeners was decidedly the greatest of Screen Club triumphs.

SCREEN CLUB SCRIBBLES.

Jules Burnstein as manager of the sale of boxes. Jake Gerhardt as chairman of the ball committee and Ben Wilson, as vice-president in charge of the house committee, are said to be the threesome most directly responsible for the smoothness of every arrangement.

George Blaisdell, treasurer of the club, had much to do toward making the event the big one it was, but makes the statement, "I was one of the members that counted." He is responsible for the wording of the Puritanical proclamation and also for the choice of inscription on Mr. Bagott's life membership card.

That James Kirkwood has the deep respect and liking of the club's every member, is evidenced at every opportunity. He is a fit successor to King Bagott.

"Bill" Barry, corresponding secretary, Arthur Leslie, press correspondent, "Doc" Willatt and Charles O. Baumann, secretary-treasurer, Messrs. Smith, Sardis, and Paul Scardin, recording secretary, all had much to do with the success of the evening.

And success was it socially, as course; financially, to the extent of enlarging the club's bank account by between $2,500 and $3,500! And the Astor management expressed the hope that the hotel be favored with another Screen Club party.

The gowns worn added much to the splendor and dignity of the event. They were an expression of beauty and a right-up-to-the-clock-tick display of modishness.

Pearl White's was one entirely of sequins and was especially stunning. Bunny Luther with her red-gold hair was beautiful in black and midnight blue chiffon. Rosemary Theby was in crimson from pumps to neck-scarf of tulle.

Lottie Briscoe was sweetly quaint in a full-skirted dress of pink silk taffeta and with it she wore short black silk mitts. Princess Yvonne Baccus made a discriminate selection, recording secretary, all had much to do with the success of the evening.

And success was it socially, as course; financially, to the extent of enlarging the club's bank account by between $2,500 and $3,500! And the Astor management expressed the hope that the hotel be favored with another Screen Club party.

The gowns worn added much to the splendor and dignity of the event. They were an expression of beauty and a right-up-to-the-clock-tick display of modishness.

Pearl White's was one entirely of sequins and was especially stunning. Bunny Luther with her red-gold hair was beautiful in black and midnight blue chiffon. Rosemary Theby was in crimson from pumps to neck-scarf of tulle.

Lottie Briscoe was sweetly quaint in a full-skirted dress of pink silk taffeta and with it she wore short black silk mitts. Princess Yvonne Baccus made a discriminate selection, recording secretary, all had much to do with the success of the evening.

"Pop" Lubin had more fox-trots to his credit at the close of the dancing evening than many younger men and Mrs. Lubin enjoyed that part of the program as much as he. Mrs. Ira M. Lowry, her daughter, missed not a dance.

Daniel Frohman made a discriminate selection of partners, among whom were Mary Pickford and Hazel Dawn.

Joe Farnham watched the fun from the right-hand corner of a right-hand box and as his smile was as usually big, he evidently enjoyed the dance as much as the dancers.

W. T. Van Dyke was in the grants room but left the more energetic dancing of the evening to S. M. Spedan, who fulfilled this obligation with credit.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Smiley were among the evening's guests and others from Lubinville were Earl Metcalfe, Daisy Evans, and Earl Gravely.

Arthur Johnson overcame his own scruples against attending dances and came voluntarily.

Kate Price, contrary to custom was not present and there were many queries of Mary Charleson as to Miss Price's state of health. "Oh, quite well," was Miss Mary's answer regarding the genial Kate.

Box number 33 at the southeast corner of the gold room was the stronghold of the Excelsior and Favorite Player companies, and all who passed within reach were given a jovial welcome by Messrs. Rosenbach and Blackwell.

Paul Panzer and Teft Johnson presided over the door during the early part of the evening, and later might have been seen making themselves useful on the dance-floor where Charles Seay, Arthur Leslie, George Baumann, and Jules Bernstein were seeing that the grand-marchers separated, paired, met again, etc., as per the prescription.

Among the many who represented the Edison company, were Mabel Trunnelle and Herbert Prior, Bessie Bannon, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lear, Gladys Hulette, Viola Dana, Andy Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seay, Director Ridgley, Dick Tucker, Edward O'Connor, Arthur Houseman, Sally Crute, Mr. Eytinge, Gertrude McCoy, Mr. Plympton, Jr., and Frank A. Bannerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Zukor entertained a number of guests in the Famous Players' box.

Dr. Edward Jones and Dr. Schallenberger discussed politics and other subjects with guests in the rear of the Thanhouser box. The Harry Benhams who came in from New Rochelle on a flat tire also had access to this box, as did Jean Darnell, stunning in white and a welcome sight to the many who have missed her, during the last year.

Billy Garwood can't think of any thing that would please her again and induced her to leave New York.

Leah Baird made an appearance toward the last of the evening and received happiness wishes on the marriage she had contracted but a few hours previous.

"Tony" Kelly took two girl friends in a taxi from club-house to hotel Astor and forgot to dismiss the car. When it occurred to him he induced him and found the bill was $810.

Roland Blaisdell, at 6:45 a. m. Thursday coming out of the club reprimanded a newboy who tried to sell him a Thursday morning's paper instead of a Sunday. As the boy walked off mumbling, the prospective buyer "came to."

In the World Film box could be found Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Selznick, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Sobel, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Gerhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Buckley, Miss Helen Gardner, Mr. A. J. G. Brulatour, James Young, Clara Kimball Young, H. H. Dean, G. N. Busch, and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wilk.

In the Vitagraph box were Earle Williams, Cissy, Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Teft Johnson, Helen Gardner, Charles Gaskell, Ethel Lloyd, Donald Hall, Nita Frazier, Ned Finley, Wally Van, Nicholas Dunauw, Paula Scardino, Leah Baird, Billy Quirk, Lee Beggs, George Baker, Mrs. Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Bin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Rock, S. M. Spedan, Edward Thomas, Charles Chapman, James Morrison, Edith Storey, Lionel Belmore, Mary Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morey, Frank Bunn and Dick Leslie.

Walthall Joins Balboa

Henry B. Walthall, recently of Mutual and Biography, has signed a three-year contract with the Balboa Amusement Producing Company of Long Beach, California, his salary being $1,000 a week. He will be starred in four-reel and six-reel productions of famous novels, the supporting company to be more than a score of noted players. The name of the director of the company is withheld for the present, but it is said that he is one of the best known and most talented producers in the cinema field.

George Kleine has opened a Philadelphia office at 1309 Pine street. John J. Rotchford is branch manager.
"The Girl From Thunder Mountain"
Reviewed by Neil G. Caward

That beauty, wit and refinement may exist in one born amid the most humble surroundings, that a society bud may bloom amid squalor and filth, and that life and ambition may overcome all obstacles, seems to be convincingly proven in Essanay's two-reel feature entitled "The Girl From Thunder Mountain," which is booked for release on Friday, December 18. Ruth Stonehouse, in the role of Kentucky, daughter of "Old Tom" Floyd, a Virginia mountaineer, has one of the best parts she has been given in some time and will more than ever endear herself to the picture going public. Richard C. Travers has the leading male role, opposite Miss Stonehouse, and as usual appears to advantage in every scene.

Scenes of squalor and filth in the home of "Old Tom" Floyd back in the Virginia mountains greet our ignorance and general filthiness of the Virginia people whom he met, particularly the women. Mrs. Wentworth at once takes up the gauntlet and declares that all Virginia women have good blood in their veins and with a little training could become celebrities in any social set. The argument grows warmer and Bartlett finally dares Mrs. Wentworth to bring one of these mountaineer women to New York and try to force her into society. Laughingly Mrs. Wentworth accepts his dare and promises a new social light.

Some weeks later the picture shows Mrs. Wentworth motoring in Virginia, and when her car is halted by an accident, she chances to be near the Floyd cabin, and is taken there and shown many kindnesses. Meeting Kentucky, she takes a great liking to the girl and finally offers to bring her to New York and educate her, a proposition which Floyd finally agrees to.

With the passing of months, Kentucky develops from a rough, uncouth and ragged, dirty waif of the mountains into a beautiful, refined and decidedly winsome society bud. When Mrs. Wentworth is positive that Kentucky has reached a point where she will be the social equal of any persons she may meet at social gatherings, she phones Bartlett to call, and the young civil engineer, visiting the Wentworth home is amazed by the beauty and grace of the new debutante.

As the weeks flit by, Bartlett acknowledges to himself that he is in love with the girl. One day Kentucky encounters her mother, who has come to New York to see her. Mrs. Floyd is still the haggard, dirty and uncouth mountain woman that she was when Bartlett first saw her in the Virginia mountains. and, not recognizing her, he supposes her to be some servant in the house.

Kentucky hears Bartlett tell Mrs. Wentworth of the strange 'filthy old hag' whom he met just outside the house. Thoroughly enraged by the insult to her mother, Kentucky steps into the parlor and boldly tells Bartlett who she is, and too late he realizes the blunder he has made. Kentucky declares that it is her intention to immediately depart for home with her mother.

The girl away, Bartlett finds that he is dreadfully desolate without her. Admitting to Mrs. Wentworth that he was wrong in his contention, he leaves for Virginia to again find Kentucky. Ere the picture ends we see them reconciled.

Cathrine Countiss Joins Life-Photo

Cathrine Countiss, who was starred in "The Awakening of Helena Ritchie," "The White Sister" and "The Christian" has just been placed under contract by the Life-Photo Film Corporation for photoplay work. Miss Countiss will make her first appearance in the photoplay field by assuming the lead in "The Avalanche," another recent acquisition of this concern. Present plans provide for the release of "The Avalanche" through Alco as the next Life-Photo production following
"Springtime." Miss Countiss and "The Avalanche" are well-known to Broadway as both have played long engagements there. Both, too, have been seen widely throughout the country. "The Avalanche," as a legiti-mate play, was written by Robert Hilliard and W. A.
Tremayne and deals with the attempt of a woman to wreck a man through manipulation of the mining stock
"Avalanche." Before the man's marriage, he and the woman were engaged. She later married and her husband died. Meanwhile her former fiancé had married.
This act arouses the hatred of the central feminine figure in the play, which Miss Countiss is to portray.

Lubin Sensationalism

The sinking of a Herreshoff steam yacht off Jacksonville, Florida, and the plunge of a touring car from a wharf into the ocean are two of the sensational features of the two-reel photoplay "The Man from the Sea," which is released by the Lubin Manufacturing Company December 10. "The Man from the Sea" was written by Charles Goddard and Paul Dickey, authors of "The Ghost Breaker" and "The Misleading Lady," and was adapted for the camera by George Terwilliger of the Lubin staff of directors.

In order to get the proper background for the story Mr. Lubin sent a special company to Florida and purchased the steam yacht to use in the big climax. The story itself is intensely dramatic. Two millionaires, both of whom are wireless experts, are in love with the same girl. They play cards to decide which shall wed the girl and one of them cheats. The loser goes on board his steam yacht and while he is in his wireless room the crew lock him in the room, desert and set fire to the yacht. The millionaire is drowned. The weird messages sent by him and his subsequent return from the bottom of the ocean to claim his rightful bride make one of the most intensely dramatic and sensational photoplays imaginable.

As a marine spectacle the burning of the steam yacht and its disappearance under the waves is magnificent. Another sensation in the play is the wild flight of an automobile, with two of the leading characters in the front seat, down the length of an old wharf and into the ocean. In order to secure the under water pictures, where the drowned millionaire sends wireless messages to his rival on shore, it was necessary to construct a special glass tank and the effect obtained is startling. The play is said to be one of the costliest two-reelers the Lubin Company has ever produced and incidentally one of the most sensational.

To Release Through World

The California Motion Picture Corporation, through Alexander E. Beyfuss, general manager, has effected a plan to release its feature-productions through the World Film Corporation. The initial production under this plan will be a five-reel feature, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," adapted from the novel by Alice Hogan Rice, as dramatized by herself and Anne Crawford Flexer, and originally produced by Liebler & Co. This feature will be released on January fourth, Miss Beatriz Michelenia, whose work in "Salomy Jane" has made her famous in filmdom, will be starred as "Lovy Mary." Her support will include Blanche Chapman and Andrew Robson. On January 18 the California Motion Picture Corporation will release
"Mignon," in a prologue and four parts, through the World Film Corporation. Miss Beatriz Michelenia's portrayal of the title part is said to be as nearly perfected as the art of acting in pictures can be effected.
The third release will be "The Lily of Poverty Flats," a story based on Bret Harte's famous poem, "Her Letter, His Answer and Her Last Letter." In this production the California Corporation will endeavor to outdo even "Salomy Jane" for scenic effects and stirring action.

Other subjects in preparation by the California Motion Picture Corporation are "Salvation Nell," the famous play by Edward Sheldon, and "The Price She

Mary Pickford As "Cinderella"

When the Famous Players included, in a recent announcement of forthcoming productions, Mary Pickford in a subject entitled "The Stepsister," they termed it "a genuine surprise." Just how much of a surprise it is was disclosed only last week, when it was explained that "The Stepsister" is nothing else than a modern and original version of the century-old classic, "Cinderella." The subject is to appear on the Paramount program, December 28, and is described as the Paramount Christmas release.
American’s “Out of the Darkness”
Reviewed by Clarence J. Caine

On December 7 the American Film Manufacturing Company will release a two-reel production entitled “Out of the Darkness,” in which a good story, human acting, clear photography, carefully chosen settings and masterful direction are blended together in such a manner that the result is most pleasing to behold.

A picture of this variety is rather difficult to analyze, as all parts of it appear to balance, and to mention one worthy point and not another seems an injustice. The acting, however, is what will probably attract the public more than anything else, unless it is the story. Harry Von Meter gives a virile portrayal of a thief, known as the “Wolf,” which adds greatly to his enviable reputation as a character lead. The acting of William Garwood and Vivian Rich is pleasing throughout, and in the scenes showing the young lover’s first call upon his sweetheart they give a delightfully human portrayal of both types. Louise Lester, as the wife of the “Wolf,” and Jack Richardson, as a friendly detective, also carry their parts in fine style.

The plot is worked out in a very plausible way and numerous dramatic situations are scattered throughout it. A distinct “punch” is felt toward the end of the second reel, when the thief realizes the folly of the life he has been leading and decides to reform. The settings throughout are praiseworthy, as has been said before, a business office and a saloon in the slums being especially well handled. Considering all the points of the production, it is an altogether worthy one.

The opening scenes disclose the life of crime led by the “Wolf.” He has always covered up his tracks, but he makes one attempt too many and is caught by Steele, a detective, and sent to prison for five years. His wife and daughter are heart-broken but determine to make the best of things. In prison the “Wolf” meets Terry Manning, a trusty, who is nearing the end of his sentence and they become friends.

Both are released on the same day and the “Wolf” leads Terry to his old haunts. The young man, however, announces his intention of going straight and Steele hears him. The detective offers to help him and succeeds in having him made bookkeeper for the firm of Boyd & Co. The “Wolf” sneers at the young man’s determination to reform and goes home, intending to return to his old life of crime.

He finds that his wife and daughter have moved into a neat cottage and they are happy together. A feeling of shame creeps over him and he turns away from the house, determined that he shall not darken their lives. The daughter, Kitty, is a stenographer in the employ of Boyd & Co. and the moment she meets Terry she knows she is in love with him, and he returns her feeling. Time passes and the love between Kitty and Terry grows. The “Wolf” has been on the downward path and has not been able to secure enough money to keep him alive. On the night that Terry is to make his first call on Kitty he finds the “Wolf” in a starving condition and takes him to his home, not knowing that he is the father of the girl he loves. After he has fed his former cell-mate, Terry leaves him and goes to Kitty.

While the young man and the girl talk in the parlor of her home and realize how much they mean to each other, the "Wolf" takes the key to the office of Boyd & Co. from Terry's coat and steals to the business house, his old desire to steal upon him again. He breaks into the safe and takes all the money it contains and then, before making his get-away, decides to have a final look at his wife and daughter. Terry in the meantime has confessed his past life to Kitty and she in turn has told him that her father is also a convict.

As the "Wolf" reaches the little cottage the lovers become engaged and when he looks in the window he sees them happily in each other's arms, with his wife giving them her blessing. The realization of his own unworthiness comes upon him and he returns to the office and replaces the money. Before he can manage to get away, however, the watchman sees him. In the struggle which follows the "Wolf" is shot. He makes his way to Terry's room and when the young man returns he tells him of what has happened and asks him to bring his daughter and wife to him, as it is too late for a doctor. Terry complies with his request and the "Wolf" passes away, surrounded by those who love him, his final words being those of blessing for Terry and Kitty.

"Markia" Screened

The picture is superb in many respects and deals with the siege of Carthage by the Roman legions, commanded by Scipio. Markia, a lady of royal parentage, has many exciting experiences before she finally wins the love of Strabes, the handsome lieutenant of the Carthagian army. The scenes in which the storming of the walls of Carthage are shown are massive and exciting, while thousands of supernumeraries are used and the photography is of an excellent quality. "Markia" was reviewed at length in another issue of MOGRAPHY upon its first showing in New York. Bookings can be made from either Mr. Corn or Mr. Noto at 512 Mallers building, Chicago.

New Vitagraph Bill

Manager Loomis of the Vitagraph Theater wanders away from the straight picture program in his new bill beginning Monday, November 23, to the extent of one singing number. The combination of the Mazzanotte Trio and a still, but nevertheless vividly realistic, reproduction of the Bay of Naples, showing Vesuvius in eruption, was well received by the audience on opening night.

After Lillian Walker, Arthur Ashley and others demonstrated "The Methods of Margaret," a single reel program release, Wally Van's four-reel comedy, "The Man Behind the Door," claimed and received everybody's attention. Marguerite Bertsch adapted the play from Archibald Clavering Gunter's book of the same name. At times the action borders upon slapstick, but the majority of it puts over its fun by comedy portrayal and humorously embarrassing situations.

The Mazzanotte Trio's performance is succeeded by a single reel comedy, "The Mysterious Mr. Davey," through which medium Sydney Drew and his company prove to be unusually clever and entertaining. A three-part dramatic story of the days of the western pioneers completes the program. It has a novel beginning and ending, and is well staged, but the plot in the main can hardly be considered original. A motoring party stops in an old, wasted frontier town to repair a tire, and is accosted by one of the old settlers. The query, "Has this town always been as dead as this?" brings forth the patriarch's story of how it had flourished some decades before when Liza Filkins, "the sagebrush gal," had presided over the coffee house. Romance, comedy and tragedy all figure in the narrative, which is concluded with Liza's departure for new lands and a happy married life as the wife of Bill McTwirk, a "square" gambler.

By the time the old man finishes telling the happenings of the years that represent the greater part of his life, the traveler, to whom its recital has been but a few minutes' pastime, find that the chauffeur has the tire repaired. and continue on their journey.

C. R. C.

Exhibitors' Ball

The main topic of conversation in New York filmdom at the present time seems to be the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Ball, which will be held on Monday night, December 7, at the Grand Central Palace, where four floors have been engaged. From the hearty response accorded by the manufacturers in the sale of boxes and the immense advance sale of tickets to the general public, this is expected to be the greatest motion picture social event in the annals of the industry. One of the novel features at this function will be the sextette grand march exclusively for photoplayers, which will be led by Mary Pickford, Francis X. Bushman, Mary Fuller, King Baggot, Marguerite Snow, James Cruze, Anita Stewart, Earl Williams, Clara K. Young, Marc McDermott, Gene Gauntier, Jack Clarke, and in which all the other prominent photoplayers will take part.

There is no doubt that this will be a colossal gathering of manufacturers, producers, photoplayers, exhibitors and photoplay fans, come together in their gala attire for the purpose of having one jolly good time. In the four theaters which are being planned for this event, the manufacturers will exhibit their latest pre-releases.
New Wrinkle in Pathe Feature
Reviewed By Charles R. Condon

The mistaken identity problem is a many-sided one, and offers innumerable possibilities for plots pivoting on this one situation. Up to the present the most popular version of this tangle has been that of the boy or girl who has done wrong, and whose twin brother or sister suffers the penalty until the final denouement, when the two meet, through double exposure, generally, and the misunderstandings are explained away.

Now comes a three-reel Pathe feature entitled "The Stolen Birthright" that avoids the beaten path of dramas of this kind and handles the mistaken identity plot with an entirely new set of characters, situations, and details. Here the mix-up contains neither villainy nor wrong-doing, and concerns only the outcome of two romances. Double-exposure plays but a small part in the picture, and no part at all in the story. It is introduced merely as a novel way of showing the development of the two threads of the story at the same time, the backgrounds being two separate scenes and the characters many miles apart. Photographically it is an exceedingly clever accomplishment, and is a great help in keeping the story clearly-outlined in the spectator's mind.

Wharton, Inc., produced the picture, and Thur-ow Bergen, Elsie Esmond, Frank Brownlee, Bessie Emerick, Robin H. Townley, and Harry Carr are among the members of the cast. Mr. Brownlee gives a fine impersonation of the big-hearted, fearless gambler. High-hat Harry. Miss Esmond is seen in the dual role of Mary Haskins and Alice Singleton. The rest of the characters are well-placed and receive able delineation.

Silas Haskins' joy at being the father of a newly born girl is cut short by receiving word from his landlord, Singleton, that he will be ejected unless he pay the rent on his farm. It happens that at this time Singleton's wife gives birth to twin daughters, but, while elated over the fact, the landlord refuses to be lenient with poor Haskins, and orders the deputy-sheriff to eject him and his sick wife. Enlisting the aid of two other deputies the man attempts to do so, but is routed by the farmer, who is furious at this show of selfishness on Singleton's part. The shock of witnessing the fight deranges Mrs. Haskins' mind, and, thinking to save the baby from the greedy land-} lord, she hides it in one of the bureau drawers, where it soon suffocates.

[Image of the film scene with a caption: Haskins learns that he is to be ejected for failing to pay the rent.]

To shield his wife the farmer decides to bury the child himself and keep the affair a secret. While he is doing this he is startled by seeing a baby carriage plunge over the precipice above him, and land at his feet. It is the Singleton twins. Quick as a flash he substitutes his dead baby for one of those in the carriage, and returns with the live one to his wife, hoping to save her reason. When the Singleton maid and her searching party come upon the baby carriage they do not notice the deception. Alice, the other baby, is raised in ignorance of the existence and "death" of her twin sister.

Haskins moves West to start life anew, and raises Mary as his own child. Twenty years later we see her tending bar in her father's frontier saloon. Singleton has died in the meantime, and Alice is compelled to earn her own living as a stenographer. Her employer, Smith, is attracted to her and eventually they become married. High-hat Harry, a newcomer in the little western town in which the Haskins live, becomes Mary's idol by the bravery he exhibits in handling the town's "bad men." Deciding that the girl should have a protector he offers himself to Haskins who, in turn, refers him to the girl, herself. She confesses her love to him, but refuses to become his wife until he has gone to some big city and made good by some means other than that of his profession, gambling.

Harry assents, and takes up residence in the same town in which Alice lives. He meets her one night, and, thinking her Mary, makes advances to her, and is confronted by Smith. He writes her a note which falls into her husband's hands, making him insanely jealous. In a fit of rage the latter turns Alice out of the house, and goes away in an effort to forget her. High-hat Harry again meets Alice on the street, and she finally succeeds in convincing him that she is not his fiancée. In the meantime Smith has come upon Mary, and learned his mistake.

A scene is shown of two trains speeding past each other, one east bound and the other west bound, and in the following scene the lovers are seen greeting each other, Smith and Alice at the station in the city, and Harry and Mary at the frontier town depot.

Myron Fulton Married

The innumerable friends of Leroy Myron Fulton were amazed to learn on Friday, November 20, that Mr. Fulton had taken unto himself a bride on Thursday afternoon, November 19 in the person of Miss Minnie Tate of Glen View, Illinois. The wedding occurred at the Congregational parsonage of Rev. J. Morrison Thomas on Montrose boulevard, Chicago, and was a very quiet affair, the bride and groom being accompanied only by Mrs. E. E. Fulton, the mother of the groom, and Mrs. C. E. Fulton, his aunt. All the employees of E. E. Fulton & Company, some thirty-three in number, gave a surprise luncheon on Tuesday evening in the projection room of the Fulton Company, Lake and La Salle streets, the occasion being a most joyous one and a complete surprise to everyone in the Fulton family, as it was arranged entirely without their knowledge. Following a witty toast by Frank McMillan, Myron and his bride-to-be were presented with a handsome and costly table lamp, and showered with congratulations and good wishes. Mr. Fulton has been superintendent of the mechanical department of the Fulco concern for some time, and Motography joins with a host of others in wishing him well. Immediately after the ceremony on Thursday afternoon the happy couple left for Valparaiso, Indiana, from which place they returned to Chicago on Sunday. They will make their home for the present at 1450 Melville place, Chicago.

!Scene at the surprise dinner given by the Fulco employees.

Alliance Secures Oz Output

The Alliance Film Corporation recently signed contracts by which it secures the future output of the Oz Film Company for release through its exchanges. The first subject to be distributed under the new agreement will be "The Last Egyptian," a play laid in modern Egypt, which will be released on December 7.

An agreement has also been arrived at between the two concerns whereby the Oz Company is to produce popular novels and plays. These will be selected by the officers of the Alliance Corporation.

New Combination of Producers

The United Motion Picture Producers, Inc., an organization composed of a number of well known producing companies, has just completed arrangements whereby all its products will be marketed through the United Film Service Program. The combination will specialize in one and two reel dramatic and comedy productions which will be released daily on the United program, commencing at a date in the near future to announced later.

Among the companies which form the new combine are the Albuquerque Film Manufacturing Company, Crystal Film Company, Features Ideal, Gene Gauntier Feature Players, Mittenthal Film Company, Nelson Film Corporation, St. Louis Motion Picture Company and Smallwood Film Corporation. The rosters of these companies contain the names of such well-known stars as Gene Gauntier, Dot Farley, Ethel Grandin, Charles DeForest, Natalie De Lontan, Mary Ainslee, Winna Brown, Florence Gail, Helen Gay, J. Arthur Nelson, Grace St. Claire and Gervaise Graham.

Ludwig G. B. Erb is president of the United Motion Picture Producers’ Inc., and Gilbert P. Hamilton is vice-president. Leo Stern, a New York lawyer, holds the office of treasurer and H. M. Goetz that of secretary. The new organization will endeavor to give to its distributing agents a program of the highest quality and with this aim in view all the companies are now busily engaged making pictures which are certain to meet with public approval.

Sends Forces to Coast

On Wednesday, November 18, David Horsley sent three directors and forty members of his producing forces to Los Angeles, where they will resume their work in the new studios which Mr. Horsley is building in that city. Mr. Horsley’s recent purchase of the Frank C. Bostock animals has necessitated the establishment of mammoth plant on the coast for the making of an extraordinary series of single and multiple reel animal pictures.

With the splendid facilities for taking every kind of motion picture which this elaborate layout will provide in Los Angeles, Mr. Horsley deemed it unwise to continue the use of his Bayonne plant during the winter, and for that reason has closed down the Jersey studio and will do all of his producing for the next six months in California. Milton H. Fahnren and his talented wife headed the list of migrants, which included Harry La Pearl, the famous pantomimist, camera men, scenic artists, property men and principal actors.

An Attractive Feature

The Great Northern Film Company’s latest release is a three-reel detective drama entitled "The Charlotte Street Mystery." It is said to contain some novel and startling effects.

The story deals with the interesting adventures of an exceptionally clever woman who seeks to elude the law and succeeds in baffling a shrewd detective for some time, but, is finally captured after several thrilling escapes. The role of the woman is in the hands of Eslie Frolich, the capable Great Northern leading woman, who gives a very vivid characterization. All of the other parts are also well played.
"The Lure o' the Windigo"—Selig
Reviewed by Clarence J. Caine

BASED on an Indian legend, which is held sacred by the Cree and Algonquin tribes, and dealing with the lives of primitive characters, who work out their destinies in the forests far north of civilization, the two-reel release of the Selig Polyscope Company on December 14 is one of great strength and appeal.

The plot is not a fresh one, as it deals with the winning of a girl by the man whom she and her family trusted, but the skill of the author, May belle Heikes Justice, in weaving human interest and virile action into it is visible throughout. There are five chief characters created and each of these is made so vivid that after the first few scenes one follows their doings with as much interest as though they really lived. The players each do their share of work and, while none of them is featured, the work of Lamar Johnstone as Kiawa, an Indian, stands out a little above the others. Edith Johnson gives a sympathetic portrayal of the girl and Lafayette McKee and Charles Wheelock, as her brother and lover, carry their parts with great strength. At the climax a fight takes place between the former and Barney Furey, who is cast as an officer in the Royal Mounted, in which action is plentiful. Frank Mayo, Lillian Hayward and Lucile Joy have the other roles of importance.

The scenery throughout is rare. One scene, showing a quarter of a mile or more of sloping hillside with a small lake at the bottom is the closest approach to perfection in photographic art this reviewer has been privileged to see for many months. The atmosphere of the North is suggested in every scene and Director F. J. Grandon deserves great credit for the treatment he has given the subject. The photography is good and the few interior sets that are used are all carefully planned and appropriate.

The story opens by disclosing the home life of the Le Clerq family. The father is too old for active work and spends his time in the cabin, puffing at his pipe. Louis, the son, is a lumberman and the support of the other. His sister, Annette, and the mother complete the happy circle. Another person who is always welcome in their home is Jacques Le Bere, also a lumberman, who secretly loves Annette, but because she is engaged to Sergeant McChesnay of the Mounted Police he never tells her of his affection.

Just before Louis and Jacques start on a long trip into the timber country McChesnay rides up to the cabin and announces that he will stay and visit several days. Jacques does not trust the man but Louis tells him to take good care of his sister and leaves, taking Jacques with him. Annette’s love for McChesnay leads to her downfall and after a few days he rides away, promising that he will return shortly. and make her his wife. Before he leaves the district, however, the officer spies another victim in the squaw of Kiawa, an Indian who lives nearby. He accomplishes his purpose only after wounding Kiawa and when he rides away the Indian vows that he will never rest until he sees the worthless man dead.

Kiawa follows McChesnay to the settlement and there shoots him with a stone fired from a sling-shot and makes his escape. The months pass and Kiawa keeps track of the officer's whereabouts, as he has heard that the shot was not fatal. Annette's child is born and her father turns her out into the world. Kiawa sees and understands. He knows that she will not come with him, so he resorts to strategy and mocks the call of the Windigo. She follows it and the Indian leads her toward the settlement, where he knows McChesnay is stopping.

Louis and Jacques return from the timber country and halt at the settlement before going home. They meet McChesnay and all are together when Kiawa leads Annette and her child before them. The Indian accuses McChesnay and the officer is forced to admit that he is the father of the baby. The two men who love Annette control themselves until a missionary has been secured and the marriage of the girl and McChesnay performed. Then Louis faces the officer and tells him that one of them must die. McChesnay refuses to be bluffed and removes his uniform coat, thus making the fight man to man. They lock and struggle. At last Louis rises, while the still form of McChesnay remains on the floor. Then Jacques folds Annette in his arms and with Louis they make their way from the settlement to the little cabin in the forest, where Annette's father is persuaded to forgive her.

May Irwin's Famous Players' Debut
Reviewed by Mabel Condon

May Irwin contributes her ample figure, her infectious smile and her big fund of humor to the portrayal of the role of Mrs. Black in the Famous Players' current release, "Mrs. Black Is Back." There are four reels of "Mrs. Black," and they pass as one, so well is the interest carried and the story built, step by step, toward a climax which is in sight almost from the film's inception. Miss Irwin is well supported by a cast which comprises Charles Lane as Prof. Black; Elmer Booth as Jack, Mrs. Black's son; Marie Pavis as the professor's sister, Priscilla Black; Wellington A. Playter as Tom Larkey, builder and reducer of flesh; James Hester as Major Thorne, who holds Jack's I. O. U. for $1,000, and which he tries to collect from Mrs. Black; Howard Missimer as Jack's foreign valet, Clara Blandick as Mrs. Black's sister, and Cyril Chadwick as Bramley Bush, a guest of the Blacks.

The exterior scenes were all filmed at the summer home of Miss Irwin, on the Thousand Islands. The picturesqueness of the place loses nothing by the filming and the interior scenes are equally attractive.

There is excellent photography to add to the film's value and the direction makes for speedy and satisfying action. Miss Irwin is the center of interest at all times, though Mr. Lane gets a considerable share of the public's appreciation, and Mr. Booth and Mr. Playter are next in point of interest. The conclusion of each of the first three reels possesses the proper amount of punch to inspire a lively curiosity as to what is to come next; there is no puzzling lapse of action between any of the scenes, such as is very often met with in comedy and excused on the ground that it is comedy, and there is an ease about Miss Irwin's method of offering entertainment that makes her personality felt throughout the picture's four reels.

Miss Irwin begins the story in the character of the Widow Dangerfield, whose accidental, not to say abrupt, meeting with Prof. Black, geologist, precipitates an undignified tumble and the beginning of an affair of the heart which culminates in the widow's becoming Mrs. Black.

The professor believes his bride to be of but twenty-nine summers, and her son, who is away at school, to be a child of ten. Mrs. Black dares not deceive him, and commands her grownup son, who is "doing" Europe, to continue to "do" it for another year. Jack writes an I. O. U. for $1,000 for Major Thorne, and the major leaves for America to collect it from Jack's mother. Mrs. Black, previous to her marriage, contracted a $400 debt for "reducing" under the direction of Tom Larkey, and the major and the physical culture instructor begin to hunt her for payment. Meanwhile, her sister has arrived for a visit, and is told to keep the secret of Jack's size and his mother's age from the professor, who is anxious for the return of the supposedly ten-year-old boy, and lays in a stock of toys with which to entertain him when he does come.

Jack writes that he is in love with a girl named Priscilla, who has sailed for America, and he is going to follow. A cable is sent to restrain him, but he never receives it, and the first intimation his mother has of his nearness is his telephone call from the station. Meanwhile, the professor's sister has arrived, and when Jack's telephone message is received the professor rounds up a party of girls and ice-cream to do honor to little Jack's arrival home. Mrs. Black sends her sister to waylay Jack, as she has heard the professor declare he could never forgive a lie, and when Jack's valet arrives he is introduced to Black as Mrs. Black's brother-in-law. The sister misses Jack, and when he comes he is hustled into the kitchen and the cook's apron and cap.

Priscilla meets him there, he discloses his identity and finally Mrs. Black has to confess the situation to her husband. Her debts have been paid by her sister and Mrs. Black leaves home in the first auto she can secure. The result is a blowup, and Mrs. Black lands in a cornfield amidst the debris of the machine. She painlessly makes her way back to the house, to the forgiving and loving arms of her son and husband. And there is happiness in the professor's household, now that "Mrs. Black Is Back."

Edison's "Fantasma" A Pleasing Film
Reviewed by Charles R. Condon

DIFFERENT kinds of romance, drama and melodrama appeal to different classes of people, but comedy is universally popular. Good, clean, legitimate fun never fails to entertain. If it be of the juvenile variety it may not send grown-ups into the ecstasies of laughter that it will children, but it will arouse their interest more or less, anyway. As a stage spectacle the Hanlon Brothers' "Fantasma" toured the entire United States and met with public approval, and as a five-part Edison photoplay it bids fair to repeat the performance.

George Hanlon, Jr., plays the part of Pico in the picture, and to him falls the honor of visiting the haunted house and being maltreated by the doors, windows, chairs, beds and pictures, which have an uncomfortable habit of hitting him when his back is turned. Another person of note in the cast is the aged, but lively, William S. Carlton, of the famed Carlton Opera Company. Mr. Carlton fills the role of Zamaliel, the monarch of evil.

The actual story has to do with the romance of Prince Arthur and Princess Lena, Pico's comedy injections taking up a large part of the film, but not fitted Marie LaManna better had it been created especially for her. She is sweet, dainty, of the Cinderella type, and is a splendid actress. Grace Goodall is seen in the role of Fantasma, the queen of good and light. Mathilde Baring, Richard Neill, William Fables, George Schrero, William Ruge and a nimble crowd of demons and fairies complete the cast.

Edwin Clark and Marie LaManna in a scene from Edison's "Fantasma."

Charles M. Seay directed the picture and he had no small task on his hands, considering that when the play is boiled down it does not contain more than three reels of actual plot. The interior settings are skillfully constructed and artistically painted, and are important factors in sustaining the atmosphere of the story.

Prince Arthur succeeds in winning the Princess Lena's hand, and from then on is continually beset with trials and dangers. Zamaliel, the monarch of evil and darkness, rises from the lower regions in a blast of sulphurous smoke and flame to prey upon mankind. Fairies from the court of Fantasma, the queen of good and foe of Zamaliel, inform her of his coming upon earth, and she sets out to fight his evil influences.

Zamaliel is attracted by the Princess Lena's beauty, and determines to capture her. He haunts Prince Arthur and his fiancée in their wanderings, hoping to use his evil powers upon them, but Fantasma protects the lovers. One day, however, Zamaliel catches them unguarded, and makes away with the fair princess. Arthur attempts to follow, but is beaten back by the evil one's imps.

Fantasma then creates the jolly Pico to assist the prince in his search for his betrothed. They become separated and Pico wanders into a haunted house, from which, after a series of hair-raising experiences, he manages to escape. He next finds himself before the gates of a castle, and, after knocking incessantly, is allowed within and then made a prisoner. Pico is sentenced to death and beheaded, but Fantasma appears in the execution tower, pulls his head back upon his shoulders and restores his life.

In the meantime, the prince meets with adventures that are every bit as thrilling and discouraging as those experienced by his assistant. The two meet near the seashore. Fantasma appears to them and commands that they continue their search for the princess beneath the sea. They obey her, and there find the princess in the power of the wicked Zamaliel. A few strokes from Pico's trusty sword clears the way for the lovers, and in the final scene we see them sailing away on the Sea of Happiness.

Alco Secures Big Comedy

The newly organized Alco Film Corporation, under the presidency of Walter Hoff Seely, began its career this week by starting a campaign to procure several other producing firms of the quality of Life Photo Film, B. A. Rolfe, Popular Plays and Players, and The All-Star Feature Corporation. That the Alco concern, under its new board of directors and with its new policy just in the morning, means to fortify its clients with an absolute money-attracting program, was evidenced when announcement was made that Ad Kessel of the New York Motion Picture Company and Mr. Seely of the Alco had arranged to release the great comedy, "Tillie's Punctured Romance," with Marie Dressler as a regular unit on the Alco program. "Tillie's Punctured Romance," in which Miss Dressler and Charlie Chaplin play the leading roles, Mack Sennett, the director, considers his best work, and authorities claim it as the most highly amusing. The film is said to be the comedy film ever produced. The Edison Corporation is said to have paid Ad Kessel one hundred thousand dollars for the rights of "Tillie's Punctured Romance" and will release it Monday, December 21. The releases directly preceding and following that of December 21 will be Mabel Taliaferro in B. A. Rolfe's production of the well known stage success, "The Three of Us," which is now in its final stages, and the Life Photo Film Corporation's creation of Frederick Thompson-Klaw & Erlanger's success, "Springtime," with Florence Nash in the leading role. Olga Petrova, the brilliant dramatic star, will be seen December 7 in The Popular Plays and Players Company's "The Tigress." Jane Cowl in "The Garden of Lies" follows later.

Edison Signs Lée Arthur

The Edison Company has completed negotiations with Lée Arthur, the well-known playwright by which it will have the exclusive use of his works for Edison pictures. Mr. Arthur's fame is international and he today easily ranks among the foremost American playwrights.

A native of Shreveport, La., he attended Tulane University, from which he graduated with a degree of L.L.D. After devoting several years to the practice of law in the city of New Orleans, he abandoned the profession for playwriting. Having traveled extensively as a student of the technique of drama, he wrote his first play, "The Gay Mr. Lightfoot," which proved a tremendous success upon the initial presentation in New York.

This was followed by "We-uns of Tennessee," in which Charles Hanford starred for two years, and "The Auctioneer," with David Warfield. Lée Arthur was then chosen by Klaw & Erlanger and Mark Twain to make a dramatization of "Huckleberry Finn" and "Tom Sawyer." Among other plays that originated from his pen may be mentioned "Cohen's Luck," with Joe Walsh; "Breaking Into Society," with the Four Mortons; "Van Allen's Wife," with Fannie Ward, and "Putting It Over," which was considered by all critics to be the best baseball play ever written.

He has placed this season "A Little Nugget" with Daniel Frohman; "The Baby of the Family" and "The Morning After," which will be produced after the holidays.

In engaging the services of a writer of such high caliber, the Edison Company has added an important link to its chain of authors of world-wide reputation. Mr. Arthur's first production for the screen is "The Last of the Hargroves," which is released on November 28.

Pathé Star Killed

It is a remarkable coincidence that almost simultaneously with the release of "More Than Queen," the fine Pathé colored picture in which Rene Alexandre starred, comes the news from France, that the talented actor has been killed in the great battle in Belgium. Alexandre was to the Pathé French drama what Max Linder is to the Pathé French comedy. No man of mediocre talent could be the leading man at the Comédie Française or the winner of the first prize for tragedy at the Conservatoire of Paris, and these are two of the honors gained by Alexandre, during his wonderfully successful artistic career.
HOLDING 'EM OUT.

The majority of exhibitors wear a smile a foot wide when the line in front of the entrance begins to spread out of the lobby and down the avenue. Talking with fellow exhibitors the next day the average theater owner will proudly boast "we held 'em out from 8:30 till after 9 last night." But if either of these chaps had been in the long line of waiting patrons, who stood outside the door of the theater, do you suppose his smile would have been as broad or his boast as loud?

"It's good business," answers Mr. Exhibitor. "It shows my competitor down the way that I'm playing to capacity. It gets his goat. If I can keep it up awhile longer he's going to get disgusted and quit—then I'll have all the business to myself." That argument sounds all right, but will it work out? Isn't the patron who is compelled night after night to stand in a waiting line to obtain admittance going to be the one who will get disgusted? Isn't he finally going to become so impatient that, instead of waiting to get into the first house, he will drift along the street a little farther to the other show and spend his dime there?

Exhibitors in general are too much inclined to ignore the comfort of their patrons and to care too little whether they receive the proper attentions and courtesies or not. The public, though it is a long-suffering animal and one inclined to stand for much abuse at the hand of public service corporations and others, sooner or later will awake to the fact that it doesn't have to be trampled upon and ignored—in other words, that it has some rights of its own.

Had the exhibitor who smiled at the waiting line and boasted of "holding 'em out," taken steps to fix firmly in the minds of his patrons the fact that his first show begins promptly at 7 o'clock, and that the performance starts at 8:45, would he not only have avoided the waiting line with all its discomfort in front of his house, but also made each and every one of his second show patrons honestly grateful for the seats they felt sure would be awaiting them at the second performance?

One prominent exhibitor to whom the matter was broached recently said "It can't be done," but in the next breath admitted that not long before he had himself, while playing a long feature, announced certain hours for starting his performances and found that a capacity second-show crowd was waiting to get in when the first performance was finished.

The vaudeville houses which play two performances an evening have long been able to play to two capacity houses, and Mr. and Mrs. Theatergoer plan just as religiously to attend the 8:45 or the 9:15 show as they would if they were planning on attending a legitimate entertainment several miles from their home. It will take time, but now that long features of five and six reels, in which well-known stars of the legitimate stage are seen in the leading roles, are becoming so common, there seems no reason why the picture house cannot establish a certain time for beginning its performances and advertise and bid for the second-show patronage just as successfully as does the vaudeville house in the same block.

Once the patrons learn the time for starting the second show, once they understand that they won't have to wait in long lines, but can be sure of comfortable seats, they will make it a point to be present on time, and the exhibitor will wear a smile and boast... of his receipts the next day just as surely as he does under present conditions—only his smile will probably be broader and his receipts larger.

WHY NOT COMBINE THEM?

THERE are in Chicago about forty feature film offices and offices of New York manufacturers of films. A great many of these offices, running pictures wherever they can, haven't a sufficient supply of films to do much more than pay expenses—in fact, in some cases the offices are running at a loss. One of the most serious conditions has been engendered by the multiplicity of offices. It is useless to expect an exhibitor to go to thirty-five or forty different places to look for film. He won't do it; he can't; he hasn't time. It is also useless for forty different solicitors to call on the same man in the effort to book pictures, because he cannot take them all. There is not only waste rent, waste salaries, but there is a tremendous waste effort. All of these offices cannot employ city solicitors, and those that can are unable to employ road men, so that a great many of them have to subsist on the business which comes in through mail solicitation. We have within our own observation the example of a man traveling to Milwaukee to solicit a booking on a feature film, being turned down by the exhibitor, and writing to his office in Chicago to ascertain if he could book the film for free or ten dollars less than it was offered by the road man.

If it is advantageous for makers of pictures to establish a program or releasing bureau, why is it not advantageous for makers of features to select some capable booking office in Chicago to release their features? Surely some arrangement could be made which would be more economical than the establishment of a branch office has proven for some of these makers. There would be an elimination of circularizing duplication, an elimination of railroad and street car fare, and the handler of the pictures could afford to advertise in his territory and would do so. A road man could obtain bookings far better if he had ten subjects for the exhibitor to select from instead of one or two.

Why isn't it possible for the New York makers who establish individual offices in cities like Chicago to select some shrewd operating concern and make arrangements for the handling of their product, not on a straight purchase plan, but on some basis similar to that on which they would establish their own offices?

ESTABLISHES PRECEDENT

In the new serial "Runaway June," written by George Randolph Chester, now being produced by the Reliance Motion Picture Company, a novel mode of procedure is being adopted. The Reliance Company has realized the necessity of improving pictures from the artistic standpoint, and in its search for a man thoroughly versed in the pictorial and artistic end of the business, hit up Dr. Arnold Genthe, whose fame is world-wide as the premier still photographer of America. Dr. Genthe, whose studio is located on Fifth avenue, has made a study for many years of light effects and color photography, and he is probably the best versed man in America in this particular line.

Leah Baird of the Vitagraph players was married on Wednesday, November 28.

---

Just A Moment Please

In the Bioscope, published in London, we read that J. Frank Brockless has been compelled to withdraw from the market the three reel Lubin subject, "Marah, the Pythoness," because of the inability to get a copyright over from the States." I say, old top, now if she had only been a sea serpent, instead of a pythoness—eh, what?

Congratulations Lloyd, as a society reporter and particularly an authority on ladies' gowns you're certainly there. By golly, our hat's off to you. We've enjoyed reading your Screen Club ball notes more than we can tell. Lots of your "stuff" is fit to rank alongside of the fashion chatter in La Royal, Le Art, or Bon Ton. And never once did you confuse charmence or crapet meteor with faille taffeta. Never once!

OUR BURG

Carl Laermude, gunsmith into Our Village and out again this week, has closed up his little shop in some form for some time, having opened a new office in Mpls., Minn. 103 Temple Cir. Bldg. is the address.

Some of them raised sneaky thieves who has been terrorizing the community brake into the box office of the Aven theater this week, and stole $500 dollars. Our village constable is working on a clue.

Much surprise and excitement was occasioned in social circles this week by the discovery that Mildred Pum, the talented, beautiful, charming and accomplished niece of our esteemed and respected citizens Judge Hugo Pum, has gone over on "Unkie" by up and marrying this here Victor Potel, what is a humble M. P. actor, of the Grosroy Co. Congratulations, Millie, Good luck, Victor.

Geo. Galos, our w. k. speed king, was pinchet by the constable this week for speeding. Yep, it cost him a V, but he says as how it was worth it.

Sam Spedon sends us a lovely story about the marriage of Leah Baird, the Vitaphon star, but nary a word about the groom. Who was the feller Sam? Leah ain't ashamed of him, we hope.

FAMOUS AL'S

ALFRED THE GREAT

AI LIANCE

AL JOLEY

AL LICHTMAN

AL FRESCO

AL HAAZE

Your old friend Don Mesaney just can't help editing things. This week brings to our desk Vol. I, No. 1, of the Universal Pacific Coast Studio News, which is devoted to news of the players and films of the big "U" studios of the West Coast. Good luck, Don. Long may the new sheaf wave.

From way down in Texas comes a short epistle from one E. A. Barronymore, Chicago representative of the Telegraph, but now engaged in punching coves instead of a typewriter. Barry explains his abrupt departure from our midst and sends greetings to former pals. Best wishes E. A. May you become a second Tom Mix.

THES BE TROUBLOUS TIMES

The British Bioscope of a recent date contains a little story about a certain English exhibitor who was in the big city making his bookings and sent this wire to his house manager at home—"Keep Airship off. Arriving 7:30 When the Earth Trembles." The message, upon its arrival, brought a whole host of Scotland Yard men to the telegraph office to apprehend a German spy, but the film titles were finally explained and the sleuths departed.

MORE FROM BENNIE

Since we promised more from Bennie, the Natl' Waterfoot Film Company's office boy, we'll fire another wad immediately, although we realize only too well that many of you have not yet fully recovered from last week's spasm. Here's Bennie's latest discoveries in the way of epiphanies:

"Stranger, this grave is greedy Pete's."

He leaned a club for just the eats.

He ate and ate, till he couldn't swaller.

He couldn't swaller.

"Here doth our friend, Punk Hauser, lie."

Oh what a pity he should die!

In life, he was roared without cause.

In death he'll get his remorse ccp.

Do we hear any cries of "Go on! Go on!"

We thought not.

N. G. C.
Lasky’s Story of Circus Life
Reviewed by Mabel Condon

There is the big “white top,” the rough and tumble work of the chalk-faced clowns, the bareback riders with short, bobbing skirts, the popcorn and peanut vendors, the triumphal parade around the chip and sawdust-covered ring—and there is “The Circus Man,” in the five-reel film of that title presented by the Lasky Film Company.

Theodore Roberts has the role which gives the story its name and, as always, Mr. Roberts’ work is excellent. Another important role is that of Jode Mullally in the character of David Jenison who is falsely accused of the murder of his grandfather and is befriended by the wife of the circus man, who secures work for him as a clown and in this disguise, he eludes the search of detectives. The Cronk brothers, one a cripple, are hangers-on of the circus; Raymond Hattan, as the cripple, does a good bit of character work and Howard Hickman as the slick young man of good clothes and nimble fingers, is exactly the type one would imagine the role of Dick Cronk would demand. It is hoped the public will see more of Mr. Hickman’s work, providing he fits future roles as well as he does that of the elder brother, Dick Cronk.

Hubert Whitehead makes a good “heavy” in the guise of David Jenison’s scheming uncle, who murders his own father and by means of a forged will usurps the wealth that had already been bequeathed to the old man’s grandson, David. James Neill has the short but telling role of the grandfather whose murder is abetted by the negro attorney, Isaac Perry, in which character Billy Elmer is seen. Fred Montague is Col. Grand, who finances the circus. Mabel Van Buren is the wife of the circus man, and Florence Dagmar has an acceptable part as the daughter, Christine Braddock.

As the circus scenes are those of a real circus, and since they are the ones which go to make up the greater length of the film an atmosphere of reality prevails throughout the picture’s five reels, which has good photography as another necessary quality.

The preference of David’s grandfather for David, rather than for his wayward son, Frank, develops the situation which ends in the death of the old man at the hand of his son. David, attracted by the shot, is seized as the murderer but escapes during the night, returns to the house for his coat and bank book and goes to a small town which is given over to the enjoyment of a circus. Members of the circus recognize him from posters as the man for whose capture a $500 reward is offered. The wife of the circus man secures work for him as a clown, but her husband makes him pay $500 as silence money. Dick Cronk helps solve the mystery of the death of David’s grandfather and Frank, dying, confesses to the murder. David returns to his estate and after several years, again meets Christine. Col. Grant has bought out the circus man’s share of the show and later sends the circus man to prison on a false charge. When the latter is freed he attempts to kill the colonel, but Ernie, the cripple, does the deed in defense of his brother who is threatened by the colonel, and escapes. Dick is convicted in his stead, but later released on Ernie’s dying confession. David and Christine are quietly married and the circus man and his wife go west to start life anew on a ranch.

“Roxie” Gets Loving Cup

S. L. Rothapfel, the popular manager of the Strand theater, in New York City, was presented on Sunday last with a silver loving cup by Jesse L. Lasky and David Belasco. The presentation was made to show the appreciation of the managers for the artistic handling of the feature film “The Rose of the Rancho” by Mr. Rothapfel. It occurred in the private office of Mr. Rothapfel, the presentation speech being made by Mr. Lasky. The cup is solid silver, stands about two feet high and bears on one side the inscription “To S. L. Rothapfel from Jesse L. Lasky and David Belasco in token of their appreciation of his services in presenting a picturized version of the play “The Rose of the Rancho,” November 15, 1914.”

At the request of Chancellor McCormick, a date has been set for the showing of George Kleine’s “Julius Caesar” at the University of Pittsburgh.
News of the Week as Shown in Films

Jeff Coolidge's 95-yard run for a Harvard touchdown. Copyrighted 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

New type of boat invented by John Hays Hammond, which can be controlled by wireless from shore. Copyrighted 1914 by Hearst-Selig News Pictorial.

Annual Rugby football contest between Leland Stanford and California universities. Copyrighted 1914 by Hearst-Selig News Pictorial.

Indians unloading equipment to encamp in France. Copyrighted 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

Jackies aboard a German warship pulling in anchor chain. Copyrighted 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

Underzangen, in East Prussia, laid waste by Russian shells. Copyrighted 1914 by Hearst-Selig News Pictorial.
Complete Record of Current Films

Current Releases

Monady.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>D 12-7</td>
<td>Just a Kid.</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-7</td>
<td>Guns of the West</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-7</td>
<td>The Penny Pincher</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-7</td>
<td>The Little Girl</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tuesday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>D 12-8</td>
<td>Just a Kid.</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-8</td>
<td>The Penny Pincher</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-8</td>
<td>The Little Girl</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Wednesday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>D 12-9</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-9</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Thursday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>D 12-10</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-10</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Friday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>C 12-11</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Saturday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>C 12-12</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Advance Releases

Monday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>C 12-8</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-8</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tuesday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>C 12-9</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-9</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Wednesday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>C 12-10</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-10</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Thursday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>C 12-11</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Friday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>C 12-12</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Saturday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Release Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>C 12-13</td>
<td>A Man to Remember</td>
<td>Edison</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

DAILY LICENSED RELEASES

MONDAY: Biograph, Edison, Essanay, Kalem, Selig, Vitaphone.
WEDNESDAY: Edison, Essanay, Kalem, Lubin, Pathé, Selig, Vitaphone.
THURSDAY: Biograph, Essanay, Kalem, Lubin, Selig, Vitaphone.
FRIDAY: Biograph, Essanay, Kalem, Lubin, Selig, Vitaphone.

MISCELLANEOUS FEATURES.

The Little Rebel | Warner's |
The Conspiracy | Famous Players |
Thirty Years of a Gambler's Life | Eclipsed |
Joys of Jealousy | Eclipsed |
The Seats of the Mighty | Colonial |
The Treasure of the Loutrakis | Italy |
The Last Egyptian | Oz |
The Stranger | White Star |
Broken Vows | Universal |
Podber, the Sleepwalker | Picture Playhouse |
The Robbers | Leonard |
The Turtles | Box Office |
Hearts and Flowers | Cosmo |
Mutual Program

Monday.
D 11-30 The Regear Child........................ American 2,000
D 11-30 Our Mutual Girl, No. 46................. Reliance 1,000
11-30 Title not reported..............................

Tuesday.
D 12-1 The Center of the Web......................... Thanhouser 2,000
D 12-1 Old Good for Nothing........................ Majestic 1,000
C 12-1 Copied and a Dress Cost...................... Beauty 1,000

Wednesday.
D 12-2 A Romance of Old Holland...................... Broncho 2,000
D 12-2 The Strength o' Ten......................... American 1,000
D 12-2 The Lucky Shot................................. Reliance 1,000

Thursday.
D 12-3 The Vigil..................................... Domino 2,000
D 12-3 Title not reported.............................. Keystone 1,000
T 12-3 Mutual Weekly, No. 101........................ Mutual 1,000

Friday.
D 12-4 Mother of the Shadows........................ Kay-Bee 2,000
C 12-4 The Creator of "Humor"................. Princess 1,000
D 12-4 Naida, the Dream Woman....................... Thanhouser 1,000

Saturday.
D 12-5 Who Shot Bud Walton?........................ Reliance 2,000
C 12-5 Sherman Was Right.............................. Royal 500
C 12-5 It's Very Trying................................ Royal 500

Sunday.
D 12-6 A Question of Courage........................ Majestic 2,000
C 12-6 Mr. Hadley's Uncle Bill, No. 47............. Komic 1,000
C 12-6 The Wandering Detective...................... Thanhouser 1,000

Universal Program

Monday.
D 11-30 The Coward.................................. Imp 2,000
D 11-30 A Lonely Salvation......................... Victor 1,000
C 11-30 His New Job.................................. Sterling 1,000

Tuesday.
D 12-1 Called Back.................................. Gold Seal 4,000
C 12-1 Charlie Wook Vixen......................... Crystal 500
D 12-1 The Barber Shop Follies...................... Crystal 500

Wednesday.
C 12-2 The Wise Guys................................ Joker 1,000
D 12-2 The Girl Stage Driver....................... Eclair 2,000
T 12-2 Animated Weekly, No. 143...................... Universal 1,000

Thursday.
D 12-3 The Young Philanthropist..................... Imp 1,000
D 12-3 The Mystery of the Spa View Hotel........ Rex 2,000
C 12-3 Love, Luck and Candy......................... Sterling 1,000

Friday.
C 12-4 When Lizzie Got Her Polish.................... Nestor 1,000
D 12-4 The Heart of a Magdalen........................ Powers 2,000
C 12-4 Papa Buys a Bale................................. Victor 1,000

Saturday.
C 12-5 A Dream of a Painting.......................... Joker 1,000
D 12-5 The Circle of Gold............................. Frontier 1,000
D 12-5 The Foundlings of Father Time.................. "101 Bison" 2,000

Sunday.
D 12-6 The Lion, the Lamb, and the Man.............. Rex 2,000
C 12-6 Fido's Dramatic Career........................ L-Ko 1,000
D 12-6 The Higher Impulse............................ Eclair 1,000

Monday.
D 12-7 The Outcome................................. Imp 1,000
C 12-7 Billy's Charge................................ Sterling 1,000

Tuesday.
D 12-8 The District Attorney's Brother.............. Gold Seal 2,000
C 12-8 Vivian's Cookies............................... Crystal 500
C 12-8 Whose Baby?.................................. Crystal 500
D 12-8 The Widow's Last.............................. Nestor 1,000

Wednesday.
C 12-9 The Gem of the Vine............................ Joker 800
T 12-9 Alaska......................................... Joker 500
D 12-9 For the Mastery of the World................ Eclair 3,000
D 12-9 Animated Weekly, No. 144................ Universal 1,000

Thursday.
D 12-10 Three Men Who Knew.......................... Imp 2,000
C 12-10 No release................................. Imp 1,000
D 12-10 Lizzie's Fortune.............................. Sterling 1,000

Friday.
C 12-11 Their Ups and Downs......................... Nestor 1,000
D 12-11 Adventures of the Nimble Dollar............ Powers 1,000
D 12-11 The Little Gray Home.......................... Victor 2,000

Saturday.
C 12-12 Love Disguised.................................. Joker 500
C 12-12 Building a Locomotive....................... Joker 500
C 12-12 Her Higher Ambition........................... Frontier 1,000
D 12-12 The Trail Breakers...................... "101 Bison" 2,000

Sunday.
D 12-13 A Night of Thrills............................ Rex 2,000
C 12-13 The Royal Demons............................ L-Ko 1,000
D 12-13 The Mountain Traitor........................ Eclair 1,000

DAILY MUTUAL RELEASES
(Independently.)
TUESDAY: Beauty, Majestic, Thanhouser.
WEDNESDAY: Broncho, American, Reliance.
FRIDAY: Kay-Bee, Majestic, Princess.
SATURDAY: Reliance, Keystone, Royal.
SUNDAY: Majestic, Thanhouser, Komic.

DAILY UNIVERSAL RELEASES
(Independently.)
MONDAY: Imp, Victor, Sterling.
TUESDAY: Gold Seal, Crystal, Nestor.
WEDNESDAY: Animated Weekly, Eclair, Joker.
THURSDAY: Imp, Rex, Sterling.
FRIDAY: Nestor, Powers, Victor.
SATURDAY: Bison, Joker, Frontier.
SUNDAY: L-Ko, Eclair, Rex.
Brevities of the Business

Here's a brand new pie of Philip Lonergan, who came to the Thanhouser studio last spring in the capacity of one-and-two-reel editor for the Princess Motion Picture Co., to the position which gives him the right to the title, editor of Thanhouser scripts. His coming to the Thanhouser studio last spring, however, did not mark his beginning in the script world. That occurred on the last day of 1912 when Mr. Hite, then head of the New Rochelle studio provided the start. For twenty weeks previous he had been gathering experience by helping his brother, Lloyd, when the latter was confined to his home with a broken leg and at the same time was providing the Thanhouser directors with working material. So Phil, as people best know the younger of the two Lonergans, gleaned valuable experience to be exchanged for valuable help and was at home in the position of assistant script editor when the opportunity offered. In July, 1913, the late C. J. Hite chose Phil Lonergan to go to the Majestic coast studio, where he wrote and selected scripts until last May, when Mr. Smith summoned him to New Rochelle and gave him entire charge of the Princess script department. But a great part of the work attendant upon Thanhouser productions devolved upon Phil, and with bestowal of the title manager of production upon Lloyd, that of Thanhouser editor became Phil's. So that virtually defines his work and position at the present time. So outside of that plus the recreative official tone of his own films, whenever he can now follow their making, and is able to do it, and being generally helpful with both advice and deed on many affairs of importance, the position of Thanhouser editor is merely one which calls for about three original scripts a week. Being pleasant, witty and always active are a few of the qualities which make for the popularity of Philip Lonergan.

Charles M. Sey, director of Edison films, had a full page feature story in a recent issue of the New York Sun. "Locating the Atmosphere for Motion Pictures," was the title. That New York and its environs supply the best location in the western world for the making of screen scenes everywhere was Mr. Sey's stock-in-trade, in his book made and he illustrated it with stills from Edison pictures lately made.

Miss Anna Luther, late of the Universal Company, has been chosen to play opposite Tom Tabor in the Kinetoscope Corporation picture, "The Man's Shadow." Thomas Beding is now connected with the publicity department of the World Film Corporation and is handling the press work on the Colonial picture, "Seals of the Mighty."

Harry Harvey, for a number of years a producer of features, has returned to work as director with the Balboa Amusement Producing Company in Long Beach, Cal., following a vacation, and is now producing a three-reel subject, "The Light in a Woman's Eyes."

The six-part feature picture, "Damon and Pythias," heralded for the past several weeks by the Universal Film Company, was introduced to Broadway on the evening of November 30 at the New York Theater. Where it is undoubtedly will be the attraction for an indefinite length of time. The attendance was an invitation one and included officials of the Knights of Pythias together with a large showing of film people.

O. W. Biarmer left on Friday last for an extended tour of the country in the interests of Mina Films. Mr. Biarmer took with him samples of six "Mina" releases, the first of which, "The Thrilling Adventures of Captain Verace," is to be made on December 17, through the General Film Company and other licensed exchanges.

W. C. Smith of the Nicholas Power Company was given an enthusiastic welcome at the annual dinner of the Screen Club members. The gratitude and pleasure of the club was merited by Mr. Smith's contribution of novelty lighting effects during the progress of the grand march, at the club's Thanksgiving eve ball. A shower of flowers was one of the prettiest effects produced and one that brought forth great applause was a rain of American flags.

Harvey L. Gates has resigned his position with the press and Universal Weekly department and has joined Romaine Fielding at the Lubin plant, where he is assisting him generally. Both Mr. F. and Mr. Gates received a warm welcome at the Screen Club ball.

Louise Lester has started her annual "Do your Christmas shopping early" at the "Flying A" studios in Santa Barbara. Miss Lester says her campaign will reach all her friends in Santa Barbara this year.

Margaret Joslin demonstrates the fact that the stone-age method of winning a girl by battling for her hand is passe in the Essanay comedy, "Sophie's Sweethearts." While "Slippery Slim" and "Mustang Pete" are fighting a duel to see which shall wed her, she quietly slips away with a third and more pacific suitor and marries him.

Having signed contracts this week to furnish at least 5000 feet of first-class film in the seventh season of the booking companies, the Balboa Amusement Producing Company of Long Beach, California, has put a large crew of carpenters to work enlarging the studio stage to more than twice its present size.

Emil C. Jensen, for three years with the Kinemacolor Company of America, first in New York, and then as branch office manager in Chicago, comes back to the Chicago field, with which he is well acquainted, on November 30, as assistant to Felix Feintuch, manager of the Celebrated Players Film Company. Jensen is still a very young man, but he is pushing himself forward to advancement after advancement. Recently he has had the honor to be partner in the Feature Booking Office, of Brooklyn, and just before that he was the booking manager of the New York Exchange for Sawyer, Inc., at 1600 Broadway. He is not only a booking man but an able producer, man, having been assistant to Edwin Bower Hesser when the latter was general press representative for Kinemacolor.

Film Market Quotations and General Gossip

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Bid</th>
<th>Asked</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>American Film</td>
<td>109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Biograph Film</td>
<td>109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>General Film pref.</td>
<td>48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>General Film</td>
<td>48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Film pref.</td>
<td>52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Film</td>
<td>52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York Motion Picture &amp; Film</td>
<td>68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Film</td>
<td>68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Syndicate (Zudora) pref.</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Syndicate (Zudora)</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syndicate Film pref.</td>
<td>160</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syndicate Film</td>
<td>160</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World Film</td>
<td>41</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

There was active trading all last week in World Film Corp., principally on the New York Curb and also in Philadelphia and Boston. The market has shown considerable firmness. In one respect at least this stock is unique among the film securities—it being the only one where a quick market can be obtained at any time during the day. Mutual Film Corp. common shows a new high level—58 bid with only a small amount of stock to be had at 73.

Syndicate Film Corp. sales were made at 165, which is the record price down to date. There is a rumor that another dividend of 25 per cent will be paid this month on both the common and preferred, which will show over 25 per cent paid in a period of four months. As to whether the company will entirely liquidate its profits or try its luck with a new photo-play, remains to be definitively decided this month.

Thanhouser Syndicate Corp. (Zudora) contracts have been closed for an amount in excess of $600,000, which definitely places this proposition among the unusual success stories scored in the motion picture field.

Biograph Film Co.—There has been some demand for this stock, but the difference between the bid and asked prices is so wide that it is exceedingly difficult to effect sales.
MOTOGRAFHY

Five hundred veterans of the civil war, through the courtesy of Thomas H. Ince, general manager of the New York Motion Picture Corporation, were the interested witnesses recently of Mr. Ince's thrilling western drama, "The Two Gun Man," at the Soldiers' Home in Sawtell, Cal. The picture is produced in seven reels and serves to introduce in a pictorialized way the services of William S. Hart, the celebrated star of the legitimate stage.

The E. K. L. Film Company of 5 South Wabash avenue, Chicago, Ill., is handling the Illinois and Southern Wisconsin territory on the Cosmofonofilm Company's subject "Called Back," which is a four reel adaptation from the famous novel by Hugh Conway.

Hughie Mack, the fat comedian of the Vitagraph Company made an appearance in vaudeville at the Flatbush theater in Brooklyn, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Novedad in producing another "Slim" debut was greeted by a large representation of the Vitagraph Company, who gave him a hearty reception.

Harry Todd, as "Mustang Pete" in the Essanay comedy "Sophie's Sweetheart," landed a blow on "Slippery Slim's" ear, in their battle for the hand of Sophie, that left a stale. He declares that it was accidental, but "Slim" vows an accident is liable to happen to someone in their next encounter.

A. M. Gollos of Chicago has opened a branch office at 105 Temple building, Minneapolis, Minn., and will handle all his business in that territory through it. He will soon announce the release of a serial entitled "The Wanderings of Little Nemo," a subject made by the Photoplay Productions Company from the drawings of Windsor McKay.

On Tuesday, December 2, Edith Storey and Hughie Mack of the Vitagraph Company, were before an audience at the Bijou Theatre, Boston, Mass. Hughie's impressive presence and expansive smile were notable features and Edith Storey's well earned popularity was evidenced by the recognition she received.

An exact reproduction of the Paris Bourse is being erected in the Pathe studios to be used in Bernstein's great dramatic success, "Samson" with William Farnum in the title role.

Evelyn Selbie, the Essanay western actress, has taken up dancing as a fad. She has learned all the latest steps and is as expert as a professional in all the intricate of the modern dances.

Edith Storey, the heroine in "The Island of Regeneration," made a daring swim in a Vitagraph lake last week. She was obliged to plunge into the icy water, penetrate a submerged cave and reappear after making an exploration of its different chambers. She remained under the water for more than a minute.

On Thanksgiving eve, H. A. D'Arcy, publicity man of the Lubin Company delivered a lecture to five hundred members of the National Commercial Gas Association at the Y. M. C. A. building in Philadelphia. Mr. D'Arcy described the early history of the film industry, and the development of photo motion. The audience gave earnest attention to the speech and rewarded the reader with considerable applause. After the lecture Mr. D'Arcy, by request, read his famous poem "The Face Upon The Floor."

Edwin August, who recently joined the Kinetophone as star actor and producer, with the aid of Mary Pickford, of the Famous Players, her mother Mrs. Pickford, Ormi Hawley, of the Lubin Company, Pearl White, of "The Perils of Pauline" fame, and Jean Acker formerly of the Imp-Universal Company, were responsible for the accumulation of quite a large sum of money at the Screen Club Ball, which took place at the Hotel Astor on Thanksgiving eve. It is the intention of Mr. August to turn over the money to the New York Relief fund, which furnished him with a half a dozen small banks which were in the shape of barrels.

Cissy Fitz-Gerald of the Vitagraph players has at last yielded to the importunities of the insurance agent and taken out a $20,000 policy for the protection against accident to her famous wink. The present European war is primarily the cause of Millie Fitz-Gerald's taking out the insurance, as she wishes to make ample provision for her aged mother, who is in England, and cannot be moved. As her educated eye is the principal asset of the popular comedienne, she does not consider the amount of the policy exorbitant.

Tom Ricketts, one of the "Flying A" directors, has been engaged by the Western Film Company to write another mission story on the order of "The Trail of the Lost Chord."

Lillian Walker, of the Vitagraph players, claims to have more sisters, brothers, cousins, aunts and uncles than any other motion picture artist appearing in front of the camera. Now that the holiday season is at hand, every mail brings her a new bunch of relatives, some of whom she wishes she were acquainted with.

Walter Belasco, character man of the New York Motion Picture Corporation's California studio, has invested in a couple of lots at San Francisco. For many years he has yearned to own a part of a certain section in the Bay City, and his wish recently was gratified.

Carlyle Blackwell has a splendid company working in "The Last Chapter" under the direction of William D. Taylor, Ruth Hartman, who was in "The Man Who Could Not Lose," plays the principal female role, and Mrs. Pratt and Ollie Scott are also in the cast. John J. Sheahan, Henry Kernan, William Brophy, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, are appearing and the camera work is in the hands of Homer Scott, the man who is not afraid to take a chance and who produces some wonderful effects. The company is in the country taking some of the big African scenes this week.

Ed. J. Le Saint of the Selig Polyscope Company has finished his big Indian mystery story and is now making a two-reel backwoods drama, "Loneliness," in which Stella Razeto has a very appealing part.

Francella Billington, Majestic star, turning the crank for Director W. C. Cabanne.

Henry Otto of the American gave a great treat to twelve nuns and one hundred orphan children last week, when he had them to the studio and explained to them how pictures were made, finally running off "Beppe," in which two of the children had appeared and in which the grounds of the Saint Vincent's school in Santa Barbara, Calif., were shown.

Harry Pollard, of the "Beauty" films, is deep into his interesting picture, "The Quest," for which story a big price was paid by the American people. This four reeler, Mr. Pollard feels, will be one of his best artistic efforts and will give the new features at the American a big send-off.

The first moving picture company to go to Banning, Calif., took possession last week, and the town is theirs. Hobart Bosworth and a company of twenty-five are putting on some lively western scenes for the opening reel of Charles E. Van Loan's "Message to Buckshot John," and everyone in town is taking a great interest.

John Burnham & Co. announce that at a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Syndicate Film Corporation, held in New York City, December 1, an extra dividend of 25% was declared on both the preferred and common, payable December 10 at a rate of record December 5. This makes extra cash dividends of 53% which have been declared on both classes of stock this year, over and above the regular 7% dividend. This means that the original purchasers of this stock, after the payment of above dividends, have received in fifteen months in which the Syndicate Film Company has been in existence, $113 in cash dividends for each $100 invested. The cash working capital of the company after the payment of the above dividend is over $200,000 in excess of all bills and accounts payable, or at the rate of $67 per share for stock outstanding.
ROLL OF STATES.

ALABAMA.

The Palace theater in Little Rock, one of the leading theaters of this city, has secured exclusively the Alco program.

The Electric theater, a moving picture show in Dardanelle, was partially destroyed by fire recently.

In the near future Vaux Buren will have another place of amusement, the King theater having been placed in the hands of contractors for a thorough remodeling. After the work upon the building has been completed it will be opened as a moving picture house.

The Crystal moving picture theater, 118 West Second street, Little Rock, has changed hands. It is now owned by B. M. Shipp of Little Rock and C. E. Ford of Springfield, Mo. The name has been changed to Crescent.

J. L. Nickell of Longmont has purchased a moving picture show at Windsor.

CONNECTICUT.
Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Oiscilagraph Company of New Britain, which is to engage in building, buying and selling moving picture films, cameras, tools, mechanical appliances, etc. The incorporators are W. M. Sanford, R. S. Kilbourne and J. P. Wakefield, all of Hartford. The company is capitalized for $50,000.

DELAWARE.

ILLINOIS.

The Rex theater, Boise, managed by J. L. Ludington, has been purchased by George B. Landers of Tacoma. F. N. Tracy will be manager.

KANSAS.
The corner of avenue E and Main street, Hutchinson, a negro motion picture show is being opened.

Mrs. Ada Webb and daughter have leased the A. M. Smith building, Girard, for two years and are arranging it for a moving picture show.

MARYLAND.
Plans for another motion-picture theater on North Eutaw street, Baltimore, are now in course of preparation by Architect C. M. Anderson. The property 221 Eutaw street has been leased by Joseph Blechman from A. A. Brager, and construction work will be started within the next week or two. The building, which is four stories high, is 22 by 95 feet and will have an entirely new ornamental front of composition material. In the interior plans arrangements have been made for a large seating capacity.

Bids have been received for the erection of a motion-picture house at 1 and 3 South High street with an entrance at 913 East Baltimore street, Baltimore. The plans for the building were drawn by John Freund, architect.

MICHIGAN.
George H. Dadie, one of the owners of the Alcazar theater, has bought the John Watson homestead located on West Bridge street, Grand Rapids. He will build there a moving picture theater with a seating capacity of 600. Work will begin at once, and it is expected will be ready January 1.

Charles Christiansen and Francis Prain and Allen of Manistee, have purchased the Gem and Electric moving picture theaters, which have been so popular under the management of the former owner, Charles Russell.

Victor H. Dunbeck's new motion picture theater in Silvis opened November 21. It will be known as the Victor theater.

Iris Theater company, Chicago; capital stock increased from $30,000 to $36,000.

Carl Duncan has sold his motion picture theater on Main street, Canton, to Poe Wilson and sons of Astoria.

A & B Film Company, Chicago, capital stock $25,000; manufacturing and dealing in moving picture films, etc. Her mann A. Baer, Frederic A. Fischel and Ignatz Spitz.

Aldrich & Scott announce the opening of the Photodrome, Richmond's new playphot theater, in Memorial hall, on November 30.

The International Motion Picture Company, Chicago; motion picture business. Perry S. Patterson, Mellen C. Martin and H. H. Bels.

Mrs. W. H. Fritz of Danville has purchased the Colonial, a moving picture playhouse at Gas City, Ind. Mrs. Fritz remodeled the place and closed a contract for first run pictures.

Work has been started on the erection of a one-story brick and concrete moving picture theater building to be erected at Eleventh street and South Grand avenue, Springfield, by J. J. Scanlan. The new theater will have a seating capacity of 400 and will be up-to-date and modern in every respect. It has been designed by Bernstein & Shepherd, proprietors of the Capitol and Casino theaters in East Washington street.

The Home Amusement Company of Plano has incorporated with a capital of $2,500. The purpose is to operate a theater and amusement business. The incorporators are F. E. Gray, I. G. Melrose and R. O. Leitch.

Glen Harriman has sold the Crystal motion picture theater in New Richmond to Samuel Clayless.

F. L. Battenberg, a resident of Monroeville, closed a deal recently with Mrs. Long, manager of the Lyric theater, Decatur, whereby he purchased the equipment and will reopen the popular place of amusement.

The Fairfield theater, a moving picture playhouse on East Broadway, Burlington, was purchased recently by G. F. Champe and Ted Kocher.

The Unique theater, one of Davenport's popular motion picture theaters, has been sold to George C. Martin, who will rename it the Majestic.

The new picture show building on Third street, Burlington, is making rapid progress.

The vacant storeroom in the photography building, Winchester, has been leased to Chris Sidris for a term of fifteen years and will be used as a motion-picture theater. It will be opened for business about the last of January.

KENTUCKY.
M. Stiwot, the motion picture theater magnate, has scored another triumph in Louisville in the opening of the beautiful Alamo theater, on Fourth street near Walnut.

The vacant storeroom in the photography building, Winchester, has been leased to Chris Sidris for a term of fifteen years and will be used as a motion-picture theater. It will be opened for business about the last of January.

MINNESOTA.
Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ross of Minnesota, have established the American Moving Picture Co. at Minneapolis.
Brief Stories of the Week's Film Releases

General Program

Pathé Daily News No. 80—Pathé—November 25.—Pictures of the New England convention of Methodist men at Boston, Mass., the finish of the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, New York, the State College of Pennsylvania celebrating Pennsylvania Day, and the war. Among views of the fighting men near Ypres, Belgium; Paris and Barentin, France, also a view of the wreck of the hospital ship, Rodilla, on the Yorkshire coast near Whitby, England.

Pathé Daily News No. 81.—Pathé—November 30.—Harry Lander being entertained by the Rotary Club, New York City, N. Y. The annual clash between the teams of Harvard and Dartmouth and Syracuse. The demonstration of the new automatic bumper and fender for automobiles. From Cape Town, South Africa, where the Boer leader, reviewing the men against whom he is now fighting, the Belgian artillery in action near Dixmude, Belgium, the ruins which lie in the wake of the German invasion near Sesilis, France, and Belgian refugees arriving at Furnes, Belgium.

Heardsel News Pictorial No. 80—Selig—December 3.—This issue shows loud—L. S. Morris on the annual pageant, Andrew Carnegie posing on his 79th birthday in Central Park, New York, the new wireless boat operated from a shore station, the invention of John Hays Hammond, Jr. In the war section, views of the East Indian troops at the French frontier, also the first pictures from East Prussia, showing the places laid waste by the Russian advance.

Which Ham Is Schnappemeier's—Selig—December 4.—A Selig farce comedy which deals with the rapid passage of a horse, purchased at a butcher shop by a eccentric, and his later sale. Heinnie Schnappmeier buys a ham, has it stolen from him by a tramp, who passes it along to another individual, who has lost a ham that looks just like it. Meanwhile the butcher sets out in pursuit of the ham, and the two hams get all mixed up, but eventually are restored to their respective owners.

Bunny's Little Brother—Vitaphone—(Two Reels)—December 5.—Bunny refuses to eat and grows fatter and fatter. His wife, determined that he shall reduce his weight, sends him to a sanitarium, where he has some very distressing experiences. Meanwhile Bunny meets his long lost brother Joe and sends him to his wife, who mistreats him with ludicrous consequences. Mrs. Bunny believes her husband must have been driven insane, but when she speaks to the doctor at the sanitarium about the Bunnings, the Bunny, the doctor decides she is crazy. He eventually shows her her husband still in the sanitarium and explaining facts to the doctor. The same reel is a scenic, 500 feet in length, entitled, "Flowery California."

It is our aim to make this department as complete as possible, although to do this, we must have the cooperation of all the manufacturers of film in the United States. If brief stories of the films you are releasing this week are not contained in our department, it must be due to the fact that you have not supplied us with synopsis sheets. In that case please see that we are furnished with titles and release dates, and furnished with a brief synopsis of the story. This department is intended for every film manufacturer, whether he uses our advertising pages or not.

Just a Kid—Biograph—December 7.—Jim and Bill, rivals for the hand of Alice, start for a barn dance. On route they see a tramp thrashing a small boy, and Jim interferes, rescues the lad and takes him home, while Bill, afraid of spoiling the dance, leaves his close friend. A little later takes Alice to the dance, explaining that Jim was drunk and could not come. Alice later, on several occasions, snoops Jim and visiting his home to "make up" is frightened by the tramp and takes refuge in the barn, which later is set afire by ashes from the tramp's pipe. Jim returns home, rescues Alice, explains all and the two are reconciled.

Buster Brown Causes a Commotion—Edison—December 7.—Buster, with a genius for practical jokes, spreads glue around on the door, where his mother's guest will be most likely to find it. The man escapes from one glue spot by walking out of his shoes only to stumble into another. Buster leads Tige and the goat into the glue and they become victims also. On the same reel:

Crystals, Their Making, Habits and Beauty—Edison—December 7.—An educational and restful reel in length, explaining the making, habits and beauty of crystals. It was taken in the Edison laboratories in Orange, N. J. C. R. C.

Sweedie and the Hypnotist—Essanay—December 7.—Sweedie is the scrub lady in the theater. She makes eyes at the stage manager and the hypnotist, and is put out of the theater for being so impertinent. Next day while she is out feeding her chickens, she falls asleep and dreams that she has been left an immense fortune by her uncle, and that the stage manager and the hypnotist are rivals for her hand. The hypnotist makes her the prima donna of the world, and uses his hypnotic influence in keeping his rival out of Sweedie's sight. Finally one day the stage manager sees his chance and pushes the hypnotist into a trunk, then locks it. The hypnotist by a few simple motions makes his escape, then lays in wait for the stage manager. Meanwhile Sweedie comes along and is in the act of caressing the hypnotist when she awakes and finds a goat in her lap instead of her ideal.

The Price of Silence—Kalem—(Two Reels)—December 7.—Trouble fostered by Bill Leets, in the secret employ of a business rival, results in a strike which ruins Tom Plank, head of an industrial plant. On learning the news, Clara, Plank's fiancée, returns his ring. Tom meets and becomes interested in Barbara Ragan, who is also loved by Leets. When Tom discovers that Ragan, Barbara's father, has killed Hegel, former foreman of the factory, he demands for his silence that Barbara wed him and share the poverty she has brought upon him, for he believes that the girl through her love for Leets had a hand in his ruin. Some months later Tom regains his former wealth and Barbara's father is killed in an explosion, so he thus loses his hold upon his wife. Leets, believing that Barbara still loves him, boldly enters the Plank mansion and Barbara, thinking her husband hates her, announces her intention of leaving with Leets. At the critical moment, however, she realizes the enormity of the offense she is about to commit, and rushes back to Tom, whom she finds with his head in his arms. The two realize the depth of each other's love and are reconciled. Alice Joyce and Guy Coombs featured.

Through Desperate Hazards (13th episode of the "Beloved Adventurer" series)

Lubin—December 7.—Lord Cecil follows Betty, his wife, who is being hounded away from England by Carson, a Nevada gambler, arrives at the seacoast just as Carson and Betty depart on a tramp schooner owned by Captain Lars Pietersen. Lord Cecil saves a woman from leaping off a pier and learns that she is Sarah Gray, who had been wooed by Captain Pietersen and then jilted after she had turned over all her money to him. Hiring a motor-boat, Lord Cecil sets out to overtake the schooner and manages to secure the money and return it to Sarah Gray without being discovered. Before he escapes, however, he is seen and his life is only saved by the breaking out of fire in the forward hold and the panic-stricken flight of the captain and crew. Lord Cecil discovers that Betty and Carson have been left aboard and in a duel which follows between Carson and Lord Cecil the latter manages to kill Carson. Betty and Cecil are taken from the burn-
The Rose at the Door—Emerson—December 8—In this third issue of the "Olives' Opportunities" series, Boggs, a thief who has secured a position as butler in the home of General Coleman, overhears the general tell his son, Vance, that in case he should die without heirs, the Coleman fortune would go to Drew Martin, his nephew. Boggs, by his power over Martin, compels the latter to assign the plan of the will and money to Martin and Vance go to a house party at Madame Forrest's country home. Vance takes with him Olive, a gypsy girl whom he has met. Laura, Madame Forrest's protege, is jealous of Olive, but Martin tells her of his plan to obtain the fortune and promises to share it with her. That night Laura leaves a rose in front of Vance's door, as a signal to the thugs, showing them where Vance is lodged. They go to the villa and tell Martin of the discovery and the thugs carry off the wrong man. Martin manages to make himself known just as the thugs are about to cast him into the river. Next morning Vance appears at breakfast alive and well. Mabel Trunnelle featured.

Mrs. Trenwith Comes Home—Essanay—December 8—Mrs. Trenwith is a shallow society woman. Her husband is wrapped up in business, and as a result their little daughter, Marjory, suffers greatly from neglect. Her old nurse, Fanchette, loves her dearly. Mr. Trenwith leaves town on a business trip, while his wife goes to a house party, which is a typical social society tempter. She leads him on. Shortly after she receives a telegram saying that her child is dangerously ill. She thinks nothing of the message, and makes no preparation to leave. Then her conscience begins to work and she dashes for the first train home, only to find Marjory unconscious. Eccles follows her and insists upon seeing her. For the first time she tells him that she is a married woman and refuses to see him. Mr. Trenwith arrives just in time to see the child open her eyes, and for the first time realize what selfish creatures they are.

Dobbs at the Shore—Lum—December 8—Jemula Heckla and his wife are spending the day at the sea-shore, when Helen Marten, a beautiful heiress, is cast in a play by Count Gasco, preparing for a dip in the ocean. While the count is gone to buy Helen a dress, Mrs. Heckla falls asleep and Jem starts to flirt with Helen. Eere departing Jem makes a dummy out of the sand, places it at his wife's side and then speaks off. The count returns just as Jem is attempting to kiss Helen and as a result of the fight which follows Mrs. Heckla is awakened. Snatching a revolver, she sets out after her husband and the count, and for a time much excitement reigns along the shore. The picture ends with the cops arresting the count for attempted suicide and Mrs. Heckla marching Jem homeward.

He Made His Marks—Lum—December 8—Bill Jones, a thief, could not help kissing pretty girls and his wife, though suspicious, had never been able to catch him in the act. Recently the use of thumb prints for detective work solves the problem if it will not work as well with lip prints. When Hank kisses her before going to work she develops the print with some powder, and with this as a sample, finds that Hank had kissed both the maid and the cook. His wife then finds that his stenographer is simply covered with marks, and as a result poor Hank has to fight not only the stenographer's brother, but the husky beaux of the various maids and other servants whom he has kissed, besides squaring things with his wife. George Welch featured.

Saved by a Watch—Selio—December 8—Effective acting and thrilling incidents mingle in this film of western life. Tom Mix has the leading male role and presents several intriguing "stunts," which will hold the interest of any audience. A stage coach topples over in one scene and rolls down an embankment. Alice returns from school as Cousin Pons—Biograph—(Two Reels)—December 8—Bob, a clever pickpocket, is a collector of rare art objects, goes to call on his relatives, the De Marvilles. He takes with him as a gift a genuine Watteau fan, once owned by Madame Forrest. Cecile, the daughter, thinking her cousin poor, snubs him cruelly, being encouraged in this by her mother, Mon- sieur De Marville, returning home, sees Pons' plight and rebukes his daughter and wife for their treatment of him, declaring that Pons has a rich friend who might become engaged to Cecile. Accordingly Pons is treated much better and every effort is made to win the admiration of Brunner, his wealthy friend. Later Brunner offers to buy Pons' art collection which is worth many millions, and so Madame Cibot, the housekeeper, learns of his wealth. Anxious to become wealthy, Cecile offers Madame Cibot a big reward if she will arrange that Pons, who is leaving on a trip, will not return. To accomplish this Madame Cibot attempts to poison him and Cecile one day steals his will and is about to replace it with a blank sheet of paper, when her treachery is discovered, and to avoid being imprisoned, she poisons herself in the Durhams' place. Their faithful friend, Schmucke, to whom he has left his fortune.

The Mystery of the Seven Chests—Selio—(Two Reels)—December 7—A mysterious man places seven chests in a storage vault, and fifteen years later his sister, who has received a long-delayed letter, comes to claim them. Belmont, a society man, breaks the code of the novelty and is followed by a girl named Rose when he takes them to his summer cottage. The husband of the mystery man, however, is gangster and many thrilling scenes lead up to a denouement which is certain to surprise and astound. A complete review will be found on page 767 of the December 5 issue.

The Moonshine Maid and the Man—Vitaphone—(Two Reels)—December 7—Dave, in love with a beautiful girl, and believing she will marry him when he has $1,000. Later, seeing a reward of $1,000 for the capture of moonshiners in that county, Dave decides to secure the reward not knowing that Nancy's father, Joe, operates the still. Joe breaks his leg and Nancy, dressed in his clothes, goes to the still and is seen by Dave, who brings the sheriff. In a bitter fight which occurs there Dave is fatally shot. Helen Gardner and Henry Golden featured.

Sunshine and Shadows—Vitaphone—(Two Reels)—December 8—John Gates, a dishonest bank employee, is able to have his wife, Alice, out of jail, after he had been arrested for staging the Redmond, wrongfully accused of theft in the bank where the two work. Helen breaks off her engagement and Martin, discouraged, goes to a distant city after his trial. There he meets Edna Thompson and marries her, after she has told Martin of his wife's history with his dark-souled and questionate associations. They secure a small farm to work on shares and are very happy for a time. Gates, the great bank cashier, is eventually detected in this theft and before being taken to jail, confesses to the bank director that his wife was not guilty of the previous theft. Accordingly Martin is hunted up and reinstated in his old position.
though Helen is furious when she learns that he is married. For a time all goes well and then Helen manages to learn of Edna's past and forces her to go away by threatening to reveal it. Edna, for Martin's sake, goes away, though he is furious on learning of her departure. He curses Helen and follows his wife back to the country where a reunion occurs between Calmadge and Gladden James featured.

A Matter of High Explosives—Edison December 9.—Mr. Leonard, a young chemist, invents a remarkable explosive, so powerful that a small amount would demolish an entire village. His wife, nervous from the presence of the explosive in the house, worries over it night and day, and, being subject to sleep-walking, that night she visits the laboratory, secures a bomb which she finds on the table and journeys all over the village. She is seen by several villagers and Mr. Leonard is summoned. He eventually finds her atop a telegraph pole and about to drop the bomb. He climbs the pole and manages to take it from her. By threatening to drop the bomb himself he causes the villagers to flee, thus giving him an opportunity to take Mrs. Leonard home without being observed. Arriving at home, he ties her into bed, thereby assuring himself against further disturbances.

"The Fable of the Bush-League Lecturer Who Quoited"—Ridwan December 9.—Homer Sphivens was a loud noise among the boys, but with the girls he was the dampest bomb ever dropped from an airship. He very seldom went to see a girl, but it wasn't his fault; they refused to make dates with him. Finally he saw Lucy Livingston and fell for her. He didn't have the nerve to ask her to call on her, although he was just dying to. He read the lives of all the lady killers to see how they got away with it, then called on Lucy. He tried to tell her his love, but he flattened out like a dying welsh rarebit. He then decided to study the actions of the more modern woolies like the movie idol, Francis X. Bushman. He also had an interview with Jack Thompson, who was an awful hit with the women. The next evening the love for the latter of Lucy started out with flying colors. He forgot what Jack Thompson said about him and stepped out fair lady, so switched to the Bushman system. Just then father entered the room and Homer couldn't be seen for dust. Morial: It has to be done in just a certain way.

The Mystery of the Yellow Sunbonnet—Kalem—Two Reels—December 9.—Arrives home on a leave of absence, On the next estate lives Maynard, a foreign spy, who plots with Jessica, an adventuress, to secure the maps in Cathcart's possession. Jessica contrives to become the guest of George's mother, but George becomes suspicious of her and hides the maps behind a secret panel, so that when Jessica searches his desk she obtains worthless maps. George has seen a yellow sunbonnet in the hall of Maynard's residence and when Jessica loses a paper which bears the words "the yellow sunbonnet" Cathcart becomes suspicious, visiting the Maynard home discovers that the peg on which the sunbonnet hangs is hollow and contains the maps. But just when everything seems to be going in his favor, George discovers a substitution. Cathcart learns the truth and arranges to leave the country. Maynard escapes and Jessica Ferris becomes George's wife. Alice Hollister featured.

A Recent Confederate Victory—Lubin—Two Reels—December 9.—Robert Williams, an old negro, returns to the place of his youth in old Virginia. He arrives to find his former "young master," Clay Fairfax, now a middle-aged invalid, almost in poverty, while the great estate has fallen to ruin. Fairfax's daughter, Louise, is about to sacrifice herself for her father by marrying a rich youth, thus giving up Ned Perry, whom she loves, but who is as poor as themselves. Old William recalls that back in '65 his old master had hidden certain documents in an iron box just before the Union troops arrived. He visits the garden and there finds the box still hidden away. Silas Gregg, a money lender, also knows of the lost fortune and offers to buy the Fairfax estate in the hope of finding it. William tells him of his discovery with the understanding that Gregg is to give him half of the bonds if he can buy the place. Gregg offers $20,000 cash for the estate, which is enough to bring comfort to Fairfax and happiness to Louise. and William then leads him to the treasure and man's father wants him to return home but the man refuses and instead leads the woman to the mountains to fight off a clique of less fortunate men. Where he falls in love with a sincere girl and attempts to leave the woman. She clings to him, however, and they go to their deaths together.

The Athletic Family—Vitagraph—December 9.—Jake Punchim, a retired heavyweight champion, insists that his wife and twin daughters, Helen and Dot, engage in daily athletic exercises. Dot, who hates boxing, meets and flirts with Gussie Wendell, who does not like boxing either, and arranges to meet him at the park next day at two. Helen meets Billy Banghim, a husky boxing instructor, and asks permission to box one of his pupils. She soon knocks her opponent out and Billy falls in love with her on the spot and arranges to meet her at the park next day at two. Through mistaken identity the two girls meet the wrong men and the misunderstanding results in both Billy and Gussie being drugged in the lake. Pa Punchim, out for a walk, assists in lifting a wagon out of a rut, picks up a piano single-handed and sets it on a wagon and does other little stunts. Arriving at the park Pa Punchim is just in time to straighten out the mess. He then calls them. All then enjoy a hearty laugh. William Shea, Edna and Alice Nash featured.

For Her People—Biograph—December 10.—The young queen of Barsonia, veiled, goes with Mathilde, her maid, incognito to a neighboring city and resides there in a small apartment. She becomes acquainted with a handsome young art student who lives across the way. She is delighted, upon her return to the castle, to have this young art student call upon her. He having learned that she is the queen. The queen learns that the heir apparent is a profligate young man and during her absence he had levied a heavy tax upon the people. She arranges to remedy these things and one day while driving with the young art student, who has grown to love her, she witnesses one of the prince's carousels and realizing the fate of the realm in his hands, gives her up her dream of love and marriage. But the girl still returns to her family to see if they can fashion happiness for the welfare of her people.

"Sophie's Sweetheart" — Essanay — December 10 — Slippy Slim and Mustang Pete are suitors for the hand of Sophie Chutts, but she cares nothing for either of them. She is in love with another man. Hiram Chutts and his wife quickly enter the picture. Hiram proposes Mustang, while his wife insists upon Slim being the favored one. Sophie's choice is unknown to them. Hiram sends out notices of the effect that Sophie is to marry Mustang. His wife announces the marriage of Slim and Sophie. While Sophie's parents are in the discussion about her future, Wolf, driven insane by the news, goes to the northeast. Captured by gangsters, he is rescued by Earle Metcalfe and Anna Luther featured.

Pure Gold — Vitagraph — December 10 — Stranded in Yellow City, Helen Cross, a dancer, Attempt an engagement with the town saloon-keeper as a bar-room singer. Later becoming disgusted with the rough miners, she is driven to seeking refuge for the night at a lonely cabin. The lone miner, whose home it is, is welcomed heartily by her, but when he is about to depart she gets him to tell her story. She does so and he, not realizing her secret character, attempts familiarities, which she resists. He grows to respect her and when he is stricken with fever next day she remains to care for him. He recovers and the two people are at last engaged.

And She Never Knew — Biograph — December 10 — On the day her brother will return to take her back to Europe, the girl makes him promise to return on her birthday. On that occasion she had decorated the old home and prepared a feast but he never came. With the passing years she always prepared a feast and decorated the house on her birthday, in the hope that he would come back, but still he never came. A tramp, learning the story, calls at her home and she mistakes him for her brother, as he expected her. He feeds him and then conducts him to her brother's room, where he goes to sleep. Shamed by the trick, the tramp next morning explains all by a note in which he tells the truth and then steals away. The note, however, is blown away by the wind and the girl believes the girl is able to surmise whence the tramp has gone and to bring him back. The exposure, however, had been too much for the girl and her heart, while mourning him as her brother and never did she know otherwise.

The Bold Banditi and the Rah Rah Boys — Kalem — December 11 — Percival Butterfingers is the butt of all the pranks played by Billy Stout and his chums, until Ralph, a freshener, arrives. Ralph and Professor Nutt overhear Billy and his chums concocting a black hand scheme and at the same time a real gang of black-handers plan to blow up Ralph's room to square a wrong committed by his wealthy father. Ralph mistakes one of the real black-handers for a student and chases him away, then picking up the spattering bomb he throws it out of the window, where it explodes, wrecking the building and frightening Billy and his crew who have just arrived. The police arrest Billy and his chums, who are made up as a black-hand band, while the real bandits escape. Marshall Neilan featured.

On Moonshine Mountain — Lubin — December 11 — John Ford, a revenue officer of the moonshiners, turns掀起 illicit distillers and is accompanied by a posse of officers disguised as railroad laborers. He meets Anne, a mountain girl, with whose mother he obtains aboard. At her home he encounters Brice Gordon, a newspaperman, on a vacation, and who is also in love with Anne. Jake, a moonshiner, attempts to caress Anne, while drunk, and Brice saves her and wins her love. Ford tracks Jake through the woods and discovers Brice and Anne. He becomes insanely jealous and when Jake surprises him, Ford saves himself by telling Jake that Brice is a revenue officer. Jake hurries off to warn his companions and Ford follows him. He is seen, however, and chased by the moonshiners to Brice's home, hoping to arrive in time to ring an old bell and thus summon his posse. But before he arrives at the home he is shot by Zeb, one of the moonshiners. Brice is mistaken for a revenue officer on account of his reporter's badge and is about to be hung, no rope being available Zeb pulls down the bell rope to use as a noose and in so doing rings the bell which summons Ford's posse. The moonshiners are captured, Brice is rescued and when he returns to the city Anne goes with him. Edgar Jones and Louise Huff featured.

MOTOGRAPHY

bus in the sea. Wolf, driven insane by the news, goes to the northeast. Captured by gangsters, he is rescued by Earle Metcalfe and Anna Luther featured.

Pure Gold — Vitagraph — December 10 — Stranded in Yellow City, Helen Cross, a dancer, Attempt an engagement with the town saloon-keeper as a bar-room singer. Later becoming disgusted with the rough miners, she is driven to seeking refuge for the night at a lonely cabin. The lone miner, whose home it is, is welcomed heartily by her, but when he is about to depart she gets him to tell her story. She does so and he, not realizing her secret character, attempts familiarities, which she resists. He grows to respect her and when he is stricken with fever next day she remains to care for him. He recovers and the two people are at last engaged.

And She Never Knew — Biograph — December 10 — On the day her brother will return to take her back to Europe, the girl makes him promise to return on her birthday. On that occasion she had decorated the old home and prepared a feast but he never came. With the passing years she always prepared a feast and decorated the house on her birthday, in the hope that he would come back, but still he never came. A tramp, learning the story, calls at her home and she mistakes him for her brother, as he expected her. He feeds him and then conducts him to her brother's room, where he goes to sleep. Shamed by the trick, the tramp next morning explains all by a note in which he tells the truth and then steals away. The note, however, is blown away by the wind and the girl believes the girl is able to surmise whence the tramp has gone and to bring him back. The exposure, however, had been too much for the girl and her heart, while mourning him as her brother and never did she know otherwise.

The Bold Banditi and the Rah Rah Boys — Kalem — December 11 — Percival Butterfingers is the butt of all the pranks played by Billy Stout and his chums, until Ralph, a freshener, arrives. Ralph and Professor Nutt overhear Billy and his chums concocting a black hand scheme and at the same time a real gang of black-handers plan to blow up Ralph's room to square a wrong committed by his wealthy father. Ralph mistakes one of the real black-handers for a student and chases him away, then picking up the spattering bomb he throws it out of the window, where it explodes, wrecking the building and frightening Billy and his crew who have just arrived. The police arrest Billy and his chums, who are made up as a black-hand band, while the real bandits escape. Marshall Neilan featured.

On Moonshine Mountain — Lubin — December 11 — John Ford, a revenue officer of the moonshiners, turns掀起 illicit distillers and is accompanied by a posse of officers disguised as railroad laborers. He meets Anne, a mountain girl, with whose mother he obtains aboard. At her home he encounters Brice Gordon, a newspaperman, on a vacation, and who is also in love with Anne. Jake, a moonshiner, attempts to caress Anne, while drunk, and Brice saves her and wins her love. Ford tracks Jake through the woods and discovers Brice and Anne. He becomes insanely jealous and when Jake surprises him, Ford saves himself by telling Jake that Brice is a revenue officer. Jake hurries off to warn his companions and Ford follows him. He is seen, however, and chased by the moonshiners to Brice's home, hoping to arrive in time to ring an old bell and thus summon his posse. But before he arrives at the home he is shot by Zeb, one of the moonshiners. Brice is mistaken for a revenue officer on account of his reporter's badge and is about to be hung, no rope being available Zeb pulls down the bell rope to use as a noose and in so doing rings the bell which summons Ford's posse. The moonshiners are captured, Brice is rescued and when he returns to the city Anne goes with him. Edgar Jones and Louise Huff featured.
The girl masquerade as assistants. After greatly over-charging him for services rendered a son reveals that he consents to his marriage he will tell the mother of the man she desires. The son gets what he wants. The idea behind the production is good, but it has not been handled in a manner which brings it out in the best possible manner. Sid Smith, John Lancaster, Elsie Grescon, Lyllian Brown Leighton and Lilian Hayward form a clever quintet in the leading roles. A fairly amusing offering.

C. J. C.

The Fresh Air Cure—Lubin.—December 12.—Tony is advised by Mr. Strong, a fresh air enthusiast, to sleep out doors, when young nurse,1 who is forced to set up his bed in the street, much to the disgust of Anne, his daughter. Anne elopes with Iszy Silverstein, whose father both give chase but the young people escape and Tony turns to bed. Izzy and Anne are safely married and coma to the park. They are just in time to see Tony's open air bedroom on a street car. Rushing to the wreck they rescue Tony and receive his thanks.

The Soul Mate—Selig.—December 12.—This is another of the quiet, human interest stories of every day people which are typical of the Selig Company. The acting is delightfully human, and while none of the Selig stars appear in the cast, all the leads do their work well. The entire production is one of merit. Sally, a laundry girl, is told by a palistm that the man who is her soulmate likes her. She is loved by a young man and the laundress wagn, but because he likes red she rejects him. She places a note in a bundle of purple shirts saying that he is her soulmate. Sally goes to the Gordon West’s, owner of the shirts, finds the note and meets Sally. When she discards the note, the boy believes that Sally places another note in the bundle, asking him not to see her again. West finds it and chastises the cad. Then he tells Sally to forget all about soul mates and she shows her willingness to do it by giving Dan a red tie for a birthday present and promising to be his wife.

C. J. C.

How to Do It and Why—Vitagraph—(Two reels).—December 12.—Busted in, the book agent, makes the acquaintance of Jack Sportington and his college chums. Jack is in love with Rose Woods, whose mother does not approve of him. They arrange a little party and invite Rose. Busted is not in the money, telling him it is to defray the expense of a seance. Uncle is delighted at the idea that Busted is a spiritualist and not only sends the money, but comes himself. The boys are having a fine time when uncle arrives and they hide with Busted when they take up a seance, which is exposed by Mr. Woods. All manage to escape except Busted and he eventually frees

The Flying Freight's Captive—Kalem.—December 12.—Dygenes, with his lantern and a motion picture camera, sets out to secure some “topical stuff.” He obtains pictures of the ambassadors from Swiss cheese-avitch arriving in New York, where they get a strong reception. From Skunkville we get a view of Lady Rankwurst inspecting the town’s police, and of Audrey and Beryl Van Hittingthephee, two millionaire children, at play. At Painted Post, Ohio, “Fib Iron Kelby,” the new white hope, is seen training, and at Squillville, K., “Hightower Jimmy,” the daring steeplehimself after interesting Mrs. Woods in his new book on hypnotism. Uncle is infatuated with Mrs. Woods and eventually Buttin becomes interested in her, too. Rose and Buttin manage to place uncle in such an embarrassing position that he quickly consents to Buttin's marriage to Mrs. Woods, and Jack and Rose are left making of their own. Harry Morey, Wally Van and Casey Fitzgerald featured.

MOTOGRAHY

Vol. XII, No. 24.

Mutual Program

The Center of the Web—THANHouser—(Two Reels)—December 1—John Linton, a member of the secret service, and Ida Dean, one of a band of counterfeiters, meet at a social function and are attracted to each other. George Morley, the counterfeiter chief, learns of their attraction and commands Ida to break with Linton, but she refuses. Later the girl becomes jealous of the detective's attentions to old Simms and his daughter, Marjorie. She hopes to implicate the couple in their counterfeiting operations. One day while strolling in the country near a suburban police station, the girl's parents are captured. With the aid of police dogs the policemen trail him, and arrive just as Ida Dean saves Linton's life from

The Creator of "Hunger"—Princess—December 4—John Boyd, a penniless young artist, enters the police station and enrolls as "Hunger," and exhibits it as his own work. Boyd learns of it, but his protestations are to be merely ravings caused by his high fever. He is listened to, but his objectives are later backed by the testimony of the old man and girl who posed for the picture years before, which is now to have been given to Randolph. His interest in Marye, the model, ripens into affection, and this in time culminates in their marriage.

Nairda, the Dream Woman—THANHouser—December 4—An old scientist, working for years in an effort to discover the secret of human life, succeeds and creates a beautiful woman whom he names Nairda. She is wholly incapable of giving or receiving love until the young fellow joins instead of the scientist's. Their affections is mutual, and the young fellow is inspired to play the part of his own philosopher. He then proves that the old man, who is accused of Nairda's admirers, is broken-hearted at this. When the lovers are about to kiss he rushes forward and then—awakens. It was only a dream.

Sherman Was Right—It's Very Trying—Royal—December 5—Sherman's notion of war is vividly portrayed in this thrilling war between the armies of the married and unmarried men of the country. One of the couriers shows an unusual burst of speed by delivering a war message in twenty years flat. Battles are called off at fifty-thirty sharp on week-days, one o'clock on Saturdays, and tattooed entirely on Sundays, which is a day of recuperation. The bloody strife is interrupted by the wishes of the married men, and peace is declared.

Our Mutual Girl—Chapter 47—Reliance—December 7—Margaret meets and marries Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., a famous actor, now starring in "He Comes Up Smiling," on her way to the Yale-Princeton football game, and rides with him for a game he offers to show her at the "Westminster Abbey of America," and takes them directly to the grave of his ancestor, Aaron Burr. Hamilton loses his self-control at this affair, and the couple are soon scuffling and struggling about on the ground. In the game he offers to show her, Fairbanks, Jr., and Edwards secure them excellent seats, taking particular pains to see that he occupies one beside Margaret. After the game he offers to show his guests the "Westminster Abbey of America," and takes them directly to the grave of his ancestor, Aaron Burr. Hamilton loses his self-control at this affair, and the couple are soon scuffling and struggling about on the ground.

The Reader of Minds—THANHouser—(Two Reels)—December 7—The key to the crimes of an insurance counterfeiter is revealed by a mind-reader. Its practicability is a second consideration. It was in the construction of the plot, in its production, and in the matter of the presentation because of its originality. The story is of a psychological machine that photographs the thoughts passing through one's mind. A drama of army life is the setting for this idea, and, assuming that this mind-reading machine be a possibility, one will find it intensely interesting and "different." A young army officer invents a wonderful electrical device that can destroy battleships within a certain radius. While talking to a foreign spy thoughts of his invention are aroused in his mind, and photographs the machine whose lenses protrude through the wall of an adjoining room. The government tries him for treason, but releases him when the truth is known. The plans were obtained becomes known.

Limping Happiness—Beauty—December 8—Alton Meiner, Kathie Fischer and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., star in this comedy, which deals with a lover's quarrel and the unique manner in which it is patched up. Toward the close it is very funny, without any hint of farce, wavering from the high plane which it assumes at the opening. The scenery and photography are of the usual high class quality for which this company is noted. May and John are hopelessly in love with each other. A dancing party gives occasion for a fit of jealousy and the stronger bonds of love seem to be torn asunder with a recklessness and ease that is almost as incredible as it is customary. A bit of strategy, via the sprained ankle route, on the part of both lovers with the family physician as an earnest conspirator and May's little sister capping the climax, winds up the unhappy affair with a snap and vigor that does them all good.

C.J.C.

Her Brave Hero—MAJESTIC—DECEMBER 8.—To prevent Gay's attending a Bal Masque Mrs. Gay pours some sleeping powder into his decanter of whiskey, thinking that he will surely imbibe before leaving the house. Under normal circumstances he probably would, but when he finds Hogan, the maid's fiancé and one of the law's representatives, in a dead sleep he suspects the decanter of treachery, and leaves it alone. Unable to find his costume he appropriates Hogan's uniform, and attends the ball. During his absence a burglar invades the house, helps himself to the decanter's contents, and follows Hogan's example. Mrs. Gay is angered on discovering that he has attended the ball in spirit of her scheme, but changes to sweetness the next morning on seeing 'her brave hero' stretch out a foot on the captured burglar's neck.

The Girl in Question—AMERICAN—DECEMBER 9.—The material from which this play was built, while not exactly new, is interesting and dramatic. This rather ineffective handling of scene construction the production is almost certain to prove popular wherever it is shown. William Garwood, Vivian Rich, Jack Richardson and Louise Lester have the leads and their acting is one of the delights of the film, photography and settings being the other 'high spots.' The story tells of an old-fashioned mother's desire to have her son married to a girl whom he has known since childhood. The young man, however, is led to the bright lights by a friend and becomes fascinated by an adventuress. His mother determines upon a plan to bring him to his senses and follows him to a café one night, where she acts just as his friends do. A short time later she invites her son's fast friends to their home and drinks and smokes with them. The boy is disgusted and goes to the girl, as she is the only one he who thinks has acted respectable. His mother is happy at the result, despite the price she paid for it.

C.J.C.

The City of Darkness—BRONCHO—(TWO REELS)—DECEMBER 12.—Warner, the newly elected governor, had while serving as district attorney sent Hogan's son to the electric chair. Later a bond is issued in Hogan's saloon, and, to even his score with the governor, the saloonkeeper testifies falsely against young Donald Warner who was present at the time of the killing. At 11:45 on the night on which Donald is to be executed Hogan tells the governor that his brother is innocent of the crime, thinking that John cannot prevent the execution. Telephone wires have been cut. The saloonkeeper's attempt to thus torture the executive involves a family feud with the power house, and has the current turned off, plunging the whole city in darkness. Donald is already strapped in the chair, but the current fails to work is returned to his cell, and later freed.

The Forest Thieves—RELIANCE—DECEMBER 5.—Asa Hatch, a multi-millionaire son of the developer of a forest reserve in Wyoming, co-operate in a plan to "legitimately" steal timber land from the government. Hatch has never seen Slade, their transactions all being through the mail. The financial pirates travel to Bisonville to meet Slade, and after a fair play Slade's telegram, showing him Slade's telegram McWhorten, who is a forest ranger with an iron hand and a fair face, secretly takes up the work of defeating the land-stealing plan, and is so successful that the carefully arranged scheme of Hatch is brought to a close. Slade finds down about their ears without even suspecting that it was shaky. McWhorten's reward from the government is his appointment Slade's successor, but the reward that he values even higher is that of having Anne Keith, who helped him in his work, promise to be his wife.

Not of the Flock—DOMINO—(TWO REELS)—DECEMBER 10.—When Rod Haly is exiled from the village he sets up a roadhouse outside of the town, and lives there with his pretty daughter, Leone. David Boylan, the town's new minister, invites the girl to a church social. Leone returns home broken-hearted, having her bet科教 by all hands, and particularly by Edith Ainsworth. Seeing this treatment of his guest Boylan ends his courtship of the banker's daughter. Later Edith is lured to the roadhouse by a saucy city man, but is rescued from her danger by Leone. When Boylan arrives on the scene Leone, thinking the lady engaged to the other, hurries to the minister to overtake her and explains the situation whereupon she promises to be his wife.

The Fortunes of a Boy—KAY BEE—(TWO RIVERS)—DECEMBER 11.—Don Jose Hermanos' choice for his daughter's hand is Pedro Cerveroz, but Pepita favors Carlos Gomez. When the Mexican war breaks out Pedro enlists in Hermanos' regiment with the federals, and Carlos joins the rebels. While Carlos is on his way to meet his military dispatches while he is pursued by the federals and takes refuge in Pepita's house. The soldiers fail to find him, but Pedro suspects a trick of some kind, disguise one of his men as a rebel, and sends him to the house. He is taken in by Pepita and Carlos. Stepping to the window, while his back is turned, signals to the hiding federals. Carlos hears them coming and escapes, leaving his dispatches with the girl. Her sense of duty to her father brings him to her aid. The contents. Later Carlos returns and escorts her to safety over the boundary.

In Wildman's Land—MAJESTIC—DECEMBER 11.—While visiting in a mountainous country about which are told many strange stories of its once being populated with wild men Mrs. Baldwin falls asleep, and dreams that her little son is in the keep of these wild creatures. In attempting to rescue him Mr. Baldwin is killed after slaying three of the savages. He draws Harry's capter's attention away from him by throwing her a large doll. Mrs. Baldwin picks the boy up in her arms, and flees. She is almost killed by the savages' sight when a giant wildman overtakes her. The teror-stricken mother awakes to find Harry a driving her on to his death in an effort to arouse her from her slumber.

On the Ledge—RELIANCE—(TWO REELS)—DECEMBER 12.—Bob and Mabel are placed in an orphan asylum, and later, when grown up, become separated. Bob, now a broker, has detective agent's search for his sister, but in vain. In the meantime Mabel has run away from the asylum, been brought up by a poor family, and is now employed as a servant a short distance from where she was placed, and a janitor accidentally locks her out on the ledge or balcony, and Mabel is instrumental in freeing him from his precarious position and conspicuous accidental, and the sister and brother embrace.

The Housebreakers—KOMIC—DECEMBER 13.—Bunko Bill obtains a position as gardener at the home of the commissioner of police, for the purpose of robbing the house. The commissioner's niece tells her lover of Bill's guilt, and persuades him unless he performs some gallant deed. He, therefore, arranges with Bill to rob the house, and allow himself to be caught, purifying himself the light of a hero. Everything works fine until the commissioner's wife appears on the scene. Her pride in her own judgment, however, overcomes her scruples, and she keeps her discovery a secret so that her husband will not how badly she was fooled in hiring Bill. Harris' salary remains safe, and he wins the niece.

Universal Program

Animated Weekly No. 143—Universal—DECEMBER 2.—This issue of the weekly contains views of the chrysanthemum sale in San Francisco for the relief of destitute Belgians. Mayor Mitchell of New York reviews the annual parade of "The White Wings," the celebration of Orange Day in New Orleans. La. View of Richard W. Croker and his bride who is an Indian princess. A close-up view of Roger Bresnahan, the new Cub manager who is sent to the farm. The French torpedo boat destroyers, the Belgian troops at Furnes and of King Albert and President Poincare at the headquarter
MOTOGRAPHY

The Inn of the Winged God—Univer-

The third installment of the "Ter-

The ring of the secret service

The Genii of the Vase—Victor—Decem-

Whose Baby—Crystal—December 8.

The District Attorney's Brother—

The Widow's Last—Nestor—December 8.

The Crusty, Crabbed Shoemaker
t was released from prison and

The Little Grey Home—Victor—De-

The Trail-Breakers—101 Bison—Two

Love Disguised—Joker—December 12.

The Mountain Traitor—Eclair—De-

The Mountain Traitor—Eclair—Decem-

The Little Grey Home—Victor—(Two

The Trail-Breakers—101 Bison—(Two

Love Disguised—Joker—December 12.

The Mountain Traitor—Eclair—Decem-

The Little Grey Home—Victor—(Two

The Trail-Breakers—101 Bison—(Two

Love Disguised—Joker—December 12.

The Mountain Traitor—Eclair—Decem-

The Little Grey Home—Victor—(Two

The Trail-Breakers—101 Bison—(Two

Love Disguised—Joker—December 12.

The Mountain Traitor—Eclair—Decem-

The Little Grey Home—Victor—(Two

The Trail-Breakers—101 Bison—(Two

Love Disguised—Joker—December 12.

The Mountain Traitor—Eclair—Decem-

The Little Grey Home—Victor—(Two

The Trail-Breakers—101 Bison—(Two

Love Disguised—Joker—December 12.

The Mountain Traitor—Eclair—Decem-

The Little Grey Home—Victor—(Two

The Trail-Breakers—101 Bison—(Two

Love Disguised—Joker—December 12.
moonshining to live with his daughter and her husband.

A Night of Thrills—REX—(Two Reels)—December 13.—On the wedding day of Hazel and Jack, the girl hears a scandalous story about her fiance, and quarrels with him. Before his death Hazel's uncle, his partner, sells the Wild West estate, giving each a key to the mansion. To avoid questions Hazel secludes herself in the big house until the scandal of Jack's affair breaks. She is startled at hearing burglars in the house, and dashes to the front door, running plump into Jack's arms. Thinking he is another burglar, old seniors frighten the thieves who think the deserted house haunted. Jack revives Hazel, and is told that he will not be forgiven unless he humbles himself before her. This, of course, he refuses to do, being innocent. Uncle Howard's spirit intervenes and settles the quarrel, and the couple agree to be married on the morrow.

Feature Programs

Alco

The Education of Mr. Pipp—All Star—(One Reel)—November 28.—This adaptation of Augustus Thomas' well known play features Digby Bell and deals with the comical attempts of the Pipp family to break in New York society. The character was originally created by Charles Dana Gibson, the artist. A complete review of the subject will be found on page 772 of the December 5 issue.

Alliance

Hearts and Flowers—COSMOS—(Five Reels)—November 30.—Tom Landers and Walter Terry are in love with a country girl. A fight takes place between them in which Tom is thrown over a cliff. Tom fears he has killed him and flees to the city. After many hardships he secures a position with some stock brokers and this leads to his becoming a broker and a gambler. He borrows one thousand dollars from his mother, which is money the parents had intended to use to pay the mortgage on the farm. This he also loses and is ashamed to reply to his mother's letter asking for the payment of the loan. His father dies after an accident and, because she is unable to pay the mortgage, his mother is turned out of her home. Tom rescues Elsa Norman, a society belle, from a footpad and they fall in love. Tom's mother arrives in the city and goes to his offices. He is ashamed of her and after placing her in a poor boarding house asks her not to call on him again. Elsa meets his mother and also goes to the boarding house when she becomes weak from hunger on the street. She is told of the state of affairs and is shocked by Tom's rude behavior and his engagement, and then, out of pity, purchases the place and presents it to the old lady. Tom returns to the farm with his mother, heartbroken at losing Elsa. The old lady later pleads with the girl to forgive him and all ends happily.

Box Office

The Judge's Wife—WHITE STAR—(Three Reels)—Judge Livingston, his second wife and Eleanor, are living happily together. Dick Windsor, the judge's secretary, is in love with Eleanor. All goes well until Mrs. Livingston is indisposed and in revenge separates Eleanor and him. The matter is referred to Dick by the bank officials and he endeavors to settle it without letting the judge know, but Mrs. Livingston is indignant and in revenge separates Eleanor and him. The daughter has been working in the slums and falls into the hands of white slavers. The judge rescues her, stops the slave trade, and takes her home. Mrs. Livingston tries to steal enough money from her husband's safe to pay the deficit in her account, but Dick catches her in the act. She accuses him of the theft and he accepts the blame to shield her. When he sees him being discharged she reconcile herself to be with him. She forgives him and all obstacles are removed from the path of the lovers.

The Test of Manhood—(Three Reels)—Harry Wentworth is discharged from the position of his father's ranch, because he is addicted to gambling and drink. The old man employs a Mexican to succeed his son, not knowing that he is the man who ruined him. Crandall, a gambler, brings his sister from the East and requests the men to break in the new man. He sees them and is infatuated with her and threatens to expose Ralph unless he proves his suit for her hand. Harry ships on a cattle drive and he and his sister are left in the care of two pals, whom he has met, have a fight with the crew. After a hard tussle they manage to escape by diving overboard and swimming to shore. He takes his two pals with him and returns home, where he learns that his father is being swindled by the loan shark. He also meets Crandall's sister and falls in love with her. Martin sees this and determines to have the girl abducted. Harry and Ralph manage to get the ranch man's money through a card game, and Harry's pals and himself spoil the plan to abduct the girl. Harry and Crandall's sister then find happiness in each other.

The Wall's of Jericho—Box Office—(Five Reels)—Jack Froshibler returns to England a millionaire and enters the elite social set, through marriage with a woman of position. He sees their worthless life and becomes disgusted with it. Hanky Bannister, one of Australian pals and a millionaire like himself, nºtects a fellow and Froshibler's sister-in-law plans to "catch" him. Froshibler is unable to interest his wife or her relations in building sanitary houses for the poor. A sympathetic friend, Lady Westerby, tells him that he is too tame and all he has to do is to shout and the walls of Jericho will fall flat. He discovers that his wife and the society favorite, Harry Dallas, are in love and views this with contempt. The walls of Jericho are blown and the Australian shores before the Jericho of smartness when he forces his titled bride to marry him. The girl has been compromised and again the trumpets are blown when he attempts to prevent the marriage. The Wall's of Jericho are restored and there another blast when Dallas is made read a love letter written to his wife. The Walls of Jericho are rent asunder when he announces that he is going to sell his property in England and return to Queensland with his wife and children. His wife stubbornly protests and he denounces the life in which she has been raised and tells her that he is going with him despite herself. On thinking the matter over she decides she cares for him and for her society friends. Thus the Walls of Jericho fall flat.

Eclectic

The Stolen Birthright—WHARTON—(Three Reels)—A man, whose own child has died, steals one of the twin babies of another and raises her as his own. Years later the lover of the stolen girl mistakes her sister for her and the husband of the second girl believes his wife faithless. The setting is laid in the East and West and, after many complications, because of the distance which separates the twins, all is straightened out. A complete review will be found on page 805 of this issue.

Thirty Years of a Gambler's Life—PANTHER—(Three Reels)—A poor man's fight with the Syndicate's "friend" Warner, and within a comparatively short time is reduced to poverty, dragging the girl, who is now his wife, down with him. One night he joins Warner in a plot to kill and rob a well-dressed young fellow who is putting up for the night at his cottage. At the last minute a calculated wrench is thrown. The boy is his own son, who was adopted by a relative some years before. A happy reunion and good resolutions for the future follow.

General Special

The Locked Door—BROADWAY STAR—(Three Reels)—Harold Forsythe's father owns the Century Suit Company, who have all the modern fire prevention devices obtainable. On the floor below them Mabel Emanuel's father conducts the Atlas Waist Syndicate's Shop and has absolutely no protection against fire. Harold and his father attempt to persuade Emanuel to put in fire prevention devices, but he refuses to think of their own business. The fire inspector also warns him and in revenge he sets fire to the Century plant. This is extinguished easily by the modern fire devices, but Mabel is accused of arson, because she is suspected of being a profligate. She is put on bail and a few days later a fire breaks out in the Atlas plant and there is no way of proving the innocence of Mabel. This fire consumes everything within their range and Mabel and her father are trapped on the fire escape. Both are rescued by Huyler and Mabel's father confesses his folly and clears Mabel of the crime she was accused of. Harold and Mabel then discover that they are in love.

The School For Scandal—Kalem—(Four Reels)—Sir Peter Teaze raises the two nephews, Charles and Joseph, of Sir Oliver. The former is wild but up right, while the latter is a hypocrite. Teaze marries a girl younger than himself and Joseph falls in love with her. Charles loves Marin but Teaze refuses to sanction the match. The gossiping villagers meet daily and pick their friends' pies, this being known as the school. Sir Oliver returns and discovers the true character of his nephews. Sir Teaze discovers his faultless character because his husband's gnosiveness but the gossipers stretch the incident until they have all the principals dead. They then surprise them all alive and well. Sir Oliver disregisters Joseph, making Charles his heir. He also consents to the marriage of Charles and Maria.

The Tangle—Broadway Star—(Four Reels)—Lieutenant Bradley becomes engaged to Margaret Lane, a society girl, and they are happy until she sees a picture of another woman in his possession. Then she breaks their engagement and marries Colonel Everett, though she tells him she does not love him. Two years later Bradley is in Texas under the command of Everett and Margaret discovers that the other woman was the lieutenant's sweetheart. They both are honorable to trust themselves to meet again. One day, however, she sends for him and the Colonell learns of his coming. They meet at a Mexican cantina ready to kill Bradley if he oversteps the bounds of honor. The lieutenant controls himself as he did before, and Everett admires him as a man of great worth. A short time later the troops are called to the front and, in a terrific battle, Everett is wounded. His dying request is that Bradley marry Margaret.

Paramount

The Rose of the Rancho—Lasky—(Five Reels)—November 30.—In 1850 the government of California grants a rancho to register their property. Many of the Spaniards in the West refused to do this. Among them was Espinoza. Karney of the United States government goes into the West to persuade all owners to protect their property. A woman named Espinoza and her son make their living. The latter makes his living by fishing for salmons and the former by Espinoza. They are successful. Knowing herself to be at their mercy she takes her life. Karney meets Juanita and arranges to register the of the rich Don Luis, a flirtation springs up between them. Karney, learning of the Kincaid raid, warns Juanita and her younger brother. After the raid, however, the mother refuses and ords him from the place. Karney sees Kincaid surveying the Castro ranch and goes to the padre at the mission with Juanita's mother to register her ranch. The padre, convinced of Karney's sincerity, agrees to register it together. When they are alone the government officer impulsively kisses her and she admits that she loves him. Don Luis without warning divorces her and marries Juanita's mother. Karney wins Kincaid's friendship and learns that he intends to seize the Castro ranch. Karney arrives at the registry office and returns in time to participate in Juanita's bethrothal dance. The girl imposes Don Luis to give her up but he refuses. Kincaid is about to raid the ranch when Karney succeeds in delaying him. Juanita mistakes him for her father and turns against key family but later learns her mistake. The soldiers arrive and a flight between the ranch and the farm is averted. The two are overtaken. Karney and Juanita are then quietly married by the padre.

The Circus Man—Lasky—(Five Reels)—December 3.—Jim Stokes, a two-gun man, holds up the stage through a clever ruse, frightening the passengers into submission by placing a number of dummies behind the rocks and telling them that his men are covering them. The sheriff's men pursue him. He is wounded and found by Phil Brent, who takes him to his cabin where he is cared for by Brent's daughter Nell. When he recovers he is interesting in love and he decides to return the money he took and marries her. When he goes to town with the cash, however, he is captured. The sheriff, who takes the boot away from him. The sheriff then gambles the money away and, in a repentant mood, expresses to Stokes what he has done. Stokes makes a bargain, offering to regain the money if the sheriff will give him his freedom. He goes to the gambling room and holds it up. Again he is pursued and this time rides over a cliff, evades his pursuers and returns to the hotel. The parties return to the stage and the sheriff tells them that Stokes is not the man that committed the last robbery, as he has not the body. The sheriff is allowed to escape by the sheriff and returns to his wife. He tells her all that has happened and she forgives him.

The Dancer and the King—Blaney—(Five Reels)—November 30.—The secretary of the young king of Bavaria sees and imagines a dancer in the streets of the street. When her father dies, the secretary takes the little dancer under his care and in time she becomes the premier dancer to the court. The young king sees her and becomes infatuated. To win her, he showers attention and richness on the people for the poor of the nation. The king grants her request, thereby incurring the enmity of the nobility, who lay all the blame at the little shad-er's door. A plot is discovered, which will mean the death of the king, if it is carried out, but the dancer risks her life to warn him. The few that are loyal

Sawyer

A Factory Magdalen—Sawyer—(Five Reels)—Williams, the manager of the mills, becomes infatuated with Angie, one of the girls employed there and promises to marry her. Later he sees another girl and decides that it would be to his own advantage to marry Mercy, the owner's daughter. Mercy is engaged by Rufus Sweet, the foreman, who has never told her of his affection, however, because of their different social positions. The owner learns that Williams has ruined Angie and accuses him of being a scoundrel. Williams is then arrested and put in jail. The owner then asks Williams to clear his son. Williams agrees and is released. Mercy then marries Williams and the two live happily ever after.

Thanhouser Syndicate

Zudora—(Episode No. 3)—Thanhouser (Two Reels)—December 7.—This episode of "The Man Who Shot Cheese" deals with the disappearance of diamonds from a safe. The thief is arrested and taken to court, where he takes the case and clears. Complete review on page 763 of the December 5 issue.

Warners

The Adopted Daughter—Smallwood—(Three Reels)—The police chief adopts a waif and raises her as his own daughter. She is loved by a young detective who sees her father's fondness for her and takes her into womanhood. Her twin sister lives in the slums and is a member of the gang which is "set" upon the chief, when he refuses to obey the political boss. Because of the likeness between the sister's chief's daughter is told of the affair by mistake and attends a meeting of the gang to learn their plans. One of the members has seen her talking to the detective, however, and she is imprisoned. The chief's sister with the gang which attacks the chief and thinks it is his sweetheart. In the mixup which this sister is killed and the gang captured. The detective then finds the chief's daughter and all is explained when her foster father finds out how he adopted her and was unable to do likewise with her sister because of the circumstances he was then in.

World

The Dancer and the King—Blaney—(Five Reels)—November 30.—The secretary of the young king of Bavaria sees and imagines a dancer in the streets of the street. When her father dies, the secretary takes the little dancer under his care and in time she becomes the premier dancer to the court. The young king sees her and becomes infatuated. To win her, he showers attention and richness on the people for the poor of the nation. The king grants her request, thereby incurring the enmity of the nobility, who lay all the blame at the little shad-er's door. A plot is discovered, which will mean the death of the king, if it is carried out, but the dancer risks her life to warn him. The few that are loyal to him are able to incite the people to battle against the revolutionary army. Enraged at the failure of his plotting, the prime minister, who has sought to supplant the king, realizes that the dancer is responsible for his downfall and in the duel between the dancer and the minister, the minister is killed. Leaderless the revolutionists are overcome, and the king weds the dancer, with general rejoicing on the part of the populace.
MOTOGRAPHY

Vol. XII, No. 24.

Miscellaneous

Called Back—COSMOPHOTO FILM (FOUR REELS)—An adaptation of Hugh Conway's novel. Dr. Ceneri spends the fortunes of his nephew and niece Anthony and Pauline. This leads to a quarrel between Ceneri and Anthony, in which the latter is stabbed to death. Pauline is singing in the next room when the murder is committed and her kid is made blank by it. At the same moment Gilbert Vaughan, a blind young man, enters the house by mistake and hears the struggle. Ceneri rushes him away, however, and when he returns home none of his friends will believe his story. Two years pass and Poldor's sight is restored by a successful operation. He meets Pauline and through Ceneri's influence quickly marries her. After the ceremony he discovers that her mind is affected. One day, while passing the house in which the murder was committed, Pauline states her intention of going in and to Ceneri follows. She sings the same song she sang on the fatal night and at the point where the murder occurred she faints. Suddenly the scene re-occurs to Vaughan and he knows that this is the house into which he strayed. He takes Pauline home and finds that her mind has been restored by the shock. Vaughan accuses Macari, one of Ceneri's conspirators who wished to marry Pauline, of the murder but he puts him off with a smooth story. Determined to learn the truth, Vaughan follows Ceneri to Siberia, where he has been sent through Macari's influence. On his death-bed, Ceneri confesses the crime and begs Vaughan to tell his faithful friend Petroff that the other man betrayed him. Vaughan does this, and the incidents which follow lead to Petroff's killing Macari and the happy uniting of Pauline and Vaughan.

The Devil's Fiddler—APEX (THREE REELS)—Juan, a dancing girl, becomes the model of Anatol, an artist, and they are very happy together. One day a deformed fiddler named Scaramousse comes to the studio and his playing casts spells on the girl. He then pose together and does not notice the influence the fiddler has over the girl until one day she leaves him and goes with Scaramousse. Anatol visits a gambling club in Paris and sees the fiddler playing at the tables, the stakes being Juanja. Anatol tries to persuade the girl, who is dancing at the club, to return to him but she refuses. He then takes her bodily, knocking the fiddler down when he tries to interfere. When they are in the studio again the apartment is lumpy, but Scaramousse follows. He again plays his mad music to her and the girl dies because of the floor. His vengeance complete, the deformed fiddler steals away.

The Loss of the Birbeck—APEX (THREE REELS)—Roger, the son of the village square, loves Deborah but has Seth, another village youth, as a rival. When Roger proves the stronger of the two, the girl accepts him and despite his father's objections Roger marries her. She later tells Roger that she lives with him amid a life of dissipation. The death of Roger's father calls them back to the village and Deborah—her husband's band's life has been. Roger is cut off without a penny and determines to disgrace his family. He enlists as a private in the navy, which passes through the village and takes Deborah with him. Seth, fearing the hardships she will suffer, also enlists as a private in order to make her life easier. The company embarks on the troopship "Birbeck," bound for India. The vessel is wrecked and, as the women are placed in life boats, Roger realizes that Deborah loves Seth instead of him. The boat goes down and Roger clings to a piece of wreckage. He finds Seth struggling in the water and gives up his life that his rival may cling to the wreckage. Morning finds Seth and Deborah united on the shore.

Poldor the Sleep-Walker—PICTURE PLAYHOUSE—Poldor is a speechless ruffian who will not allow him to join any late parties at cafes. His friends suggest to him that he is a means of getting out of the house. He adopts the tactics of a sleep-walker. He arises in the middle of the night and is just leaving the house when he is discovered by his wife. When she sees that he is walking in his sleep she rushes out in the street and calls the police. They start a hunt for Poldor, but is he enjoying an entertainment with his friends. She breaks in the midst of the wine supper and Poldor instantly freezes into his somnambulistic attitude. He starts off with the prettiest girl in the house. The police and his wife and drops the letter on the street. When his wife reads this the police come up and arrest poor Poldor.

Poldor the Hunchback—PICTURE PLAYHOUSE—A poor hunchback is in love with a girl. The girl is known over by her because of his deformity. He tries in every possible ridiculous way to rid himself of this disfigurement and finally reaching from her with an immense fortune, the secret of taking away his own hump and giving a hump to others. Hastening to the home of his bride-to-be he finds her in the midst of the wedding ceremony to another man, and just in time puts a hump on her and all the assembled guests. They plead with him to rive them of this sudden visitation, and he does so, after obtaining the bride.

The Adventures of Gar El Hama—GREAT NORTHERN—(FOUR REELS)—After Montauk toll (Gar El Hama escapes from prison by tunneling from his cell to the engine room, overpowering the engineer and leaving the prison dressed as the hobo. He then attends a reception given by Counsel Johanna and after it kidnaps Katherine the counsel's daughter. He then sends a message stating that she is held for a ransom of twenty-five thousand dollars. Lieutenant Erskine, her sweetheart, sets out to find her and is told that the girl was taken aboard a mysterious schooner by a band of pirates, so he charters a tug and starts out in pursuit. Gar El Hama and his gang arrive at Snake Island and make Katherine a prisoner in their headquarters. She escapes, but is recaptured and taken aboard the leader's yacht. Erskine and his friends make their way to the yacht, he is able to start the engine, and the battle between them and the pirates follows. Gar El Hama escapes through a secret tunnel and the lieutenant pursues him only to be taken captive and also imprisoned on the yacht. His friends take up the pursuit of the yacht as it steams away and Erskine manages to start the engine. Erskine is restored to her home and Gar El Hama is again thrown into prison.

Press Agent Says

That a woman visited one of the motion picture theaters in Chicago recently and saw Francis X. Bushman on the screen. She was overcome with emotion and left the theater. The next morning she called at the Essanay studio to see the star. He was out at the time, but the woman declared he was her son, who had run away from home in childhood. He was a Bohemian-Gypsy and not a native of Chicago, she refused to believe it. She declared she could not be mistaken in her own son and vowed she would return later to claim him.

FOR SALE—A few exceptionally strong features: wonderful photography; two, three and four reels; American and Canadian rights. Reasonably offers considered, but no sacrifices. Address G., care MOTOGRAPHY, Chicago, Ill.

Moving Picture Scenarios

We are in the market for one and two reel comedies and comedy dramas. Submit in typewritten form to

SCENARIO EDITOR

Dept. G.

105 Lawrence Ave., Dorchester, Mass.

HOLLAND FILM MANUFACTURING CO.
AUTHENTIC, NEW, UP-TO-DATE

War Pictures From European Battlefields

Released Every Monday and Thursday

HEARST-SEILG NEWS PICTORIAL

First in War — First in Peace — First in Popularity

Always in the Lead With Latest World News Pictures

Selig Regular Program for Week of December 21-26

TILL DEATH US DO PART

Released Monday, December 21. Two Reels

An unusual and exceptionally interesting Selig dramatic tragedy, telling the story of a society girl and two men who are cast away on a desert island. The girl contracts leprosy. One of her companions is a skilled scientist and surgeon, and the other is a clubman and athlete. Both fall in love with her. The athlete deserts her in her need, but the courageous scientist elects to share her exile from the world. KATHLYN WILLIAMS, WHEELER OARMAN and CHARLES CLARY play the leading parts. It is written and produced by COLIN CAMPBELL.

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 85

Released Monday, December 21  One Reel

More war pictures direct from European battlefields, taken by our intrepid camera men. Also news pictures from all over the world.

Wade Brent Pays

Released Tuesday, December 22  One Reel

A Selig drama, telling the story of the repentance and reformation of a young spendthrift. Love effects the cure.

One Traveler Returns

Released Wednesday, December 23  One Reel

A Selig drama, telling a remarkable love story in which the spirit of an injured woman protects her successful rival from misery.

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 86

Released Thursday, December 24  One Reel

Another assortment of the very latest European war-news pictures—first time shown in America. This service is always in the lead and releases authentic pictures.

Doc Yak and Santa Claus

Released Friday, December 25  One Reel

Decidedly humorous and very laughable adventures of Doc Yak and Santa Claus. These are the Seligettes drawn by SIDNEY SMITH, the popular cartoonist of the Chicago Sunday Tribune.

The Champion Bear Slayer

Released Saturday, December 26  One Reel

A Selig wild animal comedy, telling the story of how a famous bear was pursued by ghosts of his own yarns. Several bears furnish comic situations and a succession of hearty laughs.

Selig Diamond Specials

Released Through Special Feature Department, General Film Co.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Reels</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>In the Days of the Thundering Herd</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Story of the Blood-Red Rose</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Fifth Man</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hearts and Masks</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chip of the Flying &quot;I&quot;</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In Tune With the Wild</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Garrison's Finish</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Brilliant 4-color Selig Posters ready for shipment on all releases. Order from your Exchange or from this office.

The Selig Polyscope Company

Executive Offices, Chicago, Ill., 20 East Randolph Street never saw and it isn’t at the foot of a rainbow reels every Monday, beginning December 28th able cast headed by

S OF ELAINE

and PEARL WHITE

the producer of the WHARTON pictures of “Craig Kennedy,” in collaboration with Charles L. Goddard the famous playwright, this great ited with the most able literary talent can give.

PUBLICITY

American, Boston American, Atlanta American, Chicago Examiner, San Francisco Examiner, and y in the country.

decade. Wire or write our nearest exchange at once for bookings

Exchanges for your use

CINCINNATI........................................217 E. 5th St.
CLEVELAND........................................622 Prospect Av. S. E.
PORTLAND........................................392 Burnside St.
PHILADELPHIA........................................1235 Vine St.
NEW ORLEANS........................................910 Gravier St.
WASHINGTON........................................7th & E. Sts., N. W.
KANSAS CITY.........................................928 Main St.
DENVER............................................16th & Larimer Sts.
OMAHA..............................................1312 Farnam St.
SEATTLE...........................................810 Third Ave.
SALT LAKE CITY..................................68 So. Main St.

110 West 40th Street, New York, N.Y.
One of the beautiful exteriors which make Lubin’s “The Eagle’s Nest” a remarkable picture.
Pathe's "The Silent Accuser"
Reviewed by Charles R. Condon

In order to hold a spectator's attention it is not absolutely necessary that a photoplay be based on something that has happened or actually been accomplished in the past. One is willing to accept the author's hypothesis, especially one dealing with science, if the story he builds upon it be a diversion from the average hackneyed plot. In "The Silent Accuser," a four-part Pathe production, the hub upon which the entire action revolves is a scientific problem which inventors have been working upon and endeavoring to perfect for years, a telephone which enables the speaker to be seen as well as heard.

The smooth unraveling of the story makes it easily understood, and enables the cast to be interpreters as well as impersonators of the various roles. The play is well staged in both a dramatic and artistic sense, and the photography is unsurpassable. The effect of transmitting by wire a photograph of the person calling on the telephone is most realistic. Criticism might be made of the scene in which the boy jumps out of his hiding place on the top of the automobile, climbs down, and stops the runaway machine. This development in the story is a little bit too startling and melodramatic to be in keeping with the rest of the picture. It may be the professionally heroic manner in which he makes his appearance that gives it this effect, but it is so sudden and wholly unexpected that one is more inclined to laugh than to consider his act seriously.

Mr. Durling receives a call from a young inventor, Robert Macey, who has just perfected a wonderful telephone that enables the speaker to be seen as well as heard. He becomes interested in the affair, and consents to finance it. His daughter's interest, however, is in Macey, himself, whose every glance and word betray his love and admiration for her. Durling looks upon the match favorably until his mind is poisoned against Macey by Julian Delatour, his nephew, who wishes to marry Vera in order to secure her father's fortune. Angered by the capitalist's accusation the young inventor severs their business relations.

Some time later Durling succumbs to an attack of the heart, and the plant in which Macey's telephones are being manufactured falls into Delatour's hands. Macey's younger brother, Jean, is one of the factory employees, and keeps the inventor posted on the company's plans and progress. Delatour holds a demonstration for Miss Durling's benefit, but Macey, disguised, manages to be present, and the result of the trial is a mysterious failure.

Fearing to lose the rights on his invention Macey bequeaths it to Vera in a will, wishing to give her the impression that he has died. A fictitious note informs her that she will be called on the new telephone at nine o'clock that evening. Just before the appointed time Delatour and his partner call upon Vera, and try to induce her to invest heavily in a new company they are forming, but she refuses. As Macey picks up his receiver at nine o'clock he is startled to see on the screen attachment Vera being gagged and carried off by the two men.

Jean has taken up the pursuit of the kidnappers, and notes dropped by him inform Macey of the direction taken by the trio. He overtakes them in an automobile, but, just when they seem in his power, the tables are turned on Macey; and he and Vera are sent racing down a steep incline in a driverless machine. Jean does the heroic thing at just the right moment, and the couple are spared. They enlist the aid of the police, and go to the factory prepared to arrest Delatour and his partner, but Fate outwits them. While endeavoring to demonstrate Macey’s invention to a body of capitalists Delatour comes in contact with a high power electric current and meets instant death. It is not difficult to guess from the final scene that Vera will soon be Mrs. Robert Macey.

Realistic Wedding

What is claimed to be the most elaborate and wonderful wedding ever staged, has just been completed in the new serial “Runaway June,” which is now being made by the Reliance Motion Picture Company. Contrary to the usual method of conducting these affairs, the bridesmaids and guests in this particular wedding were not taken from the moving-picture field, but were selected from the most beautiful models in New York today. The gowns in particular were of special design by Miss Norma Phillips, who plays the bride in “Runaway June,” and were made by Madame Jeanete, the Fifth avenue modiste. The bridal gown which Miss Phillips wears is in original and unique design, and is said to have cost a fortune, and the six bridesmaids’ costumes are particularly unique, inasmuch as they represent the American ideas rather than the Parisian in this respect.

!Norma Phillips and the bridesmaids in "Runaway June," new Reliance serial.

Leo White was nearly suffocated in a trunk while making a scene in the Essanay comedy, “Swee-die and the Hypnotist.”

“Damon and Pythias” at Fine Arts

Beginning Monday, December 7, at the Fine Arts Theater, Chicago, the Universal’s spectacular photoplay, “Damon and Pythias,” has been doing big business. During the engagement performances will be given each evening and there will be daily matinees, Sundays included. Every resource of its vast equipment and art direction with a lavish expenditure of money have made this the most notable film from the Universal studios. Months of study and research were put in by the directors to make every detail accurate and picture perfectly the various scenes in Greece, at the time of its power and pomp, four hundred years before the Christian era. The presentation will be made most elaborately and with orchestral rendition of especially selected and set music. Telling the story of the greatest friendship that has ever existed among men, its varying scenes in the period of Grecian glory it is filled with superb and massive pictures full of action and with episodes bristling with real dramatic fire. The spectacle has been most enthusiastically endorsed by the Knights of Pythias, while all who have in their hearts a kindred feeling for their fellows will find in its presentation a wonderful emulation of brotherly love.

“Edison Night” Big Attraction

“Edison Night” at the Regent Theater, One Hundred and Sixteenth street and Seventh avenue, New York, held on November 27, proved a night edifying to both Manager George Baldson and the Edison stars, whose presence packed the 2,000-capacity theater with that number—and more—of enthusiastic “fans” come to see that their favorite received his or her due share of the cheering. Attention was divided between the screen and the box nearby where sat the following Edison stars: Miss Miriam Nesbitt, Miss Mabel Trunnelle, Miss Gladys Hulette, Marc MacDermott, Augustus Phillips, Andy Clark, and Herbert Prior. Manager Horace G. Plimpton and Frank Bannon, from the Edison studio, also occupied the box. After the festivities Manager Baldson showed his appreciation by winning and dining the Edison contingent at the Hotel Cecil. Manager Baldson is so convinced of the drawing power of his idea that he plans to have another group of Edison players and another Edison night.

Pittsburgh Has Sunday Film Show

It’s unlawful to show films in Pittsburgh on Sunday. Despite the law, socialists and film folk arranged to show the great labor drama “Lost Paradise,” the five reel Famous Players feature, at the Lyceum theater on Sunday, November 22. Safety Director Charles S. Hubbard had announced that if an attempt were made to show motion pictures, as announced by the Pittsburgh Socialist Educational League, the leaders of the affair would be arrested. The Socialists had announced that if there was any interference by the police the case would go to the highest courts, as the pictures to be shown were educational in their nature and not for profit. The films were screened without interference and Sunday night Director Hubbard said he intended to “Let the Socialists go ahead and tire themselves out. Personally I believe it is better to let the workingmen have picture shows of this sort than to seek recreation elsewhere.”
"In Tune" an Interesting Subject
Reviewed by Clarence J. Caine

"IN TUNE," the two-reel drama to be released by the American Film Manufacturing Company on Monday, December 14, is built upon a strong theme, developed by highly dramatic action and convincingly "put over" by the splendid quartet of "Flying A" players, Ed Coxen, Winnifred Greenwood, Charlotte Burton and George Field.

As in all the productions of this company the photography is one of its chief assets and a number of scenes taken in a business office in Santa Barbara, Cal., are remarkably clear. By using a real office the director created an atmosphere of realism which could not have been obtained with a studio set, no matter how elaborate it might be.

The plot starts where it should start and slowly advances toward the climax, through a series of dramatic episodes. The characters are carefully drawn and all their acts are logical. Because of this treatment a great deal of interest is aroused in their struggles and is kept keyed up to a high pitch in practically every scene. Considered as a whole, "In Tune" is one of the most interesting two-reel dramas to come from the American studio for some time, which is no mean tribute.

The opening scenes disclose the discord of Tom Stanley’s home life. For years he struggled for recognition as an author and, when fame finally descended upon him, he became the "catch" of the season and was "landed" by a thoughtless society belle. From the moment of their marriage she had interfered with his work and now, after two years of married life, we find him but a mere shadow of the genius he formerly was.

The death of his father causes the old man’s busness, together with his feeble partner, to revert to Tom. As he cares nothing for office duties and as his partner is unable to actively engage in the work, the entire responsibility of handling the loans for the firm falls upon the shoulders of Ida Drew, Tom’s secretary and a thoughtful business woman.

After considering the matter for a long time Tom decides that the only way to bring happiness to his home is by becoming the father of children, upon whom he may lavish his love. When he proposes the matter to his wife she indignantly leaves the room.

As he can find no comfort at home he spends most of his time at the office, for in Ida he has found a companion who understands things as he does and with whom he can intelligently converse.

One day his bookkeeper is in urgent need of a sum of money. As he has noticed Tom’s careless manner of signing all his mail without looking it over he slips a blank sheet among the letters and after he has secured Stanley’s signature he writes a note on Ida’s typewriter requesting that some bonds be delivered to a certain person at once. He sends a boy for the bonds and receives them himself.

When the loss is discovered Tom agrees to sign over his home to the owners of the bonds to make up for the loss. When his wife learns of this she leaves him, for she realizes that he can no longer furnish her with the luxuries for which she craves. Ida secures the paper on which the order was written and notices that the imprint of the keys on the paper is very heavy. When she discovers the bookkeeper writing on her machine and notices that the work he turns out corresponds to the message which caused Tom’s loss she believes she has a clue to the perpetrator of the piece of rascality. Tom’s wife is killed in a hotel fire and, on the day he receives the message, Ida finds the boy who delivered the bonds to the bookkeeper and completes her chain of evidence. She tells Tom of her accomplishment and he is about to prosecute the thief when the latter agrees to return the bonds. Stanley’s home is restored to him and in time he repays Ida for her loyalty by making her his wife. Again he takes up writing and this time he finds that all the cleverness which made him famous has returned. He searches for the reason and discovers it when he realizes that Ida’s presence has made his home life “in tune” with his mode of living.

“The Ghost Breaker” Pleases

After being starred successfully in a number of other plays, H. B. Warner returns to his original role in “The Ghost Breaker,” but this time he impersonates the adventurous southerner, Warren Jarvis, on the screen, instead of behind the footlights. At the Strand theater on December 7, the day of its release, this new Jesse L. Lasky five-part feature was received with laughs, gasps and intense silence according to the emotions aroused by its various situations, and was followed by a burst of applause that indicated plainly that H. B. Warner, Rita Stanwood (Princess Maria Theresa), and Horace B. Carpenter (Carlos, Duke d’Alva) are people well worth grouping in a photoplay.

The balance of the cast is also entitled to no little commendation. Betty Johnson as Carmen, Theodore Roberts as the Prince of Aragon, and J. W. Johnson as Markham, have good parts and make them better, but are relegated to the hereafter in the first reel of their appearance. Jode Mullally’s long imprisonment in the haunted castle prevents his being present for any great while in the role of the princess’ brother, Don Luis. The remaining characters are Spanish servants, maids, dark-skinned youths, and the “ghosts” of the old castle.

There are one or two places where the action is a little hard to follow, possibly because the censorship board has seen fit to eliminate the key to the situation, but it does not interfere with the general trend of the story, as the question is not about what was done, but how it was done. Smooth, sepia-tinted photography does full justice to the American and Spanish settings and locations, which are not only distinctive, but help considerably to keep one in the spirit of the play.

Briefly, the story is of a treasure quest. One of Princess Marie Theresa’s ancestors has secreted a fortune in an old haunted castle, and she enlists the services of Warren Jarvis, a dauntless American, to help her recover it. He consents to be a “ghost breaker,” enters the castle, and captures the master ghost, who turns out to be the much respected Duke d’Alva, who has played upon the people’s superstitions with weird sounds and the rattling of chains while trying to find the treasure himself. The task of curing the old castle of ghosts accomplished, Jarvis turns his attention to a weightier matter; but everything is in his favor, and he finds that winning the princess’ heart is a much easier and more pleasant occupation than “ghost breaking.”

“Mystery” Stars Again Appear

“Million Dollar Mystery” fans will have an opportunity to see their favorites in “Craft Versus Love” a forthcoming two-reel feature release by Than houser. Florence La Badie, the heroine of the famous serial, in the lead has an unusual chance to display her great histrionic ability, so wondrously set off by her exceptional girlish charm. Supporting Miss La Badie is Sidney Bracy, known the country over as “Jones, the butler.” Mr. Bracy offers a remarkable contribution to the silent drama in “Craft Versus Love.” The combination of Miss La Badie and Mr. Bracy has brought scores of telegrams of congratulations to the Than houser management, showing concretely the high place these two stars hold in the hearts of the country’s motion picture fans.

Yale-Harvard Film Going Big

The athletic picture, the Yale-Harvard Game, which was filmed by the Colonial Motion Picture Corporation, is meeting with unprecedented success as a topical feature. Aside from the better motion picture theaters throughout the east and middle west, B. F. Keith has booked this as a special production on his regular vaudeville program in all of the eastern cities. One print has been booked solid for thirty days to the Central Branch of the Young Men’s Christian Association, which will show it in its associations and various branches throughout the east. Another new channel open to the picture is the Yale and Harvard Clubs, which are buying copies outright, to be shown at the various banquets and gatherings of the respective clubs.

Centaur Studio for Rent

Owing to the fact that David Horsley has sent all of his producing forces to Los Angeles for the winter, the Centaur studio at Bayonne, N. J., has been offered for rent. The Centaur studio has just been equipped with Cooper-Hewitt and Kleigel lights, is glass topped, and, in point of equipment and arrangement is second to none in America.

The reorganized “Beauty” company has begun work under the direction of Frank Cooley, with Perry Banks as assistant director. Joseph Harris will play leads, opposite Miss Virginia Kirtley, Webster Campbell juvenile leads, and Fred Gamble and Gladys Kingsbury character.
Leprosy the Theme of This Film
Reviewed by Neil G. Caward

A powerful dramatic story with leprosy as its theme is "Till Death Us Do Part," a two-reel Selig feature, scheduled for release on Monday December 21.

The picture depends for its climax on the value of weakness, on the revelation that a studious, well bred, cultured, but rather physically weak physician, who has time and again been shown to disadvantage in comparison with another character of athletic build and powerful physique, would sacrifice all his hopes and ambitions in life for the sake of a girl attacked by leprosy.

Kathlyn Williams, the famous Selig lead, appears in the role of Anne Brewster, who is shipwrecked with Doctor Albert Leigh and Roderick Random, an athlete of note, and by some freak of fortune thrown on a desert island.

While Anne, with her soft white hands, is proven utterly helpless for the task of ministering to her own necessities, and Dr. Leigh, the physician, though possessing the highest type of mental development is shown totally unfit to protect himself and his companions from the elements, Roderick Random is able to discover cooking utensils, to capture fish and game, to erect a shelter for the girl, and to make life generally possible on their island refuge, while they are waiting for help to arrive.

Random works heroically to make Anne comfortable, though Dr. Leigh does whatever his physical strength will permit. He realizes that he is powerless to sustain his own life and that of the girl, without the practical help of Random. As the weeks lengthen into months, the veneer of refinement wears off, and Random finally descends from a courteous, considerate gentleman, to a mere animal, with primitive instincts and passions.

When one night he forgets all that is manly within him, and visits the cave in which Anne is peacefully asleep, Dr. Leigh follows and attacks him with a knife which he has found.

Anne is awakened by the struggle and for the first time realizes the power of the physician, whom before she had considered a weakling. To quiet her alarm Leigh insists that Random take his belongings to the other side of the island, and a few days later is almost tempted to do so himself, when he discovers that Anne is affected with leprosy, which she has contracted from a blanket left on the island by some other refugee, years before, who has suffered from the awful disease.

Weeks later when a ship is sighted and boats put out for the shore, Random rushes to the sailors and begs to be taken off the island. Dr. Leigh, however, sends for the captain to come ashore and unite Anne and himself in wedlock, as he realizes that he must remain on the island since he himself is doubtless affected by the disease, and he owes it to Anne to make the remainder of her life happy. As the picture closes, Random is sailing away to safety and Dr. Leigh and Anne are silhouetted against the sinking sun, gazing out at the vanishing ship.

Carlyle Blackwell says that he is going to make "The Last Chapter," from the story entitled "An Unfinished Story," by Richard Harding Davis, the best that he has ever put out. He is in love with the story as it gives all his players splendid parts.
Another Pathé-Hearst Serial

The combination between the Hearst newspapers and Pathé which made possible "The Perils of Pauline" will be continued in a big new serial to be called "The Exploits of Elaine." Unlike "The Perils of Pauline" this new serial will be released in about fourteen weekly episodes of two reels each. The first installment will probably appear on Monday, December 28. Charles L. Goddard, the well-known playwright who is the author of "Pauline," will write the new serial in collaboration with Arthur R. Reeve, author of the "Craig Kennedy" stories which have been running in the Cosmopolitan magazine for four years. Mr. Reeve is a new comer in the motion picture business and brings to his work a world-wide reputation for remarkable talent in introducing the most modern scientific knowledge and methods into detective stories. A graduate in science of Princeton University he afterwards specialized in criminal law at the New York Law School, thus getting the ground work for the stories which he has since written. His character, "Craig Kennedy," is unique and has made Mr. Reeve famous. Under the name of "The Poisoned Pen," "The Dream Doctor" and "The Silent Bullet," these detective stories have been published yearly in book form. "Craig Kennedy" is practically the only one of the modern fiction detectives who uses real scientific methods to hunt down his criminals.

Every new invention which could possibly be used in the detection of guilt in crime is studied by Mr. Reeve. In many instances such instruments have been sent to him by the manufacturers with the request that they be used in his stories, the makers believing that such mention would mean vast and desirable publicity. "Craig Kennedy," Mr. Reeve's famous scientific detective character will appear in "The Exploits of Elaine." The cast will be headed by Miss Pearl White, who has achieved such remarkable popularity in "The Perils of Pauline." The other principals are Arnold Daly, well known on both the stage and screen and Sheldon Lewis, who is at present playing the lead in "Life." Leopold Wharton will be the director. Like "Pauline" the story will be published in the Hearst newspapers all over the country, as the corresponding picture is released. This will mean the same vast and desirable publicity which has attended "Pauline." All the art that long experience, great resources, fine equipment and splendid facilities can give will be put by Pathé into this new production. It seems safe to say that bookings on "The Exploits of Elaine" will furnish exchange men with new records to shoot at for some time to come.

New Universal Projection Room

Just a few weeks more and Chicago exhibitors will be offered an advance showing of Universal firms, weekly, in a real de luxe projection room which is now in process of completion at Suite 303-305 Brady building, 109 North Dearborn street. George Magie of the Universal staff has long had in mind the opening of a private projection room in which Universal patrons, members of the trade press and the Censor Board might view the films amid more pleasant surroundings than the Universal has yet been able to offer its Chicago friends, but his plan only now becomes a reality.

The new projection room is roomy, well ventilated and equipped in most modern style in every respect. The exhibitors will find comfortable chairs awaiting them, instead of the hard theater seats to which they are accustomed in other projection rooms, while the projection booth itself is a veritable palace, equipped with two Power's 6A machines of the latest type, together with all the other paraphernalia which goes to make up the modern projection booth. The equipment and arrangement of the booth, while carried out according to Mr. Magie's suggestions and plans, was installed and supervised by Harry Igle and the popular "Henry," who is known to every exhibitor in the city.

The auditorium portion of the room is to be decorated in a pretty green shade, which will be restful to the eye, and carpets of a similar shade will cover the floor. A screen of adequate size will cover the west wall of the room and every comfort will await those who visit the Universal's new quarters to view pictures. It is understood the room will not be rented out to other concerns desiring to show films, but will be devoted exclusively to the showing of the Universal product. In the near future MOTOGRAPHY hopes to present to its readers a view of the room as it appears when completed.

Equipping Sage Foundation

The Alco Film Corporation has just finished installing in the Sage Foundation building at 130 East Twenty-second street, New York City, a complete projection outfit, including one of its radium gold fibre screens. The screen is so arranged that it can be removed in one minute from one of the lecture rooms to another. After it has been taken from the wall of one room there is no mark left behind to show its former presence there. The projecting machine is arranged on a platform which is movable, so that it can be rolled from one room to another. The screen and the projection outfit are to be used in showing various educational films to social welfare workers on the occasion of welfare gatherings in the rooms of the Sage Foundation.

Louis Kalvin, the Alco electrical engineer who made the installation for Alco, is proud of his work in connection with the screen. He spent considerable time devising a way whereby the projection surface would be set firmly in place, and yet permit of easy and quick removal.
FOR a vehicle in which to make its debut to the film world the Colonial Motion Picture Corporation chose a colonial subject and if one may judge from "The Seats of the Mighty," pictures of no common merit may be expected heretofore from the Colonial studios. The world Film Corporation is releasing the picture which is a dramatization of Sir Gilbert Parker's book of the same name, nearly seven reels in length.

The story is admirably adapted for screen presentation, being one of the few that can convey their entire sense in pantomime. Sub-titles introduce the characters, and bridge lapses of time between scenes, but do not contribute towards establishing continuity between them. The action and scenes are so arranged that one comprehends thoroughly each new development and thread in the plot.

"The Seats of the Mighty" contains all of the elements necessary for a classic photoplay. Powerfully presented, it offers stirring romance, social tragedy, the mental conflict between individuals and the mighty bodily conflict between the English and French forces on the Plains of Abraham, the capture of historic Quebec by General Wolfe, and a number of small, but vital, scenes convincingly staged. All of these combine to make one big, forcible drama that fairly teems with colonial atmosphere and tense, overpowering situations.

The technique of the interior settings represents the highest in the motion picture art. The rooms of the king's and governor's mansions are exquisitely furnished, and beyond criticism in the completeness of their detail. The country in and about New York did wonderfully well in supplying outdoor locations. Anachronisms have been successfully avoided. The old colonial mansion in the picture would never be taken for anything else, and the scene showing the British troops stealing upon and storming the heights of Quebec imparts all of the excitement and enthusiasm that could well be incited without the accompaniment of the shouts, sounds of firing, and roll of drums that were a part of the original attack.

Much of the credit of the play's success is due to the excellent work of the cast, which is comprised of Lionel Barrymore as Monsieur Doltaire; Glen White as Captain Robert Moray; A. P. Jackson as Monsieur Duvayne; Clinton Preston and Millicent Evans as his son and daughter, Juste and Alixe; and Lois Meredith as Mathilde. In addition to these there are fully a dozen people who take important but small parts, and an unusually large cast of extras. One scene of not more than a few minutes duration contains between four and five hundred people.

The action begins at the Court of King Louis of France, but is soon shifted to the Colony of Virginia in America where lives Captain Robert Moray who is in love with Alixe Duvayne, the daughter of the governor of Canada. Moray is captured by the French, and taken to Canada. Here he falls into the hands of Monsieur Doltaire, Louis' personal representative in America, who wishes to obtain possession of some letters the whereabouts of which Moray knows, but refuses to tell.

Doltaire's hatred for Moray deepens, when he learns of the affection between him and Alixe, whom he also admires. He conspires to place the young captain in the light of a spy, and then compel Alixe to sacrifice her love to save her sweetheart's life. The scheme is successful up to a certain point, but there Alixe defeats it. Moray is tried, and condemned to be shot, but, with Alixe's assistance, manages to escape.

In his flight he discovers a way of scaling the precipitous wall leading to Quebec, and notifies the English. Under the leadership of General Wolfe they storm the heights, and capture the city. Voban, the barber, whose sweetheart Doltaire has betrayed, blows up the governor's mansion, burying Duvayne and Doltaire in its ruins. Moray and Alixe become reunited, and ride away from the scene of turmoil to establish a new home for themselves.

Standard Program Progresses

On January 18, 1915, the Standard Polyscope Corporation will release the first of its subjects through the Standard Program Association. This decision was reached at a meeting of the former corporation last week. Some time ago Motography carried a story explaining the progress of the Association, but at that time plans for the production of its subjects had not been completed.

Recently the Standard Polyscope Corporation was incorporated under the laws of New York state, with a capital of $1,000,000. William P. Cooper is president and Herbert C. Hoagland general manager. Mr. Hoagland is well known to the film trade through his former connection with the Pathe Company. Another member of the corporation, whose name will be recognized by motion picture people, is Herbert Blache, of the Solax and Blache companies.

"Born Again" Shown

On Friday, December 5, the K. C. Booking Corporation, 512 Mailers Building, Chicago, presented "Born Again," in five reels, at the Fulton exhibition rooms for the trade press and a number of exhibitors. The picture is one made by the Hector Film Corporation and presents Miss Beulah Poynter in the role of Dorothy Gray, heroine of the story. Many of the scenes are splendidly photographed and the backgrounds are of real beauty. The supporting company is adequate, though the player who enacts the role of George Dunbar, Dorothy Gray's first husband, is inclined to rant and gesticulate far too much. Aside from Miss Poynter the player who enacts the part of Dr. Morrow is most worthy of praise.

As the story runs, Dorothy Gray, a stage star, wearied of the attentions of her manager, jumps at the chance to marry George Dunbar, a wealthy man who proposes to her. When her husband becomes intoxicated at a champagne dinner a few days later, Dorothy is so humiliated that she leaves him and wanders aimlessly until sunrise, when she is found by Jeff Marsh and taken into his home.

When she awakens next morning her mind is a total blank as regards the past, and her brain only that of a child of five. Within a year, however, she regains her faculties, though still unable to recall anything that happened previous to her being found by Jeff. With the passage of time Jeff and Dorothy fall in love and are married. A year later the birth of Dorothy's baby restores her memory completely, and she realizes that she had no right to marry Jeff, having never been divorced from Dunbar. Dr. Morrow, who attends her, learns her story and relieves Dorothy of much anxiety by telling her that on the night of her marriage he was called to attend Dunbar, who had been killed by a fall in his auto over a cliff. The vision scenes in which the auto wreck are shown are truly remarkable and add the necessary "punch" to the picture. The doctor's story clears up everything for Dorothy and she and Jeff begin life anew.—N. G. C.

The Screen a Real Detective

Clarence Jay Elmer of the Lubin studios, who plays one of the leading roles in "The Patsy Bolivar" series, Lubin's newest collection of comedies, says the motion picture camera has 'em all beaten when it comes to doing detective work. In one of the series "Patsy" has an adventure with pirates. The pirates obtained for the occasion were a villainous looking lot and during the action of the play they captured Elmer. During the struggle the pirates stood Elmer on his head and everything in his pockets dropped out. When the scene ended Elmer was able to find a few pennies on the ground but nothing else and not one of the pirates knew where the lost articles were. Recently when the reel was shown in the projection room of the big Lubin establishment Elmer discovered what had happened to his lost property. One of the pirates was seen on the film to bend over quickly, pick up the things that had dropped from Elmer's pocket and stuff them into his own pocket. Needless to say with this evidence Elmer had little difficulty in getting his property back again.

Advance Release Date

The Famous Players have decided to change the release date of the spectacular film version of Wilson Barrett's immortal drama, "The Sign of the Cross," originally scheduled for release in February, to December 21. The change was made because of the peculiar appropriateness of the subject as a pre-Christmas release.

Lasky Engages Edith Taliaferro

Samuel Goldfish announces that a contract has been concluded between Jesse L. Lasky as president of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company, and Miss Edith Taliaferro, by the terms of which Miss Taliaferro is to be seen in the near future in an elaborate photo-dramatic production.

Miss Taliaferro will be remembered as a leading artist in such widely known Broadway productions as "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and "Young Wisdom." She is the younger sister of Mabel Taliaferro and this will be her first appearance on the screen.

For Miss Taliaferro's photodrama debut, Mr. Lasky has selected a play entitled "Young Romance," which is by Wm. C. DeMille. The production will be directed by Cecil B. De Mille, brother of the author. The story of "Young Romance" concerns the experiences of a young girl clerk in a department store, who, in a fit of June madness, determines to pretend that she is a rich lady of fashion during a brief vacation of one week. In this manner Nellie Nolan transforms herself into Miss Ethel Van Dusen and proceeds to Ocean Beach, Me., there to live a brief life as a society butterfly. One of the young men in the store is seized with substantially the same plan and repairs to the same summer resort. The experience of these two young impostors culminates in their determination to marry.

Keystone Wins

Justice Newberger of the Supreme Court of New York State, on Tuesday denied the application of Marie Dressler for a receiver for the picture "Tillie's Punctured Romance," and an injunction restraining the Keystone Film Company from disposing of the picture to the Alco Film Corporation, her claim being that both parties jointly owned the picture, and that she had not been consulted about the disposition of it.

The defendant, through its attorneys, Messrs. Graham & Stevenson exhibited the contract to the court, which, while giving Marie Dressler a right in the negative, gave the Keystone Film Company the right, so that company claimed, to handle the picture and dispose of it as it thought best. After hearing the evidence Justice Newberger denied the plaintiff's application.

Novelty at Vitagraph Theater

The Vitagraph theater offers its patrons a distinct novelty this week in an original one-act playlet, "What the Moon Saw," written by S. Rankin Drew and presented by a cast headed by Sidney Drew. In presenting the playlet Mr. Drew does not intend forsaking motion pictures for the legitimate stage, but wishes rather to enjoy the distinction of offering the patrons of the Vitagraph theater a pleasing novelty. Other Vita players in the cast are Jane Morrow, Edwina Robbins, Paul Scardon and J. Herbert Frank.

A business man in Europe desires the exclusive agency for raw films for motion pictures. References furnished. Correspondence should be in French or English. Address will be furnished by Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Washington, D. C. Refer to file number 14404.
BRONSON HOWARD'S story, "Young Mrs. Winthrop," probably reads like an original plot in book form, but when it is stripped of its conversation and descriptions, and produced on the screen it is readily recognized as one of that class of domestic dramas whose action revolves about the misunderstanding caused by a husband's devoting his entire time and attention to business, neglecting to fulfill the duties of home life. The characters and settings are of a plane somewhat above the every-day walk in life, but in their two-reel film version the Edison company has made the story one to carry an appeal and message to everyone, financial and social position regardless.

The plot has been refreshed by little surprising developments here and there, and deepened by subtle touches of pathos and melodrama. The adverse criticism can all be confined to one scene, that in which the estranged couple meet to arrange the deed of separation. Whether the directing or cutting is at fault cannot be told from the film, but one is totally unprepared for the transformation that takes place when the lawyer recalls an event of the married couple's school days and early courtship. The barrier of frigidity that took months to accumulate melts instantly at this, and the pair who have come together with the serious intention of effecting a legal and permanent separation, are seen chatting and joking as though nothing had happened.

Following this is the climax, and the impression made by its clever simplicity effectively blots out the improbabilities of the scene preceding. The picture will make its debut to the film world on January 1. Under Richard Ridgely's direction Mabel Trunnelle, Robert Conness, Gladys Hulette, Harry Beaumont, and Bigelow Cooper interpret the principal parts in a most creditable manner. The subdued light effect in the death-bed scene is both artistic and impressive.

Winthrop's work demands his whole attention, and his pretty wife is consequently neglected and lonely. Time after time her husband breaks social engagements at the last moment because something comes up at the office that demands his attention at the time. Mrs. Winthrop bears it all silently, but such a state of affairs cannot last forever, and finally the cords of faith and patience snap.

Herbert, Mrs. Winthrop's brother, approaches Winthrop one day and appeals for his help. It seems that a certain Mrs. Dunbar has trusted the young fellow with a large sum of money with which he speculates and loses. Winthrop promises to keep Herbert's secret, and writes Mrs. Dunbar for an appointment to try to arrange a settlement and save the boy.

She answers immediately, consenting to see him that night. It happens that Winthrop has promised to escort his wife to a ball on this same night, but he breaks the engagement, telling her that she had better stay home with their little daughter, Rosie. Mrs. Winthrop finds Mrs. Dunbar's note and, in a fit of anger, attends the ball in spite of her husband's wishes. During her absence Rosie is taken ill with fever. Mrs. Winthrop is informed of the child's condition, and rushes home, but the baby dies before she can reach it.

Winthrop succeeds in convincing Mrs. Dunbar... that Herbert had no intention of stealing her money, and obtains her promise not to prosecute him. Happy with the result of his interview with the woman Winthrop is plunged into deep despair when, on arriving at home, he learns that his beloved Rosie is dead. From that time on he and his wife are as strangers to each other. No accusations are made, but inwardly each feels that but for the carelessness and neglect of the other it would never have happened.

Some time after the burial they meet to arrange the deed of separation. The lawyer who has known them both from childhood, tries several times to bring about a reconciliation by recalling to them certain little incidents that marked their early school days and courtship, but his efforts are wasted. As a last resort, after the whole deed has been made out, the lawyer asks how they intend to divide that little grave so lately filled. Pride cannot reign with this remembrance, and Mrs. Winthrop falls, weeping, into her husband’s arms.

Did the Tavern Burn?

A man with a red face and a fur cap that pulls down over his ears and—most important of all—a state fire warden’s badge, threatened to put a ban on the “College Widow” photoplay, being prepared by the Lubin Company.

He had nothing to say about the morality of the play, but he did say the woods about Betzwood, Pa., were as dry as tinder. He drew Barry O’Neil, the man who sets the big pictures, aside and said that he didn’t think that the little tavern would burn down that day. He said that the tavern was a nice-looking thing, and it would be a shame to waste it. It would make a nice shelter for hunters upstate.

He also pointed out the fact that Betzwood is a dry wood, a very dry wood at this season of the year. In his official capacity he did not see how he could do his duty and let fire endanger it.

Barry got red in the face. He toyed with the fire warden’s badge with his left hand and clenched his right fist. Then he leaned forward and talked right into the fire warden’s eyes.

“My good and faithful officer, tell me how we can rescue the college widow if we don’t have a fire,” said Barry in soft and Celtic tones. “That fire has to come off today. The ladies have to be rescued from the second-story windows. All of my little college boys, assisted by the Fairmount hook and ladder company of Norristown and Foreman Moody, of the fire house at Sixth and Locust streets, Philadelphia, are going to join the fair haired boys in the rescue. You bet they won’t let the woods take fire.”

“I don’t see how it can be done,” replied the fire warden, “although you got big town firemen.”

O’Neil had spent six weeks making pictures of the play of George Ade. It is to be one of the Lubin features of the season. “Why,” said Barry, “I am even paying the supers $3 a day and we have 200 of them. I got to get this fire through and in a hurry too.”

That O’Neil meant what he said and that the fire warden finally saw the point is conclusively proven by one of the accompanying pictures.

Kleine Film Breaks Record

George Kleine’s five-part subject, “The Naked Truth,” featuring Lyda Borelli, broke the Kleine record last week when it played its seventieth engagement in the Chicago city limits. There are only two hundred theaters in Chicago with a seating capacity exceeding three hundred, which makes the record remarkable when the ratio of houses “killed” by a single engagement in a given neighborhood is considered. The Bijou Dream, adjoining the big Orpheum on State street, is playing an eight-day engagement with “The Naked Truth” and bookings continue to pour in steadily.

Activities at Bosworth Studios

Myrtle Stedman is doing double duty to make up for the time she laid off at the Bosworth studios in California. She is playing opposite Macklyn Arbuckle in a four-reel comedy-drama and also a heavy lead in “Miss Kit Diadley’s Caprice,” in which Elsie Janis is being featured. Phillips Smalley is directing the one and Lois Weber the other. Hobart Bosworth is unfortunately sick at this time to everyone’s regret.

Edwin M. LaRoche, associate editor of the Motion Picture Magazine, is conducting a course for playwrights at the central branch of the Young Men’s Christian Association in Brooklyn, N. Y.
Bushman Stars in "The Battle of Love"
Reviewed by Clarence J. Caine

THE splendid acting of Francis X. Bushman and Ruth Stonehouse, and the delicious comedy touches which appear at every crisis, are the chief requisites of Essanay's three-reel production entitled "The Battle of Love," which will be released through the feature department of the General Film Company on Saturday, December 19. Added to this is a story which handles the eternal triangle in a refreshing manner, these things being blended together in such a manner that the result is three thousand feet of a most enjoyable subject.

Some time ago this company produced a photo-drama, the story of which appeared in the Ladies' World with a paragraph missing. In order to find this, the reader was required to see the screen version of the subject. The plan at once proved a success and "The Battle of Love" is the fourth of the series. The title, while it is an appealing one, does not appear to exactly fit the story, unless the action was altered in adapting it to the screen. Mrs. Wilson Woodrow, the prominent American authoress, originated the story.

The types for the leading roles could not have been selected to better advantage. As was mentioned earlier in the review, Mr. Bushman and Miss Stonehouse give excellent character portrayals, the former being especially effective in the scenes after his fiancee has rejected him and when he is accused of murder, and the latter being at her best in the many emotional scenes toward the close. Both the interior and exterior settings are in tune with the story and the photography is clear throughout the entire three reels of the subject.

The story opens with the betrothal of Arthur Chandler and Bessie Wells. John Wells and Ezra Chandler, the fathers of the young couple, are pleased with the match, as they are staunch friends. The trouble starts when Vivian LaMar, an actress who likes Chandler because he amuses her, forces him to ride in her auto when he is on his way to visit Bessie. From the window of her home the girl sees her fiance and the other woman drive up in the car. She rushes out and denounces Chandler, breaking their engagement without giving him a chance to explain that he cares nothing for the actress.

Old Chandler and Wells are gloomy over the new state of affairs and brood over their trouble at the club. Jack Sanford, known by his friends as "Mr. Fixit," sees them and persuades them to confide in him. He then offers to bet the two men a thousand dollars that within twenty-four hours he can have the young couple made man and wife. The older men accept the bet and Jack sets off to accomplish his purpose.

He secures the aid of the theatrical manager and Miss LaMar. The actress calls for Chandler at his office and, in a reckless mood, he goes with her to a cafe. Here the manager and Jack are waiting and stage a little scene to impress on Chandler's mind the fact that they have seen him with Miss LaMar. Still following Jack's plan, the actress takes Chandler for a ride in the country. When they are a few miles outside the city, she asks him to get some flowers for her and then drives off, leaving him to walk back.

When she returns to the cafe, Jack plays his next card by sending a message to Bessie, saying that the actress has been murdered and that Chandler was the last person seen with her. The girl forgets their quarrel in her anxiety to save her lover and telephones him to come to her home at once. Jack secures several of his friends to act as policemen and detectives and follow Chandler. Bessie tells Chandler of the suspicion which has been cast upon him and agrees to flee with him.

They are followed by the supposed detectives and eventually captured, and led to a shack in which Miss LaMar poses as a corpse. Jack is on hand and supplies a means of escape. He then tells them that he has a minister waiting on old Chandler's yacht and they must be married at once and leave for Europe. Both agree to this, but receive the surprise of their lives when, just after the ceremony has been completed aboard the yacht, their parents, Miss LaMar and her entire theatrical company step out from their hiding place and congratulate them. The entire affair is then explained to the astonished couple and Jack collects his wager, turning it over to Bessie as a wedding present.

The cast is as follows:
Arthur Chandler ............................................ Francis X. Bushman
Bessie Wells ................................................. Ruth Stonehouse
Vivian LaMar ................................................. Lillian Drew
Jack Sanford, alias “Fixit” ................................. Harry Dunkinson
John Wells ..................................................... Rapley Dunkinson
Ezra Chandler ................................................ Thomas Cummerford
Mrs. Wells ..................................................... Helen Dunbar Kirby ............................................................. Leo White

Big Interior Scene

What is alleged to be the biggest interior scene ever made anywhere was produced at the World Film studio at Fort Lee, New Jersey, on Saturday, November 28, by Director Maurice Tourneur. It was the Board of Trade scene, in the Wilton Lackaye play based on the great stage success, "The Pit."

Five hundred men took part in the picture, and to add to the realism Director Tourneur secured the services of sixty brokers from Wall street, the New street curb, the Consolidated Exchange and the New York Stock Exchange. These brokers were under the direction of P. C. Mullen, 51 Exchange street. Several of the brokers had bought and sold wheat in the very pit which was being reproduced for the camera in the pit scenes. Forty Western Union and Postal messenger boys were used to add to the realism of the settings.

While greater numbers of men and women have been used before the camera, they have never been able to use so many men in an interior scene. In the spectacular pictures such as "Cabiria" or "Quo Vadis?" there are armies used in exterior settings but not a single one reproduces an interior. The pit scene is an achievement that the World Film Corporation can well be proud of and Director Tourneur can boast of another feather in his hat. Having staged the delightful fantasy showing Vivian Martin in "The Wish- ing Ring," it was no easy matter to turn to the wider scope afforded by the Brady version of "The Pit."

Filming "Graustark"

Miss Beverly Bayne, Miss Helen Dunbar and Thomas Commerford left for New York on December 5 to join Francis X. Bushman, who went to New York early in the week, to take scenes in Essanay's new photoplay "Graustark," by George Barr McCutcheon.

Francis X. Bushman will play the leading role, that of Grenfall Lorry, the young American who falls in love with a princess of "Graustark." Miss Bayne will be the princess and Thomas Commerford and Miss Dunbar will take the parts of her uncle and aunt, who are traveling through America with her.

The scene in which Lorry rushes to New York to get a last glimpse of his princess, whose rank he is entirely ignorant of, will be taken on the wharves of the Atlantic liners to make it absolutely true to the story. The players will then go to Washington where all the scenes that took place there in the story will be reproduced with exactness to the text.

New York Exhibitors Meet

A mass meeting of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association of Greater New York was held at the Marlborough Hotel, on Wednesday morning, Dec. 2, 1914. Matters relative to legislation for the coming year were taken under consideration and a legislation committee was appointed, with Mr. Rosenson as its chairman, for the purpose of drafting a bill for the admission of minors in motion picture theaters and also a bill permitting standees, which the exhibitors will endeavor to have passed during this legislative term.

The matter of the bill was taken up and much enthusiasm was exhibited by the exhibitors for the hearty co-operation which the manufacturers and tradesmen have extended. After matters relative to the bill have been straightened out the entire Association will be re-organized in accordance with the new constitution and by-laws, and its principles will be strictly adhered to.

Alliance Invades Canada

Andrew J. Cobe, general manager of the Alliance Films Corporation, has just returned from Montreal, where he has concluded arrangements with the Noted Players Feature Film Company to handle all of the Alliance releases in the Dominion. J. D. Goldie, the head of the Noted Players, will shortly have, in addition to the Montreal exchange, fully equipped offices in Toronto and Winnipeg. These are to be followed by other branches in the larger Canadian centers. The projected offices will be located in St. Johns, Calgary and Regina. The St. Johns office will handle the Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward's Island territory. Winnipeg will take care of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.
PICTURE THEATER ADVERTISING.

The amount of newspaper advertising that should be done by picture theaters is a problem deserving more thought than it usually gets. Without doubt there should be more of it than there is; and unquestionably much of what is done is useless. It is the easiest thing in the world to waste money on newspaper space; but it is almost as easy to lose big opportunities by neglecting to use any space, or by using it in the wrong way.

As a general proposition it may be said that in a city small enough so that its theaters are within convenient reach of its total population, advertising in the city's newspapers would be a good investment for any of the theaters. It is equally plain that in cities as big as Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, etc., theaters in the south end of town cannot hope to interest people who live in the north end. Time and inconvenience are not so much of a factor of this condition as the fact that the same or an equivalent show may be had within a few minutes of home. Therefore, in such a city a south side theater (that is to say, any neighborhood theater) advertising in a newspaper which circulated all over town would be wasting at least two-thirds of the advertising it was paying for. Yet we find a considerable amount of this kind of advertising being done—probably because the arguments of the newspapers' advertising salesmen have been accepted without due consideration.

On the other hand, it is perfectly reasonable to assume that all the inhabitants of any large city go "downtown" with considerable frequency. So a downtown theater, located in or near the retail shopping district, might well profit by a judicious amount of general newspaper advertising. Briefly stated, the picture theater should confine its advertising to newspapers which reach only those people who either reside or regularly visit in the neighborhood of that particular theater.

In the smaller cities and towns that condition is easily met, since practically the whole population is within easy reach of every theater. In such communities every reader of the newspapers is a prospective visitor at every theater in town.

Waterloo, Iowa, is a city of some 28,000 population. That is big enough to make a good picture theater town and small enough so that everybody knows where the Palace Theater is. For three days around the first of this month that house ran "Cabiria"; and on the 29th of November, Sunday, the Waterloo Times-Tribune carried a full-page advertisement of the Palace and its feature show. Now a full page in a Sunday paper is considerable advertising for a picture theater. A good many of the conservative type of business men would argue that it was a foolish and vain expenditure of money. They would say that everybody knew the Palace; that most of them saw it every few days at least; and that an announcement on the front of the house, or possibly a small notice in the paper, would have served just as well. But there is another side to advertising that the ultra-conservative people never learn, but that the management of the Palace evidently knows. It is a proven fact that the country cross-roads store, whose business is a monopoly to which the people must go and whose whole stock is known to everybody, can nevertheless increase its business by advertising.

A man may be thoroughly familiar with all the facts about a certain theater; he may be aware that the theater is showing something exceptionally fine; but still he may not overcome his inertia to the extent of actually attend-

---

TABLE OF CONTENTS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Scene from Lubin's &quot;The Eagle's Nest&quot;</th>
<th>Frontispiece</th>
<th>831</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Bum and Busters&quot; at Pictorial Arts</td>
<td>810</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Photography in the Press&quot;</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pittsburgh Sunday Film Show</td>
<td>8.32</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;In Time&quot;—an Interesting Subject.</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Ghost Breaker</td>
<td>8.34</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Let's Miss the Theme of This Film</td>
<td>8.15</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Another Path-Hunt Serial</td>
<td>8.36</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;The Bears of the North&quot;</td>
<td>8.37</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Standard Program Progresses</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Born Again&quot; Shown</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Keystone Wins</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bronson's New Story Film</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Did the Tavern Burn</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bushman Stars in &quot;The Battle of Love&quot;</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Photographic Magazines</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alliance Invades Canada</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Editorial</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Picture Theater Advertising</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Municipal Picture Shows</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just a Moment</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;The King of the Hill&quot;</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Favorite Players' Director</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Another Jefferson Picture</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Photography's Gallery of Picture Plays</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>News of the Week as Shown in Films</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York Exhibitors' Annual Ball</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Photographic's New Affiliation</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Raver and Thomas Leave All Star</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;The Garden of Lies&quot;</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dugay Bell's Success</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>London Theater Uses Tube Lighting</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Girl to Miss Stories</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brewster's of the Business</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Complete Record of Current Films</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.55-860</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brief Stories of the Week's Film Releaves</td>
<td></td>
<td>8.61-870</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
ing the show. But if a friend drops in to see him and suggests that he should see that show, or asks him to go, his chances of attending are increased ten-fold. And that is just what the well prepared newspaper advertisement does; that is what the Palace's full page in the Waterloo Times-Tribune did. Naturally it did not read that way at all; but the message it carried to the people was something like this:

"Of course you know about this show the Palace is giving, but I just want to remind you that it is the biggest thing that ever struck Waterloo. So don't make any dates that will keep you away from it. Sure, all the folks are going. Better call up and have 'em save you a seat or two before they're all gone."

In a town of that size, and with a feature show of that kind, there is no doubt that a full page newspaper announcement is good picture theater advertising. With an ordinary, every day program it wouldn't be. In a very large city it wouldn't be. But even the regular program deserves some advertising, and in a small city a moderate sized notice run continuously is a good investment. And in the largest cities there are frequently published little weekly neighborhood papers whose advertising rates are very low and whose usefulness as an advertising medium for the picture theater is far ahead of that of the big dailies.

"Of course you know about this show the Palace is giving, but I just want to remind you that it is the biggest thing that ever struck Waterloo. So don't make any dates that will keep you away from it. Sure, all the folks are going. Better call up and have 'em save you a seat or two before they're all gone."

In a town of that size, and with a feature show of that kind, there is no doubt that a full page newspaper announcement is good picture theater advertising. With an ordinary, every day program it wouldn't be. In a very large city it wouldn't be. But even the regular program deserves some advertising, and in a small city a moderate sized notice run continuously is a good investment. And in the largest cities there are frequently published little weekly neighborhood papers whose advertising rates are very low and whose usefulness as an advertising medium for the picture theater is far ahead of that of the big dailies.

| MUNICIPAL PICTURE SHOWS |

FREE motion picture shows operated by cities for the benefit of the population in general, just as band concerts are now conducted, are by no means a new idea. A good many public workers have advocated, and are still advocating them. The latest report of this nature comes from Milwaukee, where Prof. Richard Burton, of the University of Minnesota, spoke at some length on the subject before the City Club.

Whether any of these projects ever come to a head or not is really of little consequence to the picture theater owner. The free city show is the least of any of his competition. The reasons for this are obvious.

In the first place, no city commission charged with the duty of putting on a free show would be willing to pay for a daily change and a good program. It costs more money to run a picture theater properly than it does to run a dance hall or even a band concert; and unless it is run properly, and is at least as good as the average nickel show, the people will not attend even on a free admission.

Motion picture entertainment is cheap enough, anyway. Most people would rather pay a ridiculously small admission fee to a regular theater than go into a city-operated substitute for nothing. And those who did attend the free show because it was free would either become fans on the spot (if it was a good show) and extend their enthusiasm to the regular picture theaters, or would become so disgusted (if it was a poor show) that they would be forced to go to the regular exhibitor for real entertainment. The free show can't hurt the live exhibitor.

The Alliance Films Corp. has just completed negotiations with the Progressive Investment Company, of Portland, Oregon, to handle the Alliance program in the western states.

Just A Mmiment Please

Got your Christmas shopping all done?

Which reminds us that if the local censor board would confine its choppin' to the Christmas season all would be rosy, but alas they chop the whole year through.

Poor little Marie Dressler, what an unhappy Christmas she seems likely to have! After visions of $200,000 as her share of the "Tillie's Punctured Romance" films, Judge Newburger gave her contract with Ad Kessel the O. O. and heartlessly decided that the lady had nothing coming. Never mind, Marie, hang up your stocking just the same. Santa Claus might put something in it.

FAMOUS BILLS.

KAISER BILL.
GRAPESJUICE BILL.
BUFFALO BILL.
BILL SELIG.
BILL SWANSON.
BILL BARRY.
30 DAYS NET—2% TEN.

This Parsons man sends us a great little yarn about Pathé now using women cameramen, on account of all their regular crank turners being off to war, Gee, we can think of a lot of places no woman cameraman would ever consent to go after films, but it is a bully yarn, and at that, Parsons—so good it even escaped our blue pencil.

WHOSE IS IT?

From far out on the Pacific Coast comes the accompanying picture of a gas buggy with a man in it. The back of the photo carries an inscription to the effect that "the driver is Don Mooney, Universal's West Coast publicity man, in his new Cadillac."—However, we've grown used to Don's press stories and so must refuse to fall for this one. On the square, though, we'd like to know what player's car he borrowed to get his picture taken. If the real owner will drop us a line, we'll proceed with our Black Hand campaign against Don immediately, and agree to split 50-50.

Despite the frantic protests of a score or more of our readers, I beg to call your attention to the latest spasm of Benny, the Nat! Waterproof Film office boy. Wandering again in the cemetery, Benny has found the following epitaphs:

"A state rights buyer named McCree once chased a feature film. With he Failed to waterproof; so, you see, The film is dead and so's McCree."

"Here lies the body of Five Cent Admission, Who starved to death amid great contrition. His fate should be a warning, when— You think of asking less than ten."

We lamp by an esteemed (so to speak) contemnorary that Joe Farnham has an answer to "Why Did June Run Away?"—Huh, Joe hasn't anything on Anna, our telephone girl. She knows why, too, but we dessent tell. You'll have to ask her.

OUR BURG.

A. M. Eisner and Ben Beadell was visitors to Ye Editor's sanctum this wk. A. M. brought along several new ideas on booking film and Ben a good seerag and a big boost for Edison's "The Better Man." Ben says as how that one was great.

Doe Shallenberger has gone back to Nee Yakaw after a brief sojourn in our midst.

F. C. McCarahan hopped a rattler to Mpls., Minn., this wk, to give the show off the O. M. He's back now, says Bing in O. K.

Paul Bush got off at the deepo the other day after a trip to the tanks, in Joway, and says as how hard times is purely psychological.

A certain teller in Our Village lost 30¢ playin' cards the other night and his Missus won 50 cents (c) the same evening. Splittin' the evening 50-50, it was not so bad—not so bad.

Then darn burglars is loose again. The Shakespearean theater is the latest to suffer. By Heck we need another Constable. Those robber is gettin something terrible.

Joe Film was seen on Main St. this wk. Back from N. Y. again, we expect.

This'll be all this time.

N. G. C.
The Secret of the Haunted Hills
Reviewed by Neil G. Caward

Zudora, the girl detective, solves another mystery of the many given her by her uncle, Hassan Ali, in episode four of the Thanhouser series, which is entitled "The Secret of the Haunted Hills."

Before she succeeds in finding the cause of the appearance of a spectre-like hand which terrifies the natives in a certain rural community, she is set upon and all but throttled by an idiot boy, employed by John Storm's parents as a stable hand.

Margaret Snow, Harry Benham and James Cruze are the featured characters and the photography in this episode is very pleasing.

The story begins with John Storm receiving a note from his mother, explaining that the people in the rural community in which she resides are being terrified by the sudden and mysterious appearance at night of a monstrous, fleshless, skeleton hand which they are unable to explain by any known means and which strikes terror to their minds upon its very appearance.

Storm thereupon visits his home, accompanied by Zudora, his sweetheart, and there beholds the spectre hand himself, as it flashes on the wall of the living room.

When Storm's father grabs up his gun and shoots at the uncanny apparition, the bullet hurtles through the wall and injures the servant maid in the arm. This incident recalls to Storm's mind a happening of his boyhood, when he accidentally shot a little lad while out hunting and injured him in the hand, much after the fashion in which the servant maid has just been injured. This lad, now grown to manhood, is employed on his father's place as a stable hand, even though he is half-witted and unable to assume the real tasks of a man.

Storm and Zudora, returning to the city, believe that Hassan Ali is at the bottom of the strange happening, although they have no proof that such is the case. Storm accuses Hassan Ali and when the Hindoo is about to shoot him, Storm manages to seize his arm and bend him back across a table top. The Hindoo's servant comes to the rescue of his master and is about to stab Storm in the back when Zudora appears and rescues her lover.

Storm then returns to his parents' home in the country and explains to the excited group of farmers armed with shotguns, crowbars, pitchforks, and other implements, seized at haphazard, that the mystery will soon be solved, as Zudora, the famous girl detective, is coming to their rescue. Zudora is warmly greeted upon her arrival, and after a brief investigation decides to visit the upper room of one of the farm's outbuildings, as she has a suspicion that it is from there that the strange apparition is caused to appear.

Entering this building, Zudora is seized by the idiot boy, bound and gagged, and is about to be hung up to a rafter, when Storm arrives and overpowers the idiot boy.

Ascending to the second floor of the out-building, they discover a huge stereopticon and a slide bearing on its surface the X-ray photograph of the idiot boy's hand which had been taken at the time Storm shot him many years before. A test of the machine quickly proves that this slide, packed in the machine, and the light turned on, caused the mysterious skeleton hand to appear in whatever direction the rays from the machine were projected. The mystery solved, Zudora and Storm return to the city, while the countryside settles back into its usual calm.
New Favorite Players’ Director

William D. Taylor, the new director of the Favorite Players’ Film Co., has actually assumed charge of the studio in Los Angeles, and will hereafter direct all of the Carlyle Blackwell pictures. Mr. Taylor was born in Ireland, educated at Clifton College, England, went to France and Germany to study languages, and finally came to America and ranched in southwest Kansas. Returning to England he met Charles Hawtrey, the famous actor, and, although not quite nineteen, joined his company and played in “The Private Secretary.” After playing with a number of traveling companies in the old country, Mr. Taylor again crossed to America and joined Fanny Davenport, playing juveniles and understudying the leading roles at the same time. Later he joined the Castle Square Stock Company in Boston, acted with Katherine Kidder in “Madame Sans Gene” on the road, and with Sol Russell in repertoire, and has been with a number of high-class stock companies. His last legitimate engagement was with Harry Corson Clarke in Honolulu. He started his motion picture career with the Kay Bee forces at Santa Monica, and then joined the Vitagraph, where he did some important work, including the name part in “Captain Alvarez.” He next went with the Balboa company at Long Beach, where he directed and took his own leads for some months, and where he established a reputation as a producer. William Taylor is very much a man—athletic, tall and well built. He has an all-around love of sports, and is a prominent member of the Photoplayers’ Club and a general favorite.

Playing “Cabiria”

W. L. Myers, manager of the new Palace theater at Waterloo, Iowa, which was recently described in these columns, sends us this week his four-page program announcing his showing of the great Itala film “Cabiria,” which he offered his patrons on Monday Tuesday, and Wednesday, November 30 and December 1 and 2. The program contains a complete cast, a short synopsis of the story and several illustrations of the principal scenes. During the three days mentioned above prices of twenty-five cents are charged for general admission and 400 seats on the main floor are reserved at thirty-five cents.

Kleine Furnishes Travelogue

The Tuesday Art and Travel Club, an organization of Chicago society women, held an interesting travelogue lecture at the Hotel Sherman recently. George Kleine supplied the film from his large stock of educational subjects. “Places Loved by d’Annunzio, the Poet,” “Important Scenes in Paris,” “The Rhine from Cologne to Coblenz,” “Winter Sports at St. Moritz,” and “Conquering the Jung-Frau,” were the film selections. Tomaso’s orchestra supplied the music. Now that it cannot go to Europe in person, society is taking optical journeys into favorite haunts via science’s fastest pleasure.

Dyreda to Film Harris Ballads

An interesting announcement is that of the Dyreda Company which has acquired the picture rights to the Charles K. Harris world-record songs, “Just Break the News to Mother,” “Always in the Way” and others of his famous ballads. Work is about to begin on the filming of these two numbers. They offer big possibilities in the way of features with a heart-interest that is certain and the one-time popularity of these songs suggests a market already assured. The Dyreda studio on the Clara Morris estate at Yonkers, will be the scene of the films’ making.

Another Jefferson Picture

The Alco Film Corporation announces that the production of Popular Plays and Players, Inc., to follow Madame Olga Petrova in “The Tigress” will be Thomas Jefferson and Adelaide Thurston in the famous melodrama “Shadows of a Great City” in play form. Mr. Jefferson already has had the pleasure of appearing in a work by his father, Joseph Jefferson, the Alco release “Rip Van Winkle,” and now he is to repeat the experience. For “Shadows of a Great City” was written by Joseph Jefferson too, in collaboration with L. R. Shewell, who was for many years stage manager at the old Boston theater. It was produced more than twenty years ago and was seen over the entire country for years. Its story is now standard and a delightful memory with many older theatergoers.

Miss Thurston, the co-star with Mr. Jefferson, has a large following over the country too. She has starred in the legitimate in a number of Cohan and Harris productions, notably “Sweet Clover” and “The Girl from Over Yonder.” She also played Lady Babie in J. M. Barrie’s “Little Minister.”

Engage Important Cast

The Famous Players has gathered an unusually important cast of Broadway favorites in support of John Barrymore in the forthcoming production, “Are You a Mason?” Leo Ditrichstein’s sensationally successful farce. This notable cast includes Alfred Hickman, who created the original “Billy” in the stage presentation of this play, Charles Dixon, Charles Butler, Ida Waterman, Dodson Mitchell, Helen Freeman, Jean Acker, Lorraine Huling, Harold Lockwood and Kitty Baldwin.

Want Lobby Bulletins?

Upon the request of many exhibitors throughout the country, the Famous Players Film Company has recontinued the publication and issue of the special lobby bulletins which were sent in advance of this company’s releases last year. Beginning with the release of “The Conspiracy,” exhibitors can again obtain these bulletins by sending a request to the Famous Players Film Company, or at their local exchanges.
Motography's Gallery of Picture Players

ELSIE ESMOND, leading woman for Wharton, Inc., was born and raised in Chicago. Although an American by birth, she is of English-Russian parentage. Miss Esmond is an all-around athlete but her favorite sports are swimming and riding. She was well known on the stage before appearing in pictures. Two of her engagements having been as leading woman with Francis Wilson in "The Dollar Mark" and as the leading support of Madame Nazimova. She has a splendid stock following from coast to coast, having played and been featured in engagements in most of the large cities in the United States. Proof of her popularity lies in the fact that she daily receives letters from all parts of the country from admirers and takes pride in answering them all—an achievement requiring no little amount of work and patience. Miss Esmond is seen to advantage in "The Boundary Rider."

MR. O. PENN'S appearance in the Pathe-Wharton production, "The Warning," will not soon be forgotten. For the sturdy, square-jawed man in the prime of life was clearly seen to shed tears over his erring "sons'" conduct. Mr. Penn was born in the United States in 1870, and having pronounced artistic talent went to Paris to complete his education. While there he became attracted to the stage and joined the company of the Theater Guignol in Paris in 1896. After two years there he traveled in repertoire with the great actor, Coquelin, for six years covering Belgium, Italy, France, Germany and French Africa. From the Sarah Bernhardt theater he went into the moving picture field and spent three years with the house of Pathe in France. Returning to America, he joined the Pathe forces here, and has, for the last few months, been appearing with Pathe-Wharton.

THURLOW BERGEN'S ancestors came from New Jersey, but he was educated in Washington, D.C. When nineteen years old, he decided to give up the study of law and go on the stage, and now has fourteen years stage experience to his credit. Mr. Bergen is also an author, playwright, composer, singer and athlete. He has written many children's stories, and as a boy composed the lyric and music of the well known song "Esther's Lullaby" which he played and sang at the White House for the late President Cleveland who gave Mr. Bergen permission to dedicate the song to his first daughter, "Esther," a distinct compliment. Pathe was responsible for his deserting the legitimate stage, and his first picture was the splendid Pathe American Company production entitled "The Stain." For the past six months he has been appearing in leads for Theodore Wharton, Inc.

CREIGHTON HALE, who has appeared in a number of Pathe American productions, as well as in those made by the Whartons, was born twenty-five years ago in Ireland, being the son of an actor well known in Great Britain. He made his debut at the age of five years in "East Lynne" and when barely out of his "teens," he staged a production of "Richelieu" at the Waldorf theater, London. With Oscar Asche and Lilly Brayton he played Shakespearean repertoire in London and the provinces. He came to this country to support Gertrude Elliott in the "Dawn of Tomorrow," and with that play toured practically every state in the Union. Among the other well known productions in which he has appeared are "Rebellion," "The Witching Hour," and "Indian Summer." He also had a ten months' engagement with the Ben Greet Players.
News of the Week as Shown in Films

The "Old Guard," New York’s veteran battalion. Copyrighted 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

King Albert and President Poincare at Furnes, Belgium. Copyrighted 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

U. S. troops from Vera Cruz land at Galveston, Texas. Copyrighted 1914 by Hearst-Selig News Pictorial.

Richard Croker and his bride, who was an Indian princess. Copyrighted 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

King George en route to open Parliament. Copyrighted 1914 by Hearst-Selig News Pictorial.

Steamer "Hanalei" wrecked off San Francisco. Copyrighted 1914 by Hearst-Selig News Pictorial.
New York Exhibitors’ Annual Ball

Thousands in Attendance

YOU exhibitors who know the actual size of the Grand Central Palace will appreciate the statement that it was none too big for the holding of the fifth annual ball of the Motion Picture Exhibitors’ Association of Greater New York. Four floors of the Palace were at the service of the Association and its guests on the evening of December seventh—yet, the great convention-floor, on which three separate dances were conducted at the same time was one which, of necessity, limited the dancers to about one-twentieth of the attendance number. Three tiers of booths lined the ball that claims thousands of square feet as its area and these booths as well as the dancing floor, had extensive patronage.

The event was the first of a social nature under the management of the Association’s new president, William Landau. He made many new acquaintances among the evening’s guests and the general feeling was one of instant liking for the man who stepped into the presidency on the resignation of Samuel H. Trigger. The latter gentleman was in animated attendance and seemed to find as much enjoyment in freedom from responsibility for the evening’s outcome, as did the many who call him friend. As early as one year ago, Mr. Trigger engaged the Palace for December seventh’s event and saw it through as a member of various committees.

The evening’s biggest happening was the grand march with twelve photoglayers in the lead. The front row stretched its twice-sextet width across the space secured only by guards constituting themselves of a bodyguard. And the front row was truly the “cynosure of admiring eyes.” Mary Pickford in a sequin-encrusted, chiffon-tuniced gown of faintest pink, with Francis X. Bushman as her partner were at the right of the front row and Mary Fuller in golden-brocade, walked beside King Baggot at the left of the “row de luxe.” The center comprised Chara Kimball Young in modauna-blue stiff silk and a sapphire-set comb as her hair-ornament. Her hand rested on the arm of Paul Panzer. Next in line was Mary Charleson in orchid-chiffon and satin, with Marc MacDermott. Marguerite Snow was Queen in a clothe-of-gold gown embroidered in silver and she wore a picturesque hat of silver lace. James Cruze was her partner. Corresponding to the Snow-Cruze position in the row were Anita Stewart, in a lusterless and pastel pink, and Earl Williams. The women carried bouquets of American beauties, the gift of the ball committee, and afterward the flowers served as favors to friends.

Among the “afterward” events, was a buffet supper served down-stairs in the grill and it was not until after four o’clock that the last of the ball took its way homeward. It was a happy, satisfying evening, that of the Association’s fifth ball that provided four orchestras, four picture-theaters, an innovation grand march and a splendid time for the entertainment of the guests who surely numbered more than three thousand.

NOTES OF THE EVENING.

The officers of the association who made the ball a memorable one are William Landau, president; M. Needle, vice-president of Manhattan; William Hollander, vice-president of Brooklyn; M. Coleman, vice-president of the Bronx; Adolph Weiss, secretary; William Brant, financial secretary; Grant Anson, treasurer; A. J. Stockhammer, Samuel H. Trigger, chairman of the Executive Board, and Adolph Weiss, chairman of the ball committee.

Marion S. Pearce, president of the National Motion Picture Exhibitors’ League of America, who came from Baltimore, Fulton Brylawski, secretary of the Washington D. C. league, was another guest to whom distance meant nothing.

Francis X. Bushman’s attendance meant his coming from Chicago. He learned that his厦nay fame had grown, even since the June convention tribute to his popularity.

And Kate Price was there. Her gown was very lovely and her chiffon hat very green. Kate believes in leaving none in doubt as to her nationality.

Nicholas Power’s personal representatives were J. F. Skerret and A. J. Lang.

“Bill” Barry was missed.

Ad. Kessel and C. O. Baumann were hosts to a merry party in the New York Motion Picture Company’s box.

The Warners’ box was a big and well-filled one.

James Kirkwood, president of the Screen Club, declared the night a ladies’ one at the club. Those who taxed there before three, found it so. Those who didn’t, found it dark.

Edward Earle of the Edison Company was the first photographer to make a formal bow from the stage in the dance hall.

The Edison booth was the home of lots of fun as the evening advanced. William Maxwell, second vice-president of the Edison Company, held an auction of players and the interest of a large audience.

H. Wilson, first vice-president and general manager of the Edison Company, was present, together with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Plympton, Charles Edison and L. W. McChesney, as official representatives.

Though the night was the second one of a cold, slety rain, it kept few away.

W. “Kalem” Wright was welcomed by those who have helped make motion picture history. Tom Moore was another Kalemite in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Zukor list the evening as among their big number of pleasant ones.

Mary Pickford, in a white velvet coat and white fox furs nibbled a sandwich and sipped ginger ale while waiting for her “family,” her mother and sister and brother, to announce their readiness to go home.

Harry Reichenbaeh’s presence bespoke the Alco Company, though that company contributed others to the evening’s number.

Though “Rose” (Rosenbach-Excelsior) was a late departing guest, he answered his office phone at nine at that same morning. There are some others who will respond “Ditto.” But did they?

Paul Kelly and Carl Gregory said cheery hellos to everybody.

S. M. Spedon and many other Vitaphotographers held court in a large box.

And David Horsley commuted in from Bayonne and took one-something back.

“Bill” Russell was greeted like a long-lost brother by everybody. Paul Panzer, the film leader and Florida trips prevent his seeing his friends as often as they would wish.

And Charlie Horan was in receipt of the universal greeting. “How fine you’re looking!” Then he’d explain he’s in training.

The Universal Company was represented by Mark Dittenfass, Paul Gulick and a number of others.

Twas a happy party and a happy time!

S. Levine, who comments and writes ad copy for Box Office Advertising, was extraneous, was put outside the crowd and watched the players being introduced.

Paul Panzer had the distinction of being the only “villain” in the front row of the grand march. He received a loud burst of applause when he introduced, so probably villains are regular fellows after all.

And Clark was not there, and they missed him. Housman thinks that possibly it was a case of too much Boston with Clark. Russell K. Dougherty, Edwin August, Tom Terriss, Anna Luther, Bliss Milford, Ira H. Simmons, Alma Martin, John Spooner, Jerome Wilson, Arthur Bisgood, Beulah Poynter and "Jack" Cunningham, all associated with the Kinetophone and the K. C. Booking Company, Incorporated, were to be found in box No. 106.

Big Publicity Campaign

The Mica Film Corporation, which is one of the newest programs recently announced in the motion picture industry, now makes public for the first time an arrangement it has made with the National Newspaper Dramatic Service Bureau of New York, of which Myron C. Fagan is editor-in-chief and which represents the dramatic departments of approximately 18,000 American newspapers.

It is planned to inaugurate a nation wide advertising and publicity campaign in the newspapers all over the United States relative to Kriterion pictures, and the houses exhibiting them. Though it is expected that such a campaign will require an expenditure in the neighborhood of $500,000 per year, the Mica Film Corporation considers that the co-operation between the manufacturers and the exhibitors is the surest, fairest and most practical method of marketing its product and that, therefore, the expenditure is well justified. If it is said, will be asked to pay nothing extra for this advertising service, as the service will be stipulated and guaranteed in every Kriterion contract made out and as a result, in every town where Kriterion pictures are to be shown there will be advertising in the newspaper which is a part of Mr. Fagan's service, the advertising to introduce Kriterion pictures to the public and announce the name and location of the theater in that locality which will show Kriterion films.

Kinetophone's New Affiliation

The Kinetophone has just completed arrangements with the Hollandia Film Manufacturing Co., of Haarlem, Holland, whereby the Kinetophone will take over such of the Hollandia pictures as are available for the United States, Canada and New Foundland. Such films as the Kinetophone takes over will be released through the K. C. Booking Co., Incorporated, in the United States and the K. C. Booking Co., Limited, of Montreal, as well as through the exchanges affiliated with the K. C. Company.

Jan Leendertz, representative of the Hollandia Company, arrived in this country on the Rotterdam a week or more ago, bringing with him 25,000 feet of film, a part of which was accepted by the Kinetophone as being of sufficient merit to take with American audiences. It was stated at the Kinetophone offices that none of the Hollandia film is to be taken which does not come up to such specifications and, therefore, such of the film as was accepted is replete enough with action and good photography to make it available for the American market.

Mr. Leendertz, who is an expert in the land of dykes on the question of motion pictures, is stopping at the McAlpin, but expects to return to Holland on the Nieuw Amsterdam when that ship sails on December 12. Mr. Leendertz talks most interestingly of conditions in the business there which have arisen as the result of the war.

"Our company is the only concern in Holland manufacturing films and we find an excellent market for our output," said Mr. Leendertz. "We do not, however, market any of our films ourselves; we sell through the oldest agent in Holland, who distributes films all over Holland and Dutch colonies. We do not have the proposition of a feature every day in many motion picture theaters, such as you do here. In Holland a theater books a feature for one week or, at the most, two each week.

"After the war broke out there was a great boom in the motion picture trade because so many of what you call the legitimate theaters were closed. At once there was a demand for a cheaper amusement and the motion pictures supplied it. However, prices were lowered a little in the film houses, due to the depression caused by the war, and because there was a fear that Holland might be dragged into it. Now we know that we shall not be implicated in the controversy, and things were brightening up to a considerable extent when I left.

"We try to get stars for our pictures the same as you do in this country right now. For instance, in one or two of the films which we have brought to the Kinetophone Corporation, we used H. L. Chrispijn, director of the Royal Theater in Amsterdam. He not only was the star of the piece but directed the picture. We were very fortunate to get him, because usually his time is all taken up at the Royal Theater. We made no films at all during August after the outbreak of the war, but we got going again in October and our plant is working to full capacity now."

Cameragraph Club Gives Party

A delightful package party was given at Eldert hall, in Brooklyn, Saturday evening, December 5, under the auspices of the Cameragraph Club, and was an unqualified success. The Cameragraph Club is composed of the foreman of each factory department of the Nicholas Power Company, the superintendent, the purchasing agent, the stock clerk and also the executive secretary of the company. Nicholas Power himself was present and made a splendid speech, praising the work of the foremen of his organization and his remarks were very well received. Mr. Power was followed by Mr. Cassard, who, speaking for the entire assembly, thanked Mr. Power for his kind expressions and voiced the appreciation of the club for his uniring interest in the welfare of his men. Speeches were also made by Mr. Uhlemann, the superintendent, and Ray Dengel, the chairman of the entertainment committee. There was plenty of refreshments and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. The officers of the club are Theodore Uhlemann, president; H. Tonnesson, vice-president; S. S. Cassard, treasurer, and A. J. Lang, secretary. Honorary members of the club are Nicholas Power, Edward Earl, J. F. Skerrett and Will C. Smith.

Report Big Increases

That theater owners share the optimistic opinions of newspapers and certain prominent financiers of greatly increased prosperity after January 1, is indicated by the flattering reports from George Kleine's widely scattered branch offices. All of them are sending in heavy booking sheets with the cheering information that most theaters are already feeling the new prosperity in the resumption of manufacturing activities in many towns and cities. "Julius Caesar," "Antony and Cleopatra," "Spartacus," and "The Naked Truth," are booked solid into the middle of February in several of the far western offices.
Darwin Karr

Darwin Karr is now well started on his second year with the Vitagraph Company, where he has been engaged principally in Broadway Star features, but also in shorter pictures. Mr. Karr was born at Karr Valley, near Rochester, New York, and was eighteen years old and a superintendent in a knitting mill before the stage microbe bit him. Then for several years he appeared in prominent roles in dramas, musical comedies and vaudeville sketches. It was in the summer of 1911 that he first thought of motion picture work and accepted a special engagement with the Edison Company. The result was a one-year contract with the Solax Company, which by his good work lengthened into two years, and in September, 1913, the Vitagraph Company bid for his services and secured him. "Mr. Barnes of New York!" and "The Tangle" are two Vitagraph features in which he has been seen. At present Mr. Karr is working on another Broadway star feature soon to be released.

Another "Gar El Hama" Film

In the Great Northern Film Company's latest release, "The Adventures of Gar El Hama," the central character is one that figured as a principal in two former Great Northern features about two years ago, at which time the pictures attained unusual popularity. The new production should likewise prove popular among the exhibitors and fans who admired the other Gar El Hama photoplays. The title role is also portrayed this time by the distinguished European actor, A. Hertel, who appeared as Gar El Hama in the former productions. He is the same one who scored such a hit in the recent Great Northern feature, "After Thirty Years," by his wonderful characterization of a difficult part. The new picture is said to be unusually thrilling as well as elaborate. Some novel and wonderful photographic effects are introduced.

New Photoplay Textbook

Within the past week there came from the press the first edition of "How to Write a Photoplay," the book upon which A. W. Thomas, president of the Photoplaywrights' Association of America, editor of the Photoplay Scenario, the Photoplay Magazine, author of "Photoplay Helps and Hints" and "The Photoplay Punch," and a member of the Photoplay Authors' League, the Screen and the Ed-Au clubs, has been at work for more than a year. The book contains 327 pages of most interesting text, and Mr. Thomas in his fluent style tells the amateur what to do rather than what not to do, as so many other writers on photoplay technique seem inclined to go at the subject. Mr. Thomas' book is constructive in every sense of the word and should prove a very treasurehouse of knowledge for the struggling amateur, who is seeking to find the reason for the continued rejection of his efforts. The book, which is neatly bound in an attractive cover, bears on its title page the following inscription, in which the author expresses his thanks to such writers as Captain Leslie T. Peacocke, William Lord Wright, Ben P. Schulberg, Russell E. Smith, Elizabeth R. Carpenter and William E. Wing for courtesies extended in the preparation of the work.

The preface is a tribute such as falls to few authors. It was written by Ben Schulberg, scenario editor of the Famous Players Film Company and reads as follows:—

To write the preface to a book such as this is a privilege to be exceeded only by the honor of writing the book itself. It is unnecessary to say that the present volume is the best textbook on the writing of the photoplay ever published, for after a perusal of the following pages that statement would appear altogether superfluous, but the writer wishes very much indeed to confide to you that Mr. A. W. Thomas has, through the medium of this book, accomplished two unique achievements—he has written the truth and logic of the scenario, so that the amateur photoplaywright can understand and embrace them; and he has been faithful to himself and his readers. He has religiously and consistently avoided exaggeration—the glaring fault in most similar works—and yet he has not omitted a single item either of direct benefit or remote value to the prospective or present student of the photoplay.

For all those struggling in the dark of misconception and confusion toward the hidden light of photoplay perfection, Mr. Thomas has illuminated the way with the brilliance of his profound reflections and the firm conclusions of long years of study and mastery of his subject. It is not difficult to perceive the psychic truth underlying all his statements, an unconscious force born only of sincerity in and devotion to his labors. The writer is happy to state that he is familiar with Mr. Thomas' own work and continuous, uniriting efforts to aid every struggling writer who sought or would accept his assistance; and that spirit of service permeates every page of this book.

In including a chapter which he calls "A Talk with the Reader," its author presents a feature as valuable in itself as most other volumes devoted to the scenario in their entirety. To Mr. A. W. Thomas, the loyal, sincere and conscientious friend of all students of the motion picture technique, the undersigned as a photoplaywriter and scenario editor extends his earnest thanks for this uplifting and instructive book, and to all its readers the expectant hope that they may profit as much as he did by it.

Clamor for Kleine's Caesar

One of the truly surprising features in the booking of George Kleine's "Julius Caesar," the various Kleine offices report, is the tremendous nation-wide interest evinced by colleges, academies, technical and public schools in the big film. The fame of "Quo Vadis?" and "Antony and Cleopatra" has gone back, and the announcement that "Julius Caesar" is greater than either of the others from the standpoint of spectacle and historical accuracy has created a widespread interest. From Boston to Los Angeles public school superintendents have arranged dates for exhibitions. In this way exhibitors showing the subject for the first time in their respective cities are getting profitable special matinees.

Raver and Thomas Leave All Star

As MOTOGRAPHY goes to press we are advised that Harry R. Raver and Augustus Thomas have disposed of their stock in the All Star Feature Corporation and severed connections with that concern. Mr. Raver is responsible for the importation of "Cabiria" and is the general manager of the Itala Film Company of America. Mr. Thomas is universally known as a playwright for the legitimate stage, the All Star pictures being his first venture in filmland.
Digby Bell's Successful Career

Digby Bell, the star of the Alco release, "The Education of Mr. Pipp," makes his screen debut in that photoplay. He has had many experiences besides those that usually fall to an actor. He was born the son of a banker and later he became a banker himself. He followed this by becoming a member of the stock exchange. He was also general passenger agent of the White Star Line in New York as a very young man. Mr. Bell was born in Milwaukee in 1851 and reached New York at the age of five. After his graduation from college he entered upon the business career of which reference is made above. In 1872 he went to Italy determined to study for the career of a grand opera singer. He was abroad for five years, but in 1876 he felt ready for his operatic debut. This occurred in the Island of Malta. He sang "the Count" in "La Somnambula" and "Valentine" in "Faust." He also sang in "La Traviata" and "Linda" during his residence abroad. Several years later he returned to America to appear as a concert singer at Chickering Hall, New York. A tour of the principal American cities followed. His initial success in comic opera in "Pinafore" was followed by many other instantaneous successes. He was John Wellington Wells in "The Sorcerer" and delighted the public in "Trial by Jury." A three years' engagement with the singing company of the late Augustin Daly followed. In 1884 he was King Charles in "Nell Gwynne" at the Casino. Then came four years with the McCaul Opera Company. Comic opera stardom came to Bell in May 1892 when he appeared in the title role in "Jupiter" at the Casino. Having sung and played in grand and comic opera and light opera, Bell turned to the legitimate and was just as successful as he had been in the musical pieces. With his wife, Laura Joyce he starred in Hoyt's "Midnight Bell." He made his first acquaintance in a professional capacity with Augustus Thomas in 1898 when he played Doctor Willow in "The Hoosier Doctor," by that playwright. In 1893 he was Sam Weller in "Mr. Pickwick," delving into musical comedy for a change. Later came his starring tour in "The Education of Mr. Pipp" which lasted for three years.

Fielding Busy

To commence four big features, two of them of five-reel length, and produce them practically simultaneously, is a feat that is seldom attempted or encouraged among film producers. Romaine Fielding, producer, author and leading man for the Lubin Company, has accomplished this feat, however, and this in spite of the fact that he is not a believer in rushing a film through. "In the Hour of Disaster," in five reels, "The Disaster," in five reels, "The Brute in the Jug," in two reels and "The Valley of Lost Hope" in six reels, are the titles of the plays in question. The two first named have just been completed, and will shortly be released by the Lubin company. The last two named are still in preparation. All the plays were commenced the same day, Mr. Fielding plays the leads, besides being the director.

Reproduced "Cabbage Patch"

The "Cabbage Patch" of Louisville, Ky., made famous in the novel by Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice, was reproduced in the outskirts of San Rafael, north of San Francisco, Calif., to give a setting for the photoplay, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Much of the success of the moving picture is dependent on the faithfulness with which such a scene is depicted. The California Motion Picture Corporation, which filmed "Mrs. Wiggs," threw the best of its resources into the construction of the "Cabbage Patch," and the result was a remarkable replica of the dingy shanty settlement where the breezy philosopher of the Louisville slums moved amid a circle of characters as quaint as the place where they made their abode. A miniature village was erected for "Mrs. Wiggs." A railroad spur track was built; an engine was moved to it, and, down to the last detail, an effect was made to reconstruct the Louisville slum with the best carpenter skill available.

Lead a Real Speed Demon

Arthur Ashley, new leading man at the Thanhouser New Rochelle studio, has a record as a racing driver that serves him in good stead. In "The Speed King," the first release in which he will be seen wearing the Thanhouser colors, Mr. Ashley gives a demonstration of what it means to be a speed demon. Many of the scenes in this picture were taken at Brighton race track which will be immediately recognized by thousands who see it. Early in his career, Mr. Ashley developed an "unafraid" bump. For years he sent audiences home chilled with thrills by his daredevil bicycle exploits. He has renewed acquaintance with his old daredevil self in "The Speed King." Muriel Ostriche, "youngest of leading women" plays opposite Mr. Ashley.

"The Garden of Lies"

The forthcoming release of the All Star Feature Corporation which will be the January 4 unit of the Alco Film Corporation, on the regular program, will mark the first, and perhaps the only, appearance of the beautiful and versatile dramatic actress Miss Jane Cowl, in the intensely interesting story "The Garden of Lies" which is now in course of construction in southern Louisiana.

Miss Cowl, a graduate from the Belasco school, made her first big impression on Metropolitan critics in David Belasco's production of "Is Matrimony a Failure" at the Republic theater. Struck by her beauty and charm of acting Charles Klein, Henry Arthur Jones, Archie Selwyn and John Cott, the four directors of the Authors' Producing Company selected her to play the leading role in their first joint production, "The Gamblers," which ran for seven months at Maxine Elliott's theater.
London Theater Uses Tube Lighting

Effective Front Display

The use of tube lights for outlining the facade of buildings is exemplified by the first and very conspicuous installation of Moore tube lamps on the front of the theater known as the West End Cinema, in Coventry street, London, England, where three lines of tube on either side of the arched facade are employed to give an attractive outline of light, in connection with a neon-tube illuminated sign over the theater entrance. The columns of tube rise to a height of 48 feet, from their base just above the level of the second floor of the building. The tube is of 1.75-inch diameter, clear, thin glass, and the three tubes on either side are united at the top by a short end section. The continuous length of each side is thus about 145 feet, allowing for the eight inches of tube which joins the three tubes at the upper end, these vertical and arching tubes being four inches apart throughout their length.

The tubes emerge from the building from two operating boxes, one being located on either side of a lobby within the building. Here are located the electrodes and contacts. The light is operated at the high pressure of 21,000 volts alternating current, which is produced through a rotary converter and step-up transformer set located in the basement, which receives direct current from the lighting circuit at 100 volts. The tube contains nitrogen gas, under very low pressure.

In external appearance the illumination is of a delicate shade of orange light which on near examination has the effect of glowing, and gently expanding and contracting, rings of light within the tube. The intensity of light is not so high as to make it painful to look closely at the lamp, but the effect of the novel installation is to furnish a brilliant display, which makes the building appear to be encircled with an arch of flame, and throws the shadows of the structure into deep relief. The value of the light for advertising purposes is obviously great, in that it draws the attention of the passing crowd in a fascinating manner.

The neon-tube lamp which, by a series of convolutions of the glass of which it is composed, forms the sign letters West End, has a distinctly reddish tinge, contrasting with the orange tint of the lamps above.

The words are formed by three distinct tubes, each about 35 feet in length, which wind in and out of the operating box located on the gallery referred to, which is reached through French windows from the lobby within the building. The letter W is formed by one tube, the letters est by a second, and the word End by the third. About half the length of the convolutions is contained inside the operating box, hidden from public view.

Each of these tubes has an electrode and an auxiliary, wired from their ends respectively by positive and negative cables carried from a 6,000-volt transformer located within the box. Current for operation is received from the 100-volt direct-current lighting circuit, is changed to alternating current through a rotary converter, and raised in a transformer to 6,000 volts for lamp operation.

The elementary gas neon is contained in an enlarged section of the tubes, about 6 inches long and 2.5 inches in diameter. This substance is admitted into the glass pipe in very minute quantities sufficient for about 1,000 hours of service. The neon, which gradually becomes contaminated, is cleared of foreign substances by passing through a sulphur deposit and copper filings and zinc foil.

In this type of lamp the light gives the appearance of ruddy, glowing rings, which swell like smoke rings. The combination of the neon tubes with the nitrogen tubes makes an especially effective illumination for advertising purposes.

The new illuminating equipment, which was installed a few weeks ago in the nature of an experiment, is proving abundantly satisfactory. The use of the tube lamp is being considered, in London, for outlining the exterior lines of store buildings, and for interior show-room-illumination.

Note.—This article originally appeared in the Electrical Review and Western Electrician.
MOTOGRAFHY

December 19, 1914.

---

Mutual Girl to Hear Stories

In the coming numbers of the Mutual Girl release, made by the Reliance Motion Picture Company, a novel plan has been adopted, wherein certain prominent people tell a story to Margaret, Our Mutual Girl. In the next coming three or four releases, some of America's foremost illustrators and writers have agreed to furnish the Reliance with material for these releases, among them being William Faversham, George Barr McCutcheon and May Wilson Preston.

Instead of having a story or scenario, the Reliance Company has been making arrangements with America's foremost authors, illustrators, society people and financiers to tell Margaret a story which they consider one of the most interesting episodes of their lives. The story does not necessarily have to apply to the person who tells it, but can be on any general subject.

The reel will open with Margaret meeting the individual in question, and will then fade into the story told, which will be enacted by a large stock company, especially engaged to fill the bill.

The first of this series is when Margaret meets William Faversham, one of America's foremost actors, and he tells her the story of "The Hawk," which is the name of the play he is now appearing in. George Barr McCutcheon has also met Miss Phillips, and has told her of a new plot which he intends working into a story. This plot deals with the Franco-Prussian period and has a soldier of fortune in it. May Wilson Preston has consented to tell a story to Miss Phillips, and at present the company is engaged in taking a more than interesting picture entitled "A Day with My Work," by May Wilson Preston.

---

Women as Camera Men

The statement has been widely circulated that genuine war pictures are impossible to get, that mobilization maneuvers and libraries furnish practically all of the war news in films. That this is contrary to the truth is proven every week in the Pathe projection room in Jersey City when the newly arrived negatives are shown. Some of the battlefield views are so horrible that it is impossible to make use of them. Piles of unburied dead ready to be cremated, long burial trenches filled with the mangled remains of what once were men, and tangled heaps of the human flotsam and jetsam of the conflict are all shown. Such realism is, of course, unadapted for public showing.

War pictures are, it is true, very difficult to get, but not so much so as in the early days of the war. It is interesting to note that owing to the absence of most able-bodied Frenchmen on the firing line Pathe has been driven to the necessity of using women as cameramen. The sight of these Pathe "camerawomen," trudging along with camera and helper, has become a fairly common sight in Paris. It is reported that they have proven themselves quick to learn, reliable and competent and certainly those who accompany the army for the Pathe News have shown plenty of nerve as well. In several instances they have been able to get to places where cameramen were not allowed, which goes to show that human nature is the same everywhere, and that a pretty feminine face and pleasant smile have a wonderful potency in overcoming difficulties.

---

A Lubin Western "Type"

In the short space of his career in the theater of silence, Edgar Jones has made his impress. For three years Lubin photoplays have introduced and familiarized him, to the screen public, first as leading man in western dramas, then in plays of every description as joint player and producer. Mr. Jones was playing in a New York theater when he was requested to meet Mr. Lubin at his club after the performance. Later he was introduced by Mr. Lubin to his aides as the man for whom he had been searching for two years, this being on account of the resemblance borne by Mr. Jones to the principal figure in a Frederic Remington painting owned by Mr. Lubin. Edgar Jones gives to the voiceless drama that buoyant breeziness usually associated with westerners only. Certain it is that this quality, as well as his stalwart, muscular frame, forceful countenance and intrepid horsemanship have added verisimilitude to every picture in which his talents have been displayed.

---

Using Expensive Interiors

With characteristic lavishness, George Kleine has arranged for unique and expensive interiors in his coming production "Stop Thief," founded on the Cohan & Harris comedy of that name. The library set boasts 2,000 real books, instead of the usual "prop" backs only. There is also a fine Italian renaissance mantel in carved walnut valued at $800. Beautiful Flemish tapestries for door hangings and many oil paintings add a touch of realism to the various scenes as original as it is refreshing.

The big comedy is being rapidly completed. Mary Ryan, as well as Harry Mestayer, both of whom are playing the respective leads, are enjoying the novelty of picture work, and delighted to find that they can readily exchange a successful "stage presence" for the all-essential "picture personality."

---

"The Last Chapter"

Carlyle Blackwell is at present working on "The Last Chapter,"—the next picture to be released by the Favorite Players. This is the story of the love affairs of an African explorer, whose sufferings and privations, for the sake of his "lady fair," are excellently portrayed. Some of the scenes are laid in darkest Africa, and the strong contrast between the wilds of Central Congo where some incidents are portrayed, and the civilized surroundings, in which the explorer finds himself on his return, form the background for a dramatic story of heart interest.
Brevities of the Business

James W. Castle, the new Edison director, brings with him all the wealth of successful experience gathered in his rise from rags many years ago to the position of owner of well known stage productions. Mr. Castle will devote practically his entire time to directing Edison comedies—and that fact is sufficient to warrant comedies of a high order of real funniness. That is not, however, Mr. Castle's first appearance in directing motion pictures, as he spent some time as director for the Vitagraph. In his own productions, in partnership with Mr. George D. Baker, he directed such well known successes as "Graustark." "Harold McGrath's Loose Girl" and "The Bishop's Carriage," the rights of which he bought from Lichler. For two years Mr. Castle had a valuable and successful experience as director of the famous Bush Temple Stock Company of Chicago, which has turned out so many stars. He also directed the F. E. Proctor Stock Company and held the same position with "Quo Vadis" and with "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," having under him in one company such an aggregation of stars as Marie Cahill, Raymond Hitchcock, William T. Carleton, Adele Ritchie, and other luminaries. Mr. Castle is very fond of picture making, and says that he expects his association with the Edison company to be particularly pleasant. He has, at one time or another, had nearly every leading actor and actress now with Edison under him in his long career of director. With a man of such attainments giving his entire time to Edison comedies, too much can hardly be expected in real laugh-making reels.

He's the tall, gray man of the film industry. He has a fondness for very light gray suits in the spring-time and very dark gray ones in the fall. Right now, he wears gray-topped shoes and his favorite tie of the month is a gray one, diagonally dashed with red. His eyes are gray though his hair promises never to be, as it is decidedly blond. His name is—John W. Grey. The gray Grey man's haunt is the office of the advertising manager of the Mutual Film Corporation. He conducts business along pleasant lines and never misses an opportunity to laugh in order to make his caller laugh. Greater New York was the birth-place of John Grey. He attended public schools, then a college in Philadelphia and then Columbia University. For eight years after he left college he specialized in automobile advertising. R. H. Cochran, after a satisfying acquaintance with Mr. Grey introduced him into the Universal and until four months ago Mr. Grey introduced himself to the Universal and until four months ago Mr. Grey's card read "Advertising Manager, Universal Film Manufacturing Company." To the man who is known as "the first to apply merchandising to motion pictures," he declares his aim not to be "to elevate the industry," but merely to merchandize what it has to offer. "O' Hearts," and "Lucile Love" series, he issued gratuitously advertising booklets to all theaters that used this service. On the "Runaway June" series which is calling particular attention to the Mutual output right now, he is issuing a fifteen-weeks advertising campaign to any theater in the United States which is using this service. He is twenty-nine years old, is married and lives in New Rochelle, N. Y., at Pepperday Inn, in which he is financially interested.

He is a member of the Wygkyl Country Club at New Rochelle, of the Republican Club, New York and the Screen Club. His hobby is golf and his chief attribute, good-nature.

George Kleine's rapidly growing business has made it necessary to open a Philadelphia office. Mr. John J. Rothford has been appointed branch manager in that city with offices at 1309 Vine St.

Ford Sterling, known the world over as one of the foremost ccecentric comedians, is ill in Los Angeles with typhoid-pneumonia. In the latter part of last week his life was despaired of, but he passed through the crisis safely and is now on the road to recovery.

Mr. Thomas H. Ince, managing director of the Kay Bee, Broncho and Domino studios, wishes to announce to screen playwrights that he is not buying any outside scenarios at the present time, as his needs are supplied for by his salariod forces.

John E. Brennan, the former Kalem comedian, has joined the Sterling brand of Universal films.

William Garwood, under the direction of Lucius Henderson and supported by Violet Mersereau, is working on his first Universal picture, "On Dangerous Ground."

Film Market Quotations and Financial Gossip

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Bid</th>
<th>Asked</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>American Film</td>
<td>117</td>
<td>...</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Biograph Film</td>
<td>58</td>
<td>73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>General Film</td>
<td>49</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Majestic Film</td>
<td>105</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Film</td>
<td>54</td>
<td>57</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Film</td>
<td>72</td>
<td>75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York Motion Pie</td>
<td>69</td>
<td>73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Film</td>
<td>33</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Syndicate (Zudora)</td>
<td>85</td>
<td>91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Syndicate (Zudora)</td>
<td>55</td>
<td>60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Syndicate (Zudora)</td>
<td>75</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syndicate Film (with Dec. div.)</td>
<td>165</td>
<td>175</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syndicate Film (with Dec. div.)</td>
<td>165</td>
<td>175</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universal Film</td>
<td>135</td>
<td>...</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World Film</td>
<td>52</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Syndicate Film—The rumor of a 25% extra dividend, payable in December—suggested in this column last week—has been reduced to a certainty and the cash will be distributed on December 10. We now risk another suggestion that a dividend of like amount will probably be paid prior to January 15, if not before.

New York Motion Picture—This stock has been very much in demand the last week. While sales were made at 66 on Wednesday, stock is now wanted at 69.

Mutual Film common has moved up to another high level from bid on 68 last week to 72.

American Film continues to jump without any stock appearing on the market.

Thanhouser Syndicate common has jumped 9 points within the last three or four days.

The page advertisement in the Chicago Tribune and other papers stating that a prize of $10,000 will be offered for the best suggestion for a new photo-play to be used in connection with the Thanhouser Syndicate Corporation, offers very promising possibilities in the latter company's stock. This prize arrangement also now brings in the American Film Company as one of the contributing factors.

World Film is being traded in at the rate of from 1500 to over 2000 shares per day. The list of stockholders has increased to very large proportions and there is a broad, active market in many cities for this security.

The Belgian War Pictures indicate the public in general have a very keen appetite for war when viewed under the safe circumstances of being remote several thousand miles from the scene of action, with only the noise of a piano substituted for the discharge of heavy artillery. The receipts from all portions of the country to date would indicate that the Belgian Red Cross Society will receive a very nice Christmas present.
Charles E. Van Loan is in Banning, Calif., with the Bosworth Company, assisting in the production of the film version of his story, "The Message to Buckshot John."

Harry Pollard, directing the production of a feature company at the American studios, and Edward Langley, assistant director, had an exciting trip to Surf, Calif., recently, to look at the ruins of the burned schooner Scotia for their production, "The Quest." The party traveled by auto, with a load of dynamite and other props, but got safely over the mountains and to their destination.

William Robinson, president of the Victor Feature Film Company, in the new release of that company, through the Alliance program, entitled "In the Shadow," is thrown over a fifty-foot cliff into the swift and turbulent waters of the river below.

Dorothy Gish, the clever star of the Mutual Film Corporation, was run down by an automobile last week and is in one of the Los Angeles hospitals at the present time. Her left side was badly torn and her foot injured. It is expected that it will be at least a month before she is able to leave the hospital.

A new play has been written by Charles L. Gaskill for the Vitagraph Company, to be produced under his direction, that, in addition to calling for a display in full of the rare dramatic art of Miss Helen Gardner and demanding sets of exceptional originality, will contain a feature that has proved a big factor in the success of the company's previous productions.

Al. E. Christie, of the West Coast Universal, is producing "When His Lordship Proposed," with Johnny Dillon, Billie Rhodes, Penny Ferol and Lee Moran.

Ill fortune appears to be following the "Hazards of Helen" company at the American, as Calista Helene Holm, the heroine, was taken ill and for a time was threatened with double pneumonia. Just after she was declared out of danger J. F. McGowan, the director, fell from a telegraph pole and was painfully injured. It is thought it will be at least three months before he is able to return to work.

R. S. Doman, recently with Philip Mindil, and before that on the staff of the Mutual Film Corporation's house organs, has joined Paul Guilick in the Universal press department, succeeding the latter as associate editor of the Universal "Weekly".

George Seigmann occupied the toastmaster's chair at the regular weekly good fellowship dinner of the Photoplayers Club last week.

In order to portray the genuine conditions in a steel foundry, Murdock MacQuarrie, the Nestor-star-director, and his company of players recently enlisted the services (through the kindness of a western plant owner) of 300 employees in one of the largest foundries in the West.

Henry Otto, the "Flying A" director, has made a fine photo-play, "The Amity of the Hut," in which he used the well known "tin-can shack" in the Santa Barbara mountains.

Rosemary Theby, Harry Myers, her co-star and director, and Brinsley Shaw, of Universal, are seen to splendid advantage in "The Accusation," a remarkable external feature which were taken on the magnificent Morisini estate in Yonkers, N. Y.

Marguerite Clayton's wish that she be allowed to drive a four-horse stage came to a realization in the Essanay play, "Broncho Billy and the Claim Jumpers."

Frank Montgomery and Mona Darkfeather have severed their connections with the feature company they were with and are considering other arrangements, but nothing has been settled as yet.

Constance Brinsley, of the eastern scenario staff of the Universal, has recovered from her illness and is now back at work on her new story, "Charity."

"The Legend Beautiful," a gorgeous two-reel "Flying A" production recently staged by Thomas Ricketts' company, is similar to "The Trail of the Lost Chord," produced under Mr. Ricketts' direction at the same time ago. It is founded upon "The Legend Beautiful," by Longfellow.

Edna Maison, of the Universal, Hollywood, Calif., studio, is appearing with Sidney Ayres in "The Unmasking," which Ayres is producing.

Mayor Ray had a day off last week and instead of motoring from Inceville to Santa Monica, Calif., as usual, he gave his machine the needed exercise by running around to visit some of his friends at the different studios in Hollywood, where he received a warm welcome and watched some of the companies at work.

Arline Pretty, who at present is supporting King Baggot in "A Five Pound Note," was recently bridesmaid for one of her nearest friends, a moving picture actress well known in filmdom.

Thomas Ricketts' "Flying A" company finished "An Unseen Vengeance," and are working on "The Black Ghost Bandit," a typical western story with a hold-up. It is the kind which never lose their interest, and has a new situation upon which to turn.

William Russell returned last week from St. Augustine, Fla., where has been working in some scenes for the All-Star production, "The Garden of Lies," in which Jane Cowl is playing the lead.

Charles Pathe is in receipt of news from the home office in Paris stating that Paul Capellani, one of the leading men in the French studio, has been appointed in engagement in the soon European struggle. This is the second leading man that the Pathe company has lost recently, Rene Alexander being the other. Both of these men were stars of the Comedie-Francaise and are engaged in some of the most exciting in this country. The latest Pathe features in which Paul Capellani has been seen in this country are "The Siren," a six-reel picture released a few months ago, and "The Silent Accuser," a four-reel drama released this week.

Bennie Zeidman, once of "Lubinville" and "Libertyville," who daily fingers an editor's pencil, thereby shaping artistic advertisements, sends us his views on a few current film subjects which show that he is not altogether an office man, that few others in his line are qualified to escape his notice. His opinion on the admission price question is "O. K." and we would like to print it but space forbids.

Charles F. Stark, manager of the industrial department of the Essanay Film Manufacturing Company, reports the arrival in Chicago of Charles F. Stark, Jr., on Saturday, December 5. "Mothography" joins with a host of others in wishing Charles Jr. a welcome to our midst and the best of everything. His presence in life and work the same time extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Stark.

The gowns worn in "Young Mrs. Winthrop" by the Edison star, Miss Mahel Trunnelle, have been attracting considerable attention from the fashion writers who have seen the first showing of this film, to be released this week. Miss Trunnelle's marked ability "to wear her clothes well" and the taste she displays in their design have brought requests for her to write magazine articles on this all-important feminine subject.

Ruth Roland, well-known as the "Kalem Girl," has signed a three-year contract with the Balboa Amusement Producing Company of Long Beach, California, and will be the star of one of the company's dramatic companies.

J. Parker Read, Jr. pleasantly acknowledges his submission to the little eight-pound stranger who has taken up her residence with the Reads and who seems to like the name Lillian, which has been bestowed upon her. The popularity of Mr. Read's star is giving a fillip to the victory which Miss Lillian can claim over her parents and their many friends, whose congratulations go to the Reads.

Director Scott Sidney of the Ince forces found cause for much rejoicing when it was announced that his film firm has taken over the production of "The Flower of the Desert," and this is the reason why: The action of the story takes place in the heart of New York's underworld. Mr. Sidney years ago was a reporter on one of the big metropolitan dailies and in that capacity had occasion to make an exhaustive study of conditions in the slums.

Lawrence McGill, one of the foremost producers of screen plays has been appointed director of the Humanology Film Producing Company, which has only just been organized, with a capitalization of $250,000 and a directorate comprised of foremost Boston business men. The output of the new organization is to be released by the United Film Service (Warner's Features, Inc.)

The Vitagraph Company of America, with the liberality characteristic of the three heads of the company, William T. Rock, Albert E. Smith and J. Stuart Blackton, has arranged to donate to the New York American Christmas Fund the entire receipts of a monster benefit at their Broadway photo-play house, the Vitagraph Theater, Wednesday, December 9.

Hunt, the attractive Reliance-Mutual star, is taking a brief rest from her role as lady reporter on a big metropolitan daily, and is being featured in one of Arthur Mackley's western thrillers, "The Navajo Maiden."

Miss Bessie Locke, corresponding secretary of the Navy, is in Inceville, assisting the corporation's accredited heads of departments, were invited guests at the Edison studio last week to pass judgment upon the new picture "Uncle Crusty," soon to be released. "Uncle Crusty," in pleasing story form was produced with the collaboration of the Kindergarten association and is of a greater public with the many benefits of the Kindergarten and its influence.

Director Richard Stanton of the Ince companies was surprised to learn during the production of “A Political Feud,” a forthcoming Ince release, what a large amount of natural talent abounds in youngsters in and about Santa Monica, Cal., where the Inceville studios are located.

News of the first “Zudora” baby has reached the offices of the Thompson Film Corporation at New Rochelle. Mrs. Grover Blauster of Baltimore, Ohio, a sister to the late Charles J. Hite, has a new smiling face in her home and she has given the baby the name of Zudora.

Willis Wilcox is contemplating the erection of a motion picture studio on her beautiful estate at Short Beach, Granite Bay, Conn. Her idea is to make it an adjunct to the plant of the Humanology Film Producing Company at Medford, Mass., which has the exclusive right to produce her famous poems in motion pictures, for release by the United Film Service.

In the coming numbers of the Mutual Girl release, made by the Reliance Motion Picture Company, a novel plan has been adopted, wherein certain prominent people tell a story to Margaret, “Our Mutual Girl.” In the next coming three or four releases, some of America’s foremost illustrators and writers have agreed to furnish the Reliance with material, among them being William Faversham, George Barr McCutcheon and May Wilson Preston.

The entire cast of Reliance’s “Runaway June” grouped about Director Oscar Eagle.

The donkey, a most essential actor in the Edison subject “The Birth of Our Savior,” made up his mulish mind to be natural and would not budge during a rehearsal, “Mary” on his back petted and coaxed him. A few, at a safe distance, tried to push him from the rear, but he was still of the same mind. Then some bright mind suggested smearing carrots over the donkey’s nose and he ambled amiably toward the “carrot carrier” while the picture was quickly clicked off.

Thomas H. Ince rapidly is acquiring the title of “the busiest man in the movies.” He devoted the entire summer to two of his biggest features, “The Two Gun Man” and “On the Night Stage,” and although they are scarcely off his hands he now is superintending the production of a third masterpiece, “The Reliance.” “The Reliance” is a seven-reel western thriller that will serve to present William S. Hart in the stellar role. “On the Night Stage” is another western story, but of a different type. This will offer Robert Edeson, William S. Hart and Rex Mitchell in a tri-star combination. “The Italian” is a tense dramatic narrative of the slums and will have George Beban as its principal.

Marguerite Clayton’s cagerness to lend more excitement to a scene in “Broncho Billy and the Claim Jumpers,” despite Mr. Anderson’s warning to be careful, recently led to a sprained ankle.

Edwin Clarke, the popular young Edison player, who for the past four years has been associated with that studio, resigned last week because of a serious illness which will require permanent residence in California’s mild climate.

A nation-wide movement which has for its object the establishment of a national gala day to be devoted to the boosting of American-made goods and to be known as “Made-in-U.S.A. Day” has been inaugurated, with big motion picture and radio stations as sponsors. A contributor of a million dollars was voted as a fund to stimulate interest in the idea. Arthur Nelson, father of the project, has been put in general charge of arrangements.

Kate Yvce, with her usual big-heartedness, was the first motion picture player to respond to the Chicago Examiner’s request to dress a doll for Chicago’s poor children’s Christmas tree. She selected a great big blue eyed, red haired doll and dressed it entirely in green with stockings and shoes to match.

Frank Borzage and Louise Glann had an impromptu ducking recently in a cold fresh water lake in the Bear valley, California, during the production there of “The Panther,” a forthcoming release of the New York Motion Picture Corporation Companies.

The Edison players who attended the Exhibitors’ Ball in Boston were Gladys Hulette, Andy Clark, Viola Dana, and Charles Dana, of Philadelphia. All were tired from autographing thousands of photographs of themselves for many of the eight thousand guests who attended.

Victor Potel, who is “Slippery Slim” in the Essanay’s “Slippery Saboteur” comes through with unusual joy to the hearts of a few hundred prisoners at the county jail in San Francisco last Sunday when he appeared at the semi-weekly performance given there for the inmates to witness.

ROLL OF STATES.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The Regent theater, at Fountain and Hamilton streets, Allentown, will shortly be reopened under the management of Frank Emmet.

Lewis Ahlers, Jr., obtained a permit for the erection of a motion picture house at Rising Sun Lane and Louden street, Philadelphia. The building will seat 500 persons. It will cost $7,000 and will be owned by G. H. Chapman.

The Bison theater in Brownsville is being remodeled and when completed will be one of the best equipped and modern in the state.

Uniontown’s magnificent new motion picture theater, the Penn, has been opened to the public.

The Little theater, at 1712-14 De Lancey street, Philadelphia, lot 47 feet 10 inches by 92 feet, has been conveyed by Edward G. Jay, Jr., to Frederick H. Shelton for a price not disclosed. The assessed valuation of the building is $15,000.

Film theater, 4949 Lancaster avenue, Philadelphia, for Joseph Frocco, one story, brick and plaster, 40x85 feet. J. Elvin Jackson, architect.

Property at 918-920 and 922 State street, Erie, leased for $121,000 for ten years will be used for a moving picture theater. The lease was executed recently with the Henry and Charles Jarecki estate and Leo Worthemer, of Buffalo. After five years the property may be re-appraised for rental. The theater will have a depth of 108 feet by 62½ feet wide. It will be built in the rear of the stores, entrance being through what is now a shoe shining parlor.

C. P. Berger is preparing plans for a one-story moving picture theater, 130 by 147 feet, at the northeast corner of Germantown avenue and Venango street, Philadelphia, for Mrs. J. Effinger.

Work has been started on a $5,000 moving picture theater at Paulsboro.

C. F. Berger is planning a one-story moving picture theater, 130x147 feet, at the northeast corner of Germantown avenue and Venango street, Philadelphia, for Mrs. J. Effinger.

E. J. Fagan has sold for W. C. Dicken to the Keller Company vacant lot 390 feet on Lincoln avenue, near Leming-to avenue, Pittsburgh, upon which he expects to build a moving picture theater costing $10,000. This playhouse will be the first of its kind in this district of the city.
The Tennessee Industrial Film Company of Knox county, with a capital stock of $12,000, has been granted a charter of incorporation. The incorporators are R. C. Wight, E. A. Sehorn, Charles I. Barber, Herbert D. Dodson and Henry Hudson, of Nashville.

The Gay theater, Knoxville, a local motion picture house, having been closed for nearly two months for extensive improvements, has been opened. In remodeling the Gay theater the former small stage has been taken out, and a large balcony extending to the third floor of the building, has been installed and which has a seating capacity for 700 people.

The Majestic motion picture theater, on the north side of Market street, near Twenty-first street, Galveston, has been sold by John A. Hasselmeier to A. Martini, owner of the Dixie theater. Mr. Martini will spend $1,000 in improvements.

Work on the new Feature theater, Dallas, is progressing and it will shortly be ready for the public. A beautiful pipe organ is now being installed and new upholstered seats with spring cushions are on the way. Two of the very latest 1915 model projecting machines also have been ordered.

The Star motion picture theater in Smithville was slightly damaged by fire recently.

A new chiropractic office located at 14 E. Market St., has been opened by Dr. E. E. Power.

The charter of the Hotox Motion Picture Company of Houston was filed in the state department, capital stock, $13,000. Incorporators, King W. Vidor, John N. Boggs and Lula Boggs.

B. A. Mulligan is the new manager of the Isis theater in Houston.

The Lyric picture show, in Comanche, owned by Frank M. Smith, Jr., suffered loss by fire, destroying machine and six rolls of film, $800.

The Stardome theater, Orange, has been purchased by George L. Gray of Newton, who assumes the management of the business succeeding T. J. Tatum, October 12.

The new Empire theater in the Brady building, San Antonio, one of the finest moving picture houses in the south, will be formally opened on December 14.

30 Leagues Under the Sea, Norfolk. Capital stock, $50,000 to $100,000. Objects, leasing and selling submarine films or photoplays. G. M. Williamson, president, Norfolk, Paul H. Davis secretary and treasurer, Chicago, Ill.

Messrs. Jones and Parker are arranging to open a motion picture show in South Norfolk, at the intersection of Liberty and Pointdexter streets, in what is known as Lane's row. This will be the first motion picture house that South Norfolk has had.

Sharon is to have a new moving picture show run by C. M. Benson and C. H. Underhill.

The Thanhouser Corporation, of Virginia, having a capital of $5,000, has been granted a charter to engage in the motion picture business in all its branches in New York State. The directors are W. R. Johnston, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Crawford Livingston, New York City, and W. E. Shabazz, Chicago, Ill.

The Strand Beautiful is the new name given the Victoria theater in Norfolk. This motion picture theater has undergone great improvements and will shortly be opened to the public.

The Regent motion picture house in Broad street, Richmond, is closed.

The new motion picture theater just being completed at Lynchburg by M. L. Hofheimer has been named the National, and the establishment will be ready for formal opening in a few days. A $10,000 pipe organ is being installed in the house.

The new Colonial moving picture theater in Tacoma will open on or about October 21, under the management of H. T. Moore. The theater will seat 1,000 persons and will be one of the handsomest moving picture houses in the Northwest. It is beautifully decorated and is lighted by the indirect system.

The Empress theater in Spokane was opened September 6 under the management of Sam Cohn. It was formerly known as the Washington theater.

The beautiful new Colonial theater, on C street, Tacoma, has been opened. Its auditorium is spacious, the seats comfortable, and the equipment of the first class. A luxurious ladies' room is one of the notable features. H. T. Moore, manager, promises an interesting series of moving picture dramas.

A new feature theater, Liberty, in Seattle, has been opened. The house is of steel and concrete and absolutely fireproof in every respect. The interior decorations are noteworthy. Paneling the walls all around the balcony level are paintings of the beautiful scenery around Seattle. The seating capacity is 2,100. It is under the management of Jensen and Von Herberg.

Architects Heath and Gove are drawing plans for a two-story brick building to be built at 14th Ave., Tacoma, by Dr. Hamilton Allen. The Pacific avenue section will be used for a motion picture house. The Commerce street story will be used as a store.

The new Colonial theater on C street, near Ninth, Tacoma, has been opened. The interior is beautiful with rich old rose furnishings, and seats one thousand persons on the main floor and about two hundred in the balcony.

A three-story building containing two theaters, known as the Ready theater company, N118 Howard street, Spokane, metal moving picture booth, $400.

A new moving picture theater owned by Harry Walker, of Dillonvale, has been started in Tiltonsville, ground being broken for the building last week. It will be up to date in every respect and will have a large seating capacity.

The Diamond Brothers' picture theater, Weston, was damaged by a recent fire to the extent of $400.

The new Auditorium motion picture theater at 1048 Market street, Wheeling, has been opened under the management of A. Bowles and Mrs. Bowles.

The Orpheum theater in Wheeling was destroyed by a recent fire, loss being $30,000.

The New Auditorium motion picture house, 1048 Market street, Wheeling, has been taken over by Messrs. Mulligan and Worley. A $19,000 moving picture theater will be erected by J. J. Schwartz at Ninth and Lincoln avenues, Milwaukee. A. E. Swager is the architect.

The new Midway theater, in McMechen, one of the largest and best equipped moving picture theaters in the state, was opened to the public October 17. It seats 600.

The Western Amusement Company has taken over the old Swiss opera house, at 5 W. 12th street. It has been remodeled and christened the Strand. John P. Harris is managing director. This new theater has signed for the Alco service.

The Burke theater on Market square, Kenosha, renovated and redecorated, opened November 14 under the management of the Joplinit-Stutman Amusement Company. During the past week the decorators have been busy in the pretty little play house and the decorations of the house are decidedly pleasing and artistic. The new managers of the theater are planning to put on programs of high grade pictures and the theater promises to take a front place among the picture houses of Kenosha.

Antigo is to have another theater building. P. J. Hanson closed a deal recently whereby he became owner of the Freideman and Wahl property on Fifth avenue. It is the intention of the new owner to put up one of the finest photoplaces in Wisconsin. The new building will be started in the early spring.

Messrs. Keller and Millberry have installed a new moving picture machine in their theater, the Gem in Oconto. It is a new project 6 A and is the latest model.

The Grand theater owned by Dr. W. H. Finney has been opened. Clintonville is now the possessor of one of the finest theaters in the state.

Two more motion picture theaters will be erected in Milwaukee under permits issued recently by Building Inspector W. D. Harper. A. Peters secured a permit to erect a $30,000 theater building at Twenty-seventh and Center streets. Paul Langeheinrich and the Albert Berg Company will erect a $14,000 theater building on the south side of Burleigh street, between Ninth and Tenth streets.

A store building which will also be occupied by a moving picture theater, to cost $35,000, will be erected by Architects Martin Tullgren & Son for A. Peters and others at Center and Twenty-seventh streets, Milwaukee. It will be of brick, concrete and steel construction, 82x175 feet, one story and basement. The front will be of terra cotta.
Complete Record of Current Films

Believing the classification of film pictures by the nature of their subjects to be of greater importance to the exhibitor than classification by maker, MOTORGRAPHY has added the following list of listing current films. Exhibitors are urged to make use of this convenient tabulation in making up their programs.

Films will be listed as long as advance release dates as possible. Film manufacturers are requested to send us their bulletins as early as possible.

LICENSED

Current Releases

Monday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Just a Kid</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crystals—Their Making, Habits and Beauty</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Buster Brown Causes a Commotion</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sweetie and the Hypnotist</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Price of Silence</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Beloved Adventurer, No. 13</td>
<td>Pathe</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pathe’s Daily News, No. 83, 1914</td>
<td>Pathe</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Mystery of the Seven Chests</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hearth-Selig News Pictorial, No. 81</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Moonshine Maid and the Man</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tuesday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Cosin Pons</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Rose at the Door</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mrs. Trenthwitt Comes Home</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In Dutch</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He Made His Mark</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dela Dela</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saved by a Whisk</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sunshine and Shadows</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-8</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Wednesday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A Master of High Explosives</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Fabulous “The Bush League Lover Who Failed to Qualify”</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Mystery of the Yellow Sambo</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Recent Confederate Victory</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Abyss</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Athletic Family</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-9</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Thursday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>For Her People</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sophie’s Sweetheart</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Man From the Sea</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hearth-Selig News Pictorial, No. 82</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pure Gold</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-10</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Friday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>And She Never Knew</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Best Man</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Every Inch a King</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Wild Bander and the Red Hair Boy</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>On Moonshine Mountain</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sam and the Bull</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Fresh Air Cure</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Soul Mate</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-11</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Saturday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Saved by Their Check-ld</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dionne’s Weekly, No. 13</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Broncho Billy’s Dad</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Flying Freight’s Captive</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sam and the Bull</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Fresh Air Cure</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How to Do It and Why; or, Cutey at college</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-12</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Advance Releases

Monday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Sheriff of Willow Gooch</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Secret of Aladdin</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Naughtie D.</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Beloved Adventurer, No. 13</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pathe’s Daily News, No. 83, 1914</td>
<td>Pathe</td>
<td>12-14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hearth-Selig News Pictorial, No. 83</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Greater Love</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-14</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tuesday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A Scrap of Paper</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Vanishing of Olive</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Log-Cloud Range of Chance</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Great Buck’s Winners</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I Cured Hubby</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Early Willie’s Battle</td>
<td>Pathe</td>
<td>12-15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Man from the East</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Out of the Past</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-15</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Wednesday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>On Christmas Eve</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Top-Up Fables</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Hate That Withers</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When the Blind Sees</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thrilling Adventures of Count Versace</td>
<td>Mina</td>
<td>12-16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hearth-Selig News Pictorial, No. 84</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Egyptian Mummy</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-16</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Thursday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Red Dye</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Natural Mistake</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dill’s Nellie Blinds’ Strategy</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When the Blind See</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thrilling Adventures of Count Versace</td>
<td>Mina</td>
<td>12-17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hearth-Selig News Pictorial, No. 84</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Question of Clothes</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-17</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Friday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>His Prior Claim</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Colonel of the Red Hussars</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Girl From Thunder Mountain</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Through the Keyhole</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Homericene’s Strategy</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Tail of a Coat</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Who Was Who in Hogg’s Hollow</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-18</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Saturday.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Licensee</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Bond Sinister</td>
<td>Biograph</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Colonel of the Red Hussars</td>
<td>Edison</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Birth of Our Savior</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Broncho Billy’s Christmas Spirit</td>
<td>Essanay</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Black Diamond Express</td>
<td>Kalem</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Who’s Who</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shall Curfew Ring Tonight!</td>
<td>Lubin</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Tiger Tail</td>
<td>Selig</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mr. Santa Claus</td>
<td>Vitagraph</td>
<td>12-19</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MISCELLANEOUS FEATURES.

- The Battle of Love                           | Essanay   | 3,000 |
- The Crucible                                   | Famous Players | 3,000 |
- The Ghost Breaker                              | Bosworth  | 5,000 |
- False Colours                                  | Bosworth  | 5,000 |
- In the Name of the Prince of Peace             | Dyreda    | 4,000 |
- The Marked Woman                               | Shubert   | 4,000 |
- Little Miss Nadia                              | Warner’s  | 3,000 |
- The Silent Accuser                             | Eclectic  | 2,000 |
- The Quality of Mercy                           | Eclectic  | 2,000 |
- To the Rescue of Love                          | Eclectic  | 2,000 |
- A Tempestual Whiffle                           | Eclectic  | 2,000 |
- The Locked Door                                 | Broadway  | 2,000 |
- Sylvia Gray                                    | Broadway  | 4,000 |
- Thanksgiving Incomplete                         | Unreleased| 4,000 |
- The Adventures of Gar El Hama                   | Great Northern | 4,000 |
- The Tiger Tail                                 | Essanay   | 3,000 |
- Flies and Players                              | Essanay   | 3,000 |
- A Life at Stake                                 | Apex      | 5,000 |
- The School for Scandal                         | Ballohn   | 3,000 |
- The Dream of LocoJean                          | Ballohn   | 3,000 |
- The End of the Bridge                          | Ballohn   | 3,000 |
- The Man in the Moon                           | Xeno      | 3,000 |
- The Bracelet                                    | White Star| 3,000 |
- The Aviator Trailblazer                         | Unreleased| 1,000 |
- A Christmas Carol                               | Cosmofoto-Paramount | 1,000 |
- The Two Columbines                              | Cosmofoto-Paramount | 2,000 |
Mutual Program

Monday.
- D 12-7 Out of the Darkness. American 2,000
- D 12-7 Our Mutual Girl. American 1,000
- D 12-7 Title not reported. Keystone 1,000
- D 12-8 The Reader of Minds. Thanhouser 2,000
- C 12-8 Limping Into Happinets. Majestic 1,000

Tuesday.
- D 12-9 The City of Darkness. Broncho 2,000
- D 12-9 The Girl in Question. American 1,000
- D 12-9 The Forest Thieves. Reliance 1,000
- D 12-10 Not of the Flock. Domino 2,000
- T 12-10 Mutual Weekly, No. 104. Mutual 1,000

Friday.
- D 12-11 Fortunes of War. Kay Bee 2,000
- D 12-11 In the Conservatory. Princess 1,000
- D 12-11 In Wildman’s Land. Majestic 1,000

Saturday.
- D 12-12 On the Ledge. Reliance 2,000
- D 12-12 The Old Maid. Majestic 2,000
- C 12-12 The Housebreakers. Komie 1,000
- D 12-13 When East Meets West. Thanhouser 1,000

Thursday.
- D 12-14 In Tune. American 2,000
- D 12-14 Our Mutual Girl. Reliance 1,000
- D 12-14 Title not reported. Keystone 1,000

Tuesday.
- D 12-15 The Barrier of Flames. Thanhouser 2,000
- D 12-15 At Dawn. Majestic 1,000
- D 12-15 Her Younger Sister. Beauty 1,000

Thursday.
- D 12-17 A Political Feud. Domino 2,000
- T 12-17 Mutual Weekly No. 105. Mutual 1,000

Friday.
- D 12-18 The Game of Life. Kay Bee 2,000
- D 12-18 When Fate Rebelled. Princess 1,000

Saturday.
- D 12-19 The Best of the Year. Reliance 2,000
- C 12-19 Title not reported. Keystone 1,000

Sunday.
- D 12-20 The Fear of His Past. Majestic 2,000
- C 12-20 Bill and Ethel at the Ball No. 13. Komie 1,000
- C 12-20 Sit Nee’s Finish. Thanhouser 1,000

---

Universal Program

Monday.
- D 12-7 The Outcome. Imp 1,000
- D 12-7 Terence O’Rourke, No. 3. Victor 2,000
- C 12-7 Billy’s Charge. Sterling 1,000

Tuesday.
- D 12-8 The District Attorney’s Brother. Gold Seal 2,000
- C 12-8 Vitalian’s Cookies. Crystal 500
- D 12-8 Why-There. Crystal 500

Thursday.
- D 12-9 The Devil’s Egg. Joker 800
- T 12-9 Alaska. Joker 200
- D 12-9 For the Mastery of the World. Eclair 3,000
- T 12-9 Animated Weekly, No. 144. Universal 1,000

Friday.
- C 12-11 Their Ups and Downs. Nestor 1,000
- D 12-11 Adventures of the Nimble Dollar. Powers 1,000
- D 12-11 The Little Gray Home. Victor 2,000

Saturday.
- D 12-12 Love Disguised. Joker 500
- D 12-12 Building a Locomotive. Joker 500
- D 12-12 Her Higher Ambition. Frontier 1,000

Tuesday.
- D 12-15 The Ghost of Smiling Jim. Gold Seal 2,000
- C 12-15 Such a Mistake. Crystal 500
- C 12-15 The Glass Pistol. Crystal 500

Thursday.
- D 12-17 Within the Gates of Paradise. Imp 1,000
- D 12-17 The Fatal Hansom. Sterling 1,000

Friday.
- C 12-18 His Dog Gone Luck. Nestor 500
- C 12-18 Here and There in Japan with Homer Gray. Nestor 500

Saturday.
- C 12-19 His Doctor’s Orders. Joker 1,000

Sunday.
- D 12-20 A Page from Life. Rex 2,000
- C 12-20 The Baron’s Bear Escape. L Ko 1,000
- C 12-20 The Jewels of Allah. Eclair 1,000

---

DAILY MUTUAL RELEASES

Independent
- TUESDAY: Beauty, Majestic, Thanhouser.
- WEDNESDAY: Broncho, American, Reliance.
- FRIDAY: Kay-Bee, Majestic, Princess.
- SATURDAY: Reliance, Keystone, Royal.
- SUNDAY: Majestic, Thanhouser, Komie.

DAILY UNIVERSAL RELEASES

Independent
- MONDAY: Imp, Victor, Sterling.
- TUESDAY: Gold Seal, Crystal, Nestor.
- WEDNESDAY: Animated Weekly, Eclair, Joker.
- THURSDAY: Imp, Rex, Sterling.
- FRIDAY: Nestor, Powers, Victor.
- SATURDAY: Bison, Joker, Frontier.
- SUNDAY: L Ko, Eclair, Rex.
Brief Stories of the Week's Film Releases

General Program

Pathe Daily News No. 82—December 2.—One sees in this issue of the weekly the Pan-American Mass celebrated by Cardinal Gibbons in Washington, D. C. views of Pathe Army on the York City shipping first aid supplies to Europe, and a glimpse of Arrowhead Hot Springs, CaL In the war section, wounded Indian troops are shown at Boulogne, France; King George attending the opening of Parliament at London, England, together with some interesting views on the Yser, Belgium, taken by the Pathe cameraman while under fire.

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 81—Selected December 7.—This issue shows the American forces from Vera Cruz disembarking at Galveston, Texas, and a glimpse of the Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia; the steamer Hanalei wrecked on Duxbury Reef, nine miles from San Francisco harbor and rescue of its passengers; also numerous interesting pictures from the European war zone.

Pathe Daily News No. 83—December 7.—This issue shows the laying of the largest submarine telephone cable in the world under the Delaware River between Philadelphia and Camden, the occupation of Vera Cruz, Mexico, by American forces; and in the section the section troops of the various nations are shown near Dens, France, Ypres, Belgium in Verdun, France; Tamluk, India; Dixedume, Belgium and Constantinople, Turkey.

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 82—December 10.—In this issue Eddie Pullen is shown winning the 300-mile speed contest at Corona, Calif., thousands of people are seen waiting at the Internal Revenue office in New York to buy stamps, to be used for the new war effort; a group of corn growers from Ohio are pictured on the steps of the Agriculture department in Washington, meeting Secretary of Commerce while in the section King George is shown going from Buckingham Palace to the House of Lords in London, and President Poincare and King Alfred of Belgium are seen at the front.

The Sheriff of Willow Gulch—Biograpb—December 14.—When an old prospector and his daughter are evicted, the sheriff of Willow Gulch offers the pair shelter in his home. The girl's former sweetheart writes to claim her, but in the meanwhile she has accepted the sheriff's proposal out of gratitude. His disappointed rival is nominated by a political faction to oppose Rufus Warren, the sheriff, for re-election to that office. Warren, searching through an old pile of papers for his mother's wedding ring, which he gave to his former sweetheart, finds a sealed envelope bearing this inscription, "To be opened when you think of marrying." On opening the envelope he finds the following message, "Your father died in the insane asylum. The taint is in your blood. You may escape, but put from you all thought of marrying." Realizing that he can never claim the girl as his bride, the sheriff leaves town, after fastening a card bearing this inscription to the door of his office: "I resign as sheriff, vote for my opponent."

The Flirt—Edison—December 14.—An amusing story of a dapper young flirt who becomes a victim of the wiles of his own web. Mr. Austin is a lady killer of the worst type. He charms and discards Grace, Gracie, Grace Full, and Grace Fulton in rapid succession, but meets his Waterloo when he sparks up to Dis Grace. The latter Grace is a pippin until she turns around and Austin, with a good view of her, sees a coal-black face. He takes to his heels to escape the pursuing mob, which has grown larger with each flirtation, and foils them all, with one exception, the policeman. As the exultant Austin emerges from his hiding place he is "collared" and led off to jail. C.R.C.

Madame Double X—Essanay—December 14.—A broad burlesque upon the famous drama, "Madame X," in which Wallace Beery is featured in another femiine role almost as strenuous as that of "Sweet Women," for which he has been enthralling. The story depends for its punch upon the courtroom scene, which is carried on with a bravura that, as in the play which it ridicules, Madame Double X is accused of murder and is defended by her father-in-law, though their relationship is unknown to each other. N.G.C.

The Smugglers of Lone Isle—Kalem—(Two Reels)—December 14.—Jim Crompton, head of a band of smugglers on Lone Isle, rescues Jeannette when she is washed up on the beach and amazed by the girl's beauty, attempts to keep her prisoner on the island. Mad with jealousy Nellie, Jim's wife, steals into Jeannette's room to kill her rival, but her nerve fails and instead she sends her brother, Steve, to betray Jim to the secret service officers. George Luther, a revenue officer, arrives with his men in a violent showdown and attacks the smugglers' stronghold. The band is captured and the lightning kills Jim and the resulting fire reveals to Luther that Jeanette is his missing wife, whom he has loved for years.

A Perilous Passage (14th of the "Beloved Adventurer" Series)—Lubin—December 14.—Lord and Lady Cecil return to their castle in Croftleigh and are there visited by Captain Robert Stanley, Lord Cecil's nephew. Robert is in deep trouble having been despatched by the King of Gokeral, an Indian principality, with a jewel known as "the star of Croftleigh," which had to be delivered to the king of England as a token of real friendship. The jewel has been stolen from him and Betty discovers that Countess Lurowitch, an adventuress who lives on an adjoining estate, has concealed it. She decides to confront her and her gang on a yacht in a little hidden cove, shut in by vertical cliffs, and Betty mounts Pinto, her cow-pony, and by means of her lasso performs a feat of novel and startling daring, by means of which she seizes the jewel. When the Countess and her band attack Betty, the latter is saved by the Countess and her gang are sent to their death by the collapse of the cliff, which had been undermined by the sea. Arthur V. Johnson and Lottie Briscoe featured.

The Greater Love—Vitagraph—December 14.—John Brown and Hope Aver are engaged and when John is offered a fine position in South America, he is expected to leave with her. Hope's leaves with the promise to return within a year and make Hope his wife. Philip Lane is injured in an automobile accident and is taken to the Avery home, where he is restored to health. As a result, Lane proposes and when Hope tells him of her absence, he decides to leave at once. Meanwhile John prospers in South America and his room-mate, whose name happens also to be John Brown, is threatened with consumption. John at the end of a year joyfully starts for home and to surprise Hope disguises himself as an old sailor. He arrives in time to see Lane saying farewell to Hope and hears him ask her, "If the man you are bound to were dead, could you love me?" and she answers, "yes," John staggered at the blow and after a terrible mental struggle returns to South America without seeing her. Then he finds his room-mate dead and cutting out the newspaper notice sends them to Hope. Later he receives a newspaper from America announcing Hope's marriage to Lane. Dorothy Kelly and James Morrison featured.

A Scrap of Paper—Beckart—(Two Reels)—December 15.—Madame de Meri-vel's two daughters, Louise and Mathilde, are loved by Prosper, and through their mother objects to their sweethearts. The girls use the base of a statuette as a post office, but after Louise has written a note to Prosper the girls are hurried away to a tea and Louie does not get the note. Thinking her sweetheart has forgotten her, Louise marries a baron and later on returning home she rebukes the braggart for his impudence. Prosper obtains the note from the statuette and refuses to give it back to Louise until Anatole and Mathilde are married. He hides the note in his uncle's room and just before the little sister, Fay, moves into the house next to that occupied by Jack and his little brother, Steve, Cupid giggles and prepares for target practice. Fay quickly gets on speaking terms with Steve, and Dorothy, learning that Jack is a physician, pretends to be ill, thus arranging to meet him. After reading a book entitled, "The Habits of Primitive Man," Steve decides to attempt the same sort of a working up for himself. Jack and Dorothy seeing the success of the children's love-making follow suit and dodge each other with a good husband, a little child and a home. One night during Benton's absence, Rose is frightened by two midnight intruders, one of whom reveals himself as Giorgio, a former rejected lover. He threatens, in the event of her failure to turn over the contents of her husband's safe, to tell Benton how years ago his wife had killed her first husband. The cornered woman explains that her crime was committed in self-defense and tells Giorgio of her coming to America, finding friends in Benton and his mother, and of her marriage. She implores him to leave her and at that moment the other intruder appears and she recognizes him in Luigi, her father, whom she had thought dead. Luigi defends her, at which Giorgio objects and the two engage in a duel with stilettos. Giorgio is killed and Benton, returning unexpectedly is met by Rose who cries, "I managed to kill one but the other overpowered me." Luigi without a word accepts the situation and is arrested as a common burglar. Later he dies in the hospital, where Rose goes to bless him for keeping silence and thus preserving her home and her husband's love. Eulalie Jensen featured.

On Christmas Eve—Edison—December 16.—This picture holds by its strong human appeal. The plot is not deep, but in its delineation one is made to feel that generosity and forbearance are capable of overcoming obstacles against which stubborn opposition could make no headway. To preserve peace in his son's household, old William Morris decides to leave and shift for himself. His quick-tempered, extravagant daughter-in-law even refuses to bid him goodbye. While acting as a volunteer Santa Claus on the street the old man is approached by his grandchildren, who tell him that their father said he was not going to visit them this Christmas. Filled with love and forgiveness, the elder Morris visits his son's home on Christmas eve with a present for each member of the little family. In the presence of such genuine charity, selfishness cannot live long, and the two families quickly become reconciled.

C. R. C.

Two Pop-Up Fables—ESSAY—DECEMBER 16—Two of the inimitable George Ade fables, one entitled the fable of "The Girl Who Shifted the System," which deals with the girl's discovery that the way to win a man's affections is to flatter him and the moral of which is given as "If I like syrup, feed it to him by the gallon"; the other, entitled "The Fable of the Sarcastic Husband and the Lady Shopper," which concerns a certain wife who shopped all day and returned home with a small spool of thread. When her husband made sarcastic remarks, she shopped again and brought home nine dray loads of goods. The moral of this is "Never arouse a sleepy shopper."

A Natural Mistake—Biograph—DECEMBER 17—Hubby finds a cigarette stub which his wife has been smoking and suspects the presence of a man in the house, but his wife denies this. Hubby alleges that he is going out of town on business, and wife begins to rehearse some amateur theatricals. Hubby returns unexpectedly and finds this note on the table, "Darling, my husband goes away today. Be sure to come. Your own."

The Test—SELIG—DECEMBER 16—Tom Santschi and Bessie Eyton are pleasing in this story of an old story where scenes aboard the boat are well presented and the marine atmosphere is preserved throughout. Captain Duggan has but two things in his life—his daughter Julia and The girl is in love with Jim Lucas, the mate. On one of their trips Horace Burke, a wealthy man's son, is a passenger, and it is but natural that Captain Duggan dies of heart failure while they are at sea, and at the same time a fire breaks out aboard the ship. Burke proves a coward but all get away safely. Jo leaps from the lifeboat to return to her father's body, and Jim follows. They reach the ship and give the body a hasty burial in the sea. They then cling to driftwood until morning, when they are rescued. Jo has learned which of the men deserve her love and clings to Jim. Little touches of heart interest add to the worth of the production. James Oliver Curwood wrote the scenario.

The Egyptian Mummy—VITAGRAPH—DECEMBER 16—Dick is objected to as a prospective son-in-law by Professor Hicks, a scientist seeking the recipe for the elixir of life. Hicks' objection to Dick is based on his poor health. When Hicks eventually invents what he believes an elixir of life, he advertises in the paper for a mummy to try it on. Dick seizes the ad, packs up and poses as a mummy. Tim is tapped up in bandages and placed in a coffin. Dick then sends word to Professor Hicks that he has a mummy for sale at $5,000 and Hicks, after inspecting the mummy, buys it. Dick invests his money in stock recommended by a friend and Hicks fills up a big syringe with the elixir of life and jabs it into Tim. The trapped mummy comes to life and chases Professor Hicks out of the room. The professor kicks the door and goes off to tell his daughter and the rest of the household of his wonderful success. Tim escapes from the room and meets Dick, who has won a fortune on the stock market. Dick, now wealthy, induces Professor Hicks to claim his bride. Lee Beegs and Billy Quirk featured.

Red Dye—Biograph—DECEMBER 17—George goes to call on his girl. Above her is an apartment occupied by crooks and above that, a druggist and chemist. The actress has used a red dye to re-color an old gown and the bottle being tipped over, some of the red dye seeps through the floor and a drop falls on the waist of the female crook. "It's blood," she cries and makes a hasty exit. The dye drips on to the apartment below and falls on George's girl. "Blood," she screams, and faints away. Her father summons the police and eventually the "blood" is traced back to the actress and meanwhile the crooks have been caught by other officers. On the same reel:

Snakeville's Blind Pig—ESSAY—DECEMBER 16—Another of the famous Snakeville stories, in which Slippery Slim and Mustang Pete "get theirs" from their respective wives. When the town goes dry, the saloonkeeper hits on a brilliant idea of serving drinks through a pipe which runs outside. After many of his customers have learned the secret of the method of obtaining a drink, the ladies discover the scheme and manage to capture the saloonkeeper, and the saloonkeeper, the bar, serving kerosene instead of whiskey.

When the Blind See—Lubin—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 17—John Green, a retired farmer, has two sons, Joe, a practical business man who runs the farm, and Edwin, a quiet, easy going chap, who cares more for study than for money. Ruth, a sister of the boys, is partial to the younger and Joe, believing himself the only fit member of the family to have possession of the farm, induces his father to deed him the place. After his father's death, Joe tells Edwin there is no place for him on the farm and advises him to shift for himself. Ruth leaves, and the two go to the city, where Edwin attends a medical college, aided in a financial way by Ruth. Meanwhile Joe discovers oil on the farm and makes a fortune and returns home a wealthy man. His enjoyment of life is not unalloyed, however, for he finds his eyesight failing. When he consults a specialist he is referred to Dr. Green, an eminent surgeon of the city. Visiting his office, he is amazed to learn that Dr. Green is his brother, Edwin having performed the operation necessary, but Ruth eventually induces him to relent and the operation is successfully performed. Joe then makes appointment for the post of bell-hop.

C. Shumway, W. E. Parsons and Velma Whitman featured.

The Question of Clothes—Vitagraph—December 17.—Hugh Witherly, a young couple take the train the next day, and Madge, when she suddenly comes into a fortune. Madge absolutely refuses to marry him and her uncle. Colonel Ponsonby, an old man, in the same room, says that he is a man's suit and escapes through the window. She goes to the home of her school chum, Jessie Strickland, and the girl gives her a consignment of Madge's younger cousin of Jessie's. This works finely, though Harry, Jessie's sweetheart, becomes very jealous of the strange young man. Nothing unusual occurs, and complications occur at Jessie's home and Madge creates such a sensation that she finally has to declare her real identity. When the truth is discovered his future wife wearing trousers and gives up his plan of marrying her, but Tom, Jessie's brother, has fallen deeply in love with her and she with him, so when Jessie and Harry decide to be married, Tom and Madge agree to a double wedding. Norma Talmadge featured.

His Prior Claim—Biograph—December 18.—William Dearborn, who employs Mabel Knowles, learns of an attachment between Harry Dearborn, his brother, and a young girl who is the ward of a rich uncle. William marries Molly, against William's wishes, William refuses to have anything to do with him, unless you leave that woman. Harry two years later again appears to his brother for assistance and gets the same answer. That night he breaks into the office and is shot by the watchman. After the funeral Molly goes to Mabel's home to appeal to her and there dies of exhaustion, leaving her baby. Mabel and her mother adopt the child and months later Mabel takes it to the boy to the office one day. When William learns who she is, he insists that he has a prior claim as the child's uncle, but the baby isp. Can't mamma Mabel come in and plant him in the ground? He has long loved Mabel. Brought together by the child, they are married.

The Colonel of the Red Hussars—Essanay (Three reels)—December 18.—A splendidly produced picture in which Richard C. Travers and Ruth Stonehouse are featured. The story deals with one law. Lawrence Bartlett, a surveyor, who meets an unmarried mountain girl while working in the mountains of Virginia. Returning to New York, he is revealed to society woman that all Virginia women are not educated and refined, and he eventually finds a place to live and becomes engaged to her. See review on page 801, issue of December 17.

N. G. C.

Through the Keyhole—Kalem—December 18.—Mrs. Fortune and her son, Algy, set their caps for Millionbucks and their daughter, Helen. Mrs. Fortune easily accomplishes her aim, but refuses to wed Millionbucks unless his daughter marries her son. Helen has fallen in love with Freddy, the son of the hotel proprietor, and Freddy hangs Algy out of the window when he intercepts. Millionbucks in the next room, peeks through the keyhole and is so delighted with the discovery that he puts a mirror in front of the door, thus informing him that the lovers know he was spying. Angered, he dashes into the room and a duel is fought out. When the parents leave Algy and Helen alone, Freddy makes Algy captive and, armed with an ammunition gun, goes to his daughter's room. When he again peeks through the keyhole, Algy finds the ammunition gun and Millionbucks believes him guilty and unhonored. He appears at the window of the scuffle when Helen and Freddy appear and rescue him and gratitude causes the father to consent to their marriage. John Brennan and Ethel Teare featured.

The Comedienne's Strategy—Lubin—December 18.—Major Kirkham is an admirer of Miss Rosie, a music hall artist, and proposes to her on numerous occasions. One day he shows her a photograph which she declares is that of her husband. Meanwhile the major's daughter, Hazel, elopes with Fred Hogg, a crook and the couple notify the major of their marriage, sending with the letter a photograph of Fred. On opening the letter and gazing at Hazel's husband the major discovers that he is also the husband of Rosie. He summons the police and when Fred is arrested he denounces him as a bigamist. Rosie visits the police station and explains the joke. Hazel and Fred are happy and the major is cured of his desire to wed the singer. Rosemary Theby and Harry Meyers featured.

The Tale of a Coat—Selig—December 18.—This is a pleasing comedy without any objectionable features. A family is made wealthy overnight by a legacy. A rich relation leaves them and at once start to conquer society. Their etiquette is not fitted to the social class, however, and they have no success with their daughter until she returns from college and they plan to have a coming out party. Her lover arrives and decides when he sees the garden he makes a lunge for the lover, but gets only the tail of his coat. The lover exchanges his coat for that of the major's daughter and absconds with the wrath of the father, whose only clue is the missing coat tail, while the lovers steal off and are married. The father is then told of the deception and forgives the young couple. Elsie Greeson, Charles Smith and John Lancaster have the leads.

C. J. C.

Who's Who in Hogg's Hollow—Vitagraph—December 18.—Bixford and his partner, Hogg, are commoners in Hogg's Hollow by speeding through it in a big automobile. Phineas Hogg, on his horse-drawn bus, orders them to stop, but they pay no heed. When their car breaks down, Hogg appears, displays his sheriff's badge and pinches them for speeding. Being the jailer, he locks them up in the jail and then next day takes them to court, where he assumes the office of judge. He fines them for speeding in addition to collecting $1000 for having the train rear end them and charging them for hauling back the auto. They put up at the Palace Hotel and learn with surprise that Hogg is the proprietor. When they ring for a bellboy Hogg appears in a bell-hop's suit. Hunting next day, Bixford is arrested for poaching by Hogg, he being the poacher. Bixford goes shopping and discovers that Hogg is the postmaster, department store owner and salesman. When Bixford wires for the train, a virile Hogg cashes his draft and then holds court and announces that after the bills and fines are paid, Bixford has $1,000 coming. The crooks encounter a woman, and Hogg, being cashier of the bank, decides to make the crooks out of it. Meanwhile, Bixford is being referred to Mr. Hogg, and the climax is reached when Flora Bixford and George, Hogg's son, decide to marry. Just before the wedding ceremony, he being minister. Sidney Drew featured.

The Bond Sinister—Biograph—December 19.—Miller, a wayward society youth, falls into the hands of a band of crooks. Visiting at the home of a rich jeweler for the purpose of theft, he meets and falls in love with Helen, the jeweler's daughter. The crooks encounter the jeweler and urge Miller to learn the date when her father's next consignment of jewels will be shipped. The girl has been in the company of a crook and the crooks prepare a trunk within which is concealed one of their gang and the trunk is put on the same train with the jeweler. At the proper time the crook in the trunk gets out, overpowers the baggage master and transfers the contents of the trunk containing the jewels into the trunk in which he has been concealed. He drops the baggage master's coat and hat and at the next station puts his trunk off the train. His pals are on hand with an auto and just as they depart the real baggage master recovers and gives the alarm. Miller and the girl accompany the detectives who pursue the crook in a car which is stopped after a long chase, by telephoning the caretaker of a drawbridge further down the line, to swing the bridge, thus blocking the crooks at bay. In effecting the capture Miller is killed.

The Birth of Our Savior—Edison—December 19.—This is another of the many Christmas pictures made by this company. It is a lovely film, showing three kings with gifts for the Son of God, and the flight of Mary and Joseph before the fury of the wicked King Herod.

C. R. C.

Broncho Billy's Christmas Spirit—Essanay—December 19.—G. M. Anderson featured in a Christmas story that many exhibitors will find a regular "tear squeezer." An humble prospector, too poor to buy toys for his children, steals Broncho Billy's circus savings to purchase toys for the youngsters. The youngest's are naturally delighted at awaking, but next morning, when they discover the tigers and unmasking the prospector, they depart, leaving the family with the best Christmas they have ever known.

The Black Diamond - Kalem - December 19 - Another "The Hazards of Helen" in which Helen Holmes aids Dick Malling, an aviator, when he is attacked by Don Hardon, a cowboy. When Dick believes that he has shot Dan and attempts to escape aboard the Black Diamond Express, Dan's cowboy friends take a short cut across country in the hope of overtaking the train and capturing Dick. Helen dashes to the aid of Dick's ailing rival, Bess, and together they escape jointly in pursuit of the train. They arrive in time and rescue Dick, but while, later, Dick flies over Eagle Bend, the aeroplane is hit in the slipping and the aeroplane breaks down and Dick is captured. By this time, however, Helen has recovered and it is learned that he was only saved as was Dick. While Helen induces the cowboys to go to Dick's aid and Dick is saved from lynching in the nick of time. Helen Holmes featured.

Who's Who - Lum - December 19 - Jim Luke stops at Dr. Black's office to tell him that his wife is a little dippy. The doctor promises to do what he can for her. The daily papers give an account of a negro with unbalanced mind roaming about and when the doctor by mistake visits the wrong house, the occupant having read of the negro, thinks the doctor is the crazy man. The doctor tries to humor the patient, while the patient tries to humor the doctor. Eventually the patient and the doctor police arrive and the doctor learns of his mistake. On the same reel:

Shall the Curfew Ring Tonight - Lum - December 19 - Bess, a beautiful little girl, is loved by William and also by General Bovril. The general orders Willie shot at the ringing of the curfew and Bess attempts to bribe the sexton of the church, but he refuses to comply with her request. She climbs into the belfry, detaches the bell from the beam and fastens the bell rope around her waist. The old sexton arrives and pulls the bell as usual, while poor Willie is tied to a keg of powder with a rope in front of it. While the general goes to the church to ascertain the cause of the curfew failing to ring, and Bess returns home through the trap in the belfry, Bess kicks him in the face and he falls to the floor below. Bess then forges a letter to the commanding officer stating the spot of execution and rescues Willie.

The Lady of the Tigers - Selig - December 19 - Kathryn Williams is featured in this subject and the intrepid leading woman does some dangerous work. Frank Clark and Lamar Johnstone are the other principals in the cast. It is a most enjoyable animal picture, combining dramatic acting and thrills. Anne and Gilbert, artists, are engaged. Gilbert is called to Paris by his work and Anne is employed by Barlow, a wealthy bachelor, to paint one of his tigers. While at his home he makes advances to her, but she says she is engaged. He manages to steal Gilbert's letters before they reach her and finally she yields to his entreaties and agrees to marry him. Gilbert returns and they discover the trick Barlow has played. Barlow, however, makes Gilbert a prisoner and forces him to choose between two doors, one of which leads to Anne and the other to the tigers. Gilbert chooses the latter and is cast among the animals, but Anne saves him by exerting her influence over the animals. Bess meets the fate he deserves.

C. J. C.

Mr. Santa Claus - Vitagraph - Two reels - December 19 - Celeste Moissant, a young widow, lives in a boarding house on the floor below Bobby Walton. On Christmas Eve, Celeste puts Fanchon, her little daughter, to bed with tales of Santa Claus and then the mother leaves for the Pink Rat Cafe, where she sings. Meanwhile Bobby receives news that he has been left a fortune. After cashing his check, he encounters Fanchon in the hall and she asks him if he is Santa Claus. Amused at her innocent prattle, he carries her back to bed and then goes out to buy her toys. When his friends decide to visit the Pink Rat Cafe and there saves Celeste from the undesirable attention of a drunken man. The girl is blamed for causing the disturbance and discharged. Returning home, she finds Bobby decorating an artificial palm in her room as a Christmas treat for Fanchon's benefit. He promises a promise from the mother and the girl to take Christmas dinner with him and she departs Celeste kneels by the bedside of Fanchon and thanks God that her troubles are over, as she feels that Bobby is going to be a real Santa Claus to her as well as Fanchon.

Mutual Program

Mutual Weekly No. 102 - Mutual - December 10 - This issue shows the animal Jack Rabbit drive near Pasco, Washington, the automobile race at Corona, California; the Farnborough Trial, the 1913 Auto Show, the annual dog show at Boston and Young, and in the battle section, a wonderful picture in which an aeroplane destroys a castle. A story in which the milliner is extricated from her self-imposed difficulties without disturbing the harmony of the Jill family forms a puny and laughable ending to the story.

When East Meets West - Thanhouser - December 13 - May Swan, her mother, goes to visit Yellowstone Park. The girl takes a notion that she must see how the falls look from below, before they return East. But Jack insists that it is too dangerous, and will not allow her to try it. She derides him for being such a coward, and the next day sets out with a guide, intent on climbing down the steep precipice. She is barely started on the perilous venture before the rocks which afford her a handhold break off, and she narrowly escapes death by landing on a shelf of ice below. Here Jack's bravery becomes evident. He ties a rope about his body, has the others lower it down, and rescues May. Mrs. Swan blames the young fellow for the near-tragedy, and forbids his seeing May again, but later learns the facts of the case and helps in bringing about a reunion between the lovers.

In Tune - American - Two reels - December 14 - The author's home life is unhappy and he finds he cannot write successfully. When one of his employees steals some bonds and is threatened with ruin his wife deserts him. Later she is killed, and when his stenographer traces the theft he realizes that she is the woman to make his home life in harmony with his mode of living. A complete review will be found on page 833 of this issue.

Our Mutual Girl - Chapter 48 - Reliance - December 14 - After a morning of shopping, Margaret and Aunt Abbie call on William and their cousins. There they are told the song of the latest play, "The Hawk," now playing in New York. Margaret and her companions become intensely interested in the story of pretty Mary Falconer, who is obliged to serve as a decoy for her father and Passmore, professional gamblers. John Gordon is
The older sister sees, and when her father asks her to stay with him always she breaks her engagement, leaving the man and her younger sister to marry.

At Dawn—Majestic—December 15.—Receiving an appointment as teacher in the Philippines Sykes, an American, leaves his fiancee to take up his new work. Later he receives a letter from her stating that she has fallen heirless to a large sum of money and is coming to visit him. He decides to rid himself of the native girl with whom he has been living, and poisons her. The American girl is to arrive at dawn the next day. Two young army officers happen into the vicinity and inquire their way of Sykes. His uneasiness arouses their suspicions, and they search about and find the native girl's dead body. The lieutenant orders Sykes to point out the trail, and motions his sergeant to follow him. The sergeant does, rope in hand, and the two alone are left. When the girl arrives he is told that Sykes is dead—that men die very suddenly in this tropical country.

The Silent Way—American—December 16.—This production is in many ways superior to the average one-reel film. Some rare sunset views are given and all the exterior scenes are artistically chosen. The work of George Field, art director, is silent, whole-souled Indian, who received a college education but preferred to live in the open, is a praiseworthy bit of character acting. He fits the type to perfection. Ed Cashen and Winifred Greenwood also do fine work in the important roles. The story is based on the fact that many people seek health in the country, overlooking the fact that it is living close to nature in a minister, and decide to play a joke on Yellentown by dressing up in the clerical robes and holding a prayer meeting. The men all attend, and, not penetrating the mystery, are sofort discovered to be disarmed before entering the hall. Ike and Pete cover the gathering with their guns, relieve them of their valuables, and, when satisfied with the success of their joke and the way they have humbled them, return the loot to the owners.

A Political Feud—Domino—(Two Reels)—December 17.—One day Tom Walton, a poor boy comes upon a crowd of children teasing Helen Kent, a millionaire's daughter. He defends the girl, puts her on her pony, and sees that the children do not bother her further. About ten years later Tom Walton and Dick Kent are attending the same college. Tom works nights in a freight house. Returning from work one night he is jeered at and insulted by some poor boys. A few enmities and Tom is victorious. Later on in life Tom and Dick become rivals for the governorship of the state. Dick and his supporters contrive a plot to ruin Tom's reputation which is overheard by Helen, who has always remained an ardent admirer of the young fellow. Dick reveals it to her and, and in a running battle the outliers are captured. The colonel and Laura then tell the paymaster of their intention of marriage.

The Game of Life—Kay Bee—(Two Reels)—December 18.—Here is a two-part sociological drama of sterling quality, portraying vividly but not repulsive ly the kind of life, that are necessary in order to surmount success fully the hazards encountered in the game called "life." Rhea Mitchell and George Osborne play their roles to perfection, and their performances in past Kay Bee pictures are an assurance that this one is a drama of unusual merit.

The Game of Life—Reliance—December 19.—Bruce, a cub reporter, obtains his first opportunity to make a " scoop" by being sent out on a murder case. He discovers that the victim was known as Greening in the factory where he was employed, but that this is only an assumed name, and sends Bill out for a costume for him. Bruce soon causes the arrest of another of the factory's employees, a young fellow named Joyce who confesses to killing the man. Bruce then tells Joyce that Greening had refused to marry Helen Lister, with whom he had been keeping company. A letter written by Greening is found which proves that he had no intention of deceiving Helen, and meant to marry her. The shock kills Joyce.

Bill and Ethel at the Ball—Komo—December 20.—The stenographers plan to give a ball and ask Mr. Hadley to be the guest of honor. He consents and visits the town. Hadley then makes arrangements to meet his sweetheart there, describing his costume so she will be sure to know him. In the meantime Ethel's fellow calls, and states that he has no costume. Bill gives him Mr. Hadley's and rushes out to buy another for the boss. At the ball the same woman of the costume causes a great deal of embarrassment at masking time, and Hadley solemnly vows that the stenographers will not be honored with his presence.

Sid Lee's Finish—Than House—December 20.—Sid Lee eludes the federal posse man and makes his way to the town where he opens up a laundry. Kate objects to the opposition, but her attempts to put the Chinaman out of business are of no avail. She then decides to enter into partnership with him. Mike, her sweetheart, thinks that the proposition will be a dream and enlists the aid of the police to prevent it. They capture the much-sought Su Nei, and Mike's way to Kate's protection of marriage is a short and unobstructed one.

Universal Program

Animated Weekly No. 14—Universal—December 9. This issue shows Lincoln Bechey flying at San Francisco, Calif., his Excellency, the Governor of Bombay, viewing the cup race at Poona, India, the wreck of the Hanalei at Monterey in California, the opening of Parliament in London and in the war section pictures of the French and Algerian troops new and a news of a regiment leaving for the front.

Lizzie's Fortune—Sterling—December 10. Lizzie Prune has three lazy boarders whose chief ambition seems to be to dodge paying their debts, and she is blessed with much as she can get. Lizzie is in love with Arthur, but she is alone in her affection for he shares in the disdain in which she is held by the other two boarders. Their attitude changes considerably when it is noticed about that Lizzie Prune. Lizzie discovers that she succeeds in winning her only to learn, after their marriage, that the report is false. She tries to escape, but Lizzie overrules her, and1 smother him with caresses.

Her Higher Ambition—Frontier—December 12. In search of health Fred, an actor, visits the West, and there meets Edythe. She has lost her prop (a squirrel), telling him that her ambition is to become a prima donna. He realizes that this is impossible for her, and decides to cure the animal. She has still to return the squirrel. She has already obtained the necessary funds from her father, but returns them on the condition of meeting her father's money, and therefore lucky that she does so, for the money was not her father's rightfully. A month later Edythe returns only to learn that "her higher ambition" has deprived her of Fred.

The Mill Stream—Im—(Two reels)—December 14. Jack Thorby's kindness to Tom Craven, a wealthy city man whom he has found with a sprained ankle, receives poor repayment in the latter's making love to Jack's sweetheart, Mary. The girl is fascinated by the defined Craven, and drops Jack entirely. The day after the men come to blows over the affair Craven's dead body is found and he is tried for the murder and sentenced to twenty years in prison. Months later Mary finds the remains of a tramp beside the stream, and investigation discloses him as the murderer of Craven. Jack is released, and Mary gladly accepts his proposal of marriage.

The Wayward Son—Victor—December 14. The wayward son who runs away from home years before to become a sailor. The boy returns, and meets his old sweetheart on the street.

Through the influence of the village minister, the girl's father, the ne'er-do-well is reformed, and his old affection for his aged parent is awakened in him.

Such a Mistake—Crystal—December 15. Mr. and Mrs. Huff are extremely jealous of each other, and the situation is not Improved by the fnasinology of the maid, Nellie, when he finds her crying. Of course, Mrs. Huff thinks he is making love to the girl and retaliates. In the thousand and the Huff household is in a fair way to be broken up until Huff compromises with his wife, who persuades him to forget and forgive. On the same reel.

The Glass Pistol—Crystal—December 15. Sleek, college bred Arthur seeks to make a strong impression on Grace Smith by capturing a tramp-looking man, and chaining him to the wall in the jail. Unluckily for the young suitor the man turns out to be Grace's father, an old friend who has returned from the war with a tramp. Needless to say, Arthur receives his.

The Ghost of Smiling Jim—Gold Seal—(Two reels)—December 15. Grace Higby returns from the Far West, and finds to her satisfaction an apron and a cow in her apartment. She then realizes that this weird story. Highy and his band "jump" the claim staked out by Harry and Jim, and defends against its rightful owner from the town. Harry is killed, and Jim, falling over a cliff in his flight narrowly escapes death, but with his ankle, his wife and little daughter come West, but cannot find any trace of Jim. Some time later the girl, now alone in the world, determines to force a view of the ghost said to haunt a certain section of the mountains at night. The specter, she finds, is a grizzled old man. A storm comes up, and a tree struck by lightning strikes the hermit a glancing blow on the head in falling. This restores his memory, and he recognizes the girl as his daughter. They conceive a way of recovering the land "jumped" by Highy, and the end of the story finds them established in a beautiful home, enjoying the fortune ulawnly amassed by Highy.

A Game of Whis—Eclair—(Two reels)—December 16. George Howard's need of money, and he steals a government treaty, intending to make and sell at a high figure a duplicate of it. The theft is discovered instantly, and Howard is obliged to flee to escape arrest. Donna Inez, a spy in the employ of a Central American power, seeks him out, and attempts to steal the treaty outright, but he catches her. Then she returns to worldly wiles and inates him. Just as Howard is about to tell her secrets to Steel, a secret service man, interfees, and saves the boy from committing treason. The young woman herself has learned the contents of the treaty Howard receives only a slight punishment for his crime.

How Father Won Out—Joker—December 16. Father Woolin has some alternates and rivals for the hands of Betty, a pretty waitress. Eddie becomes jealous of the headway made by Ernie, and writes the father warning him of his son's scandalous actions. Father hurries to the scene, but on the way stops into Betty's restaurant, and falls in love with the girl. The ending of the story finds two much disappointed youths gazing at their idol, Betty, who is now Ernie's mother-in-law.

Within the Gates of Paradise—Im—(Two reels)—December 17. Father Hayes, the father, is out of work, and becomes desperate. He then forecasts what they think Santa Claus will bring them. They do not doubt for a moment that Santa will not pay, and the others who have been invited to the mill-owner residing at the top of the hill have told them that they also expect him. On Christmas eve the Hayes and his children, and the miller and his children, perceive the wonderfully decorated tree and toys within, and enter to help themselves, believing that Santa will not mind. Rifle in hand, the little boy sees a masked man climb through the window, and fires. The shot arouses the family and the burglar turns out to be Hayes. Mrs. Hayes rushes in, and pleads for her husband's forgiveness. The millionnaire is grudgingly convinced that sees that they have a happy Christmas, and promises the millhand steady work.

Ambition—Rex—(Two reels)—December 17. Belle La Veer is in love with Will, and will not consider him only a friend, and marries Marion Davis, an ambitious young actress. Five years later their little son, who has brought them their fortune, pictures are not selling very well, and Marion goes back on the stage. She is quarrelsome, and the family keeps company with other men, and they separate. Marion taking Don, she neglects the child, and even when it is dangerously ill pays little attention to it. John is summoned, but arrives only a few minutes before the boy's death. He publicly denounces Marion for her lack of mother-love, and leaves her, seeking his own friend Belle. She consoles him, and, good-hearted creature that she is, brings about a re-union between her and Marion who has since changed her ways.

The Fatal Hansome—Sterling—December 17. Bobbie flirts with a pretty girl, invites her to ride in his hansome, and when she refuses, slams her, and drives back to Noodles, to drive for him. Things go along fine until Noodles' curiosity gets the best of him, and, peeking into the hansome, he discovers that the lady passenger is none other than his sweetheart. In a rage he whips up the horse, and the animal runs away. A wild ride ensues, ending by the cab's plunging off the end of a pier into the water. A party of dogmen attempt to rescue the people, but are disabled by the strong winds raised by their efforts, and leave them floundering about in the water.

The Heart of the Hills—Victor—(Two reels)—December 17. Lizabeth Anne, a child of the wilds, overhears two men discussing a big deal in which they have duped her father into giving them control of the gold lands. She hastens to her father with the news, and he attempts to recover his property by force. Young Matthews, the boy, is taken by the bandits, and Lizabeth finds him tied in the battle, and Lizabeth nurses him back to health. His sweetheart, learning of the love affair between the pair, seeks to be revenged upon the girl by inviting her to the city, and endeavoring to corrupt her, but the scheme proves a failure. Elizabeth becomes a favorite with all whom she meets, and later returns to her home in the hills to become the bride of the young surveyor, Matthews.
The girl's father is a partner in the mining company to whom he has sold his property.

His Dog-Gone Luck—NESTOR—De-CEMBER 18.—On the same reel with this comedy is "Here and There in Japan with Homer Croy." Eddie, the actor, proves very lax in paying his bills, and the landlady refuses to allow him another meal. He and the landlady's daughter, Victoria, are in love, and together they concoct a scheme that will put Eddie in right in the eyes of the girl's mother. They frame up a fake holdup, and Eddie, the hero, becomes the landlady's idol forever by recovering her "stolen" poodle.

Christmas Spirit—101 BISON—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 19.—On being routed from his box-car home Harry, an old tramp, anxiously seeks food, a place in the village. He is taken in, and plays
Santa Claus for the Christmas Eve party. Afterwards he tells his story to the people who have shown him such kindness. Years before he had been a sailor, and had been stranded on a strange island. Returning home months later he was unable to find any trace of his family, and became a poacher and wanderer. His story the fact that he is John's and Mary's father, long since given up as dead. The children run downstairs to a good-night, and the final scene are seen clambering about on the knees of their light-hearted grandfather.

His Doctor's Orders—JOKER—De-CEMBER 19.—When Henry finds himself besieged with an attack of too much mother-in-law he induces his old friend, Doc Summers, to help him out of the mess. Doc complies by ordering Henry to take an ocean voyage. Later, reports appear in the newspaper about the vessel's going down at sea. Wifey dons mourning garments, and takes up living at a gay summer resort in an effort to forget the catastrophe. Henry, also vacationing, discovers her, and becomes a shipwrecked husband by rowing out ways, throwing away his oars, and drifting about. He is rescued, and treated like the prodigal son until the steamship company denies the responsibility of the vessel's sinking. Henry is thereafter treated most rudely by his angry wife.

The Jewel of Allah—ECLAIR—De-CEMBER 20.—An old shipwright, the restoring sight comes into the Sultan's possession, and he commissions the prime minister, and a body of men to take it to the United States to have it set. They leave it with Manderson who has a blind daughter. The jeweler reads of the stone's wonderful power, hurries to his shop, takes it from the safe, and returns home. Meanwhile, however, the prime minister and his men have seen the removal of the Jewel from the safe in the presence of a crooked ball. They enter Manderson's house intent on recovering the stone. He, thinking them thieves, switches out the light, and fights them. Ellen enters the room feeling her way about, and her eyes come in contact with the stone which restores her sight. Manderson's explanation resures the Hindoos that the jewel is perfectly safe in his possession, and it is returned to him to be cut and set.

The Baron's Bear Escape—L-KO—
DECEMBER 20.—The Baron Hasenpfeffer is not loved very much by his rival, Wallace, who decides to give him a good scape by clothing himself in a bear skin. His disguise is so good that the sporting man, in his fright. He catches hold of a tree growing out on the face of the cliff, but it's breath still continues to the end of the mountain. One by one the various members of the rescue party lose their footing and fall down upon him, becoming a muddy, smashing mass.

A Page From Life—REX—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 20.—Breen, the leader of a band of crooks, takes advantage of the straightened circumstances existing in the Carter home, and induces the artist to join the band and forge checks. Poor Carter's daughter, Rita, knowing nothing of her father's connection with the crooks, encourages the attentions of Maybrick, a wealthy young man of excellent family. Breen becomes insanely jealous at this, calls upon Carter, and storms interview ensues. What Rita overhears of the conversation causes her to break with Maybrick, not feeling Barney falls over. He, however, is now satisfied with her explanation, and learns her real reason. In an attempt to revenge himself upon Breen, Carter is shot, and lives only long enough to bless Rita and Maybrick, and wish them a long and happy married life.

Feature Programs

Alco

The Tigress—POPULAR—(Five Reels)— DECEMBER 7.—Madame Olga Petrova is featured in this story, which is laid in Russia and America. Her role allows a wide range of dramatic work, as it calls for her to appear as a mother, a degenerating wife, a malicious woman and finally a revengeful creature who sees nothing beautiful in life.

Alliance

The Last Egyptian—QZ—(Five Reels)— DECEMBER 7.—Kara is told by his grandmother that Lord Roane, an Englishman, had dishonored a daughter of the imperial house years before and that the task of avenging Roane rests with him, as he is the last of its descendants.
Kara takes enough treasures from the royal chambers to carry out his purpose and goes to Cairo. Here he meets Lord Roane and plans to avenge his family through the nobleman's grand-daughter, Lady Aneth. He is refused her hand in marriage, but forces her to consent when he drives Lord Roane to the edge of ruin by defeating him at the gambling tables. Kara then arranges a mock mar-rage, but on the eve of the ceremony Lady Aneth is rescued by her lover, who hurries her to his yacht and sends tens up the Nile. Kara and a band of desert outlaws follow and capture the vessel.
The robber chief holds Lady Aneth a prisoner, refused to give her to Kara until he has been paid. Kara hastens to the royal chambers for gold and is followed by Lady Aneth's father. In the war in which the follow is placed, Kara's yacht is locked in the tomb and left to perish.
Lady Aneth's father is killed by a slave girl through a mistake, and thus the history of Kara's people is restored to his honor.

Box Office

The Thief—BOX OFFICE—(Five Reels)—
Marie Landau loves a man who cares more for a woman's clothes than for her-sel. She pleases him by paying a huge bill at a modiste's, thinking that when she inherits a fortune, she believes will be left her, she will be able to settle her accounts. In time, Marie learns that Marie continues her extravagance. They visit the Legardes home, where Marie meets the son of the house. He at once falls deeply in love with Marie her-sel. The modiste threatens to ask Marie's husband for the money and Marie, in desperation, steals from Madame Legardes. The theft is discovered and, to shield the woman, the son assumes the blame. His father orders him to leave home but at the last momome, Marie's self-esteem picks up her her better self and she confesses that she is the guilty one.

The End of the Bridge—BALBOA—(Three Reels)—Thrift film deals with the operations of a band of crooks, who are being closely followed by a detective. After completing a smugging deal the crooks give the detective an opportunity which he does not hesitate to of. He disguises himself as a stevedore and by mingling with them learns that one of their number desired to perish. He rives the man every assistance possible and,
and, after the others have been arrested, starts him on a new path in life and homes. His sister, having been cast off in love. J. Francis McDonald, Madeline Pardee and Fred Whitman have the leading roles.
Eclectic

The Silent Accuser—Pathé—(Four Reels)—The plot of this subject revolves around the invention of a telephone which permits one person to talk to another to also see him or her. In this case it enables the inventor-hero to save the danger of his sweetheart and rescue her. The villain who steals the phone is electrocuted while attempting to interest some capitalists in the scheme. A complete review will be found on page 832 of this issue.

The Perils of Pauline (19th Episode)—Pathé—(Two Reels)—Harry is called out of the city on business, leaving Pauline alone. Owen hires a crook named Wrentz to take the phone out of the hotel and together they form a plan whereby they will get Pauline in their power. Owen secures some fake letterheads, giving the address of a fictitious Philadelphia publishing concern, and on these writes to Pauline, asking her to call certain numbers. The plan is that in which they are riding is wrecked and Pauline and Owen alone emerge alive. The girl escapes from her pursuers only to encounter a huge gorilla, which has escaped its keepers. Just as the gorilla is about to kill her a policeman arrives and in the struggle which follows, the brute is killed.

Jolts of Jealousy—Pathé—Glady's husband is so jealous of her that he is positively disagreeable. She cannot venture out of the house without being accused of flirting. Jennie Olsen, the hired girl, starts a correspondence romance with Henze Vensic, who has advertised for a good-looking wife, and accidentally sends him Gladys' picture instead of her own. When Henze comes to call he, of course, thinks that Gladys is Jennie and insists on making love to her. Glady's husband happens on the scene and for a time the house is filled with scurrying people, flying furniture, and whizzing bullets. Henze's capture brings about an explanation and hubbly is forced to seal his做了 jealousy by throwing the buck at Gladys' slipper. C. R. C.

A Temperamental Whiffles—Pathé—(Two Parts)—Next to Max Linder, A. Prince, more commonly known by his permanent character name, Whiffles, is probably the most talented comedian of the Pathé-Paris stock company, and one of the most popular fun-makers on the legitimate stage. In this picture he is seen as a long-haired exponent of the musical art who has a mother-in-law and a plain statement writing his latest assertion is only of passing notice, but in Whiffles' life it meant much more—continual arguing, trouble, and finally a divorce from Miriam, his wife. Whiffles later becomes engaged to Brissac's daughter, and lives happily with his father-in-law. Brissac goes away for a trip, and returns with a wife. He is horrified to learn that he, too, has fallen into the clutches of Whiffles' former mother-in-law, and chases Miriam and her scheming mother from the house. C. R. C.

The Quality of Mercy—Pathé—(Two Reels)—Paul Capellani, recently killed in the European war, plays this part in this picture as Charles Leslie, the young fellow whose engagement to Suzanne Grayson is strongly opposed by her father who wishes to marry his daughter to the wealthy Louis Canly, declaring that love is an unknown factor in the marriages of this modern day. To escape into marrying Canly Suzanne leaves home, and takes refuge in the apartments of Leslie. He sends for his mother to take care of the girl. Graydon bursts into the room in a fury, implicating himself. Under his influence Suzanne is about to marry her father when the hypnotist's former wife kills him, thus destroying his power. Suzanne is forced to her marriage, and is joined by Vanveldt and Sylvia's nurse. Fantasma—Edison—(Five Reels)—Prince Arthur wins the hand of Princess Lena, but Zamafield, monarch of evil and darkness, separates them. Through the influence of Fantasma, and with the assistance of Pico, the lovers are reunited after their love. A complete review will be found on page 809 of the December 12th issue.

The Battle of Love—Chandler and his sweetheart, Bessie Wells, have a lovers' quarrel and a friend promises that he can reunite them. A fake murder is arranged and Chandler accused. In trouble, Bess calls to him and they are nothing but a duke, who is himself. On the day her baby is born her mind returns. But she is made happy when she learns that half an hour before her second marriage her first husband was killed. Complete review will be found on page 841 of this issue.

Kinotrope

Born Again—Hector—(Five Reels)—Dorothy Gray—Pauline, and a worthless husband. Her mind becomes blank through an accident and when her health has been restored she marries a famous boy, not knowing who he is. On the day her baby is born her mind returns. But she is made happy when she learns that half an hour before her second marriage her first husband was killed. Complete review will be found on page 837 of this issue.

Paramount

The Ghost Breaker—Lasky—(Five Reels)—December 7.—A young American agrees to help a princess search a haunted castle for wealth that should belong to her. He finds that the ghost is a substitute, but the princess is seeking the fortune. The American secures not only the wealth but also the princess. A complete review will be found on page 835 of this issue.

General Special

Sylvia Gray—Vitagraph—(Four Reels)—Henry Gray is a failure as a playwright and his wife, Sylvia, leaves him and goes with a wealthy clubman, who is desirous of possessing paper. One of Gray's plays is accepted and he is paid $5,000, which he puts in a hole in the wall of his house. He then wanders off, his mind a blank. Little Sylvia's nurse takes her from her mother and is going to bring her home, but when she finds Gray gone she decides to keep the child herself. Gray secures a position in a restaurant and is present when Sylvia kills her rich lover, as he has proved untrue to her. Still Gray's mind is not restored. Twenty years later, Sylvia, worn out, has returned to her former home, while Gray is a blind wanderer. Little Sylvia has grown to womanhood under the care of her nurse and is an artist's model. She is in love with Vanveldt, the man for whom she poses, and is very happy until a hypnotist comes into her life and casts a spell over her. He forces her to leave her lover and go with him. Gray and Sylvia's mother are united and the hypnotist and Sylvia stop at their home one night. The hypnotist learns of the $5,000 and determines to get it without Sawyer

The Life of Shakespeare—Trans-Oceanic—(Six Reels)—The opening scenes show the youth of Shakespeare. He writes plays which he is supposed to be employed by a lawyer and is dismissed. Later he meets Charlotte Clopton of Clopton Hall and through her influence joins the select society, where his art is appreciated. In another chamber of Clopton Hall, Sir Hugh Clopton shelters an agent sent to assassinate Queen Elizabeth. The agent is killed and Sir Hugh arrested for complicity in the plot, just as Charlotte falls victim to a dreaded plague. She dies in Shakespeare's arms. Later Shakespeare meets Anne Hathaway and soon they are married. Their unhappy home life is remembered by the show when Shakespeare goes to London. For a time, he watches the players going in and out of the Globe, the first theater ever built, and his first successful play is given to the public. From then on his rise to wealth and fame is rapid. In the final scenes the great man is shown driving the wonderful plays which made him famous, while glimpses of scenes from them pass before his dreaming eyes.
Thanhouser Syndicate

The Secret of the Haunted Hills (4th Episode of "Zudora")—Thanhouser—December 14.—A skeleton-like hand which appears in different localities, frightens the natives of a rural community which John and John's parents, Zudora and Storm investigate and discovers that a stereopticon slide operated by an idiot boy is at the base of the mystery. See review on page 845 of this issue.

Universal Program

The Master Key—(Episode Four)—Universal—December 7.—Hoping to rid himself of Dore, Wilkinson advises him to go to San Francisco to interest some companies in his invention. He sends for the key, Darnell, a woman of unsavory repute, to introduce Ruth to Charles Drake as the Mr. Everett with whom she is to make arrangement for obtaining parliamentary support. Unsuspecting, Ruth meets "Everett," and wires Dore that she is safe. At the same time Dore receives a letter from Everett telling him that he has not yet seen Ruth. Suspicious, Dore sets out in a motor truck for the city. Wilkinson, knowing beforehand of Dore's intended trip, has taken the pin out of the truck's brake and set fire to the bridge at the foot of the hill. Dore is unable to stop the machine. He sends for help in time to save himself and the color guard. The last scene shows him lying unconscious at the very edge of the canyon.

The Master Key—(Episode Five)—Universal—December 14.—Tom Kane, the mine's cook, finds the half-conscious Dore lying at the brink of the precipice. When he recovers consciousness Ruth's plans are exposed. The mine is veritable quicksand and the young boys, both miner Darnell and Jack J-cisco. Wilkinson in the meantime has arrived there, and met Mrs. Darnell and Drake. They drive to the Manx Hotel where Ruth has been registered as the couple's daughter. The girl overhears their plans to steal the deeds to "The Master Key" mine from her, and locks them in a dresser drawer. They hustle her away in a taxi bound for Chinatown. The hotel clerk and detective follow, and see Ruth forced into an opium den owned by Sing Wah, an old offender. Meanwhile Dore has arrived in the city, and been driven to the Manx Hotel. He is given the room just vacated by Ruth. He sends for help in time to save himself and the locked drawer, and is astonished on opening it to find the deeds to "The Master Key" mine within.

Miscellaneous

The Aviator Spy—Apex—(Three Reels)—Sir Edward May, secretary of state and Cyril Courtney, his assistant, complete an important treaty. Cyril is in love with Kate Hardcastle, but she is not in love with him. Cyril sneaks into Kate Hardcastle's rooms and is discovered. He is sentenced to prison, and taken to the capital. Cyril finance to purchase a plane and fly to the capital in order to get Kate to fall in love with him. They fly, and Cyril successfully rescues Kate from the prison. He and Cyril are happy together, but the treaty is not signed. Cyril is forced to fly back to England, and the treaty is signed. Cyril is happy with Kate, and they both live happily ever after.

Press Agent Says—

That Francis X. Bushman fits so aptly the character of the young American missionary George Ade's play "The Slim Princess" as though the part had originally been made especially for him.
EXPLOITING MOTION PICTURES

Vol. XII CHICAGO, DECEMBER 26, 1914 No. 26

VIVIAN RICH WITH AMERICAN
Selig Regular Program for Week of Dec. 28-Jan. 2
A TWO-REEL SELIG DRAMA.

RELEASSED MONDAY, DEC. 28

The Flower of Faith
Constancy at Last Rewarded

Written by WILL M. HOUGH
Production directed by F. J. GRANDON

The story of a beautiful country girl, who loves roses and whose fate is intertwined with these beautiful blossoms. She goes to the city, meets with various mishaps and misfortunes, is rescued from suicide by a Salvation Army lass, and the story ends happily by her re-union with her village lover. It is a genuine love story and the pictures tell it in an exceptionally interesting manner.

War Pictures From Europe

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 87
Released Monday, December 28 One Reel

As heretofore, our camera men have sent in the latest and most up-to-date war news pictures from European battlefields. Thrilling and of vital interest.

A Selig Western Comedy
Cactus Jake, Heart-Breaker
Released Tuesday, December 29 One Reel

In this typical cowboy picture, TOM MIX performs some unusually thrilling "stunts" on horseback. He is ably supported by GOLDIE COLWELL and other well known Selig actors. The heroine disguises herself as a cowboy with laughable results.

A Selig Drama
The Old Letter
Released Wednesday, December 30 One Reel

BESSIE EYTON appears at her best in this picture as a young girl in love with a newspaper reporter. She is engaged to marry a detective, who gives her up to his friend whom she saves from unjust imprisonment.

Views of World Events
Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 88
Released Thursday, December 31 One Reel

Vivid and thrilling war news pictures taken on European battlefields by our own camera men—views of leading events in all parts of the world. Timely and interesting.

A Selig Farce-Comedy
Wipe Yer Feet
Released Friday, January 1 One Reel

The mishaps of a humble family, the members of which are the slaves of an energetic housewife, are portrayed in a laughable manner by JOHN LANCaster, LylLian brown LEIGHTON, ELSIE GREESON, SIDNEY SMITH and other Selig comedians. Full of ludicrous situations.

A Selig Jungle-Zoo Drama
Lassoing a Lion
Released Saturday, January 2 One Reel

The story of a South African adventure, telling how the jealousy of a young husband almost resulted in the death of an innocent party, who heaped coals of fire on the husband's head by saving the life of his wife. Introducing various jungle beasts.

Brilliant 4-Color Selig Posters Ready for Shipment on All Releases. All Selig Releases Through General Film Co.

The Selig Polyscope Company
Executive Offices, Chicago, Ill., 20 East Randolph Street
THE SPAN OF LIFE

SUTTON VANE'S GREAT MELODRAMA

With LIONEL BARRYMORE
A Kinetophone Production
THAT TELLS IT ALL

DON'T DELAY! Through These Exchanges GET IT NOW!

Eastern Booking Offices (Pittsburgh Branch, 432 Wabash Building)—Eastern Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Eastern Booking Offices (Cleveland Branch, 215 Columbus Building) State of Ohio.

Dallas Film Co., Dallas, Texas—Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Midwest Feature Film Co., Loeb Arcade Building, Minneapolis, Minn.—North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin.

K. C. Booking Co., Incorporated, 126-132 West 46th Street, New York City—New York State and Northern New Jersey.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Pearl White and Crane Wilbur engaged in filming the last episode of the long and interesting series of Eclectic features entitled "Perils of Pauline".
The Rise of Jones, Linick & Schaefer
Described by Neil G. Caward

THOUGH the following pages will describe the opening of the first motion picture theater in Chicago and the state of Illinois; though it deals with the rise of the firm of Jones, Linick & Schaefer, which today is interested in the largest string of theaters in the United States, through its affiliation with Marcus Loew and what used to be the Sullivan-Considine chain of houses; though it has to do with the formation of the Chicago chain of eighteen houses controlled by the above firm and begins shortly before the opening of the Orpheum theater, said to be the best attended house in all America, still it is a Christmas story, for it was on December 26, 1905, the day following Christmas, that Aaron Jones first conceived the idea of opening a picture show in Chicago.

The firm of Jones, Linick & Schaefer, often times slangily referred to as "the jitney kings," today controls a chain of eighteen theaters in Chicago alone whose entire seating capacity runs above 21,000, and each of these houses gives from three to fourteen performances daily. Among them are a number of houses with a seating capacity of 1,700 and above, while scarcely any of them fall as low as 500, and the admission prices range all the way from five cents to $1.50. It is roughly estimated that 50,000 people every day witness films in the various houses controlled by the J. L. & S. combination, and one house alone during 1913 registered on its turnstile the enormous total of 2,840,000 attendance, a sum larger than the whole population of the city of Chicago.

Adolph Linick.

cient in their theaters, Jones, Linick & Schaefer book in the neighborhood of fifty reels of film every day, and consequently are bookers of practically every first run release of every program on the market, their daily rental being estimated at $1,000 per day.

To begin at the beginning, Aaron Jones, an humble newsboy on the streets of Chicago, saved his pennies with an eye to the future, a practice which he continued when, later on, he became a bookkeeper in a Chicago railroad office, and when opportunity offered, secured a peanut concession at what was then called Ferris Wheel Park. Mr. Jones' judgment was more than vindicated by his returns on this investment, and some time later he became associated with Felix Blei in a traveling vaudeville attraction called Schiller's varieties. The advance agent of this attraction was none other than Martin Beck.

A few years later, Mr. Jones conceived the idea of an open air amusement park for Chicago and with one other succeeded in interesting Mr. Beifeld, who happened to be his landlord, in such an enterprise. They contemplated spending no more than ten or twelve thousand dollars for their park, but to get a better idea of the sort of entertainment they had best provide, the three visited New York, where Dreamland had only just been opened, and the nature of entertainment there offered proved a revelation to them and all thoughts of establishing a summer park in Chicago on the small basis instantly vanished. Returning to the Windy City, the White City Construction Company was formed and stock in excess of $1,000,000 was sold within the next few months. Aaron Jones at the opening of the new White City became manager of concessions, and it was there that his intimate acquaintance with Adolph Linick and Peter Schaefer was really formed.

Aaron J. Jones.

Peter J. Schaefer.

On December 26, 1905, Mr. Jones, strolling down State street, chanced upon an auction sale of suits and cloaks belonging to Williams & Company, and stepping in inquired of the auctioneer: “What does this stock consist of?”

“Everything you see and the lease,” was the reply. Without an instant’s hesitation, Jones, who had at that time less than a dollar in his pocket and a third interest and giving Jones a check for a few hundred dollars. Jones dashed to the bank with the money given him by Schaefer to deposit it against the check which he had given to the auctioneer, and then visited the Boston Store, where in less than thirty-five minutes after buying the Williams & Company’s lease and stock, he had disposed of the entire stock of suits and cloaks to the proprietor of the Boston at a good profit.

By depositing the check received for the suits and cloaks, Jones made good his own check and left a small balance in his favor. He reserved one-third interest in the new enterprise for his friend, Adolph Linick, whom he had met at White City and who had been a partner of his previously in the Midland Machinery Company, the pioneer manufacturers of a penny-in-the-slot machine, and who at that time was visiting his family in Germany.

Next day Jones arranged with a decorator to transform the store into a motion picture house and within a few days it was opened to the public with Norman Field, today manager of the Colonial theater of Chicago, as its manager, Mr. Field thus becoming the oldest employee in the service of Jones, Linick & Schaefer, though there is a lapse of a short time between the date when this first theater was closed and the time when he returned to Chicago from London. He again entered the employ of Jones, Linick & Schaefer after having been manager of concessions at Earls Court, London.

By March 1, 1905, Jones, Linick &
Interior Orpheum Theater, taken from the gallery, showing extent of indirect illumination.

Fronts of three of the J. L. & S. houses, the Colonial, the Lyric and McVickers. All are within the loop district.
MOTOGRAPHY

Vol. XII, No. 26.

Schaefer had not only paid off all their obligations, settled for the enterprise, and service used in their theater, and gotten back all their original expense, but were able to divide a profit of $8,000.

The lease of their store theater expired at this time, and no offers to Browning, King & Company, who had leased the building over their head, would induce that firm to give them another tenancy, so a store directly across the street from the Palmer House was rented and there another picture show was opened under the name of "Hale's Tours of the World," an amusement which will be instantly recognized by old-time exhibitors, since the Hale's Tour shows at some time or another have had their innings in practically every city and town in the United States.

So successful was this enterprise that shortly afterwards what was then called the Lyric theater was opened on Van Buren street between Dearborn and State streets, and this also was made a picture theater. Realizing the possibilities in the new form of entertainment, Messrs. Jones, Linick & Schaefer disposed of their Lyric theater and on the site of their Hale's Tour show, on State street, they erected what is still known as the Orpheum theater, with a seating capacity of 1,000. When it was built every theater manager in Chicago predicted ill luck for it, because of the big electric peacock over the entrance, which theatrical superstition regards as an omen of ill, but it stands today with a record of attendance not exceeded by any other picture theater in the United States.

The Orpheum, it may here be stated, was the first picture house in the country to eliminate the ballyhoo, or socalled phonograph, which was used to be thought necessary to attract patronage. Sam Levin was made house manager and has been with the firm continuously since that time, today holding the title of general manager of all the Jones, Linick & Schaefer enterprises, while George Moore, then house policeman, is today manager of the Orpheum theater. In this connection it may be said that Jones, Linick & Schaefer conduct all their enterprises on a merit system. Whenever promotions are in order, or when new positions are to be filled, it is invariably the case that an employee of long standing is selected from within their own ranks, while the outsider has to begin at the very bottom of the ladder. This system has resulted in intense loyalty on the part of the employees and Messrs. Jones, Linick & Schaefer are both respected and admired by practically every individual in their employ, from house manager to usher and door-tender.

Soon after the opening of the Orpheum, the Bijou-Dream, which stands next door to the Orpheum, was opened, though it was not at that time a direct competitor of the Orpheum, since it was devoted to vaudeville and entertainment of the penny arcade sort, with a dime museum on the second floor, though nowadays it is the home of feature pictures, and holds the record of the longest run on State street of any film shown in Chicago.

Within another year the Lyric, on State street near Van Buren, was erected, this house being, with a single exception, the only theater in the world which never closes. The manager proudly asserts the lights have not been out, the doors closed or the projection stopped for a single moment in seven years, which exhibitors will readily concede as a record unequalled by any other house. The Premier theater, at State street near Jackson boulevard, went up almost at the same time as the Lyric and then a few months thereafter the Gem theater was built.

From this time on the growth of the Jones, Linick & Schaefer firm was truly phenomenal. In 1908, with the Lyceum theater at Cottage Grove and Thirty-ninth street, the J. L. & S. enterprises were extended to all residential sections of the city. The Wilson avenue and the Willard theaters on the north and south sides respectively, being big houses which began with a combined vaudeville and picture program, which style of entertainment is still in vogue in many of the J. L. & S. houses.
theaters as the Plaza, at North avenue near Sédgwick street (first called the Comedy); the Keystone, at Sheridan road; the Century, at West Madison and Loomis streets; the Garfield, at West Madison street and Sacramento avenue; the Star, at Milwaukee avenue and Robey street; the Eagle, near North and Washtenaw avenues; and the new American at Ashland boulevard and Madison street, have either been bought or erected at short intervals and all have proven successful.

Needless to say all these houses are equipped throughout with the most up-to-date projection apparatus and seats of a de luxe character, while only the statement that the ornamental plaster work and the lighting fixtures were furnished by the Decorator’s Supply Company, is necessary to describe this portion of the equipment.

A year and a half ago the theatrical world was dumbfounded to learn that Jones, Linick & Schaefer had acquired the Colonial theater on Randolph street near State street, in the heart of Chicago’s loop. This house, which was formerly the Iroquois, had been devoted exclusively to musical comedy and legitimate drama, and the thought that it might become a vaudeville and picture house was considered an impossibility until the entrance of the J. L. & S. interests. Staggering though this new statement was, it was followed six weeks later with the announcement that McVicker’s theater, Madison street, between Dearborn and State streets, had been acquired by the same interests and would be devoted in the future to vaudeville and pictures. Traditions of long standing were thus shattered over night, for up to the date of the J. L. & S. purchase, McVicker’s had been the scene of early theatrical activities in Chicago, and through Schaefer, and immediately following that a lease was closed for the Studebaker theater, on Michigan avenue near Van Buren street.

When Aaron Jones made his connection with Marcus Loew to take over the Sullivan-Considine circuit of theatrical houses, the J. L. & S. enterprise acquired an interest in 175 houses almost over night, and when one considers the two or three hundred houses controlled by Mr. Loew, together with those of Sullivan-Considine and Jones, Linick & Schaefer, one instantly sees that close up to 400 houses are operated and controlled by this gigantic theatrical merger.

In Chicago the J. L. & S. houses, seating capacities and prices of admissions are as follows: The La Salle, playing musical comedy, 1,000, 25c to $1.50; the Williard, stock, 1,400, 25c and 50c; the Empress, vaudeville and pictures, 1,600, 10c, 20c and 30c; the Studebaker, pictures, 1,600, 25c; McVicker’s, vaudeville and pictures, 1,700, 10c, 20c and 30c; the Colonial, vaudeville and pictures, 1,600, 10c, 15c and 25c; the American, vaudeville and pictures, 1,700, 10c, 15c and 25c; the Orpheum, pictures, 1,000, 10c; the Bijou-Dream, pictures, 800, 10c; the Premier, pictures, 500, 10c; the Star, vaudeville and pictures, 1,400, 5c and 10c; the Plaza, vaudeville and pictures, 1,200, 5c and 10c; the Crystal, pictures, 1,100, 5c; the Century, pictures, 1,100, 5c; the Keystone, pictures, 400, 5c; the Garfield, pictures, 1,200, 5c; the Lyric, pictures, 1,200, 5c; the Lyceum pictures, 1,100, 5c. All of the above representing a total seating capacity of 21,000 and average admission prices above 10c.

As already stated, Samuel Levin, first manager of the Orpheum theater, is today general manager over all the Jones, Linick & Schaefer enterprises. The publicity department of the J. L. & S. houses and undertakings is in charge of Ralph T. Kettering. Mr. Kettering has long been identified with amusements in Chicago, having been connected with Powers theater and in charge of various other amusements, and later the publicity manager of the entire White City for four years; this being the longest period which any single publicity man has served with any Chicago amusement park. Mr. Kettering has a wide acquaintance among the newspaper fraternity, and his geniality and popularity insures his “stuff” getting across, not only with most of the big dailies, but also among the theatrical journals and magazines, thus always insuring the J. L. & S. interests publicity of the widest sort.
Also Own Central Film Company

In addition to all their other interests, Jones, Linick & Schaefer have within the past year opened a film exchange called the Central Film Company, with offices above the Orpheum theater on State street, and from this center Jones, Linick & Schaefer have booked and controlled such features as "The Spoilers," the "Belgian War Pictures," filmed by the Chicago Tribune's staff photographer, "The Lineup at Police Headquarters," "Lay Down Your Arms," "Lena Rivers," etc. H. P. Spanuth is in charge of the exchange.

Handworth as a White Hope

Most folks in the film world know Harry Handworth as director of the Excelsior Feature Film Company, but in the forthcoming picture "In the Shadow" he displays his ability as a two-handed fist-fighter. Handworth enacts the part of the mountain lover of Marie Boyd. William A. Williams also aspires to win the heart of the simple little fisher girl. This condition of affairs is the cause of jealousy, and Williams and Handworth enact one "first-class scrap" on the edge of a precipice. Handworth's greater weight finally tells and Williams falls from the edge of the rocks into the stream below, from which perilous position he is finally rescued by the girl, who was the cause of it all.

Edison Plant Destroyed

By a fire that burned with incredible swiftness, fanned by a high wind, the manufacturing plant of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., at Orange, N. J., was destroyed Wednesday night, December 9, a loss that will total nearly a million dollars. Due to magnificent personal courage and a remarkable exhibition of the "Edison family spirit" on the part of the employes, all the priceless negatives were saved. And as the Edison production studio is located in New York City, miles away, the management announces, the Edison film releases will go on without interruption. In fact, before 8 o'clock next morning and while the firemen were still pouring water on the ruins, film manufacturing was started anew in several of the buildings untouched by fire, and in other film printing concerns in Orange. The buildings, which are twenty-four in number, are all of the most modern fireproof construct-tion, but the firemen were practically helpless as the city water supply was signally inadequate.

Sharply outlined in the fierce glare, sixty-seven-year-old Mr. Edison, issuing orders to his army of five thousand employes made a picturesque figure strongly suggesting a veteran general on a field of battle. Despite the fact that he carried no insurance except his own fire fund, his cheerfulness amazed all as he smilingly remarked in between times, "Well, I've gambled and I'm a good loser. Those buildings will go up again at once, but I'll see that this time I have my own fire protection and sufficient water."

The spread of the fire among the concrete buildings surprised all. The film plant was the last to take fire and motion pictures never recorded more heroic and self-sacrificing work than that of the employes fighting to get into the burning building to save the precious negatives. With explosions occurring frequently in the blazing plant, every entry made into the building was at a daredevil risk of life. T. A. Ward, an operator in the testing plant, was dragged out, overcome, with a film negative securely buttoned under his shirt to escape the danger of the heat. The flames were nearing the feature film department before it was discovered that two films, "Fantasma" and "The Colonel of the Red Hussars," upon which the Edison people had spent so much time, were missing. Dashing a pail of water over his clothes, Fred Duryea broke past the firemen and disappeared into the building. Before long a barrel rolled out at the firemen's feet. Duryea slowly crawled after it. Knowing the foolishness of carrying the films through the heat, with a remarkable presence of mind, he had thrown the invaluable films into the barrel and rolled it ahead of him on the floor, where the heat was at a minimum.

The exact cause of the fire is not known. It started near the cabinet shop, which was adjacent to the film plant. The stock of current releases were all fortunately saved and no interruption whatever in the regular Edison release schedule was experienced.

"War Stuff" for Lasky Studio

The Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company's studio in Hollywood, Calif., has suddenly assumed an extraordinarily martial aspect owing to the special preparations which are being made for the production there of Blanche Sweet's first Lasky-Belasco release—"The Warrens of Virginia."

It will be remembered that this play, which was written by William C. De Mille and produced under the management of David Belasco, is a story of the Civil War. As produced on the stage the war-like effects were necessarily restricted to a degree, but as seen on the screen this is positively to be the most elaborately realistic romance of war-times ever presented.

Guns, sabers, uniforms, all the equipment for infantry, cavalry and artillery, are being acquired almost by the carload. Field artillery, siege guns, mortars, rapid fire guns and all other weapons which were extant at the time of the Civil War are literally heaped all over the premises. Extra players are being engaged by the hundred, and the photodrama is surely going to reproduce the boys of '63 on both sides of the line.

General Cecil B. De Mille, who is ordinarily only director general but now seems to have acquired a military meaning for his title, is in command of the allied forces to pose on both sides of the battle line.
Pathe’s Realistic Drama of Stage Life
Reviewed by Charles R. Condon

ONE’S heart and sympathy instinctively go out to poor Hurlburt, the young composer in Pathé’s three-reel drama of stage life, “The Star of Genius.” He is possibly to blame for the trials heaped upon him by being too trustful and a bit too absorbed in his art; but these are the very faults, or virtues as they may be, that find a lasting response in the sympathies of the spectator, and awaken his interest till he is not satisfied until he sees Hurlburt once more in possession of the rewards that are rightfully his.

M. Signor, a celebrity of the French stage, works an air of appealing human-interest into his characterization of the temperamental and generous musician, Hurlburt, that is seldom seen in artists, and especially composers. The general conception of such people is that they must have long, unkempt hair, be either faultlessly groomed or criminally neglectful in the manner of dress, and be eccentric in the fullest meaning of the word. Signor’s opera-writer is an ordinary human being, endowed with exceptional musical talent, and just enough of the temperamental nature to place him in the artist’s class without labeling him as a man devoid of the power of concentrating his mind on any subject but music.

Another member of the cast of note is Mlle. Napierkowska, a famous French dancer, who plays the part of Valerie, the rose-girl, who later becomes the star of the opera-house in front of which she used to sell flowers. Mlle. Napierkowska is a splendid actress and an exceptionally graceful dancer. A few of the scenes are carried by her terpsichorean performances alone, and carried so well that one wishes they would raise the curtain on a few more scenes from “Caicus and Caligula.”

A masterly hand at direction is evident in the presentation of the story, and the arrangement and construction of its environment. The theater scenes are a wonderful illustration of the latter. If they were not actually taken in a theater nothing but inside information will betray the fact. In much the same way do little mannerisms and acts, things that are distinctive of the player’s personality, continually crop out throughout the play. The actual occurrences each occupy only a few seconds, or possibly, as with the theater scenes, a half minute’s time, but they help greatly in keeping one in the spirit of the play. An error in detail seems to glare at one with more persistence than does a big mistake, and it is for that reason probably that perfection in detail is of more actual value to a picture than some of its entire scenes. The lighting effects, soft tone, and distinctness of the photography are all that one could wish for.

Hurlburt’s opera, “La Tolosa,” proves to be a failure, and the young composer leaves the rehearsal depressed and discouraged. In front of the opera house his sympathy is aroused by seeing a poor young flower girl sobbing as though the whole world had turned against her. To Valerie her misfortune seems fully as great. Just a few minutes before, while counting her earnings, some hoodlums had attacked her and robbed her of the money. Hurlburt takes the girl to his home and provides for her. To his surprise the composer finds that she has a remarkable talent for dancing, and gives her the leading part in his next opera, "Caius and Caligula." It is a big success, and the names of Valerie and Hurlburt are coupled with its fame. The day after the opera's much- applauded introduction Hurlburt receives a note from his protegee stating that she has gone away with the Vicomte d'Orcel. The composer realizes now that he is in love with the girl himself, and determines to bring her back.

Because of his parents' objection to his proposed marriage to the dancer, d'Orcel gives Valerie up and she secures an engagement in an opera that is shortly to be presented. Hurlburt learns of her new engagement, and, on hearing that the accompanist is ill, applies for the position for the dress rehearsal. His mingled feelings at being so close to Valerie prove to be too much for Hurlburt's weakened condition, and he falls to the floor in a faint. The doctor and the girl accompany him home where he recovers from the shock but suffers a clouded memory.

Seeing Valerie, he springs at her and attempts to choke the girl, but the doctor restrains him. Another mood takes the composer, and he sits down at the piano and plays. Valerie dances to his accompaniment—and the cloud passes from his memory. His only thought is that he is in love with the girl, and he disregards her desertion in the past entirely on finding that his love is returned.

Robert Broderick

Robert Broderick, leading man of the Dyreda Art Film Corporation, which is using the old Reliance studios at Yonkers, N. Y., has an international reputation as an actor, having played with such stars as Francis Wilson, Virginia Harned, Thomas Jefferson and many others. Mr. Broderick has been for several years one of the bright stars of the operatic stage and in various make-ups of different characters he is said to have no equal. His first advent into the picture game was with the Kinematicolor Company on the coast, where he wrote and played the lead in the old fable, "Jack the Giant Killer." His portrayal of that difficult character was so excellent that he was made an offer by the western Kalem Company, which he accepted, and with which he remained for some time. He then came East and joined the eastern branch of that company and from there went to the Famous Players Company. His work with that company attracted considerable favorable comment and when his director, J. Searle Dawley, left the Famous Players Company to join the Dyreda Art Film Corporation, he took Mr. Broderick with him as his leading man. The Dyreda Company up to the present time has made two big feature pictures in which Mr. Broderick has played the lead and these pictures are being released through the World Film Corporation. The first picture, a four-reel subject, "One of Millions," has already been released and many expressions of approval have been made on the excellent work done by Mr. Broderick, and the other feature, "In the Name of the Prince of Peace," in four reels, will soon be released.

Secures Harris Songs

The World Film Corporation, through General Manager Lewis J. Selznick, has secured the motion picture rights to Chas. K. Harris's two greatest song successes, "Always in the Way" and "Break the News to Mother." The Dyreda Art Film Corporation, of which J. Parker Read, Jr., is general manager, has arranged to produce these two successes at its studios and the work of casting is said to have already begun at the Dyreda Art Film studios. Special productions are to be made for both of these films and it is planned that they will become sterling features in the World Film Corporation service.

Philadelphia Exhibitors' Ball

Despite the inclement weather which prevailed, a big crowd turned out to help make the annual ball held December 8 the most successful in the history of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of Pennsylvania. With an orchestra of sixty pieces to furnish music for the dancing, Horticultural Hall, Broad and Locust streets, Philadelphia and its roomy dancing floor was packed by ten o'clock with joyous fans, exhibitors and photoplay stars. Romaine Fielding, Ormi Hawley, Clara Kimball Young, Edwin August, Edgar Jones, Lottie Braceo, Francis X. Bushman, Beverly Bayne, Edmund Breeze, Siegmund Lubin and Carl Laemmle were introduced from the stand just prior to the grand march at twelve o'clock. During the course of the evening's dancing a beautiful colored drawing of Miss Young was put up at auction, the proceeds going to the Belgian relief fund. The picture went to Siegmund Lubin and Carl Laemmle, who, clubbing together, paid over fifty dollars for it.

An event of the evening which proved its human-interest worth to those who were witnesses, was the meeting between Mr. Fielding and Edmund Breeze, famous legitimate star. Fourteen years had elapsed since the paths of these two artists crossed. Boxes at the ball were held by the Lubin Company, the Universal Film Manufacturing Company and the Box Office Attractions Company.
Essanay Drama of Far Northwest
Reviewed by Neil G. Caward

The luxurious mansion of a society girl and the humble dwelling of a fur trader in the far Northwest form the settings for the principal scenes of "The Shanty at Trembling Hill," the two reel Essanay release of Friday, January 1.

Francis X. Bushman as Richard Scott, a young politician, who on account of ill-health is compelled to visit the Northwest and live out-of-doors, has an ideal role and appears to splendid advantage, while in the character of Gabrielle Boileau, Miss Nelle R. Craig makes her debut as an Essanay leading woman. In this same picture Miss Leona Anderson, another newcomer to the Essanay forces, makes her first screen appearance in the character of Frances Warfield.

As the story opens, Richard Scott, a rising young politician and candidate for the Canadian House of Parliament, is compelled to give up his candidacy on account of ill-health and to break off his engagement with Frances Warfield, a society belle, and visit the Northwest to live in the open air until his health is once more restored.

Frances is enraged when she is told of the ruin of her plans and abruptly dismisses Richard.

Later Scott save Larry O'Brien, a lumber camp foreman, when an enemy tries to stab him, and as a result agrees to go to Trembling Hill camp with O'Brien. There he meets Gabrielle Boileau, a beautiful but uncultivated girl of the wilds. They fall in love, but Larry, knowing of Scott's wealth and social position, thinks he is trifling with the girl and tells Scott that if he deceives her he will kill him.

Scott is in deadly ear-least, however, and asks Gabrielle to marry him. She consents, though her parents and an aged priest fear the marriage will not result happily.

A few days later Schuyler, a friend of Scott's, arrives on the scene and, learning of Scott's engagement, seeks to dissuade him from going ahead with the match, as he fears that he will ruin both his life and that of the girl's. As a clincher to his argument, Schuyler produces a note from Frances asking Scott to come back to her and saying that she is sorry for her cold treatment of him in the past and will atone for it if he will only return to her.

Scott refuses, however, and in desperation Schuyler tells the priest that Scott is already engaged to Frances and gives him the note as proof.

The priest compels Schuyler to show the note to Gabrielle and her parents. The girl is furious and in her anger seeks Scott and tries to stab him. He then returns to the city and Larry, hearing of the trouble, follows Scott to his club, where he tries to kill him, but Schuyler interferes and declares that he is himself to blame for what has happened. Larry demands proof and the three visit the Warfield home in time to witness Frances' marriage to another man.

Eventually satisfied Larry returns to Trembling Hill with Scott, where all is explained to the satisfaction of not only Gabrielle but her parents, the priest and her numerous friends. Gabrielle then leaps into the arms of Scott and the following day they are married by the priest.

The old priest breaks the news to Scott's fiancée.
"The Conspiracy"

John Emerson's characterization of Winthrop Clavering, author of thrilling stories and solver of mysterious crimes, is a clever one, as presented to the picture public in Charles Frohman's first film offering, through the Famous Players' Company, of the stage play, "The Conspiracy." The screen telling gives much more satisfying detail than the play could possibly have done. Several of the characters are pleasingly similar to those in the play and the sets are also very much alike. Though the humorous speeches made by the stage Clavering are lost to the patrons of the screen, still Emerson's behavior is sufficiently fun-inspiring throughout to make up for this slight advantage credited to the stage.

Mr. Emerson created the stage role of Clavering and does it and himself equal justice on the screen. Lois Meredith plays the leading feminine role and Iva Shepherd has a strong part in the character of Juanita, member of a blackmailing gang. Harold Lockwood is the typically breezy reporter and Hal Clarendon manages the heavy role of Morton, head of the gang.

Margaret Holt, sister of the assistant prosecuting attorney, comes to the city to visit her brother, but is taken by Juanita to a house of ill-repute. After a few days she escapes and her brother determines to track down the gang. Margaret assists by applying at the business headquarters for the position of stenographer. She is successful in procuring it and manages not to be seen by Juanita. Fearing the law, Morton, head of the gang, arranges to go to Europe with Juanita. He secretes a sealed list of names of the gang under the table cover for someone who is to call for them, but Margaret secures the envelope and is caught by Morton, who returns unexpectedly. In self-defense, she kills Morton and escapes.

Clavering goes to work on the case and puts it into story-form. His stenographer leaves and he goes to a Girls' Refuge for a new stenographer. Margaret has gone there for safety and Clavering engages her, putting her to work on the story with which she is already familiar. She turns the sealed envelope over to Howell, the reporter, and he leaves it at a spot designated by the gang. He follows the man who takes it and when Victor Holt mysteriously disappears, Howell and Flynn search the neighborhood of the gang for his whereabouts. They find it, and help him to escape.

Meanwhile, Juanita has offered Clavering $500 for knowledge of Margaret. Clavering's deductions lead him to recognize his stenographer as the wanted girl but he gives his help to the law and Margaret, instead. He summons Juanita and members of the gang to his home and there they are trapped by Holt, Howell and Flynn. Margaret's fate has been of especial interest to Howell and the young couple rejoice at the pleasing end of their troubles at the hands of the gang.

M. C.

Buys Twelve More States

Aaron Gollos of the Photoplay Productions Releasing Company, Wabash avenue, Chicago, this week secured twelve more exclusive state rights on the celebrated feature "The Littlest Rebel." Mr. Gollos already controlled the states of Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and Indiana on this picture, but was so delighted with his success in booking it and the apparently great demand for the big war subject, that he closed a deal whereby he secures the exclusive rights to the film in Washington, Oregon, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Montana, North Dakota, Colorado, South Dakota, Kentucky, Wyoming and Alaska.

Any live exchange man in any of the newly secured states can secure special booking privileges on the feature in question by communicating immediately with Mr. Gollos. Of course it will be a case of first come first served, so prompt action will be necessary upon the part of the exchange which is to secure exclusive territory within its state. Mr. Gollos is prepared to provide not only prints of the film but posters of all varieties, photographs, banners and lobby displays.

A leopard recently endangered the life of Marie Walcamp of the 101 Bison Company, when it sprang at her and barely missed the actress' shoulder.

The mount ridden by Beverly Bayne in the scenes of Essanay's photoplay, "The Crimson Wing," formerly belonged to the Countess Gizycki.
Summary of 1914 Filmland Events

By Clarence J. Caine

In preparing this record it has been the aim of the writer to cover as nearly as possible all the vital happenings in the motion picture industry during the past year, and as many of the more significant innovations as possible. In the latter case, things which attracted attention because they were innovations or because of their magnitude are the ones which have found a place. Foremost of the happenings is the entrance of feature programs into the industry. A year ago there was but one such organization, but up to the present time the number has swelled to a dozen or more. The advent of the serial film was another prominent feature.

The death of Charles J. Hite, president of the Thanhouser Company and a power in the Mutual Film Corporation, was an event which is to be deeply regretted by all men in the industry. From the exhibitors' point of view the greatest accomplishment of the year was the downfall of the dissenting factors in their ranks and the advance of the "get-together" movement.

The advancement of motion pictures during 1914 was marked and in this respect it was perhaps the most important milestone which has been passed thus far. The outlook for 1915 is an exceedingly bright one and when the summary of the coming year is compiled many changes will undoubtedly be chronicled.

Following is the tabulated list of events:

JANUARY.

First episode of "Our Mutual Girl," the Mutual Film Corporation's 32-part serial, was released.

Mutual Film Corporation closed contracts with a number of prominent writers, among whom were Paul Armstrong, Daniel Carson Goodman, E. Phillips Oppenheim and George Patullo, thereby securing some of their well-known works, as well as an option on original scenarios.

Beginning of Selig's "Adventures of Kathlyn."

Vitagraph Company announced the release of Broadway Star Features.

New Reliance Motion Picture Company incorporated in New York with $1,000,000 capital. Harry Aitken was announced as organizer. One studio in Yonkers and one in Los Angeles, David W. Griffith was named as director-in-chief.

After a one-day session in Chicago, the government investigators handling the case of the Motion Picture Patents Company left for Alabama to secure other evidence.

Vitagraph announced the release of a special two-reel comedy every Friday.

Mutual Film Corporation secured General Villa's permission to film a story of his life, as well as to take scenes of his army during engagements in Mexico.

"Beauty" brand of the American Film Manufacturing Company announced first release. Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard featured.

Jules Bernstein and M. E. Hoffman, of the World Special Films Corporation, and Lewis J. Selznick of the Photoplay Sales Company joined hands to buy exclusive features, these to be released through the former concern.

Meeting of Ohio Motion Picture Exhibitors' League in Cincinnati. M. A. Neff elected president, J. H. Broomhall, secretary, and W. R. Wilson, treasurer.

Life Photo Film Corporation incorporated with capital of $100,000. Edward M. Roskam, president.

First annual ball and entertainment of the Milwaukee Exhibitors' Association held in that city.

Feature film exchanges of New York City formed a body known as Film Renters' Association to exercise the functions of a Board of Trade.

Dance and entertainment given at the new Thanhouser studio in honor of the anniversary of the fire which destroyed the old building.

Universal's west coast studios damaged by fire.

FEBRUARY.

At a meeting of the International Motion Picture Association, the first case of Hawaii. Abraham B. Levy was elected president, George Henry, secretary, and Sidney Smith, treasurer.

Second annual Screen Club ball, held at the Grand Central Palace, largely attended by New York film people.

Opening of the Vitagraph theater, 44th and Broadway, New York City.

The World Film Corporation absorbed the World Special Films Corporation.

The Klaw and Erlanger-Biograph productions were released to exhibitors for the first time.

The Reel Fellows Club of Chicago, a social organization of film men in the Windy City, held its first meeting.

The Famous Players Film Company and Henry W. Savage, Inc., announced their affiliation. The deal gave the Famous Players the rights to all the stage successes controlled by Savage.

The Pathe Company and the Hearst newspapers reached an agreement whereby stories of the former's films appeared in the latter's papers.

The Eclectic Company opened a Chicago office with K. W. Linn in charge.

George Kleine's Italian studio was stated to be in the course of construction.

The second annual ball of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of Pennsylvania was held in Philadelphia.

The first release of the Selig-Heast News Pictorial occurred the latter part of this month.

MARCH.

The Leading Players Film Corporation founded with Agnes Egan Cobb in charge.

Eclectic's "The Perils of Pauline" series begun.

The studio of the Eclair Company at Fort Lee, N. J., was seriously damaged by flames, the loss being estimated at about $750,000.

The Famous Players Film Company formed an alliance with the prominent theatrical producer, Charles Frohman, thereby securing the film rights to all plays which he controlled. Plans were made to take some of the pictures in Europe.

Delegates from New York to California were present when the executive committee of the International Motion Picture Association met in Cleveland, O., on March 18 and 19. A compromise between the Cleveland faction of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League and the International Association was hinted at.

The Photoplay Authors' League of America was incorporated in Los Angeles with Frank E. Wood as president.

A fire seriously damaged the Edison studio in the Bronx on March 28. With the aid of the players, much of the film stored in the vaults was saved. The damage was estimated at $50,000.

APRIL.

Carl Gregory of the Thanhouser forces sailed for the Bahamas to take the first under water motion pictures with the aid of the Williamson invention.

The Shubert Feature Films Booking Company was created to present Shubert attractions on the screen.

The Photoplay Productions Company, with executive offices at 220 W. 42nd street, New York, N. Y., entered the field.

Universal secured the "Uncle's Love" serial.

Opening of the Strand theater in New York City, S. L. Rothapfel managing director.

Herbert Blaché announced as president of the United States Amusement Corporation, a firm said to have $500,000 capital.

MAY.

The Popular Plays and Players was launched in New York by Harry J. Cohen.
Thanhouser's "The Million Dollar Mystery" was announced as being ready for production.

The Kamo Films, Inc., was reorganized, Homer H. Snow becoming president and C. Lang Cobb, Jr., chief adviser and a member of the board of directors. The company was re-capitalized at $200,000, and opened its own string of exchanges.

The second annual banquet of the Cleveland Authors' Club, a photoplaywrights' organization, was held in Cleveland.

Exhibitors' hall in Chicago on the night of May 14 was largely attended, and proved a tremendous success.

The new Candler theater, 42d and Broadway, was opened to the public.

Various film interests protested against the Smith-Hughes bill which would create a national censorship of motion pictures.

JUNE.

A contract was signed providing for the disposal of all Balboa feature films through the Box Office Attraction Company.

David Belasco agreed to allow the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company of New York to produce in motion pictures all the big stage productions made under his supervision.

Formation of the Paramount Pictures Corporation was consummated, combining Bosworth, Inc., The Famous Players Company and the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Film Company. William W. Hodkinson became president and general manager, James Steele, vice-president, and Raymond Pawley, secretary and treasurer.

Announcement was made that in the future the topical film which had been known as Pathe's Weekly would be issued daily under the name of Pathe Daily News.

The second International Exposition of the Motion Picture Art held in conjunction with the open trade convention under the auspices of the International Motion Picture Association and the Independent Exhibitors of America took place at Grand Palace, New York City, June 8 to 13. All the officers of the organization were re-elected.

F. E. Holiday resigned from the Gaumont Company to become president and general manager of the Bon Ray Film Company.

A fire causing a loss of about $300,000 visited the plant of the Lubin Film Manufacturing Company in Philadelphia June 13.

The Universal Film Manufacturing Company moved its west coast company to a large ranch in the San Fernando valley, California, to be known as Universal City.

By a decision of the appellate division of the Supreme Court in the case of P. A. Powers against the Universal Film Manufacturing Company and Carl Laemmlle, the complainant was given the right to again bring action for the restoration of stock, which he claims belongs to him.

Arrangements were completed whereby the feature productions of the United States Film Corporation became a regular part of the program of the Warner's Features, Inc.

Judge Mayer of the United States District Court held that the Warwick camera used by the Lammle interests was an infringement on the Edison patents, controlled by the Motion Picture Patents Company.

The World Film Corporation and the Shubert Theatrical Company joined forces under the name of the Shubert Feature Film Corporation with a capital stock of $1,000,000, controlling film rights on all of the Shubert plays. The World Film Corporation at the same time secured the right to market all productions of the Mcenerney Syndicate of London.

JULY.

The "Trey o' Hearts" series was begun by the West Coast Universal Company.

The fourth annual convention of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League was held in Dayton, Ohio, during the week of July 6. Marion S. Pearce was elected national president, T. P. Finklan, first vice-president, Mark E. Cory, second vice-president, and Peter J. Jeup, treasurer.

Miss Grace McHugh, leading lady, and Owen Carter, cameraman, of the Colorado Motion Picture Corporation, lost their lives in the Arkansas River while making a feature film.

David Horsley announced that he would soon begin producing comedies in his Bayonne, N. J., studio.

The Liberty Motion Picture Company, with headquarters in Germantown, Pa., was formed.

Warner's Features, Inc., announced that it would incorporate one-reel comedies in its programs.

The visit of Thomas H. Ince and Mack Sennett of the New York Motion Picture Company to that firm's offices in the East caused considerable comment, but the directors merely re-arranged their affairs and returned to their work on the West Coast.

AUGUST.

The L-Ko brand of Universal films was created and Henry Pathe Lehman was appointed director.

A. H. Sawyer Company secured the output of the Liberty Motion Picture Company for release on its program.

The Willat Studio and Laboratories, Inc., completed its new plant at Ft. Lee, N. J.

The Universal Film Manufacturing Company and the Mutual Film Corporation were denied an injunction against censorship in Pennsylvania.

Chad Fisher, the Vitagraph cameraman, was killed while taking pictures at Yonkers N. Y. and the lives of several other Vitagraph players were endangered when lightning struck an inn in which they had taken shelter.

Charles O. Baumann announced the Popular program to consist of 26 reels weekly and the initial release to be announced later.

The National Board of Censorship adopted a new emblem for its official stamp to be used as a "trailer" in all films passed by it.

Oscar Hammerstein's Lexington Opera House opened on August 21 with a bill of high class pictures.

C. J. Hite, president of the Thanhouser Film Corporation and vice-president and treasurer of the Mutual Film Corporation, was killed in an automobile accident in New Rochelle, N. Y.

August 22.

The Bon Ray Film Company closed a contract to supply
25,000 feet of scenic film taken in the southern states to be used by this section of the country at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

SEPTEMBER.

The Universal Film Manufacturing Company secured film rights to the works of a number of prominent authors including Clara Louise Burnham, O. Henry, Eleanor Gates and Booth Tarkington.

The Alco program was completed, the All Star Feature Film Corporation, California Motion Picture Corporation, Popular Plays & Players, Inc., Favorite Players Film Company and the Excelsior Feature Film Corporation comprising its producing companies.

The Reel Fellows of Philadelphia was organized, as was the Photodrama Club of Chicago.

The Mutual Film Corporation and the New York Motion Picture Corporation renewed their contracts for the handling of the Kay-Lee, Domino and Broncho brands.

The Eaco Films was formed, with Edwin August as featured star.

The United Motion Picture Production, Inc., was formed.

The Wisconsin Motion Pictures Exhibitors met in Milwaukee on September 15 and decided that they would be hereafter known as the Wisconsin Photoplay Association. J. W. Sherwood of Madison became president, A. Schibe of Plymouth vice-president, and R. G. Niss of Madison secretary.

The “Luna-Lite” Screen Patents Company was organized at a capital of $50,000 was formed at Richmond, Ind.

September 14 marked the opening of the Broadway Rose Gardens of New York City.

OCTOBER.

The Dyreda Art Film Corporation incorporated in New York with Frank L. Dyer as president.

Hugo Riesenger, carbon importer, died in Germany.

The Alliance Film Corporation was formed, with George West as president and Andrew Cobe as vice-president and general manager. The original companies comprising its program were Excelsior Feature Film Corporation, Select Feature Photoplay Company and Favorite Players, Inc.

The Excelsior Feature Film Company and Favorite Players, Inc., withdrew from the Alco Film Corporation, and the R. A. Rolfe Photographic and the Tiffany Motion Picture Corporation filled their places.

The General Film program added the Columbus brand to its list, but retained it only a few weeks.

James D. Kirkwood was elected president of the Screen Club.

The Holland Film Company with its studios at Boston, Mass., was established.

Announcement was made that David Bispham, famous operatic producer, was to enter the film ranks with a brand known as Bilbao Films.

At a meeting of the Greater New York Motion Picture Exhibitors' League, Sidney Landau was elected president.

The World Film Corporation secured the film rights to all the productions of the Charles E. Blaney Photoplay Company.

The third annual convention of the California Motion Picture Exhibitors' League was held in San Francisco.

The war tax on motion picture theaters was passed by the United States Senate, the scale being graded according to the size of houses.

The Apex Film Company secured the rights to the productions of the Eaco Films.

The Thanhouser Film Company secured the first permit issued by the government to take motion pictures in Yellowstone National Park.

“Neptune's Daughter” completed its twenty-fourth week at the Fine Arts Theater in Chicago, this being announced as the longest run of any photoplay in a single house.

The Alliance Film Corporation secured all the productions of the Masterpiece Film Manufacturing Company for release on its program.

At a meeting of the Standard Program Association in Chicago, Joseph Hopp was elected president, Dan Markowitz vice-president, E. T. Peters secretary and Sam Werner treasurer.

The Dyreda Art Film Corporation closed a contract with the World Film Corporation, whereby the latter concern agreed to market its productions.

David Horsky completely arranged and placed contracts for the erection of a studio in Los Angeles, Calif.

William Kessel, a pioneer film man, died at his home in New York on October 30.

NOVEMBER.

The Life Photo Film Corporation was added to the Alco program.

The United Managers' Protective Association joined forces with the National Board of Censorship for the suppression of legalized forms of censorship.

The Reliance Film Company announced that in the future its special features would be sold on a state rights basis, instead of being released through the Mutual Film Corporation.

John Cort and Oliver Morosco, prominent theatrical producers, entered the film-producing field under the name of the Oliver Morosco Photo Play Company.

The K. C. Booking Company, Inc., closed contracts with a number of big independent exchanges throughout the country.

The Universal Film Manufacturing Company opened a number of feature exchanges to book its big productions.

The first episode of the Thanhouser serial "Zudora" was released.

The Oliver Morosco Photo Play Company became affiliated with Bosworth, Inc.

The first episode of the Universal serial production, "The Master Key," was released.

Pathe Freres was appointed the official cinematographers by the French government to take war pictures.

The third annual Screen Club ball was held at Hotel Astor, New York City.

The California Motion Picture Corporation announced that it would release its feature productions through the World Film Corporation.

DECEMBER.

The Alliance Film Corporation secured the output of the Oz Film Company.

Rene Alexandre's death was announced by the Pathe Company. He was killed on a European battlefield.

Announcement made of the Standard Program. Films to be made by the Standard Polyscope Corporation, H. C. Hoagland
A mass meeting of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association of Greater New York was held at which matters relative to legislation for the coming year were discussed. Their ball was held at the Grand Central Palace on December 7.

The Kinetophone Corporation secured the right to release all production of the Hollandia Film Manufacturing Company of Haarlem, Holland.

The first release of the MinA Films through the General Film Program on December 17.

Balboa and Pathe affiliated to market the productions of the former.

A. H. Sawyer, Inc., increased capitalization and changed name to Sawyer Film Corporation.

Arnold Daly a Pathe Player

Arnold Daly, who through his work in "Candida" became in such a short space of time one of the most talked of actors in America, has signed with Pathe to take the leading part in the new serial, "The Exploits of Elaine." That Mr. Daly stands in the very front rank of the theatrical profession today is self-evident, and that he has been signed by Pathe for the new serial proves conclusively that "The Exploits of Elaine" will be a vastly different proposition from "The Perils of Pauline," in that the new story will require most artistic interpretation, and not depend so much upon sensational incidents for its interests. Mr. Daly is an object lesson to the ambitious young American by proving that there is plenty of room at the top and that true ability will be recognized in spite of all handicaps. Some ten years ago he was office boy for Charles Frohman, surely a sufficiently humble beginning in the theatrical profession to satisfy the most ardent admirer of such works of fiction as "From Cabin Boy to President." Born in New York, he showed the average New York boy's sublime indifference to the favorites of fame, and they still tell stories along Broadway of young Daly's scornful attitude towards the famous playwrights and theatrical stars who call upon Mr. Frohman.

At an early age Daly was convinced that he could act and eventually prevailed upon Mr. Frohman to give him a chance in a small role. He soon showed that he possessed an intuitive dramatic sense, and his rise was steady. He was fortunate to have a part in "Pudd'n Head Wilson," under Frank Mayo, whose splendid experience and fine talent gave him much invaluable knowledge. After that engagement he played the boy in William Gillette's farce, "Because She Loved Him So," which was followed by the part of the mad lover in "Barbara Frietchie," with Julia Marlowe. Engagements in "When We Were Twenty-one," "Hearts Aflame" and "The Girl from Dixie," followed. All this time Mr. Daly's art had been broadening and taking on a finer quality. Unconsciously and gradually he had been fitting himself for his great success, "Candida." It is interesting to note that this great production, which afterwards played 132 days in New York, was first put on for matinees only by Mr. Daly to demonstrate "a worthy play which could not be commercially successful in New York." Shortly afterwards, against all advice, Mr. Daly needing a play as a stop gap, determined to try "Candida" on the New York public. It was done and each day saw a growth in the receipts. Before long it was the most talked of play in the city, and Mr. Daly was famous. He had proved once and for all the value of a serious production.

Mr. Daly can be best described by the word "brilliant." He fairly scintillates as a player, a conversationalist and a story teller. He was the first man in New York to study George Bernard Shaw and see in him much more than a fiery and intellectual freak. Mr. Daly, in fine, is a real and serious student of the drama.

Being of Irish descent, Mr. Daly could not help but be witty. It is said of him that on one occasion he was invited to a dinner of the descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers and was called upon for a toast. He rose and with a rare twinkle in his eye, said as follows: "To the Plymouth Rock—the barren stone of our dear America!" He is also epigrammatic, as the following recent statement of his will prove: "Culture will rid the world of war—unless war first rides the world of culture."

So Pathe has made a ten strike in securing this brilliant Irish-American actor, who is a thinker as well as an artist. As "Craig Kennedy" in "The Exploits of Elaine," he should gain new laurels and stamp the new serial with his decidedly interesting personality.

MacKenzie Gives Dinner

Donald MacKenzie, who has been directing the last episodes of "The Perils of Pauline," gave a dinner at the Hotel McAlpin on the night of Sunday, December 6, to the Pathetiques, both in the studio and office, who have been co-operating with him in his work. Those present were Fritz Whatne, who pre-sided as toastmaster, Messrs. Kyle, St. Germain, Mink, Disch, Mohn, Van Arsdales, Steurnagel, Heinz, Zapetti, MacKenzie, Lang, Thompson, Crandall, Miller, Redmond, Meighan, Stocker, Davidson, Bardet and Misses Pearl White, Staat's and Hannah Cohen. Everybody had to make a speech and some budding Demosthenes were disclosed. The dinner lasted six hours and all agreed that it was none too long.

Success Achieved

Popular favor and real success mark the presentation of "Damon and Pythias," the impressive photoplay now being presented by the Universal Company at the New York Theater, New York City and at Fine Arts Theater, Chicago. The play is in six reels of wondrous beauty and is shown to the accompaniment of especially set orchestral music. The story is full of dramatic power, exciting episodes and thrilling climaxes with an appealing love story. The large audiences of playgoers are increased nightly by the attendance of lodges of Knights of Pythias, the order having endorsed the photo-play.
Selig’s “The Flower of Fate”
Reviewed by Clarence J. Caine

Without the aid of a complicated plot, but containing a number of human interest touches, the story of the two reel production to be released by the Selig Polyscope Company on Monday, December 28, entitled “The Flower of Fate,” furnishes a splendid vehicle to exploit the histrionic ability of Edith Johnson and Lamar Johnstone.

Miss Johnson has been “tabbed” by the publicity department of the Selig Company as “the most beautiful girl in pictures” and while this reviewer does not care to fully concede the statement, nevertheless, it must be admitted that she possesses a charm that is rare. Her acting, while not quite finished at all times, is very appealing and her sympathetic portrayal of a country girl struggling for life in the city will doubtless endear her to the “fans.” Mr. Johnstone, too, is seen to advantage in a role which calls for the portrayal of three distinct types, a farmer boy, a prospector and a gentleman of position. The other players are given very little to do but their acting is satisfactory.

The story deals with the life of a girl whose life is likened to a rose. She is passionately fond of the flower and it is utilized in a symbolic sense in several of the scenes. In the opening and closing views, this comparison is especially effective, two roses dissolving into the figures of the girl and her lover in the former and vice versa in the latter.

The girl, whose name is Rose, is happily living at home in the country and is devoted to her rural lover when the story opens. The roses in the garden seem to be a part of their love and daily they visit them.

Then one day an ambition to go to the city comes to her and she is not content until she fulfills her desire. Her lover is very sad but when he sees she is determined he does not put anything in the way of her going.

In the city she secures a position as stenographer in a wealthy broker’s office, after having studied amid discouraging circumstances. Her love for roses prompts her employer to give her one from the bouquet which he has on his desk. When the broker’s wife sees Rose wearing the flower she becomes angry and orders her husband to dismiss the girl, which he does in order to quiet her. Rose’s lover, Howard, grows restless when he does not hear from his sweetheart and goes West to seek his fortune in the gold fields.

Rose, out of work, sees an advertisement for an artist’s model and secures the position. She poses for a picture called “The Rose” but when the artist makes advances to her and she rejects him she again finds herself without work. Time passes and she finds her funds growing lower and lower. Her fondness for roses again leads her to trouble and she is arrested when she takes one from a flower stand without paying for it. A theatrical manager is present at her trial and pays her fine. He then offers her a position in his company, which she gladly accepts, thus becoming a chorus girl.

Howard strikes a rich gold vein and disposes of his interest in the mine for a fabulous price. He comes to the city to search for Rose, establishing a fine home there. Rose makes good on the stage but one night she is lured to a café by the manager and a bouquet of roses again tempts her. The manager quarrels with another man over her and the next day he discharges her. Howard finds the picture entitled "The Rose" and buys it. Because he can find no trace of the girl he loves, he worships the portrait.

Thoroughly disheartened, Rose is about to end her life, when she is rescued by a Salvation Army lass. She persuades Rose to join her in the work of caring for the fallen. Time passes and one day Rose goes into the open door of a conservatory, a rose again luring her from her path. She finds herself locked in when she starts to leave and wanders into the mansion, which joins the conservatory. To her surprise and joy it proves to be Howard's home. Under the portrait of "The Rose" and surrounded by bouquets of the flower which has been such a vital part of her life, she is received into the arms of her lover.

Rolfe Affiliates With Fiske

B. A. Rolfe, head of the producing company which bears his name, left for Hollywood, Cal. this week where plans for the occupation of a studio, now being equipped, will take up most of his attention. Before leaving, however, Mr. Rolfe announced that he had formed an alliance with the prominent producing manager Harrison Grey Fiske, by which he secured the principal dramatic successes of this manager and that arrangements were going forward looking to the the presentation of Mrs. Fiske, undoubtedly one of the most dignified and famous of dramatic stars, in one of her former successes. Mr. Rolfe's arrangement with Mr. Fiske, the ramifications and obligations of the contract and the ultimate indulging in actual production work by the artistic producer himself, makes the Rolfe-Fiske connection one to be anticipated by the entire industry. The presentation of the Fiske plays will be made through the Alco Film Corporation with which Mr. Rolfe's concern is allied.

The Biograph Special

On Wednesday, December 30, "The Biograph Special," a special train consisting of twelve cars, and carrying 125 members of the Biograph producing force, will leave New York for the Los Angeles studios. This change for the winter months means an extraordinary expenditure of money on the part of the Biograph Company, but it means much to the exhibitor also. It means that, for the next six months, Biograph pictures will be produced amidst such wonderful settings as are offered by the tropical foliage of southern California, the picturesque scenes of the Rocky Mountains, the great American desert, the mysterious Pacific ocean, and other scenic wonders of the United States that offer suitable backgrounds.

"The Avenging Conscience"

D. W. Griffith's masterpiece "The Avenging Conscience," six reels in length, has been secured by A. M. Eisner of the E. L. K. Feature Film Company, 512 Mallers building, Chicago, for this territory, and bookings are already being taken. The picture is claimed to be Director Griffith's supreme achievement, the story having been suggested by Edgar Allan Poe's story entitled "The Telltale Heart." The feature will be reviewed at greater length in our next week's issue, and an announcement of importance made regarding its opening at a big downtown theater.

Mary Pickford to New York Corporation

That a contract which would make Mary Pickford a star of the New York Motion Picture Corporation, was ready for immediate signing, was the information obtained at the office of the corporation in the Longacre Building as this issue of Motography went to press. Adam Kessell, president, gave his permission to the making of this statement and added that four or five other people of established reputation were expected to sign contracts with the corporation at the same time.

Dorothy Bernard Joins Lubin

Dorothy Bernard, the clever twenty-four year old English girl, has joined the Lubin forces and has been assigned to Barry O'Neil's company. She will play the lead in George Klein's "The District Attorney," which Mr. O'Neil is now making at the Lubin studios in Philadelphia. Miss Bernard was born in South Africa, h e r f a t h e r and mother being in one of the first English stock companies to play in Africa. When she was nine years of age Miss Bernard went to Australia with Nance O'Neil's company, t h e n back to San Francisco to the Grand Opera H o u s e stock. From there she went to Los Angeles and Portland, p l a y i n g child parts for the famous old Belasco and Burbank stock companies. At seventeen years of age Miss Bernard was one of the most popular ingenue leading women on the west coast. Later she was in stock with Vaughan Glaser in Detroit, in vaudeville with William Courtleigh, and leading woman for Shubert in "The Ringmaster." For two years she was with the Biograph under the direction of D. W. Griffith. After her Biograph engagement, Miss Bernard went back to the stage at the Columbia theater in Washington, D. C., where she played for two seasons. She has played all variety parts from "Puckers" in "The Prince Chap," to musical comedy and big emotional leading parts.

Vitagraph's New Policy for Coming Year

Beginning Tuesday, January 5, all the Broadway Star features of three reels made by the Vitagraph Company will be released through the regular program of the General Film Company. The releases will be made at the rate of one each week, every alternate Tuesday and every alternate Saturday. The advantage of this change to the exhibitors is obvious and gives them an option on the much desired films.

It was William S. Hart's work as "Cash Hawkins," in "The Squaw Man," that convinced Thomas H. Ince that Hart was the man to star in "gunman" parts for the New York Motion Picture Corporation.
Film Men's New Year Resolutions
Gathered by Mabel Condon

MIDNIGHT, December 31, seems to be the time of all the year when folks pause momentarily in their daily occupations, look hastily back over the accomplishments or shortcomings of the year just ended, and with a desire for better things solemnly lift their hands and make resolutions for the new year.

This year, however, Mabel Condon of Motography resolved to take time by the forelock and get the resolutions of as many men of filmdom as possible, in advance of the fatal midnight hour of December 31. Appeals, accordingly, were sent to men in every department of the great film industry, asking them to report the nature of the resolutions they would be most likely to make when the proper hour should come. On account of the early press date of Motography and the fact that many replies were delayed in the mails, the responses which are listed below are not in any sense the total of those received.

Arranged alphabetically the resolutions and their makers are as follows:

HARRY E. AITKEN.

To make the coming year an unprecedented year of prosperity and profit, that the public may see better pictures than ever before, and a greater number of people be attracted to the theaters because of the higher quality of the entertainment provided. (To abet the higher admission price because increased competition among manufacturers and a greater cost in picture making have made a higher price a plain necessity, because the public is always willing to pay a little more when it receives a great deal more for its money. (To see that motion picture standards continue on the upward grade. Theater conditions are better, the public is more keenly appreciative of good pictures and business conditions promise all that the responsible men in the art could reasonably expect.

* * *

J. STUART BLACKTON.

To promote peace and happiness on earth and to continue to produce the world's best pictures.

* * *

ANDREW J. COBE.

To do all within my power to elevate the motion picture art. To broaden its scope and usefulness; making it not only a means of entertainment, but also a source of help and edification to the spectator. (To extend to the exhibitor the hand of cooperation, realizing that our success is measured entirely by the success he enjoys. (To place upon the exhibitors' screens pictures of only the highest grade, both in subject and interpretation, being convinced that the determining factor of the exhibitors' success is now, and always will be, the quality of the film he shows. (To base all business operations upon the foundation of irreproachable integrity; our statements upon the truth alone and our dealings with all upon honor and fidelity.
WILLIAM P. COOPER.

To make the Standard program, to be issued by the Standard Polyscope Corporation, absolutely standard in photographic quality, human interest quality and the quality of moral cleanliness. (To see that during 1913 and every year thereafter, the slogan of the Standard Polyscope Corporation shall be "Nothing's too Good for the Exhibitor." (To be sure that the Standard Polyscope Corporation lives up to its slogan in every angle of the business.

** * * *

ANDREW DOUGHERTY.

To give the best photography. (To give logical, consistent screen stories. (To give an honest service to the exhibitor and to the public.

** * * *

WILLIAM FOX.

To be regarded as the "Tiffany" of the moving picture business. (To get the best and give the best. (To make money—and I appreciate that the way to do it is to produce the pictures that get the money. (To have the support of the leading theater owners in the country.

** * * *

ADAM KESSELL, JR.

To engage for our productions only stars of worldwide reputation and, by securing the rights to the works of some of the best known authors, give our actors and actresses the benefit thereof. (To have the actual work of making films done in a plant second to none in the country, and which has been pronounced by experts as the last word in motion picture manufacturing, thereby insuring the highest quality for our brands. (To continue as in the past to keep the New York Motion Picture Corporation abreast of the times and up to, if not in the lead of all, that is, to put our brands to the front and make them popular.

** * * *

CARL LAEMMLE.

To keep ding-donging at the exhibitor for three hundred and sixty-five days more, urging him to raise the price of admission so that his patrons will help him carry the increased burden of expenses that is bound to fall on his shoulders as a result of the terrific increase in the cost of producing pictures fit for the modern market. (To make Universal City (near Los Angeles, Cal.) the wonder city of the world; the best equipped place on earth in which to make moving pictures; and hereby invite every man, woman and child who may read this resolution to visit Universal City any time after the formal opening on the fifteenth of March and see how Universal moving pictures are made. (To continue to give all exhibitors the straight inside truth about the moving picture business as fast as I can learn it or foresee it myself; and try to make myself useful to exhibitors whether they
To be enabled, either at the beginning of March or in April, to offer, through twenty-five agencies in the United States, a complete and varied program every week. For that purpose I want to group the best producers of negatives filmed with whom I shall have a mutual understanding on the condition that they are willing to make good.

* * *

HORACE G. PLEMPTON.

To make the best one and two-reel pictures in the world, because we believe these are what the public wants. To furnish two or three really funny comedies each week of the kind that theatergoers want. To make our dramas clean and healthy, as they always have been, and each one is going to have a punch.

* * *

W. E. ROTHACKER.

To consistently maintain our 5 years’ unbroken record of 100% satisfied customers. To with aggressive sincerity push forward our campaign to SWAT the lie in moving picture advertising. To investigate and if good, purchase, install and maintain everything new in studio or factory equipment that will make for higher quality in industrial moving pictures.

* * *

S. L. ROTHALPFEI.

To never again judge a picture. To never again say “yes.” To never again say “no.”

* * *

WALTER HOFF SEELY.

To not call every production a masterpiece or classic. To go on being on the level with the exhibitor. To see that every Alco release will not find the hero and heroine in a Greco Roman embrace. To be unconventional in that we try to improve upon our best works. To keep our resolutions.

* * *

LEWIS J. SELZNICK.

To not be content until every exhibitor has been educated to realize that his future is absolutely secure when he runs a feature an entire week, but in no event should he show them less than three days. To convince exhibitors that second runs are more valuable to them than first runs. This is a new idea and like new ideas it is apt to be scoffed at. I am willing to go on record that a year from now the idea will be universally applied. To not be satisfied until I have made the World Film Corporation the biggest and most progressive film organization in the world, and further I shall not be content until I have raised the standard of the film business to the highest commercial plane possible.

* * *

ADOLPH ZUKOR.

To always tell trade journalists one-half of a story; the other half will be supplied anyhow. To respect every other film concern’s policy and efforts; they are backed by confidence and sincerity, and that’s half of any battle. To always do only one thing at one time, and sometimes only one thing for more than one time.

A new and interesting method of double exposure has been discovered by William Foster, manager of the laboratories of the Universal west coast studios.

The Life Photo Film Corporation has secured an option on the services of Miss Minnie Dupree, the vaudeville and legitimate star.
Pathe’s “The Life of Our Savior”

At a private exhibition, on Monday, December 14, at E. E. Fulton’s projection room, Lake street, Chicago, the seven-reel Pathe-Eclectic natural colored film, “The Life of Our Savior,” was shown to the trade press and the managers of a number of the more important Chicago houses.

The production is one which is worthy of praise and which, despite the fact that the same subject has been done several times previously, is sure to be popular. The entire seven thousand feet are beautifully colored and at no time does the artistic finish lapse into a gaudy coloring, which is often the case in films of this kind. The backgrounds were selected by a man who knew how to distinguish beauty spots from ordinary scenery and every scene is in itself beautiful.

It was filmed in the Holy Land, amid surroundings which lend an authentic air to the settings. The ancient cities, countrysides and buildings are perfect in detail and the scenes taken in the desert are a rare treat, for they carry the true atmosphere of Egypt.

The photography is another asset, worth consideration, for the majority of “tricks” known to the average cameraman are attempted and never once do they fail to accomplish their purpose. The fades are handled in a manner that is certain to win applause. It is rather unusual that only one close-up scene appeared throughout, for in a film where camera effects are numerous this is usually resorted to often.

The acting is excellent. The types are well chosen and carry their parts with the air of restraint that a production of this nature requires in order to achieve success. Especially good is the work of the actor playing the part of Christ and of the actress filling the role of Mary. The supernumeraries, who are as plentiful as they have been in all big feature productions imported from Europe, do what is required of them in an intelligent and business-like manner.

The story itself, while it makes no pretense at continuity, becomes highly dramatic toward the close. It proceeds from the birth to the death and resurrection, including the more important events in the life of the Savior and treating each incident in a very convincing manner. Considered both from the artistic and box office points of view, “The Life of Our Savior” is a film worth the attention of any exhibitor.

C. J. C.

New Film Company Contemplated

Three of the younger generation of motion picture men are to form a new producing company named “Federal Films Inc.” Will Rex, formerly of the Famous Players; Art Busch of the McNamara Features, and Al Ray, of Ramo, are the men referred to.

They contemplate building studios at Hollywood, California, and on the upper west side, New York City, and engaging many famous players for their stock companies. It is the intention of these men to release a program of four and five reel mystery plays based on famous detective novels put into scenario form by Will Rex and other well-known script-writers. Besides these dramas they will put out a single reel comedy each week, featuring Al Ray.

Their first dramatic offering will be directed by Tom Powers, who is now directing for Florence Turner in England, and who formerly was a member of the Vitagraph producing staff.

A Mystery Story

Edwin August has picked his cast for the first picture which he will make for the Kinetophone. As has been announced, his leading woman is Bliss Milford, who has been an Edison star for some time back. The others in the cast will be Clare Hillier, a child actress; Edward J. Peil, Hal August, Thomas J. O’Keefe, Virginia Russell and Emmet Whitney. The picture which Mr. August will produce has been advertised as a “mysterious thing,” and from the hints which have been thrown out at the Kinetophone offices on West Forty-sixth street, it is to be one of the queerest productions yet put before the motion picture public. Some ideas are to be tried which have never before been tried in moving pictures and the effects which are promised will be different from anything yet shown on the screen. So much mystery has been thrown around the making of the picture that Mr. August when asked point blank about it said: “Well, it is a mystery picture, so why shouldn’t there be mystery thrown around it? However, you may be sure that when the announcement of the title is made there will be some astonished people in the game who will wonder why they have not thought of it before.”

A Picturesque Production

“The Adventures of Gar El Hama,” the Great Northern Film Company’s latest feature, is an exceptionally picturesque production. It was staged amid the beautiful rugged scenery on the southern coast of Sweden, on the high seas between Denmark and Sweden, and on a deserted island in that vicinity. That section is not surpassed for scenic splendor by any other coast locations in either Europe or America.

Many spectacular and unusual scenes were thus secured. In producing the photoplay, three different kinds of sea-going ships were used, a schooner, a tug and a yacht. Some very realistic and thrilling incidents were enacted on the boats, especially on the yacht.

The title role in the picture is essayed by the well-known Continental dramatic star, A. Hertel.

Chaplin Signs With Essanay

A moment before locking up the forms MOTOGRAPHY was informed that the Essanay Film Manufacturing Company of Chicago has secured the signature of Charles Chaplin, known from coast to coast as “the funny man of the films,” to a contract calling for what is alleged to be the largest salary ever paid a motion picture actor. Mr. Chaplin will begin work in the Chicago studios of the Essanay Company within a week.
CHRISTMAS AND THE YEAR'S END

To summarize the events of an exceedingly active and fertile year in a few limited lines of type is a task of cold compilation. In its brief and compressed form such a summary can show only results; it cannot convey even a hint of the long hours of intense application, the dreams and the enthusiasms that made the year a big one in our industry—that have made the industry itself big and virile as it has always been.

But now more than half the world is bending its thoughts to destruction. Even our own country, physically untouched by the general desolation, cannot but sense its depressing influence. Many of its industries cannot find enough work for their men to do. It will be a hard Christmas for some.

While we find it in our hearts to feel deeply for those who are in distress because of the dearth of employment or the insufficiency of business, and may even surreptitiously give them here and there a little something out of our plenty, we cannot restrain a certain amount of exuberant joy in this joyous season, that this business is good for us; and we are proving now more than ever that the motion picture business is a good business; a substantial business; an honorable and dignified and especially a prosperous business.

It is no longer permissible to say the motion picture is "still in its infancy." It is in its youth—the glorious, sparkling period when every day brings change and new development; when every new year brings promise of being greater than the old year. Our summary of events reveals, in its necessarily dis-passionate style, as busy a fifty-two week period as any industry in the world can show. But between the lines there is promise of a still busier, still more fruitful and prosperous year ahead for everybody in the motion picture business.

FILMOPHOBIA.

Writing in the Chicago Journal, O. L. Hall claims to detect signs that some of the producers of "legitimate" plays are "still afflicted with filmophobia." They think it necessary, he says, to do something to re-establish popular faith in the new stars as well as put their glamour through too widespread film distribution. Some of them have firmly announced their intention of avoiding such stars in future casts. But of course they will do no such thing, as Mr. Hall admits. They will go on using the star that fits the part, regardless of his or her film exploitation.

Maybe they have got filmophobia. "Phobias" in general are evidences of mental disease, and the idea that a theatrical personality loses magnetism by being presented on picture theater screens is surely a morbid conclusion. But Mr. Hall tries manfully to justify it in this wise:

The makers and exhibitors of photoplays, as they call them, have a great advantage over the producers of drama and the legitimate exploiters of historic talent. You can draw crowds to a picture shop to see the flickering likeness of a player who has made his fame on the stage, but you cannot draw into a regular theater a crowd to see a performer who has made his name in pictures. John Bunny is, or was, the most celebrated of the comic picture actors, but when he returned to the theater a little while ago he quickly declined into a low-price attraction. It is not that Bunny is less of a bore in pictures than he is in the life; it is that he has been seen at every angle for the tenth part of a dollar. The theater creates stars for the motion picture industry, but the motion picture industry creates nothing for the legitimate theaters. Managers were saying a few years ago that the motion picture theater was a training school which was preparing a new public for the standard theater. They now know they were wrong.

He seems to have picked on Bunny deliberately because that jovial picture player has not met with the success on his last trip that he may have anticipated. But there is no evidence that the fact that Bunny gained his reputation in pictures is answerable for his alleged present status as a "low-price attraction." Why not mention Mary Pickford and Crane Wilbur and Paul Panzer and Marie Eline and Pearl Sindelar and other screen stars who have gone from pictures to legitimate or vaudeville and not only scored great successes but at good admission prices? True, they go back to pictures again, but that is because pictures actually have more to offer any good player today than has either the legitimate or the vaudeville stage.

As to the old saying that the pictures were a training school for the legitimate, that was an honest prediction in its day and was believed by all the profession. But it has simply outgrown its usefulness. Mr. Hall and the producers he defends are fearful now that the legitimate is becoming a training school for the picture studio—as indeed it already is.

The exploiting of personalities has long been the chief aim and the greatest success of theatrical producers. It has not been true for years that "the play's the thing." The attraction is not the dramatic value of the play, but the advertised value of the players. Whether this is a good or a bad condition we will not discuss now; but it is certainly responsible for any epidemic of filmophobia that may exist among producers.

Nevertheless, their argument defeats itself. If it is personality the public seeks, not playing, it will still willingly pay its two dollars for a look at its favorite talent. With all our worship for the film, the film player on the screen is a picture, not a personality. This is not saying that the picture is not just as attractive as the personality, at least to a normal mind. But the fact remains that so long as the producers persist in featuring and advertising persons rather than plays, the people will continue to pay to see those persons in real life. And when they want good playing they will go to the pictures.

PLAYLET ON VITAGRAPH BILL.

A playlet again occupies a place on the Vitagraph theater program, but this time it is not pantomime. Sidney Drew is the main character in "What the Moon Saw," and S. Rankin Drew, the author of the one-act drama, Jane Morrow, Edwina Robbins, Paul Scarden, and J. Herbert Frank make up the supporting cast.

A one-reel comedy, "The Egyptian Mummy," heads the bill beginning Sunday, December 13, and is followed by a two-part drama, "Out of the Past," that is somewhat above the average program release. Another one-reel picture, "A Question of Clothes," and the Mezzanotte Trio precede the personal appearance of Mr. Drew and company, and a three-reel picture of the Broadway Star Feature Company brand, "Underneath the Paint," completes the bill.

The latter play, as its title suggests, is a vivid picturization of the misery and sorrows that occupy a prominent place in the private life of an actress, and which are outwardly transformed into smiles and expressions of joy with the donning of grease paint. Helen Gardner and Gladdeen James play the principal parts in "Underneath the Paint," which was written and produced by Charles L. Gaskill. C. R. C.

---

Just a Moment Please

Paid your war tax yet?

Down at the Philadelphia exhibitors' ball, we understand they auctioned off a picture of Clara Kimball Young for the Belgian Relief Fund and that Siegmund Lubin and Carl Laemmle, clubbing together, paid over $50 for it. Gee, it must have taken a Solomon to determine who the picture belonged to! The P. A. forgot to say whether it was "Pop" or Carl who bore it away in triumph. Doubtless, though, Laemmle Luck brought Carl out the winner.

FAMOUS NICKS.

Czar Nick.
Nick Carter.
Nick Olsen Power.
Sela Nick.
Old Nick.
Saint Nick.

It won't be long till they'll be calling this the Gollos United States of America if this hustling little feature film man keeps it up. Not satisfied with owning Ill., Wis., Minn., Mich. and Ind., A. M. has this week secured Wash., Ore., Utah, Ida., Nev., Mont., N. D., S. D., Col., Wy., Ken., and Alaska.

THEM CUSSED PRINTERS.

Just by way of showing that we knew better, we're printing over again the portraits of John W. Grey and James W. Castle, whom the printer got all balled up in our last week's issue. Due to the strange fact that both boys are attached to the initials J. W. the mistake is perhaps excusable, but if it wasn't for that fact we should certainly sly our make-up man in cold blood. However, fellers, if you'll forgive us for the mistake this time, we'll promise it will never occur again and take pleasure now in setting you right with the public. Folks, permit us to again introduce J. W. Grey and J. W. Castle, with the right names under the right fellers this time.

With our Christmas shopping only half done it begins to look as though we couldn't keep our balance in the bank even with the aid of a gyroscope. However, Christmas comes but once a year.

Writing a last line is a snap this week.

It's so easy to write.

Merry Christmas.

N. G. C.
Edison Offers Story of Civic Graft
Reviewed by Charles R. Condon

MARY IMLAY TAYLOR has visualized a very simple but attractive story in "The Magnet of Paradise," and the manner in which it is interpreted by a capable cast of Edison players does it full justice. It is odd that one should feel especially interested in a story just because the grown-up, refined characters in it were companions in "the days of real sport," when a dirty face, torn stocking, or hunger-prompted raid upon an apple orchard, followed by unceremonious flight, were items of daily occurrence. But such is the case, at least in this picture, for it supplies the human-interest element, and puts punch and significance into situations that would ordinarily be commonplace.

Augustus Phillips plays the leading role as Hugh Holland, the young lawyer whose appointment to the office of district attorney places him in the unenviable position of indicting a man who has known him since his boyhood days. Gertrude Dallas has a most melancholy and emotional part as Betty Callander, the girl that is drawn by two loves that are opposed to each other. Robert Brower and Frank McGlynn enact the "heavy" impersonations, though of the two Mr. McGlynn is the most villainous. Mr. Brower is an excellent type for the role assigned him. The big scenes are well handled, realistic in their action, and convincing in the numbers employed.

At the beginning of the story the deep-rooted love and pleasing familiarity existing between Betty Callander and Hugh Holland is explained by the visualization of one of their reminiscence-chats in which we learn that the two were playmates in their youth in the country town of Paradise. Five years have elapsed since their last meeting, and Hugh is now a lawyer with a wide reputation for integrity and a consequent appointment to the chair of district attorney in Paradise to fill the vacancy brought about by the past district attorney's committing suicide.

Before Holland leaves to take up his new work Callander sends for him and attempts to bribe him to forget the impending investigation of the workings of the Traction Company of which he is president, but Holland refuses, tearing in half the check offered him. Finlaison, Callander's right-hand man, pastes the two pieces together and suggests that they show the check to the newspapers as evidence that Holland has accepted the bribe. The plan is successful, and the next day the papers are full of the account of how the new district attorney has already fallen off of his virtuous pedestal.

Shortly afterwards Finlaison approaches Betty, and begs her to marry him. She turns on the man and accuses him of having trumped up the charge against her lover. He confesses and then tells her that her father is powerless in his grasp. The story with which he supports his statement astounds Betty. It seems that a short time prior to his death the district attorney of Paradise had everything prepared to expose the Traction Company. Callander tried to bribe him out of it, and when he refused to accept the money, shot him. Finlaison was the only witness to the crime.

Looking through his predecessor's unfinished business, Holland finds the evidence that, presented in court, will seal the Traction Company's doom. Betty calls on him, learns of his find, and pleads with him to give up the fight against the corporation. He defers answering, and that night attends a meeting to speak against trusts. Finlaison shoots him as he rises to take the platform, and only the quick action of the constables save the man from a lynching. In the meantime Callander succumbs to heart failure, brought on partly by fear of the knowledge that Holland can put him in prison and partly by the agony of knowing that his daughter Betty is aware of his share in the late district attorney's death.

Holland recovers and his first official act is to burn up the incriminating evidence against the Traction Company, the body of the commercial octopus now being out of the way. The lifelong romance between him and Betty culminates in their marriage.

Zudora's Fifth Adventure Exciting
Reviewed by Clarence J. Caine

As the "Zudora" series continues one is forced to admire more and more the acting of James Cruze and Marguerite Snow, who appear in the leading roles. In episode five, entitled "The Perpetual Glare," which will be released on Monday, December 21, Mr. Cruze's portrayal of the character of Hassan Ali is especially worthy of praise. Although there are only a few dramatic moments in the play, he utilizes every one of them to the best possible advantage. Miss Snow excels in the title role whenever she is called upon to carry the action forward.

This episode is worthy of consideration as a two-reel production, aside from the fact that it is part of the well-known series. It is composed of a series of interesting incidents and leads up to an exciting climax, which is preceded by a strong element of suspense. A hill is mined by Zudora's uncle and John Storm is walking upon it when the fuse is lighted. Cut backs are used effectively, showing the detective heroine racing toward her lover and the burning fuse creeping toward the explosives, alternately. She arrives in time, however, and just as she leads Storm from his danger the mine explodes. There is no mere puff of smoke in this, but, on the contrary, it is one of the most realistic explosions this reviewer has seen for several months.

The plot, as has been the custom in the series, hinges upon a mystery which Zudora must solve, but it is in some places rather vague and there seem to be some motives missing. This fact will undoubtedly be covered up by the action, however, and the two reels will easily serve the purpose of satisfying a patron and drawing him back to see the ensuing installments.

The story opens with a visit of two of Hassan Ali's confederates to his apartments. He pays them in advance for their services and then instructs them to use their invention, a powerful machine which absorbs and sends out the rays of the sun, for his purposes. Zudora enters the mystic room while they are talking and Hassan Ali surprises the confederates by telling the girl that his friends have lost a valuable gem and that her next mystery will be the finding of it. The confederates leave and when he is alone with the girl Hassan Ali's hate for her almost overcomes him but he controls himself before she notices him.

A few days later she visits the confederates' hut in the woods and is told that the gem must be some place in the vicinity, as they have been instructed by her uncle to do away with her. She starts her search, when suddenly a paper which she is holding in her hand bursts into flame. Frightened, she returns home and tells Hassan Ali, but he laughs at her. The next day she returns with John Storm and again the invisible cause of the flame frightens her. Storm believes Hassan Ali of being implicated in the plot more than ever when both he and Zudora are made prisoners by the confederates when they visit the hut the following day. Again they escape and the next time Storm visits the woods he goes alone. Hassan Ali determines to rid himself of Zudora's lover and mines the hillside on which the machine is situated. Storm finds the machine and demoliishes it, but, while he is engaged in doing this, Hassan Ali sets off the fuse. Zudora learns of her lover's peril and rushes toward the place in a buggy. She arrives a moment before the explosion and leads Storm to safety.
Thumbprint Evidence in American Film
Reviewed by Neil G. Caward

A RURAL mystery, which has to do with the death of an old miser and the possibility that any one of three men might have been responsible for his death, lends interest to "The Sower Reaps," which is a two reel release of the American Film Manufacturing Company for Monday, December 21.

Jack Richardson, Vivian Rich, William Garwood and Reaves Eason are the characters about whom the story revolves, and all of them splendidly impersonate the types they are expected to represent. Photographically the picture is fully up to the standard for which the American is famous and the tinting in several of the scenes is alone worthy of comment.

As the story opens, Peter Pelham, district attorney, learns with surprise that Ben Rolfe, the schoolmaster, has been selected by the reformers of the town to run against him for the office of district attorney at the coming election. Pelham straightway summons Rolfe to his office and there makes him an offer of money to withdraw from the campaign. Needless to say, Rolfe indignantly refuses and as he is about to leave, notes that old miser Pike is a caller on Pelham. Pelham, it seems, had years before bribed a jury with money given him by Pike and ever since that time Pike had been blackmailing him at frequent intervals.

Rolfe has a dissipated young brother, Tim, with whom he starts for home that same afternoon, Tim being in such a condition that he is unable to walk alone. Cutting across a meadow the two come upon Laurel, old Pike's daughter, and Ben stops to chat with her.

Tim, left alone, sees old Pike leaving his humble home to totter up to the ruins of an old mill near by, and instantly jumps to the conclusion that it is there that old Pike conceals his money, and drunkenly determines to follow and spy upon him.

It soon develops that Pike had gone to add to his fortune of hidden wealth and Tim surprises him, and quickly overpowers and robs him. Pelham, meanwhile, taking a short cut to his home, chances to pass near the mill and Pike, surviving the blow struck by Tim, staggers out into the open just in time to see Pelham and, supposing it to be he who had struck him down, he draws a revolver and attempts to shoot the man he believes has assaulted him. Pelham, in self-defense, wrests the revolver from him and fires to kill.

Laurel and Ben, hearing the shot, go to investigate and on the way to the scene meet Tim, who confesses his shameful crime and returns the gold to Laurel. Further along Ben finds the pistol which Pelham had flung away and notes that its handle bears the thumb-prints of someone. Wrapping the pistol in his handkerchief Ben preserves the thumb-print and pistol as evidence.

Meanwhile Pelham has returned to the scene and finding Ben and Laurel there seeks to divert suspicion to Ben. His clasp on Ben's wrist leaves a smutty thumb-print and when Laurel discovers a bullet hole in Pelham's coat Ben, determined to save Tim and recalling the scene in Pelham's office when old Pike had appeared, accuses Pelham of being the murderer.

Ben hastens away from the scene to compare the smutty thumb-print on his wrist with that on the handle of the revolver. Pelham, meanwhile, finding Cummings Joins American

Irving Cummings, former star of the Thanhouser company, for some time leading man of the Reliance company, and in the old days at the head of a Champion company, recently was induced to sign an American contract and left immediately for Santa Barbara, California, where it is understood he is to play the leading male roles in the productions staged by the first American company. Mr. Cummings thus becomes the successor of William Garwood, Sydney Ayres and Warren Kerrigan, and will undoubtedly be strongly featured in dramas calling for an emotional lead. Congratulations are extended both to Mr. Cummings and the American company.

"As Ye Sow" A Strong Production

Those whom the rain kept away from the Playhouse in New York City on Sunday night, December 13, missed seeing a feature that would have more than compensated them for the discomfort suffered en route. It is seldom that one sees a performance as delightful and gratifying as that given by Alice Brady in "As Ye Sow," a William A. Brady five-part picture, released through the World Film Corporation. Miss Brady's gowns were wonderful and plentiful in number, and she fully looked the part of the millionaire's daughter, a fact which, sorry to relate, is not true of all leading women who play such parts.

The action takes place in and about Cape Cod, and the rugged coast line and inland towns of Massachusetts furnishes the settings for a number of the outdoor scenes. The photography is restful and clear. Especially good are the scenes in which the fishing schooner is seen battering itself to pieces on the rocks off the cape. A sensational climax is reached in the villain's battle for life with another man on the edge of a steep cliff, towering above the sea. The figures standing out in bold relief against the sky.

The story is of a ne'er-do-well who obtains a position as chauffeur for a wealthy family, and induces the millionaire's daughter to elope with him. After their child's birth the girl banishes the brute from the house. He returns, steals the baby, leaves it on his mother's doorstep, and goes to sea. A few years afterwards the young wife moves to the neighboring village and unknowingly boards at her husband's home. She and the child become great friends. A shipwreck off of the cape brings the ne'er-do-well home. With the exception of learning that her child friend is her own baby, the poor wife gains nothing but misery by his return. The brute is killed in a fight with one of his former boon companions, and the girl is left free to marry his brother, whom she loves as much as she despised her husband.

C. R. C.

Mina Films Released

The long heralded comedies known as Mina films will make their first appearance on the General Film program this week. The first release, "The Thrilling Adventures of Count Verace," is on the licensed schedule for December 17, this picture being directed by Milton Fahnney and having for its leading woman Mlle. Valleyrie, the noted Danish film favorite. It is said to be the first American single reel subject to employ a great European star. It will be remembered that this new member of the licensed group was originally announced as "Ace," which was soon withdrawn and that the brand name was finally chosen by an open competition for a prize of $250.00. Out of eleven hundred answers "Mina," the suggestion of the well known newspaper humorist and photoplaywright, Roy L. McCordell, was chosen. The component letters of Mina stand for Made in America which furnishes the first application on record of the national slogan to motion pictures.

It is now a well known fact that short comedies have become through popular demand an absolute necessity to exhibitors and it was to fill this demand with a product which could be relied upon to sustain a set standard of quality week in, week out, that Mina films were conceived. For the present the releases are to be made once a week on Thursdays, with additions being made from month to month until three a week are being released. The list will include an advanced series of animal pictures in which the Bostock animals will be featured. This collection is said to be the largest and most famous aggregation of trained wild beasts in the world. Twelve of the original trainers and Harry E. Tudor, who has managed the show for ten years, were engaged to handle the famous jungle performers.

Harry LaPearl, the leading American clown, who formerly headed the Barnum & Bailey and New York Hippodrome funmakers is appearing in a serial which burlesques the melodramatic serials now so popular in picture theaters and magazine sections of the various newspapers. Harry Palmer, author of the newspaper comic "Bubbling Bess" and a prominent war correspondent, is preparing a series of cartoon pictures. Mr. Palmer went to the scene of war to obtain sketches for his first subject, "The Siege of Liege," which has been announced for release December 17.

Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the whole layout will be trick comedies made with a camera just invented by David Horsley and which will be used for the first time in Mina films. This camera makes two exposures on the negative with one turn of the crank, thus allowing marvelous effects which have never before been possible, and it is claimed that first showing of the pictures made with this magic box will be a revelation to the oldtimers of the industry.

"Million Dollar Mystery" fans will have an opportunity to see two of their favorites, Flo La Badie and Sidney Bracy, in "Craft vs. Love," a forthcoming Thanhouser two-reel release.
Prominent Vitagraph Star

Beautiful, talented, and of wonderfully convincing dramatic power, Miss Helen Gardner occupies a prominent position in the motion picture art. After graduating from the Sargent Dramatic School, Miss Gardner appeared in several classical pantomimic dramas, but recognizing in the picture play a field in which her highest ideals might be attained, she refused several flattering offers to continue her work behind the footlights, and accepted an offer to become a member of the Vitagraph players. After a short absence from this company, during which she appeared in special features, among which were "Cleopatra," "A Princess of Bagdad," and "A Daughter of Pan," Miss Gardner returned to the Vitagraph Company and is featured in all of the plays written by Charles L. Gaskill. Miss Gardner has done more than play the parts assigned to her. She has made a thorough study of the art of silent expression, and has acquired a knowledge of its subtleties, that is evidenced in all of her characterizations. Each character she portrays is a creation with a personality all its own. In the opinion of many she is herself only off the screen; on it, she is the personification of the being conceived in the mind of the author.

"Pruning the Movies" A Scream

In "Pruning the Movies," the Nestor comedy to be released on Friday, January 1, the Universal takes a sly slap at the local boards of Censorship which have sprung up all over the country. Not content with the censorship of the National Board these censors, composed of local Anthony Comstocks, mutilate an innocent film beyond all recognition, the process showing the "before and after" effects being a side-splitting one. The film illustrates how titles are changed and scenes retaken, and will give the motion picture theatergoer an excellent idea of the way in which self-appointed boards of out-of-work busybodies can work injury to the motion picture industry. The picture uses that most potent of all measures, ridicule, to drive home the point in which everyone in the motion picture business is interested. From start to finish the picture is chock full of laughs and clever character drawing.

Secure Rights to "Bella Donna"

The Famous Players' Film Company will shortly begin an elaborate film production of the world-famed dramatic masterpiece, "Bella Donna," by Robert Hichens, in which Pauline Frederick will be presented in the title role. Miss Frederick and an exceptionally chosen supporting company will be sent to Florida for the exteriors of this noted subject, the atmospheric and geographical conditions of the Southern Atlantic coast being ideally suited for the environment of the play. The film version will be produced under the direction of Edwin S. Porter and Hugh Ford.

Newman's New Frame

The Newman Manufacturing Company., Cincinnati, Ohio, with branch factories at 108 West Lake street, Chicago, Ill, and 101 Fourth avenue, New York city, which manufactures a large and complete line of brass poster frames, easels, railings, ticket choppers and theater fixtures of every description, has just put on the market an attractive brass easel poster frame, which is something exceedingly attractive, and at the same time a money maker. This poster frame displays a one sheet poster in the center, and surrounding this are various compartments in which eight advertising cards can be inserted. These advertising cards bring a revenue of $1.50 per week each, and the advertisements can be taken from stores in the vicinity, or from national advertisers. The Newman Manufacturing Company will be glad to send more complete literature pertaining to this, as well as its complete catalog of other theater fixtures, upon request.

"Zudora" Published as a Song

"Zudora" is being heralded, not only as a film and serial story but also as a song. F. J. A. Forster, a Chicago music publisher, has paid $25,000 to J. R. Shannon, the well known song-writer, for the words and music of the piece and is at present busy popularizing it.

Its success seems certain for the music is catchy and the words appealing. It will doubtless be used by many exhibitors as an accompaniment for the "Zudora" pictures. The cover of sheet presents Marguerite Snow's picture, together with the word "Zudora," containing the "Z" figure which is being used as a trade mark.

Should it become one of the popular pieces of the day it would indeed be an excellent advertisement for both the film and the story, and Miss Snow, the dainty detective, will be even more endeared to the hearts of her many followers through it.

Power's Safety Appliances

The Nicholas Power Company, manufacturers of Power's Cameragraph projection machines, has a booth at the Second International Exposition of Sanitation and Safety, held at the Grand Central Palace, New York City, December 12 to 19 inclusive. The Power Company demonstrates the safety appliances of its machines in a specially constructed theater on the third floor, where the current releases of the various film companies are shown from 2 p.m. until 10:30 p.m. each day.
News of the Week as Shown in Films

French and Algerian troops advancing near Ypres, Belgium. Copyright 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

Scotch regiment in last drill before leaving for front. Copyright 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

King George leaving Buckingham Palace to visit Parliament. Copyright 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

T. M. Osborne millionaire philanthropist now Warden of Sing Sing. Copyright 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.

German cruiser Leipzig sunk past week by British. Copyright by Universal Animated Weekly.

Wreckage at Seabright, N. J., after big storm. Copyright 1914 by Universal Animated Weekly.
Recent Patents in Motography

By David S. Hulfish

No. 1,065,135. For an Improved Indicating Leader for Film Strips. Issued to E. A. Ivatts, Paris, France, assignor to Pathé Frères, Paris, France.

The invention is for the purpose of enabling an unskilled operator to thread up a machine correctly for home exhibitions or educational exhibitions where a skilled operator may not be available.

The leader is provided with colored sections and is threaded with the proper colors upon the sprockets, in the film gate, etc. A proper threading up, with proper loops, etc., thus is insured, even in unskilled hands.

No. 1,065,141. For an Improved Carbon for Projecting Lamps. Issued to John F. Kerlin, Lakewood, Ohio, assignor to National Carbon Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

The carbon rod of invention is particularly adapted for motion picture projecting lanterns, as it holds the arc upon one side of the carbon. The carbon has a groove upon the side, the groove being formed with round bottom to avoid cracking through to the core when baking.

No. 1,065,576. For a New Type of Apparatus for Synchronizing Motion Pictures and Sound Reproductions. Issued to Edward H. Amet, Redondo Beach, Calif.

In the illustrations is shown a motion picture film having guide holes labeled 50, 50 and 50°. In the projecting machine, an air tube blows a jet of air against the film as it passes in being projected and whenever one of the guide holes 50 stops momentarily before the jet of air the air current blows through the guide hole and operates a small diaphragm placed upon the further side of the film. This diaphragm in turn operates an electric switch or contact point and by an ingenious arrangement of step-by-step ratchet relay and magnetic clutch the phonograph record is started and stopped as required by the action of the picture, and successive phonograph records are started at the proper times where the length of the picture film requires more than one such record.

There are nine claims, from which two are selected:

1. The combination with a motion picture machine provided with a ribbon, of pneumatic means to apply pneumatic pressure to one side of the ribbon; said ribbon being provided with perforations; a diaphragm arranged to be operated by pressure passing through such perforations; an electric circuit opened and closed by operation of said diaphragm; an electro-magnet in said circuit; an armature actuated by said electro-magnet; a sound reproducing machine; mechanism driven by the motion picture machine to operate the sound reproducing machine; and means controlled through said armature for operatively connecting and disconnecting the sound reproducing machine with said mechanism.

7. In a motion picture and sound reproducing apparatus, the combination with a motion picture ribbon having holes, of means for supplying air pressure, a sound producing machine and electro-pneumatic means operated by the passage of air under pressure through said holes, for the purpose of starting and stopping the sound-producing machine in synchronism with said motion picture ribbon.

No. 1,065,756. For an Improved Cabinet Stand for Picture Projecting. Issued to Frank T. Wilson, Stillwater, Minn.

The rheostats and controlling switches are arranged upon the inside face of a door which when closed has the apparatus inside the cabinet, holding it safe from accidental injury. When in use, the door is kept open and swings to such a position as to render the switches convenient for use and to afford full ventilation for the rheostats.

No. 1,066,765. For a Trick Lantern Slide. Issued to Alexander S. Spiegel, Chicago, III., assignor of part to Robert Glendenning, Chicago, III. The lantern slide comprises two plates. One of the plates is a screen of alternate transparent lines and opaque lines. The other plate contains a picture limited to one set of lines matching the opaque lines of the screen plate when the picture is not to be seen, and movable to match with the transparent lines of the screen plate when the picture is to be seen.

No. 1,066,766. For Apparatus Adapted to Make Lantern Slides Having a Form of "Motion Picture" Effect. Issued to Alexander S. Spiegel, Chicago, Ill., assignor of part to Robert Glendenning, Chicago, Ill. This patent is for an amplification of the application of the foregoing patent, No. 1,066,765, and this patent provides for producing several pictures upon a single plate and for showing them successively through the transparent lines of the screw plates.

A Neat Program

MOTOGRAPHY is in receipt of Vol. 1, No. 1, of the American Photoplay Weekly, a nifty little sixteen-page program issued weekly by the Liberty Theater Company of Salt Lake City, Utah, devoted to the coming productions at the American and Liberty theaters, which are controlled by the Liberty Theater Company. H. A. Sims is manager of the periodical, A. S. Hatfield, editor, and H. L. Knappen, advertising manager. All are to be complimented upon the neat little booklet they are issuing and the photoplay patrons of Salt Lake City should not lack for information concerning the picture plays they are to see. The American theater opens daily at 2 p. m. and runs continuously until 11 at night. It has 1,700 seats at ten cents, 800 at five cents, 300 at ten cents and 200 at fifteen cents. The Liberty operates from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 11, and charges an admission of ten cents to adults and five cents to children under twelve.

Reel Fellows’ Costume Ball

Preliminary arrangements are being made by the executive committee of the Reel Fellows’ Club for a monster costume ball which will be housed in Chicago’s largest auditorium for such affairs. The initial plans as drawn up by the reigning officers will establish this event as the first of its kind ever held in the big middle west metropolis.

The creative genius of the many scenic artists associated with the various motion picture studios in and about Chicago will be employed to give the ball a picturesque enclosure. Many of the noted artists with their famous character portrayals will have their booths so constructed as to represent some familiar scene in a big production in which they have taken part.

All this is working toward the establishment of permanent quarters for the Reel Fellows’ Club, which has had an astounding growth since its inception some months ago. The membership is such that it represents every branch of the industry. While it would be possible to go ahead with club rooms without a benefit ball, it is felt that such quarters would be far too small within six months, judged by the club’s present rapid growth. A special publicity committee has been appointed which will work toward getting news notes in the various trade papers and the daily papers in and about Chicago. Committees have been appointed consisting of men who are experienced in the various duties that have been entrusted to them. The executive committee consists of Warren A. Patrick, R. R. Nehls, Charles Nixon, Omer F. Doud, L. A. Boening, W. R. Rothacker and C. T. VerHalen. The arrangement committee consists of Walter Early, Neil Caward, Frank Hough, R. C. Travers and Rapley Holmes. Charles Andress is chairman of the publicity and program committee and is assisted by Walter Hildreth, Fred Wagner, E. O. Blackburn and C. J. VerHalen. The entertainment committee consists of W. R. Rothacker, N. Sawyer, O. F. Spahr, O. F. Doud and E. J. Hickey. The refreshment committee is composed of Tom Quill, J. W. Brickhouse and George A. Berg.

At the next regular meeting of the Reel Fellows’ Club of Chicago, which will be held at the Hotel Sherman in the Italian Room on Wednesday evening, December 16, the gathering will be addressed by Mr. Blair of the Eastman Company. His subject will be "Raw Stock." At each future meeting the club will be addressed by some representative person in the motion picture business on the branch of the business he represents.

For the present the headquarters of the Reel Fellows’ Club will be Suite 505, Ashland block, and all the officers of the organization will use this address.
Brevities of the Business

William H. Wright, who has put his likeable personality into the management of the company which makes Excelsior films, is engaged otherwise and of the company, Mr. Williams vice-president and Mr. Wright secretary. A keen man of business and a believer in honor and honesty, Mr. Wright's dealings with others are of the kind on which the success of a business depends. He has his finger in the air, and if Mr. Wright says something, it is to be taken as gospel. Not that Mr. Wright's statements are based on facts and anything but his own experience, but he is a man of the people, and his words are taken at their face value.

Fred (Wid) Gunnling, formerly of Warners' and later with the Sid Olcott Players, is conducting the Saturday morning picture page on the Evening Mail.

Harry E. Aitken, president of the Mutual Film Corporation, has called in the services of Philip Mindil, publicity specialist, to act in an advisory capacity for "Runaway June," the new George Randolph Chester serial which the Reliance is about to put out. Mindil organized the elaborate publicity department of the Mutual and is now conducting a general publicity bureau in the Times Building. The Reliance will require a large portion of his time from now on.

A special showing of the Kleine five part features, "Officer 666," was given Tuesday morning at the Candler theater. George Kleine, William Selig, George K. Spoor and J. A. Bernt were among those present.

Director Charles M. Scay, Edison, with Bessie Learne, Marie Le Manna and Mrs. William Bechel, has been in Washington and North Carolina for some time filming scenes for a new play of the South.

Full credit is given by William D. Taylor, director for the Favorite Players, to Homer Scott, the star cameraman of that company. Scott's excellent work in the "Key to Yesterday" and "The Man Who Could Not Lose" placed him in the front rank of motion picture photographers.

Little Audrey Berry of the Vitagraph players is a firm believer in Santa Claus, her only doubt about him being as to whether he comes in a sleigh or on an auto-mobile. Not long since, Little Miss Berry, with some hundred other children, visited one of the big department stores in order to get a glimpse of and shake hands with Santa. "Santa" was a screen fan and when he recognized Little Audrey he was certain she would be remembered on Christmas.

Arthur S. Kane, assistant general manager of the World Film Corporation, is away from New York on a two weeks' business trip. His itinerary will include Philadelphia, New York, Washington, Atlanta, New Orleans and Dallas. From there he is not certain which way he will travel, but he will make a careful study of conditions in each of the cities mentioned, giving special attention to conditions in the home plant. Mr. Lowry gives glowing accounts of the beauties of California and the wonderful development of the Lubin Los Angeles studio. The trip was a combination of business and pleasure, but Mr. Lowry declares it was all pleasure.

Francesco DeCicco has received a number of commendatory letters from clergymen who were invited to a studio showing of Edison's "The Birth of Our Saviour," released December 19. In that film Miss DeCicco appears as the Virgin Mary and the directors and clergymen who attended the showing seem to think "a highly spiritual portrayal of a difficult character to depict."

The Christmas fund benefit given by the Vitagraph Company at the Vitagraph theater Wednesday evening, December 9, in which the worthy poor of New York will participate on Christmas day, was one of the most unique entertainments ever given by a motion picture company, and besides netting $1,106, was a decided artistic success.

William Weiss and Max LeVey, roadmen out of the Chicago World Film Corporation offices, had very successful trips and report the general outlook for the future very encouraging.

Sally Crute's winning ways get beyond the screen for, like a scalp, she dangles these days on her wrist a silver mesh bag with which she won last night at the Hotel Endicott, New York City, in a dancing contest.

Film Market Quotations and Financial Gossip

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Bid</th>
<th>Asked</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>American Film</td>
<td>118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>General Film</td>
<td>98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Majestic Film</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Film</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutual Film com</td>
<td>73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York Motion Picture</td>
<td>70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reliance</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Film</td>
<td>84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Syndicate (Zudora)</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thanhouser Syndicate (Zudora) com</td>
<td>74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syndicate Film (ex-div) pref</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syndicate Film (ex-div) com</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universal Film</td>
<td>138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World Film</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

World Film Corporation.—The stock of this company is being traded in very actively every day on the New York curb at the rate of between 1,000 and 2,000 shares. The market eased off last week and most of the trading now is between $2 1/2 and $2 3/4. Thanhouser Syndicate (Zudora) has secured contracts aggregating over $500,000. In an attempt to reach a conclusion as to the ultimate fate of its stock, it is known that a syndicate of newspapers for a successor to Zudora was a strategical stroke, the significance of which will not be seen at first glance, but it means very definitely that the Thanhouser Syndicate Corporation falls heir to a strong combination that will bring in additional receipts.

Reliance—There have been practically no transfers in this stock since the recent sale of a block of approximately 200 shares at.

There has been some demand for stock of a new local company called the United Photoplays Company, which is based on exploitation of films taken by Dr. Dorsey of the Field Columbian Museum of Chicago. The pictures at the outset, at least, will be mainly those taken in the Orient, and the object of the films will be of a distinctly educational nature. The plant will be located at Wilmette, III., and in the company are a former director of the Essanay—H. W. Webster—and the former scenario editor of the Selig Polyscope Company—K. D. Langley.

New York Motion Picture.—It is reported that the directors in their December meeting took no action on the resumption of dividends. This column has consistently adhered to the belief that no action will be taken until January.
The Jones, Linick and Shaefer big State street house, the Orpheum, in Chicago, is to be devoted to World Film features once a week. Every Sunday, with an electric sign and a banner that can be seen a mile away, the Orpheum announces the attraction. The deal was negotiated by R. H. Fox of the World Film office and Mr. Moore representing the Jones, Linick & Shaefer interests.

An explosion which tears down the whole mountain side and completely buries a mining town under tons of rock and dirt is one of the spectacular features in a forthcoming five-reel Lubin drama, "The Valley of Lost Hope," produced by Romaine Fielding at Retzwood, Philadelphia. One ton of dynamite was distributed in the hill, which lay directly over a small valley, wherein had been constructed a miniature mining town. When the fuse was lighted eight cameras were turned upon the scene, four of which were motor driven.

Richard Tucker, who recently returned to leads in the Edison, from the American theater stock company in Philadelphia, is showing a huge basket of fruit sent him by the girls he left behind. Mr. Tucker will be the guest of honor at the Regent theater, Rochester, N. Y., December 26, holding a reception for the fans.

In celebration of the death of "Owen" and the blissful future that lies before Harry and Pauline, P. A. Parsons entertained a few of the reviewers who have "periled with Pauline" since the beginning of the serial at a luncheon at Shanley's restaurant. Parsons says (not in the official capacity of a press agent, so it must be so) that the Edison Film Company is booking more prints right now on "The Perils of Pauline" than it did while the serial was in its infancy.

The week's best story is on Elmer McGovern, publicity manager for the New York Motion Picture Company. Coming from luncheon Friday afternoon with a friend, Mr. McGovern was responsible for the statement, "Just naturally, I'm a graftor without making an effort to be. Things come to me." The toe of his right shoe struck something hard and, looking down, he saw a tissue-paper wrapped parcel, which he investigated, and into his palm fell a handful of false teeth. Though it was to laugh, Mr. McGovern didn't. Instead, he rewrapped the parcel and, looking up at the Forty-second street building in front of which he made the find, asked the dentist's sign, "Yours?" he asked of a busy dentist, who claimed no knowledge of the ownership. There being no other dentist's sign in sight, he to whom things just came took the parcel back to the office with him. Anyone claiming the teeth may have them—and with Mr. McGovern's thanks.

E. H. Calvert, who takes the leading part in Essanay's photoplay, "The Crimson Wing," was hurled headlong from his horse when taking a scene on the Chatfield-Taylor estate in Chicago. The horse shied and pitched Calvert over its head down a ravine. Calvert's wrist was sprained and his knee wrenched but despite the pain he continued to direct the players.

The United Film Service has established a branch office in Toledo, O., located at 413 Summit street. Bert Diener is in charge. This brings the list of United Film Service exchanges up to forty-three.

"Springtime" Jesse Lasky and Cecil DeMille prospecting for locations in San Juanito mountains.

"The Alarm of Angelon," put on by the "Flying A" under direction of Richard (the "Lone Rider") S. Owen, is a colorful one-reel drama, featuring George Field as Angelon, a poor Italian emigrant. Mr. Field's impersonation of Italian characters shows a keen appreciation of racial traits.

William Wadsworth and Arthur Housman, the droll comedy pair, are asked by the players to show their opinion as to whether they were insulted or complimented when at a recent ball in Boston, they were told, "You two look just as funny in evening clothes as you do in your character clothes, the plumper the better."

Pauline Bush of Universal is again appearing in a western character, this time in "Where the Forest Ends." Joseph De Grasse is taking a character role as well as directing. William Dowlan and Lon Chaney are also in the company playing the authors whose works have been and are being filmed by the Selig Polyscope Company, are some of the best known and highest priced writers in the world, such as: Edwin Balmer, Amelia E. Barr, Rex Beach, Robert Ames Bennett, B. M. Bower, Cyrus Townsend Brady, Gellie Burgess, Winston Churchill, James Oliver Curwood, Leona Dalrymple, Richard Harding Davis, Anna Katherine Green, Zane Grey, O. Henry, Harrison Jewell Holt, Arthur Hornblow, Will M. Hulke, H. F. Heikes Justice, Alvah Milton Kerr, General Charles King, Harold MacGrath, Roy L. McCardell, John A. Moroso, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Randall Parrish, Sir Gilbert Parker, William J. MacLeod, Robert E. Howard, L. P. R. Du Brown, Riley, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Hallie Erminie Rives, Mollie Elliott Sewell, Bertrand W. Sinclair, Louis Tracy, Onota Watanna, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and Gilson Willets.

J. P. McGowan, who was directing and taking the "heavy" in "The Hazards of Helen," was at a week as the Sisters' Hospital, Los Angeles. On the day he fell from a telegraph pole and fractured his pelvis bone, his leading woman, Helen Holmes was out of bed for the first time in a week for she had been threatened with pneumonia. The following day saw her at the bedside of McGowan, who will not be able to get around for some time.

The feature company at the American West Coast studios, has returned from a two weeks' trip to Santa Cruz Island, Calif., about thirty miles outside of Santa Barbara. The island is wild and mountainous, and its lakes, waterfalls and abundant semi-tropical vegetation combine to make wonderful scenic settings.

Six years ago Charles Ray was playing stock and musical comedy at Phoenix, Arizona. In the same company was the ingenu Jane Urban, who was taking small parts and the two were good friends and would help each other over the rough places by kindly criticism. The company disbanded for a while and when one went on a Universal burlesque tour, she took a part. That evening Miss Urban, who is a large star, was at a charity ball in Los Angeles they met and recognition was mutual. Miss Urban is still in musical comedy and Mr. Ray has been with the New York Motion Picture Corporation for the past year.

Edward M. Rousham, president of the Life-Photo Film Corporation, returned to New York from New Orleans with the cast which completed the filming of Booth Tarkington's beautiful drama "Springtime." A new comedy director for the Edison Company is James W. Castle. Mr. Castle brings with him all the wealth of successful experience gathered in his rise from call boy many years ago to the position of owner of well-known stage production. He has been director for Madame Shaw-Stevenson, noted musical comedy successes, and has had such stage stars under him as Marie Cahill, Raymond Hitchcock, William T. Carlton and Adele Ritchie.

Edna Maison has been selected to play opposite to Murdock Macquarrie in a series of four Universal photoplays put into scenario form by Bess Meredith from the stories by Bruno Lessing. Charles Giblyn will produce them.

It is easy enough to win a hundred yard dash when you are racing against such men as Eddie Dillon, who measures five feet nine and a half inches and weighs 145 pounds, a block to his work in the morning and a block home at night but beyond that takes no exercise he can avoid, and Sheriff Arthur Mackley whose training as a runner has been ended while riding his big horse back, but what Director D. W. Griffith is proud of is the time he made—eleven seconds flat.

Whooops of joy might have been heard emanating from the vicinity of "Big Chief" William Bertram, assistant to Henry Otto, when he was cast for an Indian part in "The"
Arthur M. Britfin, formerly with the New York City New York-Acme newspapers, has joined the publicity staff of the Universal. He will be in charge of the Universal’s syndicate service.

Miss Badgley will play an important part in the ninth episode of “Zudora.” Little Miss Badgley will be the first child actress in motion pictures to be given a stellar part in a great serial production.

King Baggot is soon to be seen in a two-reel comedy-melodrama whose action all takes place within a period of three hours. Harvey H. Gates, now with Romaine Fielding, is the author of “At the Banquet Table,” and George Lessey is producing it. The call of the stage, supported by a fat contract from Bill Casey, well-known vaudeville manager, has enticed Paul Panzer, alias Owen of “The Perils of Pauline” series, away from the Pathe studio for a period of three or four months, after which he expects to return to the Jersey City studio and the screen.

Howell Hansel, director of Thanhouser’s famous success, “The Million Dollar Mystery,” has been put in charge of productions at the New Rochelle studios, taking the place of Lloyd Lonergan, who recently resigned from that company.

The Casino theater, a popular Broadway house, is acting as the medium for introducing World Film Corporation features to the public, and there is no lack of enthusiasm in the department, which plans to keep the players before the matinee and evening performances are proof that the pictures are going big.

Two freight trains of twelve cars each will be used in a scene in “Zudora,” Thanhouser’s serial. The action requires both trains to be running at top speed when James Cruze climbs over on one train, releases a lever and cuts the train in half. Another setting of unusual gorgeousness will be seen in the eighth episode of “Zudora,” when Elizabeth Forbes, recently added to the cast, will make her first appearance.

ROLL OF STATES.

ARIZONA.

Nogales is soon to have a new picture show, to be opened by W. G. Bowman.

CALIFORNIA.

Independence Hall, one of the landmarks of Live Oak, has recently been purchased from J. M. Hampton by Fairmon & Baldwin. The place will be remodeled into a modern moving picture theater.

The Princess theater, located on Thirty-fifth street near Cypress avenue, Oak Park, has been sold by Mrs. R. Dan Lewis to M. J. Silva, who has taken charge.

The reports received by George T. Anderson, head of the sales department, show that the volume of business being done by this firm is increasing in all parts of the country with great rapidity.

The Advance Motion Picture Company is now engaged in filming a four-reel industrial drama for the Imperial Brass Company of Chicago, in which the general worth and utility of the goods manufactured by that firm will be clearly demonstrated. Miss Louise Lester, formerly of the lamp company, is said to be playing one of the important roles in the production, and an able supporting company has been selected.

The popular demand for Sidney Brady and Frank Farrington is so insistent that both of these “Million Dollar Mystery” stars will have parts in “Zudora.” This will not in any way interfere with their appearances in regular Thanhouser releases.

Herbert Parmer, formerly connected with the Edison, Biograph and Nestor companies, has been engaged by the Kinotophone Corporation for the “heavy” role of Gaston in its new big five-reeler, “A Man’s Shadow,” in support of Tom Terriss. Mr. Parmer will be remembered in the Middle West for his tours in Shakespearean and classic plays.

Miss Groshut of the New York City office of the K. C. Booking Company was a Chicago visitor this week on business. She is greatly interested in the progress being made by the recently opened K. C. office in Chicago.

Popular Motion Picture Co.—Mfg. of films; conducting a general film exchange business; capital, $15,000; incorporators, H. E. Latter, W. J. Maloney, O. J. Reichard, Wilmington.

Foundations are now being placed for the new, modern moving picture theater being built by the Southern Investment and Amusement Company, on West Adams street, between Main and Laura streets, Jacksonville. The theater will be built of steel, brick and glass and it is anticipated that it will be opened to the public February 1.

GEORGIA.
The Grand theater in Atlanta has been reopened under new management.

ILLINOIS.
Work on the new moving picture theater on Main street, Dundee, is being rushed to completion.

Acme Theaters Co., Chicago—Increase $10,000 to $20,000.

Associated Newspaper Moving Picture Company, Chicago; capital, $3,500; incorporators, Eugene Inge, Harry D. Gibbons, Mildred Sherrill.

The moving picture show in Cuba has been sold to H. E. Williams.

The new Orpheum Theater, work on which is progressing, will be the most modern theatrical house in Quincy when it is finished. This modern playhouse, which is provided with all safety first appliances, including panic-proof doors, will open Christmas day. No expense or effort is being conserved in the attempt to make it a real credit to the city. Messrs. Wiley McConnell and Jack Hoefler will be managers.

The new Majestic Theater block is rapidly nearing completion on the south side of the avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets, Moline. The lower floor will be given over to a moving picture house and the second floor will be used for hall purposes. Proprietors of the Majestic theater also own the Palace theater across the avenue and their plan is to vacate that building as soon as the new one is finished.

The Temple theater in Alton, under the management of C. W. Champlin has sold his moving picture show at Greene to Prior & Willard, who have taken possession. Mr. Prior is from Independence, and Mr. Willard is from Joliet, Ill.

The Colonial motion picture theater in Marshalltown has been erected by Dell Horns & Frank Foxes.

W. H. Bollenbacker is erecting in Melbourne a building that will be occupied as a garage and picture show. The building will have dimensions of 75x100 feet, one story.

KENTUCKY.
A permit for a new moving picture theater at 1200 South Shelby street, Louisville, has been taken out by the South End Amusement Company. The building will be of brick and will be 55x140 feet. The estimated cost is $11,000.

Avenue theater in Paducah is closed.

The Thoroughbred Film Company, Louisville; increasing capital from $50,000 to $100,000.

Fire broke out in the $10,000 motion picture theater in Lebanon, completely destroying it.

Owing to the new war tax, which became effective December 1, one of the two moving picture shows in Hazard has been discontinued indefinitely, while the same is true of other picture theaters in the mountain towns.

Eldridge Denham, who formerly ran the Silver Crescent theater in Columbia, Tennessee, has shipped the equipment to Russellville, where he will establish a show.

LOUISIANA.
New Orleans capitalists are seeking a location in Thibodaux for the opening of a motion picture show. They expect to secure a place and be ready for business about January 1.

After being closed for several weeks, during which time general improvements were made, the Bijou Dream theater was reopened November 28, with its beautiful effects, the picture house is now second to few movie theaters in New Orleans.

MARYLAND.
James Barry, manager and owner of the Grande Theater in Echard, has sold to A. L. Porter and George Dundon.

Plans for another motion picture parlor, to be erected in the northwestern section of Baltimore, have been announced. The building will be erected by Gottfried Helmg in after plans by Architect Stanslaus Russell on southwest corner of Presstman street.

Kirby's lane, and will be one story high, of fireproof construction, with dimensions of 60x109 feet. The improvement will cost $8,000.

MASSACHUSETTS.
The Boston theater, one of Keith's interests, has changed its policy and is now being operated as a motion picture theater.

The Park theater of Boston, after being closed for some time undergoing extensive improvements, has been opened under new management. The interior of the theater has been entirely torn down. In place of the two balconies, the present Park has but one, and its seating capacity has been increased to 1,200. The interior has been decorated in gold and brown and white marble and is modeled after the Strand theater of New York. Joseph L. Roth is house manager.

The Park theater in Boston has reopened as a motion picture theater. This is the third theater in Boston that has changed its policy. The National and the Boston theaters, for many years legitimate houses, are now showing pictures.

MICHIGAN.
G. P. Williams has purchased from Charles Carmel the business and lease of the Zeblah picture show house at 481 Moran street, Detroit, the consideration amounting to about $5,000.

Work has begun on the transformation of the building formerly occupied by the Rindge-Krekel company at 109 Monroe avenue, Grand Rapids, into a modern motion picture theater by Messrs. Gilligham and Smith. It will house the Original vaudeville. The new home of the Original vaudeville will have a seating capacity of 350 and will be complete in every detail of vaudeville construction, thoroughly fire-proof and with adequate exits. It will be opened on New Year's eve.

Finishing touches are now being put on the new Aladdin motion picture theater in Bay City. The theater will be complete in every detail when the doors are thrown open to the public, which will be in a short time.

MISSOURI.
Mrs. Kinney has opened a motion picture theater in Memphis, showing two evenings a week.

The management of the Willis Wood theater in Kansas City has secured the Alco program.

A new moving picture theater is being erected by Frank Long at the southeast corner of Nineteenth and Olive streets, St. Joseph. Seating capacity 1,000.

MONTANA.
The Myrtle theater was recently opened in Lewiston under the management of John B. Ritch.

Mary Pickford as she appears in one scene of Famous Players' "Cinderella" W. M. Savage, has changed its policy and is now showing motion pictures.

The Whitehall Theater Company, Whitehall; general theater and amusement business; Carl Lowenstein, C. A. Ruckel and George North.

Armstrong & Jacobs have opened a moving picture show in the Liggett building, Wyoming.

Lea-Bel Company, Chicago, $5,000; manufacturing and producing motion picture films; John M. Leaverton, Herbert E. BeFord and William T. Thompson.

Cal Van Horn of Lockport has rented the Sonntag building in Lockport street, Plainfield, and will open a motion picture theater.

INeDiana.
Shelbyville is soon to have a new motion picture theater. A two-story brick structure will be built at a cost of $10,000 by the Dorsrey heirs, and will be leased by William C. Meloy for ten years.

The New Era theater, Columbus, has been sold by Harry Rosenbush to L. C. Moses, of Lima, Ohio.

The Grand theater in Logansport has been sold to Messrs. Quivey and Bertha of Lafayette.

IOWA.
Fairchild & Prince have leased the Blotcky store building in Onawa, and will shortly open a modern motion picture theater.

W. C. Eddy has disposed of his motion picture theater, Orient, in Marengo, to L. E. Alexander of Colmar.

Lee & Willits, a company from Keithsburg, Iowa, have purchased the Majestic theater at De Witt from Milton Whitney.
Complete Record of Current Films

Believing that the classification of film pictures by the nature of their subjects to be of greater importance to the exhibitor than classification by maker, MotoGraphy has adopted this style in printing current films. Exhibitors are urged to make use of this convenient tabulation in making up their programs. Films will be listed as long in advance of their release dates as possible. Film manufacturers are requested to send us their bulletins as early as possible. Reasonable care is used, and the publishers cannot be responsible for errors.

LICENSED

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Current Releases</th>
<th>Advance Releases</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Monday.</td>
<td>Monday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-14 The Sheriff of Willow Gulch......................Biograph 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-21 A Matter of Court......................Biograph 500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-14 The Flirt....................................Edison 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-21 The Dentist's Janitor......................Biograph 500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-14 Madame Double X..............................Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-21 Their First Love..........................Essanay 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-14 The Sanguelers of Lone Isk.....................Kalem 2,000</td>
<td>D 12-21 Those With a Cause.........................Essanay 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-14 The Beloved Adventure No. 14....................Lubin 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-21 The Mayor's Secretary......................Kalem 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T 12-14 Pathe's Daily News No. 85, 1914..............Pathe 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-21 The Beloved Adventurer No. 15.............Lubin 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T 12-14 The Lace of the Windsor.........................Selig 2,000</td>
<td>T 12-14 Pathe's Daily News No. 87, 1914........Pathe 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T 12-14 Het St-Sieg News Pictorial No. 83..............Selig 2,000</td>
<td>D 12-21 Till Death Us Do Part.....................Selig 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-14 The Greater Love..............................Vitagraph 1,000</td>
<td>T 12-21 Het St-Sieg News Pictorial No. 88........Selig 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday.</td>
<td>Tuesday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-16 On Christmas Eve............................Biograph 2,000</td>
<td>D 12-22 On the Heights.........................Biograph 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-16 Two Pop-Up Fables...........................Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-22 Olive Is Dismissed......................Biograph 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-16 The Hate That Withers.........................Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-22 The Volunteer Borgia......................Essanay 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T 12-16 The Bomb....................................Pathe 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-22 The Winning Whiskers.....................Kalem 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-16 Pathe's Daily News No. 86, 1914..............Pathe 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-22 His Successes....................Selig 500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-16 The Egyptian Mummy.............................Vitagraph 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-22 Finley's Daring Loyalty.................Lubin 500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wednesday.</td>
<td>Wednesday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-16 On Christmas Eve............................Biograph 2,000</td>
<td>D 12-23 'Twas the Night Before Christmas........Essanay 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-17 Two Pop-Up Fables...........................Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>E 12-23 The Tip of the Dark Continent, Cape, South Africa, and its Vicinity..................Essanay 500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-16 On Christmas Eve............................Biograph 2,000</td>
<td>C 12-23 The Fable of &quot;The Husband Who Showed Up and Did His Duty&quot;..............Essanay 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-16 The Hate That Withers.........................Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-23 The Fatal Opal............................Kalem 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-17 The Egyptian Mummy.............................Vitagraph 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-23 Pathe's Daily News No. 88, 1914........Pathe 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>H 12-23 The Thrilling Adventures of Count Venetza.............Mina 1,000</td>
<td>T 12-23 Pathe's Daily News No. 87, 1914........Pathe 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T 12-23 Het St-Sieg News Pictorial No. 84..............Selig 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-23 One Traveler Returns.....................Selig 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-17 A Question of Clothes........................Vitagraph 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-23 The Professor's Romance................Vitagraph 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thursday.</td>
<td>Thursday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-18 His Prior Claim................................Biograph 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-24 The Suffering of Susan.....................Biograph 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-18 The Death of the Red Hots....................Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-24 Shippers Slim Gets Square................Essanay 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-18 The Girl from Thunder Mountain................Biograph 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-24 A Soldier of Peace.........................Essanay 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-18 A Natural Mistake............................Biograph 500</td>
<td>C 12-24 A High Old Time........................Mina 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-18 The Tail of a Coat...........................Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>T 12-24 Het St-Sieg News Pictorial No. 86........Selig 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-18 Who Was Who in Hogg's Hollow................Vitagraph 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-24 The Knight Before Christmas.............Vitagraph 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friday.</td>
<td>Friday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-19 The Bond Sinister................................Biograph 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-25 The Way Home..............................Biograph 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-19 The Birth of Our Saviour......................Edison 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-25 The Premature Compromise..................Essanay 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-19 Broncho Billy's Christmas Spirit...............Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-25 Any Woman's Choice.........................Essanay 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-19 Broncho Billy's Christmas Spirit...............Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-25 The Reformation of Tom....................Essanay 2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-19 Who's Who....................................Kalem 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-25 The Escape on the Limited...............Kalem 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-19 Who's Who....................................Kalem 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-26 Branigan's Band.........................Lubin 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-19 Shall Carlow Ring Tonight?.....................Selig 500</td>
<td>C 12-26 A Troublesome Cat.........................Lubin 500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-19 The Lady of the Tides............................Selig 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-26 The Champion Bear Slayer................Selig 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-19 Mr. Santa Claus.............................Vitagraph 2,000</td>
<td>C 12-26 A Tringle for the Police................Vitagraph 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saturday.</td>
<td>Saturday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-26 The Bond Sinister................................Biograph 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-26 His Unwitting Conquest....................Biograph 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-26 The Man Who Vanished.........................Essanay 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-26 The Man Who Vanished.....................Essanay 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D 12-26 The Escape on the Limited...............Kalem 1,000</td>
<td>D 12-26 Broncho Billy and the Sheriff's Office....Essanay 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-26 The Return of a Trapper.....................Kalem 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-26 The Return of a Trapper................Kalem 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-26 A Troublesome Cat.........................Lubin 500</td>
<td>C 12-26 A Troublesome Cat.......................Lubin 500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-26 The Champion Bear Slayer................Selig 1,000</td>
<td>C 12-26 The Champion Bear Slayer................Selig 1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C 12-26 An Affair for the Police....................Vitagraph 3,000</td>
<td>C 12-26 An Affair for the Police................Vitagraph 3,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MISCELLANEOUS FEATURES

- The Love of Princess Yolande..................Warner's 3,000
- The Sign of the Cross..................Famous Players 5,000
- Without Hope..................Flamingo 4,000
- The New Life..........................Kinetoscope 5,000
- As Ye Sow..................Real 5,000
- When Wealth is Tried..................Celtic 5,000
- The Star of Genius..................Celtic 5,000
- Whistles Misses Mrs. Whistles..............Celtic 1,000
- The Last of the Lancers..................Celtic 5,000
- Rescue of the Stannfors Artic Expedition.....Sunset 6,000
- The Love of a Cross..................Broadway Star 5,000
- The Truth Wagon................Masterpiece 5,000
- The Last of the Lancers..................Celtic 5,000
- Should a Woman Divorce..................Ivan 5,000

DAILY LICENSED RELEASES

MONDAY. Biograph, Edison, Essanay, Kalem, Selig, Vitagraph

TUESDAY. Biograph, Edison, Essanay, Kalem, Lubin, Selig, Vitagraph

WEDNESDAY. Edison, Essanay, Kalem, Lubin, Pathe, Vitagraph

THURSDAY. Biograph, Essanay, Kalem, Lubin, Pathe, Vitagraph

FRIDAY. Biograph, Edison, Essanay, Kalem, Lubin, Selig, Vitagraph

SATURDAY. Biograph, Edison, Essanay, Kalem, Lubin, Selig, Vitagraph
Mutual Program

Monday.
- D 12-14 In Tune .......................... American 2,000
- D 12-14 Our Mutual Girl No. 48 .................... Reliance 1,000
- D 12-14 Title not reported .............. Keystone 1,000

Tuesday.
- D 12-15 The Barrier of Flames ................. Thanhouser 2,000
- D 12-15 At Dawn ...................... Majestic 1,000
- D 12-15 Her Younger Sister .......... . .. Beauty 1,000

Wednesday.
- D 12-16 The Panther .................. Broncho 2,000
- D 12-16 The Silent Way .............. American 1,000
- C 12-16 The Joke on Ye lentown ........ Reliance 1,000

Thursday.
- D 12-17 A Political Foul ............. Domino 2,000
- T 12-17 Title not reported .......... Keystone 1,000
- T 12-17 Mutual Weekly No. 183 .. Mutual 1,000

Friday.
- D 12-18 The Game of Life .............. Kay Bee 2,000
- D 12-18 When Fate Rebelled ........... Princess 1,000
- D 12-18 Trapped by a Heligrap ........ American 1,000

Saturday.
- D 12-19 The Beat of the Year .......... Reliance 2,000
- C 12-19 Two Kisses .................. Royal 1,000

Sunday.
- D 12-20 The Fear of His Past ........... Majestic 2,000
- C 12-20 Bill and Edel at the Ball No. 11 ... Komic 1,000
- C 12-20 Sif Nee’s Finish ............... Thanhouser 1,000

Monday.
- D 12-21 The Sower Reaps ................. American 2,000
- D 12-21 Our Mutual Girl No. 49 .......... Reliance 1,000
- D 12-21 Title Not Reported ....... Keystone 1,000

Tuesday.
- D 12-22 Under False Colors ............. Thanhouser 2,000
- D 12-22 The Better Way .............. Majestic 1,000
- C 12-22 Brass Buttons ............... Beauty 1,000

Wednesday.
- D 12-23 The Passing of Two-Gun Hicks .... Broncho 2,000
- D 12-23 The Tin Can Shack ............. American 1,000
- D 12-23 A Lucky Disappointment ......... Reliance 1,000

Thursday.
- D 12-24 The Last of the Line .......... Domino 2,000
- T 12-24 Title Not Reported ............ Keystone 1,000
- T 12-24 Mutual Weekly No. 184 .......... Mutual 1,000

Friday.
- D 12-25 In the Sage Brush Country .... Kay Bee 2,000
- D 12-25 When Fate Rebelled ........... Princess 1,000
- D 12-25 Bobby’s Medal ................ Reliance 1,000

Saturday.
- D 12-26 The Exposüre ................. Reliance 2,000
- C 12-26 Her Mother’s Voice .......... Royal 1,000

Sunday.
- D 12-27 The Old Fisherman’s Story .... Majestic 2,000
- C 12-27 The Record Breaker .......... Komic 1,000
- C 12-27 A Haunt of Trouble .......... Thanhouser 1,000

---

Universal Program

Monday.
- D 12-14 The Mill Stream .................. Imp 2,000
- D 12-14 The Wayward Son ............ Victor 1,000
- C 12-14 Lizzie’s Fortune ............. Sterling 1,000

Tuesday.
- D 12-15 The Ghost of Smiling Jim ...... Gold Seal 2,000
- C 12-15 Such a Mistake ............... Crystal 500
- C 12-15 The Glass Pistol ............. Crystal 500
- D 12-15 The Boy Mayor .............. Nestor 1,000

Wednesday.
- C 12-16 How Father Won Out .......... Joker 500
- E 12-16 Ascent of the Ingran .............. Victor 2,000
- D 12-16 A Game of Wits ............... Eclair 2,000
- T 12-16 Animated Weekly No. 146 .... Universal 1,000

Thursday.
- D 12-17 Within the Gates of Paradise .... Imp 1,000
- D 12-17 Amabilia ..................... Rex 2,000
- C 12-17 The Fatal Hansom .......... Sterling 1,000

Friday.
- C 12-18 His Dog Gone Luck .......... Nestor 500
- C 12-18 Here and There in Japan with Homer Croy ...... Nestor 500
- D 12-18 No release this week ........ Powers 1,000
- D 12-18 Heart of the Hills ............. Victor 3,000

Saturday.
- C 12-19 His Doctor’s Orders ............. Joker 1,000
- D 12-19 Title not reported .......... Frontier 2,000
- D 12-19 The Christmas Spirit ... "101 Bison" 2,000

Sunday.
- D 12-20 A Page from Life .............. Rex 2,000
- D 12-20 The Baron’s Bear Escape ...... L Ko 1,000
- D 12-20 The Jewels of Allah .......... Eclair 1,000

Monday.
- C 12-21 In Sunny Spain ................. Imp 1,000
- C 12-21 Teresa O’Rourke’s Secret ...... Sterling 1,000
- C 12-21 Carmen’s Romance .......... Sterling 1,000

Tuesday.
- D 12-22 The Call of the Waves .......... Gold Seal 2,000
- C 12-22 Vivian’s Beauty Test .......... Crystal 1,000
- D 12-22 For I Have Toiled .......... Nestor 1,000

Wednesday.
- C 12-23 Love and Spirits .............. Joker 500
- S 12-23 Beauty Spots in Haiti .......... Joker 500
- D 12-23 The Fortune of Margaret ...... Eclair 2,000
- T 12-23 Animated Weekly No. 146 ..... Universal 1,000

Thursday.
- D 12-24 No Release This Week .......... Imp 2,000
- D 12-24 The Big Sister’s Christmas ...... Rex 2,000
- C 12-24 Innocent Dad ................... Nestor 1,000

Friday.
- C 12-25 Who Stole the Bridgroom ...... Nestor 1,000
- C 12-25 Hunting in Crazyland .......... Powers 500
- E 12-25 The Japanese Silk Industry .... Powers 500
- D 12-25 The Accusation ............... Victor 2,000

Saturday.
- C 12-26 Hot Stuff .................... Joker 1,000
- D 12-26 The Rustler Outwitted .......... Frontier 1,000
- D 12-26 The Law of the Range ...... "101 Bison" 3,000

Sunday.
- D 12-27 Her Escape .................... Rex 2,000
- C 12-27 The Manicure Girl .......... Nestor 1,000
- D 12-27 For the Defense .......... Eclair 1,000

---

DAILY MUTUAL RELEASES

Monday: American, Majestic, Thanhouser.

Tuesday: Beauty, Majestic, Thanhouser.

Wednesday: Broncho, American, Reliance.

Thursday: Domino, Keystone, Mutual Weekly.

Friday: Kay-Bee, Majestic, Princess.

Saturday: Reliance, Keystone, Royal.

Sunday: Majestic, Thanhouser, Komic.

---

DAILY UNIVERSAL RELEASES

Monday: Imp, Victor, Sterling.

Tuesday: Gold Seal, Crystal, Nestor.

Wednesday: Animated Weekly, Eclair, Joker.

Thursday: Imp, Rex, Sterling.

Friday: Nestor, Powers, Victor.

Saturday: Bison, Joker, Frontier.

Sunday: L. Ko, Eclair, Rex.
Brief Stories of the Week's Film Releases

General Program

Pathe Daily News No. 84—December 9.—This issue contains views of the intersection of 13th and 6th Ave., New York; a view of the Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y.; the arrival of U. S. marines in Philadelphia from Vera Cruz, Mex.; close up view of Walter Johnson, who has just signed $20,000 a year contract with Federal Baseball League and, in the war section, pictures from Petrovia, Servia; Bordeaux, France; St. Laureu, Belgium; and Constantinople, Turkey.

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 83—Selig—December 14.—This issue contains scenes of the cane industry in Louisiana, close-up views of the new millionaire warden of Sing Sing Prison, New York, the Pueblo Indian village at the San Diego Exhibition, “Rabbit” Malone with his bride visiting his native state, George Tyler, at the Tyler farm, illustrating how big league stars spend their winter months, gathering Christmas trees and interesting war views.

Pathe Daily News No. 85—December 14.—Scenes depicting the arrival of Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, just returning from France; the destruction of 204,000 condemned eggs by federal officials in Chicago, views of the storm swept country in Jejun, with views of the up's of the damage at Seabright, the destruction of the Edison plant by fire at West Orange, N. J.; and, in the war section, scenes taken at Chauvencourt, France; Axel, Holland; Oostcamp, Belgium and Cracow, Austria, make this interesting.

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial No. 84—December 17.—In this issue are shown views of the San Francisco Panama-Pacific Exposition buildings, New York society children exhibiting their ponies at the Madison Square horse show, Ambassador Myron T. Herrick just returned from France, and, in the war section glimpses of the German cruisers Leipzig and Dresden, recently captured, also other scenes from the war zone.

A Matter of Court—Biograph—December 21.—Madge prefers Dave to Clarence, both being rivals for her hand. Clarence writes Madge, “Since you won't marry me, my life is only worth two cents, and I am going to end it all.” Later, Dave and Madge, joy riding, run over Clarence. He suits Dave for $500.00 damages, and a friend on the jury manages to have the verdict rendered in his favor. Madge and her mother, learning of the trouble, rush to the court, and Madge produces Clarence's letter. The judge orders a verdict of two cents awarded to Clarence, since that is his own value on his life.

The Dentist's Janitor—Biograph—December 21.—The dentist's jealous wife hires Hemlock Bones & Co. to watch her husband. Disguised as window curtaian, the detectives begin their work, and when a man with the toothache comes in, accompanied by his wife, the detectives discover the man with him, while the dentist makes love to his wife. They rush to bring the dentist's wife to the scene, and when the dentist sees that the janitor changes places. When the dentist's wife attacks the man she thinks her husband, she discovers it to be the janitor, and thereupon begs her husband to forgive her suspicions, and all ends happily.

The Mayor's Secretary—Kalem—(Two Reels)—December 21.—Another of the Alice Joyce series in which Alice appears in the role of Alma Dare, secretary to Robert Chandler, the reform candidate for mayor. Suspecting the girl of being a spy, Winton, a crooked "boss," severs her friendship, and Alma, to secure a document badly wanted by the mayor, pretends to respond to Winton's overtures and thus exposes a plot to hoodwink the mayor and defraud the city of a paying contract. Alma escapes from Winton's home, rushes to the city hall and warns the mayor in time to prevent his authorizing the contract, and the mayor, for once and all defeating Winton, takes Alice of her humble birth, which denies her being received in English high society. On a neighboring estate lives the Duchess of Drex, who is single and lonely, for twenty years before her daughter Elizabeth had eloped with Robert Lee, the son of a country squire, and gone to America. The duchess sends a trusted agent to seek her daughter, and word is brought back that the duchess is grandmother of Betty, Lady Cecil, and heir to the enormous fortune of the Duke of Drex. Betty's social status is fixed, but her pleasure in this is as nothing compared to that she experienced on the day she stood beside Lord Cecil as he presents to his assembled tenants a child, which in the fullness of years will himself be Lord Cecil, nineteenth Earl of Swarthmore. Arthur Johnson and Lottie Briscoe featured.

Till Death Us Do Part—Selig—(Two Reels)—December 21.—A powerful dramatic story with leprosy as its theme, and Kathryn Williams, Wheeler Oaksman and Charles Clary as its stars. Anne Brewster is shipwrecked on a desert island with Dr. Albert Leigh and Robert Roland, a boxer. When it is discovered that Anne is suffering from leprosy, Random flies in terror from the desert island to a passing ship, while Dr. Leigh remains to marry and care for Anne. See review on page 835 of issue of Dec. 19.

Arthur Truman's Ward—Vitagraph—December 21.—On her way to visit her home on the Croftalgh estate, but Betty though herself content, fears Cecil is unhappy, which denies her being received in English high society. On a neighboring estate lives the Duchess of Drex, who is single and lonely, for twenty years before her daughter Elizabeth had eloped with Robert Lee, the son of a country squire, and gone to America. The duchess sends a trusted agent to seek her daughter, and word is brought back that the duchess is grandmother of Betty, Lady Cecil, and heir to the enormous fortune of the Duke of Drex. Betty's social status is fixed, but her pleasure in this is as nothing compared to that she experienced on the day she stood beside Lord Cecil as he presents to his assembled tenants a child, which in the fullness of years will himself be Lord Cecil, nineteenth Earl of Swarthmore. Arthur Johnson and Lottie Briscoe featured.
newly appointed guardian, whom she has never seen. Helen Russell is struck by an automobile and seriously injured. She is taken into a small bakery shop where Lil- lian Hardman, an orphan, is employed. When Lilian finds a suitcase left by Helen in which are letters and papers from Ar- thur, herguardian, and later learns that Helen has died in the hospital, she resolves to take her place. Truman never doubts that the girl is Helen, and when she proves awkward in society, he sends her to a finishing school. Arthur gradually learns to love her and on her return to the States, proposes to her.

One day, Lilian, shopping, discovers that Helen is not dead, but having forgotten her past, is employed in a department store. She learns Helen’s address, then visits Arthur and confesses her deception. Ar- thur places Helen in her rightful position as his ward, but will not permit Lilian to leave him. Since she can no longer be his ward, she makes her his wife. Lilian Walker featured.

On the Heights — Biograph — (Two Reels) — December 22 — Countess Irma Eberhard, betrothed to Colonel Brennan, meets the king on a hunting expedition and the monarch, in love with her, summons her to the court as a lady-in-waiting to the queen, who is ill and whips in her ear. “Look upon the throne—the queen dies,” and she succumbs to his advances. When a nurse is needed for the prince, Countess Irma recommends Wallipurga, a peasant, to whom Taum, the king’s secretary makes love, but is repulsed. When Irma sides with Wallipurga, Baum writes her father, “The Countess Irma is over-friendly with the king.” Colonel Brennan is with Count Eberhard when the letter comes and Eber- hard writes Irma to come home, and dies with the letter in her hand. At the funeral, Irma returns to the palace, but the king mocks her saying, “You looked upon the throne—the queen did not die.” Informed she plans to kill him, he is stopped by Wallipurga. Colonel Brennan then takes Irma to a convent, and the rest of his life mourns her.

The Volunteer Burglar — Essanay — December 22 — AllanItalian, who is wanted, and another named Bayne are featured in this production. An author starts to write a motion picture scenario and, as he proceeds, the following takes place. We see himself appearing as the hero; Margery Trent tries to get certain papers to prove her identity. These papers are held by her uncle. She is entering the home of her uncle when “Tommyrot” gery receives a note telling her that her uncle has reconsidered and asking her to call. “Tommyrot” follows her and witnesses the power of love that can move a man. A man enters who proves to be her real uncle. The impostor is ar- rested, while “Tommyrot” turns to Mar- gery’s fate.

Olive Is Dismissed — Edison — December 22 — In this, the fifth release of the “Olive’s Opportunities” series, the mat- ter of Olive’s contemplated marriage to the Reverend Mr. Holmes is revealed. She overhears Bishop Mears advise Olive to give up the idea, and, for his sake, leaves the house, and secures employment as maid in the March household.

Mrs. March is a flighty creature, and gives most of her time to social functions. Olive’s sickly Bayard March’s wants, apprises her of the fact that he has heart disease. She promises to keep his secret. Mrs. March has meanwhile entered a flirtation with Reginald Carrington. One day the pair are confronted by Carrington’s neg- lected wife. This awakens Mrs. March and turns her thoughts toward home. Although it automatically dismisses her, Olive is pleased at Mrs. March’s change of heart, and sets out light-heartedly on her search for employment. C.R.C.

The Winning Whiskers — Kalem — December 22 — Lizzie, the cook, would rather read a dime novel than eat. Leaving her work she begins the story of Stella, a beautiful heiress, who loves Billy, U. Knave, her guardian, objects, since Ima Crook, who has a hold upon Knave, demands the hand of Stella as the price of his silence. When Knave would compel Stella to marry Crook, Billy sneaks into the room, cuts off Crook’s eyebrows and whisks and pastes them on his own face, and when the minister appears, Billy, disguised, weds Stella. When Billy and Stella have departed, Crook revives and fights a duel with Knave. Just at this moment Lizzie’s mistress enters and sends her back to her pots and pans in the kitchen. Marin Sais featured.

His Suicide — Lubin — December 22 — Bill Bogs, tired of life, is forbidden by his wife to even use the clothes line to hang himself with; and instead is put to work hanging out clothes. He gets a gun, but she refuses to let him spatter blood on the parlor, as he is not allowed to use a knife because his wife fears he may kill it. When he drinks a quart of gasoline and explodes the kitchen, the doctor arrives and tells Billy carried no fire insurance. On the same reel is Flossie’s Daring Loyalty — Lubin — December 22 — Manly Mann loves Flossie Fay, his stenographer. Montague Marks, a business rival, seeing Manly dictate what he believes an important document, enters the office and, finding Flossie reading her notes, but when the girl refuses, Marks hires a band of thugs to assist him and drags Flossie first to the woods, then to the mountains. The thugs strike Flossie and leave her to her fate, to the office where Flossie transcribes from her notes a formula for a dandruff cure.

Wade Brent Pays — Selig — December 22 — A beautifully photographed story of a romance between Wash, an Esquimo, and Edith Johnson, Pauline Sain and Barney Furey are featured. Wade Brent’s father bequeaths him a fortune and leaves this to the Esquimo, and guardian, since he knows of Wade’s dis- solve habits. In a quarrel with the guardian of the funds, Wade picks up a chapter to strike parlor with his hand, and accidentally injures Ruth Illington, a ste- notographer. To atone for his fault, Wade arranges for Ruth to be sent to a sani- tatorium — recuperates his health. Ruth, who is the daughter of the woman in charge of the sanitarium, has fallen in love with Wade and misconstrues his cour- se. When she is released, and learns of being supported by Wade, Ruth leaves the sanitarium at night, and falls over a cliff. Wade finds her and carries her back to the hotel. When Ruth meets and loves George Hartley, while Wade discovers Aileen’s attrac- tiveness and plans to marry her. N.G.C.

By the Governor’s Order — Vitagraph — (Two Parts) — December 22 — Cyrus Howard, wealthy business man, refuses to permit his daughter Ethel to marry Allan Lawrence, and the young people of the town, and until Allan loses his position are extremely happy. Shortly after Helen gives birth to a child, she is compelled to write her father her husband, and during her visit to the latter and Howard, she dies. Allan, in fury, attempts to shoot Howard and is sentenced to ten years in prison. Mr. Law- rence, who has found a note, recognizes her, and with the passing of the little girl gradually wins the heart of Cyrus Howard, whose home is nearby. With the assistance of another crook, Allan escapes from prison and reaches home on Christ- mas day. Howard and Mr. Lawrence, now on friendly terms, have arranged a sur- prise Christmas for Hope, and when Allan climbs in the window to escape his pursuers, they see and dos a Santa Claus suit which is lying in the room. Coming down the stairs he encounters Hope, and is led into the parlor just as the policeman enter to seek him. He confesses all, and, as he is about to be taken back to jail, a telegram arrives from the governor, announcing that Mr. Lawrence’s plea has been successful and Allan is pardoned. Maurice Costello featured.

"Twas The Night Before Christmas — Edison — December 23 — With the ex- cep tion of Santa Claus, the cast of this pic- ture is entirely a juvenile one. The three little Steuart children and the two little Terriers are the principals, though Andy Clarke also takes a small part as the Esquimo. The story contains considerably more good feeling than actual plot, but is acceptable as a Christmas offering.
The children decide that it is time that someone should give poor Santa a present, take up a collection, and surprise the old man in his home. C.R.C.

The Fable of the Husband Who Sent Up and Down Hill His Little Paying Country. —XY—DECEMBER 23.—Without much of a plot, this George Ade fable "gets over" in a most pleasing manner. Richard C. Travers, Gerda Holmes and Helen Durbach have the leading roles. The interior sets and exterior locations are very well chosen, and the photography is clear throughout. Mrs. Climer has great social aspirations, but every time she gives a party her husband hides. She rallies this智能家居 afternoon for a musical. Hubby happens home early, so is forced to entertain the ladies. A young grass widow is present who looks mighty good to hubby. So he extends himself. Mrs. Climer forbids him to ever show up at another one of her parties. Moral: Solomon proved his wisdom by marrying all of his wife's friends, but the modern wise man passes them up. C.J.C.

The Fatal Opal.—KALEM.—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 22.—Frank Morton, knowing his uncle dislikes Alice, keeps his marriage secret from Judge Morton. Frank wears an opal stick pin and in a quarrel with his uncle loves it and the judge finds it and sticks it in his coat lapel. Sandy McGee, a crook, sent to prison by the judge, escapes, becomes a butler in the house and for three nights the servants are away kills the judge. Before he dies, the judge frees his hands and opal stick pin writes the name of the murderer on the back of a book. Frank is convicted of murdering his uncle and, later, Alice finds the writing in the book and by getting McGee drunk induces him to confess all, thus freeing Frank, who immediately throws away the fatal opal. Marin Sais and Douglas Gerrard featured.

The Single Act.—LURX.—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 23.—George Burton, after committing a robbery, visits a saloon and the bartender reads to him a paragraph from a newspaper which says, "A man, however damned, can yet justify his existence in one single act." This starts George on a plan for reformation, though next night George determines to visit a fashionable wedding in search of loot, and is only saved from capture by a little girl, who to escape punishment, denies having stolen out from her room to watch the party. George is in love with Mary Fox, and together with the meeting of the little girl lead him to vow never again to rob anyone. Eluding detectives, he goes to his rooms and changes his attire preparatory to visiting Mary and telling her of his resolution, but en route is killed by an explosion. George Kouth featured.

One Traveler Returns.—SIELE.—DECEMBER 23.—Stella Razolet, Ada Gleason and Lamar Johnstone are featured in a romantic story of splendid photography. Bob Bardford, a wealthy bachelor, becomes engaged to Grace Travers, daughter of a country minister, although he has no intention of paying for her education. His love for the minister's daughter is marked by his tenacity of pretty Thais Merton in the city at the same time. Bob tells Thais of his approaching marriage and agrees to pay her $2,000 in full satisfaction of all claims. Thais, however, is unsatisfied and arranges with a lawyer to have a letter of each on file. He pays a visit on the first anniversary of her marriage to Bob. She is injured in an automobile accident which causes her death, and on the anniversary day, returns in spirit to deliver the messenger who is about to deliver her letter. The messenger tears up the envelope, and the spirit of Thais, instead of seeking revenge, blesses the couple on their anniversary morn. N.G.C.

The Professor's Romance.—VITAGRAPH.—DECEMBER 24.—The honorable John Cavendish and his much beloved are the children of the widow Merrilleg next door, and is constantly annoyed by their baseballs, their pranks with the children and their noisiness. Whenever he complains, the widow insists upon the angelic nature of her children, but when he finally finishes the manuscript on which he has long been working and discovers the children doing a bonfire, it proves too much, and he breaks down. The widow's sympathetic wish to see her son happy, however, and he takers her in his arms. At this moment the children enter with the real manuscript, which they have hidden for a joke, so all ends happily, though the "angels" seem likely to have a strong hand to guide their future destinies. Sidney Drew featured.

The Suffering of Susan.—BIOPHOTOGRAPH.—DECEMBER 24.—Susan insists on attending a dramatic school, against all of John's protests in her sweetheart. Madam Weep, her teacher, insists that "to become a great actress you must suffer greatly," so Susan resolves to suffer. Whenever she does not behave as he expects him, sheriff, though she suffers in doing so. In desperation, Joe determines to cure her of her silly ways and arranges to have the leading lady of a stranded Shakespearean troupe "show her up" at a benefit performance. At the performance Susan stumbles over rugs, forgets her part and generally disgraces herself, and the morning papers roast her for her performance, so Susan abandons the stage and consents to marry the sheriff, Joe.

Slippery Slim Gets Square.—ESSEX.—DECEMBER 24.—This film is doubtless founded on the fact that other people's misfortunes, when they are not of a serious nature, so always funny, but so realistic is Harry Todd's portrayal of the sufferer in this case that one cannot help but feel sorry for him. It is very amusing, however, and the boys are given at the town hall that evening and Slim asks Sophie to accompany him. She accepts, so he hurries to the correct dance. Slim manages to get home and puts some powder on Mustang's clothes which has a startling effect. Mustang goes to call for Sophie, time to greet him when he awakens from the business. Metcalfe and Mary Keane featured.

A High Old Time.—MINX.—DECEMBER 24.—Josh and Miranda go to the big city on their honeymoon, and Josh gets into all sorts of trouble. He flirts with a pretty girl and is troubled by Miranda. He takes a trolley ride and has to taxi back. He visits the beach and is beset by the feminine bidders, but seeing Miranda coming he abandons her duster, coat and bag. Eph and Sinda, a pair of colored newlyweds, find the duster and Sinda puts it on, thus, later, kicking Josh to follow her, believing her Miranda. After many adventures, which end in their entering a little house which is blown up by bombs dropped from aeroplanes, when an explosion test is made by the army, Miranda and Josh finally live the city behind them.

The Knight Before Christmas.—VITAGRAPH.—DECEMBER 24.—Sonny goes to spend Christmas at his Aunt Kate's, having been given a dollar by his daddy. Before putting the children to bed, Aunt Kate reads St. George's story to them, and tells them about the knights of old, sonny learning that a knight is one who always helps damsels in distress. While shopping next day, Sonny gets lost and is rescued by little Annie O'Reilly, who takes him home with her. Sonny, bothered by the splaid aspect of the tenement, gives Annie his dollar with which he had intended to buy a baby brother. From the O’Reilly’s he is taken to the police station, where Aunt Kate finds him, and next day the O’Reillys are invited to participate in Aunt Kate’s celebration. In the midst of things, daddy writes that sonny will find a live present waiting for him at home. Bobby Connolly featured.

Sweeney’s Christmas Bird—VITAGRAPH
—DECEMBER 24.—The Sweeney’s live above the Clancys. When Caesar, Mrs. Sweeney’s parrot, dies, Mike goes out to bury it. At a saloon on the corner, he rebels Florrie with a new purchased turkey, and the packages become mixed. Mike buries Clancy’s turkey and Clancy takes the dead parrot home. When Mrs. Clancy finds the bird there is a grand row, and Sweeney goes forth to buy a turkey of his own. Knowing it will be sent home, Clancy swipes it off the dumbwaiter, leaving the dead parrot, El-Ja panch. Mrs. Sweeney almost faints when she sees poor dead Caesar again and seizing a flatiron awaits Mike’s return. Clancy meets Sweeney again at the saloon. Sweeney having just won a pig on a raffle. When Clancy goes to get the turkey, he is surprised to find that the dog has eaten it. Opening Sweeney’s door he is assaulted by the latter’s wife, who thinks it is her husband, and as a result of the row, both families are arrested. The judge declares “A pig for your Christmas bird—or ten days” and Christmas day finds all four at the table in Sweeney’s parlor enjoying a feast of roast pig. Hughie Mack, William Shea and Kate Price featured.

The Way Home—BIOGRAPH—DECEMBER 25.—A country boy obtains a city position. One night a customer calls to pay a big bill. The boy being located, the clerk takes the money home with him for safekeeping, but en route encounters two crooks, who, by a subterfuge, get him drunk and rob him. The boss discharges him as a result of this incident, and he takes to drink and the downward path. His parents are much troubled and the following summer among them is a girl whose former girl friend had helped her accomplice rob him. Discovering the boy’s mother gazing at his photograph, the girl recognizes her erstwhile victim, and upon her return to the city finds him and sends him home, where, reunited with his family, he is content.

The Premature Compromise—EDISON—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 25.—This is the second of the “Young Lord Stanleigh” adventure series featuring Marc MacDermott and Miriam Nesbitt. From this and the first release it looks as though Lord Stanleigh is going to be kept busy protecting the MacKellers from their Wall Street enemies. Duncan McRae is seen as the younger MacKeller, Frank McGlynn as the ship’s captain, and Harry Linson as Johnson. Schwartzbrod and his gang, still smarting from the affair at Stranleigh’s, again outwitted them, conceive the idea of using the syndicate’s steamer until the regular transfer of title is put through. MacKeller boards the ship, and has the goods loaded. When the work is through Johnson, a tool of the syndicate, attacks MacKeller, and forces him into the hold. A long row has been put under way the captain discovers MacKeller in the hold, and puts him ashore in a yawl. Stranleigh assures him, on his return, that if he comes to the Rajah in his speedy yacht, and, after an extended voyage they sink it. C.R.C.

Any Woman’s Choice—ESSANAY (Two Reels)—DECEMBER 25.—Francis X. Bushman, Beverly Bayne, Bryant Washburn and Helen Dunbar have the leading roles in this production. The plot deals with a woman, the other woman, a man and a mutual friend. The woman is married to the man, but still loves the mutual friend, who was her sweetheart before she met the man. The man’s love dies away and he gives up his love to the other woman. The woman loses heavily at cards and the other woman forces her to continue playing by threatening to injure them both. The mutual friend pays the debt when the woman appeals to him, and when the man hears of this he is enraged. The mutual friend within his capacity to the realization of his neglect and the man decides to go away and leave them together. The woman clings to him, however, and she shall choose between them. She stretches out her arms to both of them as the picture fades, leaving it in doubt as to which she will go to.

The Lure of the Green Table—LUBIN—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 25.—Harry Woods, engaged to Jessie Vail, gets heavily into debt from playing cards at his club. In desperation, he proposes to a homely girl for Jessie there. At the end of two years he writes Jessie that he is able to make the last payment on the ranch and he still has a week to visit the village to pay Lawrence, the man whom he bought the ranch, finds him in a gambling hall and is asked to “sit in” a hand of poker, where one of the players is called away. Harry consents and wins a big pot. Returning home, Harry feels the old lure of the green table and within a month, has lost not only all his spare cash, but the deed to the ranch as well. Jessie, worried over his silence, goes west to learn the cause. Harry, in the gambling hall, gets word that a pretty girl has stepped off the train, and when another gambler dares Harry to cut the deck so to speak to gain her, he accepts the challenge and loses. The gambler meets Jessie and is repulsed, while Harry, staggered out, is clasped in Jessie’s arms. Realizing what it means, the gambler forces Harry to take back the deed to the ranch, and the greater part of his lost money, while the love of the good woman is rekindled against “the lure of the green table.” William Parsons and Dolly Larkin featured.

The Reformation of Ham—KALEM—DECEMBER 25.—Ham and Shorty are sailors on the ship Philalethes, anchored off Kualangsu, China. Shorty endures to cure Ham of drinking by placing snakes in his bunk, but, later, when the two go ashore, Ham forgets all about the snakes. The two purchase some fireworks and, after annoying some Chinese pirates, engage in a battle which ends in victory for the sailors only when the fireworks are discharged to tell back aboard the ship. Shorty once more makes use of the snakes and eventually induces Ham to reform. Lloyd V. Hamilton featured.

Doc Yak and Santa Claus—Selig—DECEMBER 25.—One of the most interesting, entertaining and thoroughly enjoyable Christmas offerings that the Selig Company has ever released, is this full reel reel short comedy by Sidney Smith. Doc Yak, the famous cartoon creation of the illustrator is seen writing a letter to Santa Claus, and later receiving the gift which Santa Claus brings him. In addition to all of the humor and originality for which the Selig Doc Yak pictures are famous, this is brought out again in this one, by adding a realistic snow storm scene during the greater part of its length. All exhibitors will, undoubtedly, mark this release A-1 on their projection sheets.

His Unwitting Conquest—BIOGRAPH—DECEMBER 26.—A novelist attempts to write a story about a certain type of woman but fails for lack of knowledge. Resolving to seek a woman of this type, he gets a friend to introduce him to a foreign actress with no intention of paying her serious attentions, thinking he is happily married. He is constantly with her behind the scenes at the theater and in her home. At last possess of material for his masterpiece, he shows the story, and the actress, piècing because he does not call, visits him on the day the story is completed, and makes it plain that he loves him. He then explains, “I do not love you; I wanted you only for this,” and shows her the story. In a rage she hurl’s the manuscript into the fire crying, “You had right to it; it is my secret soul you touch here.” When only does he realize what he has done, though it is too late to make amends for his unwitting conquest.

The Man Who Vanished—EDISON—DECEMBER 26.—Here is another release of the “Below the Dead Line” series, featuring Robert Conness as the famous detective, Felix Boyd. As in the case of its predecessors the climax of this mystery is sprung at the beginning of the picture, and the developments which lead up to it are featured later by Boyd himself, in his resume of the crime. To prevent their plans for robbing the Gotham Trust Company being interfered with the Wyckoff gang has one of its members shadow Felix Boyd, and keep them posted on his movements. The detective becomes aware of the man dodging his steps, turns the tables on him, and, after an interview with the cashier of the bank, learns enough facts to enable him to guess the exact hour at which the robbery is to take place. He enlists the aid of the police, and captures the entire gang.

C. R. C.

Broncho Billy and the Sheriff's Office—ESSEX—DECEMBER 26.—More dramatic acting is seen in this film than has been required in this series for some time. Excitement runs high at all times and the climax is a very pleasing one. It is a typical western offering and to exhibitors looking for a production of the kind the reviewer has no hesitancy in recommending it. Broncho Billy is requested to resign as sheriff and John Jenkin's son becomes his successor. The new sheriff is given a fright a few days later by an outlaw and sends in his resignation. Broncho refuses to return to the office. Shortly afterward, the outlaw, to prove to Broncho's sweetheart, that he has no fear of him attacks him while he sleeps and binds him. Broncho frees himself and asks to be made sheriff. He starts after the outlaw and captures him. He then again resigns.

The Escape on the Limited—KALEM—DECEMBER 26.—Another of the interesting "Hazards of Helen" series featuring Helen Holmes, Brandt, a defaulting bank cashier hides in Lone Point, but his whereabouts is learned by Sheridan, a detective, who wires Helen to detain Brandt until he arrives. Brandt ties Helen up and escapes on the limited, but the girl manages to throw a telephone through the window, thus attracting the attention of the train crew. The two board a gasoline speeder and set out to overtake the limited, knowing capture stirs him in the face, Brandt leaps from the flying train and is killed.

A Troublesome Cat—LUX—DECEMBER 26.—A cartoon picture by Vincent Whiteman, showing a hard working bill poster awakened by the howls of a cat and his petty thefts, his tormented love bedstead, chairs, up the chimney and over house tops until he finally smashes it with his paste brush, and then unable to tell when he begins painting Luling his best friend.

The Champion Bear Slayer—SELIO—DECEMBER 26.—A slap-stick comedy in which father after relating his hair-raising adventures with a bear has a chance to demonstrate his bravery at home, in opposing a small cub, which has been brought there by his daughter who has just returned from a western vacation trip. Father imagines the cub several times its real size and flees in terror and panamas from cellar to garret pursued by the bear. As the daughter has rounded up the cub on the fire escape, and father has to suffer the joshing of the whole police department, when he beholds the actual size of the little rascal who has pursued him. Lee Morris and one of the Selig cubes featured.

Brannigan's Band—LUX—DECEMBER 26.—Casey, left to mind the baby, is disturbed when Mike Brannigan, leading his band at practice, throws the baby. He takes the boy to the doors where Mike can hear it, but the noise is drowned. He hires Angelo, an organ grinder, but the band chases him away. Eventually Mrs. Casey returns, and after dosing the band with water, stops the concert. On the same reel is:

An Affair for the Police—VITAGRAPH—ORZEMCO—DECEMBER 26.—Preparing for her wedding, Yvonne Whelen engages Al Shannon, a private detective, to guard her wedding presents. In the hired car of Mrs. Van Austin, the hiring of a detective an insult to the guests, but after the ceremony it is discovered that a priceless necklace has disappeared. A number of the guests are searched without result, and the case is indeed a mystery. Next day, Miss Scott, Shannon's female assistant, arranges a "cat home" dinner and prepares to trap the thief, she herself to be present as a maid, while Shannon makes up as a butler, which leads to the home of Mrs. Van Austin, and there the necklace and the jewels are found. Instead of being false, it appears that Austin laughs and explains the whole thing was a joke to prove to Yvonne that the robbery could occur despite the presence of a detective. Leah Baird featured.

Mutual Program

In the Conservatory—PRINCESS—DECEMBER 15.—Mr. Schuyler is about to have his governess arrested for stealing her jewels, a fine-looking, well-dressed stranger comes forward, and confesses to the theft. Another girl, who is a police shield, introduces himself as Sergeant Wilson, handcuffs the confess, and leads him away. On the street Wilson removes the handcuffs from his prisoner, and explains that he, too, is a thief, posing as a detective at times to extricate others from embarrassing circumstances. The next instant the "prisoner" springs forward, handcuffs Wilson, and escorts him to jail. Wilson has fallen into the trap laid for him by one of the city's cleverest detectives.

The Barrier of Flames—THANHouser—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 15.—Mayor Southwick's little girl, Helen, strays away from home, and wanders into an old house which is held by political hoss for holding secret conferences. The boss orders the housekeeper to guard Helen, intending to use the child as a lever to compel her father to sign certain dishonest franchise bills. The housekeeper leaves her charge, and during her absence the house catches fire. Shep, Helen's pet, has trailed her, and arrives just in time to rescue his mistress by climbing up a ladder, jumping through a skylight, and leading the fiancée to the attic room in which the little girl is imprisoned. Helen is carried downstairs by the fireman, and the story is told from the top story of the burning house into the fire net.

Mutual Weekly No. 103—MUTUAL—DECEMBER 17.—In this issue are views of the horse show in New York, a terrific storm along the eastern coast which caused a million-dollar loss, the sailing race from New York on her last trip, and, in the war section, views of the redoubtable Cossacks, also scenes amid French, English and Belgian lines.

Shadows and Sunshine—PRINCESS—DECEMBER 18.—Madeline and Marion, twin sisters, are orphans. Tom Sykes adopts Madeline, and later, after his wife's death, decides to be her accomplice. Marion has fallen into the hands of wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Gale. Sykes is shot while attempting to rob the Gale home, and has been ransacking Marion's room, is discovered and pitted by its occupant, and invited to share her bed with her for the night. In the morning Mrs. Gale is astonished to find two Marions in bed. Her husband then tells the story of the twin. It is an interesting and overjoyed to learn that they are sisters.

Two Kisses—ROYAL—DECEMBER 19.—Jed, the new clerk, of country origin, knows nothing of the popular song, "Two Kisses," which is sung by the clerk, and it is thought that he is the one to be pitied. A whirlwind of excitement follows in the wake of this, and in the end Jed and his employer are the most pitied of all.

The Sower Reaps—AMERICAN—(Two Reels)—DECEMBER 21.—Peter Pelham and Ben Rolfe are rival candidates for district attorney. When Pike, an old miscreant, is killed, the suspicion rests upon Tim, Ben's brother, but eventually thumb-print evidence brings about the fact that Pelham is the real culprit. His elder sister cuts short their conversation by hurrying the girl off. Udwin learns that the man tipped a bellboy with a coin that was minted in one of the Balkan states and sails abroad, intent on finding the kingdom whence the money came. He is successful, and learns that the girl is the Princess Olga and the elderly man the prime minister. Udwin also learns that the prime minister is at the head of a conspiracy to usurp the throne. The American and the girl, together with the reigning family, wins the girl for his wife.

Brass Buttons—BEAUTY—DECEMBER 22.—A stirring and thrilling farce comedy by the beauty company, concerning the admiration of Mary McArthur for brass buttons. When Owen and Jim, her two lovers, discover her fondness for the glitter of brass buttons. Jim secures a policeman's uniform and masquerades in that guise to win her affections, while Owen borrows the uniform of a fireman, trying to secure attention himself. Eventually Jim is arrested for impersonating an officer, while Owen and Mary patch up their little differences and live happily ever after. Webster Campbell, Joseph Harris and Virginia Kirley furnish the singing.

The Better Way—Majestic—December 22.—On being released from prison Sunbeam's father secures a job as night watchman, but is discharged when his past record becomes known. Sunbeam obtains work as a 'slavey' in order to support her father and herself. He does not like the idea of his daughter working, though he does not know where she is employed, and turns crook again. He attempts to rob the house in which Sunbeam is working. She discovers him, and helps him to escape when the rest of the family become aroused. Returning home later, she forgives him for drifting into his old ways, and they are happy again.

Under False Colors—Thanthouse—(Two Reels)—December 22.—Genevieve Watts, an heiress, is tired of the sham of society life, but her conventual aunt will not listen to her remonstrances. Several months later Genevieve meets a charming country girl whom she invites to her Fifth avenue home, determined to show her exactly how artificial the bonds of friendship and love are, and to select circle of acquaintances. Genevieve dresses Mary up beautifully and introduces her as a foreign princess. She becomes the center of attraction immediately, Genevieve's fiancé being smitten with her beauty. Genevieve then explains the origin of her princess, and, title gone, Mary finds that her ardent suitors have disappeared with it. She returns to the country disgusted with society life. Genevieve's aunt concedes that her niece's opinion of society is a correct one.

The Passing of Two-Gun Hicks—Broncho—(Two Reels)—December 23.—Moore Gulch wakes up with a jolt to the realization that a real 'bad man' is in its midst. The speed with which the news that Two-Gun Hicks shot Bad Ike, a bully, travels is only equalled by the effect of the wave of love that sweeps over Hicks on his first seeing Mrs. Jenks. His advances to her being rudely repulsed, Hicks is mystitified as to why she should be so loyal to her husband, who is the town drunkard. Hayes, a gambler, who is also smitten with Mrs. Jenks' charms, thinks he sees a way of killing two birds with one stone by inciting Jenks against Hicks. Two-Gun receives the drunkard's command to leave town before sunset the next day very calmly, knowing that he has nothing to fear from him if it comes to a draw. That night Mrs. Jenks visits Hicks in his room, and asks him to kill her husband. For her sake he spares the drunkard, and the next day leaves the town, followed by the jeers of the citizens.

Tin Can Shack—American—December 22.—Splendid photography and some wonderful backgrounds make this an exceptional release. It tells how Joseph Ghar's love for his granddaughter, whom he disliked by his son-in-law. Ghar takes Olga, his little granddaughter, and flees to the mountains and lives in Tin Can shack. Hugh Dawson, a young trapper, some fifteen years later, sees Olga and falls in love with her and eventually Ghar's son-in-law and daughter, through an auto accident, learns of this. A reconciliation is effected. Ghar returns to the city with them and Dawson arranges to call upon Olga in the future quite regularly. Edward Steinhoven and Wilmfred Greenwood featured. N. G. C.

A Lucky Disappointment—Reliance—December 23.—Mr. Fairley objects to Jack Holt's calling on her daughter, and he news is quite a surprise to Jack, who has been running up at the bank Jack returns, and induces Myrtle to elope with him that night. They are successful in getting away without being discovered, but are disappointed on arriving at the parson's house by being told that he is not in. The elopers return to the ranch house and are saved from robbing Fairley. The raunch pays his debt of gratitude to the couple by consenting to their marriage.

The Last of the Line—Domino—(Two Reels)—December 24.—Gray Otter, the last of a long line of powerful Sioux chiefs, is much disappointed in his son, Tiah, when he returns from the white man's college. The young buck turns out to be a drunken renegade, and is soon thoroughly despoled by both the Indians and white men. Tiah breaks his father's treaty with the colonel of the garrison by gathering a number of squaggers and attacking the army paymaster's wagon train. Gray Otter hears the firing, hurries to help him not to kill his son's conduct, shoots him. The soldiers are all killed by the Indians, and, as no one is left to tell the tale, Gray Otter leads the colonel to believe that Tiah was killed while defending the paymaster. The young buck is buried with high military honors.

In the Sage Brush Country—Kay Bee—(Two Reels)—December 25.—Holidays being frequent in the Wolf Creek district, Edith Wilding sets out for the Lost Hope mine in her husband's place to allay suspicion. Jim Brandon, a bandit, sees the woman come out of the Lost Hope office, and, guessing the truth boards the stage with her. It is held up in a deserted region by Juan, a Mexican bandit, and Jim and the driver are relieved of their valuables, but Edith is told by the bandit that he will take nothing and will have him kill him. He pretends to slaps him across the mouth. Incensed at this Juan orders Jim and the driver to whip up the horses, and, when they have done so, drags Edith off to a shack in the mountains. Apparently departing on the stage, Jim gets out, takes up the couple's trail, and follows them to the shack, where he shoots the bandit and rescues Edith.

The Exposure—Reliance—(Two Reels)—December 26.—Joe Walsh receives a letter from his uncle offering him a good position in his law office. He accepts. Just before leaving for the West to take up his new work he and Helen, his sweetheart, quarrel over some slighting. She goes, and he becomes a competent writer on a large daily. She is sent West to cover a graft story for another paper, and is shocked when, on hailing the desperadoes whom she is to write about, she learns that Joe Walsh is the one accepting the graft money. They meet the next day, and Joe explains that he is acting as one of the principals in the affair in order to secure evidence enough to convict the guilty cunchannelmen. They work together to the expose, and their success makes Helen known as a clever newspaper woman while Joe is given the credit of being an exceedingly sharp and honest lawyer.

Universal Program

Animatronic Weekly No. 145—Universal—December 16. This issue contains views of the school children of Washington collecting pennies for the Bel-gin War sufferers, an arch built of 115 bales of clothing for the army in South Texas, glimpses of the destruction along the Atlantic coast caused by a recent gale, and, in the war section, views of British troops on the march in France, camp life at Langley Park near Windsor, England; a troop of Turkish cavalry near Constantinopie and French-Canadian recruits drilling at St. John, Canada.

Carmen's Romance—Sterling—December 21.—Buster becomes angry when Chandler, a city chap, steals the affection of his sweetheart Carmen, and challenges him to a fight. Buster's anger is not appeased any by being soundly thrashed by Chandler, and he decides to weaken his revenge when he sees Chandler peering down into a well. He steals up behind his rival, and hits him with a stick, knocking him into the well. The boys Butler and Bellare help him out, but instead is pulled in himself. Carmen hears the boys' cries, and, with the aid of Butler, rescues his friend. Cold-Buster for his sportsmanlike action, and forbids him to intrude on the lovers again.

The King and the Man—Victor—(Two Reels)—December 22.—The fourth release of the "Terence O'Rourke, Gentleman Adventurer," series, J. Warren Kerrigan as Terence takes a hand in a conspiracy against King Ariste of Zeta, and saves the ruler's life. According to the laws of his country King Ariste is forbidden to marry anyone coming under his rule. In accepting the commission he brings about an alliance between Zeta and another country, but he would be deprived of Princess Grace if he did not accept it. O'Rourke is commissioned to protect the king against a band of Russian secret service agents who are plotting to assassinate O'Rourke. The story is replete with remarkable resemblance to the king, and decides to impersonate him when he learns that the conspirators are on their way to the king's palace. Grace, who is to make the king stay, O'Rourke's bravery and diplomacy hold the would-be assassins in check, and, when their lust for blood is somewhat abated, they agree to allow the king to leave the country safely, adorning the throne, but fully recompensed in the love of Princess Sofia.

Vivian's Beauty Test—Crystal—December 22—On arriving at a fashionable beach house Mike discards his wives as not being classy enough, and starts a flirtation with Vivian, stopping at the cottage also. She encourages them, and later meets their wives, Sally and Molly, who admire her smart clothes. She promises to make them beautiful and does. Made up to look funny Vivian ceases to impress Gus and Mike any longer. They are the two beautiful women, not knowing that they are their wives. Vivian approaches them on the porch, and introduces the two girls to their companions. The men are astounded to learn that they are Sally and Molly.

The Call of the Waves—Gold Seal—(Two Reels)—December 22—Grace is a wild, care-free sort of a girl living with her father in a village on the coast. Frank, a wealthy young city man, stops at the village on one of his out-of-town excursions, and falls in love with Vivian. As the wave is about to strike her, he saves her, and they are married. They live a care-free life together. When Grace is about to die, Frank is called to the city to save his firm. Grace is left with her father, and she becomes a victim of Monte Carlo, and there meets Frank, who has journeyed to Europe in an effort to save her. Each feels unworthy of the other, but, on later meeting again in the old fishing village, their fears and doubts are dispelled in a true lover's embrace.

For I Have Toiled—Nestor—December 22. The manager of Hiram Marshall's steel works suggests that they save money by cutting the men's wages. The scene is set at the works where the men are at present underpaid. To learn actual conditions himself Marshall goes himself as a workman, and obtains employment among his own men. After a few hours of hard work at a forge he faints, and is carried home. On recovering he announces that instead of cutting the wage scale he is going to change it so that the toilers will share in the proceeds of their labor. A love interest is woven into the play in the romantic between Marshall's daughter and his secretary.

The Fortunes of Margaret—Culver—(Two Reels)—December 21—Lucille Buback, a n'et-do-well, steals the money that was to appear the mortgage on his father's farm; Isabel, his sister, suspects him of the theft, but, on being questioned by her father, will he know anything about it. Firmly believing that she is the guilty one Farmer Buback orders Isabel to leave home. In the city the pretty girl has little trouble in finding work, and, after a short time becomes married to her employer. Four or five years pass without Isabel's hearing from her father. One day her little daughter is saved from an auto truck by a street sweeper, and every day after that the little girl and her nurse visit the old man. Lemuel, it seems, has fallen in with a gang of crooks, and in an attempt to rob Isabel's house is shot. Before he dies he obtains her father's address from him. A happy reunion takes place between them, and, when Isabel's husband learns that he is the man who saved his daughter from the auto truck he insists that Mr. Buback spend the rest of his days with them.

Love and Spirits—Joker—December 23. Eddie is in love with Betty, whose parents are ardent followers of a spiritualistic cult. Not knowing this Eddie apphends Madam Wanda's demonstration, and is banished from the house. His chum, Ernie, advises him to approach Madam Wanda on the subject of aiding his suit with Betty by telling the girl and her parents that Eddie is deeded her future husband by Fate, Madam Wanda agrees, and Ernie enacts his share in the ceremony, which is to play the part of a ghost. The scheme is given away by accident, and while Betty's father pursues the fleeing medium Eddie and the girl hasten away and get married. Betty's father objects strenuously at first, but, with the sight of the ghost limps up the consent, and the couple are forgiven.

The Big Sister's Christmas— Rex—(Two Reels)—December 24—Ann is the younger sister, Marty, attends a party at a settlement house, and meets John Waters, a young artist. Waters finds that Marty has some talent in drawing and they become intimately acquainted much to the discomfiture of Bob, Marty's sweetheart. The girl invites Wa-honorable young fellow’s name. He compels Mary Dix, a girl whom he has wronged, to tell the colonel and his daughter that Dayton is the father of her nameless child. At first they doubt her statement, but when she gives intimate data and other circumstantial evidence they begin to fear that it is so. Dayton enters and is confronted with the woman’s claim. Hurt by the injustice of his position he leaves the Lund home, crushed and despondent. Mary asks Dix to marry her according to his promise, but he refuses. She then refutes her former statement to the Lunds, clearing Dayton. In the end the colonel induces Dix to marry the girl he deceived, and the affair ends happily.

Hot Stuff—Joker—December 26.—A quarrel between Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Smith opens the way for Tramp Clarence’s acquiring a fine Christmas dinner. Both women go out, and Tramp takes Mrs. Smith’s turkey. She accuses Mrs. Brown of the theft. Later, with Tramp’s assistance, Mrs. Brown’s goose appears in Mrs. Smith’s ice chest. Vowing revenge on each other they each make a pie, one seasoning it with cyanide and the other with tabasco. Clarence gets both birds and tramps down the street for a cigar at the grocery store. That night when it is time to serve the pie at Brown’s and Smith’s they discover that the pies have disappeared, and send to the grocer’s. He sends them the two pies brought in by Clarence. The guests begin to eat the desert, but do not get further than the first bite.

The Law of the Range—101 Bron (Three Reels)—December 26.—Tex Foster is the cattle king of the Cimarron Range district in New Mexico, and his word is law until the arrival of Frank Smith. The newcomer pastures his cattle on free land, and defies Foster to stop him. The cattle king threatens to gobble up him and his property unless he keep off of “his land.” Smith presents being bullied in this manner, and he and his foreman start a systematic steal on Foster’s cattle. The latter does not miss them until the round-up reports come in, when he finds that his cows have fallen off in number anomalously while Smith’s have risen in accordance. Foster openly accuses Smith of rustling, and has him arrested, but the judge dismisses the case for lack of evidence. The cattle king and his men descend upon Smith’s ranch house, capture him, and prepare to hang him. The sympathy of the town is with Smith, and when the cattlemen learn that Foster is about to hang him they break up the lynching party, and free him. Foster is killed in the fight, and Smith swears off from rustling forever.

The Manicure Girl—L.-Ko—December 27. The head barber believes that he is the manicure girl’s only suitor until one day he discovers her in the company of another man. A fight follows during which the girl faints and the head barber receives a black eye, and numerous minor bruises. He hastens to procure a stimulant for his fainting beauty, and on his return finds her chatting gaily with another man. The new rival is quickly disposed of by being thrown into the lake. Not seeing him come up, he believes that he has committed a murder, and rushes to a barber shop to disguise himself by having his mustache cut off. He recognizes the barber as his old rival just in time, and makes a break for liberty. After considerable chasing and fighting the victor goes to claim the flickle manicure girl only to find her seated between two new suitors, kissing them alternately.

Her Escape—Reox—(Two Reels)—December 27.—Pauline is forced to act as “lookout” for her father and brother, who are desperate crooks. One night she reads one of the Salvation Army’s pamphlets, and is impressed by its contrast with her own. A visit from Pauline to the recital of her experience, the father starts after her with a knife, trips at the head of the stairs, and is killed by the fall. Pauline obtains a position as nurse in a wealthy family, and accompanies them when they move to the West. Pete, her brother, follows her, and one day accosts her in the park. Paul Reeves, a wealthy young mine owner, takes exception to his actions, and knocks him down. The friendship between Pauline and Reeves ripens into love, and a short time later they marry. Pete, now at the head of a gang of thieves, calls on Pauline and demands money. She breaks his grasp and runs down the stairs. Pete, partly intoxicated, attempts to follow and falls down the stairs, breaking his neck.

Feature Programs

Alliance

The Truth Wagon—Masterpiece—(Five Reels)—December 26.—John Ross, an idle son of the rich, is a practical joker, as is shown by his many pranks in the first part of this story. Helen and her daughter are guests at a fast dawning newspaper owned by her father seeks John for an interview in regard to his latest prank. She asks him, as all the others have done, why he does not tell the truth and go to work and he starts everyone by announcing that he will buy the paper. He does this and at once wages war on crooked politicians. His campaign is a failure and when he tells him that he is merely a tool in the hands of the machine a break occurs between them. John exposes the machine and nominates Helen’s father as candidate on the opposing ticket. The machine, however, secures a story which compels Helen’s honor and then agrees to trade for story John holds exposing their methods. John is forced to do this but still holds the card up his sleeve and when he announces that his father has severed connections with the body that tried to wreck the “Truth” offices, but John secures a number of his prize-fighting friends and in the struggle which takes place between the two factions in the office the machine men are thrown out. Dean wins the governor’s seat and claims Helen as his bride.

Box Office

The Edler—Box Office—(Five Reels).—Mr. Eder is a successful politician, sent to the far West in search of adventure. John Harding, born of wealthy parents but disinherited is also seeking his fortune in the gold fields. One day Harding receives word that his father had died and that he is now Sir John Harding. Before he returns to civilization, however, he becomes involved in a quarrel with a man named Strong and the latter is accidentally shot during the dispute. Harding flees to England and Strong’s brother vows to avenge the death. Years later in London Harding, who has married the girl both he and Cross were in love with before they left England, comes face to face with Cross and Strong who have become partners and have struck it rich. In order to win Lady Harding, Cross plans to have Strong tell Sir John in a duel. He arranges the affair between them and then lures Lady Harding to his apartments. When Sir John comes to seek her the three face each other in a dramatic climax and both men realize her worth. They shake hands and Mark decides to go away, taking Strong with him.

Eclectic

When Wealth Aspired—Fathe—(Three Reels).—The injustice of selling a girl for a title and the tragic results that sometimes come of it are graphically pictured in this picture. The story is so presented that the subject does not appear to be overdrawn, and the scenes, especially of the duals, are decidedly tense and realistic. Paola Donnetti's wealthy but meandering parents gravely their desire to have a title in the family by marrying their daughter to the penniless and majestically-Due de Ron- doza. Robert Santello, Donnetti's secretary, is earnestly in love with Paola and denounces the duke for the motives that prompt his marriage to the girl. They duel, and Santello is killed. Later Paola learns that her real name is Muriel, and she is albums and marriage, and begins to hate the duke. By her attentions to Prince Renucci she causes a duel between him and the duke. The prince, a skilled duelist, finds an easy victim in his opponent, and the duke dies, pleading with Paola to forgive him.

C.R.C.

Whistles Misses Mrs. Whistles—Pathé. Whistles is jealous to the point of des- peration. He flies into a rage because a shoeman takes his wife's foot up in his lap when trying to fit her in shoes, and later, when he discovers one of his friends in the parlor conversing with his Mrs. Whistles, he shoots him. The jealous man's wife and friend both pretend to be dead, and chuckle inwardly when Whistles begs them to come back to life. He is overjoyed on learning that they were only feigning death, and promises Mrs. Whistles never to let his jealousy overcome his good judgment again. On the same reel with:

The Valley of the Bourne—Pathé. This is a beautifully colored educational subject showing views of the famous Valley of the Bourne in France.

C.R.C.

The Life of Our Savior—Pathé—(Seven Reels)—A beautifully colored film presenting the life of Christ from the time of his birth until the crucifixion and resurrection. The sub-titles are scriptural quotations and the setting is the actual Holy Land. A complete review will be found on page 890, this issue.

The Perils of Pauline—Twentieth Episodes—Pathé.—Unlike most of its predecessors this release does not contain any feat that can be classed as un-usual, but it is a well directed interesting film. While on a trip in the Marvin yacht Pauline prevails upon Harry to teach her how to run the motor boat. The next day, the ventures out alone in the boat. Owen is beside himself with joy when he sees Pauline cast off for he has substituted the wooden plug in the bottom of the boat with cotton waste. An hour later the boat begins to fill up, and Pauline and her dog desert the boat for an old barge that is lying directly in their path. Some U. S. warships start target practice, and Pauline soon finds that she has taken refuge on their target. The dog is dispatched to the warships with a note, a cutter takes him aboard and rescues his mistress. In the meantime Owen and the captain of the yacht become engaged in a quarrel. Their struggles bring them near the railroad, and the sailor pushes Owen overboard. The villain drowns and Harry and Pauline are left alone; their troubles coming to an end.

C.R.C.

General Special

The Little Angel of Canyon Creek—Vitagraph—(Five Reels).—Ten year old Ola Trygvesson is sent west by a mis- takenly friendly man to a mission among the Chinooks. She learns the Indian ways and finds she likes them better and better. Her happiness is shattered when she discovers the mission is a front for a Russian fur trading post, and her band is gone. She returns to the mission, is adopted by a wealthy widow, beautiful and kind, and she learns to love the missions and the Indians, although she finds them all dull. The villain drowns and Harry and Pauline are left alone; their troubles coming to an end.

C.R.C.

The Crystal Globe—Paramount—(Two Reels).—Sheila is adopted by wealthy people while an innocent child and brought up good by them. A self-made man is in love with her, but she feels that she does not care for him. A visit to France reveals her true life to her, showing her as a waif in the west. Con- vinced of the worthiness of her lover, she agrees to marry him. Dorothy Davenport featured.

Paramount

The Crucible—Famous Players—(Five Reels)—December 14.—Jean Fanshaw is brought up by her father as nearly as like a boy as possible. When he dies her mother and sister cannot understand her and continually ill treat her. One day when her sister especially provokes her, Jean picks up a stick and threatens her. As a result of this prank she is placed in a reformatory. Here she meets Stella Wilkes, a notorious girl of the streets, who plans to make her a part of her wicked life. She escapes from the reformatory and in the woods meets Craig Atwood, a reformer, who helps her to escape. At last she again meets the artist and promises to become his wife. Happiness is again snatched from her when the shadow of the reformatory looms over her, but at last she is free and she sells her sister's home. At last the happiness she deserves comes to her.

False Colors—Boxworth—(Four Reels)—December 17.—A rare drama by Lois Weber is "False Colors." It is a skilled portrayal of type—the people who are ever sailing under false colors, though professing to be true to them- selves. Lloyd Falcon, a fan on the streets, is an actor in love with his wife, at her death abandons the child to the care of a grasping house-keeper and her husband. After fourteen years he reappears, the money lent by the exiled father for the support of his daughter. The daughter, driven by despair, runs away from her father's return and in the end of the play achieves success by picking up the threads of her father's career. Inter- woven in the drama is the silent love of the theater maid for the actor. Her daughter, Florence, unhappily marries the son of Phillips' housekeeper and is deserted by her. Phillips, the father, becomes deeply interested in his spon- sored daughter. They are brought together by the death of the girl's mother who sends her daughter on a mission to deliver Phillips the handwriting, rekindle his memories of him. Phillips Smalley, Lois Weber, Adele Farrington and Courtney Foteo have the leading roles.

Sawyer

Without Hope—Flamingo—(Four Reels).—This is the prize comedy written by Elaine Sterne. Hope, a slavice in a restaurant is adopted by two maiden spinsters and taken to a summer resort by him. Witherrill, an inventor, has perfected a formula for the manufacture of noiseless gunpowder, and while waiting for the money he approves goes to the same hotel with his daughter Irene. Van Alstyne, a writer in love with Irene, goes to the same hotel and so employment as a waiter in the hope of getting material for a story. La Belle, a political spy of a foreign govern- ment, with the aid of a bogus count endeavors to get Witherrill in her toils and obtain the coveted formula through the intervention of Hope, who exposes the bogus Alstyne. La Belle from poisoning the inventor. The foreign agents are frustrated and captured. Two love stories run through the film and both Irene and Hope are made happy in the end.
MOTOGRAPHY

Hearts United — Liberty — (Four Reels).—Professor Dowd invites Robert Harris, the son of an old college chum, to visit him and his daughter, Alma, it being the old man's wish that the young people marry. Robert dies of heart failure before starting on his journey and Harris, who realized what the professor decided to impersonate him and win the girl and her father's fortune. His deception succeeds but Alma loves Joe, her father's enemy, and convinces him that Joe is married and she dismisses him. Joe, heartbroken, leaves for the northwest. Alma discovers the trick and persuades her father to take her to the same region, this being easy as the professor has always wanted to study the Indians in this section of the country. He disguises himself as a profes- sor and manages to be near them. Joe, in the meantime saves Water Lily, the daughter of an Indian chief, from the clutches of a barber to kidnap Alma when they arrive in the wilds and almost succeeds, as he is aided by a band of outlaws. Joe defends her, however, and at a critical moment Water Lily and her father's Indians come to the rescue. Haines is killed and the outlaws captured. Alma and Joe are happily united.

United—Warner's

Little Miss Nuisance — Warner's—Paul Nord is hired by the de- tective of his employer, James Fauret of the Department of Special Revenue. With a friend he is spending a week-end at his cottage in the country when Marion Lamont, the daughter of a wealthy candy manufacturer, is forced to stop at their place because the tire of her automobile is punctured. Fauret and his daughter see the girl in Paul's cottage and detest him. He follows them to the city and has them straightened out again when Marion calls on him to express her sorrow for causing him trouble, for she has fallen in love with him. Fauret and Paul find them together and this time discharges Paul and tells him never to come near his daughter again. The daughter appears at this point of the story, who knows that the count was guilty of the crime for which the convict, who now impersonates him, was sentenced. The count has held her tongue, however, because of the count's mother, but with the death of this old lady, she demands of the "count" that the innocent man be released, not knowing that she is talking to man himself. The sur- geon turns up and blackmails the convict-count and the deceiver becomes flagrant places in which the man loses his life. Thus passes the countess' "dubious husband."

Universal Special

The Master Key—(Episode Five)—Universal—(Two Reels)—December 21. In the sixth episode of this serial Dare starts out on a search for Ruth. He finds the taxi driver that took Wilkerson, Drake, Mrs. Darnell, and the girl to Chinatown, and learns from him where the party got out. In the meantime the schemers have discovered that the deeds to the "Master Key" mine are not in Ruth's possession. They return to Chinatown and Drake back to the opium den in which the girl is imprisoned to obtain them from her. Dare and the hotel detective set up a trap and summon the police. Drake learns that Sing Wah has spirited Ruth away, and, undecided at first what action to take, his mind is soon made up when he catches a glimpse of the raiding squad. He manages to make a safe get-away, and returns to Wilkerson and Mrs. Darnell to report. Dare and the detective set up a trap in the cylindrical room, and are dropped through a trap door into the water beneath the den. They make their way out, the bay, and after a vigorous search and exciting chase, find the Chinese man and Ruth and rescue the girl.

World

The Marked Woman—Shubert—(Five Reels)—December 14. Olga Petroff, a nihilist, vows vengeance on the Cossacks because her little brother was killed by Count Bobrioff. She is sent to China with an important paper hidden in the heel of her shoe, which denotes the time and place of the nihilist meeting. She meets Lieutenant Dare of the United States navy and they fall in love. On her arrival in Port Arthur she finds the Russian police in charge of the nihilist headquarters, but is saved from being sent to Siberia by the Russian Ambas- sador, who sends her to Kan You Way at Nunkin. On her way there the junk, in which she is traveling, is wrecked and Olga is found on the shore and taken to the house of Kan You Way. Haines meets Princeling Ching, the finance minister to the Empress Dowager, and eventually is forced to marry him to save Dare and the Russian Ambassador from being put to death. Four years later her son is born. Dare spends most of his time seeking her, but is unsuccessful. His efforts have been thrown into prison by Prince Ching is liberated by Olga and tells the American forces of her whereabouts. Dare and a force of soldiers take the palace successfully. He finds Olga and her boy, who is later killed by a bullet unintentionally fired by his father, Prince Ching. The ending is artistically in- complete.

The films of all the companies are now being submitted to the National Board of Censorship and when approved by them bear an official stamp which is shown above. Screen productions having been thus approved are certain to en- tertain an audience of any kind without offending even the most sensitive person present.
Miscellaneous

The War Pigeon—All Red Feature Company.—Crandall a renegade Canadian becomes a spy for the American troops and forges his daughter Alice to help him. The information is conveyed to the army by carrier pigeons. Lieutenant Fitzgibbons, commander of a band of Canadian scouts, discovers the method by which the enemy is kept informed. He meets Alice and they fall in love. Later she learns of the plot to capture Fitzgibbons and a conflict takes place within her between her love for her father and the lieutenant. With the assistance of a faithful Indian she manages to warn Fitzgibbons, and in the fight which follows his band is victorious. Crandall is taken a prisoner, but is released through Fitzgibbons' influence and the lieutenant claims Alice as his wife.

Should A Woman Divorce?—Ivan—(Five reels).—The daughter of an American farmer brings home a school girl friend. The contrast between the two girls is marked, but despite the fact that the farmer's daughter is the most sensible of the two she marries a worthless man. He gambles and drinks and spends the majority of his time with other women, and her only comfort is a daughter which is born to them. She goes to her former lover who is a doctor and he persuades her to run away with him, though she says her husband will never consent to a divorce. The doctor changes his name and tells the world that she is his wife. He becomes a famous physician and they are happy when their home is blessed with a child. Her first child who has been kept by the worthless man is taken sick and the famous physician is called in. When the woman and her second child enter the office the secret is found out. This is the beginning of a tragedy which does not even end when the doctor dies.

The Little Girl That He Forgot—Cosmos—(Five reels).—June Holly, an orphan, lives with her uncle and grandmother in the timber district of Missouri. David Stone loves June and Bud Uptegraff, whom she has rejected, hates her. Alan Powell, the son of a wealthy St. Louis lumber merchant comes to the forest and falls in love with June but when he sees that David suspects them he says that he only flirted with her, thus protecting her reputation. Soon after Alan is called home but writes June telling her that he will return and marry her as soon as he has completed a business trip he is starting on. David gets the letter and destroys it. Her child is born and she goes in search of Alan but to no avail. While going along a country road she drops the baby and it dies in a few moments. Frightened, she hides it in the bushes but she is discovered and arrested. She is tried and convicted for murder. Alan returns and learns of her trouble. He pleads with the governor to stay her execution but the official refuses and everything points to her hanging until, at the last moment before her execution, the governor sees things in a different light and pardons her. She finds happiness in Alan's arms.

The Fiends of Hell—Apex—(Three reels).—A Chinese society learns of the inventions of Dr. Wyncott and Clydes-d看清 to secure them, as it is their duty to bring all such things to the service of their nation. Both men reject offers for their inventions and the society then plans to secure them without their consent. Rex Omar, a detective, overhears their plans and attends their meeting. He is discovered and confined to have his head cut off by the sword-shaped hand of a clock but is rescued through the mystic powers of Lahl, a hypnotic medium. A week later the society succeeds in stealing Clydesdale's invention with the aid of a drugged newspaper but again Lahl's powers are called into play and Omar learns the whereabouts of the Chimamen and secures the invention, the society members, however, escaping. They use the same means of securing Dr. Wyncott's invention they did for Clydesdale's but this time Omar succeeds in capturing them and the two men feel that they are safe at last.

The Queen of Counterfeiters—APEX—(Three Reels).—The queen of counterfeiters is a beautiful young woman who controls a band of thieves. Her confederates complete a $5,000 bill and she passes it at the race track, an elderly gentleman being her victim. When he tries to dispose of it he is arrested but to the surprise of the police he removes his disguise and they see he is Nick Carter, the famous detective. He leads a raid on the crooks' den but is trapped and thrown into the river after being tied in a sack. He escapes and when he learns that they are leaving for a cruise around the world he stows himself away in their ship. He thus captures one of the gang and forces him to change clothes and thus manages to follow the queen to her hotel when they reach a port. He then disguises as an elderly gentleman and takes her to a ball. As they part for the night he discloses his identity to her and places her under arrest.

Press Agent Says—

That Charles Ray of the New York Motion Picture Corporation bears a charmed life. He had his eleventh automobile accident in two years recently, when another machine skidded and collided with him, damaging his auto quite badly. He is fortunate that the fault has been Ray's and only twice has he had to pay for the repairs. He has paid a couple of fines but that is another story.

That Elizabeth Burbidge, ingenue with the Ince companies, declares she is going to write a book when she gets time, in which she intends to narrate the completely incredible adventures that have happened since she began to work before the cameras of the New York Motion Picture Corporation.

That in "The Olive is Dismissed" episode in "Olive's Opportunities," in which Miss Mabel Trunnelle is being featured by Edison, appears a dog "party" given by a society woman. The dogs, seated around the table are supposed to show their enjoyment by howling their delight.

That being arrested as a military spy in Long Beach, California, taken to the city prison and subjected to a "third degree" ordeal of questioning, was the experience of Carl von Pagh-Winter, a camera man in the employ of the Balboa Amusement Producing Company of Long Beach, who is known in California moving picture circles as "the baron."

That Earl Metcalfe, at the Lubin studio recently, "put one over" on George Terwilliger, his director, by announcing to him that he was going to quit acting and become a scenario writer. When asked for an explanation Metcalfe said that he knew of a book which if put into scenario form, would make the greatest moving picture in the world. Being a noted scenario writer himself, and wondering how this book had ever escaped his notice, Terwilliger immediately inquired the name of it. With all appearances of seriousness Earl replied, "The dictionary, because in it one can find every element for a good photoplay—loves, hate, jealousy, pity, sympathy, scorn, forgiveness, comedy—". The list was never completed for Terwilliger fled to his private office. From there he wrote a scene, which he thought absolutely perfect, and lived.

That Mary Fuller of Universal has no fear of the chilling blasts which sweep the summit of the Palisades on the banks of the Hudson river. She proved this Saturday when she peered over the rocky hollow clad in a very flimsy garment of leaves and grass, while a gale swept the crest of the Jersey heights.

That one of Billie Ritchie’s friends has nicknames him, "dispeller of blues." An exceedingly appropriate title, for his funny maneuvers.

That the Flying "A" is mighty proud of having a prize baby in its family circle in the small person of little Jack Morrison, the tiny son of Mr. and Mrs. Chick Morrison, who won over all contestants in the recent eugenie exhibition.

That Ben Turpin, Essanay comedian, is mourning the loss of his pet mule, who has taken part with him in two comedies. The animal finally became too old to take his parts well so had to be put in the "has-been" class. It was required to a farm on a pension. Turpin visits the animal every Sunday.

That when Grace Cunard was getting ready to dress as the Scotch girl in "The Campbells Are Coming" and opened the boxes sent by the costumier, who made the clothes specially, she found stockings, two pairs of boot plates and a black jacket. The balance of the balance had been forgotten. Miss Cunard says, "Francis Ford absolutely refused to allow me to go on with what was sent!"

That William D. Taylor, who is producing for Carlyle Blackwell of the Favorite Players, says that he never had such an easy man to direct before. He did not think it possible for a man to grasp things as quickly as Carlyle does. On the other hand, Mr. Blackwell pays tribute to his director who is the first man to handle him in the manner Taylor does.

That J. Barney Sherry, the popular veteran character actor of the Inceville force, appeared at the studio last week wearing another new suit. It is understood from an authoritative source that this constitutes Barney's fiftieth addition to his private wardrobe since the beginning of the summer.

That pretty Louise Glanum will soon be added to the list of automobile owners and ride to and from Inceville and Los Angeles. Louise has a difficulty however, she wants a "pretty" car and refuses to consider such trifling matters as power or durability. She has been persuaded to let one or two rambunctious auto-bugs help her select the machine but it has got to be a "pretty" car, and that is all there is to it.
The Perils of Pauline

If we could only take you round and have you talk to the exhibitors who have been running this great serial you would not hesitate a minute. You would book it as they did and see your box-office receipts increase, too. Pauline has proved to be the biggest money-pulling picture ever put out by any firm. It has created such a stir throughout the country both on account of the newspaper publicity and on account of the intrinsic value of the story, that it has been an enormous money-maker for the exhibitors showing it. Some of the theatres have been requested to issue reserve seat tickets for the days they show Pauline, so that the patrons could be sure in advance that they would get in to see it. There have been many disappointed people who have gone to the theatres and have found such a crowd waiting they could not get in. Do you need any better evidence that it will be a money-maker for you, too?

Pauline Pulls People—She's A Gold Mine

Giants-White Sox World Tour

You have to hand it to Jack Gleason. The pictures he had taken by the Pathé camera man on the trip around the world are the most interesting travel pictures we have ever seen. Wonderful scenery, historical places and events, comical situations, thrilling adventures, interesting plays, notable men and perfect photography are all shown in such a way that your patrons will vote this picture the greatest they have ever seen. It is a fact that there has never before been an opportunity to get such a wonderful collection of events and place them before the public in one picture. Add to this the fact that every newspaper in the country has run column after column about the trip and you have a combination that is unbeatable. It is a foregone conclusion that this will prove the biggest money-puller you have ever had in your theatre. This is proved by the great number of telegraphic requests we have had for bookings. To get an early run you will have to hurry and place your order with one of the Eclectic branch exchanges or wire the head office direct.

Get It—Show It Reap A Harvest

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

110 West 40th Street
New York City

"The Cream of American and European Studios"
The Stain

Here is one of the most wonderful dramatic tragedies ever placed on the screen. Made for us by Pathé from a dramatization of the famous novel by Forrest Halsey and Robert H. Davis. The action is intense. The acting is superb. The story is entrancing. The tragic fall of the clerk and the final reckoning when he is faced with the proof of what danger and suffering his action has caused create a situation which calls for the very best artists to depict. These artists are some of the best known in the motion picture world and insure the quality of the picture.

The Lion's Bride

Did you ever feel the hair on your head slowly rise as you felt there was something going to happen, something which you had no power to avert and which would mean a terrible danger to the participants? Well here you have it. Madame Emmy Destinn, the great operatic Prima Donna, enters a cage containing fourteen lions and sings a selection from one of her songs. While she is singing one of the beasts springs on the piano and is within a few feet of the singer through the song. This is a thriller if there ever has been one.

It's Some Picture

A Big Feature

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
Rhodes Bldg.

BOSTON
3 Tremont Row

CHICAGO
Andrews Bldg.

DALLAS
115 E. 23rd St.

LOS ANGELES
711 Liberty Ave.

MINNEAPOLIS
1210 Locust St.

NEW YORK
5 So. Wabash Ave.

PITTSBURGH
67 W. Liberty Ave.

SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.

CHICAGO
5 E. 40th Street

SAN FRANCISCO
1233 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Parnam St.

ST. LOUIS
Nassau Bldg.

PHILADELPHIA
217 E. 5th St.

WASHINGTON
1233 Vine St.

DALLAS
W. 7th & E Sts., N. W.

NEW ORLEANS
910 Gravier St.

Cleveland
382 Burnside St.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

WESTERN
214 E. 5th St.

110 West 40th Street

THE ECLECTIC

FILM COMPANY

New York City

“The Cream of American and European Studios”
Face to Face

Andy Has a Toothache

Andy Has a Toothache

Andy Has a Toothache

In "The Story of the Man Who Disappeared" Produced in collaboration with the Popular Magazine

Following the exciting attempt to stop Earle's train the four partners land the new Court House contract. Carter attempts to block this by a bill in the Legislature. He in turn is accused of bribery, and, after exciting incidents is found out by a clever ruse. It is a thrilling drama.

Released Tuesday, July, 7th

It was no ordinary toothache. His mother suggested all kinds of remedies, even to tying a string to the door knob. The Superintendent sent Andy to the dentist's, but once in the chair he fled in dismay at a sight of the instruments. Called a coward by his chums he challenged one to fight and in the combat lost the tooth unawares.

Coming Multiple Reels

THE SHATTERED TREE

Friday, July 3rd

IN THE SHADOW OF DISGRACE

Friday, July 10th

Coming Single Reels

BACK TO THE SIMPLE LIFE

Wednesday, July 1st

MOLLY, THE DRUMMER BOY

Saturday, July 4th

HER SPANISH COUSINS

Monday, July 6th

DOLLY AT THE HELM

Eleventh page in the active life of "Dolly of the Dailies"

Saturday, July 11th

*Sheet. One and three sheets. One, three and six sheet posters by the Morgan Lithograph Co.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.

265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.
Mr. Exhibitor:

Can you afford to purchase a Motion Picture Projector that will keep you busy buying repair parts? NO.

There is only one machine (MOTIOGRAPH) that will give you satisfaction in Up-Keep and Rock Steady Projections.

Investigate the parts of the MOTIOGRAPH and you will easily understand why a MOTIOGRAPH is a Money Saver.

Write for catalog

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
564 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO

WRITTEN FOR THE BUSINESS MEN

Don't undertake to secure financial assistance, incorporate a projected enterprise, sell or reorganize an established business or finance a deserving concern, until you have read "Science of Organization and Business Development," by Robert J. Frank of the Chicago Bar. The Law and Procedure of Organization, Financing and Development of Business corporations in one book. Write today and get a copy for your desk or library, $2.75 in morocco prepaid, or $3.75 with a year's subscription to Motionography. ELECTRICITY MAGAZINE CORP., Monadnock Building, Chicago.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting

By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY

240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motionography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenarion; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, prepaid $1.14 or with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid $2.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building — — CHICAGO

"Safety First" is assured with

"Agra"

Non-Flam Stock

Superior Photographic Qualities
Long Wearing Base
Non-Peeling Emulsion

Formulae Book, Samples, etc., gratis

RAW FILM SUPPLY CO.
Sole American Agents
15 E. 26th St., New York City

Cooling Ventilation Heating

"TYPHOON BLOW-IN SYSTEM" has revolutionized the ventilating problem. You get in front of a desk fan to keep cool, not in back. Apply this common sense and blow the air in.

Don't waste money experimenting with exhaust fans.

The TYPHOON MULTIBLADE BLOWER will force air right through ordinary exhaust fans. Reversed, the air can be exhausted as well.

Our Catalogue M. P. tells how to keep cool in summer and warm in winter.

TYPHOON FAN CO. NEW YORK CITY
1544 BROADWAY

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
America’s Most Spectacular Production

The Wrath of the Gods

OR

The Destruction of Sakura-Jima

6 PARTS

Produced Under the Personal Direction of THOS. H. INCE
Can Be Booked Through Continental and Mutual Exchanges

Enlargements made from the film.

New York Motion Picture Corporation
Longacre Building
42nd Street and Broadway, New York
Our Features Coin Money for Exhibitors

Superior Dramatic Productions that have already created a reputation on the Legitimate Stage.

All our features the product of our own Studios and Laboratories—hence our guarantee.

A Deep Sea Dramatic Masterpiece Adapted from the Stage Play

THE GREYHOUND

IN FIVE PARTS

Written by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner. Scenario by Louis Reeves Harrison

Selling Fast—State Rights Now Selling

Our Next Release—A Western Psychological Drama

NORTHERN LIGHTS

FIVE PARTS

Written by Edwin Barbour and William Harkins, Jr.

A Photoplay That Will Be a Marvel of Our Time

All of our productions scenically and photographically perfect and acted by picked all star cast. Wonderful Lithos and Advertising Matter. Wire or Write Territory Desired.

We Produce Features Adapted from the Legitimate Stage

Life Photo Film Corporation

Executive Offices

220 West 42nd Street, New York

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Daniel Frohman
Presents
The Renowned Motion Picture Star
CARLYLE BLACKWELL

In a Melodramatic Farce of Romance, Thrills and Laughter

"THE PITFIRE"

By Edward Peple
Author of "The Prince Chop and A Pair of Sixes"
A Tale of Love, Adventure and Daring, which Grips Young and Old with its Delightful and Irresistible Appeal
In Motion Pictures.

An exciting blending of action, comedy and sentiment.

In Four Reels—Released June 20th

FAMOUS PLAYERS
FILM COMPANY

ADOLPH ZUKOR, President
DANIEL FROHMAN, Managing Director
EDWIN S. PORTER, Technical Director
Executive Offices, 213-229 West 26th St., New York City
THE DYNAMIC FILM
The terrific story of the beef packing industry and stockyards, with the personal appearance of the author,

Upton Sinclair
A subject replete with startling situations, vividly depicting the awful scenes which prompted the author's writing of the story which startled the world

The Jungle

IN
5 TREMENDOUS SOUL-STIRRING ACTS 5
Featuring the eminent character actor,

George Nash
Former star of "The Gamblers" and "Officer 666",
And a superior cast of All Star Broadway Favorites, including

Gail Kane

COMING
LEW DOCKSTADTER
In a Big 5-Act Play of Civil War Days,
"DAN"
By HAL REID with Gail Kane and Lois Meredith

THEN
Ethel Barrymore
In a new play by Augustus Thomas.

BOOK OF OUR DISTRIBUTORS

ALL STAR FEATURE CORPORATION

HARRY R. RAVER, President  AUGUSTUS THOMAS, Director General of Productions
Executive Offices: 230 W. 42nd St., NEW YORK  Exclusive Agents in Principal Cities of the World

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
A News Service That Creates a New Interest in Films!

Never have films aroused the same interest in exhibitors and public alike as has been shown in the great innovation, The Pathé Daily News.

The Reasons Are Apparent:

Best Items from All Over the World
News Only a Few Hours Old
Photography the Best Pictures With a Punch

Nothing deteriorates in value with age more rapidly than news. Show these films each day and the crowds will "make a beaten path to your doors."

Book The Daily News for Big Business

For full particulars address

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS
1 Congress St., JERSEY CITY, N. J.
"Cameo of Yellowstone"
A Two Part Western Thriller. Featuring Wm. Garwood and Vivian Rich and an all star Western Cast under direction of Sydney Ayres.
Release, Monday, July 6th, 1914

American Beauty "The Other Train"
Release, Tuesday, July 7th, 1914

"Feast and Famine"
A Society Drama of Unusual Merit, Heart-Throbs and Thrills. Featuring Wm. Garwood and Vivian Rich under direction of Sydney Ayres
Release, Wednesday, July 8th, 1914

American Film Mfg. Co.
6227-35 Broadway
CHICAGO

The VICTOR
ANIMATOGRAPH
THE FIRST
PROFESSIONAL PORTABLE MOTION PICTURE PROJECTOR

STANDARD 1000 FOOT REELS. BRILLIANT 10 FOOT IMAGE.
ATTACHES TO ANY LIGHT SOCKET. READY FOR WORK ANYWHERE.

Price complete in carrying cases . . $125
Quick Sales at Good Profit for Exchanges and Supply Houses

Write for the new catalog and the best projector proposition ever offered.

VICTOR ANIMATOGRAPH CO.,
(Incorporated)
1472 Broadway
NEW YORK

38 S. Dearborn St.
CHICAGO
Hearst-Selig News Pictorial

Semi-Weekly Service
All the Big News Events Throughout the World
Shown in Great Pictures

The most clever, intrepid, fearless, active camera men in all parts of the world are at work every day to portray by expert photography the leading news events for this department.

Just What the Public Demands
Special Lithographed Posters
Order From Your Exchange

Released Mondays and Thursdays

Order your posters and heralds for all productions, beautifully printed, artistically illustrated, up-to-date
Supplied through General Film Co. or by Selig

Selig Productions are Distinctive Standards of Quality
All Releases through the General Film Co.
10,000,000 PEOPLE

Are waiting to see the Photoplay Masterpiece

"One Wonderful Night"

(In Four Acts)

Written by Louis Tracy

This magnificent production will be released Saturday, July 18th

Francis X. Bushman

the winner of the Ladies' World Hero Contest will play the leading role—your audience elected him to play it.

Book this Attraction Now!

Released through the Feature Department of the General Film Company

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.

Queen Marie Antoinette is Condemned to Die.

A true history dramatization of the great world famous novel by Dumas. It shows the terrors and trials of the French Aristocracy at the time of the great revolution. It shows the prison scenes, the mock trials, and the prisoners hurried in batches to execution. It is a wonderful film.

Don’t Fail to Get “A Pearl of the Punlab”
Pathé Made in 3 Parts, Carrying the Action to the Fullest Limit of Perfection.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
Rhodes Bldg.
NEW YORK
115 E. 23rd St.
Cleveland
622 Prospect Ave., S. E.
SEATTLE
810 Third Ave.

BOSTON
3 Tremont Row
PITTSBURGH
714 Liberty Ave.
PORTLAND
502 Burnside St.
OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.

CHICAGO
5 So. Wabash Ave.
SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.

DALLAS
Andrews Bldg.
ST. LOUIS

LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.
SYRACUSE
320 Locust St.

MINNEAPOLIS
4th & Hennepin Sts.
CINCINNATI
217 E. 5th St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.
WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.

SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.
DALLAS

PITTSBURGH
714 Liberty Ave.

THE ECLECTIC
110 West 40th Street

FILM COMPANY
New York City

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
The Serial Film That Has Broken All World’s Records For Bookings And Patron Pulling Power

The Perils of Pauline

Pauline is without doubt the most popular character in motion pictures. She is known and liked from coast to coast, as the most daredevil—chance taking actress before the camera. As she said the other day “One of these days something will happen and poor Pauline will be a real angel.” She is backed up by the most extraordinary cast ever gathered together.

Pauline Pulls People—She’s A Gold Mine

A Pathé Made—Lightning Action—Human Interest Drama

Detective Craig’s Coup

(5 Parts)

A drama so full of intense action and contagious interest that your patrons will find their nerves tense as piano strings which will not relax till the last foot of film has passed before them. Then they will thank you for the opportunity you have given them.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
Rhodes Bldg.
NEW YORK
3 Tremont Row
SAN FRANCISCO
5 So. Wahash Ave.
CHICAGO
Andrews Bldg.
ST. LOUIS
67 Turk St.
DALLAS
1312 Farnam St.
LOS ANGELES
1312 Farnam St.
MINNEAPOLIS
4th & Hennepin St.
BOSTON
3 Tremont Row
PITTSBURGH
712 Liberty Ave.
SOUTH BEND
PORTLAND
Burnside St.
PHILADELPHIA
1233 Vine St.
SALT LAKE CITY
68 S. Main St.
CLEVELAND
622 Prospect Ave., S. E.
OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.
CINCINNATI
217 E. 5th St.
CINCINNATI
215 E. 5th St.
DENVER
201 E. 7th St.
KANSAS CITY
110 Grand Ave.
NEW ORLEANS
910 Gravier St.
OKLAHOMA CITY
928 Main St.

THE ECLECTIC
110 West 40th Street

FILM COMPANY
New York City

“The Cream of American and European Studios”

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
AMERICAN BEAUTY Productions

Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard

Supported by an All Star Cast of World Famous Photoplay Artists.

Produced by

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.

CHICAGO
A message from a big place may be compressed in small "ad" space. You can't gauge our place by our "space."

A-Z BOOK
The Recognized, Standardized Buying Guide for Exhibitors
You'll be Pleased with "FULCO SERVICE"
E. E. FULTON CO., 150 West Lake Street, CHICAGO

Sole American Distributors of the "GUIL PASTIL"

NO METHOD THAT WE KNOW would build up so great a business in repair supplies, as the sale of a machine made of lead composition parts, but we prefer the good will and continuous benefit that will result from the sale of a machine made with a rigid iron, dust-proof frame, and solid steel parts, such as is found in the 1914 MOTOGRAPH, to be seen at DAYTON, during the convention beginning July 6th. Let us show you the hardened parts, the wearing qualities, the excellent Arc Lamp, and the reasons why the MOTOGRAPH is the machine to buy.

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
564 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO II.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By John B. Rathbun, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of MOTOGRAPHY; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping.

Postpaid... $1.14
or with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid... $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building... CHICAGO

SEE OUR EXHIBIT AT THE DAYTON SHOW, Week of July 6th MOTION PICTURE APPARATUS CO., Inc., 810 Broadway, New York

The Bell & Howell Rewind
A Better Rewind at a Less Price
Ask your Exchange or Write the Makers.

The Bell & Howell Company
1803 Larchmont Avenue
CHICAGO ILLINOIS

Cooling Ventilation Heating
"TYPHOON BLOW-IN SYSTEM" has revolutionized the ventilating problem. You get in front of a desk fan to keep cool, not in back. Apply this common sense and blow the air in.

Don't waste money experimenting with exhaust fans.
The TYPHOON MULTIBLADE BLOWER will force air right through ordinary exhaust fans. Reversed, the air can be exhausted as well.
Our Catalogue M. P. tells how to keep cool in summer and warm in winter.

TYPHOON FAN CO. NEW YORK CITY
1544 BROADWAY

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
The Divine Shakespearean Drama
MADE AT VENICE, ITALY!!!

By the Photo Drama Company. THE SUPER FILM — By All Odds the Most Pretentious, Beautiful and Accurately Screened Version of Shakespearean Stories.

MADE AT VENICE, ITALY! That’s a Tremendous Advertising Feature in Itself. VENICE, rendezvous of the modern tourist—a very fountain-head of Romance and Adventure! The waterways of Historic Venice with its tales, ten centuries old, of Passionate Loves and Fierce Vendettas—the indolent, dreamy sweep of these Gondola-ridden highways are scenes of the quaintest stories in any language.

FOR THE MAKING OF OTHELLO the City Fathers Declared a Half-Holiday—Canals were Closed to Modern Commerce, Leaving Only the Aged Palaces, the Gayly Costumed Players and the Clicking Cameras of the Photo Drama Company.

In OTHELLO, we offer a real masterpiece—it is the first of Shakespeare’s stories filmed in its proper environment, as the Master would have wished.

For Release Through
GENERAL FILM COMPANY
Week of July 6th
Complete Line of Lithographs, Press Stories, etc.

GEORGE KLEINE
166 N. State Street, Chicago
"The Littlest Rebel"

This splendid production will be shown at one of Chicago’s biggest theaters

THE LITTLEST REBEL

With all its thrills, sensations and its tender, touching pathos will be reviewed by the regular dramatic critics.

It will be advertised big in the moving picture trade journals and in the daily press. Billboards are contracted for also.

A play that ran for 40 weeks at the Chicago Opera House to capacity will fill your house.

Book now before your competitor beats you to this big film.

United States army troops, cavalry, infantry and artillery are used. The battle scarred flags of the civil war are seen and rebels and federals alike join together in making this the biggest 5-reel picture ever offered for booking.

Special lobby display, 24s, 16s, 8s, 3s, 2s and 1 sheets, besides window trimmers and throw-aways.

Now open for booking. Reservations are made in the order in which they are received.

BOOK IT TODAY, SURE

Owned by Photo Play Production's Releasing Company

RELEASED BY

G. & G. FEATURE FILM COMPANY

37 S. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois

Owners of Exclusive Rights to "SHOULD A WOMAN TELL" for Illinois and Wisconsin.
"THE MASTER CRACKSMAN"
Scores a Smashing Hit!

ANOTHER LINK IN THE CHAIN OF MOORE'S THEATRES

MOORE'S ORPHEUM THEATRE
NINTH AND D STREETS NORTHWEST
WASHINGTON, D.C.

Progressive Motion Picture Corporation,
Times Bldg., Times Square, New York, N.Y.

Gentlemen—We can use "MASTER CRACKSMAN" for a repeat date, two days in September or October. If you sell same in the meantime, kindly refer this request to purchaser of this Territory. This production was well received.

With best wishes, beg to remain,
Very truly yours,
Tom Moore

Read These Comments:

"HARRY CAREY, in the role of the gentleman burglar, is incomparable. There are crook and crook plays, but seldom has there been a story which embodies so many startling situations and real thrills."
—Morning Telegraph.

The story is well developed, interesting and finely acted by the company in support of Mr. Carey.
—Dramatic Mirror.

Any State Right buyer that is fortunate enough to get this feature will make some real money with it.
—New York Star.

"THE MASTER CRACKSMAN" makes a good movie story and rounds out the kind of action and interest that the American picture audiences glory in. Photographically the picture is there. 'The Master Cracksman' will hold its own.
—Variety.

"Undoubtedly one of the finest melodramas yet produced. It is a good picture, a thoroughly worthy attempt, sufficiently good to do honor to any house in which it may be shown. Harry Carey possesses technique and skill."
—Motion Picture News.

STATE RIGHTS AND BOOKING NOW

Progressive Motion Picture Corp.,
505 TIMES BUILDING
NEW YORK

Cable Address
Promopic, N. Y.
Telephone
Bryant 8536
JACK LONDON'S GREAT STORY— "JOHN BARLEYCORN"
PRODUCED BY THE COMPANY THAT MADE THE FAMOUS "SEA WOLF"

"JOHN BARLEYCORN"

The Lad Himself— Age Seven— DRUNK! Strongest Plea for TEMPERANCE Ever Pictured.

A Story That Will Touch the Heart of Every Spectator

For Bookings and Other Information in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, communicate at once with FAMOUS PLAYERS FILM SERVICE, Inc.

404 Ferry Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., or 37 S. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

American Feature Film Co., 162 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.— New England States; Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Wm. L. Sherry Feature Film Co., Inc., 126 West 46th Street, New York City— Greater New York and New York State.

Famous Players' Exchange, 1331 Vine Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and 71 West 23rd Street, New York City— New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania.

Famous Players Feature Co., 38 West Lexington Street, Baltimore, Md.— Delaware, Maryland, Washington, D. C. and Virginia.

Casino Feature Film Co., Detroit, Mich.— Michigan.

Kansas City Feature Film Co., Kansas City, Mo.— Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

BOSWORTH INC.
648 S. Olive St., Los Angeles, Cal.

WILLIAM W. HODKINSON, Distributor, 110 W. 40th St., NEW YORK CITY

JACK LONDON'S GREAT STORY— "JOHN BARLEYCORN"
PRODUCED BY THE COMPANY THAT MADE THE FAMOUS "SEA WOLF"

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
"SALOMY JANE"

WITH

BEATRIZ MICHELENA

THE BEAUTIFUL AND CELEBRATED PRIMA DONNA

SUPPORTED BY A NOTABLE CAST INCLUDING

HOUSE PETERS

SALOMY JANE

PLAY

SALOMY JANE

AS ORIGINALLY PRODUCED BY

LIEBLER & COMPANY

PAUL ARMSTRONGS

CALIFORNIA MOTION PICTURE CORPORATION

CAPITAL $1,000,000.00

HERBERT PAYNE  R.P.SCHWERIN  CHRISTIAN & GUIGNE  EDWIN M.EDDY  CHARLES T. CROCKER  ALEX E. BEYFUS

H. T. SCOTT  K. TYSON  CHARLES T. CROCKER  ALEX E. BEYFUS

EXECUTIVE OFFICES

SAN FRANCISCO

STUDIO AND LABORATORIES

SAN RAFAEL

CABLE ADDRESS: CAMPAICO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Optigraph

A Perfect Portable Motion Picture and Stereopticon Projector

for

Home, Industrial, Educational, Etc.

Using

Standard Films, Standard Condensers,
Standard Carbons, Standard Lenses,
Standard Reels,
Standard Stereopticon Slides,
Standard Gas Apparatus

Price, $100 complete

Weighs 20 lbs. complete

Can be attached to any electric light socket. This machine is not an experiment, more Optigraphs have been sold than any other machine made.

Dealers apply to

Optigraph Manufacturing Company

First National Bank Building
CHICAGO, ILLS.

M.P. Theater List

We have a correct list of all the Motion Picture Theaters in the United States and Canada. These addresses are in stencil and are quickly available for commercial uses. The price of the complete list delivered into your hands is $50.00. Cash with order.

Electricity Magazine Corporation

Monadnock Bldg. : : CHICAGO, ILL.

WRITTEN FOR THE BUSINESS MEN

Don't undertake to secure financial assistance, incorporate a projected enterprise, sell or reorganize an established business or finance a deserving concern, until you have read "Science of Organization and Business Development," by Robert J. Frank of the Chicago Bar. The Law and Procedure of Organization, Financing and Development of Business corporations in one book. Write today and get a copy for your desk or library, $2.75 in morocco prepaid, or $4.75 with a year's subscription to Motography.

ELECTRICITY MAGAZINE CORP., Monadnock Building, Chicago

MAKE YOUR LOBBY DISPLAY ATTRACTIVE

There is nothing more fascinating to the public than a bright brass frame to display your photos or posters. We make Lobby and Theatre Fixtures and Brass Rails of every description. DON'T FAIL TO VISIT OUR SHOW ROOMS.

Write for Catalog. Established 1882.

THE NEWMAN MFG. CO.

715-717 Sycamore St. Cincinnati, O.

BRANCH FACTORIES AND SHOW ROOMS

108 W. Lake St., Chicago
111 4th Ave., New York.

YOUR MONEY MAKERS

The only sure fire producers in Ohio. Thirty-five of the best selected feature films picked by an old exchange man. Write for open dates. We have the films.

EXHIBITORS FEATURE FILM CO., 431 Summit Street, Toledo, O.
News While It Is News Daily on Your Screen!

Already the exhibitors who have booked these liveliest of motion picture films,

THE

PATHE DAILY NEWS

have become convinced that for getting the money it is the one best bet. To show a DAILY NEWS poster outside your theatre is insurance against a dull day—to show the film on your screen means a satisfied audience. Invariably the Pathé Daily News exhibitor is a successful exhibitor.

BOOK IT THROUGH THE FOLLOWING PATHE DAILY NEWS EXCHANGES

BOSTON, MASS., 3 Tremont Row.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., 1225 Vine St.
ATLANTA, GA., Rhodes Building.
PITTSBURGH, PA., 715 Liberty Ave.
CINCINNATI, OHIO, 217 E. 5th St.
NEW ORLEANS, LA., 910 Gravier St.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Kazota Building.
DENVER, COL., Nassau Building.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., 67 Turk St.
KANSAS CITY, MO., 928 Main St.
OMAHA, NEB., 1312 Farnum St.
NEW YORK, N. Y., 115 East 23d St.
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7th and E Sts., N. W.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., 214 Fayette St.
CLEVELAND, OHIO, 622 Prospect Ave.
CHICAGO, ILL., 5 So. Wabash Ave.
ST. LOUIS, MO., 3210 Locust St.
DALLAS, TEXAS, Andrews Building.
PORTLAND, ORE., 362 Burnside St.
LOS ANGELES, CAL., 114 E. 7th St.
SEATTLE, WASH., 510 Third Ave.

Delays are dangerous. Write at once for full information, addressing as below.

PATHÉ DAILY NEWS
1 Congress Street
JERSEY CITY, N. J.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
BUY THIS BOOK

“MOTION PICTURE WORK”

By DAVID S. HULFISH

618 Pages, Including Index
Price $4.00

THIS BOOK is invaluable for reference and instruction to the thousands of workers in the motion picture field. Covers fully the three big branches of the motion picture business; the making of the pictures, the operation of all types of projection machines, and the operation of the moving picture theater. The drawings, diagrams, and photographs used have been prepared especially for this work and their instructive value is as great as the text itself.

PARTIAL TABLE OF CONTENTS

Motion Head: Portrait of Motion — Optical System — Types of Shutters — Film Gate — Film Shift Mechanisms — Continuous Projection — Threading up Motion Head — Feed — Tutorial — Films — Care — Up-setment — Operator’s Duties.

Frise-Green Process: Film Manufacturers.

Our Price in United States, Cuba and Mexico, $5.00 with a year’s subscription to MOTOGRAPHY

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building Chicago, Illinois

If we are to prepay charges, send 40¢ additional.

Are You Getting Right Prices Prompt Service Best Goods in your Lantern Slide Mats and M. P. Reel Bands?

If not, phone or write

Lantern Slide Mat Co.

Phone Spring 5558
General Electric Building, Greenwich and Morton Sts.

New York City

Save Your Motography For Future Reference

By special arrangement with the manufacturer, we have been able to secure the only practical magazine and periodical binder on the market. We refer to the Dowst Magazine Binder which binds one issue, a dozen issues or more with a neat book appearance. This binder has no springs, catches, strings, clamps, laces or locks, and does not mutilate the periodical in the slightest manner.

No mechanical labor necessary, simple, practical, durable.

A Positive Guarantee

The manufacturers guarantee to us that every binder is thoroughly tested before it is delivered, and a further guarantee that it will simply and practically accomplish everything claimed for it.

Price
Postpaid
$1.50

Complete with 12 Binding Rods
10 Sectional Posts and Name of Publication Stamped in Gold on Front Cover

Binder Closed
Binder Open

Send for Illustrated Pamphlet

MOTOGRAPHY 1460 Monadnock Block, CHICAGO, ILL.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Daniel Frohman
Presents
The Greatest of Motion Picture Stars

Mary Pickford
In A Novel Yet Typical Characterization,

"The Eagle's Mate"
A Story of Stirring Emotions,
By Anna Alice Chapin.
In Five Reels Of Motion Pictures
Released July 1st.

Famous Players
Film Company

Adolph Zukor, President
Daniel Frohman, Managing Director
Edwin S. Porter, Technical Director
Executive Offices, 213-229 West 26th St., New York City
"FOOLING FANNY'S FATHER"—Comedy. Tuesday, July 7th Father is working on a contrivance to advance or reverse a person's ears, but Fanny and her sweetheart show him that it won't work.

"WHILE AUNTIE BOUNCED"—Comedy. Tuesday, July 7th Auntie tries to stop the courting between Alice and a Circus Acrobat, but they throw her in the bounding net until she consents.

"THE INCOMPETENT"—Two Reel Drama. Wednesday, July 8th A very intense drama. A story of a worthless man, a devoted wife and excellent friend, the fatal triangle which causes a tragedy followed by a new era of happiness.

"THE DEBT"—Two Reel Drama. Thursday, July 9th Some sad experiences in the life of a poor but worthy chorus girl who becomes the victim of a rich old rogue, but eventually is saved by a heroic and worthy lover.

FIVE RELEASES EACH WEEK

Comedy

"He Was Bad"
"Tough Luck"
"Codes of Honor"
"The Cross of Crime"
"The Lie"
"She Wanted to Know"
"All for Love"

"THE TRIBUNAL OF CONSCIENCE"—Drama. Friday, July 10th

Unfortunates career of a spendthrift son who being discarded by his excellent father robs the safe and goes headlong to ruin and poverty, eventually he reforms and a faithful old servant secures a reconciliation and prosperity.

"HOW HE LOST HIS TROUSERS"—Comedy. Saturday, July 11th

Excellent comedy picture in which a young swell friend calling on his chum's family is mistaken for an escaped lunatic. He is deprived of his pants and has to escape dressed in a lamp shade.

"MANDY'S CHICKEN DINNER"—Comedy. Saturday, July 11th

Mandy invites the preacher to dinner and gives her trifling husband money to buy a chicken but through his clumsiness the rooster gets away. The husband then robs a poultry farm, which causes a sad mix up.

LUBIN POSTERS By Our Own Staff of Artists

One and Three Sheets with Single and Split Reels—One, Three and Six Sheets with all Multiple Reels.

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

CHICAGO OFFICE, 151 West Lake Street.

EXCELSIOR FEATURE FILM CO., INC.

THERE ARE FEATURES AND FEATURES—BUT—

"THE TOLL OF MAMMON"

In Four Parts

Featuring Octavia Handworth; Supported by Gordon DeMaine, Tom Tempest, William A. Williams, and Directed by Harry Handworth.

Wonderful Reality
Perfect Atmosphere
Clear Photography

A Needed Lesson Brought Home
ELABORATE LOYAL DISPLAY

Ingenious Acting
Spectacular Innovations
Attractive Prices

CAN YOU BEAT THIS COMBINATION?

EXECUTIVE OFFICE
110 WEST 40TH ST., NEW YORK.

SUIT 1002—PHONE, BRYANT 8059

STUDIO
LAKE PLACID
N.Y.

ARTHUR ROSENBAUM, Sales Mgr.
LUBIN MASTERPIECES

Lubin Masterpieces are eagerly sought and well advertised by Exhibitors, because of their tremendous drawing power. This drawing power has been thoroughly established from the pains-taking efforts always noticed in Lubin pictures, together with the lavish expenditure necessary to produce and maintain the standard which we have set.

The first requisite is a good play then the carefully selected cast and bearing those two important points in mind, the list below will conclusively prove that we are now in a position to offer

"Broadway's Best Successes with Broadway's Best Stars"

Now Ready and About to Be Released

"THE WOLF" by Eugene Walter—5 Reels, with the Famous Lubin All Star Cast. As beautiful a picture as was ever made.

"MICHAEL STROGOFF"—5 Reels, with Jacob P. Adler, the Eminent Romantic Actor, in the leading Roll.

"THE HOUSE NEXT DOOR"—5 Reels, with the Famous Lubin All Star Cast.

Famous and Popular Plays Now in Preparation

"THE EAGLE'S NEST" (Now being produced in Colorado) written by Edwin Arden, who made a great success in this play for years and who now plays the important role in the photoplay.

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER" by Winchell Smith with Wm. Elliott, late star of "Madame X" production, in the leading role.

"THE RAGGED EARL" by Joseph Humphries and Ernest Lacey. With Andrew Mack in the leading role.

"RAYMOND HITCHCOCK," the funniest man on the stage in a specially written Comedy which promises to be the funniest Motion Picture yet produced.

The Big Drury Lane and Broadway Successes

By Cecil Raleigh

"SPORTING LIFE," "THE GREAT RUBY," "THE GREAT MILLIONAIRE."

"THE COLLEGE WIDOW" by George Ade, the humor dispenser.

"LOVERS' LANE" and "THE CLIMBERS," by Clyde Fitch.

"THE CIPHER CODE" and "DR. BELKNAP" by Charles Klein, author of "Third Degree," "Lion and the Mouse," "The Gamblers" and "Daughters of Men"—already produced by Lubin, with wonderful success.

"MRS. DANE'S DEFENSE" by Henry Arthur Jones.

Future Productions with Well Known Broadway Stars

"THE SPORTING DUCHESS" by Cecil Raleigh. With the remarkable racing scene taken on a large and expensive scale.

"THE GREAT DIVIDE" by Wm. Vaughn Moody. Henry Miller's and Margaret Angelin's great success.

and more to follow

Lubin Manufacturing Co.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
What kind of features do you want?
Read this letter from a man who knows

During the big exposition in New York a number of the great six reel Warner's Features were shown. The president of the International Motion Picture Association, Mr. Charles H. Phillips, saw them, and upon his return home wrote the following letter:

Milwaukee, Wis., June 16, 1914.
Mr. P. A. Powers, President,
Warner's Features, Incorporated,
New York City.

Dear Sir:—
Through the kindness of Mr. Samuel H. Trigger, New York, I had the pleasure of viewing several of your six-reel productions, and I consider these features among the best that have been produced in this country. With best wishes for your future success, I am

Most respectfully yours,
(Signed) CHARLES H. PHILLIPS,
President, International Motion Picture Ass'n.

When feature films command praise from such a source, it is time for you to investigate. WARNER'S FEATURES have the appeal that fills houses—the "punch" that builds business—the quality that spells success.

Get complete information about the latest productions in WARNER'S FEATURES. Write to your nearest Warner's exchange.

WARNER'S FEATURES, Inc.
130 West 46th St., NEW YORK CITY
Where to Buy

BOOKS:
ELECTRICITY MAGAZINE CORP., Bloomfield, N. J.
MOTION PICTURE APPARATUS CO., 10 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

CASH REGISTERS:
NATIONAL CASH REGISTER CO., Dayton, Ohio.

NEWMAN MFG. CO., 1138 Eastern St., Cleveland, Ohio.
FILM DISTRIBUTORS:
ECLECTIC FILM CO., 110 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

KLEINE, GEORGE, 106 N. State St., Chicago, Ill.
PATHÉ FRÈRES, Congress St., Jersey City, N. J.

WARNER’S FEATURES, INC., 130 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

FILM FEATURES:
BOWLEIGH, Inc., 548 S. Olive St., Los Angeles, Calif.
CALIFORNIA MOTION PICTURE CORP., 256 Pine St., San Francisco, Calif.

ECLECTIC FILM CO., 110 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.
EXCELSIOR FEATURE FILM CO., 106 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

EXHIBITORS’ FEATURE FILM CO., 11 Madison St., Toledo, Ohio.
FAMOUS PLAYERS’ FILM CO., 213 W. 35th St., New York, N. Y.

C. & G. FEATURE FILM CO., 318 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

PROGRESSIVE MOTION PICTURE CO., 213 W. 35th St., New York, N. Y.
WARNER’S FEATURES, INC., 130 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

FILM MANUFACTURERS’ MACHINERY:
BELL & HOWELL CO., 1803 Larchmont Av., Chicago, Ill.

FILM MANUFACTURERS:
AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO., Ashland Block, Chicago.

BOWLEIGH, INC., 548 S. Olive St., Los Angeles, Calif.
CALIFORNIA MOTION PICTURE CORP., 256 Pine St., San Francisco, Calif.

ECLECTIC FILM CO., 110 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.
EDISON, INC., 129 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

KODASAY MFG. CO., 521 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago.

EXCELSIOR FEATURE FILM CO., 106 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

FAVORITE PLAYERS’ FILM CO., 213 W. 35th St., New York, N. Y.

GAUMONT CO., 110 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

KLEINE, GEORGE, 106 N. State St., Chicago, Ill.

LUBIN MFG. CO., Philadelphia.

PATHÉ FRÈRES, Congress St., Jersey City, N. J.

PROGRESSIVE MOTION PICTURE MFG. CO., 1511 Times Bldg., New York, N. Y.

SELIG POLYSCOPE CO., 29 E. Randolph St., Chicago.

HOME PROJECTORS:
OPTOGRAPH MFG. CO., First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

MOTION PICTURE DIRECTORY, AMERICAN M. P. DIRECTORY CO., Schiller Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

PROJECTING MACHINES:
EDISON, INC., 129 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

ENTERPRISE OPTICAL MFG. CO., 504 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

RAW STOCK:
EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY, Rochester, N. Y.

HORSLEY, DAVID, Bayonne, N. J.

SLIDE MATTES:
LANTERN SLIDE MFG. CO., G. E. Bldg., Greenwich & Morton Sts., New York, N. Y.

TICKET SELLERS:
NATIONAL CASH REGISTER CO., Dayton, Ohio.

SUPPLIES:
FULTON CO., 120 E. 125th St., Chicago, Ill.

VENTILATION:
TYPHOON FAN CO., 1641 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Ornamental Theatres

PLASTER RELIEF DECORATIONS
Theatres Designed Everywhere
Write for Illustrated Theatre Catalog. Send us Sizes of Theatre for Special Design

THE DECORATORS SUPPLY CO.
2549 Archer Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL.

Film Quality
Quality in the film—quality from a technical photographic standpoint—is as important to the Exhibitor as it is interesting in the story that the film tells.

There is one film that’s recognized the world over as the standard of quality—that is always used by those whose effort it is to give the Exhibitors the very best goods and the very best service—Eastman film.

And it is identifiable. Look for “Eastman” on the perforated margin.

David Horsley
D. W. Russell Representative
Schiller Bldg.
64 W. Randolph Street
CHICAGO, ILL.

Lumière Films

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
The Greatest Publishing Stunt
In the Motion Picture World

The American Motion Picture
Cyclopedic Directory

Suppose You Wanted to Know—
The names, addresses and owners of motion picture theatres in one or more cities of the United States—
Or full detailed information as to any of the various film manufacturing concerns—
Or the names and addresses of the various exchanges—
Or the names and addresses of the various accessory people—
Or the names and addresses of all motion picture players in this country—
Or the manufacturers of commercial and educational films—
Or the laws and ordinances regulating the production of motion pictures throughout this country—
Or any other information relating to the motion picture industry.

Where would you find it?
Where would the information be available INSTANTLY?
Answer: In the American Motion Picture Directory, the standard cyclopedic digest of the motion picture world, and the only publication of its kind in the world.

No matter what you want to know regarding this great industry will be found between the covers of this directory, the most thorough, elaborate and valuable directory published in behalf of any industry in the United States. It is no longer necessary to grope around in the dark as heretofore for information relative to the motion picture industry, because now every branch, every possible phase of this great industry is summarized and epitomized in the American Motion Picture Directory—"the bible of the industry."

Information heretofore unavailable, or, if available, at great expense and delay, is now at your fingers' tips.

Everything that you might want to know about the motion picture industry will be found in this Cyclopedic Directory which we are now publishing at an enormous expense. It answers every question as to the industry itself and furnishes mailing lists and data heretofore unavailable except at a large expense.

No industry on earth will have a better representation in a directory line than the motion picture industry when the first volume of this directory is completed. It will be to the motion picture industry what the Encyclopaedia Britannica is to the student—the source of every available bit of reliable information relating to the subject under investigation.

It will be on the desk of every film manufacturer, producer, exhibitor and accessory man in the country, and also in all public libraries, leading book stores, municipal libraries, city attorneys' offices and every reference library throughout the country. It is the epitome of the motion picture world, the only standard reference guide book of its kind in existence.

Partial List of Contents
Names, addresses and owners of every moving picture theatre in America possible to secure from every source.
Names, addresses and owners of every moving picture theatre in America, names of officers, capitalization, location of plants, names and addresses of the leading players, producers and publicity men, class of pictures specialized in, etc.
Names and addresses of all the exchanges in America.
Names, homes and telephone address together with biographical sketches of the leading picture players.
Complete list of all the manufacturers of moving picture accessories.
List of all the moving picture organizations, with the names and addresses of the officers, purpose, membership and location.
List of scenic bureaus and writers.
Laws and Censorship department, containing a digest of laws gathered from every possible source relating to the motion picture industry, especially relating to Censorship, copyrights, exploitation of films, laws and ordinances regulating the exhibition of moving pictures and the conduct of theatres.
Educational moving pictures. A separate department giving a complete account of the development of educational moving pictures, with the latest advances toward making them a part of our general educational instruction.
The History of the growth of moving pictures together with some information on film making.
A list of the leading films released during the past five years.

It sells for $5.00 a volume and is published semi-annually.

THE AMERICAN MOTION PICTURE DIRECTORY COMPANY
Schiller Building
NEW YORK  C H I C A G O  LOS ANGELES

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
“REPORTER HIMMIE INTERVENES.”
IN TWO REELS—RELEASED JULY 6th.
A big, telling, trenchant, up-to-date newspaper story of an attempted municipal franchise steal.—How the reporter gave the “once over” to the man higher up—scored the big best, and won a wife, is a swift, moving and absorbing entertainment.

“ALGIE’S SISTER.”
RELEASED JULY 7th.
A city boy is marooned on a ranch, and the cowboys have great game with him. He ousts his tormenters by introducing a female impersonator as his sister. A cow-puncher comedy with a big lift.

“CARYL OF THE MOUNTAINS.”
RELEASED JULY 8th.
A moonshiner, anxious to win a mountain maiden, tries to catch her through fear by starting the story that her father is a “revenuer.” The real villain is caught and the girl is won by the man of her heart. Featuring KATHLYN WILLIAMS and THOMAS SANTSCHI.

“DID SHE CURE HIM?”
RELEASED JULY 10th.
The husband loves cards, clubs and conviviality, but his husky wife gives him “the fruit cure” until he is almost foundered.—A roar from start to finish.

“HIS FIGHT.”
RELEASED JULY 11th.
A faithless, but fascinating wife is divorced by her husband, and comes to grief through another marriage. She tries to win the former back but fails.—A surprising story with big hearthold.

All the Big News Events Throughout the World Shown in Great Pictures
SEMI-WEEKLY SERVICE
The most clever, intrepid, fearless, active camera men in all parts of the world every day to portray by expert photography the leading news events of this department. Just what the public demands. Order from your Exchange.

RELEASED MONDAYS AND THURSDAYS

HAVE YOU BOOKED “THE SPOILERS”?
BIGGEST MONEY MAKER ON THE MAR.
KET. Biggest success in the biggest cities. Desirable territory still open. Write for particulars at once. Don’t miss this great opportunity.
NOTE: We are booking “THE SPOILERS” direct. Address:
General Offices, 20 E. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

SELG HIGH CLASS FOUR-COLOR POSTERS.
You can order posters and heralds for all our productions, beautifully printed in four colors, artistically illustrated and up-to-date. One-sheets on all single reels; three-sheets and six-sheets on multiple reels.
Coming, Friday, July 17th

"HIS STOLEN FORTUNE"
(In Two Acts)

A comedy drama brim full of action concerning a young American chap who was left a large fortune only to discover he must lose it.

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN FEATURED

Released Monday, July 13th
"Sweedie, the Swatter"
(A slapstick comedy)

Released Tuesday, July 14th
"At the Foot of the Hill"
(A drama—Munsey)

The Fable of "Napolean and the Bumps"
(A GEORGE ADE comedy)

Released Thursday, July 16th
"Snakeville's New Waitress"
(A Western comedy)

Released Saturday, July 18th
"Broncho Billy Puts One Over"
(A Western comedy-drama with G. M. ANDERSON)

Released Monday, July 20th
"Money Talks"
(A splendid comedy)

Released Tuesday, July 21st
"Mrs. Billington's First Case"
(A comedy-drama—Munsey)

Released Wednesday, July 22nd
"Higher Education that Was Too High for the Old Man"
(A GEORGE ADE comedy)

Released Thursday, July 23rd
"Slippery Slim's Inheritance"
(A Western comedy sensation)

Released Saturday, July 25th
"Broncho Billy and the Gambler"
(A Western drama with G. M. ANDERSON)

There Are 10,000,000 Reasons Why You Should Book

"One Wonderful Night"
(In Four Acts)

They are the 10,000,000 people who have read this story which ran serially in the Ladies' World Magazine, the people who elected

Francis X. Bushman
to play the leading role—that of John Delancey Curtis.

GIVE YOUR PATRONS WHAT THEY WANT—BOOK THIS FEATURE

Released Saturday, July 18th

Through the General Film Company's Feature Department

SIX-A-WEEK

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.

221 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Patent and Sales, 1271 Argyle Street, Chicago, Ill.

We Promised to Put Out the Greatest Serial Film Ever Produced. WE DID IT.

THE PERILS OF PAULINE

still continues its unprecedented success. Pauline is making more friends daily. In fact so great has become the demand for this serial that many of the exhibitors who at first booked for only one day of each episode are demanding two and sometimes three days' use so that they can take care of all their patrons who are Pauline fans. There is such an intensely interesting quality combined with some of the most unusual, almost superhuman achievements in this serial that it makes new friends of everyone who sees it. There's a reason—

Pauline Pulls People. She's a Gold Mine

COMING! COMING!! COMING!!!

Some of the Greatest Side-Splitting, Rip-Roaring—Laugh Creating One-Reel Comedies You Ever Saw—Eclectic Quality—'Nuff Said

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ATLANTA</th>
<th>BOSTON</th>
<th>CHICAGO</th>
<th>DALLAS</th>
<th>LOS ANGELES</th>
<th>MINNEAPOLIS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Rhodes Bldg.</td>
<td>3 Tremont Row</td>
<td>5 So. Wabash Ave.</td>
<td>Andrews Bldg.</td>
<td>114 E. 7th St.</td>
<td>4th &amp; Hennepin Sts.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NEW YORK</td>
<td>PITTSBURGH</td>
<td>SAN FRANCISCO</td>
<td>ST. LOUIS</td>
<td>SYRACUSE</td>
<td>CINCINNATI</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>115 E. 23rd St.</td>
<td>715 Liberty Ave.</td>
<td>67 Turk St.</td>
<td>3210 Locust St.</td>
<td>214 E. Fayette St.</td>
<td>217 E. 3rd St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CLEVELAND</td>
<td>PORTLAND</td>
<td>PHILADELPHIA</td>
<td>WASHINGTON</td>
<td>NEW ORLEANS</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>622 Prospect Ave., S. E.</td>
<td>392 Burnside Ave.</td>
<td>1235 Vine St.</td>
<td>7th &amp; E Sts., N. W.</td>
<td>910 Gravier St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SEATTLE</td>
<td>OMAHA</td>
<td>SALT LAKE CITY</td>
<td>DENVER</td>
<td>KANSAS CITY</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>810 Third Ave.</td>
<td>1312 Parnam St.</td>
<td>68 So. Main St.</td>
<td>Nassau Bldg.</td>
<td>920 Main St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THE ECLECTIC

110 West 40th Street

FILM COMPANY

New York City

"The Cream of American and European Studios"
A ROYAL IMPOSTER

(5 Parts Eclectic Natural Color Process)
A Strong Drama of Royal Life in a Small Principality. Rich in Action and with a Thrilling Story

The Phantom Thief

(3 Parts)
Introducing NICK WINTER, the Great Comedy Detective, who meets some of the most Interesting and Extraordinary Adventures.

Book Eclectic Features for Big Profits

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
Rhodes Bldg.
NEW YORK
115 E. 23rd St.
PITTSBURGH
5 So. Wabash Ave.
SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.
CHICAGO
Andrews Bldg.
DALLAS
114 E. 7th St.
ST. LOUIS
3210 Locust St.
PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.
SALT LAKE CITY
55 So. Main St.
OMAHA
810 Third Ave.
WASHINGTON
214 E. Fayette St.
WFRONT
217 E. 5th St.
CLEVELAND
622 Prospect Ave., S. E.
PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.
SEATTLE
OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.

THE ECLECTIC
110 West 40th Street

FILM COMPANY
New York City

"The Cream of American and European Studios"
See Americans First
FLYING "A" FEATURE FILMS

A MAN'S WAY
An Intense Two Part Society Drama Replete with Human Interest.
One, Three and Six Sheet Attractive Lithographs
Release, Mon. July 20, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY
"HER 'REALLY' MOTHER"
FEATURING MARGARITA FISCHER
A Sociological Drama with heart interest and a strong moral.
Under direction of HARRY POLLARD.
Release Tuesday, July 21st, 1914

"BUSINESS vs. LOVE"
A Domestic Drama of unusual fascinating power.
Under direction of SYDNEY AYRES.

Release, Wednesday, July 22nd, 1914

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
The Adventure of the Absent-Minded Professor

By FREDERIC ARNOLD KUMMER

Seventh story of "Octavius—Amateur Detective." By courtesy of "Pictorial Review."

Comedy—About 1000 Feet

This seventh adventure of "Octavius" (Barry O'Moore) places him in a most awkward situation in the domestic circle of Professor Harper, whither he had gone on special request to ferret out a series of thefts of bric-a-brac and curios from the Professor's drawing room. The situation is made still more embarrassing by a case of mistaken identity by which the Professor's own daughter is charged with the thefts, rather than the maid who had impersonated her. The discovery of the real culprit is the climax to the exciting story. Released Monday, July 20th

Coming Multiple Reels

LADizzie
A new version of the celebrated drama. In Two Parts. 2000 feet. Released Friday, July 24th

THE STUFF THAT DREAMS ARE MADE OF
A new version of the celebrated Edison comedy. In Two Parts. 2000 feet. Released Friday, July 31st

Watch for Announcement of "MY FRIEND FROM INDIA"
H. A. Du Souchet's famous comedy-drama with Walter E. Perkins in the title role. To be released on August 15th through the masterpiece service of the General Film Company.

Coming Single Reels

A MATTER OF MINUTES
Eighth story of "The Man Who Disappeared." Drama. 1000 feet. Released Tuesday, July 21st

THE LAST ASSIGNMENT
Twelfth of the "Dolly of the Dailies." Drama. 1000 feet. Released Saturday, July 25th

A DEAL IN STATUARY
Comedy. 500 feet

A CANINE RIVAL
Eighth of "Wood B. Wedd's" series. Comedy. 1000 feet. Released Monday, July 27th

Order Edison Posters of the Morgan Lithograph Company, Cleveland, O., direct

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
MR. STATE RIGHTS BUYER
WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT
"THE TOLL OF MAMMON"
AN ALL AMERICAN FOUR PART PRODUCTION
If You Read Any of the Seven Leading Picture Journals
You Know It Is
SURELY IT MUST BE WORTH YOUR INVESTIGATION
SOME TERRITORY REMAINS AT ATTRACTIVE PRICES

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated
A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.
Price in full color, gold stamping, postpaid, $1.14
or with a years' subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid, $3.50

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Rollers.
The Journal of the American Medical Association says regarding eye strain from the Movie habit: "The Mirror Screen, consisting of a Mirror-Glass, seems to be the most desirable."
Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

Cooling Ventilation Heating
"TYPHOON BLOW-IN SYSTEM" has revolutionized the ventilating problem. You get in front of a desk fan to keep cool, not in back. Apply this common sense and blow the air in.
Don't waste money experimenting with exhaust fans.
The TYPHOON MULTIBLADE BLOWER will force air right through ordinary exhaust fans. Reversed, the air can be exhausted as well.
Our Catalogue M. P. tells how to keep cool in summer and warm in winter.
TYPHOON FAN CO. NEW YORK CITY 1544 BROADWAY

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Almost as Quick as the Telegraph

THE PATHE DAILY NEWS

THE SAME DAY the daily papers are running telegraphic reports of great world events and happenings THE PATHE DAILY NEWS is showing on the screen these events and showing them in a way impossible for the newspapers. THE PATHE DAILY NEWS is the most important—most interesting—most truthful—most prompt distributor of "News when it IS news" yet thought of and used. The Daily papers at best give one man’s opinion and each paper’s account of the same happening will differ.

The PATHE DAILY NEWS Shows Events as They Actually Happen When They Happen

For Further Particulars Address

THE PATHE DAILY NEWS 1 CONGRESS ST.
JERSEY CITY, N. J.
Daniel Frohman Presents
The Distinguished Film Star

Mary Pickford

In a thrilling, romantic drama of life in the West Virginia Mountains

"The Eagle's Mate"

From the celebrated novel by Anna Alice Chapin

Released July 1st

Famous Players Film Company

Adolph Zukor, President
Daniel Frohman, Managing Director
Edwin S. Porter, Technical Director
Executive Offices, 213-229 West 26th St., New York City
LUBIN MASTERPIECES

Now Ready and About to Be Released

"The Wolf"
5 Reels—By Eugene Walter

"The House Next Door"
5 Reels—By J. Hartley Manners

In Preparation at Great Expense

"Eagle's Nest"
5 Reels—Now being produced in Colorado, with Edwin Arden, the Author, in the leading role.

"The Fortune Hunter"
5 Reels—By Winchell Smith with William Elliott, late star of the "Madame X" production, in the leading role.

FIVE RELEASES EACH WEEK

"HE WAS BAD."—Comedy Split Reel. Tuesday, July 14th
Sam Johnson is very unfortunate and getting the worst of it all round, but he gets a job sharpening razors. A scene with about a score of the colored man's favorite playthings he runs amuck and quickly cleans up the town.

"TOUGH LUCK."—Comedy Split Reel. Tuesday, July 14th
Boggs is certainly in tough luck; everything goes wrong, but the climax comes when it is found that the cook has small pox. House is quarantined and no one can get in or out for weeks.

"CODES OF HONOR."—Two Reel Drama. Wednesday, July 15th
A very powerful Drama in which the Codes of Honor prevail against a terrible temptation.

A Comedy
Every Tuesday and Saturday

A Two Reel Feature
Every Wednesday and Thursday

A Drama
Every Friday

LUBIN POSTERS By Our Own Staff of Artists
One and Three Sheets with Single and Split Reels—One, Three and Six Sheets with all Multiple Reels.

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street.

FIRE is impossible with "Agfa"
Non-Flam Stock

Superior Photographic Qualities
Long Wearing Base
Non-Peeling Emulsion

Formulae Book, Samples, etc., gratis

RAW FILM SUPPLY CO.
Sole American Agents
15 E. 26th Street, New York City

The Motiograph
1914 Model is a leader for Rock Steady Pictures.

Long Life and Small Upkeep.

Mr. Exhibitor: You cannot take a chance on a machine that is not made of the best material and with parts hardened. Competition is too keen, every nickel and dime count. You want a machine that is on the job at all times.

The Motiograph is a Money Saver as well as the Best Picture Projector Made
LET US PROVE IT

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
564 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.

Eastern Office
21 E. 14th St., New York
Western Office
833 Market St., San Francisco

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
A Spectacular Production

Spectacular—because no other film production equals it in size—46 reels.

Spectacular—because no other film production equals it in costliness—$1,000,000.00.

Spectacular—because no other film production equals it in stars, settings, photography and dramatic climaxes.

Spectacular—because no other film production is the motion picture version of a story by Harold MacGrath now appearing in 200 leading newspapers.

$10,000 for 100 Words!

THE MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY

By Harold MacGrath

Thanhouser’s Million Dollar Motion Picture Production

The first five episodes of this startling production are now being shown at the better theaters throughout America. Each episode is in two reels—released each week for 23 weeks. The story is by Harold MacGrath—scenario by Lloyd Lonergan. The Thanhouser Film Corporation is the producer—Syndicate Film Corporation the distributor.

Some booking dates are still open—but you must act quickly! The Million Dollar Mystery is an independent release and may be obtained regardless of the regular program being used.

SYNDICATE FILM CORPORATION
71 W. 23rd Street, NEW YORK

$10,000 for 100 Words!

The Thanhouser Three-a-Week

Friday, July 17, "A Gentleman for a Day." A beautiful child drama; depicting the play spirit of children and how it triumphs over an irate mother. In this production is an exceptional cast of child actors, including Leoland Benjamin (Helen Badger of Thanhouser studio) and others.

THANHOUSER FILM CORPORATION, New Rochelle, N. Y.

Thanhouser releases will continue to be features of the Mutual Program.
Ten Million People
Are Anxiously Waiting to See the Photoplay Masterpiece

"One Wonderful Night"
(In Four Acts)

The story, written by Louis Tracy and which ran serially in the Ladies' World Magazine, has stirred the entire universe—your audiences took delight in reading it, because they were given the privilege to vote—to elect a photoplayer to enact the leading role—that of John Delancey Curtis, the sprited American chap, who had such a strenuous night of adventure. Your clientele are interested in this production—they want to see it—they want to see the man they elected—the man they imagined as the hero throughout the entire story—

Francis X. Bushman

He has been proclaimed the most popular photoplay actor, by the millions who voted—this and the fact that the production is dramatically and photographically perfect, is enough to warrant your booking this attraction. DO IT NOW!

Released through the General Film Co.'s feature department
SATURDAY, JULY 18th

Special Lithographs Designed by Our Own Artists Are Now Ready. One 6-Sheet; Two 3-Sheets; Two 1-Sheets.
Selig Current Releases

All Releases Through General Film Co.

Hearst-Selig News Pictorial
All the big news from everywhere in pictures
RELEASED EVERY MONDAY AND THURSDAY
Grows bigger and better every week. Representatives in all parts of the globe sparing no expense to photograph great events. Order from your exchange now.

RELEASED THROUGH GENERAL FILM CO.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| "The Mother Heart" |— in 2 Reels
A revolt against hypocrisy. Featuring Bessie Eyton and Wheeler Oakman. Released July 29th—A succession of great pictures, telling the story of a wealthy society girl, who rebelled against the methods of the idle rich and finally found peace and happiness in the simple life. |
| "Muff" |A Father's Reformation Released July 28th—One of Roy L. McCordell's love dramas with a great moral. The story of a circus queen, an unscrupulous husband, a baby, and an old maid. Full of laughs and tears. |
| Love vs. Pride |The Story of a False Ambition Released August 1st—A drama with a moral, depicting the error of a girl who is the slave of ambition and pays the full price. A powerful moral lesson. |

Selig Current Releases

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Film Title</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>&quot;A Five Hundred Dollar Kiss&quot;</td>
<td>One of the greatest laugh-makers ever produced. Released July 29th—A hilarious fun-maker, showing the comical adventures of Tom, Dick and Harry, in their crusade against a heart-breaking coquette. Each tries to win a kiss and a wager of $500. A laugh in every scene.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Muff&quot;</td>
<td>A Father's Reformation Released July 28th—One of Roy L. McCordell's love dramas with a great moral. The story of a circus queen, an unscrupulous husband, a baby, and an old maid. Full of laughs and tears.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Love vs. Pride</td>
<td>The Story of a False Ambition Released August 1st—A drama with a moral, depicting the error of a girl who is the slave of ambition and pays the full price. A powerful moral lesson.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Watch for "The Rosary" Another Big Selig Feature Pictured with absolute fidelity to every detail. No expense spared to make this celebrated production. Ask your exchange about it.

Selig's Color Posters Exhibitors! Brighten your lobby display and get the business by using Selig four-color posters. Also order same for posting. Inquire at your exchange.

The Adventures of Kathlyn Exhibitors who have not booked this world-wide sensation, write now for full story—novel length. Free on Request. Ask for terms.
The Spoilers

Scenes from the Spoilers

F. O. NIELSEN wishes to announce to the exhibitors of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois

(Except Cook County) that he has bought the exclusive rights for Selig's Wonderful Production of REX BEACH'S MASTERPIECE

The Spoilers

Featuring William Farnum and Kathlyn Williams

The greatest picture ever produced in America. This picture broke all records at the Strand Theatre, New York, and the Studebaker Theatre, Chicago. Elaborate lithographs, herals, lobby displays and other advertising matter.

Write or wire for bookings today

FRANK COOK, Manager

720 Schiller Building

CHICAGO, ILL.
“The Broken Barrier”
A Two Act Society Drama
Featuring Ed. Coxen and Winnifred Greenwood.
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts.

American “Beauty,” “A Mid-Summer Love Tangle”
Refined comedy featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard.
Release, Tuesday, July 28th, 1914.

“Does It End Right?”
Featuring Wm. Garwood and Vivian Rich in a dramatic gem.
Under direction of Sydney Ayres.
Release, Wednesday, July 29th, 1914.

“All’on Account of a Jug”
Featuring George Field and Ida Lewis in a screaming comedy.
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts.
Release, Friday, July 31st, 1914.
There is a thrilling touch, an artistic value to Eclectic features which gives them that added something necessary to make them stand head and shoulders above the ordinary so-called features. Eclectic features make friends wherever shown.

5 Parts
WHEN ROME RULED
5 Parts

This is an exceptionally strong dramatic story of the trials of the early Christians in the land controlled by the priests of the gods worshipped by the Romans. The story has different plot to any other and is rich in situations that will make your patrons sit up and take notice. Especially is this true where the lion jumps down from the rocks and carries off a live sheep from the herd. This is a Pathé made drama featuring some of the best Pathé artists in a very beautiful scenic and historical feature.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
Rhode Bldg.
115 E. 23rd St.

BOSTON
3 Tremont Row
710 Liberty Ave.

NEW YORK
3 Tremont Row
715 Liberty Ave.

PITTSBURGH
5 So. Wabash Ave.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

ST. LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

LOUISVILLE
7th & E Sts., N. W.

OHIO
1312 Farina St.

SAN FRANCISCO
68 So. Main St.

OMAHA
392 Burnside Ave.

PORTLAND
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.

OMAHA
810 Third Ave.

SEATTLE
1312 Farina St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

CHICAGO
67 Turk St.

SAN FRANCISCO
2110 Locust St.

ST LOUIS
114 E. 7th St.

WASHING-TON
135 Vine St.

CINCINNATI
1312 Farina St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.
This Is the One Serial Film Which Has Lived Up to Every Advance Notice

THE PERILS OF PAULINE

The acid test has been applied to The Perils of Pauline many hundreds of times and under the most adverse circumstances and every time this great serial has more than proved its worth. It has been the means in many cases of turning a losing season into a big money making one. We know because we have the letters in the office telling us of it. You are the one to suffer if you do not book it.

Pauline Pulls People She's a Gold Mine

I LOVE THE NURSES

A One Reel Pathe Produced Screaming Comedy Which Is Different from What You Have Been Used To.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

110 West 40th Street New York City

"The Cream of American and European Studios"
Positively the Last Step

THE PATHE DAILY NEWS

Every exhibitor in the country can get The Pathe Daily News direct by mail every day—from our branches—no delay—direct from us to your theatre. The exhibitors who have already secured The Pathe Daily News are more enthusiastic than we had expected. It has proved to be what every one has been looking for and has created a widespread interest and an enormous increase in revenue which shows that

THE PUBLIC WANT TO SEE THE PATHÉ DAILY SHOW IT TO 'EM

For further particulars address your nearest branch or

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS 1 Congress St. Jersey City, N. J
In the Distribution of News — THE DAILY NEWS

best most perfect most prompt method of News When It IS News ever used by human-historic man first conceived the sign language means of communicating his thoughts and actions. The same day the daily papers with all their facilities for gathering news are telling people their opinion of events the Pathe Daily News will give your patrons an opportunity to form their own opinion by showing them the events as they actually happened.
Positively the Last Step in the Distribution of News —

THE PATHE DAILY NEWS

is the greatest, most perfect, most prompt method of distributing News when it is news ever used by human history. Man first conceived the sign language as a means of communicating his thoughts and actions. The same day the daily papers with all their facilities for gathering news are telling people their opinion of events the Pathe Daily News will give your patrons an opportunity to form their own opinion by showing them the events as they actually happened.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO SEE THE PATHE DAILY NEWS
SHOW IT TO 'EM

For further particulars address your nearest branch or
THE PATHE DAILY NEWS
1 Congress St.
Jersey City, N.J.
The Motiograph

$250.00  $250.00  $250.00

Is the Greatest Motion Picture Machine Value Per Dollar Ever Made in this Country

A Few of the Reasons Why You Should Use the MOTIOPHAPH

1. Rock Steady Pictures.
2. Sharp and Flickerless Pictures.
3. Extra Heavy Arc Lamp.
4. Brighter Light.
5. Absolutely Fire-Proof.
6. Hardened and ground star and cam.
7. No wearing out of parts.
8. Low cost of up-keep.
9. All parts made in Motiograph Factory.
10. Every part guaranteed.
11. Its simplicity.
12. A money saver in up-keep as well as first cost.

Mr. Exhibitor:—It is your duty as a successful Exhibitor to buy the best machine manufactured, which should give Rock Steady, Sharp and Flickerless Pictures, with small up-keep. All of these qualities you will find in the Motiograph.

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
564 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.

The INDUCTOR COMPENSATOR
An Alternating Current Transformer
Designed by an electrical expert in motion picture practice. Built and guaranteed by the leading manufacturers of motion picture machinery in the world. Simple, inexpensive and highly efficient. Order from your exchange or from THE WELI & HOWELL CO., 1803 Larchmont Ave., Chicago, Ills

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN

Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

Are You Getting Right Prices Prompt Service Best Goods in your Lantern Slide Mats and M. P. Reel Bands?

If not, phone or write

Lantern Slide Mat Co.
Phone Spring 8558
General Electric Building, Greenwich and Morton Sts.
New York City

Cooling Ventilation Heating

“TYPHOON BLOW-IN SYSTEM” has revolutionized the ventilating problem. You get in front of a desk fan to keep cool, not in back. Apply this common sense and blow the air in.

Don’t waste money experimenting with exhaust fans.

The TYPHOON MULTIBLADE BLOWER will force air right through ordinary exhaust fans. Reversed, the air can be exhausted as well.

Our Catalogue M. P. tells how to keep cool in summer and warm in winter.

TYPHOON FAN CO. NEW YORK CITY
1544 BROADWAY
LUBIN MASTERPIECES

"The Wolf"
6 Reels—By Eugene Walter
Now obtainable through the General Film Masterpiece Service!

TO BE RELEASED SOON
"The House Next Door"
5 Reels—By J. Hartley Manners

NOW IN PREPARATION
"Eagle's Nest"
5 Reels—By Edwin Arden—Now being produced in Colorado, with Edwin Arden, Broadway's popular actor, in the leading role.

FIVE RELEASES EACH WEEK

"TEMPER AND TEMPERATURE."—Split Reel Comedy
Wednesday, July 21st
Very funny, mother-in-law story with sorrowful experiences for the poor bespooked husband.

"WORMS WILL TURN."—Split Reel Comedy
Tuesday, July 20th
Fierce engagement between a bunch of Hobos and the rural Police in which the tramps bravely win out.

"WHO SEEKS REVENGE."—Two Reel Drama
Thursday, July 22nd
A dramatic story on the Frontier. An Indian raid on the Army Post, in which two mothers are killed and the infants changed.

"A TRAITOR TO HIS COUNTRY."—Drama
Friday, July 24th
A dramatic story of Hearts and Arms.

"WHO SEeks REVENGE."—Two Reel Drama
Tuesday, July 20th
A dramatic story based on the theory of eugenics. A dishonest physician examines a rival's blood and falsely pronounces it diseased.

"A TRAITOR TO HIS COUNTRY."—Drama
Friday, July 24th
Very exciting incident, with military and insurgent atmosphere. A story of Hearts and Arms.

"A MATTER OF RECORD."—Comedy
Saturday, July 25th
Very funny domestic comedy in which the dictaphone plays a star role, a huge twenty minutes scream.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>A Comedy</th>
<th>A Two Reel Feature</th>
<th>A Drama</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Every Tuesday and Saturday</td>
<td>Every Wednesday and Thursday</td>
<td>Every Friday</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

LUBIN POSTERS By Our Staff of Artists
One and Three Sheets with Single and Split Reels—One, Three and Six Sheets with All Multiple Reels.

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 151 West Lake Street.

Atlantis—Atlantis—Atlantis
You can now get this wonderful picture on right terms. We own the rights for the following states:
Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky

Write or wire for bookings on

ATLANTIS
(Six Parts)
(1 sheet, 2 styles; 3 sheets, 2 styles; 6 sheets, 9 sheets.)
GET BUSY TODAY

Peerless Film Exchange
36 W. Randolph Street
Phone Randolph 2245
CHICAGO, ILL.

A Challenge to the World!!

"THE BANKER'S DAUGHTER"
5 PARTS
"THE GREYHOUND"
5 PARTS
"NORTHERN LIGHTS"
6 PARTS

Lay Awake to Catch Our Next Announcement

Life Photo Film Corp.
PRODUCERS
STUDIOS AND LABORATORY
Grantwood, N. J.
EXECUTIVE OFFICES
220 W. 42d St.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
M.P. Theater List

We have a correct list of all the Motion Picture Theaters in the United States and Canada. These addresses are in stencil and are quickly available for commercial uses. The price of the complete list delivered into your hands is $50.00. Cash with order.

Electricity Magazine Corporation

Monadnock Bldg. : : CHICAGO, ILL.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting

BY JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY

240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up-to-now volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures. Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of Motion Pictures. The successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid...$1.14

or with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid...$3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation

Monadnock Building - - CHICAGO

Our Price in United States, Cuba and Mexico,

$5.00 with a year's subscription to

MOTOGRAPHY

Electricity Magazine Corporation

Monadnock Building Chicago, Illinois

If we are to prepay charges, send 30c additional

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Ornamental Theatres

PLASTER RELIEF DECORATIONS
Theatres Designed Everywhere
Write for Illustrated Theatre Catalog. Send us Sizes of Theatre for Special Design

THE DECORATORS SUPPLY CO.
2549 Archer Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL.

Film Quality

Quality in the film—quality from a technical photographic standpoint is as important to the Exhibitor as is interest in the story that the film tells.

There's one film that's recognized the world over as the standard of quality—that is always used by those whose effort is to give the Exhibitors the very best goods and the very best service—Eastman film.

And it is identifiable. Look for "Eastman" on the perforated margin.

EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY
ROCHESTR, N. Y.
The Peerless Orchestriion

Specially designed and created for Photo-Play Theatres on account of its dimensions

Model "Arcadian"

The name PEERLESS has come to be synonymous with Automatic Pianos and Orchestriions. Fifteen years of concentration, organization and close study of the needs of a buying public have been the means by which this end has been accomplished.

The instrument shown in this advertisement depicts our latest endeavor, and is one of the most successful styles of the year on account of its adaptability to fit in any place where good music is desired.

Made by

PEERLESS PIANO PLAYER COMPANY
(F. Engelhardt & Sons, Proprietors)

Factories: St. JOHNsville, NEW YORK and ELGIN, ILL.

NEW YORK
14-16 East 33d Street

CHICAGO
316-318 South Wabash Avenue

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
DANIEL FROHMAN
Presents
The Famous Romance of Official Life in Washington,
"THE LITTLE GRAY LADY"

By Channing Pollock
With the Noted Actress
JANE GREY
In 4 Reels of Motion Pictures. Released July 10th.

FAMOUS PLAYERS FILM COMPANY

ADOLPH ZUKOR, President
DANIEL FROHMAN, Managing Director
EDWIN S. PORTER, Technical Director
Executive Offices. 213-229 West 25th St., New York City
SIX-A-WEEK

Essanay

Coming, Friday, July 31st

"The Seventh Prelude"
(In Two Acts)
A detective story with a real mystery in it by Lillian Bennet-Thompson, adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

Released Monday, July 27th
"Sweedie and the Lord"
(A slapstick comedy)

Released Tuesday, July 28th
"A Clash of Virtues"
(A drama—Munsey)

Released Wednesday, July 29th
The Fable of "The Coming Champion Who Was Delayed"
(A GEORGE ADE comedy)

Released Thursday, July 30th
"Snakeville's Home Guard"
(A "Slippery Slim" laugh-maker)

Released Saturday, August 1st
"The Squatter's Gal"
(A western drama featuring G. M. ANDERSON)

Released Monday, August 3rd
"In and Out"
(Another laugh producer)

Released Tuesday, August 4th
"Her Trip to New York"
(A dramatic heart thriller—Munsey)

Released Wednesday, August 5th
The Fable of "The Busy Business Boy and the Droppers-In"
(A GEORGE ADE comedy)

Released Thursday, August 6th
"Slippery Slim's Dilemma"
(Another western comedy hit)

Released Saturday, August 8th
"Broncho Billy's Fatal Joke"
(Another G. M. ANDERSON SUCCESS)

Coming, Friday, August 7th

"The Motor Buccaneers"
(In Two Acts)
A gripping photoplay of adventure that cannot help but hold the interest of any audience. Story by Edward Franklin, adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

Every Photoplay Fan in the World Is Waiting for

"One Wonderful Night"
(In Four Acts)

FEATURING FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

Released July 18th through the General Film Company's Feature Department

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.
521 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
See Americans First
FLYING "A" FEATURE FILMS

AT THE END OF A PERFECT DAY
IN TWO PARTS

Human Interest
Nature's Tempest

"At the End of a Perfect Day"
In Two Parts
A Powerful Narrative, depicting a woman's struggle and a man's sincerity of purpose
Featuring Winnifred Greenwood and Ed Coxen
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts
Release Monday, August 3rd, 1914

"A Suspended Ceremony"
American Beauty
The second of series of "A Midsummer's Love Tangle." Each subject complete in itself
Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard
Release Tuesday, August 4th, 1914

"The Widow"
Intensely dramatic, convincingly portraying the anguish of a woman's soul
Release Wednesday, August 5th, 1914
FIVE RELEASES EACH WEEK

"THE QUESTION AND ANSWER MAN."—Comedy
Tuesday, July 24th
A good story of the Editorial room, caused by a mix up of proper names and Non-de-plumes. The newspaper man joins in the love game and wins out.

"THE LURE OF THE CAR WHEELS."—Two Reel Drama, Wednesday, July 25th
Strange adventures of a boy with a maids for travel. He is nominated for Mayor, but his sweetheart forsakes him and he turns again to the lure of the wheels.

"THREE MEN AND A WOMAN."—Two Reel Drama
Thursday, July 26th
One of the most sensational melodramatic pictures ever released. A ship on fire and heroic rescue.

Lubin Masterpieces

NOW READY
"THE WOLF"
6 Reels—By Eugene Walter

TO BE RELEASED SOON
"The House Next Door"
6 Reels—By J. Hartley Manners

NOW IN PREPARATION
"Eagle's Nest"
5 Reels—By Edwin Arden—Now being produced in Colorado. with Edwin Arden, Broadway's popular actor, in leading role.

A Comedy
Every Tuesday and Saturday

A Two Reel Feature
Every Wednesday and Thursday

A Drama
Every Friday

LUBIN POSTERS By Our Staff of Artists
One and Three Sheets with Single and Split Reels—One, Three and Six Sheets with All Multiple Reels.

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 164 West Lake Street.

SUPERIOR GRADATION "Agfa" for the reason that it contains "more than the usual" amount of silver in the emulsion.

SPECIFY "AGFA" AND WATCH RESULTS Formulac Book, samples, etc., gratis.

RAW FILM SUPPLY CO., Sole American Agents
"Safety First" with "Agfa" Non-Flam
15 East 26th Street, New York City.

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screen for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Rollers.

"The first big Mirror Screen went into the Empire Theatre in Detroit, Mich. It is in use yet and I will forfeit $1000.00 if you can beat it. It is six years old. Think, six years old."

Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

Buy Motography From Your Newsdealer
10 Cents Per Copy

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Is Pauline Working for You?

THE PERILS OF PAULINE

The remarkable thing about this most remarkable of all remarkable films is that Pauline's Perils get more perilous as they go along.

PAULINE PULLS PEOPLE—SHE'S A GOLD MINE

This is the Life — Whiskers

One reel American Pathe made comedies.
Quick moving, fast furious action.
Both these reels are patron-pullers—they are the sort that bring people back the next week for more of the same kind.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ATLANTA</th>
<th>BOSTON</th>
<th>CHICAGO</th>
<th>DALLAS</th>
<th>LOS ANGELES</th>
<th>MINNEAPOLIS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Rhodes Bldg.</td>
<td>3 Tremont Row</td>
<td>5 So. Wabash Ave.</td>
<td>Andrews Bldg.</td>
<td>114 E. 7th St.</td>
<td>4th &amp; Hennepin Sta.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NEW YORK</td>
<td>PITTSBURGH</td>
<td>SAN FRANCISCO</td>
<td>ST. LOUIS</td>
<td>CINCINNATI</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>113 E. 23rd St.</td>
<td>715 Liberty Ave.</td>
<td>67 Turk St.</td>
<td>216 Locust St.</td>
<td>517 E. 5th St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CLEVELAND</td>
<td>PORTLAND</td>
<td>PHILADELPHIA</td>
<td>WASHINGTON</td>
<td>SYRACUSE</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>622 Prospect Av., E. E.</td>
<td>302 Burnside Ave.</td>
<td>1231 Vine St.</td>
<td>7th &amp; E Sts., N. W.</td>
<td>214 E. Fayette St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SEATTLE</td>
<td>OMAHA</td>
<td>SALT LAKE CITY</td>
<td>DENVER</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>810 Third Ave.</td>
<td>1312 Farnam St.</td>
<td>69 So. Main St.</td>
<td>Nassau Bldg.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NEW YORK</td>
<td>SAN FRANCISCO</td>
<td>PHILADELPHIA</td>
<td>SYRACUSE</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FILM COMPANY</td>
<td>110 West 40th Street</td>
<td>“The Cream of American and European Studios”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
THE CORSAIR
Pathe made, 4 parts
Featuring Crane Wilbur in the leading role, supported by Edward Jose and an all star cast.

Based on Lord Byron's great story of the same name. Full of mystery and sunshine of the Mediterranean and the magnetic influence of a beautiful slave girl for whom men gladly risk their lives and lose them. Action, action—corsairs, harems, battles, raids, escapes and treasure caves, a truly Arabian Night's adventure, while through it all there runs the influence of the irresistible Greek girl Medora. A plot of exceptional strength, a setting of alluring Orientalism, and a story which breathes with the first screening and fairly pants at the climax.

WHEN A WOMAN LOVES
In this film are introduced some new players, among them is an actress in the leading part who is an exceptional "find." She will take your patrons' hearts by storm—she will, without doubt, be one of the greatest actresses ever offered to the moving picture public. Look for her—she is in "When a Woman Loves."

THE ECLECTIC
110 West 40th Street

"The Cream of American and European Studios"
A dramatic five part attraction of the Revenue service and the North woods. An exciting story with a new sort of hero, a former broker's clerk whose employer becomes involved with opium smugglers and is killed. Suspicion falls on the clerk who is obliged to flee to Canada where he joins the force of fearless boundary riders. From the lawless opium smugglers of New York to the wild free life of the northern boundary riders this film is an accurate depiction of inside facts and has more thrills per foot than any detective play in recent years.

The Eclectic Film Company has put over another big scoop.
We have secured all future issues of

COLONEL HEEZA LIAR
The famous series of American cartoon comedies by J. R. Bray

Everybody knows the Colonel. In the first Eclectic release, the Peerless Pre-varicator gets several barrels of fun out of the "River of Doubt."
YOU CAN NOW BOOK

THE LITTLEST REBEL

(BY EDWARD PEPE)

FOR IMMEDIATE OR ADVANCE DATES

Over 45,000 feet of film was used in getting this wonderful film. Only 5700 feet, or six reels, is used. Every foot of this film is full of tears, thrills, laughter, love and blood red war.
Genuine historic old battle scarred flags are carried by the opposing troops.

See the artillery and infantry in action. See the cavalry charge and the fight on the hill tops, the capture of the spy, the desperate condition of the little heroine, her appeal to General Grant, and you will book this picture for your patrons if it's the last act of your life.

E. K. LINCOLN, the celebrated Vitagraph star plays a leading part. Two Universal stars, an Edison leading man, and the greatest child actress in filmdom, MIMI YVONNE.
All well known film actors to your patrons. Will be recognized by your patrons.

Every man, woman and child who sees this picture once will come back again and again to see this thrilling photoplay.

BOOK IT TODAY

Photoplay Productions Releasing Co.

(OWNER)

500 C Powers Building, 37 So. Wabash Avenue

CHICAGO, ILLS.

Atlantis—Atlantis—Atlantis

You can now get this wonderful picture on right terms. We own the rights for the following states

Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky

Write or wire for bookings on

ATLANTIS

(Six Parts)

(1 sheets, 2 styles; 3 sheets, 2 styles;
6 sheets, 9 sheets.)

GET BUSY TODAY

Peerless Film Exchange

35 W. Randolph Street

CHICAGO, ILL.

Motiograph Satisfaction

What is there about the MOTIOGRAPH that makes MOTIOGRAPH owners so loyal, so enthusiastic? You will have to admit their feeling is different, unusual, remarkable, compared with the exhibitor's satisfaction with other make machines. NOW WHY? The answer is worth knowing if you are seeking the best machine made. Talk with a hundred MOTIOGRAPH owners using the different models from the beginning many years ago. They will all tell you.

“My Motiograph runs always. I can always depend on it. Such a thing as a machine failing to run or break down or wear out, never enters my mind. From what my friends tell me I know it costs me less to run and maintain my Motiograph than they pay out for the machines of other makers, and I notice that all come to see my machine in operation when they want to buy and will ask, ‘Will you buy another Motiograph?’ Yes, when I buy my next machine, but I'm not in any hurry about it, my Motiograph is as sound and serviceable as any machine on the market today, regardless of its several years service.”

That is what Motiograph users will tell you if you ask them. After all, that is what you want to buy—Satisfaction—no matter what you have in mind to spend, put in Motiograph Satisfaction and you will get your money's worth.

Write for Catalogue

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.

564 W. Randolph St, CHICAGO, ILL.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
While the daily newspapers are giving their opinions on the big events of the day, you can be showing these same events to your patrons in

The PATHÉ DAILY NEWS

People no longer have to take the conflicting “opinions” of different newspapers—they can see with their own eyes the big, world happenings a few hours after they occur, and while they are still news.

The theatres that run the Pathe Daily News are catering to the demands of the wide-awake American public which is always looking for something new. The Pathe Daily News is both news and new.

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS

1 CONGRESS ST.
JERSEY CITY, N. J.

Pathe Daily News Offices

ATLANTA
Rhodes Bldg.
DALLAS
Andrews Bldg.
NEW ORLEANS
910 Gravier St.
PITTSBURGH
715 Liberty Ave.

BOSTON
3 Tremont Row
DENVER
Nassau Bldg.
NEW YORK
115 E. 23rd St.
SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.
SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.

CHICAGO
5 So. Wabash Ave.
KANSAS CITY
528 Main St.
OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.
SAN FRANCISCO
57 Turk St.

CINCINNATI
217 E. 5th St.
LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.
PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.
SEATTLE
810 Third Ave.
WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.

CLEVELAND
622 Prospect Av., S. E.
MINNEAPOLIS
4th & Hennepin Sts.
PORTLAND
392 Burnside St.
ST. LOUIS
3210 Locust St.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
THE LIVING DEAD
Ninth Story in "The Man Who Disappeared" series
A drama by RICHARD WASHBURN CHILD

When John Perriton and Mary Wales fled to Albany to escape the detective who sought to arrest Perriton on a supposed murder charge, they planned to escape across the border to Montreal. Finding this futile they took the river boat back to New York and supposed they were safe, till at supper on the boat the detective spied them and ordered Perriton locked up in his stateroom. How he escaped through the partition into Mary's room adjoining and then jumped overboard and finally landed in New York safe and sound is an exciting episode. Released August 4th—1000 feet.

COMING EDISON RELEASES

Saturday, August 1st
Farmer Rodney's Daughter
Drama 1000 feet

Monday, August 3rd
A Tango Spree
Comedy 1000 feet

Wednesday, August 5th
A Change of Business
Comedy 500 feet

Wednesday, August 5th
Faint Heart Ne'er Won Fair Lady
Comedy 5 e

Friday, August 7th
The President's Special
A new version of the celebrated Edison drama, in two parts. 200 feet

Saturday, August 8th
One Touch of Nature
Comedy 1000 feet

See the announcement elsewhere in this issue of Motography of "MY FRIEND FROM INDIA"
H. A. Du Suchet's famous comedy-drama with Walter E. Perkins in the title role. To be released on August 15th through the masterpiece service of the General Film Company.

Order Edison Posters of the MORGAN LITHOGRAPH CO., Cleveland, Ohio, direct

Thomas A. Edison, Inc.
239 Lakeside Ave., Orange, N. J.
Makers of the Edison Kinetoscope, Model "D"
Daniel Frohman
Presents
The Famous Drama of Love, Duty and the Law,
"The Scales of Justice",
By John Reinhart,
With
Paul McAllister,
Supported By
Jane Fearnley
A serious drama, with terrific action impelled by a mighty motive.
In Five Reels—Released July 20th.

FAMOUS PLAYERS FILM COMPANY

ADOLPH ZUKOR, President
DANIEL FROHMAN, Managing Director
EDWIN S. PORTER, Technical Director
Executive Offices, 213-229 West 26th St., New York City
SIX-A-WEEK

Essanay

Coming, Saturday, August 22nd

"Ambushed"
(In Three Acts)

An exciting and thrilling story of adventure and intrigue; with the swiftest action of any photoplay feature produced in years. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

Released Monday, August 10th
"Topsy-Turvey Sweedie"
(One of the ever-laughable comedies)

Released Tuesday, August 11th
"Stopping the Limited"
(A comedy-drama showing how father was forced to "come across." Adapted from The Munsey Magazines)

Released Wednesday, August 12th
The Fable of "The Manoeuvres of Joel and Father’s Second Time on Earth"
(Another of the big ADE comedy hits)

Released Thursday, August 13th
"Slippery Slim and His Tombstone"
(A comedy film in which there is a laugh in every foot)

Released Saturday, August 15th
"Broncho Billy Wins Out"
(One of the big dramatic incidents in the career of the famous western photoplay hero. Featuring G. M. ANDERSON)

Coming, Friday, August 14th

"A Gentleman of Leisure"
(In Two Acts)

A new sort of mystery photoplay which shows that appearances are often deceptive. It is a winner and will bring applause from any audience. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

All the World Loves

"Broncho Billy"

the most famous character of western photoplays. Millions of theatre-goers are watching for this hero daily. You must book these films if you would retain your business.

G. M. ANDERSON

is featured in every release. A "Broncho Billy" is released every Saturday.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.
221 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
Factory and Studio, 1333 Argyle Street, Chicago, Ill.
Branch Offices in London, Paris, Berlin, Barcelona
IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

THE GENERAL FILM CO., Inc., Presents the

EDISON

Three-Part Adaptation of H. A. Du Souchet's Famous Comedy Drama

MY FRIEND FROM INDIA

with

WALTER E. PERKINS

in the Title Role

One of the Funniest Farces ever written, reproduced with great fidelity, making a Comedy Film of unusual merit.

It is impossible, in a short synopsis, to give any idea of the brilliant movement of plot or counterplot in this famous comedy. Suffice it to say that we firmly believe that this photoplay will equal the tremendous success scored by the original production.

Attractive three and six sheet poster and two-color heralds may be obtained from Branch Exchange, General Film Co., Inc.

To Be Released, Saturday, August 15th, through the masterpiece service of THE GENERAL FILM CO., Inc.

WALTER E. PERKINS as A. KEENE SHAVER

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
ACROSS

Mexican War Feature in 3 thrilling Parts

Produced by Colorado Motion Picture Co.
Released by Warner's Features, Inc.
SEE AMERICANS FIRST
FLYING "A" FEATURE FILMS

THE TRAP
A Stirring Two Part Drama enacted in a Kentucky Mountain Fastness with a determined band of Moonshiners pitted against a picked force of Revenue Officers.

Release Date- Monday, Aug. 10, 1914.

AMERICAN BEAUTY
Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard

"A Suspended Ceremony"
A Comedy that will please.
Second Installment of "A Midsummer's Love Tangle."
Each part complete in itself.
Release, Tuesday, August 4th, 1914

NEXT WEEK

"Suzanna's New Suit"
It's a Dandy

"The Butterfly"
A Society Drama permeated with Human Interest.
Featuring Winnifred Greenwood and Ed. Coxen.
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts.
Release, Wednesday, August 12th, 1914

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
The Perils of Pauline

Serial stories are an old standby for building up magazine circulation.

"The Perils of Pauline" is a film serial complete in each episode, which will build up your theatre attendance just as the popular serial stories increase the circulation of a magazine.

Pauline is already well known and those who see her once always want more—a Pauline poster at your door is your surest and biggest puller.

Pauline Puts Profits in your Pocket.

Colonel Heeza Liar

Everyone knows the Colonel, a comedy cartoon character originated by the celebrated J. R. Bray. With this release he takes a mirth-provoking trip up "The River of Doubt" which leaves his other exploits as only mildly funny.

Get Out and Get Under

One Reel American Comedy

One of the series of real comedies which are building up the Eclectic reputation for humor that gets away from the ordinary. "Get out and Get Under" is a genuine button-burster.
The Masked Motive

A dramatic masterpiece in 5 parts distinguished by exceptional acting and an amazing though readily intelligible intricacy of Plot. Two happy marriages are made unhappy by the scheming of a disappointed suitor who carries his revenge even to the children of the unfortunate double alliance. He nearly gets away with it when—well any way it has you guessing.

All Love Excelling

Featuring Crane Wilbur and Eleanor Woodruff

The story of a woman who loves a man better than her own happiness. A demonstration of devotion which extends even to the second generation and a heroic sacrifice in which she saves the man from folly and his son from death and disappointment. From Washington through the Crimean War—a stirring series of events and unexpected actions which is sure to awaken the sympathies of your patrons.

SPECIAL PROGRAM ANNOUNCEMENT

Every Wednesday and Friday—a super-excellent multiple Reel Feature.
Every Tuesday—American made one or two reel comedy.
Every other Monday—"Perils of Pauline."

Mondays when Pauline is not released—short Foreign Comedy—Cartoon Comedy—or short Scenic Educational Film in natural colors.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

The Eclectic Film Company
110 West 40th Street
"The Cream of American and European Studios"
"THE FORTUNE HUNTER"  By Winchell Smith  6 Reels
One of the stage's greatest successes. William Elliott, one of Broadway's favorites and late star of the Madame X productions, appears in the leading role.

"THE EAGLES NEST"  Written by Edwin Arden. 5 Reels. A play with an unusually long run. The picture was produced in Colorado, with Mr. Arden himself, in the leading role.

A Comedy  Every Tuesday and Saturday
A Two Reel Feature  Every Wednesday and Thursday
A Drama  Every Friday

FIVE RELEASES EACH WEEK
"A FATAL CARD."—Split Reel Comedy. Judge Holden being three parts loaded gets into a row. Smith protects him and the Judge gives him an ace of diamonds which when shown will assure favors. Next day a score of prisoners show an ace of diamonds.

"BE WOKE UP IN TIME."—Split Reel Comedy. Tuesday, August 6th. Hans, a hobo, goes to sleep in the park and has a most wonderful dream of prosperity, but is rudely wakened up by two officious cops.

"THE MAN WITH A FUTURE."—Two Reel Drama. Wednesday, August 7th. A dramatic story of the criminal classes. The life of a woman, crime and reformation, virtue and consolation.

"A DAUGHTER OF EVE."—Two Reel Drama. Thursday, August 8th. A pretty story of the farm and green lanes with a very worthy love match consummated after many trials.

"LOVE AND FLAMES."—Comedy. Saturday, August 10th. A classy admirer sets fire to the home of the beautiful Eileen, with a devilish cigarette. The fire boys rush out the town squire and wreck the cottage but save the girl.

LUBIN POSTERS  By Our Own Staff of Artists
One and Three Sheet Posters with Single and Split Reels—One, Three and Six Sheet Posters with All Multifile Reels.

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street.

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBURNE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Kollers.

"The first big Mirror Screen went into the Empire Theatre in Detroit, Mich. It is in use yet and I will forfeit $1000.00 if you can beat it. It is six years old. Think, six years old."

Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

Buy Motography
From Your Newsdealer
10 Cents Per Copy
Insist upon him getting it for you

Cooling Ventilation Heating
"TYPHOOON BLOW-IN SYSTEM" has revolutionized the ventilating problem. You get in front of a desk fan to keep cool, not in back. Apply this common sense and blow the air in.

Don't waste money experimenting with exhaust fans.

The TYPHOOON MULTIBLADE BLOWER will force air right through ordinary exhaust fans. Reversed, the air can be exhausted as well.

Our Catalogue M. P. tells how to keep cool in summer and warm in winter.

TYPHOOON FAN CO. NEW YORK CITY
154 BROADWAY

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Here’s YOUR Opportunity

Get the News of the World While It’s Hot

While the daily newspapers are commenting on the big news happenings of the day, you can be showing the actual event as it happened in picture form to your patrons with

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS

It’s within your power to give your patrons a better newspaper than they can buy in any city of the world. Better, because you can give them not only the news, but you give them the news in picture form as it actually broke within such a short time after it happened that it is “News when it is News.”

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS

1 CONGRESS ST.
JERSEY CITY, N.J.

Pathe Daily News Offices

ATLANTA
Rhodes Bldg.

DALLAS
Andrews Bldg.

NEW ORLEANS
910 Gravier St.

PITTSBURGH
715 Liberty Ave.

BOSTON
3 Tremont Row

DENVER
Nassau Bldg.

NEW YORK
115 E. 23rd St.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.

CHICAGO
5 So. Wabash Ave.

KANSAS CITY
928 Main St.

OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.

SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.

CINCINNATI
217 E. 9th St.

LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

SEATTLE
810 Third Ave.

WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
MASTERPIECES NOW READY
(Through The General Film Special Service)

"The Wolf"
By Eugene Walter
As beautiful a picture as was ever made. Six Wonderful Reels. Staged by Barry O'Neil Producer of "The Third Degree" and "The Lion and the Mouse." With the famous Lubin All Star Cast.
George Soule Spencer, Ethel Clayton, Ferdinand Tidmarsh, Gaston Bell, Ruth Bryan, Bernard Siegel, Richard Wangeman, Clara Lambert, Mart Heisey.

"The Erring" Released Saturday, August 1st
(Through The General Film Special Service)

A Forceful Drama of modern conditions
Written by George Terwilliger. Three Splendid Reels. Produced by John Ince
Everybody erred! They had their weak moments, but strength of character withal to rise above them and from such tenisty of theme, we have evolved a striking, forceful drama of modern conditions.
Special Posters from The General Film Offices

"How clear the pictures are!"
You’ve often overheard that remark—and it’s as strong a commendation, brings as much business as does a favorable comment on the picture story itself.

The “clearest pictures” are on Eastman film because the product is right, chemically and physically.
It is easily identifiable by the stencil "Eastman" in the margin.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

The Many Thousand Motiographs
Sold during the past seven years are giving perfect satisfaction today with astonishingly small expense for repair parts.

THERE'S A REASON
They're Made of Durable Material
Not a Single Composition Lead Part in the Machine
The 1914 Model Motiograph has hardened and ground star and cam which will insure Rock Steady Pictures with very small up-keep.
Ask the man who is using a Motiograph, he will put you on the right road to the Best Motion Picture Machine Made.

Write for Catalogue
The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
566 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.
Where to Buy

BOOKS.

ELECTRICITY MAGAZINE Corp., Mundane Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

EDISON FILM MFG. CO., 116 W. 40th St., New York, N. Y.

FILM DISTRIBUTORS.

EILECTRIC FILM CO., 110 W. 40th St., New York, N. Y.

EDISON, Inc., Thos. A., Orange, N. J.

EDISON FILM MFG. CO., 429 E. 42nd St., New York, N. Y.

TOLEDO, Ohio.

MOTOGRAPHY

110 W. 40th St., New York, N. Y.

RAISIN, the MOTOGRAPHY

For instance.

RAC A.

MOTOGRAPHY

JERSEY

STREET.

BOURNE.

EDISON, Inc., Thos. A., Orange, N. J.

THE CURSE OF

THE SCARABEE RUBY

2 REELS.

Another Gaumont Triumph

Shipping Day, July 25th.

IF YOU ARE

IN DEEP WATER

Over your head—don't give up hope.

GAUMONT FILMS

have saved many and can save you, too, out of the net by booking Gaumont's, the crowd getters.

THE SCARABEE RUBY

Two hands—don't give up hope.

GAUMONT FILMS

are the only sure fire producers in Ohio.

Thirty-five of the best selected feature films picked by an old exchange man. Write for open dates.

We have the films.

EXHIBITORS FEATURE FILM CO.

431 Summit St.

Toledo, O.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting

By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY

240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up-to-date volume treating the principles of Motion Picture, the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping.

$1.14

or with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid.

$3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation

Monadnock Building

CHICAGO
"ENOUGH SAID"

EVERY THEATRE

COMING
THE TERRY O'HEARTS
BY
Louis Joseph Vance

GET BUSY
BOOK THIS GREAT PROBLEM
PLAY NOW RELEASED
AUGUST 4TH

Your house will be crowded from door to door if you arrange for special advertising for THE TERRY O' HEARTS

USE THE BRAINS GOD GAVE YOU

UNIVERSAL FILM MANUFACTURING COMPANY

CARL LAEMMLE, PRES.

1600 BROADWAY - NEW YORK, N.Y.
Daniel Frohman
Presents
The Famous Emotional Drama,
"THE SCALES OF JUSTICE."
A Terrific Arraignment of Circumstantial Evidence,
By John Reinhardt
With
Paul McAllister
Supported By
Jane Fearnley
In Five Reels—Released July 20th
Famous Players Film Company

Adolph Zukor, President
Daniel Frohman, Managing Director
Edwin S. Porter, Technical Director
Executive Offices, 213-229 West 25th St., New York City
SIX-A-WEEK

Essanay

Coming, Friday, August 21st

The best and biggest 2-act photoplay of the season.

"The Masked Wrestler"

It is a story that is different—unusual—unique; it thrills with the action of the strong and the mighty—a great gripping sensation.

BOOK IT AND WIN THE APPROVAL OF YOUR PATRONS.

Released Monday, August 17
"Sweeatie and the Double Exposure"
How story causes war in the household with his camera.

Released Tuesday, August 18
"The Black Signal"
A heart-interest drama, showing how a governor refused to pardon his own son who was condemned to hang.

Released Thursday, August 20
"Slippery Slim and the Claim Agent"
A comedy in which Slim, after all his hard work, fails to reap the reward.

Released Saturday, August 22
"Broncho Billy's Wild Ride"
A dramatic episode that leads to the reformation of an outlaw, featuring G. M. ANDERSON.

Released Wednesday, August 19
The Fable of "The Two Mandolin Players and the Willing Performer"
How two wise guys got hooked by their country cousin.

"Broncho Billy"

In his wonderful western photoplays is drawing crowds everywhere. His friends are millions and world wide.

G. M. ANDERSON

Is featured every Saturday in a "Broncho Billy" release.

"Ambushed"

(In Three Acts)

One of the new feature productions that will attract the attention of theatre-goers the world over. Released August 22.

OUR POSTERS ARE DISTINCTIVE. They will boom your business. Lithographs are in full four colors. You can order these from your exchange or direct from the Essanay Film Manufacturing Company. Your lobby display will look attractive if you use photographs of ESSANAY players, 8x10, 50.00 per dozen. You can secure these from the PLAYERS' PHOTO CO., 177 N. STATE STREET, CHICAGO, ILL.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.

521 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
Political Intrigue of Society Life at the Seat of Government, in two acts

Featuring Winnifred Greenwood and Ed Coxen

Under direction of Thos. Ricketts

Release Monday, August 17, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY
Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard

“Susanna’s New Suit”
A Cracker-Jack Comedy

One and Three Sheet Lithos

Release Tuesday, August 11, 1914

NEXT WEEK

“The Silence of John Gordon”

“Their Worldly Goods”
Exquisite dramatization of a popular theme

Featuring Wm. Garwood and Vivian Rich

Under direction of Sydney Ayres

Release—Wednesday, Aug. 19, 1914
The Perils of Pauline

Pauline’s a “glad-hand” girl. She’s the most familiar figure in film-life. Why not let her run a reception in your theatre? Because of her big reputation and her excellent press work and paper she gets people in. Because of her absorbing interest she keeps ‘em there. Because of the memory of a good time she brings ‘em back to see her again. She’s the most delightful and popular hostess that ever welcomed a crowd of patrons.

New release every other Monday—each complete—each gets across and goes a little further than the last.

You Take No Gamble On Pauline, She’s a Sure Bet

The Masker’s Mishap

A One-Reel Hartigan Comedy

Published by the Eclectic Film Co.

Worse than tickling, and funnier than a broken automobile in front of a livery stable. Another triumph on the Eclectic funny list—the kind of laughter that leaves wrinkles.

WAR—We are prepared to furnish the following Multiple-reel Eclectic Features dealing with modern European warfare:

THE LAST VOLUNTEER—6 parts—Scenes of carnage at seat of Austrian-Servian war.

FAITHFUL UNTO DEATH—4 parts—a tale of Franco-German warfare.

WAR IS HELL—4 parts—showing the havoc wrought by air-craft—awful realism.

NAPOLEON—3 parts—historical drama of the world’s most famous warrior.

ALL LOVE EXCELLING—3 parts—stirring scenes in the Crimean.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA  BOSTON  CHICAGO  DALLAS  LOS ANGELES  MINNEAPOLIS
Rhodes Bldg.  3 Tremont Row  5 So. Wabash Ave.  Andrews Bldg.  114 E. 7th St.  4th & Hennepin Sts.
NEW YORK  PITTSBURGH  SAN FRANCISCO  ST. LOUIS  SYRACUSE  CINCINNATI
115 E. 23rd St.  715 Liberty Ave.  67 Turk St.  3210 Locust St.  314 E. Fayette St.  217 E. 5th St.
CLEVELAND  PORTLAND  PHILADELPHIA  WASHINGTON  NEW ORLEANS
622 Prospect Ave., S. E.  392 Burnside Ave.  1235 Vine St.  7th & E Sts., N. W.  910 Gravier St.
SEATTLE  OMAHA  SALT LAKE CITY  DENVER  KANSAS CITY
810 Third Ave.  1312 Parnam St.  90 So. Main St.  Nassau Bldg.  928 Main St.

THE ECLECTIC
110 West 40th Street

FILM COMPANY
New York City

“The Cream of American and European Studios”
The Siren

A dramatic tragedy in six parts, wherein a foolish woman makes fools of men, foolish and otherwise. Delighting in her unaccountable power over the opposite sex, she flits like butterfly from man to man leaving blight and family desolation behind her. From noblemen to fishermen, and even her own husband, is added to the list of dazzled ones, until from the trail of tragedy behind her there springs a sudden ending to her own career. The story is as fascinating as the heroine.

Nick Winter
and
The Lost Prince

3 Reel Comedy Drama which continues the adventures of the screen’s most resourceful detective.

Failure for Nick Winter is just a starter on a hundred other trails. His ingenuity in devising schemes for circumventing the criminals is only approached by the resourcefulness of the law-breakers in planning traps for the overthrow of the great detective. Only those who have seen him can appreciate his remarkable ability and the fertility of his brain. Nobody in film-life can do so many different things so many different ways as he can—he’s funny too.

Eclectic’s 4-a-Week

MONDAY—The Perils of Pauline, every two weeks. Short Subjects alternate weeks.
TUESDAY—American one or two reel comedy.

WEDNESDAY—Super-excellent multiple reel production.
FRIDAY—Surpassing attraction of several reels.

THE ECLECTIC
New York City

"The Cream of American and European Studios"
Announcement Extraordinary

An Independent Program

Consisting of 28 reels a week—single and multiple reels—

4 Reels a Day

Made by the foremost American Manufacturers. High Class Productions only. Featuring Noted American Stars.

Those interested communicate immediately with

LEWIS J. SELZNICK,
Vice-President and General Manager

WORLD FILM CORPORATION
130 West 46th Street,
New York

NOTE: This program will in no way conflict with the Weekly Releases of Shubert Productions, commencing Sept. 1st, released through the WORLD FILM CORPORATION

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
A
Scoop Every Day

THE newspaper that gets the big scoop gets the big reputation. There are scoops in motion pictures too. Your reputation stands on films. A scoop in films will boost your reputation.

The Pathe news camera is always on the job and the spot and it reports at once to

THE PATHE DAILY NEWS

The Pathe News is news in moving picture that’s ahead of other news—it means a scoop in your locality. It’s news your patrons can see happen just as if they had been there, and it’s so interesting that it makes steady patrons out of former passersby. It’s not a budget of the week’s news, but it’s the day’s news issued daily.

THE PATHE DAILY NEWS

1 CONGRESS ST. JERSEY CITY, N.J.

Pathe Daily News Offices

ATLANTA
Rhodes Bldg.
DALLAS
Andrews Bldg.
NEW ORLEANS
910 Gravier St.
PITTSBURGH
718 Liberty Ave.
BOISE
3 Tremont Row
DENVER
Nassau Bldg.
NEW YORK
113 E. 23rd St.
SALT LAKE CITY
48 So. Main St.
SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.
CHICAGO
5 So. Washington Ave.
KANSAS CITY
928 Main St.
OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.
SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.
CINCINNATI
217 E. 5th St.
LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.
PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.
SEATTLE
818 Third Ave.
WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Daniel Frohman presents

"The Better Man"

The Story of the Tremendous Struggle Between Two Clergymen for the World's Two Greatest Prizes,

By Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, LL.D

with William Courtleigh

In the Title Role,

In Four Reels of Motion Pictures Released August 10th.

Famous Players Film Company

Adolph Zukor, President

Daniel Frohman, Managing Director

Edwin S. Porter, Technical Director

Executive Offices, 313-329 West 26th St., New York City
Mystery of the Octagonal Room

Tenth Mystery in the “Chronicles of Cleek”

By Thomas N. Hanshew

Squire Shadbolt’s wife had disappeared. When Cleek arrived at the house and investigated he found the body of Maurice Ward back of the panels in the Octagonal Room. The only apparent cause of his death was some pricks in the skin of his hand. Could you solve these mysteries? Cleek will.

COMING EDISON RELEASES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Type</th>
<th>Length</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Sat., Aug. 22</td>
<td>In Lieu of Damages</td>
<td>Drama</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon., Aug. 24</td>
<td>Nearly a Widow</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tues., Aug. 25</td>
<td>The Mystery of the Octagonal Room</td>
<td>Drama</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fri., Aug. 28</td>
<td>The Birth of the Star Spangled Banner</td>
<td>Drama</td>
<td>2000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat., Aug. 29</td>
<td>Treasure Trove</td>
<td>Drama</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon., Aug. 31</td>
<td>The Buxom Country Lass</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Order Edison posters of the Morgan Lithograph Co., Cleveland, Ohio, direct.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.
THE QUESTION

Long Life = Small Upkeep IS ANSWERED

In the 1914 Model Motograph

Whenever you can have the BEST of anything for the price of the average—which do you get?

ANSWER—

and you have the reason why experienced Theatre Owners everywhere are demanding Motograph

There are "CHEAP" machines at "CHEAP" prices to catch inexperienced buyers.

There are ordinary machines, priced high to give the impression of quality.

BUT when you can buy a MOTOGRAPH which represents QUALITY (and we can prove it) at a reasonable price, you have made a big SAVING.

Write for Our Proof

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
581 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting

By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY

240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postage prepaid, $1.14

or with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid, $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Meadowlark Building — — CHICAGO
THE WORLD'S WONDER SPECTACLE
NOW PLAYING IN IMPORTANT THEATRES
If You Have a Large Capacity and a Showman's Courage, Write for Particulars.

ITALA FILM CO. OF AMERICA
HARRY R. RAVER, Manager
220 W. 42nd St., N. Y.

or
WERBA & LUESCHER
N. Y. Theatre Bldg.
New York
SIX-A-WEEK

Essanay

Coming, Friday, August 28

"Seven Sealed Orders"

(In Two Acts)

By Edgar Franklin. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

A story of mysticism and orientalism guaranteed to hold an audience spellbound throughout its two reels of blood-stirring action; it is another one of the ESSANAY SUCCESSES, and means capacity houses for those who book it.

Released Monday, August 24

"Sweedie Springs a Surprise"
An extremely funny comedy showing how Sweedie found her long lost sister in her successor as cook.

Released Tuesday, August 25

"Two Men Who Waited"
How a country girl, on the brink of destruction, thinks of her sweetheart at home and returns to him. Adapted from the Munsey Magazines.

Released Thursday, August 27

Slippery Slim and the Fortune Teller
Slippery Slim again foils his rival, Mustang Pete, for the hand of Sophie.

Released Saturday, August 29

"Broncho Billy's Indian Romance"
A western drama, in which Broncho Billy saves an Indian maiden from a disliked chief. Featuring G. M. ANDERSON.

Released Wednesday, August 26

The Fable of

"The Difference Between Learning and Learning How" by George Ade
A "real" comedy showing how a supposed "Bonehead" turned out to be a Regular Guy.

"Broncho Billy"

In his wonderful western photoplays is drawing crowds everywhere; his friends are millions and world wide.

G. M. ANDERSON

is featured every Saturday in a "Broncho Billy" release.

Hundreds of theatres are calling for second bookings of

"One Wonderful Night"

The four-act feature photoplay drama which has won the plaudits of one million theatre-goers. Hundreds of exhibitors have reported capacity houses during the hottest days and nights of the summer.

Francis X. Bushman is Featured in This Photoplay.
Press Proclaims Peple’s Play Powerful!

WAR DRAMA THRILLS CHICAGO

“THE LITTLEST REBEL” Scores Big Success in Western Metropolis

The Photoplay Critics of the Chicago Tribune and Chicago Herald Tell in Part of the Great Realism that Thrills the Spectator who Witnesses the Projection of “THE LITTLEST REBEL”

CHICAGO TRIBUNE

“LITTLEST REBEL” THRILLING
By KITTY KELLY

If the Austrians and Servians and other craving war continentals could just drop into the Studebaker for a couple of hours to watch the unreeeling of “The Littlest Rebel,” they would get an optical dose of war horror sufficient to drive them to hang up their guns and take their plowshares and fall instantly to tilling the soil.

This picture, made out of the little prose war epic Edward Peple wrote several years ago, which also supplied heart interest for a successful play, is most effective as war propaganda in its film form, for what it lacks in direct intellectual appeal of the book and voice and personal magnetism of the stage it makes up in its broader scope of visualization, creating a vivid and inescapable impression of the inglorious underside of brute contest between humans dignified by the name of war.

CHICAGO HERALD

“LITTLEST REBEL” EXCITING FILM PLAY
By THE HATTONS

The film drama seems to make its most vital appeal when it combines history and spectacle. We felt this keenly after witnessing “The Littlest Rebel” yesterday at the Studebaker Theatre. With characters more or less known to the audiences and broad backgrounds reflecting some of the traditional spectacle of the civil war, THIS “MOVIE” PLAY HAS AN APPEAL PARALLEL TO THAT WHICH HAS MADE “CABIRIA” UNIQUE.

And for the first time we saw a “movie” audience applaud scenes as people do when their emotions are touched in the regular theatre.

Chicago, Ill.

TELEGRAM

“LITTLEST REBEL” Most Popular Film in town-- has taken city by storm--

SAM LEDERER
Manager Studebaker Theatre

PHOTO PLAY PRODUCTIONS CO.
FRANK A. TICHENOR, General Manager
220 W. 42nd Street
New York, N. Y.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
RAMO FILMS, Inc.,
C. LANG COBB, Jr., Manager Sales and Publicity

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
See Americans First
FLYING "A" FEATURE FILMS

An absorbing two part drama exploiting the advance of civilization. Dramatic interest drifts from pathos to comedy in even tenor.

One, Three and Six Sheet Posters, Photos Slides and Heralds.

Featuring Ed Coxen and Charlotte Burton.

Under direction of Henry Otto

Release Monday, August 24th, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY

Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard

"The Silence of John Gordon"
Romance in a Minister's Life
One and Three Sheet Lithos. Release Tuesday, August 18, 1914

NEXT WEEK

"Susie's New Shoes"

“Lodging for the Night”
A Thrilling Tale of the Hills
Under Direction of Thos. Ricketts
Release Wednesday, August 26th, 1914

“The Song of the Sea Shell”
Vivid and Impressive—Strong in Imaginative Power Release Friday, August 28th, 1914
Bringing the War Home

WATCH the crowds in front of a war bulletin. Are they eager? Do you think you would get much business from them if you could set up a telescope that would reach to Europe and show all the events of the war as they happen? You can bet you would—folks will cling to a church steeple all day to see the smoke of a distant battle. You can show the war in Europe right in your theatre with

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS

Safely seated inside your patrons can view the manoeuvres of the Kaiser's army, the Kaiser himself, the British warships in action, all the crowned heads that are at present participating in this mightiest of world conflicts and many of the heads which are crowned only with glory. They can see the actual men who are fighting and the actual places they are fighting about, and they can see them fighting. Will they want to see it? Put out a PATHÉ DAILY NEWS poster and you will find very soon that people do want to see the war news—more people than you can accommodate. Pathé Daily News issued semi-weekly.

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS
1 Congress St., Jersey City, N. J.

Pathe Daily News Offices

ATLANTA
61 Walton St.
DALLAS
Andrews Bldg.
NEW ORLEANS
910 Greiner St.
PITTSBURGH
710 Liberty Ave.
BOSTON
3 Tremont New DEER
Nashau Bldg.
NEW YORK
110 E. 23rd St.
SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.
CHICAGO
5 So. Wabash Ave.
KANSAS CITY
920 Main St.
OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.
SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.
CINCINNATI
217 E. 3rd St.
LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.
PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

SEATTLE
801 Third Ave.
WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.
CLEVELAND
622 Prospect Ave., S. E.

MINNEAPOLIS
4th & Hennepin Sts.
PORTLAND
332 Burnside St.
ST. LOUIS
3218 Locust St.
The Eclectic Film Company, 110 West 40th Street, New York City

The Last Volunteer

But Powers Break.

A timely 3-reel war drama laid at the seat of the present Austro-Hungarian war, Pather Pindede. A story of intense patriotism entwining relations of a crown prince and an innkeeper's daughter, with international affairs. War follows. In the grim and realistic battle scenes aeroplanes, artillery and every other modern engine of destruction is employed, and the resulting carnage faithfully pictured. A girl makes a heroic rescue midst splintering bullets. Good display in 1, 3, 6 and 24-sheet posters.

The Perils of Pauline

Pauline Puts Her Perils on the Screen and Takes Yours Out of the Box Office.

Pauline's the leading light of the movies. Her name means a crowd. She's written about, photographed, quoted and set to music. She's advertised in type, pictures, music and by word of mouth. She's the best known, best liked and best pulling character in film life—conservative statements, all of them. A "Pauline" run in your theater will look like a run on the bank, only it's a run on the receiving counter, for everything is coming in and nothing going out.

There's No Lure Like a Pauline Poster. She Corrupts Attend-ance.

War News at a Glance

Germany is fighting the world. War is uppermost in the minds of men.

The Eclectic Film Co. presents a number of multiple reel war features dealing with the very nations today engaged and showing to the full the horrors of modern battle. These are the most appropriate and timely films that can be shown today.

War Is Hell

Aeroplanes Battle in the Clouds.

A 4-part war picture in natural colors dealing mainly with modern aerial warfare. Exploits of great daring are featured—aeroplane duel in the clouds, the destruction of giant war balloons, and the blowing up of an old mill, all woven into an absorbing story. 1, 3 and 6 sheet posters.

All Love Excelling

Sisters of Mercy Work Through Crimean War.

An American-made drama in 3 reels. A moving story of sacrifice which culminates in the Crimean War when France and England fought Russia. It features the humanitarian side of warfare and shows the work of the Sisters of Mercy in caring for the sick and wounded. 1, 3 and 6-sheet posters; 6-sheet scene of the Battle of Inkerman.

Forcing the Force

No Laugh Is Safe From This New Hartigan Comedy.

There's nothing forced about "Forcing the Force"—it's up in the Eclectic standard of humor. The only danger is to your patrons' vest buttons.

Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges for your use

ATLANTA
61 Walton St.
NEW YORK
115 E. 70th St.
CLEVELAND
522 Prospect Ave.
SEATTLE
808 Union Ave.
BOSTON
3 Tremont Row
PITTSBURGH
715 Liberty Ave.
PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.
OMAHA
1312 Farm St.
CHICAGO
1809 Wabash Ave.
5 So. Wabash Ave.
SAN FRANCISCO
357 Turk St.
PHILADELPHIA
1935 Vine St.

SALT LAKE CITY
90 So. Main St.
DALLAS
Andrews Blvd.
ST. LOUIS
3316 Locust St.
LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.
SYRACUSE
314 E. Fayette St.
WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.
DENVER
Maine Blvd.
MINNEAPOLIS
48 S. 1st St.
CINCINNATI
554 5th St.
LOUISVILLE
202 N. 4th St.
CHICAGO
217 Wabash Ave.
SAN FRANCISCO
1935 Vine St.

Eclectic Film Company
110 West 40th St.
New York City
The Greyhound Captain Swift
5 Parts 5 Parts

Northern Lights
5 Parts

Survival of the Fittest

Features adapted from stage productions that have already created a name for themselves.

We are looking for live agents in every territory, state and city. Show us that you can get money on features and we will give you ours on a profit sharing basis.

Right kind of lithographs and other advertising matter.

Exhibitors

If your Exchange is not booking our productions, write or wire us, and we will see that your wants are filled.

Life Photo Film Corporation
"The House of Broadway Features"
Executive Office—220 W. 42nd St., New York City
Laboratory—Grantwood, N. J.
NOW
A name as well known as Santa Claus

Lew Dockstader
in a 5 Act Play of the Civil War
"DAN"
By HAL REID

Discriminating Attractions

CHARACTER Motion Pictures which select their own audiences and build, in the picture play showman, a confidence which spells continued patronage and success.

Names which attract not only motion picture enthusiasts but theatre goers and the curious.

Plays, the characters of which are approved of in particular households. Plus merit in production.

IN AUGUST
The Incomparable

Ethel Barrymore
In an Original 5 Act Motion Picture
"The Nightingale"
By Augustus Thomas

Distinctive Exploitation

THOSE distributing offices which control the bookings of these master motion picture productions have been determined upon with a most painstaking care as to complete representation. They are backed up with a wealth of wondrous advertising material becoming to these quality productions.

We will advise you of the distributor in your territory.

All Star Feature Corporation
220 W. 42nd St., New York City

Harry R. Raver, President
Augustus Thomas, Director General

IN PREPARATION

The International Star
William Faversham
in a 5 Act Motion Picture
Adaptation of the Great Theatrical Success
"THE WORLD"
SIX MASTERPIECES (Booked through the General Film Co. Special Service) NOW SHOWING WITH WONDERFUL SUCCESS

"THE WOLF"

6 Reels. By Eugene Walter. "As beautiful a picture as was ever made."
Produced by BARRY O'NEIL with the LUBIN ALL STAR CAST.

3 Reels "The Even," by George Terwilliger.
A story with an exceptionally strong moral.
Produced by John Ince, with a star cast.

NOW READY AND TO BE RELEASED SOON

WILLIAM ELLIOTT, late star of "Madame X," in the leading role.

5 Reels "The House Next Door," by J. Hartley Manners.
Another wonderful production with the Lubin All Star Cast.

5 Reels "Eagle's Nest," by Edwin Arden.
Edwin Arden in the leading role. Produced by Romaine Fielding in Colorado.

5 Reels "THE RINGTAILED RHINOCEROS," By Lawrence McCloskey.
A Distinctly unique comedy drama, written especially for RAYMOND HITCHCOCK, "The Funniest Man on the Stage."
Costumes and scenery are exceptionally beautiful.
Produced by GEORGE TERWILLIGER.

FIVE REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

"Back to the Farm" Comedy Tuesday, August 18th
"The Dreamer" Two Reel Drama Wednesday, August 19th
"His Brother's Blood" Two Reel Drama Thursday, August 20th
"Sometimes It Works" Split Reel Comedy Friday, August 21st
"Making Auntie Welcome" Split Reel Comedy Saturday, August 22nd

SPECIAL ONE, THREE AND SIX SHEET POSTERS

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

1914 Motiograph A Winner

"How clear the pictures are!"
You've often overheard that remark—and it's as strong a commendation, brings as much business as does a favorable comment on the picture story itself.

The "clearest pictures" are on Eastman film because the product is right, chemically and physically.
It is easily identifiable by the stencil "Eastman" in the margin.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.
Where to Buy

BOOKS.
MOTOGRAFICAL MAGAZINE, CORP., Monadnock Bldg., Chicago, 111.
NATURAL BIBLIOGRAPHY, N. W., New York.

ELECTRICITY, MAGAZINE, CORP., Monadnock Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

NEWMAN MFG. CO., 715 Sycamore St., Cincinnati, O.

FAINS.

TYPHOON FAN CO., 1544 Broadway, New York City.

ECLECTIC FILM CO., 110 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

ALL STAR FEATURE CORP., 229 W. 43rd St., New York, N. Y.

FAMOUS PLAYERS' FILM CO., 304 W. 43rd St., New York, N. Y.

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO., Aschland Park, Chicago.

ECLECTIC FILM CO., 110 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

EDEY, INC., Thor., A., Orange, N. J.

UNIVERSITY MFG. CO., 541 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago.

FAMOUS PLAYERS' FILM CO., 223 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

GAUMONT CO., 110 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

LITI MFG. CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

LIFE-PHOTO FILM CORP., 229 W. 42nd St., New York, N. Y.

PATHÉ FRERES, Congress Bldg., Jersey City, N. J.

LIFE-PHOTO FILM CORP., 229 W. 42nd St., New York, N. Y.

PITNEY BOWES, Congress Bldg., Jersey City, N. J.

PROJECTING MACHINES.

EDAION, INC., Thom., A., 285 Lakeside Ave., Orange, N. J.

ENTERPRISE OPTICAL MFG. CO., 564 W. Randolph St., Chicago.

GAUMONT CO., 110 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

TYPHOON FAN CO., 1544 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

If you would be numbered among the other successful exchanges who are now booking orders for GAUMONT FILMS
Every one a proven success. Every one with a big punch. Features that sell speed for exchanges and exhibitors.

THE DUOTONE SESSIONS.

If you are
IN DEEP WATER
Over poor business—don't give up hope—GAUMONT FILMS have saved many and can save you. Get one of the many by inspecting Gaumont's, the crowd getters.

YOUR MONEY MAKERS
The only sure fire producers in Ohio.
Thirty-five of the best selected feature films picked by an old exchange man. Write for open dates.
We have the films.

EXHIBITORS FEATURE FILM CO.
431 Summit St., Toledo, O.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAFHY

240 Pages—Fully Illustrated
A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motography, the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenic; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid...

$1.14 or with a yearly's subscription to MOTOGRAFHY, all prepaid...

$3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building...CHICAGO
Cooling Ventilation Heating

"TYPHOON BLOW-IN SYSTEM" has revolutionized the ventilating problem. You get in front of a desk fan to keep cool, not in back. Apply this common sense and blow the air in.
Don't waste money experimenting with exhaust fans.
The TYPHOON MULTIBLADE BLOWER will force air right through ordinary exhaust fans. Reversed, the air can be exhausted as well.
Our Catalogue M. P. tells how to keep cool in summer and warm in winter.

TYPHOON FAN CO. NEW YORK CITY
1544 BROADWAY

M. P. Theater List

We have a correct list of all the Motion Picture Theaters in the United States and Canada. These addresses are in stencil and are quickly available for commercial uses. The price of the complete list delivered into your hands is $50.00. Cash with order.

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Bldg. : : CHICAGO, ILL.
DANIEL FROHMAN
Presents

"THE BETTER MAN"

by

Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, L.L.D.

with

WILLIAM COURTLEIGH

A Clergyman's Dramatic Romance, in which he defies and vanquishes Hypocrisy and Sham and proves his right to the title of the Subject.

In Four Reels of Motion Pictures
Released August 10th.

FAMOUS PLAYERS
FILM COMPANY

ADOLPH ZUKOR, President
DANIEL FROHMAN, Managing Director
EDWIN S. PORTER, Technical Director
Executive Offices, 213-229 West 25th St., New York City
SIX-A-WEEK

Essanay

Coming, Friday, September 4

"Under Royal Patronage"
(In Two Acts)

Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

One of the most realistic dramas of the year with gorgeous European settings and costumes that alone make it distinctive and unusual. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN appears in this play to greater advantage than ever before. DO NOT FAIL TO BOOK IT.

Released Monday, August 31
"Love and Soda"
A side-splitting comedy, in which a plumber shows his marksmanship in hurling eggs.

Released Tuesday, September 1
"No. 28, Diplomat"
How a little clerk played cupid and made possible her own marriage. Adapted from the Munsey Magazines.

Released Wednesday, September 2
"The Fable of The Regular Beanery and the Peachy Newcomer"
By GEORGE ADE
How the patrons of a "Hash Repository" discover the beautiful new boarder is a married woman.

Released Thursday, September 3
"When Macbeth Came to Snakeville"
As usual, an extremely funny comedy, showing how Sophie nearly frightened a "ham actor" to death with a butcher knife.

Released Friday, September 5
"Broncho Billy, the Vagabond"
A heart interest drama in which Broncho risks being hanged to get food for a starving family—featuring G. M. ANDERSON

"Broncho Billy"
In his wonderful western photoplays is drawing crowds everywhere; his friends are millions and world wide.

G. M. ANDERSON
is featured every Saturday in a "Broncho Billy" release.

Hundreds of theatres are calling for second bookings of

"One Wonderful Night"
This four-act feature photoplay drama has won the plaudits of more than one million theatre-goers. Hundreds of exhibitors have reported capacity houses during the hottest days and nights of the summer. They call it "one wonderful play."

Francis X. Bushman is Featured in This Photoplay.
Remarkable Acting

The most wonderful character impersonations ever shown in the movies are displayed in Thanhouser's Million Dollar Motion Picture Production—The Million Dollar Mystery. An all-star cast has made this stupendous production the most successful movie ever brought out.

THE MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY

By Harold MacGrath

Ten episodes of this great serial have already been released. Two-reel episodes are released each week. The story itself is now appearing in nearly 200 leading newspapers.

$10,000.00 will be paid for the best 100-word solution of this mystery. Bookings now being arranged. The Million Dollar Mystery is an independent release and may be obtained regardless of the regular program being used.

Syndicate Film Corporation

71 West 23rd Street, New York
Room 411, 5 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago
Or Syndicate Film Corporation Representative at any Mutual Exchange in the U. S. and Canada.

The Thanhouser Three-a-Week:

Tuesday, Aug. 25th. "Conscience." A two-reel drama of modern life, featuring Irving Cummings, Marion Anderson; Mrs. Farrington, Edward N. Hoyt, Eugene Moore, Jr., E. C. Ward and N. S. Woods.

Sunday, Aug. 30th. "Arty the Artist." A clever one-reel comedy and love story, featuring Vic Forsythe, Lydia Read, Pan Bourke, Justus D. Barnes and Mr. Crane.

Thanhouser Film Corporation

New Rochelle, N. Y.

Thanhouser's Releases will continue to be features of the Mutual Program.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
The Armies of Europe in Action vividly portrayed in the great Spectacular Features.

ABORNWARRIOR and its sequel EXILED

A stupendous and thrilling war spectacle, showing with splendid realism the terrific battles, the bloody victories and the disastrous retreats that led up to the death grapple on the field of Waterloo—not far from which the titanic struggle of 1914 is now in progress.

BOOK THESE FEATURES NOW

WARNER'S FEATURES, Inc., New York City
THE AFTERMATH

Tense - Thrilling - Dramatic Replete With Human Interest
Featuring Wm. Garwood and Vivian Rich
Under Direction of Sydney Ayres

Release, Monday, Aug. 31, 1914

SUSIE’S NEW SHOES
A Rollicking Good Comedy

Release, Tuesday, August 25th, 1914

NEXT WEEK
A MODERN OTHELLO

THE WRONG BIRDS
A gorgeous farce that is sure to please.

Release, Wednesday, September 2, 1914
Charles O. Baumann, President of the POPULAR PHOTO PLAYS CORPORATION, is well-known in the industry, and his past record and reputation are an assurance that the POPULAR PHOTO PLAYS CORPORATION will conduct its dealings in a business-like manner, and every release in the PROGRAM can be depended upon as a high-grade production.

All productions will be under the personal supervision of Charles O. Baumann, in conjunction with C. A. ("Doc") Willat.

Associated with Mr. Baumann in this enterprise, is Mr. W. C. Toomey, who was formerly Vice President and General Manager of the Mutual Film Corporation and also President and General Manager of the Continental Feature Film Corporation.

Popular Photo

Studios and Factory: Fort Lee, N. J.
Baumann

PROGRAM
CLASS SERVICE
All Features Comedy, Drama, etc.

EXCHANGE BOOKING-OFFICES

Each Exchange will be under the control and ownership of men who will have full power to arrange with Exhibitors for service direct in their respective territories. The integrity and honesty of all men conducting the booking of the "POPULAR" PROGRAM and SPECIAL "POPULAR" FEATURES have been thoroughly scrutinized and investigated in order that they may be relied upon in making any representations and fulfilling all contracts for service with Exhibitors.

The following is a list of the cities in which Exhibitors can arrange for service:

New York New Orleans Milwaukee San Francisco
Boston Dallas Pittsburgh Minneapolis
Philadelphia Kansas City Cincinnati Minneapolis
Washington Chicago Cleveland Omaha
Atlanta

More than 60% of the men who will own and manage the various Exchange-Booking Offices have been decided upon and Exhibitors may feel assured that only men of dependable character and high-class business ability have been able to secure an Exchange-Booking Office franchise.

While some of the territory is still open we contemplate deciding within a few days on applications which have been made for open territory referred to.

All contracts with EXCHANGE-BOOKING OFFICES are made for a period of 10 years, with a privilege of renewal of 10 additional years, thus assuring the Exhibitor an opportunity to deal with an individual in his territory who is the owner of the EXCHANGE-BOOKING OFFICE and absolutely independent of dictation from an Exchange Combination.

Plays Corporation
Executive Offices: Longacre Bldg., N. Y.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Vol. XII, No. 9, August 29, 1914

MotoGRAPHY

Charles O. Baumann
Announces

POPULAR PROGRAM
A NEW HIGH CLASS SERVICE
28 Reels Weekly
1-2-3 Reels

Everything New

Willat Studios and Laboratories just completed at Fort Lee, N. J., will be the home of Popular Photo Plays Corporation. $500,000 has been spent in constructing the most modern and best equipped Studios and Laboratories in the world. Every modern appliance to the motion picture industry has been installed in order that the most perfect pictures may be produced. Studios and Laboratories will be under the personal direction and management of C. A. ("Doc") Willat.

Fourteen Brands

Comedy

Drama, etc.

JESTER LUNA CEE-O-BEE WILLAT
OWL FROLIC NIAGARA PALISADE
GAIETY "O. K." LONGACRE CANYON
PASTIME CONTINENTAL

Special "Popular" Features

High-class plays now running as Broadway successes with original all-star casts will be released in conjunction with the "POPULAR PROGRAM" as well as recent plays of well-known authors.

Directors—Authors—Actors

Only the best and most efficient Directors of Authors, whose ability has been established by record, are employed—and only actors of recognized ability will form the cast for each play. These actors already engaged are a number of established men and women who are well known as Broadway Favorites and have starred throughout the country in high-class drama—also the foremost and best-known Comedians, who have an international reputation as laugh producers.

Scenery, Costume, etc.

No expense will be spared in elaborating scenery sets, furnishings, costumes, etc. Deal will be our "watchword.

Charles O. Baumann, President of the POPULAR PHOTO PLAYS CORPORATION is well-known in the industry, and his past record and reputation are an assurance that the POPULAR PHOTO PLAYS CORPORATION will conduct its dealings in a businesslike manner, and every release in the PROGRAM can be depended upon as a high-grade production.

All productions will be under the personal supervision of Charles O. Baumann in conjunction with C. A. ("Doc") Willat.

Associated with Mr. Baumann in this enterprise, is Mr. W. C. Toomey, who was formerly Vice-President and General Manager of the Mutual Film Corporation and also President and General Manager of the Continental Feature Film Corporation.

Popular Photo

Studios and Factory: Fort Lee, N. J.

EXCHANGE BOOKING OFFICES

Each Exchange will be under the control and ownership of men who will have full power to arrange with Exhibitors for service direct in their respective territories. The integrity and honesty of all men conducting the booking of the "POPULAR PROGRAM and SPECIAL "POPULAR" FEATURES have been thoroughly scrutinized and investigated in order that they may be relied upon in making any representations and fulfilling all contracts for service with Exhibitors.

The following is a list of the cities in which Exhibitors can arrange for service:

New York
Boston
Philadelphia
Washington
Atlanta

New Orleans
Dallas
St. Louis
Cincinnati
Chicago

Milwaukee
Pittsburgh
Kansas City
Cleveland

San Francisco
Baltimore
Minneapolis
St. Louis
Oklahoma City

More than 60% of the men who will own and manage the various Exchange-Booking Offices have been decided upon and Exhibitors may feel assured that only men of dependable character and high-class business ability have been able to secure an Exchange-Booking Office franchise.

While some of the territory is still open we contemplate deciding within a few days on applications which have been made for open territory referred to.

All contracts with EXCHANGE-BOOKING OFFICES are made for a period of 10 years, with a privilege of renewal of 10 additional years, thus assuring the Exhibitor an opportunity to deal with an individual in his territory who is the owner of the EXCHANGE-BOOKING OFFICE and absolutely independent of dictation from an Exchange Combination.

Popular Photo Plays Corporation

Executive Offices: Longacre Bldg., N. Y.
“FULL OF LAUGHS”
One of the funniest comedies ever put on the screen.
A REAL HIT!

Edison Feature Photo Play

My Friend From India
Three part comedy-drama — adaptation of Du Souchet’s farce

Walter E. Perkins in his original character of A. Keene Shaver
Portrays the attempt of a retired pork-packer to enter New York Society through the medium of a barber

“WONDERFULLY GOOD” is the universal verdict
This film may now be had through the Feature Film Service of the General Film Co. and its Branches, from whom also one, three, and six sheet posters and attractive two color heralds may be obtained.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.

MOTOGRAPHY
America’s Leading Film-Trade Magazine

Your Personal Subscription
would prove both a convenience and a means of real profit. Each issue is of vital interest and practical value to every man in the motion picture business. If you miss one copy, you may miss an article or an idea that would have a vital effect on your work.

As a regular subscriber, you would be able to read MOTOGRAPHY carefully and systematically at your leisure, and to preserve a file of copies for reference and binding.

Bound volumes of MOTOGRAPHY form the best foundation for a reference library.

We suggest that you have the magazine sent to your residence.

$3.00 a year
Issued Weekly

Address

MOTOGRAPHY
Monadnock Building
CHICAGO

Save Your MOTOGRAPHY
For Future Reference
By special arrangement with the manufacturer, we have been able to secure the only practical magazine and periodical binder on the market. We refer to the Dowst Magazine Binder which binds one issue, a dozen issues or more with a neat book appearance. This binder has no springs, catches, strings, clamps, laces or locks, and does not mutilate the periodical in the slightest manner.
No mechanical labor necessary. Simple. Practical. Durable.

A Positive Guarantee
The manufacturers guarantee to us that every binder is thoroughly tested before it is delivered, and a further guarantee that it will simply and practically accomplish everything claimed for it.

Price
Postpaid
$1.50
Complete with 13
Binding
Rods
10 Sectional Posts and Name of Publication Stamped
In Gold
on Front Cover

Binder Closed
Binder Open
Send for Illustrated Pamphlet
MOTOGRAPHY 1460 Monadnock Block, CHICAGO, ILL.
Bob and Frank decide to spend their vacation at the beach. They meet Col. Fairfield's two daughters. The Col. has too much regard for his daughters' future to think of letting either of them marry a man not able to properly support them. The boys, however, discover a paper among wreckage on the beach written in Spanish. It tells of a treasure and its location off shore. They are about to discover it when armed Cuban villains approach and threaten trouble. Then the Colonel appears and the villains flee. The boys are now rich and have won the Colonel's admiration.

To be released Saturday, August 29th

COMING EDISON RELEASES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Day</th>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Genre</th>
<th>Length</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Wed.</td>
<td></td>
<td>A Village Scandal</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fri.</td>
<td></td>
<td>The Viking Queen (2 parts)</td>
<td>Drama</td>
<td>2000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat.</td>
<td></td>
<td>Hearts of the Forest</td>
<td>Drama</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon.</td>
<td></td>
<td>The Blind Fiddler</td>
<td>Drama</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tues.</td>
<td></td>
<td>Getting Andy's Goat</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Order Edison posters of the Morgan Lithograph Co., Cleveland, Ohio, direct.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.,
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.
A Smashing Five-Part Western Psychological Drama

Depicting War, Love, Hate and Intrigue, Interwoven with a Subtle Vein of Humor.

Adapted from the Stage Success

A Master Class A A A Feature With an Incomparable All-Star Cast

State Right Buyers — Wire or Write Us the Territory You Are Interested in and We Will Forward Our Terms.

Exhibitors in the States of New York and New Jersey Communicate Direct With Us for Bookings.

Wonderful Lithographs and Advertising Matter That Befit the High Character of the Production

Life Photo Film Corp. Executive Office 220 W. 42 St. N.Y.C. Studio and Laboratory — Grantwood N.J.
Success in War and Moving Pictures

There is only one road to moving picture successgive the people what they want in a comfortable theater. You have the theater and the Eclectic Co. can give you just what the people want just when they want it. Just now the people want pictures of European War and we come to the front with the most complete and appropriate set of European War Feature Films obtainable.

The Last Volunteer

Five parts, American madeA patriotic drama of modern warfare on the land and above it, and laid at the seat of Today's War. Vividly realistic artillery engagements. Wonderful 1, 3, 6, 24 sheet posters.

Faithful Unto Death

Four partsEurope's bitter rivals, France and Germany, in a struggle to the finish. Stirring battle scenes in Franco-Turkish War Story. 1, 3, 6, 24 sheet posters.

"War Is Hell"

Four parts in natural colors. Most marvelous exposition of the horrors of modern European warfare ever staged. Battles of aircraft and the last stand of a fallen aviator. 1, 3, 6 sheet posters.

Napoleon

Five partsThe only struggle recorded in history which is comparable with today's events. The world's greatest warrior at bay in the last great struggle for European supremacy. 1, 3, 6 sheet posters.

All Love Excelling

Three partsA drama culminating in the Crimea when France and England fought Russia, in which a woman plays her part as a Sister of Mercy. 1, 3, 6 sheet posters.

McGraw In a Triple Play

Famous Baseball Manager Appears as Detective Swift in 3-Part Eclectic Attraction.

Manager J. J. McGraw of the New York Giants has added another achievement to his already long list. He successfully carried off the leading role in a great detective photoplay staged in all parts of the world. Mr. McGraw is a most modern detective no overdone acting no foolish disguisesjust artistic realism in a setting of some of the world's most impressive scenery. This film is a double-headerMr. McGraw, the story, and the setting all pull together to make your patrons want to see it.

The Perils of Pauline

Pauline the popular, whose perils are ever more perilous! Today she is a household word from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Canada to the Gulf. Capitalize her popularity, make her work for you.

Pauline fills your seats and doubles your receipts.

In the Lions' Den

A three-reel feature in natural colors. A young husband leaves his bride of a day to visit a former sweetheart. The latter, a prominent moving picture actress, overcome by her uncontrollable jealousy, betrays him to her lions. The scenes which follow are as exciting as any ever produced.

Eclectic's 4-a-Week

MondayThe Perils of Pauline every two weeks. Short subjects alternate weeks.

TuesdayAmerican one or two reel comedy.

WednesdaySuper-excellent multiple reel production.

FridaySurpassing attraction of several reels.
LUBIN

Announces a New Release
Beginning Monday September 14th (And Continuing Each Monday Thereafter)
A Series of Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays
Under the General Title of
"The Beloved Adventurer"

By EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL

Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

FIVE REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

"The Widow and The Twins" ... Monday, August 29th
"The Lucky Rube" ... Tuesday, August 30th
"The Attorney's Decision" ... Wednesday, August 31st
"The Aggressor" ... Thursday, September 1st
"The Better Man" ... Friday, September 2nd
"The Kid's Nap" ... Saturday, September 3rd

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

SPECIAL ONE, THREE AND SIX SHEET POSTERS

CHICAGO OFFICE, 15th West Lake Street

M.P. Theater List

We have a correct list of all the Motion Picture Theaters in the United States and Canada. These addresses are in stencil and are quickly available for commercial uses. The price of the complete list delivered into your hands is $50.00. Cash with order.

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Bldg. :: CHICAGO, ILL.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
The remarkable success of the six features mentioned below, is known throughout the World and even greater results will be accomplished with the four extraordinary pictures now ready for release.

EXHIBITORS, BOOK THESE PICTURES! (Through the General Film Special Service)

5 Reels "THE THIRD DEGREE" by Chas. Klein
Produced by BARRY O'NEIL with Geo. Soule Spencer, and Lilie Leslie.

6 Reels "THE LION AND THE MOUSE" by Chas. Klein
Produced by BARRY O'NEIL with Geo. Soule Spencer, and Ethel Clayton.

5 Reels "DAUGHTERS OF MEN" by Chas. Klein
Produced by GEORGE TERWILLIGER, with Geo. Soule Spencer and Ethel Clayton.

5 Reels "THE GAMBLERS" by Charles Klein
Produced by GEORGE TERWILLIGER, with Geo. Soule Spencer, Ethel Clayton and Earl Metcalfe.

6 Reels "THE WOLF" by Eugene Walter
Produced by BARRY O'NEIL, with Geo. Soule Spencer, Ethel Clayton, Ferdinand Tidmarsh, Bernard Siegel and Ruth Bryan.

5 Reels "THE HOUSE NEXT DOOR" by J. H. Manners
Produced by BARRY O'NEIL, with Geo. Soule Spencer, Ethel Clayton, Edwin Barbour and Joseph Kaufman.

Four Extraordinary Features Now Ready and to Be Released Soon

5 Reels

"THREADS OF DESTINY"
By William Clifford
Featuring
EVELYN NESBIT THAW
and her son,
RUSSELL WILLIAM THAW
and the following cast:
Marian Grunstein ............ Evelyn Nesbit Thaw
Isaac Grunstein (Marian's father) .... Bernard Siegel
Rachael Shapiro (Marian's Friend) .. Marguerite Risser
Abraham Solman (Rug Merchant and) (Leader of Jewish)
(Choir) Joseph Standish
The Nun ................................ Marguerite Marsh
Fedor Tomsky .................................... Jack Clifford Produced by JOSEPH W. SMILEY

5 Reels

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK
"The Funniest Man on the Stage"
In a distinctly unique comedy drama written especially for him, by LAWRENCE McCLOSKEY Produced by GEORGE TERWILLIGER. Costumes and scenery are particularly beautiful.

5 Reels

"EAGLE'S NEST"
by Edwin Arden
Featuring EDWIN ARDEN
Late star of the Broadway Success "To-Day." Produced in Colorado by ROMAINE FIELDING.

5 Reels

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER"
by Winchell Smith
Featuring WILLIAM ELLIOTT
Late star of "Madame X." Company assisted by the Lubin All Star Cast.

SPECIAL ONE, THREE, SIX, AND EIGHT SHEET POSTERS

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 WEST LAKE STREET

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
A modern drama of error and atonement—the thrilling story of two souls that emerge from the depths.

Released August 20th
Enlist More Patrons Through the War

THE most peaceable men in the time of peace, those who would never dream of soldiering as a profession, are fired with zeal and hasten to enlist when war is declared. But you have to strike them at the right time—its the same with moving pictures. Men who have never dreamed of entering a moving picture theatre are converted to enthusiasts at times like this when they can see the war news through

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS

Seeing it—that's the secret. Seeing is so much better than hearing. Every man on the street who buys a newspaper will be more interested in what you can show him with the PATHÉ NEWS than in all the unsubstantiated war bulletins in the city. War crowds for you—get them now while the excitement is high. You can enlist them now and hold them always through their interest in

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS
(issued Semi-Weekly)

1 Congress St., Jersey City, N. J.

Pathé Daily News Offices

ATLANTA 61 Walton St.
DALLAS Andrews Bldg.
NEW ORLEANS 940 Gravier St.
PITTSBURGH 712 Liberty Ave.
BOSTON 3 Tremont Row
DENVER Nasion Bldg.
NEW YORK 15 E. 23rd St.
SALT LAKE CITY 68 S. Main St.
SYRACUSE 214 E. Fayette St.
CHICAGO 330 Wabash Ave.
KANSAS CITY 528 Main St.
OMAHA 1312 Harlan St.
SAN FRANCISCO 27 Turk St.
CINCINNATI 217 E. 5th St.
LOS ANGELES 114 E. 7th St.
PHILADELPHIA 1235 Vine St.
SEATTLE 810 Third Ave.
WASHINGTON 7th & E St., N. W.
CLEVELAND 623 Prospect Ave., S. E.
MINNEAPOLIS 4th & Hennepin Sts.
PORTLAND 392 Burnside St.
ST. LOUIS 3218 Louisiana St.
BUY THIS BOOK

"MOTION PICTURE WORK"

By DAVID S. HULFISH

618 Pages, Including Index

Price $4.00

THIS BOOK is invaluable for reference and instruction to the thousands of workers in the motion picture field. Covers fully the three big branches of the motion picture business; the making of the pictures, the operation of all standard types of projecting machines, and the operation of the moving picture theater. The drawings, diagrams, and photographs used have been prepared especially for this work and their instructive value is as great as the text itself.

PARTIAL TABLE OF CONTENTS

Our Price in United States, Cuba and Mexico, $5.00 with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY

Electricity Magazine Corporation

Monadnock Building Chicago, Illinois

1914 Motograph A Winner

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Company
564 West Randolph Street
CHICAGO, ILL.

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.

F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA

Manufacturers of the Wonderful

REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN

And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Roters.

"The first big Mirror Screen went into the Empire Theatre in Detroit, Mich. It is in use yet and I will forfeit $1000.00 if you can beat it. It is six years old. Think, six years old."

Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting

By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., for many associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY

240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, $1.14

or with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid, $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation

Monadnock Building CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
"The Littlest Rebel"
(By Edward Peple)

"The Littlest Rebel" now in its fourth week at THE STUDEBAKER THEATRE, Chicago's beautiful Michigan Boulevard Theatre, played to over 25,000 people at twenty-five and fifty cents admission in one week.

This will give you an idea of the tremendous popularity of this wonderful war-drama of the South. Its success in your theatre is assured.

Every newspaper in Chicago gave this film story a regular dramatic review.

You can pack your house every day and night with this film. People come again and again to see this splendid production.

We are ready to give you advance bookings.

Free lobby display in hand-painted water colors—the most attractive display ever used for a moving picture production and all kinds of one, three and six sheet posters, window cards, trimmers, etc., to select from.

Book this film before your competitor beats you to it. Call us up, wire or write, today.

Photoplay Productions Releasing Co.,
37 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Telephone Randolph 5191
SIX-A-WEEK

Essanay

Coming, Friday, September 11

"The Devil's Signature"
(In Two Acts)
Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

A great mystery drama—a story of realism that will thrill from the first to the last foot of film—one of those big Essanay productions that always draws packed houses.

Released Monday, September 7
"When Knights Were Bold"
A Side-splitting comedy of "Ye Olden Days" played with modern equipment.

Released Tuesday, September 8
"Bill's Boy"
A heart interest drama showing that it is possible for a convict to be a real "man." Adapted from the Munsey Magazines.

Released Thursday, September 10
"Snakeville's Most Popular Lady"
How a "split ticket" spelled victory for a stranger.

Released Saturday, September 12
"Broncho Billy, a Friend in Need"
Featuring G. M. ANDERSON
A Western drama showing how Broncho Billy saves a lady from being robbed by a gang of desperate criminals.

Released Wednesday, September 9
The Fable of
"The Honeymoon That Tried To Come Back"
By GEORGE ADE
How "Hubby" got stung when he tried to "Fix things up" with his Wife.

"Broncho Billy"
In his wonderful western photoplays is drawing crowds everywhere; his friends are millions and world wide.

G. M. ANDERSON
is featured every Saturday in a "Broncho Billy" release.

Hundreds of theatres are calling for second bookings of

"One Wonderful Night"
This four-act feature photoplay drama has won the plaudits of more than one million theatre-goers. Hundreds of exhibitors have reported capacity houses during the hottest days and nights of the summer. They call it "one wonderful play."

Francis X. Bushman is Featured in This Photoplay.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.
531 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
Penny and Studio, 1333 Argyle Street, Chicago, Ill.
See Americans First
FLYING "A" FEATURE FILMS

Featuring
MISS. WINIFRED GREENWOOD
in
LOLA

Supported by Ed Coxen and an all star cast
A Two Act Drama. Staging an Opera Singer's Early Career
Under Direction of Henry Otto
Released Monday, September 7, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY FILMS
Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard in
"A Modern Othello"
A Refined Comedy
One and three-sheet posters. Release Tuesday, September 1, 1914

NEXT WEEK
"The Motherless Kids"
IT'S A HUMDINGER

Release Wednesday, Sept. 9, 1914

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
Pictures from all over the World on one film

We Are Catching It

PATHÉ camera news covers the world. It is news of action. We catch all the action and you can show your patrons the particular bit of action they want to see. No matter where it is, no matter what it is.

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS reproduces it just as it took place. When your patrons learn that by going to your theatre they can see what happened instead of reading handed-down reports, they will spend their newspaper-reading time with you instead. That means you will get the regular paper-reading public as regular patrons.

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS (Issued Semi-Weekly)
1 Congress St., Jersey City, N. J.

Pathe Daily News Offices

| ATLANTA       | 61 Walton St.      |
| DALLAS       | Andrews Bldg.      |
| NEW ORLEANS  | 910 Gravier St.    |
| PITTSBURGH   | 710 Liberty Ave.   |
| BOSTON       | 3 Tremont Bv.      |
| DENVER       | Nasset Bldg.       |
| NEW YORK     | 115 E. 23rd St.    |
| SALT LAKE CITY | 68 So. Main St.   |
| SYRACUSE     | 214 E. Fayette St. |
| CHICAGO      | 5 So. Wash St.     |
| KANSAS CITY  | 102 Main St.       |
| OMAHA        | 1312 Farnam St.    |
| SAN FRANCISCO| 60 Turk St.        |
| CINCINNATI   | 217 E. 31st St.    |
| LOS ANGELES  | 114 E. 7th St.     |
| PHILADELPHIA | 1231 Vine St.      |
| SEATTLE      | 810 Third Ave.     |
| ST. LOUIS    | 3210 Locust St.    |
| PORTLAND     | 392 Burnside St.   |
| MINNEAPOLIS  | 4th & Horne St.    |
| CLEVELAND   | 622 Prospect Ave., S. E. |

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
MOTOGRAPHY

Bungling Bunk's Bunco

A wild animal comedy in three parts. Bunks is braver in the parlor than he is in the jungle but in order to succeed in the former he has to show his prowess in the latter. In addition to adventures with lions, tigers, monkeys, leopards and elephants, he has to combat the advances of a native charmer. Bribes get him out of the harem and he escapes home with a captive lion, but the girl and her father follow, and let loose the lion in the midst of our hero's homecoming celebration. Pandemonium follows, and Bunk follows the lion when—that's all in the story. Your patrons will chuckle all the way home.

Whiffles' Double

(comedy)

Kashmir, British India

(in natural colors)

A split reel attraction, featuring a mirth-provoking comedy (Pathé made) in combination with scenic views in natural colors of the British Indian district of Kashmir.

Uncle's Finish

An American Hartigan Comedy in one reel. Anybody with a funny bone will appreciate this diverting attraction.

The Woman Without a Heart

A 3-part tragedy. The story of a woman who really didn't have any heart. The place where her heart ought to be is filled only with an insatiable ambition for worldly gain, and her disregard for the feelings and interests of those who should be nearest and dearest to her is paid with its just reward. This is an exceptionally strong drama which shows impressively the hurt caused by selfishness and its ultimate penalty.

The Perils of Pauline

Pauline is a household word and stronger with the public every day. The hit of the season, and probably the hit of many seasons. Her popularity is ever on the rise. She is known, loved, talked about—she's a preferred investment and her returns are certain—they are big returns and they are growing bigger.

PAULINE TAKES THE CAKE AND THEN HANDS IT TO YOU

Eclectics 4-a-Week

MONDAY—The Perils of Pauline every two weeks. Short subjects alternate weeks.
TUESDAY—American one or two reel comedy.
WEDNESDAY—Super-excellent multiple reel production.
FRIDAY—Surpassing attraction of several reels.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
61 Walton St. PITTSBURGH
713 Liberty Ave. PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave. DENVER
Nassau Bldg.

BOSTON
3 Tremont Row SAN FRANCISCO
57 Turk St. PHILADELPHIA
1225 Vine St.

SALT LAKE CITY
60 So. Main St. CHICAGO
DALLAS
3 So. Wabash Ave.
3210 Locust St.

LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St. GALVESTON
Andrews Bldg.

SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.
WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N.W.
MINNEAPOLIS
4th & Hennepin Sts.

CINCINNATI
172 E. 5th St.
NEW ORLEANS
910 Gravier St.
OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.

CINCINNATI
110 E. 33rd St.
NEW YORK
222 Prospect Ave., S. E.

CLEVELAND
810 Third Ave.
KANSAS CITY
920 Main St.

THE ECLECTIC
110 West 40th Street

FILM COMPANY
New York City

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
EDISON FEATURE PHOTO PLAY

One of the BEST, one of the funniest comedies ever shown in motion pictures.

My Friend From India

WALTER E. PERKINS

(in the Title-Role)

in his original part of A. KEENE SHAVER, THEOSOPHIST

This film may now be had through the Feature Film Service of the General Film Co. and its Branches, from whom also one, three, and six sheet posters and attractive two color heralds may be obtained.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.

FIVE REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Monday, September 1st</th>
<th>Tuesday, September 2nd</th>
<th>Wednesday, September 3rd</th>
<th>Thursday, September 4th</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Never Too Old&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;The Green Alarm&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;By Whose Hand&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;A Fool There Was&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;The Face in the Crowd&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;The Shell of Life&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;A Fool There Was&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;A Fool There Was&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Split Reel Comedy</td>
<td>Two Reel Drama</td>
<td>Two Reel Drama</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Lubin's New Release
BEGINNING MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 14th
(and continuing each Monday thereafter)
"THE BELOVED ADVENTURER"
BY EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL
Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

A series of Fifteen Single Reel Dramatic Pictures, which might be run singly, as released or used in threes or fives as Special Features.

A Story of Extraordinary strength and interest with situations of the most intensely dramatic and thrilling nature, touching pathos and genuine humor.

Published in Book Form

Co-incident with the release of the films, there will be published, in book form, the complete story of the series. This idea is as novel as it will prove valuable in the exhibitor. The book is in full cloth binding with fifteen full page half-tone illustrations and would ordinarily sell for $1.25. Desiring that it may share in the expense of promoting to the highest degree the success of the exhibitors showing this series, this book will be supplied at a special low price—a price absolutely unheard of in book-publishing. Write us for full details regarding price and helpful hints for distribution.

Exhibitors are urged to place orders for this book at the earliest possible moment, as the edition is limited.

CHICAGO OFFICE—154 West Lake Street
Special Announcement

We have secured contracts with the LIFE PHOTO FILM CORPORATION of N. Y., to handle all their releases in ILLINOIS—OHIO—INDIANA—IOWA.

Now ready for booking

The Greyhound
by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner.

Shown at America's largest and most beautiful picture Theatre, The Strand Theatre N. Y., also booked indefinitely at the Ziegfeld Theatre Chicago, Ill.

Northern Lights
The most popular play ever written.

COMING
Captain Swift
YES
We are now booking the following Peerless features:

Atlantis
Toll of Mammon
Fire and Sword
Her Life for Liberty and many others that are equally as good.

Let Us Book You One Big Feature A Week

Peerless Film Exchange
Room 201, 36 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.
Room 402 Observatory Bldg. Des Moines, Iowa

The receipts of

The Littlest Rebel
(By Edw. Peple)

At the Studebaker Theater
Chicago, Illinois

were greater than those of any other picture play ever shown at that house during a similar length of time.

It Will Pack Your House

We own the State rights for ILLINOIS, WISCONSIN, INDIANA, MINNESOTA and MICHIGAN.

Write today for bookings and get an early chance to show this tremendously popular film.

Compare the Military bodies of the Civil War with the tremendous war machine of Germany and the Allies today.

The author saw this photo play at the Studebaker and personally suggested some changes making it stronger than ever.

Photoplay Productions Releasing Co.
A. M. Gollos, Pres.
37 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.
Telephone Randolph 5191
WHERE TO BUY

BOOKS.

Electricity Magazine Corp., Woodstock Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

EASELS.

Newman Mfg. Co., 712 Sycamore St., Cincinnati, O.

FANS.

Typhoon Fan Co., 1444 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

FILM DISTRIBUTORS.

Electro Film Corp., 110 W. 40th St., New York, N. Y.

FILM FEATURES.

FILM MANUFACTURERS.

American Film Mfg. Co., Ashland Block, Chicago.

FILM SUPPLIES.

Sycamore Theatre Supply Co., 1444 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

INK.

Typhon Fan Co., 1444 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

VENTILATION.

Typhoon Fan Co., 1444 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

ORNAMENTAL THEATRES.

PLASTER RELIEF DECORATIONS.

Theaters designed, Everywhere.

Write for illustrated theatre catalog. Send us.

Sizes of theatre for special designs.

THE DECORATORS SUPPLY CO.

2549 Archer Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL.

THE INDUCTOR COMPENSATOR.

An alternating current transformer designed by an electrical expert in motion picture practice. Built and guaranteed by the leading manufacturers of motion picture machinery in the world. Simple, inexpensive and highly efficient. Order from your exchange or from THE BELL & HOWELL CO., 100 Larchmont Ave., Chicago, III.

MAKE YOUR LOBBY DISPLAY ATTRACTIVE.

There is nothing more fascinating to the public than a bright brass frame to display your photos or posters. We make Lobby and Theatre Pictures and Brass Rails of every description. Don't fail to visit our show rooms.

Write for catalog. Established 1882.

THE NEW MAN MFG. CO.

715-717 Sycamore St., Cincinnati, O.

BRANCH FACTORIES AND SHOW ROOMS:

120 W. Lake St., Chicago.

104th Ave., New York.

MOTION PICTURE MAKING AND EXHIBITING.

By John B. Rathbun, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of Photography

240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up-to-date volume treating the principles of Mergenthaler; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenography; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid. $1.14

or with a year's subscription to Photography, all prepaid. $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation

Monadnock Building — — CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention Photography
A Special Invitation to Every Manufacturer, Sales Manager, Advertising Man, Trade Paper Editor and Publisher in the Country.

REGARDLESS of what your interest in trade journals may be, you are, in one way or another, a partner in the development of business building and business expansion through the medium of the Business Press. Any advance in trade journalism is of more than pocket-book interest to you. That your individual influence may be recorded—that you may add the light of your experience to that of the notable technical, class and trade journal editors and publishers in the country—You should cross three red-letter days on your calendar and attend the 9th Annual Convention of The Federation of Trade Press Associations at the Congress Hotel, Chicago, September 24, 25, 26. Bring with you anything you have to offer in the way of suggestions bearing on editorial circulation, or advertising policies. Or, if you do nothing more, come and listen to those who are making the trade press movement so tremendous a factor in modern business efficiency. One new idea gleaned from this fraternity, banded together for your interests, will make your presence at this convention pay you dividends.

Business Building Through the Business Press
For further information address: E. B. SHAW, Chairman Committee on Arrangements, 55 South Dearborn St., Chicago
THE FEDERATION OF TRADE PRESS ASSOCIATION
F. D. Porter, Pres., Chicago
John Clyde Oswalt, Vice-Pres., New York
E. E. Haight, Secy-Treas., Chicago

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White-Opalescent Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Rollers.
The Orpheum Theatre, the largest in the West, located on State Street, Chicago, Ill., tried everything and then the Glass Mirror Screen. The money spent on experimenting will pay for several.
GLASS MIRROR SCREEN. EVENTUALLY. WHY NOT NOW?
Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

“How clear the pictures are!”
You’ve often overheard that remark—and it’s as strong a commendation, brings as much business as does a favorable comment on the picture story itself.

The “clearest pictures” are on Eastman film because the product is right, chemically and physically.
It is easily identifiable by the stencil “Eastman” in the margin.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.
DANIEL FROHMAN
Presents
The Eminent Star,
H·B·WARNER
IN
"THE LOST PARADISE"
The World-Famous Drama of Capital and Labor
By Ludwig Fulda and H·C·DeMille,
In Five Reels of Motion Pictures,
First Paramount Release—AUG. 31st.
SPECIAL LABOR DAY FEATURE.
FAMOUS PLAYERS
FILM COMPANY
ADOLPH ZUKOR, President
DANIEL FROHMAN, Managing Director
EDWIN S. PORTER, Technical Director
Executive Offices, 213-229 West 26th St., New York City
SIX-A-WEEK
“THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS”

Coming, Friday, September 18

“THE PLUM TREE”
(In Three Acts)

Beginning with this great mystery drama the Essanay company will inaugurate a new series of photoplays to be released each month in conjunction with short stories which will be published in THE LADIES’ WORLD magazine. “THE PLUM TREE” will be the first and one of the best of this series, and, like the other mystery dramas to follow, will be complete in three acts. In the magazine story a paragraph will be missing. This paragraph solves the mystery. THE MISSING PARAGRAPH WILL BE SHOWN IN THE DRAMA PRODUCED BY ESSANAY. More than four million persons will read the story and it is safe to say that each one of those will want to find the solution of the mystery in the Essanay photoplay. BIG PRIZES WILL BE OFFERED THE ONES WRITING THE BEST PARAGRAPH AFTER WITNESSING THE FILM DRAMA. Remember—THIS IS NOT A SERIAL. It is a complete story, a complete mystery, a complete solution in three acts. DO NOT FAIL TO BOOK IT.

Released Monday, September 14
“The Joblot Recruits”
A Slap-stick comedy that’s immense.

Released Tuesday, September 15
“The Way of His Father”
A story of a college boy’s sacrifice for the way of his father.

Released Thursday, September 17
“Sophie’s Legacy”
Sophie endures the trials of a “Rich Lady.”

Released Saturday, September 19
“Broncho Billy Butts In”
A Western drama featuring G. M. ANDERSON

The Fable of “Lutie, the False Alarm”
By GEORGE ADE

“SPARKS OF FATE”

In two acts. A drama with thrilling wireless and hydro-aeroplane features, will be released Friday, September 18. The AIR-BOAT RESCUE SCENE IS THE BIGGEST EVER ATTEMPTED IN MOTION PICTURES.

Of all the stars of the film world

G. M. ANDERSON

as “BRONCHO BILLY” continues to be the favorite.

This famous actor is featured every Saturday in a big Western drama.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.
521 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Branch Offices in London, Paris, Berlin, Barcelona
See Americans First
FLYING "A" FEATURE FILMS
The Cocoon AND THE BUTTERFLY
IN TWO PARTS

A Sociological Masterpiece
Featuring Wm. Garwood and Vivian Rich With Full Cast of Stars
Under Direction of Sydney Ayres
Release Monday, September 14th, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY FILMS
Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard, the Most Popular Photoplay Stars

September 8th—"The Motherless Kids"
September 15th—"The Only Way"
WATCH FOR ANNOUNCEMENT
"Caught in a Tight Pinch"

Distributed exclusively in the United States and Canada through the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
LUBIN MASTERPIECES TO BE RELEASED SOON

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and her son Russell William Thaw in "THREADS OF DESTINY"

EDWIN ARDEN and ROMAINE FIELDING in
"EAGLE'S NEST"
By Edwin Arden
Produced by Romaine Fielding

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK, "The Funniest Man on the Stage"
Produced by George Terwilliger

WILLIAM ELLIOTT, Late Star "Madame X" Company, in
"THE FORTUNE HUNTER"
By Winchell Smith
Produced by Barry O'Neil

FIVE REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

"The Belle of Breweryville" Comedy Tuesday, September 6th
"As We Forgive Those" Two Reel Drama Wednesday, September 9th
"On Lonesome Mountain" Dramas Thursday, September 10th
"He Nearly Won Out" Friday, September 11th
"Too Many Aunts" Split Reel Comedy Saturday, September 12th

ONE, THREE AND SIX SHEET POSTERS
LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 151 West Lake Street

Look What Bright Clear Pictures

MR. EXHIBITOR:—You've often overheard that remark. It's one of the strong features of the MOTOGRAPH. Compare the MOTOGRAPH with any other make machine for Clear, Bright Pictures on a long distance throw—see the vast difference for yourself.

MOTOGRAPH FEATURES:
Rock Steady Clear Pictures
Long Life, Small Up-Keep

Write for Catalogue

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
566 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.

MOTOGRAPH
America's Leading Film-Trade Magazine

Your Personal Subscription

would prove both a convenience and a means of real profit. Each issue is of vital interest and practical value to every man in the motion picture business. If you miss one copy, you may miss an article or an idea that would have a vital effect on your work.

As a regular subscriber, you would be able to read Motography carefully and systematically at your leisure, and to preserve a file of copies for reference and binding.

Bound volumes of Motography form the best foundation for a reference library.

We suggest that you have the magazine sent to your residence.

$3.00 a year
Issued Weekly

Address
Motography
Monadnock Building
CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
LUBIN

MONDAY RELEASES
Begins September 14th

"The Beloved Adventurer"
A Special Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays
Written by
EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL
Featuring
ARTHUR V. JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

A valuable addition to any library

HERALDS
for
"The Beloved Adventurer"
from Hennegan & Co.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

POSTERS
from
The A. B. C. Co.,
Cleveland, Ohio.

The First of a Series
"LORD CECIL INTERVENES"
A story of extraordinary strength and interest, with situations of the most intensely Dramatic and Thrilling nature, touching Pathos and Genuine Humor.

PUBLISHED IN BOOK FORM
Co-incident with the release of the films, there will be published in book form, the complete story of the Series. This idea is as novel as it will prove valuable to the Exhibitors. The book is in full cloth binding with 15 full page half-tone illustrations and would ordinarily sell for $1.25.

PRICE FOR THE BOOK
SINGLE COPIES 25 cents. In lots of 25 or more 15 cents each.
They may be obtained from the General Film Co., Exchanges or from our Philadelphia and Chicago Offices

Exhibitors are urged to place orders for this book at once as the Edition is limited.

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
ALCO PROGRAM

The Exhibitor may now count upon a feature film of distinction every week. By the combination under the Alco banner of the strongest and most distinguished creators of motion pictures, a great production is within reach for regular booking. Hereafter these greatest of manufacturers will release exclusively through Alco:—

All Star Feature Corporation
California Motion Picture Corporation
Popular Plays and Players, Inc.
Favorite Players’ Film Company
Excelsior Feature Film Company

Exchanges are now being established in the principal cities of America. YOU WILL WELCOME OUR POLICY.

Alco Film
ALCO BUILDING
218 West 42d Street, New York
IS COMPLETE

First Release October 5th and One Every Week Thereafter

OCTOBER 5—ALL STAR FEATURE CORPORATION.
ETHEL BARRYMORE, in "THE NIGHTINGALE"
By AUGUSTUS THOMAS.

OCTOBER 12—POPULAR PLAYS AND PLAYERS, INC.
ANDREW MACK, in "THE RAGGED EARL"
By GRATTAN DONELLY.

OCTOBER 19—CALIFORNIA MOTION PICTURE CORPORATION.
BEATRIZ MICHELENA and House Peters, in "SALOMY JANE"
By PAUL ARMSTRONG.

OCTOBER 26—FAVORITE PLAYERS FILM COMPANY.
CARLYLE BLACKWELL, in "KEY TO YESTERDAY"
By CHAS. NEVILLE BUCK.

NOVEMBER 2—EXCELSIOR FEATURE FILM COMPANY.
OCTAVIA HANDWORTH, in "PATH FORBIDDEN"
By JOHN B. HYMER.

NOVEMBER 9—ALL STAR FEATURE CORPORATION.
DIGBY BELL, in "THE EDUCATION OF MR. PIPP"
By AUGUSTUS THOMAS.

NOVEMBER 16—CALIFORNIA MOTION PICTURE CORPORATION.
BEATRIZ MICHELENA and House Peters, in "MRS WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH"
By ALICE HEGAN RICE and ANNE CRAWFORD FLEXNER.

NOVEMBER 23—POPULAR PLAYS AND PLAYERS, INC.
JACOB P. ADLER, in "MICHAEL STROGOFF"
By JULES VERNE.

NOVEMBER 30—FAVORITE PLAYERS FILM COMPANY.
CARLYLE BLACKWELL, in "MAN WHO COULD NOT LOSE"
By RICHARD HARDING DAVIS.

Applications for service will be considered in the order of their receipt.

WE WILL WELCOME YOUR SUPPORT.

Corporation

Building

NEW YORK CITY
POPULAR PROGRAM

A NEW HIGH CLASS SERVICE
28 Reels Weekly 1-2-3 Reels All Features Comedy, Drama, etc.

FOURTEEN BRANDS
JESTER COMEDY  LUNA COMEDY  CEE-O-BEE PHOTO PLAYS  NIAGARA PHOTO PLAYS
OWL "  "O. K." "  WILLAT "  " PALISADE " GAIETY "  " FROLIC "  LONGACRE "  " CANYON " PASTIME COMEDY
CONTINENTAL PHOTO PLAYS

SPECIAL "POPULAR" FEATURES — High-Class Plays, now running as Broadway Successes with original all-star casts, will be released in conjunction with "Popular" Program—also recent plays of well-known authors.

To Exhibitors:

We wish to thank the hundreds of Exhibitors in the United States who have written and wired their congratulations and best wishes for the success of the Popular Program and who have expressed their belief that the Popular Program would be one of "quality" throughout. We can absolutely assure all Exhibitors that every release made by the Popular Photo Plays Corporation will be of the highest character, containing the very best that the motion picture art can produce. The basic plan of the Popular Program will be quality—quality in scenario—quality in direction—quality in cast—quality in photography—and quality in distribution.

POPULAR PHOTO PLAYS CORPORATION
CHAS. O. BAUMANN, President

Studios and Factory: Fort Lee, N. J. Executive Offices: 911 Longacre Bldg., N.Y.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
FACE VALUE

An absorbingly interesting drama which unfolds the various phases of its plot in a delightfully original manner. Attempting to impersonate Silas Wilding's nephew and so becomes heir to a fortune, Kelly marries a girl on "face value" and thereupon gets so deeply entangled in a plot that his fortune and happiness seem highly improbable. The story ends auspiciously.

To be released Friday, September 11th

COMING EDISON RELEASES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Length</th>
<th>Type</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fri., Sept. 18</td>
<td>Sheep’s Clothing</td>
<td>2000 ft.</td>
<td>Drama</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat., 19</td>
<td>Jim’s Vindication</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
<td>Drama</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon., 21</td>
<td>The Adventure of the Hasty Elopement</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tues., 22</td>
<td>The Blue Coyote Cherry Crop</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
<td>Drama</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., 23</td>
<td>Post No Bills</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fri., 25</td>
<td>Grand Opera in Rubeville</td>
<td>2000 ft.</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat., 26</td>
<td>Twine and Trouble</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon., 28</td>
<td>Love by the Pound</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tues., 29</td>
<td>The Mystery of the Glass Tubes</td>
<td>1000 ft.</td>
<td>Drama</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wed., 30</td>
<td>Buster Brown Gets the Worst of It</td>
<td>550 ft.</td>
<td>Comedy</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Order Edison Posters of the Morgan Lithograph Co., Cleveland, Ohio, direct

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.,
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
The Greyhound

Northern Lights
By Barbour & Harkins, western psychological drama.

Capt. Swift
By C. Haddon Chambers, a problem drama.

A trinity of masterpieces adapted from stage successes. Conceded by critics to be without equal and packing feature houses wherever shown.

State rights now selling—Wire your territory and we will quote you our terms and forward advertising matter.

EXHIBITORS, New York State, New Jersey and New England States: For bookings on NORTHERN LIGHTS and CAPT. SWIFT communicate direct with us. We will fill all bookings in the order received.

Unique and artistic lithographs, heralds and other advertising matter. Superb acting, entrancing scenic effects and photography without a peer.

LIFE PHOTO FILM CORPORATION

Executive Offices—220 W. 42nd St., New York City
Studio & Laboratory—Grantwood, N. J.
NEWSPAPERS have a new interest for everyone in these stirring days. There is no news so vivid as motion picture news—news of the big events of the world—there is nothing of such universal interest.

In THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS you find the best there is in interest, timeliness and photography. You can command this news and make it work for you—make it bring the crowds to your doors and the dollars to your cash drawer. Show it and you show the best. Boost it and you boost yourself.

Pathé Daily News (issued semi-weekly) is now to be obtained through the Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges.

Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges For Your Use

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Address</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ATLANTA</td>
<td>61 Walton St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DALLAS</td>
<td>210 Grand Ave.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NEW ORLEANS</td>
<td>919 Liberty Ave.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PITTSBURGH</td>
<td>213 Liberty Ave.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BOSTON</td>
<td>3 Tremont Row</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DENVER</td>
<td>1412 Foote Ave.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NEW YORK</td>
<td>115 E. 23rd St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SALT LAKE CITY</td>
<td>60 S. Main St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SYRACUSE</td>
<td>214 E. Fayette St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CHICAGO</td>
<td>35 S. Wabash Ave.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KANSAS CITY</td>
<td>420 Main St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>OMAHA</td>
<td>1312 Farran St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SAN FRANCISCO</td>
<td>67 Turk St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CINCINNATI</td>
<td>217 E. 5th St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LOS ANGELES</td>
<td>116 E. 7th St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PHILADELPHIA</td>
<td>1353 Vine St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SEATTLE</td>
<td>810 Third Ave.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WASHINGTON</td>
<td>275 E. St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CLEVELAND</td>
<td>622 Prospect Ave., S. E.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MINNEAPOLIS</td>
<td>4th &amp; Hennepin St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PORTLAND</td>
<td>392 Burnside St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ST. LOUIS</td>
<td>3210 Locust St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CINCINNATI</td>
<td>217 E. 5th St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LOS ANGELES</td>
<td>116 E. 7th St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PHILADELPHIA</td>
<td>1353 Vine St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SEATTLE</td>
<td>810 Third Ave.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WASHINGTON</td>
<td>275 E. St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CLEVELAND</td>
<td>622 Prospect Ave., S. E.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MINNEAPOLIS</td>
<td>4th &amp; Hennepin St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PORTLAND</td>
<td>392 Burnside St.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ST. LOUIS</td>
<td>3210 Locust St.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Eclectic Film Company

110 W. 40th St.
New York City
SIX-A-WEEK

"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

"THE PLUM TREE"

(In Three Acts)

The first of Essanay's great prize mystery dramas, is attracting the attention of thousands of exhibitors all over the world. This sensational play WILL BE RELEASED SEPTEMBER 18 IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE STORY OF THE SAME NAME PUBLISHED IN THE LADIES' WORLD. The magazine issue will be on the news stands and in the hands of subscribers on this date. A paragraph will be missing from the magazine story. In order to find the missing paragraph and win the big prizes offered it will be necessary to see the Essanay drama. THIS IS A COMPLETE STORY, A COMPLETE DRAMA. IT IS NOT A SERIAL. Millions will read the story—millions will want to see the photoplay. BOOK IT AND BREAK ALL YOUR RECORDS FOR ATTENDANCE.

- Released Monday, September 21
  "Sweedie's Skate"
  "Sweedie" tries her luck on roller skates and causes a panic in the rink.
  Released Tuesday, September 22
  "Love's Magnet"
  A story showing how a man after searching ten years finally discovers the whereabouts of his sweetheart. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.
  Released Wednesday, September 23
  The Fable of "One Samaritan Who Got Paralysis of the Helping Hand"
  By GEORGE ADE
  How a kind-hearted old man found it didn't pay to give everybody a "Lift."

- Released Thursday, September 24
  "Slippery Slim and the Green Eyed Monster"
  Mystery Pete again gets the worst of it in his fight for Sophie.
  Released Friday, September 25
  "A Splendid Dishonor"
  (In two acts)
  A new drama with a big thrill and a climax that is one of the sensations of motion pictures. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.
  Released Saturday, September 26
  "The Strategy of Broncho Billy's Sweetheart"
  A thrilling drama in which the quick wit of a girl saves "Broncho Billy" from a mob. Featuring G. M. ANDERSON

"FOUR OF THE BIGGEST NIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF OUR THEATRE CAME WITH

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"

writes an exhibitor. This great Essanay four-act drama, featuring FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN, is packing houses everywhere.

"BRONCHO BILLY"

as portrayed by the world's most famous photoplay actor, G. M. ANDERSON, is the safest booking for any exhibitor. Always this western hero brings a thrill.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.

591 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
Factory and Studio, 1323 Argyle Street, Chicago, Ill.
Branch Offices in London, Paris, Berlin, Barcelona
"The Redemption of a Pal"  "The Taming of Sunnybrook Nell"
A Powerful Two Part Sociological Drama.
Featuring WINNIFRED GREENWOOD and ED COXEN—
with George Field in Titular Role.
Under direction of Henry Otto.
Release Monday, September 21, 1914

A Story of the Hills and Vales.
Featuring WM. GARWOOD and VIVIAN RICH.
Under direction of Sydney Ayres.
Release Friday, September 25, 1914

"His Faith in Humanity"
A Study in Human Nature.
Release Wednesday, September 23, 1914

Distributed in United States and Canada exclusively by The Mutual Film Corporation.
THAN Our Files Are

OUR LABOR
Is Modernly Equipped to Daily of Negative-Devel

EASTMAN PERFECT WORK
PROMP

LOW F DUST-PROOF FIRE-PROO

COMME
MOTION PICT
OFICES
220 West 42d Street, New York

We Have Made SMALL PROFITS But a Big Reputation

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
EMENTS LOUDER OR WORD Told With Them

NEW ATORY

Turn Out 100,000 Feet Pinning and Positive Printing

Use STOCK ONLY GUARANTEED DELIVERY

RICES

BUILDING F VAULTS

RCIAL URE CO., Inc.
LABORATORY AND STUDIO
Grantwood, New Jersey

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
ENDORSEMENTS
SPEAK LOUDER THAN OUR WORD

Our Files Are Filled With Them

OUR NEW LABORATORY

Is Modernly Equipped to Turn Out 100,000 Feet Daily of Negative-Developing and Positive Printing

We Use
EASTMAN STOCK ONLY PERFECT WORK GUARANTEED DELIVERY

LOW PRICES
BUILDING VAULTS
DUST-PROOF FIRE-PROOF

COMMERCIAL MOTION PICTURE CO., Inc.
LABORATORY AND STUDIO
Grantwood, New Jersey

OFFICES
220 West 42d Street, New York
THREE LUBIN MASTERPIECES NOW SHOWING WITH WONDERFUL SUCCESS

"THE WOLF"
by Eugene Walter
Produced by BARRY O'NEIL

"THE HOUSE NEXT DOOR"
by J. Hartley Manners
Produced by BARRY O'NEIL

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER"
by Winchell Smith
Produced by Barry O'Neil

FOUR LUBIN MASTERPIECES TO BE RELEASED SOON

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK, "The Funniest Man on the Stage"

FIVE LUBIN MASTERPIECES TO BE RELEASED SOON

"THREES OF DESTINY"
by Special Arrangement with Fred Mace
Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and her son Russell William Thaw in

"EAGLE'S NEST" by Edwin Arden

Produced by Romaine Fielding

SIX REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

"THE BELOVED ADVENTURER" First Series
"LORD CECIL INTERVENES"
"HASTUS KNEW IT WASN'T"
"SHE MADE HERSELF BEAUTIFUL"
"THE TWIN BROTHERS VAN ZANDT"
"TH' DOUBLE LIFE"
"FOR REPAIRS"
"PINS ARE LUCKY"
"THE GERMAN BAND"

SPECIAL ONE, THREE AND SIX SHEET POSTERS

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

EDISON FEATURE PHOTO PLAY

Three-part Adaptation of H. A. Du Souchet's famous Comedy-Drama

My Friend From India

With WALTER E. PERKINS

in the title-role. As full of laughs as the spoken drama.

A GUARANTEE OF THE QUALITY of your entertainment.

This film may now be had through the Feature Film Service of the General Film Co. and its Branches, from whom also one, three, and six sheet posters and attractive two color heralds may be obtained.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.
MONDAY RELEASE
Begins September 14th

"The Beloved Adventurer"
A Special Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays
Written by
EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL
Featuring
ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

The First of Series
"LORD CECIL INTERVenes"

PUBLISHED IN BOOK FORM
Co-incident with the release of the films, there will be published in book form, the complete story of the Series. This idea is as novel as it will prove valuable to the Exhibitors.
The book is in full cloth binding with 15 full page half-tone illustrations

PRICE FOR THE BOOK
SINGLE COPIES 25 cents. IN LOTS of 25 or more 15 cents each.

Exhibitors are urged to place orders for this book at once as the Edition is limited.

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street
The Sensation of the Film World

LAY DOWN YOUR ARMS

The Greatest War Picture Ever Staged.

Founded Upon the World-Famous Novel by the Late Baroness Bertha Von Suttner.

THIS GIGANTIC FOUR PART PRODUCTION IS THE MOST STIRRING PHOTOPLAY EVER PRESENTED,—PORTRAYING THE HORRORS OF WAR WITH STARTLING REALISM. A PICTURE WITH A PURPOSE.

Unanimously Praised by All Who Have Seen It.

ONLY LIMITED TERRITORY LEFT. State Right Men Should Communicate with Us at Once.

Wonderfully Spectacular Posters

GREAT NORTHERN FILM COMPANY - 110 W. 40th St., New York
Big Features of Power’s Cameragraph No. 6A

Our Loop Setter keeps the film always in motion, the Lower Loop is Maintained Automatically and dark screens are impossible.

Our Intermittent Movement many times stronger than any other make, longer period of pictures on the screen is obtained, films are better protected and greater definition and clearer pictures are accomplished.

THESE FEATURES ARE EXCLUSIVE WRITE FOR CATALOG M

NICHOLAS POWER COMPANY
NINETY GOLD STREET NEW YORK CITY

The Bell & Howell Rewind
A Better Rewind at a less Price
Ask your Exchange or Write the Makers
The Bell & Howell Company
1803 Larchmont Avenue
CHICAGO ILLINOIS

MAKE YOUR LOBBY DISPLAY ATTRACTIVE
There is nothing more fascinating to the public than a bright brass frame to display your photos or posters. We make Lobby and Theatre Fixtures and Brass Rails of every description.

DON'T FAIL TO VISIT OUR SHOW ROOMS
Write for Catalog: Established 1882
THE NEWMAN MFG. CO.
715-717 Sycamore St. Cincinnati, O.
Branch Factories and Show Rooms

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid... $1.14
or with a years' subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid... $3.50
Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Cooling Ventilation Heating

"TYphoon Blow-In System" has revolutionized the ventilating problem. You get in front of a desk fan to keep cool, not in back. Apply this common sense and blow the air in.

Don't waste money experimenting with exhaust fans.

The TYphoon MultiBlade Blower will force air right through ordinary exhaust fans. Reversed, the air can be exhausted as well.

Our Catalogue M. P. tells how to keep cool in summer and warm in winter.

TYphoon Fan Co.
New York City
1544 Broadway

WRITTEN FOR THE BUSINESS MEN

Don't undertake to secure financial assistance, incorporate a projected enterprise, sell or reorganize an established business or finance a deserving concern, until you have read "Science of Organization and Business Development," by Robert J. Frank of the Chicago Bar. The Law and Procedure of Organization, Financing and Development of Business corporations in one book. Write today and get a copy for your desk or library, $2.75 in morocco prepaid, or $4.75 with a year's subscription to Motography.

ELECTRICITY MAGAZINE CORP., Monadnock Building, Chicago

No matter how thrilling a story one may read, interest is not sustained if poor type, poor paper and poor press work make hard work for the eyes. It's the same with motion pictures. A clear picture is as necessary as a good scenario.

Because the basic product is right, the clearest pictures are on "Eastman" film. Look for the stencil mark in the margin.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.,
Rochester, N. Y.
The UNITED MOTION PICTURE
PRODUCERS
Inc.

- consisting of the most experienced and successful Producing Directors ever brought together in one organization—offer to exhibitors a new and complete program of Star Productions in one, two and three reels. This splendidly produced, expertly arranged and wonderfully diversified program is released by

~WARNER'S~ FEATURES
Inc.

Write at once for full information regarding this program
WARNER'S FEATURES, Inc., 130 West 46th St., New York
SIX-A-WEEK

"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

War! War! War!

is attracting the attention of the entire world. But it is not affecting the popularity of

"THE PLUM TREE"

ESSANAY'S great 3-act PRIZE MYSTERY drama, released September 18 in conjunction with the short story published in THE LADIES' WORLD magazine. This is NOT A SERIAL. It is a complete story—a complete drama. A paragraph is missing in the magazine story. In order to find this paragraph the ESSANAY photoplay must be seen. Prizes will be offered for the best written paragraph. More THAN FIVE MILLION will read the magazine story. Many millions will demand to see the picture. BOOK IT AND LEARN WHAT PACKED HOUSES MEAN.

Released Monday, September 28
"Sweedie's Clean-Up"
A slap-stick comedy in which Sweedie "cleans-up" the entire police department.

Released Tuesday, September 29
"White Lies"
How a young couple in financial straits begin work in the same factory, but unknown to each other. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

Released Wednesday, September 30
The Fable of
"The Adult Girl Who Got Busy"
By GEORGE ADE
How an "old hen" put one over the Debutantes and "copped" the finest looking chap in town.

Released Thursday, October 1
"Slippery Slim Gets Cured"
An extremely funny comedy in which Slim swears never to drink again.

Released Friday, October 2
"Golf Champion 'Chick' Evans Links with Sweedie"
(In two acts)
A sensational film showing the wonderful golfer in action. This is the first time he has ever been filmed. It is a screamingly funny comedy throughout.

Released Saturday, October 3
"Broncho Billy Trapped"
A thrilling new drama of the west. Featuring G. M. ANDERSON.

"FOUR OF THE BIGGEST NIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF OUR THEATRE CAME WITH

'ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT'"

writes an exhibitor. This great Essanay four-act drama, featuring FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN, is packing houses everywhere.

"BRONCHO BILLY"
as portrayed by the world's most famous photoplay actor, G. M. ANDERSON, is the safest booking for any exhibitor. Always this western hero brings a thrill.
SEE AMERICANS FIRST
Flying "A" and American Beauty Feature Films

A MODERN RIP VAN WINKLE
Intense — Inspiring — Invigorating — Illustrative of the Transitions of a Generation

TWO PARTS
One, Three and Six Sheet Posters

Under direction of Sydney Ayres
Release Monday, September 28, 1914

American "Beauty" Films
Featuring MARGARITA FISCHER and HARRY POLLARD
"The Legend of Black Rock"
Thrilling, Realistic and Convincing Release Tuesday, September 29, 1914

"The Ingrate"
A Sea Coast Story Featuring WINNIFRED GREENWOOD
Under direction of Thomas Ricketts
Release Wednesday, September 30, 1914

Distributed exclusively in the United States and Canada through the Mutual Film Corporation.
THE PRODUCER OF MASTERPIECES
THREE LUBIN MASTERPIECES NOW FILLING THE THEATRES.

"THE WOLF"  Produced by BARRY O'NEIL
By William Elliott, Late Star
Six Reels of "Madame X" Company, Inc.

"THE HOUSE NEXT DOOR"  Produced by BARRY O'NEIL
Eugene Walter
Five Reels

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER"  Produced by BARRY O'NEIL
By Winchell Smith
Five Reels

FOUR LUBIN MASTERPIECES TO BE RELEASED SOON

EDWIN ARDEN and RAMEINE FIELDMING

"EAGLE'S NEST"  By Edwin Arden
Produced by Rameine Fielding
Five Reels

"MARAH, THE PYTHONESS"  By Clay M. Greene
Produced by Joseph W. Smiley
Three Reels

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK

In a Five Reel Comedy Drama written especially for him by Lawrence McCloskey
Produced by George Terwilliger
Three Reels

"THE SPORTING DUCHESS"  By Cecil Raleigh
Produced by BARRY O'NEIL
Six Regular Releases Each Week

SPECIAL ONE, THREE AND SIX SHEET POSTERS

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
Prices and Factory Description Sent at Request
3 1/4c. Eastman Perforated Negative 3 1/4c.
INDUSTRIAL MOVING PICTURE CO.
223-225 West Erie St.
CHICAGO

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection.
White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screen for Rear Projection.
Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Rollers.
The Glass Mirror Screen reflects the picture entirely by Diffuse Reflection.  Send for my booklet explaining the philosophy of screens.  You will learn something.
Nine different finishes.  For wide or narrow houses.

BUY MOTOGRAPHY
From Your Newsdealer
TEN CENTS PER COPY
Insist Upon Him Getting It For You

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
LUBIN'S NEW RELEASE

BEGAN MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 14th

Featuring

ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

In a Series of 15 Single Reel dramatic photoplays under the general title of

"The Beloved Adventurer"

Written by EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL

HERALDS
for
"The Beloved Adventurer"
from Hennegan & Co.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

POSTERS
from
the A. B. C. Co.,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Released on the regular programme every Monday through the General Film Co.

1st Series—
"Lord Cecil Intervenes"

2nd Series—
"An Untarnished Shield"

3rd Series—
"An Affair of Honor"

4th Series—
"An American Heiress"

5th Series—
"The Girl from the West"

"THE BELOVED ADVENTURER" published in book form and 150,000 copies sold the first week

The complete story of the Series has been published in book form and will prove to be of valuable assistance to every Exhibitor. The book is in full cloth binding with 15 full page half-tone illustrations including an autographed frontispiece of Arthur Johnson.

PRICE OF THE BOOK

SINGLE COPIES 25 cents. IN LOTS of 25 or more 15 cents each.

They may be obtained from the General Film Co. Exchanges or from our Philadelphia and Chicago Offices

Exhibitors are urged to place orders for this book at once as the Edition is limited.

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
SHADOWS

2-REEL SPECIAL FEATURE

Ready Week of September 28th

You’ll marvel when you see King Baggot in three costumes, doing three totally different bits of acting in one scene.

HERE'S THE CAST:
A Rich Merchant - King Baggot
His Sister - King Baggot
A Wayward Son - King Baggot
A Chinese Servant - King Baggot
The Crook - King Baggot
A Woman of the World - King Baggot
The Detective - King Baggot
The Inn Keeper - King Baggot
The Policeman - King Baggot
The Jailer - King Baggot

10 BAGGOTS IN "SHADOWS"

The Greatest Box Office Attraction Ever Offered to You.

A story with a punch to it—a masterpiece of photographic art—a wonderful artistic creation. King Baggot interprets ten different characters—he is the only person in the play.

Get Your Booking Arranged NOW.

UNIVERSAL FILM MANUFACTURING CO.
1600 BROADWAY CARL LAEMMLE, President NEW YORK CITY invites immediate bookings for its new and complete weekly program of Star Productions in one, two and three reels. This program, unusual in strength and exceptional in quality, is produced by a remarkable alliance of renowned motion picture producers, formed for that exclusive purpose, under the title of

The UNITED MOTION PICTURE PRODUCERS Inc.

In addition to the program, Warner's Features, Inc., also invites bookings for its great Special Features, in four or more reels. Write your nearest Warner's Exchange.

Pictures from all over the World on one film

Variety's the Spice of More Lives Than One

THE success of a photoplay-house is built on variety just as in any form of entertainment. The greatest variety known is shown in THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS which jumps from one corner of the world to the opposite extreme and always lands on an interesting spot—the spots your patrons will be most interested in seeing. Perfect photography—the most timely interest—and world-wide variety—a triple attraction for your theatre. Today's moving news in tomorrow's moving pictures.

The Pathé Daily News (issued semi-weekly) is now to be obtained through the Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges.

Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges for Your Use

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Atlanta</th>
<th>New York</th>
<th>Salt Lake City</th>
<th>Cleveland</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>61 Walnut St.</td>
<td>115 E. 33rd St.</td>
<td>88 S. Main St.</td>
<td>122 Prospect Ave.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dallas</td>
<td>Cincinnati</td>
<td>Syracuse</td>
<td>E. E.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>811 Gravier St.</td>
<td>217 E. 5th St.</td>
<td>214 E. Fayette St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Orleans</td>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>212 Liberty Ave.</td>
<td>114 E. 7th St.</td>
<td>5 S. Wake Ave.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pittsburgh</td>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>Kansas City</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>333 5th Ave.</td>
<td>1335 Vine St.</td>
<td>928 Main St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>Seattle</td>
<td>Omaha</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 Tremont New</td>
<td>810 Third Ave.</td>
<td>1312 Farnam St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denver</td>
<td>Washington</td>
<td>7th &amp; E St., N. W.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kansas Bldg.</td>
<td>Minneapolis</td>
<td>4th &amp; Hennepin St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Portland</td>
<td>St. Louis</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>312 Burnside St.</td>
<td>1210 Locust St.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

110 West 40th St. NEW YORK CITY

"The Cream of American and European Studios."
WILLAT LABORATORIES
NOW OPEN FOR BUSINESS

LARGEST       BEST EQUIPPED       NEWEST

Every modern appliance known to the motion picture industry has been installed in the new Willat Laboratories in order that the most perfect pictures may be reproduced.

Absolutely the "last word" in building construction—100 ft. wide by 150 ft. deep—2 stories high—entire construction of brick and concrete; absolutely fire-proof.

C. A. "Doc" Willat

Printing and Developing
You can insure the very best results by entrusting your work to the Willat Laboratories—the newest, largest and best equipped commercial plant in the world. Each department will be in charge of skilled experts. C. A. "Doc" Willat, one of the best technical experts in the country, will be in personal command of the entire plant.

Capacity, 1,500,000 feet per week

WILLAT STUDIOS AND LABORATORIES, Inc.
FORT LEE, N. J.
Executive Offices: 911 Longacre Building, New York City
NORTHERN LIGHTS
(5 PARTS)
By Barbour and Harkins

CAPT. SWIFT
(5 PARTS)
By C. Haddon Chambers

Lead All Other Feature Film Productions

Two wonderful stories, marvelously depicted by all star casts, artistic settings and perfect photography.

WE ARE BOOKING New York State, New Jersey and the New England States DIRECT

For bookings in other territories, write us, and we will forward you the State Right owners or our authorized agents

State Right Buyers:
For territory on these two masterpieces, adapted from stage plays, wire us the territory interested in, and we will forward our terms and sample advertising matter.

Beautiful assortment of lithographs, photographs, slides and heralds

WE PRODUCE ONLY CLASS A FEATURES

LIFE PHOTO FILM CORPORATION
Executive Offices—220 W. 42nd St., New York City
Phone, Bryant 7852
Studios & Laboratory—Grantwood, N. J.
Phone, Cliffside 323

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Crowds Come and Come!

PACKED houses is the record wherever The Million Dollar Mystery is shown. The crowds come and come! The popularity of this stupendous serial production is increasing by leaps and bounds. Episode No. 14 has just been released. The 23rd episode will complete the story. Each episode is in two reels—released every week.

You exhibitors who have not yet booked this wonderful Thanhouser attraction may arrange bookings on all episodes by applying at once to the Syndicate Film Corporation.

THE MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY

Story by Harold MacGrath. Scenario by Lloyd Lonergan

Thanhouser's Million Dollar Motion Picture Production

Remember, $10,000.00 will be paid for the best 100-word solution of the mystery. The Million Dollar Mystery is an independent release and may be obtained regardless of the regular program being used. More than 200 leading newspapers are now running this startling story by Harold MacGrath.

Exhibitors: Wire, write or call on the Syndicate Film Corporation representative nearest you for open booking dates

SYNDICATE FILM CORPORATION

71 West 23rd Street, New York or Syndicate Film Corporation Representative at Any Mutual Exchange in the United States and Canada

Room 411, 5 S. Wabash Avenue, Chicago

THE THANHOUSER THREE-A-WEEK

Sunday, Sept. 27th. "The Harvest of Regrets." (1 reel.) A drama of western life featuring Morris Foster, Miss Kroell, Sidney Bracy and John Lehnberg.

THANHOUSER FILM CORPORATION, New Rochelle, N. Y.

Distributed exclusively in United States and Canada through the Mutual Film Corporation
SIX-A-WEEK

"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

HERE'S ANOTHER BIG ONE

The second of Essanay's great PRIZE mystery dramas, produced in conjunction with THE LADIES' WORLD magazine.

"In the Glare of the Lights"
(In three acts)
will be released through the feature department of the General Film Co., October 8, at the same time the November number of the magazine containing the story is on the newsstands and in the hands of subscribers. Like "THE PLUM TREE," the first of these COMPLETE PRIZE DRAMAS, "In the Glare of the Lights," will be a thriller from start to finish. In the magazine story there is a MISSING PARAGRAPH. In order to find the missing paragraph it will be necessary for THE FIVE MILLION readers of the LADIES' WORLD to see the ESSANAY drama. The magazine is offering prizes for the best written MISSING PARAGRAPH. YOUR AUDIENCES ARE WAITING FOR THIS TREMENDOUS FEATURE. DO NOT DISAPPOINT THEM.

Released Monday, October 5
"The Fickleness of Sweedie"
Another scream in which Sweedie again outwits the police department.

Released Tuesday, October 6
"The Verdict"
A photoplay masterpiece that is different from the ordinary picture. Adapted from the Munsey Magazine.

Released Wednesday, October 7
"The Family that Did Too Much for Nellie"
By GEORGE ADE
How a family discovered that it didn't pay to Doll Up the cook - a Glad Page.

Released Thursday, October 8
"When Slippery Slim Met the Champion"
Slippery Slim gets an awful "trimming," from the world's heavyweight champion.

Released Friday, October 9
"The Real Agatha"
(In 2 acts)
From the powerful novel by Edith Huntington Mason.

Released Saturday, October 10
"Broncho Billy and the Greaser"
A western drama featuring G. M. Anderson.

"THE PLUM TREE"
(In 3 acts) is undoubtedly the most masterful drama of the year. The demand for it is growing daily.

"FOUR OF THE BIGGEST NIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF OUR THEATRE CAME WITH"

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"
writes an exhibitor. This great Essanay four-act drama, featuring FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN, is packing houses everywhere.

"BRONCHO BILLY"
as portrayed by the world's most famous photoplay actor, G. M. ANDERSON, is the safest booking for any exhibitor. Always this western hero brings a thrill.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.

211 First National Bank Bidg., Chicago, Ill.

Copyright 1916 by Essanay Film Co., Inc., Chicago, Ill.

Branch Offices:

N.Y., 133 Fifth Ave., New York City.

Los Angeles, 401 S. Broadway.

Pittsburgh:

San Francisco, 52 Kearney St.

SEE AMERICANS FIRST
Flying "A" and American Beauty Feature Films

DAPHNIA

A Thrilling Two Part Dramatic Tale of Love and Intrigue
Featuring WINNIFRED GREENWOOD and ED COXEN
Under Direction of HENRY OTTO
Release Monday, October 5th, 1914

AMERICAN "BEAUTY" FILMS
Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard
"Nieda"
An Absorbing Gem of Intense Pathos
Release Tuesday, October 6th, 1914

"Billy's Rival" Featuing William Garwood and Vivian Rich
In a Domestic Drama that all but develops into a tragedy.
Release Wednesday, October 7, 1914

Distributed exclusively in the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG.CO. CHICAGO, ILL.
The Photo Play Productions Releasing Company has secured rights for the record breaking success

AFTER THE BALL
(IN SIX PARTS)
The picturization of Chas. K. Harris' world famous song.

Every Man, Woman and Child in America has been thrilled and moved to tears by the beautiful story contained in this masterpiece, and you will find that Every Exhibitor booking this film will make more money with it than with almost any other feature he has ever booked.

More Advertising has been done on AFTER THE BALL than Quo Vadis ever had, and you all know what a success that was.

During his travels while trying to forget his faithless sweetheart (EFFIE SHANNON), John Dale (HERBERT KELCEY) runs into the most breathless adventures during which is made the highest dive ever accomplished (136 feet into the swirling Harlem river from the High Bridge), breaking a world's record. A death defying leap from a racing motorcycle onto an express train travelling 60 miles an hour will make your patrons talk about this film forever. A jump from a train into a deep river while the train is crossing a bridge, a hand over hand escape on a clothesline four stories above the ground, and through, around and over it all the story of an undying love of a man for the woman he believed faithless will hold your patrons breathless with expectation and speechless with sympathy.

Book it today. Get your order in early.

The Littlest Rebel

Continues to pack motion picture theaters. This film dramatization of the famous play (William and Dustin Farnum's great success) is undoubtedly the biggest box office winner of the year. Very little open time left as those running it once are booking repeat dates. Have you booked it?

Ten prints working. Write or wire for open dates at once. We own all rights for Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota

WRITE TODAY

Photo Play Productions Releasing Company
A. M. GOLLOS, Pres.
37 South Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
"NORTHERN LIGHTS"
FIVE PARTS
A Western Psychological Drama—unique and gripping.

The Critics say:
"A powerful story fittingly entitled to the descriptive term 'a psychological drama.' The scenes and settings suggest well the atmosphere of the story and the players are already known to the public for splendid work in other productions."—Motography.

"'Northern Lights' will have a wide appeal by reason of its double amusement value—on the dramatic side and on the spectacular side."—Moving Picture World.

"Several distinct threads of plot action are woven gradually together with considerable skill to form interesting dramatic material. The acting of 'Northern Lights' is without a hitch."—Morning Telegraph.

"CAPT. SWIFT"
FIVE PARTS
A Problem Drama—Startling and Entrancing

The Critics say:
"'Capt. Swift' is commended by virtue of its sterling worth, as a film of interest, of well handled situations, of capable direction, of good photography and of rich settings."—Motography.

"The photography is such as to cause exclamations of wonder. It might be described as plastic. There can be no doubt of the success of this feature. A review could not possibly do justice to it. To appreciate it, 'Capt. Swift' must be personally seen."—New York Review.

"'Capt. Swift' will immediately impress one as being photography of the better class. It is rapid in its dramatic action and the story reaches up to a tragic climax which ends the play in a manner quite different from the usual."—Billboard.

"Startling situations continuously develop. The picture has plenty of good, effective action. The story decidedly interests as it is."—Moving Picture World.

Two wonderful stories, marvelously depicted by all-star casts, artistic settings and perfect photography.

We are booking: New York State, New Jersey and New England States Direct.

Southern States, California, Nevada and Oregon—Address APEX FILM CO, 145 West 45th St., New York City.

Ohio, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska—Address PEERLESS FILM EXCHANGE, 36 West Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

STATE RIGHT BUYERS:
For territory on these two masterpieces adaptations from stage plays, wire the territory you are interested in and we will forward our terms.

Artistic Lithographs and Other Advertising Matter

LIFE PHOTO FILM CORPORATION
THE HOUSE OF SUPERIOR FEATURES

EXECUTIVE OFFICES: 220 W. 42nd St., New York City
STUDIO and LABORATORY: Grantwood, N. J.
No matter how thrilling a story one may read, interest is not sustained if poor type, poor paper and poor press work make hard work for the eyes. It's the same with motion pictures. A clear picture is as necessary as a good scenario.

Because the basic product is right, the clearest pictures are on "Eastman" film. Look for the stencil mark in the margin.

EASTMAN KODAK CO., ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Rollers.

The Glass Mirror Screen reflects the picture entirely by Diffuse Reflection. Send for my booklet explaining the philosophy of screens. You will learn something.

Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

Motion Picture Scenarios
We are in the market for one and two reel comedies and comedy dramas.
Submit in typewritten form to
J. C. BROWNELL
103 Lawrence Ave., Rochester, Mass.
Holland Film Manufacturing Co.
A Complete Service for Exhibitors by

WARNER'S FEATURES

Inc.

PROGRAM—Twenty-one reels a week, made by the world-famous producing companies comprising the United Motion Picture Producers, Inc.

FEATURES—Powerful productions selected from the output of the world’s best film makers.

SPECIALS—Superb pictures of the best known and most popular plays, produced by celebrated players in four and more reels.

Immediate bookings are invited. Write your nearest Warner’s Exchange.

WARNER’S FEATURES, Inc. New York
SIX-A WEEK

"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTPLAYS"

Essanay

OPPORTUNITY WAITS FOR YOU

"In the Glare of the Lights"

(In three acts)

This, the second of ESSANAY’S great prize mystery dramas, is booked for release October 17, in conjunction with the COMPLETE SHORT STORY published in the November number of THE LADIES’ WORLD magazine. This edition is on the newstands and in the hands of subscribers the day on which the film drama is released. In the magazine story there is a MISSING PARAGRAPH. Prizes will be offered for the best written paragraph. FIVE MILLION readers of THE LADIES’ WORLD must see the Essanay photoplay in order to solve the mystery. THIS PLAY IS A THRILLER OF THRILLERS—LET IT BREAK YOUR ATTENDANCE RECORDS FOR YOU. Essanay presents the world's most popular photoplay actor in this drama.

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

Released Monday, October 12

"Sweeie Learns to Swim"
Another one of those screamingly funny comedies.

Released Tuesday, October 13

"Through Eyes of Love"
A romance containing more heart interest than any one-reel photoplay produced in years.

Released Wednesday, October 14

The Fable of
"The Author and the Dear Public and the Plate of Mush"
By GEORGE ADE
In this George Ade has written one of the funniest of his "Fables in Slang" series.

Released Thursday, October 15

"Snakeville’s Peace-Maker"
"Slippery Slim" and "Mustang Pete" again fight, but Sophie proves to be the dove of peace.

Released Friday, October 16

"The Other Man"
(In 2 acts)
A stirring two-act drama from the pen of Maibelle Heikes Justice, one of the most famous short story writers in the country.

Released Saturday, October 17

"Broncho Billy Rewarded"
A dashing drama of the west featuring G. M. ANDERSON.

"THE PLUM TREE"
(In 3 acts) is undoubtedly the most masterful drama of the year. The demand for it is growing daily.

"FOUR OF THE BIGGEST NIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF OUR THEATRE CAME WITH"

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"

writes an exhibitor. This great Essanay four-act drama, featuring FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is packing houses everywhere.

"BRONCHO BILLY"

as portrayed by the world’s most famous photoplay actor, G. M. ANDERSON, is the safest booking for any exhibitor. Always this western hero brings a thrill.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.
See Americans First
Flying "A" and American "Beauty" Feature Films

JAILBIRDS

In Two Parts
A Convincing Drama Depicting a Thrilling Western Career
Under direction of Sydney Ayres Release Monday, October 12, 1914

AMERICAN "BEAUTY" PRODUCTION
Featuring Margarita Fischer and Harry Pollard One and Three Sheet Lithos
"Winsome Winnie" Release Tuesday, October 13, 1914
A rattling good comedy sure to please

"Down by the Sea" A Love Story Depicting an Unusual Surrender Distributed exclusively through United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG.CO.
THE PRODUCER OF MASTERPIECES
EVERY EXHIBITOR SHOULD BOOK THESE EXCEPTIONAL FEATURES (Through the General Film Special Service)

WILLIAM ELLIOTT, Late Star of "Madame X." Co. In
"THE FORTUNE HUNTER"
Six Reels
By Winchell Smith
Produced by Barry O'Neill
READY FOR EARLY RELEASE

EVELYN NESBIT THAW and her son Russell William Thaw in
"THREADS OF DESTINY"
Five Reels
By William H. Clifford Produced by Joseph Smiley

EDWIN ARDEN in
"EAGLE'S NEST"
Five Reels
By Edwin Arden
Produced by Romaine Fielding

ROSE COGHILAN and Ethel Clayton in
"THE SPORTING DUCHESS"
Six Reels
By Lawrence McCloskey

SIX REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

"THE ROVED ADVENTURER"
Fourth of Series "AN AMERICAN HEIRESS"
"A HUNTING ABSURDITY"
"WIFE'S ATHLETIC MAMMA"
"THE GIRL AT THE LOCK"
"IN OLD VIRGINIA"
"THE GREEN EYED MONSTER"
"WHEN THE HAM TURNED"

Monday, October 5th
Tuesday, October 6th
Wednesday, October 7th
Thursday, October 8th
Friday, October 9th
Saturday, October 10th

SPECIAL ONE, THREE AND SIX SHEET POSTERS
LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
Prices and Factory Description Sent at Request
3 1/4c. Eastman Perforated Negative 3 1/4c. PER FOOT
INDUSTRIAL MOVING PICTURE CO. 223-333 West Erie St.
CHICAGO

BUY MOTOGRAPHY
From Your Newsdealer
TEN CENTS PER COPY
Insist Upon Him Getting It For You

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opague, Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Rollers.

The Glass Mirror Screen reflects the picture entirely by Diffuse Reflection. Send for my booklet explaining the philosophy of screens. You will learn something.

Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.
LUBIN

"The Beloved Adventurer"
By EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL
Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE
Published in Book Form
150,000 Copies Sold the First Week

HERALDS
for
"The Beloved Adventurer"
from Hennegan & Co.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

POSTERS
from the A. B. C. Co.,
Cleveland, Ohio.

RELEASED
on the Regular Programme
every Monday through
the General Film Company

1st of Series
"Lord Cecil Intervenes"

2nd of Series
"An Untarnished Shield"

3rd of Series
"An Affair of Honor"

4th of Series
"An American Heiress"

5th of Series
"The Girl from the West"

A Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays
Released Each Monday

The First of the Series Was Released September 14th
Fifteen chapters to the book, each chapter in its regular order representing a release.
Full cloth binding, with fifteen full page half-tone illustrations, including an autographed frontispiece of Arthur Johnson.

SINGLE COPIES, 25 cents. In lots of 25 or more, 15 cents each
Secure these books from the General Film Co. Exchanges

EXHIBITORS ARE URGED TO PLACE IMMEDIATE ORDERS
AS THE EDITION IS LIMITED

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
There is no happening in the world so remote, so far across the water, so high in the air, or beyond the mountains which is not caught and preserved forever by

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS

The greatest variety—scenes of quiet charm followed by the most spectacular front-page events of the world—pictures of everybody from everywhere, at rest or in action, making homes or making nations all on the same film. More exciting, more romantic, more pathetic and more joyous than all the play acting of all time is the real acting on the real stage of life. Its acting that all classes of people of all ages can understand. Book these world-staged dramas for your screen and you reach the largest number of patrons.

The Pathé Daily News (issued semi-weekly) is now to be obtained through the Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges.

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

110 West 40th Street

NEW YORK CITY

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
61 Walton St.

BOSTON
3 Tremont Row

CHICAGO
5 So. Wabash Ave.

CINCINNATI
217 E. 5th St.

CLEVELAND
622 Prospect Ave., S. E.

DALLAS
Andrews Bldg.

DENVER
Nineteenth Ave.

KANSAS CITY
103 Main St.

LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.

MINNEAPOLIS
4th & Hennepin Sts.

NEW ORLEANS
910 Canal St.

NEW YORK
115 E. 33rd St.

OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.

PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.

PITTSBURGH
715 Liberty Ave.

PORTLAND
300 Burnside Ave.

SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.

SEATTLE
810 Third Ave.

ST. LOUIS
3210 Locust St.

SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.

WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.
The World’s Favorite

ETHEL BARRYMORE

IN

THE NIGHTINGALE

A Five-part Motion Picture written for Miss Barrymore by Augustus Thomas

IN PREPARATION

DIGBY BELL

IN

THE EDUCATION OF MR. PIPP

5 REELS

ALL STAR FEATURE CORPORATION

EXECUTIVE OFFICES
220 W. 42D ST., NEW YORK

STUDIOS AND LABORATORIES
FORT LEE, N. J.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
PROSPERITY

The only way to success is by the satisfaction route and by installing the perfect motion picture projecting apparatus, POWERS' CAMERAGRAPH No. 6A, in your theatre, you satisfy the public and retain their patronage, which is absolutely essential to your prosperity.

NICHOLAS POWER COMPANY
NINETY GOLD STREET    NEW YORK CITY

Your Personal Subscription

for
Motography
America's Leading Film Magazine

$2.00 a year

would prove both a convenience and a means of real profit. Each issue is of vital interest and practical value to every man in the motion picture business. If you miss one copy, you may miss an article or an idea that would have a vital effect on your work.

As a regular subscriber, you would be able to read Motography carefully and systematically at your leisure, and to preserve a file of copies for reference and for binding.

Bound volumes of Motography form the best foundation for a reference library.

We suggest that you have the magazine sent to your residence.

Address
Motography
Monadnock Bldg.    CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
"In the past I have agreed with Thomas Carlyle that silence and action seem contraries, but are often seen in operation. But in this instance I can hardly restrain myself from telling the motion picture world about our capturing 'THE SEATS OF THE MIGHTY.' I consider this picture the great American Masterpiece.”

LEWIS J. SELZNICK.

Two Mighty Forces Joined

The World Film Corporation

Has the honor of announcing that it has arranged with the

Colonial Motion Picture Corporation

For the production of Sir Gilbert Parker’s famous novel

“THE SEATS OF THE MIGHTY”

(Containing 9,000 feet of thrills) the greatest screen production ever undertaken in America, the result of unlimited capital and the best trained talent under the direction of T. Hayes Hunter, by a superb company of Broadway stars, with LIONEL BARRYMORE, supported by Millicent Evans, Lois Meredith, Thomas Jefferson, Glen White, Clinton Preston, Harold Hartsell, Grace Leigh and Marjorie Bonner. “The Seats of the Mighty” is the most ambitious photo-play ever produced in America and it will be

A Special Release of World Film Corporation

LEWIS J. SELZNICK, Vice-President and General Manager

130 West 46th Street, New York City

23 Branch Offices throughout the United States and Canada
BUY THIS BOOK

"MOTION PICTURE WORK"
By DAVID S. HULFISH

618 Pages, including Index
Price $4.00

THIS BOOK is invaluable for reference and instruction to the thousands of workers in the motion picture field. Covers fully the three big branches of the motion picture business; the making of the pictures, the operation of all standard types of projecting machines, and the operation of the moving picture theater. The drawings, diagrams, and photographs used have been prepared especially for this work and their instructive value is as great as the text itself.

PARTIAL TABLE OF CONTENTS

The Optical Lantern: Elements — Lamp — Lamp-house
Condensers — Adjustments — Emergency Projection Slide Carrier — Dissolving Lanterns — Shutters — Slide Alignment
Motion-Head Lanterns — Lenses — Lens Tables
Calculations — Focusing — Reckoning for Errors — Lantern Slides
Motion Head: Portrayal of Motion — Optical System
Types of Shutters — Film Gate — Film Shift Mechanisms
Continuous Projection — Threading up Motion Head — Feed
Rewind — Films — Care — Shipment — Operator's Duties
Specific Projecting Machines: Edison Kinetoscope — Mutoscope — Pathé's Professional Model Talking Pictures: Problems — Synchronism of Photographic and Picture Machine — Unitary or Dependent Machines
Synchronous Motors — Greensheet Device — Clipping — Limitations. Color Pictures: Mechanical — Color-Photography:
Urban-Smith Kinetoscope Process — Operation
Index-Green Process. Film Manufacturers
Fixed Camera Photography: Theory — Lenses — Shutter
Darkroom — Camera Operation — Image Production — Principal Object — Background — Recording Image — Dry Plates
Exposure — Corrections — Development — Printing — Enlargements — Lantern Slides — Panoramas — Telegraphy
Colored Photographs, Photogaphy: Product Desired — Classes — Historical — Methods of Production — Author Plot — Scenario — Tricks — Producer — Studios — Actors
Projection — Selling Films — Factory Methods — Manufacture of Films — Camera Management — Development — Printing Coloring — Buying Equipment — Methods — Trick Pictures.
Operating Motion-Picture Theaters: Value of Good Management
Competition — Starting a Theater — Location — Financing — Building — Specimen Expense Sheet — Interior Details — Country Theater — Air-dome — Managerial Suggestions Accounts — Doll Season — Side Lines.

OUR PRICE IN UNITED STATES, CUBA AND MEXICO, $5.00 WITH A YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION TO

MOTOGRAPHY

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Bldg. CHICAGO, ILL.

We have a correct list of all the Motion Picture Theaters in the United States and Canada. These addresses are in stencil and are quickly available for commercial use. The price of the complete list delivered into your hands is $50.00. Cash with order.

M. P. Theater List

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Bldg. : : CHICAGO, ILL.

Save Your Motosgraphy

For Future Reference

By special arrangement with the manufacturer, we have been able to secure the only practical magazine and periodical binder on the market. We refer to the Dowsett Magazine Binder which binds one issue, a dozen issues or more with a neat book appearance. This binder has no springs, catches, strings, clamps, or locks, and does not mutilate the periodical in the slightest manner.

No mechanical labor necessary. Simple, Practical, Durable.

A Positive Guarantee

The manufacturers guarantee to us that every binder is thoroughly tested before it is delivered, and a further guarantee that it will simply and practically accomplish everything claimed for it.

Price

Binder Closed

$1.50

Complete with 13 Binding Rods 10 Sectional Posts and Name of Publication Stamped in Gold on Front Cover

Binder Open

Send for Illustrated Pamphlet

MOTOGRAPHY 1460 Monadnock Block, CHICAGO, ILL.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Drawn Into the Quicksand

In episode No. 16 of The Million Dollar Mystery is a thrilling portrayal of an actual quicksand into which Flo La Badie falls. See this exciting scene. See this struggle between life and death. See the daring rescue by James Cruce.

This sensational episode indicates the reason for the tremendous popularity of The Million Dollar Mystery. Undoubtedly, this is the biggest success ever known in motion picture circles.

THE MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY

Story by Harold MacGrath  Scenario by Lloyd Lonergan

Thanhouser's Million Dollar Motion Picture Production

Episode No. 16 has just been released. A two-reel episode is released each week. The entire story is produced in 23 episodes. Bookings on all episodes are now being made.

Don't overlook this: $10,000.00 will be paid by the Thanhouser Film Corporation for the best 100-word solution of the mystery. For booking dates address

SYNDICATE FILM CORPORATION

71 West 23rd Street, New York  Room 411, S. Wabash Avenue, Chicago or Syndicate Film Corporation Representative at Any Mutual Exchange in the United States and Canada

THE THANHOUSER THREE-A-WEEK

Friday, Oct. 2. "The Benevolence of Conductor 786." A one-reel drama illustrating the goodness of charity. The cast includes Riley Chamberlin, Helen Haigley (Thanhouser Kidlet), Marion and Madeline Fairbanks, Ruby Morq, Joe Sparks and A. N. Murray.

THANHOUSER FILM CORPORATION, New Rochelle, N. Y.

Regular Thanhouser releases are distributed exclusively in the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation.
SIX-A-WEEK
"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay
FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN
is presented in
“In the Glare of the Lights”
and
“The Plum Tree”

The man who was voted the world's most popular photoplayer is at his best in these two tremendous dramas, the first of ESSANAY'S prize mystery productions. "The Plum Tree" (in 3 acts) was released September 18th. Exhibitors write that it is breaking all their records for them. "In the Glare of the Lights" (in 3 acts) is booked for release October 7th. IT IS ANOTHER WINNER. Both these thrilling plays are produced in conjunction with the complete short stories published in the October and November issues of THE LADIES WORLD MAGAZINE. In each story a paragraph is missing. LARGE PRIZES ARE OFFERED FOR THE BEST WRITTEN MISSING PARAGRAPH. FIVE MILLION READERS of the magazine will demand to see the film dramas in order to solve the mystery.

BOOK THEM NOW
Released through the feature department of the GENERAL FILM CO.

Released Monday, October 19
"She Landed a Big One"
(Sweedie, the Fisherman's Daughter)
Sweedie "shows up" her father as a fisherman.

Released Tuesday, October 20
"Mother O' Dreams"
A stirring drama in which an orphan's dreams of luxuries and a mother's love suddenly become a reality.

Released Thursday, October 22
"Slippery Slim, The Mortgage and Sophie"
Slippery Slim, the Justice of Peace, marries Mustang and a real comedy results.

Released Saturday, October 24
"Broncho Billy—Favorite"
A thrilling western drama featuring G. M. ANDERSON.

"FOUR OF THE BIGGEST NIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF OUR THEATRE CAME WITH
"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT""
writes an exhibitor. This great Essanay four-act drama, featuring FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is making houses everywhere.

"BRONCHO BILLY"
as portrayed by the world's most famous photoplayer actor, G. M. ANDERSON, is the safest booking for any exhibitor. Always this western hero brings a thrill.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.
211 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
See Americans First
FLYING "A" and AMERICAN BEAUTY FEATURE FILMS

DAYLIGHT

IN TWO PARTS
Featuring ED COXEN and WINNIFRED GREENWOOD
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts
Release Monday, October 19, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY FILMS

"Dad and the Girls" A refined comedy in which father unwittingly is caught with the goods
Release Tuesday, October 20, 1914

FLYING "A" FEATURES

"In the Open" "The Final Impulse"
Under direction of Sydney Ayres. Under direction of Thos. Ricketts.
Release Wednesday, October 21, 1914 Release Friday, October 23, 1914

Distributed exclusively through the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
ALLIANCE PROGRAM

A combination of the World's Greatest Feature Photoplay Producers in a direct-to-exhibitor co-operative booking plan which insures to the better Theatres an absolutely dependable source from which to secure Big Features for 52 weeks in the year.

The exhibitor is the sole arbiter of the manufacturer's success, because his profit is derived solely from the popularity of the film. Each unit is independent of the other, obviating a forced program, and absolutely eliminating all element of chance in the quality of the releases.

Each manufacturer stands by himself, receiving a percentage of the bookings. The better picture he makes the more benefit he will derive. This is a tremendous incentive for rivalry in the race for quality.

The Alliance Films Corporation is not interested in the exchanges, nor the manufacturing companies. The manufacturing companies are not interested in the exchanges.

Every subject must be submitted to the exchanges before it is placed in the ALLIANCE PROGRAM, and an unbiased and uninfluenced committee judicially passes upon the drawing power of the film, the photography and acting.

The confidence of the manufacturer in his ability to produce the greatest films in the world, and his determination to do so, is apparent; otherwise these producers would not be willing to enter into such an arrangement. This statement is not made for mere publicity purposes, but is an actual, bona fide fact. There are many agreeable surprises in store for the exhibitor who will watch for ALLIANCE ANNOUNCEMENTS, but it must not be forgotten that every producer affiliated with the ALLIANCE FILMS CORPORATION must agree to the conditions hereinabove stated.

POWERFUL SUBJECTS FOR EARLY RELEASE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Title of Film</th>
<th>Producer</th>
<th>Star</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>October 12</td>
<td>THE KEY TO YESTERDAY</td>
<td>Favorite Players</td>
<td>Carlyle Blackwell</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>October 19</td>
<td>THE PATH FORBIDDEN</td>
<td>Excelsior</td>
<td>Octavia Handworth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>October 28</td>
<td>AT THE OLD CROSS ROADS</td>
<td>Select</td>
<td>Estha Williams</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>November 2</td>
<td>(To be announced)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>November 9</td>
<td>(To be announced)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>November 16</td>
<td>THE MAN WHO COULDN'T LOSE</td>
<td>Favorite Players</td>
<td>Carlyle Blackwell</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>November 23</td>
<td>THE SHADOW</td>
<td>Excelsior</td>
<td>Octavia Handworth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>November 30</td>
<td>(To be announced)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>December 7</td>
<td>AN UNFINISHED STORY</td>
<td>Favorite Players</td>
<td>Carlyle Blackwell</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>December 14</td>
<td>WHEN FATE LEADS TRUMP</td>
<td>Excelsior</td>
<td>Octavia Handworth</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

PRODUCED BY MASTERS IN THE ART OF FILM MAKING

FAVORITE PLAYERS FILM CO., Inc.  SELECT PHOTOPLAY PRODUCING CO., Inc.
EXCELSIOR FEATURE FILM CO., Inc.  And other manufacturers to be announced

Next week's announcement giving a list of exchanges handling the Alliance Program will disclose many surprises. Watch for it

ALLIANCE FILMS CORPORATION
11th Floor, Leavitt Bldg., 126 W. 46th St., New York City

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
ALLIANCE PROGRAM

NOTICE TO THE TRADE

The Productions of the Favorite Players Film Co., Inc., will be released exclusively through the Alliance Films Corporation.

Our first subject in the Alliance Program will be

THE KEY TO YESTERDAY

A strong, stirring, four-part feature of exceptional merit, picturized from the book by Charles Nevill Buck (Scenario by Robert A. Dillon)

WITH CARLYLE BLACKWELL in the leading role, supported by J. Francis Dillon, Miss Edna Mayo, John J. Sheehan, John Prescott, Gypsy Abbott

AND 100 OTHERS

RELEASED OCTOBER 12

FAVORITE PLAYERS FILM COMPANY, Inc.

M. H. BLACKWELL, TREAS.

110 W. 40th St.—Suite 1002—New York City

ALLIANCE PROGRAM

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Excelsior Feature Film Company, Inc., will release all its subjects through the Alliance Films Corporation, beginning with

THE PATH FORBIDDEN

Dramatized from the book by John B. Hymer, in five parts. An intense human interest production, wonderfully acted, with

OCTAVIA HANDWORTH

The peerless star of the silent drama in the leading role, supported by Gordon De Maine, William A. William, John B. Hymer, and a large cast.

MARVELOUS SCENES

are presented, in exquisite photography, which will cause audiences to sit spell-bound in wonder and amazement. Through trick work and double exposure, Miss Handworth, playing the dual role of the twin sisters, is actually seen shaking hands with herself, and handing to, and taking from herself various articles, both figures being photographed close to the camera. This work has been pronounced by experts the most intricate ever attempted, and is the first time in the history of motion pictures that the feat has been accomplished.

RELEASED OCTOBER 19

EXCELSIOR FEATURE FILM COMPANY, Inc.

110 W. 40th St.—Suite 1002—New York City

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
No matter how thrilling a story one may read, interest is not sustained if poor type, poor paper and poor press work make hard work for the eyes. It's the same with motion pictures. A clear picture is as necessary as a good scenario.

Because the basic product is right, the clearest pictures are on "Eastman" film. Look for the stencil mark in the margin.

EASTMAN KODAK CO., ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA

Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Rollers.

The Glass Mirror Screen reflects the picture entirely by Diffuse Reflection. Send for my booklet explaining the philosophy of screens. You will learn something.
Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

YOUR MONEY MAKERS
The only sure fire producers in Ohio. Thirty-five of the best selected feature films picked by an old exchange man. Write for open dates. We have the films.

EXHIBITORS FEATURE FILM CO., 431 Summit Street, Toledo, O.

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
Prices and Factory Description Sent on Request
3½c. Eastman Perforated Negative 3½c.
PER FOOT
INDUSTRIAL MOVING PICTURE CO. 223-233 West Erie St.
CHICAGO

THE "FULCO" BOOK

Just Off the Press
Fulton's A-Z List No.5—Ask for It
Up to the Minute—Abundantly Illustrated
The Recognized, Standardized, Buying Guide for EXHIBITORS
A Comprehensive Catalog of Machines, Appliances, and Accessories, Involved in the Presentation of MOVING PICTURES

JUST FITS YOUR POCKET
E. E. FULTON CO.
150 W. Lake Street CHICAGO

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.
Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid.
$1.14 or with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid... $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
The Warning

The Triumph of the Season Pronounced by Members of the Board of Censorship to be the Finest Film they had seen for Months.

A 3 reel American, Wharton-made drama. This is not an ordinary better-than-the-average play, but a veritable triumph in every respect. A wayward son, warned by his father, penetrates the future and glimpses what he might have been. The law is unable to deter the boy as he progresses from petty crimes to murder and the father finally takes the punishment into his own hands. Some of the most strikingly dramatic scenes ever screened. Featuring Creighton Hale and M. O. Penn. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

The Broken Promise

A 4-part drama—a story of love and revenge among the fisherfolk in a quaint old-fashioned village by the sea. Picturesque backgrounds, splendid acting, and action which carries a live interest through every scene. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

Miss Cinderella

A true fish story in one reel—American comedy made by the All Comedy Company—a merry tale of love and angling which proves that there are just as good fish in a mountain brook as there are on a hotel veranda. A film of solid enjoyment. 1 sheet posters.

The Perils of Pauline

Pauline has grown as necessary among the good things in motion pictures as sugar on the breakfast table. But a few months ago Pauline was a luxury to photoplay lovers, and now she's a necessity. A week without Pauline is a disappointment to the play-goer and a loss to the exhibitor.

PAULINE TAKES ANXIETY OUT OF THE BOX OFFICE

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
61 Walton St.
BOSTON
3 Tremont Row
CHICAGO
5 So. Wabash Ave.
CINCINNATI
217 E. 5th St.
CLEVELAND
622 Prospect Ave., S. E.

DALLAS
Andrews Bldg.
DENVER
Nassau Bldg.
KANSAS CITY
928 Main St.
LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.
MINNEAPOLIS
4th & Hennepin Sts.

NEW ORLEANS
910 Gravier St.
NEW YORK
115 E. 23rd St.

OMAHA
1312 Farnam St.
PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.
PITTSBURGH
715 Liberty Ave.
PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.
SALT LAKE CITY
68 So. Main St.

SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.
SEATTLE
810 Third Ave.
ST. LOUIS
3210 Locust St.
SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.
WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.

THE ECLECTIC
110 West 40th Street

FILM COMPANY
NEW YORK CITY
SIX-A-WEEK
"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

"In the Glare of the Lights"
Featuring
FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN
The World's Most Popular Photoplay Actor
RELEASED OCTOBER 17

Five million persons will read the complete short story of the ESSANAY three-act drama published in The Ladies' World for November, which appears on the newsstands and in the hands of subscribers on the same date as the film drama is released. This is the second of the ESSANAY's great prize mystery dramas in conjunction with The Ladies' World. One paragraph of the story is missing in the magazine. The Ladies' World is offering big prizes for the best written paragraph. The five million readers of the magazine must see the Essanay photoplay to solve the mystery.

BOOK IT AT ONCE.

Also Featuring
FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

"The Plum Tree"
The first of the complete prize mystery dramas is drawing record crowds. You can't afford not to book it. Many are calling for a second booking.

Released Monday, October 26
"Rivalry and War"
It's really too funny for words.

Released Tuesday, October 27
"An Unplanned Elopement"
A thrilling drama featuring FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

Released Wednesday, October 28
The Fable of
"The People's Choice Who Answered the Call of Duty and Took Seltzer"
By: GEORGE ADE
How an aspirant for a political job got "bumped" by his party leaders.

Released Thursday, October 29
"Snakeville and The Corset Demonstrator"
All the men of Snakeville turn out to greet the "Perfect 38."

Released Friday, October 30
"Whatever a Woman Soweth" (In two acts)
A thrilling drama dealing with the greatest of domestic problems.

Released Saturday, October 31
"Broncho Billy's Mother"
Broncho Billy shows his ability as a sharp shooter. FEATURING M. ANDERSON.

"FOUR OF THE BIGGEST NIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF OUR THEATRE CAME WITH

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"
writes an exhibitor. This great Essanay four-act drama, featuring FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is packing houses everywhere.

"BRONCHO BILLY"
as portrayed by the world's most famous photoplay actor, M. ANDERSON, is the safest booking for any exhibitor. Always this western hero brings a thrill.
October 24, 1914.

SEE AMERICANS FIRST

Flying "A" Features

American "Beauty" Features

"SIR GALAHAD of TWILIGHT"

Presenting Vivian Rich and Wm. Garwood

Under direction of Sydney Ayres

Release Monday, October 26, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY PRODUCTIONS

"A Rude Awakening"
A pleasing and refined Society Comedy, with splendid popular cast
Release Tuesday, October 27, 1914

"Sweet and Low"
A Human Interest Drama—splendidly enacted under direction of Sydney Ayres
Release Wednesday, October 28, 1914

Distributed exclusively through the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
LUBIN
THE PRODUCER OF MASTERPIECES
EVERY EXHIBITOR SHOULD BOOK THESE EXCEPTIONAL FEATURES

WILLIAM ELLIOTT, Late Star of "Madame X" Co. in

| 6 Reel Comedy | "THE FORTUNE HUNTER" | By Winchell Smith |
| 3 Reel Drama | "MARAH, THE PYTHONESS" | By Clay M. Greene |
| 3 Reel Drama | "THE WEIGHT OF A CROWN" | By M. B. Havey |

READY FOR EARLY RELEASE: (By Arrangement with Fred Maco)
EVELYN NESBIT THAW and her son RUSSELL WILLIAM THAW in

| 5 Reel Drama | "THREADS OF DESTINY" | By William H. Clifford |

SIX REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

"THE BELOVED ADVENTURER"
Sixth of Series "THE GOLDEN HOPE"
"ONLY SKIN DEEP"
"THE HOPELESS GAMES"
"HER MOTHER WAS A LADY"
"THE GIRL IN THE TENEMENT"
"THE CROOKS"

Produced by Barry O'Neil
Produced by William H. Clifford Produced by Harry Myers
Produced by Joseph W. Smiley

EDWIN ARDEN in
"EAGLE'S NEST"
Produced by Romaine Fielding
RAYMOND HITCHCOCK
In a 5 Reel Comedy Drama by LAWRENCE Mccloskey
Produced by George Terwilliger
"STONEWALL JACKSON'S WAY"
Produced by Edgar Jones
IN PREPARATION
ROSE COWSLIP and Ethel Clayton in
"THE SPORTING DUCHESS"
Produced by Barry O'Neil

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA. CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

WENT OVER WITH A BANG
$25,000 in rental offers received within 48 hours after first showing. Electrified its brilliant premier audience at the Maxine Elliott Theatre, New York, last Thursday evening.

B. S. MOSS
Film production in 5 reels of the most universally popular novel of the century, Elinor Glyn's imperishable romance (only authorized version, all infringements prosecuted). An adaptation that delights all and offends none. 70,000,000 have read this book—7 times that number will want to see the photoplay.
"Vivid in interest and gives no offense."—N. Y. Herald, Oct. 10, '14

THE
1914 Motograph
Used When the Best Is Needed

The Buyer's Code:

Quality, Endurance, Steady and Flickerless Projection

Satisfaction and Lowest Up-keep Cost

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
566 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.

Eastern Office
21 E. 14th Street, New York

Western Office
833 Market Street, San Francisco

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
A Series of Beautiful Photoplays

“The Beloved Adventurer”

By EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL

Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

Also Published in Book Form

15,000 Copies Sold the First Week

HERALDS for

“The Beloved Adventurer”
from Hennegan & Co.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

POSTERS from the A. B. C. Co.,
Cleveland, Ohio.

RELEASED on the Regular Programme
every Monday through
the General Film Company

1st of Series
“Lord Cecil Intervenes”

2nd of Series
“The Untarnished Shield”

3rd of Series
“The Affair of Honor”

4th of Series
“An American Heiress”

5th of Series
“The Girl from the West”

6th of Series
“The Golden Hope”

7th of Series
“The Holdup”

A Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays

One Released Each Monday

The First Was Released September 14th

Fifteen chapters to the book, each chapter in its regular order representing a release. Full cloth binding, with fifteen full page half-tone illustrations, including an autographed frontispiece of Arthur Johnson.

SINGLE COPIES, 25 cents. In lots of 25 or more, 15 cents each

Secure these books from the General Film Co. Exchanges

EXHIBITORS ARE URGED TO PLACE IMMEDIATE ORDERS

AS THE EDITION IS LIMITED

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

CHICAGO OFFICE, 151 West Lake Street
Positive Announcement

THE FAVORITE PLAYERS PRODUCTION

"The Key to Yesterday"

WITH

CARLYLE BLACKWELL

as the Principal Actor, will absolutely be released in the Alliance Program, and will be shown in Hammerstein's beautiful Opera House, New York, beginning Oct. 12. This subject is dramatized from the book by Chas. Neville Buck. Supporting Mr. Blackwell are Miss Edna Mayo, J. Francis Dillon, John J. Sheehan, John Prescott, Gypsy Abbott, and one hundred others. In four parts.

"The Path Forbidden"

EXCELSIOR FEATURE FILM CO.

Released October 19

Five reels of thrills, sensations and surprises. An up-to-the-minute production, with a strong moral tone, picturised from John B. Hymer's book, with the popular star, in the leading role. Exquisite photography, marvelous trick work and effects, and a large, well-balanced cast, make this film an extraordinary feature.

OCTAVIA HANDWORTH

"At the Old Cross Roads"

SELECT PHOTOPLAY PRODUCING CO.

Released October 26

From Arthur C. Aiston's play, which successfully toured the country for fourteen years, with

MISS ESTHA WILLIAMS

The star of the original production, in the leading role. Many big scenes are shown, including the burning of the bridge, the uprising of the blacks and the ensuing battle, the sensational court room scene, etc., etc.

"McVeagh of the South Seas"

PROGRESSIVE MOTION PICTURE CO.

Released November 2

A true story of the south seas, from the book by H. D. Carey. In five reels by the Progressive Motion Picture Co. Featuring Harry Cary.

Coming Productions

"THE MAN WHO COULD NOT LOSE"

From the book by Richard Harding Davis.

"THE SHADOW"

From the book by John B. Hymer.

"AN UNFINISHED STORY"

From the book by Richard Harding Davis.

The Policy of the Alliance

Means an absolutely square deal to manufacturer, exchange and exhibitor. We do not expect an exhibitor to take a lot of mediocre films for the privilege of getting the good ones. Each manufacturer must hit a bull's-eye with his production, and must stand by himself.

Alliance Films Corporation

Leavitt Bldg., 11th Floor, 126 W. 46th St., New York City

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere

Retold after the famous poem by Henry W. Longfellow

Of all the characters of our Revolutionary period, none is more endeared to young and old than that of Paul Revere, whose exploit has been immortalized by Longfellow so effectively that the lines of the poem and the incidents portrayed are graven more deeply, perhaps, upon the average American mind than any other character or exploit of our American history.

The action throughout this film is finely sustained and many of the scenes, including Revere's house, that of Hancock, the wall at Lexington, where the first shots were fired, were all taken on the exact historical spots where the original action took place.

This is a film that will stir the hearts and minds of young and old and should be met with a tremendous welcome throughout the entire country.

2,000 feet—To be released Friday, October 30th.

COMING EDISON RELEASES

Monday, Oct. 26th. Wood B. Wedd and the Microbes..............1,000 ft.—Comedy
Tuesday, Oct. 27th. The Mystery of the Sealed Art Gallery...1,000 ft.—Drama
Wednesday, Oct. 28th. The Lost Melody..........................1,000 ft.—Drama
Friday, Oct. 30th. The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere.........2,000 ft.—Drama
Saturday, Oct. 31st. The Hand of Iron............................1,000 ft.—Drama

Two Great Edison Successes

“The Long Way”  “My Friend from India”

A three part reel just released. A masterpiece of dramatic production. Scenic and photographic effects are very beautiful.

Another masterpiece in which Walter E. Perkins is in the title role. To be obtained through the General Film Company’s special releases. Full of laughs.

Order Edison Posters of the Morgan Lithograph Co., Cleveland, Ohio, direct Supremacy on the Land is the cry of one faction while another claims the mastery of the sea. Each nation has one or two main points of strength. The same is true of motion pictures.

The Pathe' Daily News

however, is supreme on either land or sea or in the air. It is strong at all points—wherever there is something going on that is of interest to the world, there you will find a Pathe camera man. That is why each individual in your audience will find something of special interest to him—all the action of all the world that can and should be seen, plainly seen in picture language. Make your screen a news sheet while news continues to be the center of public interest.

The Pathe' Daily News (Semi-Weekly) is now to be obtained through the Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Thanhouser's Million Dollar Motion Picture Production

THE MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY

Story by Harold MacGrath    Scenario by Lloyd Lonergan

Episode No. 18 of The Million Dollar Mystery has just been released. It contains new thrills—new action—and is keenly interesting. It puts another wedge in the tremendous popularity of this picture. All 18 episodes are now available for bookings.

$10,000.00 will be paid for the best 100-word solution of the mystery. 300 leading newspapers are now running this story. Exhibitors may arrange bookings by applying at once to

Syndicate Film Corporation

71 West 23rd Street, New York    Room 411, 5 S. Wabash Avenue, Chicago or Syndicate Film Corporation Representative at any Mutual Exchange in the United States or Canada

The Thanhouser Three-a-Week

Tuesday, October 20th. "Old Jackson's Girl."

This is a two-reel Western drama that throbs with emotion—excitement. It depicts an episode from the life of Jim Jackson—a suspected horse thief—whose daughter is in love with a young ranchman. The thrills which are exhibited before the young couple is finally united, make this an exceptionally interesting photo-play. Note this excellent cast: Dave Thompson, Mayre Hall, Morris Foster, Justus D. Barnes, Clare Kroell, E. Sherwood and Jack Sullivan.

Sunday, October 25th. "Mr. Cinderella."

A beautiful playlet based on the fairy tale idea. How little Jimmie—the poor, pitied boy—is given an opportunity by his fairy godfather to visit the county fair and meet the Queen of the Popcorn Trust and enjoy himself immensely, is an interesting film story. The cast includes Nolan Gane, Fan Bourke, E. Turner, J. Myers, Dave Thompson and Mildred Hellar.

Thanhouser Film Corporation
New Rochelle, N. Y.

Regular Thanhouser releases are distributed exclusively in the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation.
SIX-A-WEEK

"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

HERE'S THE LATEST AND GREATEST WESTERN DRAMA

"THE TELL-TALE HAND"

By Frank Blyton
Author of "What Happened to Mary?" and "Who Will Marry Mary?"

Featuring G. M. ANDERSON

The world famous originator of "Broncho Billy."

This is the third of the ESSANAY complete PRIZE MYSTERY dramas produced in conjunction with THE LADIES' WORLD. The complete story will appear in the magazine for December, with the exception of one paragraph. Big prizes are offered by the magazine for this lost paragraph. It can only be found in the Essanay film. 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery. The photoplay is filled with thrilling and dramatic incidents. It is a story of LOVE and HATE. It stirs the heart and grips the soul. It has the real "PUNCH."

Released November 19th through the feature department of the General Film Company.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Released Date</th>
<th>Plot</th>
<th>Featuring</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Released Monday, November 2</td>
<td>&quot;The Laundress&quot; (With Sweeie) Sweeie's sweetheart fails to appreciate her until he believes her to be dead.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Tuesday, November 3</td>
<td>&quot;Fires of Fate&quot; How a thrilling rescue from a burning building united two lives of sorrow. Adapted from the Munsey Magazines.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Wednesday, November 4</td>
<td>The Fable of &quot;How Uncle Brewster Was Too Shifty for the Tempter&quot; By GEORGE ADE Those &quot;goi-durn&quot; city chaps couldn't put anything over on Uncle Brewster.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Thursday, November 5</td>
<td>&quot;Slippery Slim and the Impersonator&quot; Slippery Slim devises a clever scheme to win Sophie from Mastane Pete.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Friday, November 6</td>
<td>&quot;His Dearest Foes&quot; (In two acts) A thrilling drama of army life in India. Adapted from the Munsey Magazines.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Saturday, November 7</td>
<td>&quot;Broncho Billy's Mission&quot; A western drama featuring G. M. ANDERSON.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

"The Plum Tree"

(In 3 acts)

is undoubtedly the most masterful drama of the year. The demand for it is growing daily.

"FOUR OF THE BIGGEST NIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF OUR THEATRE CAME WITH 'ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT'""

writes an exhibitor. This great Essanay four-act drama, featuring FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is packing houses everywhere.

"BRONCHO BILLY"

as portrayed by the world's most famous photoplay actor, G. M. ANDERSON is the safest booking for any exhibitor. Always this western hero brings a thrill.
See Americans First
Flying "A" and American "Beauty" Feature Films
The
RUIN of MANLEY
Direction of Thos. Ricketts

Featuring
Ed. Coxen
and Winifred Greenwood

Two Part Psychological Drama

Release Monday, November 2, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY FILMS

"The Tightwad"
A Light Comedy with Human Interest
Release Tuesday, November 3, 1914

"When the Road Parts"
A Psychological Drama by an All Star Cast.
Release Wednesday, November 4, 1914

Distributed exclusively through the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation.

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
Book It for Your House Now!
The $2,000,000 Spectacle of the Season.
A Masterpiece from Ambrosio Studios.

MARKIA
or "The Destruction of Carthage" (In Five) Presented by Kinetophote Corporation.

BIG FEATURES NOW BOOKING
Famous Old Drama THE SPAN OF LIFE In Five Strong Thrilling Reels
WITH LIONEL BARRYMORE
THE COMING POWER THE LITTLE JEWESS
(4 Parts) (4 Parts)
K. C. BOOKING CO., Inc.
126 W. 46th St. New York City
IRA H. SIMMONS, Gen. Mgr.
List of Distributing Exchanges
To Be Announced Later

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection,
White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Golddoth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless
with Stretchers or Rollers.
The Glass Mirror Screen reflects the picture entirely by Diffuse Reflection. Send for my booklet explaining the philosophy of screens. You will learn something.
Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

No matter how thrilling
a story one may read, interest is not sustained if poor type, poor paper and poor press work make hard work for the eyes.
It's the same with motion pictures. A clear picture is as necessary as a good scenario.

Because the basic product is right, the clearest pictures are on "Eastman” film. Look for the stencil mark in the margin.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated
A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of
Motion Pictures, the Scenario; Film Exhibiting:
Coloring and Talking Pictures: Covering all aspects of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.
Price in full cloth, gold stamping,
postpaid . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . $1.14
or with a year's subscription to
MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid. . . . . . . . $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building - - - CHICAGO

YOUR MONEY MAKERS
The only sure fire producers in Ohio.
Thirty-five of the best selected feature films picked by an old exchange man. Write for open dates.
We have the films.
EXHIBITORS FEATURE FILM CO., 431 Summit Street, Toledo, 0.

BUY MOTOGRAPHY
From Your Newsdealer
TEN CENTS PER COPY
Insist Upon Him Getting It For You

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
MR. MAX FIGMAN
SUPPORTED BY MISS LOLITA ROBERTSON
IN
“The Hoosier Schoolmaster”
A five-reel dramatization of EDWARD EGGLESTON’S famous book, will be released in
THE ALLIANCE PROGRAM
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 9
All future productions of the Masterpiece Film Mfg. Co. will also be exclusively released by us

“The Key to Yesterday” “At the Old Cross Roads”
From the book by Chas. Neville Buck, by the Favorite Players Film Co., featuring Carlyle Blackwell, was released Oct. 12, and had its premier the week of the 12th at Hammerstein’s Opera House.

Picturization of Arthur C. Aiston’s famous play, which had a successful run for fourteen years. Estha Williams, the original star, plays the lead in the film. Released October 26.

“The Path Forbidden” “McVeagh of the South Seas”
From the book by John B. Hymer, in five parts, by the Excelsior Feature Film Co., with Octavia Handworth in the leading role. Released October 19.

In five reels, from the book by H. D. Carey, by the Progressive Motion Picture Co. Featuring Harry Carey. Splendid ocean pictures and tremendous action throughout. Released November 2.

Alliance Films Corporation
11th Floor 126 W. 46th St. New York City
Don’t Be Alarmed About Carbons

Unscrupulous speculators are still shouting "Carbon Famine" and trying to scare exhibitors into paying as high as fifteen dollars per hundred for 50/12 carbons—an increase of over four hundred per cent.

We have endeavored to protect you against this extortion by offering to divide our limited stock at the old prices among those who were in danger of closing, but our announcement probably did not reach every one.

We are beginning to get returns from our increased equipment, and by the time this goes to press we will be in a position to take care of all exhibitors who are short on carbons, if they do not come at us too strong.

We have made no advance in price, but we reserve the right to cut any order to five hundred or less in case our stock does not warrant filling larger orders.

National Carbon Company
Cleveland, Ohio
LUBIN

A Series of Beautiful Photoplays

"The Beloved Adventurer"

By EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL

Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

Also Published in Book Form

First Edition 50,000 Copies Sold. Second Edition Now Ready

HERALDS

for

"The Beloved Adventurer"

from Hennegan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

POSTERS

from the A. B. C. Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

RELEASED

on the Regular Programme

every Monday through

the General Film Company

A Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays

One Released Each Monday

The First Was Released September 14th

Fifteen chapters to the book, each chapter in its regular order representing a release. Full cloth binding, with fifteen full page half-tone illustrations, including an autographed frontispiece of Arthur Johnson.

SINGLE COPIES, 25 cents. In lots of 25 or more, 15 cents each

Secure these books from the General Film Co. Exchanges

EXHIBITORS ARE URGED TO PLACE IMMEDIATE ORDERS

AS THE EDITION IS LIMITED

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street
SIX-A-WEEK
"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

MR. G. M. ANDERSON

The world famous "Broncho Billy" is presented in

"THE TELL-TALE HAND"

THE LATEST AND GREATEST WESTERN DRAMA (In 3 Acts)

By Frank Blightron. Author of "What Happened to Mary?" and "Who Will Marry Mary?"

This is the third of the complete PRIZE MYSTERY dramas produced in conjunction with THE LADIES' WORLD. The complete story will appear in the magazine for December, with the exception of one paragraph. Big prizes are offered by the magazine for the best written lost paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay photoplay. 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery.

Released November 9th through the feature department of the General Film Company.

Released Monday, November 9
"Sweedie the Trouble Maker" Sweedie conquers the police department in a battle royal.

Released Tuesday, November 10
"Within Three Hundred Pages" A thrilling drama with which a real mystery is connected. Adapted from the Munsey Magazines.

Released Wednesday, November 11
"Three Boiled Down Fables" By GEORGE ADE
Three side-splitting comedies in one reel.

Released Thursday, November 12
"Sophie and the Man of Her Choice" Sophie saves the man she loves from vengeance of foes by ruse and weds him.

Released Friday, November 13
"The Prince Party" (In two acts) An excellent drama in which an aristocrat in search of adventure poses as a vagabond and finds his princess.

Released Saturday, November 14
"Broncho Billy's Decision" (Reg. In U. S. Patent Office) A western drama featuring G. M. ANDERSON.

"In the Glare of the Lights" AND "The Plum Tree"

Featuring MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

These first two of the Essanay complete prize mystery dramas are filling theatres everywhere if you have not already booked them, do so now.

Released through the feature department of the General Film Co.

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"

(In 4 acts) Is "packing 'em in" all over the country. It is called the "one wonderful picture," featuring MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.

631 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
Factory and Studio, 115 Apple Street, Chicago, Ill.
See Americans First!
FLYING "A" and AMERICAN "BEAUTY"
FEATURE FILMS

A SLICE OF LIFE

Two acts. A Sociological Drama of Great Intensity.

Featuring WINNIFRED GREENWOOD and ED COXEN
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts
Release Monday, November 9, 1914

AMERICAN "BEAUTY" FILMS
Featuring MARGARITA FISCHER and HARRY POLLARD

"Motherhood"
A Superb Dramatization Depicting Remarkable Histrionic Ability
Release Tuesday, November 10, 1914

"The Stolen Masterpiece"
A "Flying A" Feature with an all star cast.
Tense and Thrilling.
Release Wednesday, November 11, 1914

Distributed exclusively through the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
MAUDE FEALY
HOLLAND FILM MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Will appear exclusively in productions staged by the

It is unnecessary for us to—Feature—Miss Fealy—she is known and loved all over the world. Supported by a company of well known artists second to none in the profession—the answer is simple—packed houses and delighted audiences.

EARLY RELEASES

One Reel Features

Mary Jane's Burglar
The Vanishing Cinderella
It Might Have Been Worse
The Double-Cross
Norah Declares War

Two Reel Features

The Girl From Tim's Place
(Adapted from the novel by the well known author, Charles Clark Munn.)

Send for complete information about these and future releases. Special Posters

HOLLAND FILM MANUFACTURING CO. (Dept. G) 105 Lawrence Ave. DORCHESTER, MASS.

Salome Jane
DONE INTO MOVING PICTURES BY THE CALIFORNIA M.F. CORP.
THE BEST SPECIMEN OF VIRILE CHARACTERIZATION EVER PUT ON A SCREEN

FIVE FAMOUS COMPANIES MARKET EXCLUSIVELY THROUGH THE ALCO
ALL STAR FEATURE CORP., CALIFORNIA M.F. CORP., B.A. ROSS
PHOTOPLAY CO., POPULAR PLAYS AND PLAYERS
ALCO FILM EXCHANGES LOCATED AT NEW YORK, CHICAGO, SAN FRANCISCO, PITTSBURGH, PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE, MINNEAPOLIS, DENVER,
SPokane, SEATTLE, PORTLAND, ORE.
LOS ANGELES, ST. LOUIS,
BOSTON, BUTTE

EVERY MONDAY A FEATURE OF MAGNITUDE AND MERIT
ALCO FILM CORPORATION
ALCO BUILDING—218 WEST 42ND ST.—NEW YORK

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
General Manager Lewis J. Selznick Concludes an Alliance Between the Liebler Company and the World Film Corporation

The World Film Corporation has effected another pace making combination and has started work at its Fort Lee studios on the following successful plays that it has secured from the internationally famous firm of theatrical producers.

The LIEBLER COMPANY written by that most resourceful American dramatist

PAUL ARMSTRONG

ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE which has been one of the biggest dramatic triumphs of the decade and which has been enjoyed in every English speaking land,

THE RENEGADE the powerful play of contemporary life.

THE DEEP PURPLE the searching exploration of the doings of the underworld by a master playmaker.

In addition to starting work on these plays, preparations are under way to present in photoplay form the greatest spectacle ever shown on the American stage, Pierre Loti’s Chinese romance, which was presented by the Liebler Company at the Century Theatre at a cost of $200,000.00 with Viola Allen starring in the title role.

A Daughter of Heaven

These features are to be released soon by the World Film Corporation. It behooves everyone interested in showing the best features obtainable, to communicate with their nearest exchange of the

WORLD FILM CORPORATION

Selznick Makes Another Capture For the World Film Corporation

FRANK L. DYER (Former President, General Film Company)

J. PARKER READ, Jr. (Producer of the Photoplays, “The Garden of Allah” and “Victory”)

J. SEARLE DAWLEY (The man who made the Famous Players famous) Director General

Have joined forces in organizing the Dyreda Art Film Corporation

The culminating step in their making that work possible has come in their securing the

WORLD FILM CORPORATION

to become their exclusive distributors, because the World Film Corporation is the only high grade feature film distributors who can properly market the Dyreda’s artistic product. The first feature to be released is

Laura Sawyer in “One of Millions”

The most impressive, touching, indictment of the evils of war ever conceived. Produced by the poet of the screen, J. SEARLE DAWLEY, who made “The Charge of the Light Brigade,” and countless other sensations.

Release Date, November 16

The Next Dyreda Release will be Laura Sawyer and Robert Broderick in “In the Name of the Prince of Peace.” Release date on this feature is to be announced later.

For bookings on these and all future Dyreda features communicate at once with the nearest exchange of the

WORLD FILM CORPORATION

130 West Forty-Sixth St., New York 26 branches throughout the United States and Canada

12 more branches now being opened

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
THE TAINT

An American drama in 4 parts. The story of a woman's winning fight against overwhelming odds. From start to finish this film is a succession of unusual gripping situations which lead to a splendid climax. In making his escape on a locomotive the villain is plunged over an embankment and meets his death. An exceptional cast does full justice to these intensely dramatic scenes. Ruby Hoffman, Edward Jose and Creighton Hale are featured. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

MOTHER'S DARLING LITTLE BOY

1-reel comedy by the All Comedy Films, Inc. A boy at home is one thing, but outside he's quite another. Mothers have a chance to see both sides in this true-to-life boy story. Solid fun. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

IN A DIFFICULT POSITION and WHIFFLES' NIGHTMARE

A double-header comedy. A split reel with fun on both sides. Breezy enough to cool your theatre and buoyant enough to carry a whole performance. It shouldn't be missed. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

THE PERFECT "36"

Introduced by the inimitable Montague Glass

A 4-reel comedy. A story that will rock you in the seat from laughing. From Salesgirl to the main prop of the business our Perfect "36" smiles her way in a film that abounds with absurdly funny situations. It could all happen and everybody that sees it wishes it would. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

THE PERILS OF PAULINE

Of course there are longer films than Pauline, but there have never been more genuine thrills and breath catching situations crowded into two reels than you will find in each release of the Perils. Each episode goes the last one better, but you can afford to miss any of them. Pauline sets the pace for box office receipts.

THE PATHÉ DAILY NEWS

The film of the hour—it catches at white heat the public interest in today's stirring events. Issued twice a week.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA 61 Walton St.          CLEVELAND 622 Prospect Ave., S. E.
BOSTON 3 Tremont Row           DALLAS Andrews Bldg.
CHICAGO 5 So. Wabash Ave.      DENVER Nassau Bldg.
CINCINNATI 217 E. 5th St.      KANSAS CITY 220 Main St.
LOS ANGELES 114 E. 7th St.     MINNEAPOLIS 4th & Hennepin Sts.
    NEW ORLEANS 910 Gravier St.     PHILADELPHIA 1235 Vine St.
    NEW YORK 115 E. 23rd St.       OMAHA 1312 Farnam St.
PITTSBURGH 715 Liberty Ave.     PORTLAND 392 Burnside Ave.
    SEATTLE 810 Third Ave.         SALT LAKE CITY 68 So. Main St.
    ST. LOUIS 3120 Locust St.      SAN FRANCISCO 67 Turk St.
    SYRACUSE 214 E. Fayette St.   WASHINGTON 7th & E Sts., N. W.

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

110 West 40th Street

"The Cream of American and European Studios"

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAHYP
Motography’s Ready-Reference Film Record
Listing all films issued between October 1, 1913 and September 30, 1914

GENERAL PROGRAM

Biograph Company
897 N. 175th Street, New York.

COMEDY.

1913.
10-9 Never Known to Smile
Biograph $500
10-9 Sentimental Sally
Biograph $500
10-12 McGann and His Otscee
Biograph $500
10-13 A Sunday Afternoon
Biograph $1,000
10-16 Red and Pink, Partners
Biograph $500
10-23 The Winning Punch
Biograph $500
10-30 A Barber Cure
Biograph $1,000
11-6 Bearers and Bobs
Biograph $500
11-6 In the Hands of the Black Hands
Biograph $500
11-6 Where’s the Baby
Biograph $500
11-7 Case of a Life
Biograph $500
11-13 Mixed Nuts
Biograph $500
11-11 Care for Santa
Biograph $500
11-17 He’s a Lawyer
Biograph $500
11-27 The Somnambulist
Biograph $500
11-27 The Day Was Saved
Biograph $500
11-27 The Trouble Mole
Biograph $500
11-15 Oh Sunny
Biograph $500
12-15 bill’s Birthday
Biograph $500
12-27 The Club Cure
Biograph $500
12-27 The Suicide Pact
Biograph $500

1914.
1-10 Skelley’s Skeleton
Biograph $500
1-10 I’m a Brother to Joe
Biograph $500
1-15 The Mystery of the Milk
Biograph $500
1-26 The Jaunt
Biograph $500
1-15 Outbacked
Biograph $500
1-19 How They Struck Oil
Biograph $500
1-19 Beggars, the Dark Hound, Sneaker
Biograph $1,000
1-25 How Won’t Buy Wool
Biograph $1,000
1-29 The Paddies
Biograph $1,000
1-29 The Charms of the Irish
Biograph $1,000
1-29 Skelley Builds a Hotel
Biograph $500
1-29 A Desperate Hope
Biograph $500
1-29 A Desperate Hope
Biograph $500
1-29 A Desperate Hope
Biograph $500
1-19 Politics and Suffragettes
Biograph $500
1-19 Polite and Suffragettes
Biograph $500
1-19 Blame the Tailor
Biograph $500
1-19 Sporty Makes a Bet
Biograph $500
1-19 Sporty Makes a Bet
Biograph $500
1-19 Never Shrink
Biograph $500
1-24 Bill Tell, Pawn Broker
Biograph $500
1-24 Skelley’s Birthday
Biograph $500
1-27 Hop Head’s Dream
Biograph $500
1-27 Along Came a City Chau
Biograph $500
1-27 Bill Gilligan’s Accident Policy
Biograph $500
1-27 Big News
Biograph $500
1-16 While the Band Played
Biograph $500
1-16 Almost an Outrage
Biograph $500
1-21 Romeo and Juliet
Biograph $500
1-21 Riddle, the Mad Nigger, Sneller
Biograph $1,000
1-25 The Prince of the Drinks
Biograph $500
1-25 Widow Muggins’ Wedding
Biograph $500
1-25 Captain Kidd, The Bold
Biograph $500
1-25 Islands in the Time
Biograph $500
1-25 Alma Bahs
Biograph $1,000
1-15 The Prize Employer
Biograph $500
1-15 Buxton and Ochoa’s Sisters
Biograph $1,000
1-26 A Spanish Omelet
Biograph $1,000
1-27 The Great
Biograph $1,000
1-27 The Fireman’s Social
Biograph $500
1-26 Eva, the Cigarette Girl
Biograph $1,000
1-26 A Romance of Pueblo
Biograph $1,000
1-26 It Was So Easy
Biograph $1,000
1-26 Some Decorations
Biograph $500
1-26 The Cheese
Biograph $500
1-23 The Show Busters
Biograph $500
1-23 Gwendolyn, the Sewing Machine Girl
Biograph $1,000
1-23 Search, the Scientific Detective
Biograph $1,000
1-23 The Meal Ticket
Biograph $1,000
1-24 The Man in the Beak
Biograph $500
1-28 The Deadly Cheroo
Biograph $500

1914.
1-12 Mix-up at Murphy’s
Biograph $500
1-14 Cheering Mr. Goodheart
Biograph $500
1-16 The Ferris Wheel
Biograph $500
1-17 The Game of Freeze-out
Biograph $500
1-18 They Put It Quick
Biograph $500
1-20 Baseball—a Grand Old Game
Biograph $500
1-21 A Hand Hash
Biograph $500
1-23 The Child’s Love Affair
Biograph $500
1-23 Love, Lost and Liquor
Biograph $500
1-24 The Secret
Biograph $500
1-25 The Smoke of Dishonor
Biograph $500
1-26 The Hammer’s Pick
Biograph $500

DRAM.

1913.
10-8 A Tender-Hearted Crook
Biograph $1,000
10-8 The Sicilian’s Sons
Biograph $1,000
10-6 His Secret
Biograph $1,000
10-6 A Man the Way
Biograph $1,000
10-18 The Girl Across the Way
Biograph $1,000
10-19 The Dain and Dana
Biograph $1,000
10-11 The Clock Stopped
Biograph $1,000
10-11 The Mystery
Biograph $1,000
10-11 Old Compositions
Biograph $1,000
10-11 The Place for Pimpernel
Biograph $1,000
10-11 His Inspiration
Biograph $1,000
10-12 The Detective’s Stratagem
Biograph $1,000
10-12 By Man’s Law
Biograph $1,000
10-12 All For Science
Biograph $1,000
10-12 The Blue or the Black
Biograph $1,000
12-4 The Birthday Ring
Biograph $1,000
12-4 The Jester Element
Biograph $1,000
12-4 The Capturing of David Dunne
Biograph $1,000
12-12 A House of Discord
Biograph $1,000
12-12 Beyond All Law
Biograph $1,000
12-20 The Conscience of Hasinny Bay
Biograph $1,000
12-20 The Conscience of Hasinny Bay
Biograph $1,000
12-25 Her Wedding Bell
Biograph $1,000
12-25 Her Wedding Bell
Biograph $1,000
1914.
1-11 The Abandoned Well
Biograph $1,000
1-11 His Father’s House
Biograph $1,000
1-10 The Retired Crown
Biograph $1,000
1-12 Concentration
Biograph $1,000
1-17 Walls
Biograph $1,000
1-12 The Sentimental Sister
Biograph $1,000
1-12 The Husband’s Experiment
Biograph $1,000
1-12 His Father’s Conscience
Biograph $1,000
2-14 A Nest Unfeathered
Biograph $1,000
2-14 A Nest Unfeathered
Biograph $1,000
2-21 Crinolines and Reform
Biograph $1,000
2-26 The Massacre
Biograph $2,000
3-7 A Bun of Flowers
Biograph $1,000
3-7 Children of Destiny
Biograph $1,000
3-7 Bundt Land
Biograph $1,000
3-12 Her Hand
Biograph $1,000
3-12 The Woman or the Man
Biograph $1,000
3-19 The Restless Woman
Biograph $1,000
3-9 The Legend of the Old District Attorney
Biograph $1,000
3-30 An Hour of Terror
Biograph $1,000
3-28 The Battle at Eldorado Gulch
Biograph $2,000
3-30 The Doctor’s Trust
Biograph $1,000
4-2 The Burglar’s Sacrifice
Biograph $1,000
4-6 The Master of the Strong
Biograph $1,000
4-9 When a Woman Guides
Biograph $1,000
4-11 Hickelie’s Finest
Biograph $1,000
4-11 Rings and Robbers
Biograph $500
4-11 The Bondage of Fear
Biograph $1,000
4-16 Melody and Art
Biograph $1,000
4-18 Ambitious Pa
Biograph $500
4-20 The Star
Biograph $500
4-23 Run in the House
Biograph $500
4-23 The Tango Flat
Biograph $500
4-23 The Final Forecast
Biograph $500
4-30 The Soul of the Desert
Biograph $1,000
5-2 Her Boy Snoop
Biograph $1,000
5-4 The Saving Presence
Biograph $1,000
5-9 Under the Skin
Biograph $1,000
5-14 Her Mother’s Weakness
Biograph $1,000
5-23 The Road to Pandale
Biograph $1,000
5-28 The Science of Crime
Biograph $2,000
5-28 The Science of Crime
Biograph $2,000
6-1 Death’s Witnesses
Biograph $1,000
6-8 The Ethics of the Profession
Biograph $1,000
6-18 Opal’s Gait
Biograph $1,000
6-18 Her Neighbors Next Door
Biograph $1,000
6-20 By the Old Dead Tree
Biograph $1,000
6-20 By the Old Dead Tree
Biograph $1,000
6-25 The Ragamuffin
Biograph $1,000
November 7, 1914.

MOTOGRAPHY

(Edison-Essanay)

EDUCATIONAL.

101-10 Bird of the Southern Sea Coast.................Edison 1,000
101-12 Theodore Roosevelt......................Edison 1,000
101-15 Camel with the Blackfeet...............Edison 1,000
101-17 South African Whaling Industry.........Edison 1,000
122-14 Products of the Palm—The Banana and Coconaut.................Edison 350
17-1 A Fairy Tale..................South Africa 425
9-15 Making a Convert..................South Africa 1,500

SCENIC.

101-10 Damascus and the Ruins of Baalbek...........Edison 470
101-12 Italian Industry..................Edison 470
11-13 Wild Wales..................Edison 470
11-14 Davy Crockett in Tennessee............Edison 450
11-15 The Joining of the Oceans, the Panama Canal, October,.......Edison 300
13-18 A Winter Hike..................Switzerland 500
6-24 On the Coast of the Isthmus..............Edison 400
8-26 The South African Mines..................Edison 450

9-1 The New York Police Department Carnival.................Edison 1,000
9-14 Generals of the Future..................Edison 500

Essanay Film Manufacturing Company (521 First National Bldg., Chicago, Illinois)

COMEDY.

10-12 A Successful Failure..................Edison 1,000
10-13 A Nobody's Success..................Edison 1,000
10-19 Love and the Law..................Edison 1,000
10-15 Their Waterloo..................Edison 1,000

10-16 A Borrowed Idlety..................Edison 1,000
10-18 Alkali Ike and the Wildman...............Edison 1,000
10-19 Why Three..........................Edison 1,000
11-3 Their Wives' Indiscretion............Edison 1,000
11-5 This is How Laughs Are Made...............Edison 1,000
11-15 Alkali Ike's Autograph................Edison 1,000
11-19 The Odd Fellow..................Edison 1,000
11-24 The Lost Pounds..................Edison 1,000
11-28 Sophie's Hero..................Edison 1,000
11-29 The Knight of New York..............Edison 1,000
12-10 Smithy's Grandma Party................Edison 1,000
12-12 The Scarecrow of New England........Edison 1,000
12-17 Hello Trouble..................Edison 1,000
12-25 That Old Man's Call................Edison 1,000
12-27 A Snakeville Courtship...............Edison 1,000
12-30 What Love Is in the Desert...........Edison 1,000
12-31 The Awakening of Snakeville........Edison 1,000
12-32 Snakeville's New Doctor...............Edison 1,000
12-34 Life's Last Laugh..................Edison 1,000
12-35 Looking for Trouble................Edison 1,000
12-36 One Idea After All................Edison 1,000
12-39 What Time to Eat "O"...............Edison 1,000
12-39 The Girl at the Curtain................Edison 1,000
12-40 The Most Interesting Date............Edison 1,000
12-41 Miss Millie's Valentine.............Edison 1,000
12-43 "Presto" Willis, Magician..............Edison 1,000
12-44 Sophie's Birthday Party..............Edison 1,000
12-45 Life of the Party..................Edison 1,000
12-47 Grass County Goes Dry................Edison 1,000
13-10 City of the Dead..................Edison 1,000
13-12 Lucky in Odd Numbers...............Edison 1,000
13-14 Too Late in Time..................Edison 1,000
13-24 The Love Route via Pittman............Edison 1,000
13-25 Bridgit Bridges It..................Edison 1,000
13-26 Other Quarantine..................Edison 1,000
13-28 The Coming of Sophie's "Mamma"........Edison 1,000
13-29 The Bargain Hunter..................Edison 1,000
13-30 Snakeville's New Sheriff..............Edison 1,000
13-31 The Chief of Police................Edison 1,000
13-32 Pick for Sophie..................Edison 1,000
13-35 Bendy Billy's Case..............Edison 1,000
13-36 Making Him Over for Minnie...........Edison 1,000
13-37 A Snakeville Epidemic...............Edison 1,000
13-38 A Real Life..................Edison 1,000
13-39 Three Little POWers...............Edison 1,000
13-40 The Living Slim of the Desert........Edison 1,000
13-42 Actor Finney's Finish................Edison 1,000
13-43 Snakeville Romance................Edison 1,000
13-44 Pat Casey's Case..................Edison 1,000
13-45 Sophie Starts Something.............Edison 1,000
13-48 The Klondike Girl..................Edison 1,000
13-49 Sophie Pulls a Good One..............Edison 1,000
13-50 This Is the Life..................Edison 1,000
13-51 The Snakeville Volunteer..............Edison 1,000
13-52 The little "I'll And She"............Edison 1,000
13-57 The Fable of the Brash Drummer and the Mating Game.................Edison 1,000
13-58 The Woos of Sophie................Edison 1,000
13-59 The Epidemic..................Edison 1,000
13-60 Sophie Finds a Husband.............Edison 1,000
13-61 The Fable of "The Three Old Men"........Edison 1,000
13-62 Sophie Gets Sumptuous..............Edison 1,000
13-63 Sophie Gets Married............Edison 1,000
13-64 A Boarding House Scramble............Edison 1,000
13-65 Slim, the Living Slim................Edison 1,000
13-66 The Fable of "Napoleon and the Bumps"........Edison 1,000
13-67 Snakeville's New Will..............Edison 1,000
13-70 Money Talks..................Edison 1,000
13-71 In the Arlington's Fifth Floor......Edison 1,000
13-72 The Fable of "Higher Education That Was Too High for the Old Man"........Edison 1,000
13-73 Slimmy Slim's Inheritance.............Edison 1,000
13-74 Sweddel and the Lord..............Edison 1,000
13-75 Snakeville's Home Guard.............Edison 1,000
13-76 The "Derby Out"..................Edison 1,000
8-5 The Fable of the "Prince of Persia"........Edison 1,000
8-6 Slimmy Slim's Wife................Edison 1,000
8-10 Topsy-Turvy Sweetie..............Edison 1,000
8-11 Sophie Finds a Heir..............Edison 1,000
12-12 The Fable of "The Manoeuvres of Joel and Father's................Edison 1,000
12-13 The telegram Slim and His Tombstone........Edison 1,000
12-28 The False Alarm..................Edison 1,000
12-29 Slimmy Slim and the Claim Agent........Edison 1,000
12-30 This Is the Life..................Edison 1,000
12-25 The Fable of the Difference Between the Learning and theдж. Edison 1,000
13-27 Slimmy Slim and the Fortune Teller........Edison 1,000
13-28 Love and Soda..................Edison 1,000
13-29 Love of the Regular Blonde and the Peacocks Newton........Edison 1,000
13-30 The Autumn Mystery................Edison 1,000
13-31 The Plump One..................Edison 1,000
9-1 When They Doubled the Desertville........Edison 1,000
9-7 When Knights Were Bold................Edison 1,000
13-29 The Fable of "The Honeycomb That Tried to Come Back"........Edison 1,000
13-35 Snakesville's Most Popular Lady........Edison 1,000
13-36 The Pupil Recruit..................Edison 1,000
13-37 The Fable of "Lute, the False Alarm"........Edison 1,000
13-38 Sophie's Legacy..................Edison 1,000
9-21 Sophie's Skate..................Edison 1,000
9-22 The Fable of a "Cigarette and the Peachy Nectar"........Edison 1,000
9-23 Topsy-Turvy Slim and the Fortune Teller........Edison 1,000
9-24 Slimmy Slim and the Green-Eyed Monster........Edison 1,000

TROPICAL.

3-11 The Improvised Snowplow.............Edison 400
3-15 The Snowman..........................Edison 400
3-17 A Million Dollars..................Edison 400
3-18 The Snowman..........................Edison 400
3-19 The New York Police Department Carnival.................Edison 1,000
9-14 Generals of the Future..................Edison 500

9-15 Their Waterloo..................Edison 1,000
9-16 A Borrowed Idlety..................Edison 1,000
9-18 Alkali Ike and the Wildman...............Edison 1,000
9-19 Why Three..........................Edison 1,000
9-21 The Fable of "Lute, the False Alarm"........Edison 1,000
9-24 Slimmy Slim and the Green-Eyed Monster........Edison 1,000
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>No.</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>An Angel Unaware</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-3</td>
<td>The Elder Brother</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-4</td>
<td>Broncho Billy's Heavenly Love</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-5</td>
<td>Jane</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-6</td>
<td>The Song in the Highlands</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-13</td>
<td>Broncho Billy and the Mine Shark</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-19</td>
<td>Finger Print</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-20</td>
<td>Broncho Billy, Outlaw</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-23</td>
<td>The Countess</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-27</td>
<td>Broncho Billy's Jealousy</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-29</td>
<td>Days of the Conquered Man</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7-4</td>
<td>Broncho Billy's Punishment</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7-16</td>
<td>Broncho Billy Puts One Over</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7-18</td>
<td>Broncho Billy and the Miner</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7-19</td>
<td>The Seventh Prejudge</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-14</td>
<td>A Gentleman of Leisure</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-15</td>
<td>Broncho Billy Wins Out.</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-18</td>
<td>The Black Signal</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-22</td>
<td>Broncho Billy's Wild Ride</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-27</td>
<td>Broncho Billy</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-28</td>
<td>Seven Sealed Orders</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-29</td>
<td>Broncho Billy's Indian Romance</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8-34</td>
<td>Broncho Billy, the Cowboy's Favorite</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-6</td>
<td>Under Royal Patronage</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-8</td>
<td>Bill's Boy</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-12</td>
<td>Broncho Billy, the Gambler</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-14</td>
<td>Broncho Billy, a Friend in Need</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-16</td>
<td>The Day of His Father</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-18</td>
<td>Sparks of Fate</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-19</td>
<td>Broncho Billy Butt's In.</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9-25</td>
<td>A Splendid Dishonor</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10-25</td>
<td>The Strategy of Broncho Billy's Brother</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Educational

3-31 Canning Industry in California                                  | $1.00 |

Scenic

2-17 To Alaska via the Great Rivers of the North                     | $1.00 |

Topical

12-24 Glimpses of Rio de Janeiro                                     | $1.00 |
12-24 Ascending Snow-Top Mountain                                    | $1.00 |

Kalem Company

233 West 33rd Street, New York

Comedy

10-3 And the Watch Came Back                                          | $1.00 |
10-17 The Troublesome Telephone                                        | $1.00 |
10-24 Betty Rumple and the Bad Man                                    | $1.00 |
10-26 The Cyclops                                                      | $1.00 |
11-7 Tighten's Present                                                | $1.00 |
11-14 The Pickle Freak                                               | $1.00 |
11-18 Missing Massachu...                                             | $1.00 |
11-21 The Lassodess and the Lady                                      | $1.00 |
11-27 The Good Old Man                                                | $1.00 |
12-5 White Father Telephones                                           | $1.00 |
12-7 Billy's Bunkhouse                                                | $1.00 |
12-16 Frayed Feathers' Adventures                                     | $1.00 |
12-26 Emancipated Women                                               | $1.00 |
12-27 A Board Bill                                                    | $1.00 |
19 The Joke on June                                                   | $1.00 |
19-30 Only One Shirt                                                  | $1.00 |
1-31 Last They Eat                                                   | $1.00 |
1-36 The Medicine Show at Stone Gulch                                | $1.00 |
1-39 Vaccinating the Village                                          | $1.00 |
1-43 The Gun Behind the Man                                           | $1.00 |
1-47 Out in the Rain                                                  | $1.00 |
1-54 The Fatal Flames                                               | $1.00 |
1-63 The Many Jugglers                                              | $1.00 |
1-67 A Bottled Romance                                               | $1.00 |
1-72 The Secret War                                                  | $1.00 |
1-78 Hiram's Hotel                                                    | $1.00 |
1-85 Her Fallen Hero                                                  | $1.00 |
1-91 Hot for a Dollar                                                | $1.00 |
1-97 The Family Skeleton                                              | $1.00 |
1-100 The Villain Still Pursued Him                                  | $1.00 |
1-101 Professor Oldboy's Rejuvenator                                | $1.00 |
1-103 The Transfiguration Count                                      | $1.00 |
1-108 Gentile Gets the Cash                                          | $1.00 |
1-115 From the Night Off.                                             | $1.00 |
1-121 Young Man's Night Off.                                          | $1.00 |
1-126 Stump Ditto                                                     | $1.00 |
1-127 Dippy's Dream                                                   | $1.00 |
1-138 The Blind Bird                                                 | $1.00 |
1-144 Darktown Wooling                                                | $1.00 |
1-149 Ossian and the Mirror                                          | $1.00 |
1-149 Tight Shoes                                                    | $1.00 |
1-149 And the Dance On                                                 | $1.00 |
1-149 For the Whirlwind Man                                           | $1.00 |
1-149 The Box Car Bride                                              | $1.00 |
1-149 In the Wages of Sin                                            | $1.00 |
1-149 An Elopement in Rome                                            | $1.00 |
1-149 The Return of the Vagabond Man                                  | $1.00 |
1-149 Rube, the Interloper                                            | $1.00 |
1-149 Wanted, an Hero.                                               | $1.00 |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Duration</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>11-30</td>
<td>The Story of the White Light</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12-22</td>
<td>The Shadow</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1-22</td>
<td>The Shadow</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1-25</td>
<td>The Shadow</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1-30</td>
<td>The Shadow</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2-12</td>
<td>The Hidden Hand</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2-26</td>
<td>The Hideout</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-3</td>
<td>The Outdoor Art</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-12</td>
<td>The Parakeet</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-14</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-15</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-28</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-15</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-1</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-10</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-12</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-14</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-16</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-17</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-23</td>
<td>The Peril of the White Lights</td>
<td>2,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Exhibitors will never find anything in Motography that they can't approve. It is the "safe and sane" publication non-partisan and fair to all interests. It is not a "house organ."
George Kleine
116 W. State St., Chicago.

COMEDY
2-1 The Marriage of Figaro... Ambrosia 2,000
2-2 Winning a Wife... Kleine-Celio 1,000

DRAMA
12-2 Venomous Tongues... Cello 1,850
2-2 The Black Circle... Kleine-Celio 2,800
9-9 Life in a Hidden Dance... Kleine-Celio 2,000
17-2 The Artist's Model... Kleine-Celio 2,500
3-2 The Maze of Black Mist... Kleine-Celio 2,500
12-3 The Land of Promise... Kleine-Celio 2,500
13-3 Fountain of the Baptist... Kleine-Celio 2,500
6-9 The Trap-Door Club... Kleine-Celio 2,000
6-12 His Symphony... Kleine-Celio 2,000
6-24 The Sobering Up... Kleine-Celio 2,000
6-30 The Bondage of Evil... Kleine-Celio 2,000
7-26 A Slight Case... Kleine-Celio 2,000
7-28 In Temptation's Toll... Kleine-Celio 2,000
8-11 The Forbidden Trail... Kleine-Celio 2,000

DRAMA.
10-7 The Flower of Destiny... Cines 2,000
15-20 The Switchman's Mistake... Kleine-Cines 2,150
15-21 The Wreath of Justice... Kleine-Cines 2,000
11-4 Zuma the Gypsy... Kleine-Cines 2,000
11-11 The Penalty... Kleine-Cines 2,000
11-12 The Telltale Handkerchief... Kleine-Cines 2,000
11-18 For Love of a Toreador... Cines 2,000
12-18 When the Sea Sleeps... Cines 2,000
12-9 The Stolen Legacy... Kleine-Cines 2,000
12-19 My Sunken Treasure... Kleine-Cines 2,000
12-23 At Cross Purposes... Kleine-Cines 2,000
12-30 When a Woman Wills... Kleine-Cines 2,000
13-11 Simple Love... Kleine-Cines 2,000
13-11 The Heart of a Gypsy... Kleine-Cines 2,000
2-10 After Death... Kleine-Cines 2,000
2-24 The Million-Acre Field... Kleine-Cines 3,000
3-5 The Diamond-Maker... Kleine-Cines 2,000
3-15 Barren Grounds... Kleine-Cines 2,000
3-10 The Greatest Gift... Kleine-Cines 2,000
3-17 Gypsy Love... Kleine-Cines 2,000
4-7 A Son of the Sea... Kleine-Cines 2,500
4-14 The Secret Vault... Kleine-Cines 2,000
4-21 The Folly of a Lifetime... Kleine-Cines 2,000
4-28 The Wedding Present... Kleine-Cines 2,000
5-11 The Exploits of Mr. J. J.... Kleine-Cines 2,000
5-12 The Toreador's Romance... Kleine-Cines 2,000
5-19 The Cigarette Maker of Seville... Kleine-Cines 2,000
9-1 The Man Who Has Everything... Kleine-Cines 2,000
9-22 The Master Force... Kleine-Cines 2,000
9-23 A Midnight Visitor... Kleine-Cines 2,000
7-7 Heirloom... Kleine-Cines 2,000
7-14 Royal Actresses... Kleine-Cines 2,000
7-21 The Stronger Tie... Kleine-Cines 2,000
8-1 European Pictures in Action... Kleine-Cines 3,000
8-4 When War Threatens... Kleine-Cines 3,000
8-10 The Secret of the Ring... Kleine-Cines 3,000
8-16 The Island of Terror... Kleine-Cines 3,000
8-25 To Forgive Divine... Kleine-Cines 3,000
8-28 A Dream of Vastissimo... Kleine-Cines 3,000
9-15 When Youth Meets Youth... Kleine-Cines 2,000
9-29 A Shot from Ambush... Kleine-Cines 2,075

COMEDY.
11-17 A Dog Detective... Kleine-Eclipse 400
11-17 A Quiet Place to Read... Kleine-Eclipse 300
2-2 Trouble on the Stage... Kleine-Eclipse 1,051
2-17 Wrecked in Mid-Air... Kleine-Eclipse 1,000
2-17 Coals of Fire... Kleine-Eclipse 1,000
2-16 The Island of Terror... Kleine-Eclipse 1,352
2-16 Anne Boleyn... Kleine-Eclipse 3,052
6-2 Trapped by Wireless... Kleine-Eclipse 2,000
6-24 A Kingdom at Stake... Kleine-Eclipse 2,700

EDUCATIONAL.
11-17 A Study in Astronomy... Kleine-Eclipse 275
15-16 Picturesque Waterfalls of France... Kleine-Eclipse 300
3-20 Passing Through... Kleine-Eclipse 183
5-30 Little Drops of Water... Kleine-Eclipse 800

Lubin Manufacturing Company
20th St. and Indiana Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

COLORED FILMS.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Studio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 4</td>
<td>2-9</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Mistress of His House</td>
<td>2-12</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Soldier of the S. A.</td>
<td>2-13</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Uphill Climb</td>
<td>2-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Through the Centuries</td>
<td>2-17</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That Shanty Town</td>
<td>2-20</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Memories</td>
<td>2-20</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 3</td>
<td>2-24</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Cynic</td>
<td>2-27</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baby's Birthday</td>
<td>2-27</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tested by Fire</td>
<td>2-30</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Artic Above</td>
<td>2-30</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tragedy of the Streets</td>
<td>3-1</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Smugler's Sister</td>
<td>3-3</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Countess and the Coachman</td>
<td>3-3</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Little Lilian Turns the Tide</td>
<td>3-5</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Renegade's Vengeance</td>
<td>3-5</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 4</td>
<td>3-9</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Suppressed News</td>
<td>3-10</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Speedway</td>
<td>3-10</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kid Pink and the Maharajah</td>
<td>3-12</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Druggist's Fiasco</td>
<td>3-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Better Way</td>
<td>3-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Story of Venus</td>
<td>3-17</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Case on the Best</td>
<td>3-18</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two Little Vagabonds</td>
<td>3-20</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In Remembrance</td>
<td>3-24</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Captain Care</td>
<td>3-26</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Story of Cub</td>
<td>3-27</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Salvation of Nancy</td>
<td>3-30</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>O'Connellness</td>
<td>3-30</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When Thieves Fall Out</td>
<td>4-1</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Story of David</td>
<td>4-21</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Bond of Love</td>
<td>4-3</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 9</td>
<td>5-6</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Ruins</td>
<td>5-8</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fire</td>
<td>5-9</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Cherry Picker</td>
<td>5-13</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Romance of the Forest</td>
<td>5-14</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reuben's Rescue</td>
<td>5-14</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Flirt's Reappearance</td>
<td>5-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 10</td>
<td>5-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The girl She Did</td>
<td>5-19</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two Girls</td>
<td>5-9</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Night</td>
<td>5-11</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Sword of Stockwell</td>
<td>5-15</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Tolstoy of Madness</td>
<td>5-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 11</td>
<td>5-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Tramp</td>
<td>5-21</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baby Spy</td>
<td>5-23</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dawn</td>
<td>5-27</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Girl Behind the Barrier</td>
<td>5-30</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 12</td>
<td>6-3</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Shep Runners</td>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dumbagge</td>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rose O'My Heart</td>
<td>6-6</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judge Dunn's Decision</td>
<td>6-10</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Doctor's Mistake</td>
<td>6-10</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When the Night Came</td>
<td>6-13</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Adventures of Kathlyn, No. 13</td>
<td>6-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How Lone Wolf Died</td>
<td>6-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In the Reins</td>
<td>6-19</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Girl at His Side</td>
<td>6-20</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Letter of Bill</td>
<td>6-20</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Someone's Sister</td>
<td>6-24</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Captain's Chair</td>
<td>6-26</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Right to Run</td>
<td>6-26</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Leopard's Round</td>
<td>6-29</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Man of Men</td>
<td>6-30</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Empty Sleeve</td>
<td>7-1</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Little House</td>
<td>7-1</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Reporter Jimmie</td>
<td>7-7</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Enchanted</td>
<td>7-7</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Treasure of the Mountains</td>
<td>7-7</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>His Rights</td>
<td>7-11</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Wilderness Mail</td>
<td>7-13</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The War Appeal</td>
<td>7-16</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Squatters</td>
<td>7-18</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Woman Laughs</td>
<td>7-26</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Sealed Package</td>
<td>7-27</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Substituted Heart</td>
<td>7-27</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Footprint in the Snow</td>
<td>7-28</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Muff</td>
<td>7-28</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Mother Heart</td>
<td>7-28</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Love vs. Pride</td>
<td>7-28</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edge of the Dark</td>
<td>8-2</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Ordeal</td>
<td>8-4</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Reporter of Cal</td>
<td>8-4</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carmelina's Revenge</td>
<td>8-8</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Jungle Samaritan</td>
<td>8-18</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Family Record</td>
<td>8-18</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nan's Victory</td>
<td>8-18</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Knock on the Wall</td>
<td>8-19</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>If at First You Don't Succeed</td>
<td>8-19</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Woman's Life</td>
<td>8-21</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What Became of Jane?</td>
<td>8-22</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The White Moon</td>
<td>8-25</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Sealed Oasis</td>
<td>8-25</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Decision of Jim O'Farrell</td>
<td>8-29</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Harbor of Despair</td>
<td>8-31</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Who Killed George Graves?</td>
<td>8-31</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Crucible</td>
<td>8-6</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pawn Ticket &quot;91&quot;</td>
<td>9-3</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The West End</td>
<td>9-4</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Typographical Error</td>
<td>9-8</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Man in Black</td>
<td>9-9</td>
<td>Selig</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Princess Film Company
New Rochelle, N. Y.

Princess Film Company

COMEDY.

10-18 Oh What a Night
10-24 Twenty Men and a Mule (Series I)
11-29 Two Men and a Mule (Series 2)
11-30 Long Live Our Cure
11-8 Two Men and a Mule (Series 3)
12-16 The Eighth Man
12-10 His Awful Vengeance
12-15 Seeing Stars and Stripes
12-17 The Wanted Man
12-18 For His Master
12-31 Thinning of the Herd
12-22 The Idler
12-24 Amusing Mrs. Sue
12-27 The Mysterious Shot
12-23 The Godfather
12-30 Old Man
12-26 The Return of Cal. Clausen
12-19 State of the Police
12-9 The Broken Bottle
12-17 Deputy Sheriff's Wife
12-15 Dad's Outlaws
12-14 The Girl in the Shack
12-16 The Golden Dross
12-20 Izy the Operator
12-21 For the Sake of Kate
12-27 The Angel of the Gutch
12-20 Silent Sand's Delivery Romance
12-19 A Pair of Cuffs
12-19 The Rosebud of Memories
12-19 The Cowboy's Chancy Dinner
12-12 Dan Morgan's Way
12-8 The Horse Wrangles
12-17 The Peach Brand
12-21 Stolen Cobbler
12-20 Izy's Night Off
12-20 Island of Paluma
12-27 Hobbie's Plot
12-17 Izy, the Detective
12-17 How Izy Was Saved
12-19 A Time from Nothing
12-22 Izy and the Diamond
12-30 The Girl Around the Corner
12-19 Izy Gets the Wrong Bottle

DRAMA.

Our Mutual Girl, approximately 1,000 feet in length, released Monday of each week, Nos. 1 to 37 inclusive, January 19, 1914.

10-1 Makers and Spenders
10-4 Targons of Fate
10-4 The Fuguer
10-8 Once Upon a Time
10-14 The Relentless
10-13 Poor Old Mother
10-9 The Scoundrel
10-18 A Knight Errant
10-35 The Heart of a Rose
10-35 Hearts
10-29 The Real Mother
10-9 The Colonel's Only
12-5 The Dress of Lotti
12-5 The Power of the Sea
12-11 The Bracelet
12-11 A Love of a Man
12-11 A Man and a Woman
12-11 Her Father's Daughter
12-11 My Other Woman
12-26 A Rough Diamond
12-26 Blackbeard's Queen
12-26 Tony's Sacrifice
12-26 The Woman of the Money
12-26 For Another's Crime
12-26 Izy's Love
12-26 Two Girls of the Hills
12-26 For $100 Million
12-26 "A Man's a Man"
12-26 The Mighty Atom
12-27 The Pseudo Product
12-22 The Fly Leaf of Fate
12-24 The Alternative
12-21 Robinson's Gratitude
12-29 Daybreak
1-5 The Looter
1-7 The Sacrifice
1-10 The Psychological Moment
1-12 The Hogan's Diner Dinner
1-15 The Two Slaves
1-14 The Faith of English Patriots
1-17 The Man
1-24 The Hidden Crime
1-24 The Man's Love
1-31 Too Proud to Beg
1-24 The Idler
1-24 A Working Girl's Romance
1-24 The Interrupted Sale
1-24 The Musician's Wife
1-28 The Green Eyed Devil
1-28 The American Across the Board
1-37 When Fate Favors
1-37 At the Brink of the Well
1-36 Izy
1-34 Red the Mediator
1-34 Henry No. 2
1-30 Izy's Big Chance
1-31 Blue Pete's Escape
1-16 How Izy Stuck to His Post
1-25 The Saving of Young Anderson
1-26 The High Grade
1-19 How the Kid Went Over the Range
1-29 The Sheriff's Prisoner

TOPICAL.

10-17 The Final Game
"THE MASTER KEY"

Not the CHEAPEST Serial
But the GREATEST!

"THE MASTER KEY" is the most massive, the MOST EXPENSIVE serial ever made. Naturally, it isn't the cheapest. You will have to pay extra money for it, but you won't mind because (a) we didn't mind paying tremendous extra amounts on the production cost of every reel and (b) that extra expenditure has resulted in a picture that will get you EXTRA PROFITS. And you don't mind paying for extra profits! So cheerfully pay whatever figure your exchange man must ask because of "MASTER KEY'S" immense production cost, and be thankful that it's not the cheapest BUT THE GREATEST!

Greatest, because John Fleming Wilson (its author) turned in a story that he frankly thought we couldn't produce as a film. Mr. Wilson honestly didn't think that we would undertake to put "THE MASTER KEY'S" feats, thrills and realism into an actual motion picture, where all those elements would have to be "acted out"—genuinely portrayed, thrill for thrill, stunt for stunt! When we did undertake to find the directors and actors who could do such a play, ARTHUR WILSON WAS THE MOST SURPRISED MAN IN THE WORLD. And when with the "first print" of Reel One, we proved to him that we had visualized his thrill-masterpiece, Mr. Wilson was so fascinated that we had to run that reel for him again and again!

The wonderful acting of Robert Leonard and Ella Hall completely captivated Author Wilson. He said that he found in them the exact types of hero and heroine he tried to describe in "THE MASTER KEY." He said that we had reproduced his entire weird theme WITH MORE REALISM THAN HIS WRITTEN STORY DID. Since there is a difference between writing of a thing AND PRODUCING IT IN ACTUAL MOTION PICTURES you will appreciate with Mr. Wilson, Universal's feat! "THE MASTER KEY" appears in fifteen weekly numbers. The leading newspaper of America prints the story. "THE MASTER KEY" starts week of November 16. See the nearest Universal exchange TO-DAY.

Universal Film Manufacturing Co.
"Largest Film Manufacturing Concern in the Universe"
1600 Broadway, New York
Carl Laemmle, President
2-20 Love's Victory
2-23 Remember Me, Mamie
2-27 The Stepmother
2-31 A Counterfeit Courtesan
3-4 The Man on the Batten
3-6 The Nemesis That Passed
3-8 A Man's World and Ways
3-10 The Acid Test
3-12 A Drunkard's Wake
3-13 A Woman's Honor
3-27 Diplomatic Flirt
3-30 Mantrapped
4-3 Grandadddy's Granddaughter
4-7 Babes on the Block
5-1 Who's Who?
5-29 A Twentieth Century Mullet
7-24 Irene's Busy Week
9-11 A Mysterious Mystery
9-7 Little Meg and I
9-25 Elsie's Uncle

DRAMMA.
1-9 Admiration Two Pins
1-10 Utopian Urchmen
2-6 Irene, the Onion Easter's Daughter
3-15 Votes for Men
3-13 The Honeymeum
3-26 That Boy from Missouri
4-16 The Little Mail Carrier
4-11 The Bolted Door
5-20 The Lio

EDUCATIONAL.
4-24 The Daughter of a Crook
4-27 Broken Vows
5-8 As Fate Willed
5-18 The Pawn of Destiny
5-11 Tollers of the Sea
5-16 A Million in Pearls
5-18 A Call from Rosebud
5-22 Disenchanted
5-25 The Sheep Herder
6-3 Goldwater's Gift
6-5 The Doctor's Testimony
6-12 Emergent Guardians
6-15 The Sandhill Lovers
6-26 The Slaves' Romance
7-7 A Ragged Knight
7-10 As Mexico's Mercy
7-20 Value Received
7-21 Out of the Wild
7-21 The Mad Man's Ward
8-5 Mama's Brother
8-7 The Coast Guard's Bride
8-12 The Quest
8-14 Honor of the Hammer
8-17 Weights and Measures
8-24 The Man from No-Where
8-31 The Man from No-Where
9-10 The Debut and the Man
9-18 The Girl and the Smuggler
9-14 A Gentleman from Kentucky

TOPICAL.
1-26 Dances of Today
7-1 Pan-American Exposition Up to Date
9-21 Rome

UNIVERSAL FEATURES.

The Sky Monster
The Spy
Washington at Valley Forge

INDEPENDENT FILMS.

Gaumont Company
110 W. 40th St, New York, N. Y.

MOTOGRAHY

1-15 Tiny Tim the Fisherman
1-27 Calino as a Stage Prompter
2-25 Oscar Wins the Shopgirl

DRAMA.
10-7 A Chorus Girl's Romance
10-14 Snatched from Death
10-21 Dolly's Straggler
10-25 The Gambler's Run
10-28 The Accusing Eyes
10-31 Mexican Pearl smuggler
11-4 The Interrupted Message
11-8 The Duke's Heirness
11-11 The Bank Messenger
11-13 The Heart of a Doll
11-23 Mary Saves the Day
11-27 The Little Peacemaker
12-2 The Living Doll
12-9 Dolly Saves Her Grandmother
12-9 A Terrible Dream
2-3 The Obsession

EDUCATIONAL.
1-27 Excursion in Old Paris

SCENIC.
10-9 Casablanca, in Picturesque Morocco

Great Northern Film Company
110 W. 40th St, New York.

COMEDY.
10-11 Caught in His Own Trap

DRAMA.
10-4 A Good Catch
10-19 The Prophet
10-18 A Husband's Strategy
10-13 The Secret of the Small Corner
11-15 In the Bonds of Passion
11-23 Hard Luck
11-1 A Dilemma
11-8 A Beguised Hero

EDUCATIONAL.
10-11 The Baltic Sea
11-1 An Isle in the Baltic Sea

R. Prieur
110 W. 40th St, New York.

COMEDY.
10-3 Mary's Neighbor

DRAMA.
10-10 The New Governor

Solax Company
Lemoine Ave, Pt. Lee, N. J.

COMEDY.
10-1 The Tale of a Cat
10-8 The Little Householder
10-10 Handcrafted for Life
10-17 A Woman's Last
10-24 Ish Gd Bible
10-31 The Movies

FEATURE PROGRAMS.

All Star Feature Corporation
220 W. 42d St, New York, N. Y.

Dun

Dan

Pierre de Plimsoll
The Nightingale
The Education of Mr. Pip

The Little Husbands

Rasell

Simon's Last

The Good House

Dad

The Education of Mr. Pip

All Star

All Star

All Star

All Star

All Star

All Star

All Star

All Star

All Star

All Star
Ambrosio American Company
15 E. 26th St., New York, N. Y.
The Angel of the Mine............ Ambrosio 3,000
The Magic Note.................. Ambrosio 4,000
The Boy Who Cried.............. Ambrosio 5,000
The Mystery of the Glass Cage Ambrosio 2,000

Apex Film Company
145 W. 45th St., New York, N. Y.

An Alpine Tragedy................ Apex 5,000
Blanche Against Brother......... Apex 4,000
Detective Hayes and the Duchess' "Diamonds" Apex 4,000
In the Hands of London Crooks.... Apex 4,000
Not Guilty....................... Apex 3,000
Our Neighbors From the West... Apex 4,000
Should a Woman Tell.............. Apex 4,000
The Library of the Dead........ Apex 4,000
The Little Devil Detective...... Apex 4,000
The Devil's Eye.................. Apex 4,000
The Dead Man Who Killed........ Apex 4,000
The Evil Eye..................... Apex 4,000
Through Fire to Fame............ Apex 4,000
The Midnight Marriage........... Apex 4,000
The Secret Name................ Apex 4,000
The Warden's Crime.............. Apex 4,000
The Suicide Club................ Apex 4,000
Queen of the Counterfeiter...... Apex 4,000

A Blinkhorn
110 W. 40th St., New York, N. Y.

A Throw of the Dice............. Blinkhorn 2,000
The Capture of a King Elephant Blinkhorn 2,000
The Cry of the Captive........... Blinkhorn 2,000
The Heart of Midlothian........ Blinkhorn 5,000
The Hunchback of Notre Dame... Blinkhorn 5,000
The Murdock Trial.............. Blinkhorn 4,000
The Old Curiosity Shop........... Blinkhorn 5,000
The Whirl of the Spinning Wheel Blinkhorn 2,000
Creatures of Clay.............. Hepworth American 3,000
The Terror of the Air........... Hepworth American 2,000
The Tragedy of Basil Grevée Hepworth 3,000

Bosworth, Incorporated
201 No. Occident Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif.
John Barleycorn................ Bosworth 5,000
Martin Eden..................... Bosworth 5,000
The Valley of the Moon........ Bosworth 6,000
The Odyssey of the North...... Bosworth 6,000
Blanche of the Blue Blood...... Bosworth 4,000
The Pursuit of the Phantom.... Bosworth 5,000

Eclectic Film Company
110 W. 40th St., New York, N. Y.

All Love Excelling................ Eclectic 3,000
A Pearl of the Punjab............ Eclectic 3,000
Detective Craig's Coop........... Eclectic 5,000
Faithful unto Death............. Eclectic 4,000
Giant's-White Sea World Tour. Eclectic 6,000
Jealousy........................ Eclectic 4,000
Loyalty......................... Eclectic 5,000
Nell Gwyn....................... Eclectic 4,000
The Hand of Destiny............. Eclectic 4,000
The Lion's Bride................ Eclectic 3,000
The Mystery of Desire........... Eclectic 4,000
The Reign of Terror............ Eclectic 6,000
The Reconning.................. Eclectic 5,000
The Royal Impostor.............. Eclectic 6,000
The Siren....................... Eclectic 6,000
The Stain....................... Eclectic 6,000
The Tempting of Justice....... Eclectic 5,000
The Trap....................... Eclectic 6,000
The Wail....................... Eclectic 6,000
War............................. Eclectic 5,000
War is Hell..................... Eclectic 4,000
Detective Swift.................. Eclectic 3,000
In the Lion's Den.............. Eclectic 3,000
The Woman Without a Heart... Eclectic 3,000
The Money Lender.............. Eclectic 5,000
While Fire Raged.............. Eclectic 5,000
Black Roderick................. Eclectic 2,000
When Honor Failed............ Eclectic 2,000
The Colonel's Wife............. Eclectic 3,000
War Stricken Lovers............ Eclectic 1,000

Exclusive Supply Corporation
220 W. 42d St., New York, N. Y.

A Woman's Treachery............... American Kineto 3,000
A Fight for Freedom.............. Blanche 4,000
Diplomacy........................ Black 4,000
Moonshiners.................... Blanche 4,000
The Woman of Mystery........... Blanche 4,000
The Yellow Traffic............. Blanche 4,000

Films Lloyds, Inc.,
220 W. 42d Street
New York, N. Y.

Brains for Rent!

The brains, plus the years of experience in all branches of the Motion Picture Business of Charles Feature Abrams and Joseph R. Miles who as Brokers and Representatives of Manufacturers, Exchanges, Importers and Exporters, want to serve you. Ask them how they can.

Famous Players Film Company
212 W. 26th St., New York, N. Y.

Aftermath.................. Famous Players 4,000
A Woman's Triumph........ Famous Players 4,000
One of Our Girls.............. Famous Players 4,000
The Better Man.............. Famous Players 4,000
The Brote................... Famous Players 4,000
The Eagle's Mate............ Famous Players 5,000
The Little Grey Lady...... Famous Players 4,000
The Lost Paradise........ Famous Players 5,000
The Port of Missing Men Famous Players 5,000
The Redemption of David Corson Famous Players 4,000
The Ring and the Man...... Famous Players 4,000
The Seals of Justice...... Famous Players 5,000
The Sotteries................. Famous Players 4,000
The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch Famous Players 4,000
Such a Little Queen...... Famous Players 5,000
Marta of the Lowlands...... Famous Players 5,000
Features Ideal

Buffy of the Vaudeville ..... Features Ideal 3,000
Criss Cross ..... Features Ideal 3,000
The Kentuckian ..... Features Ideal 3,000
The Life of the Party ..... Features Ideal 3,000
From Here to Eternity ..... Features Ideal 3,000
The Romance of the Red Poppy ..... Features Ideal 3,000

Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company

Longacre Theater Bldg., New York, N. Y.

The Squaw Man ..... Lasky 6,000
Brewster's Millions ..... Lasky 5,000
The Man on the Box ..... Lasky 5,000
The Only Son ..... Lasky 5,000
The Official Detective ..... Lasky 5,000
The Making of Hobart ..... Lasky 6,000
Where the Trail Divides ..... Lasky 5,000

Pasquali American Company, Incorporated

110 W. 40th St., New York, N. Y.

A Mexican Mine Fraud ..... Pasquali 5,000
The City of Promises of the Valley of Aosta ..... Pasquali 5,000
The Silent Bell ..... Pasquali 3,000
Leilah ..... Pasquali 3,000
The Oath of a Viking ..... Pasquali 3,000
The Next in Command ..... Pasquali 3,000
The Film Detective ..... Pasquali 4,000
The Mystery of the Poison Pool ..... Pasquali 5,000
The Hound of the Baskervilles ..... Pasquali 5,000
The Desperado of Panama ..... Pasquali 3,000
For King and Country ..... Pasquali 6,000

World Film Corporation

130 W. 46th St., New York, N. Y.

For the Honor of Old Glory ..... World 4,000
In Search of the Castaways ..... World 4,000
The Brass Bottle ..... World 4,000
The Chinaman ..... World 5,000
The Kanga Tree ..... World 5,000
The Lights of London ..... World 3,000
Kis the Movie ..... World 3,000
The Master Criminal ..... World 4,000
The Outlaw Reforms ..... World 4,000
Witch of the Teachery ..... World 2,000
The World, the Flesh and the Devil ..... World 6,000
Uncle Tom's Cabin ..... World 5,000
Gentlemen ..... World 1,000
Jess of the Mountain Country ..... World 4,000
The Light of Life ..... World 9,000
Protea II ..... World 5,000
To the Last Man ..... World 5,000
Mother ..... World 5,000
The Man from Mississippi ..... World 5,000
The Man of the Hour ..... World 5,000
The Mexican ..... World 5,000
Amendola ..... World 6,000
The Message of Edwin Dene ..... World 5,000
When Broadway Was a Trail ..... World 5,000
A Man of the Pacific ..... World 5,000
Lola ..... World 5,000
The Danger of the World ..... World 5,000
The Dollar Mark ..... World 5,000
Mother ..... World 4,000

Sawyer Film Mart

1600 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Doc ..... Sawyer 4,000
The Crusoe ..... Sawyer 4,000
Latest Society Dances ..... Sawyer 1,000
Loves and Adventures in the Life of Shakespeare ..... Sawyer 5,000
Spy ..... Sawyer 3,000
The Aerial Scout ..... Sawyer 4,000
It's a Game of Chance ..... Sawyer 6,000
The A Dixie Girl ..... Sawyer 2,000
The Heart of the Mountains ..... Sawyer 3,000
The Winning Man ..... Sawyer 3,000
The War in Europe ..... Sawyer 4,000
Lambs' All Star Gambol ..... Sawyer 5,000
The Bells ..... Sawyer 3,000
The Young Men's Bureau ..... Sawyer 3,000
The Convict Hero ..... Sawyer 1,000
The Young Rebel ..... Sawyer 3,000
The Woman's Hour ..... Sawyer 2,000
The Lightning Conductor ..... Sawyer 6,000
The Mexican Sniper's Revenge ..... Sawyer 3,000
The Man Who Shot the Smuggler ..... Sawyer 4,000
Saved by the Boys in Blue ..... Sawyer 3,000
The Sacrifice ..... Sawyer 3,000
The Tyranny of the Czar ..... Sawyer 4,000
The Dangerous Extraordinary ..... Sawyer 3,000
Thirty Minutes in Melodrama ..... Sawyer 2,000

Warner's Features, Incorporated

130 W. 46th St., New York, N. Y.

A Born Warrior, Exiled ..... Warner's 6,000
Across the Border ..... Warner's 3,000
Across the Line of Reward ..... Warner's 3,000
At the Core of the World ..... Warner's 3,000
A Mother of Men ..... Warner's 3,000
Bringing Up the Lass ..... Warner's 3,000
Children of the West ..... Warner's 3,000
Fancy a Country Wife ..... Warner's 3,000
Her Last Hope ..... Warner's 3,000
In the Hands of a Woman ..... Warner's 3,000
Mother Love ..... Warner's 5,000
The Air Torpedo ..... Warner's 3,000
The Air Whirlwind ..... Warner's 3,000
The Battlefront ..... Warner's 3,000
The Black Eagle ..... Warner's 3,000
The Crystal Ball ..... Warner's 3,000
The Day of Reckoning ..... Warner's 3,000
The Eagle's Refuge ..... Warner's 3,000
The Last of the Red Man ..... Warner's 3,000
The Medicine Bag ..... Warner's 3,000
The Road to Ruin ..... Warner's 3,000
The Skyscraper ..... Warner's 3,000
The White Ghost ..... Warner's 3,000
The Winter City ..... Warner's 3,000
Tricked By a Vampire ..... Warner's 3,000
Twilight ..... Warner's 3,000
Under Fire in the Western Front ..... Warner's 3,000
Under the Mask of Honest ..... Warner's 3,000
Zeno of Athens ..... Warner's 3,000
Zingo and the White Elephant ..... Warner's 3,000
Zingo, the Son of the Sea ..... Warner's 4,000
Zingo's War in the Clouds ..... Warner's 3,000
The Island of the Flyers ..... Warner's 3,000
The Kidnapped Heiress ..... Warner's 3,000
When We Were Young ..... Warner's 3,000
The Arrow of Destiny ..... Warner's 3,000
Warner's 3,000
James J. Corbett ..... Warner's 4,000
Judge Welch ..... Warner's 6,000
Perils of the House of Styr ..... Warner's 3,000
Kings War ..... Warner's 3,000
Wrecker of Lives ..... Warner's 3,000
Tito the Terror ..... Warner's 3,000
She of the Wild's Brawl ..... Warner's 3,000
The Brute ..... Warner's 3,000
Disaster of Shanty 19 ..... Warner's 3,000
Awakening of Donna Isolla ..... Warner's 3,000
Perils of a Clock ..... Warner's 3,000
Crystal Ball ..... Warner's 3,000
The Happy Merchant ..... Warner's 3,000
Man Who Came Back ..... Warner's 3,000
Unwritten Justice ..... Warner's 3,000
A Spy for Her Majesty ..... Warner's 3,000
Inconspicuous ..... Warner's 3,000
Pity ..... Warner's 3,000
Ice Rich ..... Warner's 3,000
Life of the Law ..... Warner's 3,000
Daughter of the Tribe ..... Warner's 3,000
For the Love of a Man ..... Warner's 3,000
Double Trouble ..... Warner's 3,000
Tricking the Government ..... Warner's 3,000
Heavenly Damsels ..... Warner's 3,000
Light Unseen ..... Warner's 3,000
The Signaled Gun ..... Warner's 3,000
Facing the Galling Guns ..... Warner's 3,000
The Bird of the Needles ..... Warner's 3,000
Life's Crossroads ..... Warner's 3,000
Toll of the Warpath ..... Warner's 3,000

Fight for Love ..... Warner's 3,000
Battling British ..... Warner's 3,000
The Bachelors ..... Warner's 3,000
Water Wagon ..... Warner's 1,000
A Live Affair ..... Warner's 1,000
The Missing Man ..... Warner's 1,000
Summertime ..... Warner's 1,000
Cradio ..... Warner's 1,000
Wa Wa the Wildman ..... Warner's 1,000
The Arrow's Tongue ..... Warner's 2,000
Wings of Conquest ..... Warner's 2,000
Hunted Down ..... Warner's 3,000
In the Duke's Power ..... Warner's 3,000
The Fire of a Man ..... Warner's 3,000
Blazing Sea ..... Warner's 3,000
The Hypnotic Violinist ..... Warner's 3,000
Even unto Death ..... Warner's 3,000

Miscellaneous Features.

With Serb and Austrian ..... Auro-Servian 4,000
Blindness of Infancy ..... Auro-Servian 4,000
The Trail of the Lonesome Pine ..... Broadway 5,000
Winter of War Man ..... Box Office 4,000
St. Elmo's Fire ..... Box Office 4,000
Will o' the Wisp ..... Box Office 5,000
The Square Triangle ..... Box Office 3,000
Anna's Prospect ..... Canadian Bioscope 3,000
The Mariner's Compass ..... Canadian Bioscope 3,000
The Doomed Rower ..... Canadian Bioscope 3,000
The God of Vengeance ..... Charter 4,000
The Norwegian Spy ..... Charter 3,000
The Power of the Cross ..... Child Players 4,000
Kids of the Movies ..... Child Players 4,000
England's Menance ..... Cosmotofilm 3,000
The House of Temperance ..... Cosmotofilm 4,000
East Lynne ..... Craft 7,000
Sealed Orders ..... De Luxe Attraction 6,000
The Blue Mouse ..... De Luxe Attraction 6,000
$150,000 Counterfeiting Plot ..... Dramascope 6,000
Our Next Release

MRS. THOMAS WHIFFEN

The Grand Old Lady of the American Stage

Now scoring a Tremendous Success at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, in

"The Beautiful Adventure"

IN A FIVE-PART PHOTOPLAY

"HEARTS and FLOWERS"

A Thrilling Drama of Love and Sacrifice

Adapted by and Produced under the Direction of

JOSEPH A. GOLDEN

STATE RIGHT BUYERS

who are looking for exceptional features will secure their territory AT ONCE.

Do Not Hesitate. This Is a Sure Winner

COSMOS FEATURE FILM CORPORATION

126 West 46th Street New York
A Question of Identity
A Dramatic Adaptation of "The Window that Monsieur Forgot".
By Charles Imlay Taylor.

Here is a film of thrilling dramatic interest. Twin brothers so much resemble each other that in the culmination of the criminal career of one, the question of identity was exceedingly difficult to decide. One had murdered the Chevalier but had escaped immediate arrest. The other brother was charged with the crime. Which was which? The final scene in the Police Court where sentence was about to be passed upon the innocent brother is halted by the arrival of the dead brother's body, for he had resisted arrest after being hunted down by witnesses to the affair. A thrilling film throughout. The air of reality will cause this film to be widely commented upon.

In Two parts, 2,000 feet—To be released Friday Nov. 13th.

COMING EDISON RELEASES

Monday, Nov. 16th. The Adventure of the Lost Wife Comedy, 1,000 ft.
Tuesday, “ 17th. A Moment of Madness Drama, 1,000 ft.
Wednesday, “ 18th. Buster Brown and the German Band Comedy, 400 ft.
A Millinery Mix-up Comedy, 600 ft.
Friday, “ 20th. What Could She Do? Drama, 3,000 ft.
In three parts
Saturday “ 21st. Dickson's Diamonds Drama, 1,000 ft.
Monday “ 23rd. His Chorus Girl Wife Drama, 1,000 ft.

Order Edison Posters of the Morgan Lithograph Co., Cleveland, Ohio, direct

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
November 7, 1914.

MOTOGRAFY

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAFY.
LUBIN
A CONTINUATION OF "MASTERPIECE" SUCCESSES
EVERY EXHIBITOR SHOULD BOOK THESE BEAUTIFUL PICTURES (Through the General Film Special Service)
CAPACITY HOUSES EVERYWHERE

WILLIAM ELLIOTT, Late Star of "Madame X" Co. in 6 Reel Comedy "THE FORTUNE HUNTER" Direction—Barry O'Neil
By Winchell Smith
3 Reel Drama "MARAH, THE PYTHON" Direction—Joseph W. Smiley
By Clay M. Greene
3 Reel Drama "THE WEIGHT OF A CROWN" Direction—Harry C. Myers
(By Arrangement with Fred Mace)
EVELYN NESBIT T'RAW and her son Russell William Thaw in 5 Reel Drama "THREADS OF DESTINY" Direction—Joseph W. Smiley
By William H. Clifford

READY FOR EARLY RELEASE
EDWIN ARDEN in
"EAGLE'S NEXT" Direction—Romaine Fielding
By Edwin Arden
RAYMOND HITCHCOCK
In a 5 Reel Comedy Drama by LAWRENCE McCLOSKEY
"STONEMAIL JACKSON'S WAY" Direction—George W. Terwilliger
By Emmett Campbell Hall
ROSE COGBLAN and Ethel Clayton in
"THE SPORTING DUCHESS" Direction—Barry O'Neil
By Cecil Raleigh

SIX REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK
"THE BELOVED ADVENTURER" Eighth of Series "A PARTNER TO PROVIDENCE"
"A BOOMERANG SWINDELE..." Comedy—Tuesday, November 3rd
"THE SORCERESS" Two Reel Drama—Wednesday, November 4th
"THE STOLEN YACHT" Two Reel Drama—Thursday, November 5th
"LOVE TRIUMPHS" Drama—Friday, November 6th
"KIDNAPPING THE KID" Sunday, November 7th
"THE HONOR OF THE FORCE" Split Reel Comedies

SPECIAL ONE, THREE AND SIX SHEET POSTERS
LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

PERFECT DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
For all those who take moving pictures for commercial or private use.
We Guarantee Quality, Plus Personal Service and Prompt Delivery
Prices, References and Factory Description sent at request.
We Supply Fresh Perforated Eastman Negative to our customers as a matter of accommodation, and make shipment same day order is received. All film stock guaranteed highest grade with perfect Bell & Howell perforations.

INDUSTRIAL MOVING PICTURE COMPANY
223-233 West Erie Street Watterson R. Rothacker, Gen. Mgr.
CHICAGO

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By JOHN D. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAFY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated
A comprehensive, up to now, volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.
Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid. $1.14 or with a yearly subscription to MOTOGRAFY, all prepaid. $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Moradaock Building CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAFY

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA
Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opague, Glass Translucent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrorcloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Kollers.
The Glass Mirror Screen reflects the picture entirely by Diffuse Reflection. Send for my booklet explaining the philosophy of screens. You will learn something.
Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.
A Series of Beautiful Photoplays
The Talk of the Movie Fans

"The Beloved Adventurer"
By EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL
Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

Also Published in Book Form
First Edition of 50,000 Copies Sold. Second Edition Now Ready

HERALDS
for
"The Beloved Adventurer"
from Hennegan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

POSTERS
from the A. B. C. Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

RELEASED
on the Regular Programme
every Monday through
the General Film Company

1st of Series—
"Lord Cecil Intervenes"
2nd of Series—
"An Untarnished Shield"
3rd of Series—
"An Affair of Honor"
4th of Series—
"An American Heiress"
5th of Series—
"The Girl from the West"
6th of Series—
"The Golden Hope"
7th of Series—
"The Holdup"
8th of Series—
"A Partner to Providence"

A Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays — One Released Each Monday
The First Was Released September 14th

Fifteen chapters to the book, each chapter in its regular order representing a release. Full cloth binding, with fifteen full page half-tone illustrations, including an autographed frontispiece of Arthur Johnson.

SINGLE COPIES, 25 cents. In lots of 25 or more, 15 cents each
Secure these books from the General Film Co. Exchanges

EXHIBITORS ARE URGED TO PLACE IMMEDIATE ORDERS
AS THE EDITION IS LIMITED

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
BRUSH
Electric Lighting Sets

4-5 K. W. Brush Electric Lighting Sets
Suitable for Gas, Gasoline, or Kerosene

Mr. Moving Picture Man:—
Are you one of thousands who are held up by the Electric Lighting Companies charging you highway robbery prices for bum electric juice?
If you are, it's time to join the Brush Electric Lighting Set Club.
Or if you are a travelling showman and are carting around several tons of antique Engine and Electric apparatus for making Electric Current you need our catalogue right now.

Brush Lighting Sets are made in sizes from 2 to 10 k.w. Our catalogue has more useful information about small electric lighting plants than any other ever printed. It's yours for the asking, whether you buy or not.

The Chas. A. Strelinger Co.
Detroit, Mich., U. S. A.
Box N-2

Motograph Results
SPOKEN OF IN ALL COUNTRIES

New South Wales, Australia.

Gentlemen—

In reference to the Motograph machine, I bought two of these machines in 1911 and 1912, and both of them are in perfect running order at the present day, and each doing work seven nights per week. During their life, neither machine has stopped for one single night.
I consider the Motograph excels all other machines for projection, steadiness and costs less. No wonder you say "cut down your repair bills and get a Motograph."

I have had experience with several other machines, and I would have none other than a Motograph.

Yours sincerely,
(signed): BERT E. AUBUSSON, Mgr.
Globe Pictures, Southern Circuit.
New South Wales, Australia.

All MOTIOGRAPH Users Get the Same Satisfaction
Get in line with your next order and try MOTIOGRAPH satisfaction

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
566 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.

Eastern Office
21 E. 14th Street, New York
Western Office
833 Market Street, San Francisco

MOTIOGRAPHY
America's Leading Film-Trade Magazine

Your Personal Subscription
would prove both a convenience and a means of real profit. Each issue is of vital interest and practical value to every man in the motion picture business. If you miss one copy, you may miss an article or an idea that would have a vital effect on your work.
As a regular subscriber, you would be able to read Motography carefully and systematically at your leisure, and to preserve a file of copies for reference and binding.

Bound volumes of Motography form the best foundation for a reference library.

We suggest that you have the magazine sent to your residence.

$3.00 a year
Issued Weekly

Address

Motography
Monadnock Building
CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTIOGRAPHY.
COMEDIES—Features—Specials—Every reel of the high standard established by our famous feature releases. There are 42 Warner's Exchanges. Write the one nearest you.

Atlanta, Ga.
Baltimore, Md.
Boston, Mass.
Buffalo, N. Y.
Calgary, Can.
Cleveland, Ohio
Charlotte, N. C.
Chicago, III.
Charleston, W. Va.
Cincinnati, Ohio

Dallas, Texas
Denver, Colo.
Des Moines, Iowa
Detroit, Mich.
Edmonton, Can.
El Paso, Texas
Indianapolis, Ind.
Kansas City, Mo.
Los Angeles, Cal.
Louisville, Ky.

Minneapolis, Minn.
Montreal, Can.
Nashville, Tenn.
Newark, N. J.
New Orleans, La.
New York City
Omaha, Neb.
Pittsburgh, Pa.
Portland, Me.

Portland, Ore.
San Antonio, Texas
San Francisco, Cal.
St. Louis, Mo.
Seattle, Wash.
Spokane, Wash.
Syracuse, N. Y.
Toronto, Can.
Washington, D. C.

Main European Office: 99 Charing Cross Road, London, W. C.

WARNER'S FEATURES, Inc.  New York
SIX-A-WEEK

"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

MR. G. M. ANDERSON
The world famous originator of "Broncho Billy" is presented in

"THE TELL-TALE HAND"

THE LATEST AND GREATEST WESTERN DRAMA (In 3 Acts)

By Frank Blighton. Author of "What Happened to Mary?" and "Who Will Marry Mary?"

This is the third of the complete PRIZE MYSTERY dramas produced in conjunction with THE LADIES' WORLD. The complete story will appear in the magazine for December, with the exception of one paragraph. Big prizes are offered by the magazine for the best written last paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay photo-play. 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery. The play is filled with dramatic incidents. It touches the depths of human emotion.

Released Monday, November 16
"Countess Sweedie"
Sweedie breaks into society by pretending to be a countess; is discovered and ousted by the police.

Released Tuesday, November 17
"The Servant Question"
A baron poses as a chef to win the hand of a maid, who is in reality an heiress. He spills the dinner; both are reconnized, introduced and go out for a square meal.

Released Wednesday, November 18
The Fable Proving That Spongers Are Found in a Drug Store
By GEORGE ADE
One of the inimitable humorist's fables that compels irresistible laughter.

Released Thursday, November 19
"A Horse on Sophie"
The Deacon rides away with Sophie while Slippery Slim and Mustang Pete fight for her hand.

Released Friday, November 20
"The Means and the End"
(In 2 acts)
A strong, virile dramatic presentation of the grim battle waged between capital and the underworld.

Released Saturday, November 21
"Broncho Billy's Scheme"
(Reg. in U.S. Patent offices)
Broncho outwits a bandit and rescues a kidnapped girl. Featuring Mr. G. M. ANDERSON.

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is presented in

"In the Glare of the Lights"

AND

"The Plum Tree"

(In 3 acts)

These first two of the Essanay complete prize mystery dramas are filling theatres everywhere.

If you have not already booked them, do so now.

Released through the feature department of the General Film Co.

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"

(In 4 acts)

"packing 'em in" all over the country. It is called the "one wonderful picture," featuring MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN
See Americans First
FLYING "A" and AMERICAN "BEAUTY" FEATURE FILMS

REDBIRD WINS

Romance of the Paddock
RELEASE, NOV. 16, 1914

AMERICAN "BEAUTY" FILMS
Featuring MARGARITA FISCHER and HARRY POLLARD

"When Queenie Came Back"
IT'S A SCREAM
You Cannot Afford to Miss It.
Release Tuesday, November 17, 1914

“FLYING A” FEATURES "Beppo"

A Human Interest Drama
Direction of Henry Otto
Release Wednesday, November 18, 1914

"Old Enough to be Her Grandpa"
A Light Comedy Sure to Please
Direction of Thos. Ricketts
Release Friday, November 20, 1914

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO ILLINOIS
THE STRAND FILM COMPANY HAVE SECURED THE EXCLUSIVE AMERICAN RIGHTS FOR PRODUCTIONS OF

THE EACO FILMS, Inc.
In which the Sterling Screen Artist MR. EDWIN AUGUST will be Starred

First Release Now Ready

"A DOUBLE HAUL"
A Stirring Three Reel Melodrama in which Through a Clever Ruse Two Society Detectives Expose a Gang of Counterfeiters and thereby Reveal a Baffling Murder Mystery

Second Release in Preparation

"A STRANGE ADVENTURE"
A STRONG THEME
EDWIN AUGUST, Late Universal Star
Means Money to Live Aggressive Exhibitors

The Merits of Eaco Films are Unusual Light Effects—Elaborate Interiors—Strong, Original Stories—Proper Casting and Excellent Players

EACO FILMS
THE EACO FILMS
STRAND FILM COMPANY, 145 West 45th Street, New York City

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
BY JOHN B. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up-to-date volume treating the principles of Motography, the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid... $1.14
or with a year's subscription to MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid... $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building... CHICAGO

YOUR MONEY MAKERS
The only sure fire producers in Ohio.
Thirty-five of the best selected feature films picked by an old exchange man. Write for open dates.
We have the films.
EXHIBITORS FEATURE FILM CO., 431 Summit Street, Toledo, O.

BUY MOTOGRAPHY
From Your Newsdealer
TEN CENTS PER COPY
Insist Upon Him Getting it For You

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Years of Experience are behind The Pathé (daily) News

First in the field the News has held the lead and now in the midst of today's stirring events it is better than ever.

Exhibitors are satisfied because they know that Pathé means the best in news films, and because they know the public knows it too.

To show the best is best for you.

The Pathé News is now to be obtained through the Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges. Issued twice a week.

ECLECTIC FEATURE FILM EXCHANGES FOR YOUR USE

ATLANTA
61 Walton St.
BOSTON
3 Tremont Row
CHICAGO
5 So. Wabash Ave.
CINCINNATI
217 E. 5th St.
CLEVELAND
522 Prospect Ave., S. E.
DALLAS
Andrew Bidg.
DENVER
Nassau Bidg.
KANSAS CITY
928 Main St.
LOS ANGELES
114 E. 7th St.
MINNEAPOLIS

& Minneapolis St.
NEW ORLEANS
910 Gravier St.

NEW YORK
115 E. 23rd St.
OMAHA
1312 Farnum St.
PHILADELPHIA
1235 Vine St.
PITTSBURGH
715 Liberty Ave.

PORTLAND
392 Burnside Ave.
SALT LAKE CITY
60 So. Main St.
SAN FRANCISCO
67 Turk St.
SEATTLE
810 Third Ave.
ST. LOUIS
3210 Locust St.
SYRACUSE
214 E. Fayette St.
WASHINGTON
7th & E Sts., N. W.

THE ECLECTIC
110 West 40th St.

FILM COMPANY
NEW YORK CITY

"The Cream of American and European Studios"

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
LUBIN

A CONTINUATION OF “MASTERPIECE” SuCcesses

Every Exhibitor Should Book These Exceptional Pictures (Through the General Film Special Service)

Ready for Early Release

Edwin Arden in

“Eagle’s Nest”

Direction—Romaine Fielding

Raymond Hitchcock

In a 5 Reel Comedy Drama by Lawrence McCloskey

Direction—George W. Terwilliger

Rose Coghlan and Ethel Clayton in

Ethel Jones

By

Evelyn Nesbit

IBaw and her son Russell William Thaw in

“Threads of Destiny”

Direction—Joseph W. Smiley

By William H. Cliflor

Emmett Campbell Hall

3 Reel Drama

“The Spy’s Fate”

Direction—Joseph W. Smiley

By W. H. Lippert

3 Reel Drama

“Stone wall Jackson’s Way”

Direction—Edgar Jones

By

5 Reel Comedy

Featuring Ethel Clayton and George Soule Spencer.

Direction—Barry O’Neill

“The Beloved Adventurer”

Six Regular Releases Each Week

Ninth of Series “Lord Cecil Plays a Part”

“Bunting In”

Split Reel Comedies

“A Bargain Table Cloth”

“THE Quack”

Drama, Two Reel. Wednesday, November 11th

“In the Hills of Kentucky”

Drama, Two Reel. Thursday, November 12th

“The Trap”

Drama. Friday, November 13th

“Beating the Burglar”

MAGAZINE COOKING

Split Reel Comedies. Saturday, November 14th

Special One, Three and Six Sheet Posters

Lubin Manufacturing Company

Philadelphia, Pa. Chicago Office, 154 West Lake Street

A clear picture is as essential as a good scenario. Because the basic product is right the clearest pictures are on Eastman Film. Identifiable by the stencil mark in the margin.

Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y.

MotoGraphy

America’s Leading Film-Trade Magazine

Your Personal Subscription would prove both a convenience and a means of real profit. Each issue is of vital interest and practical value to every man in the motion picture business. If you miss one copy, you may miss an article or an idea that would have a vital effect on your work.

As a regular subscriber, you would be able to read MotoGraphy carefully and systematically at your leisure, and to preserve a file of copies for reference and binding.

Bound volumes of MotoGraphy form the best foundation for a reference library.

We suggest that you have the magazine sent to your residence.

$3.00 a year

Issued Weekly

Address

MotoGraphy

Monadnock Building CHICAGO
Quality Printing and Developing

ARTISTIC TONING AND TINTING

Low Prices—Prompt Deliveries

Eastman's is the Best Stock
We use it exclusively

Send us your negative, and if our print is not 100% better than the other fellow's, we will give it to you gratis.

Send for Samples and Prices

Commercial Motion Pictures Co., Inc.

Offices—220 West 42nd Street, New York City
Studio and Laboratory—Grantwood, N. J.
SIX-A-WEEK
"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

MR. G. M. ANDERSON
Known all around the world as "BRONCHO BILLY"
is presented in

"THE TELL-TALE HAND"

By Frank Bliighton.
Author of "What Happened to Mary?" and "Who Will Marry Mary?"

This is the latest and greatest western drama. It is the third Essanay complete prize mystery play produced in conjunction with The Ladies' World. The complete story will appear in the magazine for December with the exception of one paragraph. Big prizes are offered by the magazine for the best written lost paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay film. 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery.

Released November 19 through the feature department of the General Film Company.

Released Monday, November 23
"Sweedie at the Fair"
Sweedie's donkey fails to take any blue ribbons at the fair.

Released Tuesday, November 24
"Beyond Youth's Paradise"
After being separated for years from the woman he loved, an army officer finds her by chance. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

Released Wednesday, November 25
The Fable of
"Aggie and the Aggravated Attacks"
By GEORGE ADE
How Aggie kept her parents guessing what she was going to do next.

Released Thursday, November 26
"Snakeville's Reform Wave"
Snakeville goes dry by a large majority.

Released Friday, November 27
"Scars of Possession"
(In 2 acts)
A dramatic love story in which a young man wins the hand of an heiress by saving her life by transfusion of blood. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.

Released Saturday, November 28
"Broncho Billy's Double Escape"
(Reg. in U. S. Patent office)
A Western drama featuring MR. G. M. ANDERSON.

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN
The man who was voted the world's most popular photoplayer, is presented in

"In the Glare of the Lights"
AND
"The Plum Tree"

These first two Essanay complete prize mystery dramas are filling theatres everywhere. Millions are being thrilled by the intensity of these plays, which stir the depths of human emotion.

Released through the feature department GENERAL FILM COMPANY.

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"
(In 4 acts)
Is "packing 'em in" all over the country. It is called the "one wonderful picture." Featuring MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN
November 21, 1914.

MOTOGRAHY

SEE AMERICANS FIRST
Flying "A" and American "Beauty" Feature Films-

IN THE CANDLELIGHT

In Two Acts.
Featuring VIVIAN RICH and WM. GARWOOD.
Release Monday, November 23, 1914
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts.

AMERICAN BEAUTY FILMS

"As a Man Thinketh"
(SO HE IS)
A Superb Psychological Drama
Release Tuesday, Nov. 24, 1914

"The Archaeologist"
A Love Drama Featuring WINNIFRED GREENWOOD and ED COXEN
Under direction of Henry Otto
Release Wednesday, November 25, 1914

Distributed exclusively through the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
The Fireman and the Girl

A 3-part American drama made by the Whartons. Highly exciting scenes in a picturesque mountain drama. An exceptional film, livened with startling scenes, peppered with quick action and seasoned with comedy. Elsie Esmond and Thurlow Bergen are featured. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

The Toreador's Oath

3 reel drama. A striking story laid and played in Spain and acted by the famous Asta Nielsen. A film full of fervor and emotion. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

The Police Dog—and—A Friend of Birds

A split reel. On one half a great cartoon comedy by J. R. Bray, and on the other a splendid bird study in natural colors.

Whiffles Wins the Winsome—and—Colombo

A split reel with the irresistible Whiffles, and some splendid scenic views in natural colors.

The Perils of Pauline

The most popular and profitable of modern photo plays. Pauline is the first and last word in serial films.

Pauline's Profits Are Limited Only by Your Seating Capacity

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

110 West 40th Street

NEW YORK CITY

"The Cream of American and European Studios"

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAHY.
What Could She Do?
A Drama. By Gertrude Lyon.

Sylvia Fairfax, a young graduate, upon the death of her father is brought face to face with the hitherto unthought of problem of earning a livelihood. Brought up in affluence she is bewildered by the sudden change of circumstances. She answers an advertisement for a governess and secures such a position in a well to do family only to discover soon that she is utterly unable to control the children of the family. She is discharged and seeks the city, bag in hand. Her varied experiences in the ordinary boarding house, then in a Department Store lead to a thrilling climax in the Police Inspector's office. She is at last acquitted of theft and engaged as a detective on the Police force. Her first case—one of kidnapping—proves what she could do, for she outwits the kidnappers and wins back the stolen child. A thrilling reel.

In three parts, 3,000 feet—To be released Friday, November 20th

COMING EDISON RELEASES

Monday, November 23rd. His Chorus Girl Wife, Drama, 1,000 feet
Tuesday, " 24th. A Gypsy Madcap, Drama, 1,000 feet Wednesday, " 25th. The Temple of Moloch, Drama, 1,000 feet Friday, " 27th. The King's Move in the City. In two parts... Drama, 2,000 feet Saturday, " 28th. The Last of the Hargroves, Drama, 1,000 feet Monday, " 30th. Wood B. Wedd Goes Snipe Hunting, Comedy, 1,000 feet

Order Edison Posters of the Morgan Lithograph Co., Cleveland, Ohio, direct

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.,
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
THE PERFECTION OF PHOTO-MOTION
EVERY EXHIBITOR SHOULD BOOK THESE WONDERFUL PICTURES (Through the General Film Special Service)

(Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and her son Russell William Thaw in
“THREADS OF DESTINY”
Direction—Joseph W. Smiley)

“STONEWALL JACKSON’S WAY”
Direction—Edgar Jones

READY FOR EARLY RELEASE
EDWIN ARDEN in
“EAGLE’S NEST”
Direction—Romaine Fielding

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK in
“The Ringtailed Rhinoceros”
Direction—George W. Terwilliger

ROSE COGLIAN and Ethel Clayton in
“The Sporting Duchess”
Direction—Barry O’Neill

“THE SPY’S FATE”
Direction—Joseph W. Smiley

5 Reel Drama
By William H. Clifford

7 Reel Comedy Drama
By Emmett Campbell Hall

By Edwin Arden

By W. H. Lippert

IN PREPARATION

THE COLLEGE WIDOW
Featuring Ethel Clayton and George Soule Spencer.
Direction—Barry O’Neill

“The Beloved Adventurer”
Tenth of Series “Lord Cecil Keeps His Word”

“She Was the Other”

“Cheap Transportation”

“The Marriage Wager”
Two Reel Drama

“On Suspicion”
Two Reel Drama

“The Unknown Country”

“The Tale of a Coat”

“The Daddy of Them All”
Split Reel Comedies

SIX REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK
A PICTURE OF INFINITE CHARM. ALL

THE TENDERNESS AND PURITY OF THE ORIGINAL STORY HAVE BEEN ADMIRABLY PRESERVED—MAKING IT ONE OF THE BEST OF CHILDREN’S PICTURES—A 4 REEL PRODUCTION

IN PREPARATION

THE COLLEGE WIDOW
Featuring Ethel Clayton and George Soule Spencer.
Direction—Barry O’Neill

“THE SPY’S FATE”

IN PREPARATION

Drama
By W. H. Lippert

By George Ade

BY EXCHANGE

THE LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

THE ALCO FILM CORPORATION PRESENTS WHO, WHAT AND WHERE THE ALCO IS Producing Companies—All Star Feature Corporation—California M. P. Corporation
Popular Plays and Players—B. A. Rolfe Photoplays, Inc.—Life Photo Film Corporation

NEW YORK, 218 West 42d St.—For States of New York.
CHICAGO, 512 Mallery Bldg., 5 So. Wabash Ave.—For Illinois, Indiana.
SAN FRANCISCO, 324 Eddy St.—For California, Nevada, Arizona.
BOSTON, 142 Tremont St.—For New England.
PHILADELPHIA, 313 Vine St.—For Pennsylvania.
WASHINGTON, NEW YORK, EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA, MARYLAND, DELAWARE, GENEVA, N. Y.—For Western Penna., Ohio, Kentucky, W. Virginia.
BALTIMORE, 217 St. Paul St.—For Delaware, Maryland, Dist. of Columbia, Virginia.
ST. LOUIS, Grand and Louise Ave.—For Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska.
NEW JERSEY, 13 W. 22nd St., New York—For Northern New Jersey.
MINNEAPOLIS, Temple Court Bldg.—For Wisconsin, Minnesota, N. and S. Dak.
DALLAS, 1607 Commerce St.—For Texas, Oklahoma.
SEATTLE, 124 Third Ave.—For Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon.
SPOKANE, 515 Trent Ave.—For Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon.
SALT LAKE CITY, 27 W. Park St.—For Idaho, Montana.
BUFFALO, 505 Main St.—For Western New York.
DULUTH, 705 First National Bank Bldg.—For Idaho, Montana, Oregon.
KANSAS CITY, Glenside Bldg.—For Western Missouri and Kansas.

THE ALCO FILM CORPORATION
HOME OFFICE, ALCO BLDG.—218 WEST 42ND STREET—NEW YORK

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAphY.
A Series of Beautiful Photoplays
The Talk of the Movie Fans

"The Beloved Adventurer"
By EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL
Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

Also Published in Book Form
First Edition of 50,000 Copies Sold. Second Edition Now Ready

HERALDS
for
"The Beloved Adventurer"
from Hennegan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

POSTERS
from the A. B. C. Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

RELEASED
on the Regular Programme
every Monday through
the General Film Company

A Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays — One Released Each Monday
The First Was Released September 14th

Fifteen chapters to the book, each chapter in its regular order representing a release. Full cloth binding, with fifteen full page half-tone illustrations, including an autographed frontispiece of Arthur Johnson.

SINGLE COPIES, 25 cents. In lots of 25 or more, 15 cents each
Secure these books from the General Film Co. Exchanges

EXHIBITORS ARE URGED TO PLACE IMMEDIATE ORDERS
AS THE EDITION IS LIMITED

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street
SIX-A-WEEK
"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

MR. G. M. ANDERSON

Known all around the world as the originator of "BRONCHO BILLY"

is presented in

"THE TELL-TALE HAND"

The latest and greatest western drama, written by Frank Blyton,
Author of "What Happened to Mary?" and "Who Will Marry Mary?"

This drama is filled with human interest. It touches the tenderest emotions of the heart and stirs the soul. It is replete with dramatic incidents, gun play, a posse hunt, a murder trial, a hand-to-hand fight on racing steeds. It is the third of Essanay's complete prize mystery plays produced in conjunction with The Ladies' World. The complete story appears in the December number of the magazine, with the exception of one paragraph. Big prizes are offered by the magazine for the best written lost paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay film. 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery.

Released November 19 through the feature department of The General Film Company

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Released Monday, November 30</th>
<th>Released Thursday, December 3</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>&quot;A Maid of War&quot; (With Sweedie)</td>
<td>&quot;Sophie's Fatal Wedding&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This time Sweedie gets into an awful mix-up over the war but explains herself out of it.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Tuesday, December 1</td>
<td>Released Thursday, December 3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;The Buffer&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;Sophie's Fatal Wedding&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A child buries the hatchet in a war between a capitalist and a district attorney.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Wednesday, December 2</td>
<td>Released Friday, December 4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Fable of &quot;The Club Girls and the Four Times Veteran&quot;</td>
<td>&quot;The Place, the Time and the Man&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>By GEORGE ADE</td>
<td>(Two Acts)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In which the widow upsets all the old maids' theories about husbands.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Saturday, December 5</td>
<td>&quot;Broncho Billy's Judgment&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>(Reg. U. S. Patent Office)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Broncho quits the office of sheriff rather than arrest a man for killing a wife beater.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

Who was voted the world's most popular photoplayer, is presented in

"In the Glare of the Lights"

AND

"The Plum Tree"

Millions are being thrilled by these plays. They are the first two of Essanay's complete prize mystery dramas, produced in conjunction with The Ladies' World, and are filling theatres everywhere.

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"

(In 4 acts)

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is presented in this drama of love and intrigue, which is filling theatres all over the country.
SEE AMERICANS FIRST

Flying "A" and American "Beauty" Feature Films

"The Beggar Child"
In Two Reels
A Tense Human Interest Drama
Featuring ED COXEN and WINNIFRED GREENWOOD
Under direction of Henry Otto
Release Monday, Nov. 30, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY FILMS

Featuring MARGARITA FISCHER and HARRY POLLARD

"Cupid and a Dress Coat"  A Refined Gem
Release Tuesday, December 1, 1914

"The Strength O' Ten"
A "Flying A" drama of Virginia Forests.
Featuring WM. GARWOOD and VIVIAN RICH
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts
Release Wednesday, December 2, 1914

Distributed exclusively through the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.
The image appearing on this page and which that will follow in subsequent editions of MOTOGRAF has been secured by co-operation with our subscribers.
We have thousands of similar reports which should be great value to the motion picture trade field.
Corrections and additions are invited.

MOTOGRAF

Vol. XII, No. 22

MOTOGRAF's Exhibitors Directory

Name of Theater
Address
Town
State
Are you Incorporated?
Investment
What other houses do you operate?
When was the house built?
Frontage and depth of house in feet
Seating Capacity
Admission Price
How many shows per day?
Date

Length of each show?
Do you show Vaudeville?
First run film?
What program?
How many changes per week?
How many employees in your theater?
Size of screen?
Length of throw?
House built for theater or remodeled?
What music do you use?
What Competition have you?

Signed
Proprietor or Manager

NOTE: Exhibitors are invited to use the above blank to supply the information requested. When properly filled out, please forward to Motography, Monroeville Bldg., Chicago, for listing in Motography’s Exhibitors Directory. If you do not care to mutilate your magazine, ask us to send you a blank for similar purpose.
More Stars Join That Grand, Long List of Universal Stars!

William Garwood

Sidney Ayres

(Both of the American)

JOIN

J. Warren Kerrigan

AND

Pauline Bush

(Formerly of the American) as Universal stars! Further proof that the Universal Program is the star’s program! Demand that Universal Program!

Stake Your Reputation as a Smart Showman on These Red Letter Universal Features

“Called Back”

(In the regular program)

Four reel Gold Seal of Hugh Conway’s marvelous mystery story. Produced by OTIS TURNER and packed with screen stars: HERBERT RAWLINSON (as Gilbert Vaughn), ANNA LITTLE (as Pauline March), WILLIAM WORTHINGTON, WILLIAM J. QUINN and ALAN FORREST.

(Regular release of December 1st)

Universal Film Manufacturing Company

“Largest Film Manufacturing Concern in the Universe”

Carl Laemmle, President

1600 Broadway, New York City

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Lionel Barrymore
Appears in
“The Span of Life”
(Five Parts)
Just Finished by the Kinetophone
Book Now for All Territory
Released December 7th

More Kinetophone Features Now Ready and Booking

“The Spirit of the Poppy”
(Six Parts)
The Greatest Moral Photoplay Ever Written
Endorsed by Clergy, Physicians and Police Officials

“The Coming Power”
(Four Parts)
with Lionel Adams, William Crimmins, Edith Lucket and Anna Rose

“Markia” or “The Destruction of Carthage”
(Five Parts)
Also

“Born Again” with Beulah Poynter

MOTOGRA phy
America’s Leading Film-Trade Magazine
Your Personal Subscription would prove both a convenience and a means of real profit. Each issue is of vital interest and practical value to every man in the motion picture business. If you miss one copy, you may miss an article or an idea that would have a vital effect on your work.

As a regular subscriber, you would be able to read Motography carefully and systematically at your leisure, and to preserve a file of copies for reference and binding.

Bound volumes of Motography form the best foundation for a reference library.

We suggest that you have the magazine sent to your residence.

$3.00 a year
Issued Weekly

Address
Motography
Monadnock Building
CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRA phy
That Balboa Series of Twelve Heart-Gripping Dramas

Propounding 12 Vital Questions of Life,
Commands World-Wide Attention

In the entire realm of picturedom there has never been anything more praiseworthy—never anything more meritorious—never anything that will so unerringly draw the crowds. Regardless of any other inducements that may be offered, the Balboa Amusement Producing Co. will give—

$1,000 IN GOLD

For the most satisfactory answers to these 12 Vital Questions of Life. One will be asked in each feature. The series will run the entire gamut of human emotions—love, pity, pathos, sympathy, joy, pleasure, passion, envy, anger, hate, jealousy, rage, malice, grief, fear and revenge. Each feature will embody a separate and distinct theme. Each will stand by itself. No attempt will be made to use the same cast throughout. No effort will be made to link together a conglomeration of incidents in a hodge-podge plot. But each will be so impelling that the public will yell for the entire twelve after the first has been seen. Men and women will struggle with the problem, “Who Pays?” which will trail each production.

Interested? Then write or wire for information today

The Balboa Amusement Producing Co.

H. M. Horkheimer  E. D. Horkheimer
President and General Manager  Secretary and Treasurer

Makers of The Pictures Beautiful

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
A Big Athletic Feature—Not a Topical EXCLUSIVE MOTION PICTURES OF THE YALE-HARVARD GAME

Including the Wonderful New Yale Bowl, the Important Plays of the Game, the Individual Players and Stars, the Opposing Coaches and Their Methods of Practicing and Training, the Mascots and Cheerleaders, the Seventy Thousand Spectators, the Snake Dance of the Students;
Prominent People at the Game, Including Ex-Presidents Taft and Roosevelt; and Interesting Incidents That Make This Game the Largest Attended Sporting Event in the World.

These Pictures Will Not Be Shown by the Film Weeklies

Distributed by E. & W. TRANSFILM BUREAU
110 West 40th Street, New York, (Phone Bryant 4526)

Approximate Length 1,000 Feet, at 10 Cents a Foot
Every foot censored by the College Committees before it is released.

Wire immediately for territory

The Following Territory, New England, New York City and State, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, District of Columbia and Maryland, Booked Direct by the Distributors.

ATTRACTIVE TWO-COLOR ONE-SHEETS
PRODUCED BY THE
COLONIAL MOTION PICTURE CORPORATION
18 EAST 41ST STREET, NEW YORK

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By JOHN B. RATBURN, R. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTOGRAPHY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up to now volume treating the principles of Motography; the making of
Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting;
Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid... $1.14
or with a year’s subscription to
MOTOGRAPHY, all prepaid... $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Macadock Building - - - CHICAGO

Buy Motography
From Your Newsdealer

10 Cents Per Copy
Insist upon him getting it for you

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
More and Better
That's a Motto of

The Pathé News

Ever alert for action of interest, the Pathe camera man is first on the scene and last to leave it. Our world-wide organization and unparalleled facilities are an assurance that the Pathe News shows more and better views, and can be delivered sooner than any other news film made.

That's why the Pathe News has the widest circulation of any film in the world.

Issued twice a week and now to be obtained through the Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges.

Exchanges in All the Principal Cities of the United States

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY
110 West 40th Street
NEW YORK CITY

"The Cream of American and European Studios!"
LUBIN

THE PERFECTION OF PHOTO-MOTION

DO NOT OVERLOOK THESE WONDERFUL PICTURES (Book Through the General Film Special Service)

EVELYN NESBIT THAW and her son Russell William Thaw in

“THREADS OF DESTINY”
Direction—Joseph W. Smiley

By William H. Glidden

5 Reel Drama

“STONEWALL JACKSON’S WAY”
Direction—Edgar Jones

By Emmett Campbell Hall

3 Reel Drama

“EAGLE’S NEST”
Direction—Romaine Fielding

By Edwin Arden

8 Reel Drama

IN PREPARATION

“THE COLLEGE WIDOW”
Featuring Ethel Clayton and George Soule Spencer.
Direction—Barry O’Neil

By George Ade

SIX REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

“THE BELOVED ADVENTURER”
Eleventh of Series “THE SERPENT COMES TO EDEN” Drama ........................................... Monday, November 23rd

“MOTHER’S BABY BOY” Split Reel Comedies ................................................................. Tuesday, November 24th

“HE WANTED CHICKENS”

“THE MAKING OF HIM”
Two Reel Drama .................................................. Wednesday, November 25th

“WAS HIS DECISION RIGHT” Two Reel Drama ............................................................... Thursday, November 26th

“HE WAITS FOREVER” Drama .......................................................... Friday, November 27th

“YOU CAN’T BEAT THEM” Split Reel Comedies .............................................................. Saturday, November 28th

“THE SERVANT GIRL’S LEGACY”
Special One, Three and Six Sheets

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Chicago Office, 154 West Lake Street

The All Star Feature Corporation Presents the Renowned Comedian

DIGBY BELL IN THE EDUCATION

Mr. PIPP

A REFRESHING AMERICAN COMEDY DRAMA BASED UPON THE CELEBRATED DRAWINGS OF CHARLES DANA GIBSON

PRODUCED UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF AUGUSTUS THOMAS BY THE ALL STAR CO.

WHY EXHIBITORS NEED ALCO

Ethel Barrymore in The Nightingale
Andrew Mack in The Ragged Earl
Jacob Adler in Michael Strogoff
Beatriz Michelena in Salomy Jane
Charles A. Stevenson in Shore Acres
Thomas Jefferson in Rip Van Winkle
Beatrix Michelena in Mrs. Wiggs
Olga Petrova in The Tigress
Mabel Talaferrro in The Three of Us
Florence Nash in Springtime
Jane Cowl in The Easiest Way
Beatriz Michelena in Mignon

ALCO FILM CORPORATION
ALCO BUILDING - 218 West 42nd Street - New York

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
A Series of Beautiful Photoplays
The Talk of the Movie Fans

“The Beloved Adventurer”
By EMMETT CAMPBELL HALL
Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE
Also Published in Book Form
50,000 Copies Sold. Second Edition Now Ready

1st of Series—
“Lord Cecil Intervenes”
2nd of Series—
“An Untarnished Shield”
3rd of Series—
“An Affair of Honor”
4th of Series—
“An American Heiress”
5th of Series—
“The Girl from the West”
6th of Series—
“The Golden Hope”
7th of Series—
“The Holdup”
8th of Series—
“A Partner to Providence”

9th of Series—
“Lord Cecil Plays a Part”
10th of Series—
“Lord Cecil Keeps His Word”
11th of Series—
“The Serpent Comes to Eden”
12th of Series—
“Fate’s Tangled Threads”
13th of Series—
“Through Desperate Hazards”
14th of Series—
“A Perilous Passage”
15th of Series—
“In Port O’ Dreams”

A Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays—One Released Each Monday
The First Was Released September 14th

Fifteen chapters to the book, each chapter in its regular order representing a release.
Full cloth binding, with fifteen full page half-tone illustrations, including an autographed frontispiece of Arthur Johnson.

SINGLE COPIES, 25 cents. In lots of 25 or more, 15 cents each

Secure these books from the General Film Co. Exchanges

EXHIBITORS ARE URGED TO PLACE IMMEDIATE ORDERS AS THE EDITION IS LIMITED

HERALDS for “The Beloved Adventurer” from Hennegan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio
POSTERS from the A. B. C. Co., Cleveland, Ohio
Released on the regular programme every MONDAY through the General Film Company

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street
SIX-A-WEEK

“The First To Standardize PhotoPlays”

Essanay

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

The man voted the world’s most popular photoplayer is presented in

“THE BATTLE OF LOVE”

This latest of Essanay’s complete prize mystery plays produced in conjunction with The Ladies’ World is a wholesome type of a triangular love tangle. The complete story with the exception of one paragraph will appear in the January number of The Ladies’ World. Big prizes are offered by the magazine for the best written lost paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay film; 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery.

Released December 19 through the feature department of The General Film Company.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Released Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>By</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Monday, Dec 7</td>
<td>“Sweedie and the Hypnotist”</td>
<td>George Ade</td>
<td>Sweedie inherits an immense fortune but wakes to find it only a dream.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday, Dec 8</td>
<td>“Mrs. Trenwith Comes Home”</td>
<td>George Ade</td>
<td>How a society woman who shirked her duty as a mother was brought to her senses by the illness of her child.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wednesday, Dec 9</td>
<td>The Fable of “The Bush-League Lover Who Failed to Qualify”</td>
<td>George Ade</td>
<td>A bashful youth finds that the art of making love cannot be learned from books.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thursday, Dec 10</td>
<td>“Sophie’s Sweetheart”</td>
<td>George Ade</td>
<td>Sophie has many troubles on the sea of matrimony.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friday, Dec 11</td>
<td>“Every Inch a King”</td>
<td>George Ade</td>
<td>A story of love, intrigue and war featuring Mr. Francis X. Bushman and Miss Beverly Bayne.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saturday, Dec 12</td>
<td>“Broncho Billy’s Dad”</td>
<td>George Ade</td>
<td>A western drama featuring Mr. G.M. Anderson.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MR. G. M. ANDERSON

Known all around the world as “BRONCHO BILLY” is presented in

“The Tell-Tale Hand”

By Frank Blyton, author of “What Happened to Mary?” and “Who Will Marry Mary?”

This latest and greatest western drama is full of human interest. It touches the tenderest emotions of the heart and stirs the soul. It is replete with dramatic incidents and holds the spectator spell bound from beginning to end.

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

is presented in

“In the Glare of the Lights”

AND

“The Plum Tree”

These Essanay complete prize mystery plays are filling theatres everywhere. Millions are being thrilled by the dramatic intensity of the plays.

Released through feature department General Film Co.

“ONE WONDROULF NIGHT”

(In 4 acts)

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is presented in this drama of love and intrigue, which is filling theatres all over the country.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.

611 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
Factory and Studio, 1232 Argyle St., Chicago, Ill.
SEE AMERICANS FIRST
FLYING "A" and AMERICAN "BEAUTY" FEATURE FILMS
MADE IN U.S.A.

"Out of the Darkness"
Under direction of Thos. Ricketts. Monday, December 7th, 1914

A Two Act Psychological
Drama.
Tense and Thrilling

Featuring
Wm. Garwood
and Vivian Rich

AMERICAN "BEAUTY" FILMS
"Limping to Happiness"
A Dainty Comedy Farce Release Tuesday, December 8th, 1914

"The Girl in Question"
A Modern Society Drama Depicting a Mother's Strategy.
Release Wednesday, December 9th, 1914

Distributed exclusively through the United States and America by the Mutual Film Corporation.
BY ARRANGEMENT WITH THE LIEBLER COMPANY
CALIFORNIA MOTION PICTURE CORPORATION
PRESENTS
BEATRIZ MICHELENA AS "LOVEY MARY"

IN

Mrs. WIGGS of the
CABBAGE PATCH

FOUNDED ON ANNE CRAWFORD FLEXNER'S DRAMA-TIZATION OF ALICE HEAN RICE'S FAMOUS NOVELS,
"MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH" AND "LOVEY
MARY." WITH BLANCHE CHAPMAN AS MRS. WIGGS

RELEASED NOV. 30 ON THE ALCO PROGRAM
ALCO HAS BEEN A LIFE SAVER FOR MANY AN EXHIBITOR.
A PROGRAM WITH A BIG THEATRICAL STAR IN EVERY ONE OF ITS RELEASES, PLAYING IN SOME FAMOUS PLAY OR NOVEL, IS A HARD PROPOSITION FOR THE PUBLIC TO MISS

ALCO FILM CORPORATION
HOME OFFICE, ALCO BUILDING 218 WEST 42ND STREET NEW YORK

State Right Buyers
A few territorial rights still open on our following

5-Part Dramatic Class A Features

"The Banker's Daughter"
"Northern Lights"
"The Greyhound"
"Capt. Swift"
"The Ordeal"

Starring KATHERINE LA SALLE, from the stage play written by Bronson Howard
Starring HARRY SPINGLER, from the stage play by Barbour and Harkins
Starring WILLIAM H. TOOKER, from the stage play written by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner
Starring DAVID WALL, from the stage play written by C. Haddon
Chambers
Starring ANNA LAUGHLIN, a poetic adaptation

Exhibitors New York State and New Jersey—For bookings on "Northern Lights" and "Capt. Swift" communicate direct with the Life Photo Film Corporation

Our Future Releases Under the Alco Program—"SPRINGTIME," by Booth Tarkington, starring Florence Nash
"THE AVALANCHE," by Robert Hilliard, starring Cathrine Countiss

LIFE PHOTO FILM CORPORATION
Executive Offices
220 West 42nd Street, New York City

Studio and Laboratory
Grantwood, N. J.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
One reel comedies are in high popular favor and the demand is growing greater every day.

Yet of all forms of photoplay the short comedy is the most difficult to produce. MinA Films are the result of careful study and long preparation for this especial work, backed up by years of successful experience in the production of every style of picture.

Not a word was said about the time and money and effort being spent in the perfecting of MinA Films until they had reached the heartbreaking standard set by their producer.

Early in September that high mark had been surpassed and as proof of their extraordinary merit, MinA Films were added to the regular licensed program and, commencing on Thursday, December 17th, the first weekly release will be made through the or other Licensed Exchanges. Place your orders now with the branch office nearest you, or ask for particulars through Melies Mfg. Co., 204 E. 38th St., N. Y.

General Film Company

David Horsley

through careful study and long practical experience has evolved a method and built up an equipment which brings developing, printing, toning, tinting and title work close to perfection.

Several mechanical devices and chemical combinations are Mr. Horsley's own invention. The factory is a model of scientific arrangement, and the prices are right. Only 20 minutes from New York City to the Centaur Film Co., Bayonne, N. J.

Pathe

Pictures of the Players are not only ornamental necessities for your theatre, but serve to keep up your patron's interest in the plays you are running.

Pathe has introduced an innovation in player pictures.

Here are four superb oil portraits of the popular Pathe players Pearl White, Eleanor Woodruff, Crane Wilbur, and Paul Panzer. They are reproduced by a wonderful new process that retains the full color richness, technique and finish of the originals—in fact, they cannot be distinguished from the originals. Yet they are sold at a price within the reach of everybody.

You must see these pictures to appreciate their amazing beauty. When framed they are unsurpassed for the lobby of a theatre or for the home. Painted for us by the famous artists Goldbeck, Crisp, and Nikolaki, each picture is signed both by the artist and by the player portrayed. Each is a masterpiece. Each was especially selected and approved by the individual players.

Your patrons will want these pictures as soon as they see them and learn the inconceivably low price. This opens up a new source of profit to you. Advertising matter will be furnished.

Size of pictures—13x17 inches, mounted ready for framing. Price—$2.50 each, f. o. b. Exchange where purchased. These splendid reproductions may be obtained through any of Eclectic Feature Film Exchanges, at the home office, or through an exhibitor showing the "Perils of Pauline."

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
The Stolen Birthright

3-part drama made by the Wharton's. The touching story of twin sisters who never knew each other because of a baby that died when they were born. A pulsing human story that shows Thurlow Bergen and Elsie Esmond at their best. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

30 Years of a Gambler's Life

3 reel powerful drama made by Pathé. Shows how gambling greases the decline in the pathway of life, and how the nearness of an unspeakable calamity may straighten a man out. A drama of human strength and weakness. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

Jolts of Jealousy

1 reel American Pathé comedy. A Swedish maid, a Swedish farmer, his advertisement for a wife, the maids mistress and her husband—jolts of jealousy and a laugh with every jolt.

The Perils of Pauline

Pauline's a crowder. She crowds your theatre, the newspapers, the box-office, and she crowds more thrills and daring into two perilous reels than any other heroine in film life.

PAULINE ASSURES PROFITS

Exchanges in All the Principal Cities of the United States

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

110 West 40th Street

NEW YORK CITY

"The Cream of American and European Studios"
DON'T OVERLOOK THE KIND OF a picture a machine will project when selecting a projector. For BRIGHT Pictures, for FLICKERLESS and that soft velvet kind (not those gloomy pictures which hurt the eyes for an hour afterward) use a LATE MODEL MOTIOGRAPH

It's the machine that uses the two inside shutters that travel in opposite direction and produce the BEST picture of any machine manufactured today. If you don't know about the MOTIOGRAPH, write us today for Motograph Literature.

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
566 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.

Western Office
833 Market Street, San Francisco

Mirror Screen Company, Inc.
F. J. Rembusch, President
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA

Manufacturers of the Wonderful
REMBUSCH PATENTED GLASS MIRROR SCREEN
And all other kinds of Curtains for Moving Picture Projection, White Opaque, Glass Transparent Screens for Rear Projection, Goldcloth Fibre Screens, Mirrocloth Fibre Screens, Seamless with Stretchers or Rollers.

The Glass Mirror Screen reflects the picture entirely by Diffuse Reflection. Send for my booklet explaining the philosophy of screens. You will learn something.

Nine different finishes. For wide or narrow houses.

Motion Picture Making and Exhibiting
By JOHN R. RATHBUN, B. S. C. E., formerly associate editor of MOTIOGRAPHY
240 Pages — Fully Illustrated

A comprehensive, up to now volume dealing with the principles of Motography; the making of Motion Pictures; the Scenario; Film Exhibiting; Coloring and Talking Pictures; Covering all departments of mechanical and technical production of films and the successful operation of picture theaters in detail.

Price in full cloth, gold stamping, postpaid. $1.14 or with a year's subscription to MOTIOGRAPHY, all prepaid. $3.50

Electricity Magazine Corporation
Monadnock Building - - CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTIOGRAPHY
THE popularity of Thanhouser productions is due to the remarkable strength of the Thanhouser organization. In regular Thanhouser releases you will find such stars as Florence La Badie and Sidney Bracy who made famous The Million Dollar Mystery.

The overwhelming success of The Million Dollar Mystery demonstrates the ability of the Thanhouser Film Corporation as a producer of high quality photoplays.

The Thanhouser Film Corporation releases three productions every week through the Mutual Film Corporation in the United States and Canada. Exhibitors can arrange bookings in America through the nearest Mutual Exchange.

For the current week we announce these three releases:

Thanhouser Film Corporation
New Rochelle, New York
Information for Motography’s M. P. Theater Directory

Name of Theater: [Name]
Address: [Address]
Town: [Town]
State: [State]
Area you inhabit: [Area]
What other houses do you operate? [Other Houses]

When was the house built? [Built]
Frontage and depth of house in feet? [Frontage and Depth]
Seating Capacity? [Capacity]
Admission Price? [Price]
How many shows per day? [Shows]

NOTE—Exhibitors are invited to supply the above blanks to supply the information requested. When properly filled out, please forward to Motography, Monadnock Bldg., Chicago for listing in Motography’s M. P. Theater Directory. If you do not care to maintain your magazine, ask us to send you a blank for similar purpose.

Date: [Date]
A Treat at Our Expense

The World Film Corporation believes in delivering quality plus without charging an extra dollar. That is why General Manager Lewis J. Selznick has arranged to place the great American Photoplay Masterpiece "The Seats of the Mighty" a feature which represents an investment of $100,000 and eight months to make, into the regular service of the World Film Corporation. This great 6-part film triumph will be released Dec. 7. Exhibitors who are not receiving the World Film Service and care to secure their magnetic features should communicate at once with the nearest branch of the World Film Corporation.

Lewis J. Selznick, Vice-President and General Manager
130 West 46th Street New York City
34 branches throughout the United States and Canada

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
THE PERFECTION OF PHOTO-MOTION

EVERY EXHIBITOR SHOULD BOOK THESE WONDERFUL PICTURES (Through the General Film Special Service)

By Arrangement with Fred Mace

EVELYN NESCUT THAW and her son Russell William Thaw in

"THREADS OF DESTINY"

Direction—Joseph W. Smiley

EDWIN ARDEN in

"EAGLE'S NEST"

Direction—Romaine Fielding

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK (The Funniest man on the stage) in

"THE RINGTAILED RHINOCEROS"

Direction—George W. Terwilliger

By William H. Clifford

By Edwin Arden

By Lawrence S. McChukey

READY FOR EARLY RELEASE

ROSE COGHAN and Ethel Clayton in

"THE SPORTING DUCHESS"

Direction—Barry O'Neil

The thrilling experience of a U. S. Envoy

"THE SPY'S FATE"

Direction—Joseph W. Smiley

By W. H. Lippert

IN PREPARATION

"THE COLLEGE WIDOW"

Featuring Ethel Clayton and George Soule Spencer.

Direction—Barry O'Neil

SIX REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

"THE BELOVED ADVENTURER"

Twelfth of Series "FATE'S TANGLED THREADS" Drama Monday, November 30th

"FOR A WIDOW'S LOVE" Split Reel Comedies Tuesday, December 1st

"THE HOUSE OF D'OR" Two Reel Dramas Wednesday, December 2nd

"THE GRIP OF THE PAST" Two Reel Dramas Thursday, December 3rd

"A BELIEVER IN DREAMS" Drama Friday, December 4th

"BROWN'S COOK" Split Reel Comedies Saturday, December 5th

SPECIAL ONE, THREE AND SIX SHEETS

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY

PHILADELPHIA, PA. CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street

The Powers of Europe with their great strength and fighting mechanism crush and destroy nations

The Power's of America with its superior mechanism and wonderful projection of motion pictures crushes all criticism

Write for Catalog M

NICHOLAS POWER COMPANY

NINETY GOLD STREET NEW YORK CITY

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
A Series of Beautiful Photoplays
The Talk of the Movie Fans

"The Beloved Adventurer"
By EMMETT CAMPBELL-HALL
Featuring ARTHUR JOHNSON and LOTTIE BRISCOE

ALSO PUBLISHED IN BOOK FORM
50,000 Copies Sold. Second Edition Now Ready

1st of Series—
"Lord Cecil Intervenes"
2nd of Series—
"An Untarnished Shield"
3rd of Series—
"An Affair of Honor"
4th of Series—
"An American Heiress"
5th of Series—
"The Girl from the West"
6th of Series—
"The Golden Hope"
7th of Series—
"The Holdup"
8th of Series—
"A Partner to Providence"
9th of Series—
"Lord Cecil Plays a Part"
10th of Series—
"Lord Cecil Keeps His Word"
11th of Series—
"The Serpent Comes to Eden"
12th of Series—
"Fate's Tangled Threads"
13th of Series—
"Through Desperate Hazards"
14th of Series—
"A Perilous Passage"
15th of Series—
"In Port O' Dreams"

A Series of 15 Single Reel Dramatic Photoplays—One Released Each Monday
The First Was Released September 14th

Fifteen chapters to the book, each chapter in its regular order representing a release. Full cloth binding with fifteen full page half-tone illustrations, including an autographed frontispiece of Arthur Johnson.

SINGLE COPIES, 25 cents. In lots of 25 or more, 15 cents each

Secure these books from the General Film Co. Exchanges
EXHIBITORS ARE URGED TO PLACE IMMEDIATE ORDERS AS THE EDITION IS LIMITED

HERALDS for "The Beloved Adventurer" from Hennegan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio
POSTERS from the A. B. C. Co., Cleveland, Ohio
Released on the regular programme every MONDAY through the General Film Company

LUBIN MANUFACTURING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
CHICAGO OFFICE, 154 West Lake Street
SIX-A-WEEK

"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

The man voted the world's most popular photoplayer is presented in

"THE BATTLE OF LOVE"

(In Three Acts)

This latest of Essanay's complete prize mystery plays produced in conjunction with The Ladies' World is a wholesome type of a triangular love tangle. The complete story with the exception of one paragraph will appear in the January number of The Ladies' World. Big prizes are offered by the magazine for the best written lost paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay film; 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery.

Released December 19 through the feature department of The General Film Company.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Released Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Story Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Monday, December 14</td>
<td>&quot;Madame Double X&quot;</td>
<td>A burlesque on the famous play &quot;Madame X.&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday, December 15</td>
<td>&quot;The Loose Change of Chance&quot;</td>
<td>How young Hallman by chance captured a crook and received the reward. Adapted from the Munsey Magazine.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wednesday, December 16</td>
<td>&quot;Two Pop-up Fables&quot;</td>
<td>By GEORGE ADE Two mirth producing fables in one reel.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thursday, December 17</td>
<td>&quot;Snakeville's Blind Pig&quot;</td>
<td>The bartender invents a scheme to serve his customers, but is not clever enough to deceive Sophie, the sheriff.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friday, December 18</td>
<td>&quot;The Girl from Thunder Mountain&quot;</td>
<td>(In Two Acts) A thrilling drama portraying the rugged life of the Virginia mountaineers, with Richard C. Travers and Ruth Stonehouse.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saturday, December 19</td>
<td>&quot;Broncho Billy's Christmas Spirit&quot;</td>
<td>(Reg. U. S. Patent Office) Broncho Billy gives up his favorite horse to make a destitute family happy. G. M. ANDERSON FEATURED.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MR. G. M. ANDERSON

Known all around the world as "BRONCHO BILLY" is presented in

"The Tell-Tale Hand"

This latest and greatest western drama is full of human interest. It touches the tenderest emotions of the heart and stirs the soul. It is replete with dramatic incidents and holds the spectator spell bound from beginning to end.

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is presented in

"In the Glare of the Lights"

AND

"The Plum Tree"

These Essanay complete prize mystery plays are filling theatres everywhere. Millions are being thrilled by the dramatic intensity of the plays.

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"

(In 4 acts)

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is presented in this drama of love and intrigue, which is filling theatres all over the country.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.

521 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Photograph Studio, 333 Argyle Street, Chicago, Ill.

SEE AMERICANS FIRST
Flying "A" and American "Beauty" Feature Films
MADE IN U.S.A.

IN TUNE
RELEASE, DEC. 14, 1914

A Portrayal of Causes Underlying Fireside Tragedies
In Two Acts

Direction of Henry Otto.
Featuring Winifred Greenwood and Ed. Coxen

GORGEOUS ARTISTIC
AMERICAN BEAUTY FILMS
"Her Younger Sister" A Love Drama with a Touching Heart Interest.
Direction of Frank Cooley.
Release Tuesday, December 15th, 1914

Flying "A" Hits of the Week

"Trapped by Heliograph" A timely production of a soldier's joys and tribulations. Release Friday, December 18th, 1914.
WAR PICTURES
for LOBBY DISPLAY

When you have a good thing tell the public about it.
The Hearst-Selig News Pictorial IS a good thing. The most effective way to tell about it is by using the Hearst-Selig display service in your lobby.

Attending a Wounded Soldier in the Sand Dunes on the Belgian Coast

Illustrating Scenes from the
HEARST-SELIG NEWS PICTORIAL
The Most Popular Reel in America

For Further Particulars Address
INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE, 238 William St., NEW YORK

THE INDUCTOR COMPENSATOR
An Alternating Current Transformer
Designed by an electrical expert in motion picture practice. Built and guaranteed by the leading manufacturers of motion picture machinery in the world. Simple, inexpensive and highly efficient. Order from your exchange or from THE BELL & HOWELL CO., 1923 Larchmont Ave., Chicago, Ill.

For BOOKINGS on Features of Class—Apply
PEERLESS FILM EXCHANGE
36 West Randolph Street
CHICAGO

MAKE YOUR LOBBY DISPLAY ATTRACTIVE
There is nothing more fascinating to the public than a bright brass frame to display your photos or posters. We make Lobby and Theatre Fixtures and brass Rails of every description. DON'T FAIL TO VISIT OUR SHOW ROOMS.
Write for Catalog. Established 1852.
THE NEWMAN MFG. CO.,
715-717 Sycamore St., Cincinnati, Ohio,
BRANCH FACTORIES AND SHOW ROOMS:
128 W. Lake St., Chicago
300 S. 12th Ave., New York

BUY MOTOGRAPHY
From Your Newsdealer
TEN CENTS PER COPY
Insist Upon Him Getting It For You

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
World Film Corporation

LEWIS J. SELZNICK
Vice-President and General Manager

Announces Its Appointment as Sole Distributor of the Distinctive Feature Productions of Toe California Motion Picture Corporation

In Preparation

“Lily of Poverty Flats”
By Bret Harte
Dramatized by Marion Russell

Beatriz Michelena
in

“Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch”
The Famous Liebler Stage Success
Released January 4

and “Mignon”
After the Great Opera with the Same Star
Released January 18

In Preparation

“Salvation Nell” | “The Price She Paid”
By Edward Sheldon | By David Graham Phillips

WORLD FILM CORPORATION
130 West 46th Street New York, N. Y.
Lubin Masterpieces

NOW READY AND ABOUT TO BE RELEASED (Through the General Film Special Service):

- "Eagle's Nest"
  - Drama
  - Direction: Romaine Fielding
  - By Edwin Arden

- "The Ringtailed Rhinoceros"
  - Comedy Drama
  - Direction: George W. Terwilliger
  - By Lawrence S. McCluskey

- "The White Mask"
  - Drama
  - Direction: Joseph W. Smiley
  - By Clay M. Greene

- "The Sporting Duchess"
  - Comedy Drama
  - Direction: Barry O'Neill
  - By Cecil Raleigh

- "The College Widow"
  - Comedy
  - By George Ade

- "The Valley of Lost Hope"
  - Drama
  - Direction: Romaine Fielding
  - By Shannon Fife

NOW SHOWING WITH SUCCESS (By Arrangement with Fred Mace):

- "Threads of Destiny"
  - Drama
  - Direction: Joseph W. Smiley
  - By William H. Cliffford

SIX REGULAR RELEASES EACH WEEK

"The Beloved Adventurer"
- Thirteenth of Series "Through Desperate Hazards"
- Monday, December 7th

"He Made His Mark"
- Split Reel Comedies
- Tuesday, December 8th

"Boys at the Shore"
- Two Reel Drama
- Wednesday, December 9th

"The Man from the Sea"
- Two Reel Drama
- Thursday, December 10th

"On Moonshine Mountain"
- Drama
- Friday, December 11th

"Sam and the Bully"
- Split Reel Comedies
- Saturday, December 12th

Special One, Three and Six Sheets

Lubin Manufacturing Company

Chicago Office, 154 West Lake Street

---

Tom Terriss

The Famous English Player has joined the Kinetophone

Mr. Terriss will produce the famous Terriss Plays under the K. C. Emblem.

Assisted by

Anne Luther

He will first appear in his own play

"A Man's Shadow"

Book ahead from the

K. C. Booking Co.,
Incorporated
Telephone 6072 Bryant
New York 126-132 W. 46th St., New York

A clear picture is as essential as a good scenario. Because the basic product is right the clearest pictures are on Eastman Film. Identifiable by the stencil mark in the margin.

Eastman Kodak Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
POPULAR PLAYS AND PLAYERS COMPANY

Presents the Brilliant and Versatile International Dramatic Star

OLGA PETROVA

in An Intense and Romantic Tale of Intrigue and Trickery

THE TIGRESS

Staged midst the original settings and following the faithful manner, the environment and surroundings suggested by the author.

Released December 7

NOTE—The World’s Most Beautiful Artiste

Mme. Lina Cavalieri in Manon Lescaut

The Artistic Masterpiece of Motography

Now showing on Alco Program in all unsold territory.

Inquire of the Exchange in your territory for this and other magnetic features.

ALCO FILM CORP., 218 W. 42nd Street, New York City
BRANCHES GIRDLING AMERICA

Your Personal Subscription

for

Motography

America’s Leading Film Magazine

$3.00
a year

would prove both a convenience and a means of real profit. Each issue is of vital interest and practical value to every man in the motion picture business. If you miss one copy, you may miss an article or an idea that would have a vital effect on your work.

As a regular subscriber, you would be able to read Motography carefully and systematically at your leisure, and to preserve a file of copies for reference and for binding.

Bound volumes of Motography form the best foundation for a reference library.

We suggest that you have the magazine sent to your residence.

Address

Motography
Monadnock Bldg. CHICAGO

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
The information appearing on this page and that which will follow in subsequent editions of Motography has been secured by co-operation with the subscribers. We have thousands of similar reports which should be added to the motion picture trade list. Corrections and additions are invited.

Illinois

DANVILLE (27,574) Chalmers Theater, E. Main St., remodeled 20x130, investment $1,200. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 45 ft. Piano and Drums. Seats 150 @ 15c. E. V. Purrier, mgr.

FORREST (967) Varsity Theater, remodeled 21x130, investment $1,500. Shows—one 1 1/2 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 35 ft. Piano and Drums. Seats 150 @ 15c. W. V. and L. R. Kempton, owners.

GALESBURG (23,660) Nickodex Theater, N. 3rd St., remodeled 21x90, investment $3,300. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 9x12, throw 50 ft. Piano and Drums. Seats 250 @ 25c. D. C. Hoey, owner.

GALVA (26,434) Princess Theater, permanent 25x100, investment $2,000. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 50 ft. Orchestra. Seats 260 @ 25c. M. E. and H. G. Metcalf, owners.

GREENFIELD (2,451) Hinsdale Theater, S. Main St., remodeled 20x100, investment $1,200. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 35 ft. Piano and Drums. Seats 250 @ 15c. O. B. Pfeiffer, owner.

GENEVA (2,631) Geneva Theater, 120 S. State St., remodeled 20x100, investment $1,500. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 50 ft. Piano and Drums. Seats 250 @ 15c. J. M. Holder and Vaughn, owners. Employs 3.

GREENFIELD (1,161) Opera House, remodeled 18x90, investment $1,600. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 9x12, throw 45 ft. Orchestra. Seats 375 @ 10c. Piano. Kincadel & Metcalf, owners.

HINSDALE (2,451) Hinsdale Theater, permanent 25x100, investment $1,600. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 50 ft. Orchestra. Seats 260 @ 25c. M. C. Murray, owner.

JACKSONVILLE (15,225) Lyric Theater, remodeled 21x130, investment $2,000. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 35 ft. Piano and Drums. Seats 250 @ 15c. W. F. Tieford, owner.

KNOXVILLE (2,488) Comedy Theater, Sixth and Locust Sts., remodeled 25x125, investment $3,000. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 50 ft. Piano and Drums. Seats 300 @ 15c. W. F. Tieford, owner. Employs 3.

NEWTON (1,268) Gem Theater, North Side 10x12, investment $1,000. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 9x12, throw 45 ft. Orchestra. Seats 225 @ 10c. Piano. S. Fisher, owner. Employs 3.

KOKOMO (1,872) Holsum Opera House, permanent 25x130, investment $1,600. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 45 ft. Piano and Drums. Seats 300 @ 10c. W. A. Holsum, owner. Employs 7.

MACOMB (7,774) Grand Theater, remodeled 25x85, investment $1,500. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 9x12, throw 45 ft. Orchestra. Seats 380 @ 10c. H. B. Frank, owner.

MACOMB (5,774) Family Theater, 30 W. State St., remodeled 25x60, investment $1,000. Shows—(9) 1 hr. Changes six times a week. Screen 10x12, throw 45 ft. Orchestra. Seats 260 @ 25c. Joe Murray, owner. Employs 4.

MOTOGRAPHY Vol. XII, No. 24

MOTOGRAPHY's M. P. Theater Directory

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name of Theater</th>
<th>Address</th>
<th>Town</th>
<th>State</th>
<th>Are you Incorporated?</th>
<th>Investment</th>
<th>What is your call?</th>
<th>When was the house built?</th>
<th>Frontage and depth of house in feet?</th>
<th>Seating Capacity?</th>
<th>Admission Price?</th>
<th>How many shows per day?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Length of each show?

Do you show Vaudeville?

First run film?

What program?

How many programs per year?

How many employees in your theater?

Size of screen?

Length of throw?

House built for theater or remodeled?

What music do you use?

What competition have you?
Robert Conness

again gladdens the hearts of his many admirers by displaying in

The Colonel of the Red Hussars that versatility and splendid dramatic bearing which has won him renown.

In richness of setting as well as in fine dramatic action this film is a splendid offering and will certainly command a full house. In three parts.

To be released December 18th

EDISON'S SPLENDID DECEMBER LIST OF OFFERINGS:

Seldom has there been grouped into one list such a varied, timely and talented lot of attractions as that offered in our December releases. Each is "gilt edged" and reveals special attention to details. We want every licensed exhibitor to get the Kinetogram, which gives a complete list and synopsis of our Edison pictures. If you do not get it ask us for it.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.
Makers of the Edison Kinetoscope, Model "D"
265 LAKESIDE AVENUE, ORANGE, N. J.
MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN
The man voted the world's most popular photoplayer is presented in
"THE BATTLE OF LOVE"
(in Three Acts)

BY MRS. WILSON WOODROW
This latest of Essanay's complete prize mystery plays produced in conjunction with The Ladies' World is a wholesome type of a triangular love tangle. The complete story with the exception of one paragraph will appear in the January number of The Ladies' World. The prices are offered by the magazine for the best written lost paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay film: 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery.

Released December 19 through the feature department of The General Film Company

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Released Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Monday, December 21</td>
<td>&quot;Their Cheap Vacation&quot;</td>
<td>How a supposedly cheap vacation turned out to be a most expensive lark.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday, December 22</td>
<td>&quot;The Volunteer Burglar&quot;</td>
<td>A young author became a burglar to assist a strange girl in gaining her end. Adapted from The Munsey Magazines.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wednesday, December 23</td>
<td>&quot;The Husband Who Showed Up and Did His Duty&quot;</td>
<td>By GEORGE ADE A faithful young husband got sat on for being nice to friend wife's guests.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thursday, December 24</td>
<td>&quot;Slippery Slim Gets Square&quot;</td>
<td>Slim avenges himself on his rival and wins a bride.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friday, December 25</td>
<td>&quot;Any Woman's Choice&quot;</td>
<td>(In Two Acts) A woman is compelled to choose between her husband who has deceived her and a mutual friend who has protected her. With Mr. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN and Miss Beverly Bayne.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saturday, December 26</td>
<td>&quot;Broncho Billy and the Sheriff's Office&quot;</td>
<td>(Reg. U. S. Patent Office) A Western drama featuring Mr. G. M. ANDERSON.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MR. G. M. ANDERSON
Known all around the world as "BRONCHO BILLY" is presented in
"The Tell-Tale Hand"
This latest and greatest western drama is full of human interest. It is replete with dramatic incidents and holds the spectator spellbound from beginning to end.

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is presented in
"In the Glare of the Lights"
AND
"The Plum Tree"
These Essanay complete prize mystery plays are filling theatres everywhere. Millions are being thrilled by the dramatic intensity of the plays.

"ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT"
(In 4 acts)
MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN is presented in this drama of love and intrigue, which is filling theatres all over the country.
See Americans First

Flying "A" and American "Beauty" Feature Films
MADE IN U.S.A.

"THE SOWER REAPS" A Thrilling Drama of Political Intrigue
IN TWO ACTS
Featuring Wm. Garwood and Vivian Rich
Release Monday, December 21, 1914
Direction of Thos. Ricketts

American Beauty Films

"BRASS BUTTONS"
A Farce Featuring an excellent cast of Beauty stars
Release Tuesday, December 22, 1914

"TIN CAN SHACK"
A domestic drama replete with intense and throbbing situations.
Featuring Ed Coxen and Winnifred Greenwood
Release Wednesday, December 23, 1914

Distributed exclusively through the United States and Canada by the Mutual Film Corporation

AMERICAN FILM MFG. CO.
CHICAGO
Special arrangements have been made with the Broadway Star Feature Co. to release

ALL 3 PART

Broadway Star Features

in the Regular General Film Service

EVERY TUESDAY OF EVERY WEEK
BEGINNING TUESDAY, JANUARY 5th

The First Month

"Two Women" Released Jan. 5.
"Underneath the Paint" Released Jan. 19.

All have and will have their first showing at the Vitagraph Theatre, New York City, proving them

All Tested Triumphs
All Instantaneous, Irresistible Successes

The Broadway Star Features are replete with dramatic power and indomitable punch.
All the Famous Vitagraph Players appear in them. A regular FEATURE service every week. There's a reason for the Vitagraph being where it is—at the top.

The Vitagraph Monday releases will be changed from a drama to a comedy. This makes three Vitagraph comedies each week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.
On every Saturday of each week, a two-part Vitagraph comedy or drama will be released.

VITAGRAPH CO. of America, Brooklyn, N.Y.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Remember December 17th

MinA Films are being exploited by the most gigantic publicity campaign ever conducted for a single brand of pictures.

Never in the whole history of the industry has publicity been attempted on such a grand scale except by three of the large distributing organizations, and they confused the public by trying to popularize several brands at once. MinA publicity is concentrated on MinA Films alone.

For six months the people in every city in America—THE PEOPLE OF YOUR TOWN—have been reading in the newspapers and magazines of the actors, directors and peculiarities of manufacture which go to make MinA Films different and better than any one reel comedies they have ever known.

This remarkable advertising to the public and to the trade has been done for you. It means ready made audiences, and a continued ever growing demand because honest quality of product stands squarely back of the advertising. Book MinA Films through all licensed exchanges, commencing December 17th and continuing every week thereafter on the General Film Program.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Frank Farrington— the Thanhouser star who was made famous in the character of Braine in The Million Dollar Mystery— now appears in regular releases of Thanhouser Photoplays

This is simply another indication of the strength of the Thanhouser organization—a group of the most noted film stars known. Three Thanhouser productions are released each week through the Mutual Film Corporation in the United States and Canada. Book Thanhouser productions and draw packed houses.

For the current week we announce:

Tuesday, December 22nd. "Under False Colors." This drama is the first Thanhouser release featuring Florence La Badie since The Million Dollar Mystery appeared. It is an exceptional two-reel play with Florence La Badie in the title role, assisted by Miss Forbes, Virginia Waite, Mrs. Farrington and Frank Wood.

Thanhouser Film Corporation
New Rochelle, N.Y.
The World’s Most Famous Fantasy

Gorgeous Spectacles in Fairyland with George Hanlon, Jr., as the Clown

Released January 19th through the General Film Co.

George Hanlon, Jr., appears as Pico, the most famous clown ever created. W. T. Carleton, the noted Mephisto, as the Prince of Darkness. The greatest money-making spectacle the stage has ever seen—ten million dollars gross—during thirty years of popularity. More beautiful, weird and wonderful than the great stage illusionists, Hanlon Brothers, ever could make it. A gorgeous panorama in fairyland, illumined with brilliant photography and exquisite color effects. Prince and Princess, betrothed, are torn asunder by Mephisto Zamaliel carrying her off to the lower regions and beneath the sea. The Prince, with ever faithful and funny Pico, follow her tortuous trials, aided by the all powerful Queen Fantasma, till the lovers, united, sail away on the sea of happiness—an exquisite effect. Indescribably beautiful.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.
Makers of the Edison Kinetoscope, Model “D”
265 LAKESIDE AVE., ORANGE, N. J.
WAR PICTURES
for LOBBY DISPLAY

When you have a good thing tell the public about it.
The Hearst-Selig News Pictorial IS a good thing. The most effective way to tell about it is by using the Hearst-Selig display service in your lobby.

Attending a Wounded Soldier in the Sand Dunes on the Belgian Coast

Illustrating Scenes from the
HEARST-SELIG NEWS PICTORIAL
The Most Popular Reel in America
For Further Particulars Address
INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE, 238 William St., NEW YORK

FIVE BEAUTIFUL
Original Photographs
Size 11 x 14 inches illustrating actual scenes from the reel are placed in the hands of each subscriber in plenty of time to advertise each release.
Price $1.00 per Set.

B. A. ROLFE
Presents the Charming, Dainty Dramatic Star
MABEL TALIAFERRO
in Rachael Cruthers' Best Play
THE THREE OF US
RELEASED DECEMBER 14 ON THE ALCO PROGRAM
Branches Girdling America

ALCO FILM CORPORATION
Walter Haft Seely, Pres.
218 W. 42nd STREET, NEW YORK

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
When Wealth Aspired

A three part Pathe drama telling the story of a beautiful girl who was sold by her parents for a title. Plenty of thrills, replete with human interest and played by a strong cast. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

The Star of Genius

A three reel drama made by Pathe. A dramatic and moving story of theatrical life, of love triumphant at last. 1-3-6 sheet posters.

WHIFFLES MISSES MRS. WHIFFLES

A one reel comedy showing Whiffles in a jealous mood, combined with THE VALLEY OF THE BOURNE, ALGERIAN NOMADS, and SOME SPRING BLOSSOMS, interesting scenics and educational.

THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

110 West 40th Street

NEW YORK, N. Y.

"The Cream of American and European Studios"

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
The Motoigraph for Satisfaction

STOP—think of the many thousand 1910, 1911 and 1912 MOTOGRAPHS in use today, whose owners claim no up-keep and pictures as good as new machines will project.

What does this mean? It means that when you buy a MOTOGRAPH you buy satisfaction for days and many years to come. Invest in a MOTOGRAPH today or write for Motoigraph literature.

The Enterprise Optical Mfg. Co.
566 W. Randolph St., CHICAGO, ILL.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
QUALITY FIRST

STANDARD

POLYSCOPE CORPORATION

OF NEW YORK

Authorized Capital ($1,000,000)

PRESENTS

STANDARD PROGRAM

A new program of superlative quality of single and multiple reel subjects, including an excellent comedy every day!

Regular Weekly Releases Begin January 18, 1915

Through the Standard Program Association

(Incorporated under the Laws of Illinois)

OFFICERS

JOSEPH HOPP, Pres.
NELSON F. EVANS, Vice-Pres.
SAMUEL WERNER, Treas.
E. T. PETERS, Secy.
164 W. Washington St.
Commercial Bldg.
14 North Ninth St.
Secy., Dallas, Tex.
Chicago, III.
Cleveland, O.
St. Louis, Mo.

STANDARD Polyscope Corporation

115 BROADWAY

William P. Cooper
President

NEW YORK CITY

H. C. Hoagland
General Manager

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Manufacturers and Suppliers' Trade Index

This compilation offers a listing of those interests which concern the exhibitors of films. Manufacturers and others whose addresses appear herein are invited to approve the publishers of any errors that should occur.
Every leading paper in the United States and Canada will carry the story of Runaway June.

Runaway June has the most daring and original plot ever seen on the screen. It thrills from title to tale-piece.

George Randolph Chester and Lillian Chester are the authors of Runaway June. It is their best work.

Runaway June is not a serial but a serial series. Each installment is a complete story dealing with the most vital problem of life.

The most wonderful cast ever seen in pictures will appear in Runaway June. Over sixty members are in the Stock Company.

Money—the great God gold—is the fundamental plot on which the action of Runaway June depends—it is responsible for all the situations in the story.

The action in Runaway June is unique in many ways. The picture and serial do not depend on one star but the whole company act big live heart interest parts.

This great serial series will be released in January—if you are a live exhibitor, no matter what program you are using, you will

Write—Wire—Phone
RELIANCE MOTION PICTURE CO.
28 Union Square, New York City.
SIX-A-WEEK

"THE FIRST TO STANDARDIZE PHOTOPLAYS"

Essanay

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

The man voted the world's most popular photoplayer is presented in

"THE BATTLE OF LOVE"
(In Three Acts)

By MRS. WILSON WOODROW

This latest of Essanay's complete prize mystery plays produced in conjunction with The Ladies' World is a wholesome type of a triangular love tangle. The complete story with the exception of one paragraph appears in the January number of The Ladies' World. Big prizes are offered by the magazine for the best written lost paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay film; 5,000,000 readers will try to solve the mystery.

Released December 19 through the feature department of The General Film Company

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Title</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Released Monday, Dec 28</td>
<td>&quot;Sweedie Collects for Charity&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Tuesday, Dec 29</td>
<td>&quot;The Way of the Woman&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Released Wednesday, Dec 30</td>
<td>&quot;Two Dinky Little Dramas of a Non-Serious Kind&quot;</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MR. G. M. ANDERSON

Known all around the world as "BRONCHO BILLY" is presented in

"The Tell-Tale Hand"

This latest and greatest western drama is full of human interest. It is replete with dramatic incidents and holds the spectator spellbound from beginning to end.

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

is presented in

"In the Glare of the Lights"

AND

"The Plum Tree"

These Essanay complete prize mystery plays are filling theatres everywhere. Millions are being thrilled by the dramatic intensity of the plays.

RELEASED THROUGH FEATURE DEPARTMENT GENERAL FILM CO.

TO THE PHOTOPLAY PUBLIC

ESSANAY'S photo play newspaper, the Essanay News, tells you all about the incidents in the lives of its players both on and off the screen. Subscription price 75¢ a year.

Essanay Film Manufacturing Co.
211 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Released two reels every Monday beginning Dec. 28th

What or Who is it?

That's the question that "Craig Kennedy" (played by Arnold Daly) has to solve in this the biggest and best serial yet

Book it through the nearest exchange of the ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
“Craig Kennedy,” the famous scientific detective character created by Arthur Reeve, finds in "THE EXPLOITS OF ELAINE" problems that tax his powers to the utmost. He fascinates the hundreds of thousands of "Cosmopolitan" Magazine readers. He will fascinate millions of picture lovers.

Book this intensely interesting serial through the nearest branch of THE ECLECTIC FILM COMPANY.

Headed by the famous ARNOLD DALY gives in this great serial a remarkable interpretation of a remarkable story.

By special arrangement with the great Hearst newspapers the stories of the Exploits will appear in the leading newspapers of every city in the land.
Mr. Reeve is the only author who has successfully applied the wonders of modern science to the detection of crime. Aided by the able playwright, Mr. Goddard, he has written in this serial a photoplay which reveals the truly remarkable methods of a truly remarkable detective—a play which will hold in breathless interest all who see it.

Such a story acted by such a stellar cast and directed by one of the famous Wharton brothers will unquestionably be

The Biggest of Money Getters

Mr. Exhibitor: Write or Wire the Nearest Eclectic Exchange at Once for Bookings

The Eclectic Film Co., 110 W. 40th St., New York
An American Pathe comedy-drama in three parts featuring ERNEST TRUEX, the star of the New York success "The Dummy." A mixture of laughs and thrills that will make any exhibitor a favorite with his public. 1—3—6 sheet posters.

THE RED SCAR OF COURAGE
A two part Pathe war drama of the better sort combined with "A STORM ON THE WELSH COAST," a beautiful scenic. 1 sheet posters.

RASTUS' RABBID RABBIT HUNT
An animated cartoon comedy by J. R. Bray, combined with "GINGI (SOUTHERN INDIA)" a scenic. Rastus is a scream. 1 sheet posters.

THE SECRET OF THE MOUNTAIN
A Pathe made four part drama combined with "SUGAR MAKING (CUBA)" an educational. A strong story of a youthful sowing of wild oats which brings poverty and suffering to innocent persons but makes a man of the offender in the end. 1—3—6 sheet posters.

THE PATHE NEWS the oldest and best of all pictorial weeklies

THE ECLECTIC
110 W. 40th St.

FILM COMPANY
NEW YORK
WHEN A WOMAN WAITS

A fascinating story of love and devotion, replete with heart interest

Featuring
Ed Coxen
and Winifred Greenwood

Direction of Henry Otto

Release Monday, Dec. 28, 1914

AMERICAN BEAUTY FILMS

“LOVE KNOWS NO LAW”

Delightfully pleasing comedy drama. You are bound to enjoy this.

Featuring Joseph Harris and Virginia Kirtley

Release TUESDAY DEC. 29 1914

“The Unseen Vengeance”

A Fascinating Fireside Drama Visualized

Featuring Vivian Rich, Harry Vonmeter Jack Richardson and an All Star Cast

Direction of Thos. Ricketts

Release Wednesday, Dec. 30, 1914
A Picture That Will Pack Playhouses

"THE ADVENTURES OF GAR EL HAMA"

A Stirring, Spectacular Drama in Four Parts
A Genuine Thriller—What Every Audience Likes

GREAT NORTHERN FILM CO., 110 W. 40th St., New York

Mysterious
ILLINOIS EXHIBITORS WONDERFUL
HENRY WALTHAL Intense CHARMING
BLANCHE SWEET
Book the Photographic Production DeLuxe

D. W. GRIFFITH'S

THE AVENGING CONSCIENCE

OR THOU SHALT NOT KILL

SIX PARTS

FROM

E-L-K FILM CO.

509 Mallers Bldg.
CHICAGO

Dramatic

Ralph Lewis
Geo. Seigmann

Artistic

SPOTTISWOODE AITKEN

Buy Motography
From Your Newsdealer

10 Cents Per Copy
Insist upon him getting it for you

Make Your Lobby Display Attractive
There is nothing more fascinating to the public than a bright brass frame to display your photos or posters. We make Lobby and Theatre Fixtures and Brass Rails of every description.

DON'T FAIL TO VISIT OUR SHOW ROOMS.

Write for Catalog.
Established 1882.
THE NEWMAN MFG. CO.
715-717 Sycamore St.
Cincinnati, O.
314 W. Lake St., Chicago
416 6th Ave., New York

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
DANIEL FROHMAN
PRESENTS
WILLIAM FARNUM
IN A STUPENDOUS AND IMPRESSION FILM VERSION OF WILSON BARRETT'S
SUBLIME AND IMMORTAL DRAMA
"The Sign of The Cross"

IN FIVE
PARTS

RELEASED DECEMBER 21ST.

The Foremost Film Classic Ever Produced in America
Produced by the

FAMOUS PLAYERS
FILM COMPANY

ADOLPH ZUKOR, President
DANIEL FROHMAN, Managing Director
EDWIN S. PORTER, Technical Director
Executive Offices, 213-229 West 26th St., New York City
NOTICE

Commencing on December 17th and continuing every Thursday thereafter, the regular licensed program will include a new one reel comedy of unusual merit.

Public demand for "funny pictures" is so overwhelming that one reel comedies have become a vital requisite to every daily program.

Exhibitors find it difficult—in many cases impossible—to secure consistently good comedies, and it is to meet precisely this condition that MinA Films have been devised.

They are the result of long, special study and practical test by one of the oldest and most successful manufacturers in the industry. MinA Films are recommended for your immediate consideration. Through all licensed exchanges and branches of the General Film Co.

New Policy for the New Year

Special Arrangement Has Been Made
With the Broadway Star Feature Company to Release

All the Three-Part Broadway Star Features
in the Regular General Film Service
Every Alternate Tuesday and Every Alternate Saturday

"TWO WOMEN" Released
Tuesday, January 5th

"THE SAGE BRUSH GAL" Released
Saturday, January 16th

Received the Highest Press Endorsements and Made the Biggest Kind of Hit at the Vitagraph Theatre

"TWO WOMEN"
"Such plays are an unusual occurrence."—Dramatic Mirror.
"The Soul Adventures of Two Women."—New York American.
"A Powerful Drama of Life."—Telegram.
"A Virile Drama."—Evening Sun.

"THE SAGE BRUSH GAL"
"The story might have been written by Bret Harte."—Dramatic Mirror.
"Drama, strong and heart-stirring."—New York American.
"Picture Play with a 'Punch.'"—Variety.
"A vivid picture of the early '50s."—Evening Sun.

The Voice of the Press Is the Voice of the People

Cartoons from the New York American

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Three Big Xmas Pictures—

chock full of that happy Yule Tide spirit that will send gobs of pure joy through any audience. Three human narratives, as Christmas-y as anything ever projected on the screen. Told in pictures in a beautiful way—by the cleverest of Universal Movie stars. Bristling Xmas atmosphere. Rich Xmas settings. Clever Xmas action. Young and old alike will applaud them. Talk about them. They will pack your house. They will insure your portion of the Xmas coin to be spent this season. Book these subjects immediately. Write or wire your exchange.

Wednesday, December 19th (Bison), 2 reels—The Christmas Spirit—featuring Murdock MacQuarrie in a story of a wrecked human life brought back to home and family through a strange accidental meeting. A story of wandering, suffering and strange experiences of an aged man, with a most unexpected ending, which brings joy to all.

December 24th (Rex), 2 reels—The Big Sister’s Christmas—an amusing yet pathetic story of a mixed up love affair of four young folks, showing the big heartedness and the sacrifice the big sister was willing to make to bring joy to her younger sister. There’s a fire, a rescue, plenty of dandy love scenes, and as usual everything ends up with that Universal punch that sends everybody away happy.

Get a Slice of the Xmas Money About to be Spent. Wire Your Exchange for These Subjects.

Universal Film Manufacturing Co.

“Largest Film Manufacturing Concern in the Universe”

1600 Broadway, New York

Carl Laemmle, President
Photoplay Productions Releasing Co.

New York Office . . . 220 W. 42d Street
Chicago Office . . . 37 Wabash Avenue
Minneapolis Office . . 105 Temple Ct. Building
Milwaukee Office . . Manhattan Building
Indianapolis Office . . Empress Feature Film Co.
                      Willoughby Building

Controlling

“The Littlest Rebel”

In the following territory:

Also These Big Box Office Winners:

After the Ball Winning His First Case
Forgiven, or the Jack The Folks From Way O'Diamonds Down East
The Land of the Lost The House of Bondage

COMING: One of the Biggest and Best Serials Ever Released. Wait for It.

Photoplay Productions Releasing Co.

A. M. GOLLOS, President

37 South Wabash Avenue . CHICAGO
Timely Words

The announcement of the Alliance Program was somewhat of a surprise to the trade in general.

Not so, however, to those who knew the many months of patient labor spent in crystallizing the scheme and in building the machinery of the gigantic organization.

The wheels have been turning since the 12th day of October, increasing in velocity and speed, until today the Alliance stands forth a tower of strength, and growing stronger every day.

The advertising of the Alliance has been honest. No false promises have been made. No wild statements of financial backing have been disseminated. The exhibitor's only interest is the picture on the screen, and the sole aim of the Alliance Films Corporation is to place on its program the best feature films that can be had, and it has done so.

The Alliance Films Corporation is not hampered or controlled by any manufacturing company. It reserves the right to buy film on the screen, and it sets the standard for its film productions.

This plan has the complete approval of such manufacturers as are sincere in their determination to produce good film and really put the money into them.

The quality of the productions will increase steadily. It must not be forgotten that the Alliance Program was launched in the midst of certain conditions existing in the trade, and that it has steadily pulled away from these conditions. It has accomplished wonders in a very short time, and in the near future will stand apart and alone, and unquestionably the best program in the world.

Future announcements will show that the biggest and best things in filmmod are being done in the Alliance ranks, and that the exhibitor handling the Alliance Program will have reason to congratulate himself.

ANDREW J. COBE, General Manager

Alliance Films Corp.,
126 West 46th St., : N. Y. C.
Alco Film Corporation

Announces

The following eloquent productions for the

SECOND ALCO QUARTER

Dec. 14 Mabel Taliaferro IN (B. A. Rolfe) “The Three of Us”
Dec. 21 Marie Dressler IN (Alco) “Tillie’s Romance”
Dec. 28 Florence Nash IN (Life Photo) “Springtime”
Jan. 4 Jane Cowl IN (All Star) “The Garden of Lies”
Jan. 11 Orrin Johnson IN (B. A. Rolfe) “Satan Sanderson”
Jan. 18 William H. Tooker IN (Life Photo) “The Avalanche”
Jan. 18 Catharine Countiss IN (Life Photo) “The Shadows of a Great City”

Past Productions Now Procurable at All ALCO EXCHANGES

The superb features from the studios of

All Star Feature Corporation Popular Plays & Players Co.
B. A. Rolfe Photo Plays, Inc. Life Photo Film Corporation

Alco Branches Girdle America

ALCO FILM CORPORATION

Walter Hoff Seely, Pres. 218 W. 42nd Street, New York City

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Wadsworth and Housman in a New Kind of Edison Comedy

Real “Komic-All” Comedies

First of all, let us confess that we realize that our comedies in the past have not had the sparkling speed of our more serious releases. But now—and henceforth—it will be different. We thought the public was ready for comedy replete with real humor—that they had outgrown their old love for the slapstick of circus days. But we found they still want the slapstick—and with an ear to the ground and eye to what the public demands—we are quick to turn about and turn out, from now on, some of the most rollicking and side-splitting screams that ever tickled an audience—whirlwinds—gales of laughter that rip off the funniest, oddest and quaintest of comedy at spanking speed. Wait till you see “The Courtship of the Cooks” (to be released Dec. 30), or “The Champion Process Server” (to be released Jan. 4), if you want to see laughs ripped off every second. William Wadsworth and Arthur Housman—a comedy team not to be equalled on the screen, or stage—are featured in this new great string of comedies that prove these irresistible laugh-makers are past masters of the art of fun-making.

Other Forthcoming Edison Films:

WILLIAM WADSWORTH makes an excellent “Flirt” in a comedy by the same name by Gilbert White, and creates some side-splitting situations as he turns from girl to girl till at last he is pursued by all his rejected ones. Released Dec. 14th.

BARRY O’MOORE as “Octavius” takes the part of Santa Claus and gets mixed up with a burglar, who plays Santa Claus, too, in the same home. “The Adventure of the Wrong Santa Claus” is the title of the reel. Released Dec. 21st.

GERTRUDE McCOY plays the part of “The Stenographer” and brings into strong relief the economic necessities and pitfalls that beset the girl who earns her living. Released Dec. 12th. Gertrude McCoy also takes the part of “Mary” in “The Birth of our Saviour.”

MARK MACDERMOTT plays a double role in “The Best Man” as the jilted bridegroom and the real beneficent. Much merriment is created by the many embarrassing situations. Released Dec. 11th. Mark MacDermott also figures in “A Premature Compromise” as “Lord Stranleigh,” a dramatic representation of the famous Lord Stranleigh Series by Robert Barr. Released Dec. 25th.

BIGelow COOPER makes a fine smuggler and counterfeiter in “Mr. Daly’s Wedding Day,” brining both cop and cabby. Released Dec. 28th.

MABEL TRUNNELLE is certainly doing most excellent work in the series, “Olive’s Opportunities,” in which she figures as “Olive,” the gypsy girl. One of this series is released every Tuesday. Dec. 1st, 8th, 15th, 22nd, 29th.

Fantasma, in thirty years, made ten millions gross. Book this greatest of features and cash in on its undying popularity and appeal.

Thomas A. Edison, Inc.
Makers of the Edison Kinetoscope, Model “D.”

265 Lakeside Avenue, Orange, N. J.
Hanlon Bros.' Funniest Fantasy
Endless Fun :: Marvelous Fairyland
Beauty :: Weird Effects and Illusions

Featuring George Hanlon, Jr. as the Clown
Released December 19th through the General Film Co.

IN 5 PARTS

George Hanlon, Jr., appears as Pico, the most famous clown ever created. W. T. Carleton, the noted Mephisto, as the Prince of Darkness. The greatest money-making spectacle the stage has ever seen—ten million dollars gross—during thirty years of popularity. More beautiful, weird and wonderful than the great stage illusionists, Hanlon Brothers, ever could make it. A gorgeous panorama in fairyland, illumined with brilliant photography and exquisite color effects. Prince and Princess, betrothed, are torn asunder by Mephisto Zamaliel carrying her off to the lower regions and beneath the sea. The Prince, with ever faithful and funny Pico, follow her tortuous trials, aided by the all powerful Queen Fantasma, till the lovers, united, sail away on the sea of happiness—an exquisite effect. Indescribably beautiful.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.
Makers of the Edison Kinetoscope, Model "D"
265 LAKESIDE AVE., ORANGE, N. J.
Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Co.

Jesse L. Lasky Presents the Compliments of the Christmas Season
To All Motion Picture Exhibitors Everywhere and to the Millions of Patrons, Who Always Welcome Lasky Features

Lasky Productions Already Released and Announced for the Near Future

VIRGINIAN . September 7th . Dustin Farnum

BOBBY BURNIT . September 17th . Edward Abeles

WHERE THE TRAIL DIVIDES . October 12th . Robert Edeson

WHAT'S HIS NAME . October 22nd . Max Figman

READY MONEY . November 5th . Edward Abeles

MAN FROM HOME . November 9th . Charles Richman

CIRCUS MAN . November 19th . Theodore Roberts

ROSE OF RANCHO . ROSE OF RANCHO . November 30th . Bessie Barriscale

LASKY-BELASCO PRODUCTION

THE GHOST BREAKER . December 7th . H. B. Warner
By PAUL Dickey and CHAS. W. GODDARD

CAMEO KIRBY . December 24th . Dustin Farnum
By BOOTH TARKINGTON and HARRY LEON WILSON

GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST . January 4th . ALL Lasky-Belasco Cast Star
By DAVID BELASCO

YOUNG ROMANCE . January 21st . Edith Taliaferro
By W. M. C. DeMille's Successful Play

By HAROLD McGRATH Courtesy of Famous Players

AFTER FIVE . January 28th . Edward Abeles
By W. M. C. and CECIL B. DeMILLE

THE WARRENS of VIRGINIA . February 15th . Blanche Sweet
By W. M. C. DeMille Special Lasky-Belasco Production

Ornamental Theatres

PLASTER RELIEF DECORATIONS
Theatres Designed Everywhere
Write for Illustrated Theatre Catalog. Send us Sizes of Theatre for Special Designs
THE DECORATORS SUPPLY CO.
2549 Archer Avenue
CHICAGO, ILL.

A clear picture is as essential as a good scenario. Because the basic product is right the clearest pictures are on Eastman Film. Identifiable by the stencil mark in the margin.

EASTMAN KODAK CO., ROCHESTER, N. Y.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY.
Recipe for “Program” Making

The “standard” form of procedure which seems to be very fashionable at the present time is about as follows:

Take 24 hours of preparation; add press notices \textit{ad lib}; mix in a few dollars worth of advertising; let the concoction simmer for a week or two; then sit back and note the wonderfully sudden evaporation of the whole business.

In the successful launching of the stupendous nationwide enterprise now universally known as the we adopted a new standard and proceeded along entirely new lines. These involved:

UNITED SERVICE

1. A year of preparation.
2. The opening of 43 exchanges.
3. The expenditure of $2,500,000.
4. The organization of the United Motion Picture Producers, Inc.

RESULT—The establishment of the United Film Service on a sound, permanent basis.

The United offers to the exhibitor a complete and diversified service of single and multiple reels which will fit his every requirement.

UNITED FILM SERVICE (Warner’s Features, Inc.) New York
The Most Sensational Hit of the Year

"IRELAND A NATION"

Written and Produced by

WALTER MACNAMARA

A Merry Christmas to All

MACNAMARE FEATURE FILM CO., Inc., 126 W. 46th St.

Telephone 3023 Bryant

NEW YORK
"THERE IS SENSATIONAL BOX OFFICE INTEREST IN 'THREE WEEKS.'"—VARIETY. "VIVID IN INTEREST AND GIVES NO OFFENSE."—N. Y. HERALD. "WILL SWEEP THE COUNTRY."—EVG MAIL. "APPLAUSE LASTED SEVERAL MINUTES."—MORNING TELEGRAPH. "AWAKENED A FUROR OF INTEREST."—MOTION PICTURE NEWS. "ESTIMATED COST OF PRODUCING THE PICTURE IS $85,000."—DRAMATIC MIRROR. "ONE OF THE MOST ATTRACTIVE PICTURES SHOWN IN NEW YORK IN A LONG, LONG TIME."—CLIPPER. "A WONDERFUL PICTURE."—N. Y. STAR, ETC., ETC.

Passed by the National Board of Censorship!

LAST CALL, STATE RIGHTS! HURRY UP CALL, RENTAL$!
GOOD BYE TO OPTIONS! NOTHING $UCCEED$ LIKE $UCCE$$
THE FUROR PHOTO-PLAY $EN$ATION

B. S. Moss' Exquisite Production of Elinor Glyn's Epoch Making Love Drama

"3 WEEKS"

Only Authorized Version. In Five Parts All Infringements Prosecuted

$68,503.00 Sold from First Advertisement

SOLDSOLD

Chicago and State of Ill. with Middle Western States, to Jones, Linick and Schaefer $20,000

San Francisco and all California for $10,000

Bought by SIDNEY HARRIS, SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

New York City and New York State for $12,000

Bought by THE AMALGAMATED PHOTO FEATURE BOOKING CORP., New York, N. Y.

(1 Print Only for Each State. Extra Prints, $500 additional)

BIDS

Ohio, $2,000. Holding for $3,000. New Jersey, $1,500. Holding for $2,500. Pennsylvania, $4,000. Holding for $5,000. Ten Southern States, including Texas, $8,000. Holding for $12,000, or selling separately at $800 to $1,500 each.

Will Ourselves Take 50 Per Cent. Interest in Any of This Territory With Experienced, Live Business Getters. Will Turn Over to All States Buyers Thousands of Dollars in Rental Offers Already Received After Film Is Exhausted. As An Exhibition Show Feature.

First Releases in New York Dec. 7. Write or Phone for Bookings

Beautiful Line of Illuminated Art Posters. 24 Sheets 2 kinds; 6 sheets 2 kinds; 3 sheets 2 kinds; 1 sheet 3 kinds

Also Animated Two-Tone Advance Pictorial Heralds

WRITE!! PHONE!! WIRE!!

B. S. MOSS

RELIABLE FEATURE FILM CORPORATION

Offices, Amalgamated Vaudeville Booking Circuit
Columbia Theatre Building, Broadway and 47th Street, New York
STATE RIGHT BUYERS

A few territories still left unsold on each of our 5 part dramatic masterpieces

"The Banker's Daughter" by Bronson Howard
"The Greyhound" by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner
"Northern Lights" by Barbour and Harkins
"Capt. Swift" by C. Haddon Chambers
"The Ordeal" an adaptation

All future releases are controlled by the Alco Film Corporation

Exhibitors: New York State and New Jersey can book "Capt. Swift" and "Northern Lights" direct through our executive offices

Beautiful lithographs, heralds and other advertising matter
Samples forwarded on request
Advise us of your territory interested in, and we will wire our terms

LIFE PHOTO FILM CORPORATION
Executive Offices: 220 W. 42nd St., New York
Phone, Bryant 7852
Studio and Laboratory: Grantwood, N. J.
Phone, Cliffside 323

Perfect Laboratory Work Is as Essential to Perfect Pictures as Photography, Acting or Story

With our superior laboratory, constructed to meet every requirement of the trade, we guarantee all work intrusted to us.
Our prices based on perfect work.

Developing Negative, 1c. per foot
Printing Positive 4c. per foot
Including Tinting and Toning

Others may quote lower figure, but as a rule "what is cheap, is dear."

COMMERCIAL MOTION PICTURES CO., Inc.
Laboratory, Grantwood, N. J. Phone, Cliffside 323
Executive Offices, 220 West Forty-second Street, New York City Phone, Bryant 7852

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
WILLIAM FOX

Productions Extraordinary

NOW BOOKING

THE WALLS OF JERICHO, by Alfred Sutro, with Edmund Breese and an all-star cast. This production was produced by JAMES K. HACKETT at the Hackett Theatre, New York, and ran 550 performances.

THE THIEF, by Henri Bernstein, with DOROTHY DONNELLY, creator of "Madame X," as produced by Charles Frohman at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, with Margaret Illington and Kyrle Bellew. Played to capacity for two years.

THE IDLER, by C. Hadden Chambers, with CHARLES RICHMAN and Cathrine Countiss, as produced by Daniel Frohman with an all-star cast at the Lyceum Theatre, New York.

SAMSON, by Henri Bernstein (not the biblical play), with WILLIAM FARNUM, as produced by Charles Frohman at the Criterion Theatre, New York, with William Gillette and Constance Collier and had a remarkable run.

A FOOL THERE WAS, by Porter Emerson Browne, with Edward Jose and Thedda Barra, as produced by Klaw and Erlanger at the Liberty Theatre, New York. ROBERT HILLIARD'S greatest triumph.

COMING! The Children of the Ghetto With WILTON LACKAYE

and DAVID BELASCO'S

The Girl I Left Behind Me
With ROBERT EDESON

Some of the Biggest Hits in 20 Years

The Box Office Attraction Co.

William Fox, President

Executive Offices: 130 W. 46th Street, New York

NEW YORK, 130 West 46th St. Phone Bryant 7810.

CHICAGO, Malleys Bldg. Phone Central 1716.

CLEVELAND, Columbus Bldg. Phones Main 5677; Central 6560 R.

PHILADELPHIA, 1333 Vine St. Phone Walnut 4513-4.

DALLAS, 1097 Commerce St. Phone South Western Main 3966.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jewellers Exchange Bldg. Phone Northwestern Nicklet 2408.

ST. LOUIS, 1632 Olive St. Phones Bell-Tambel 755; Kinloch, Delmar 4363.

SAN FRANCISCO, 107 Golden Gate Ave. Phone Market 4880.

PITTSBURGH, 121 Fourth Ave. Phone Court 1322.

SYRACUSE, Eckel Theatre Bldg. Phone Warren 119.

BOSTON, 10-12 Piedmont St. Phone Oxford 6254.

KANSAS CITY, 928 Main St. Phones Bell, Main 1008; Home, Main 7233.

DENVER, Ideal Bldg. Phone Main 5071.

SEATTLE, 1214 Third Ave. Phone Elliott 1039.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, McIntyre Bldg.

In writing to advertisers please mention MOTOGRAPHY
Power’s Cameragraph
No. 6 A

Has maintained its supremacy since the inception of the motion picture business, through sheer force of merit. In it are to be found more points than can be discovered elsewhere, and it approaches closer to absolute perfect projection than any other machine.

Projection
Power’s has developed this to the highest point of efficiency—pictures without flicker, clear and steady.

Parts
Interchangeable, easy of access and constructed of the best material that money can buy and all made by us, bearing our name and guarantee.

Operation
So delicately adjusted that a child may run it, though it always does a man’s work and without noise.

No More Dark Screens
Power’s 6 A is equipped with our patented loop setter device which will reset the lower loop automatically without stopping the machine.

THESE ARE BUT A FEW POINTS WHICH MAKE FOR

Power’s Supremacy

Write for Catalog M

Nicholas Power Company
NINETY GOLD STREET, NEW YORK CITY
IN THE NAME OF THE PRINCE OF PEACE

FOUR ACTS OF GRIPPING DRAMA AND THRILLING SPECTACLES PRODUCED UNDER THE DIRECTION OF

J. SEARLE DAWLEY

LAURA SAWYER
AND ROBERT BRODERICK

SECURE THIS EXTRAORDINARY FEATURE THROUGH
WORLD FILM CORPORATION

REleased December 7th
MR. G. M. ANDERSON

Known all around the world as "BRONCHO BILLY" is presented in

"When Love and Honor Called"

(In 3 Acts)

By Frank Blyton, author of "What Happened to Mary?"

This fifth Essanay complete prize mystery play produced in conjunction with The Ladies' World is a thrilling drama of western frontier life, with a beautiful underlying love plot. The complete story with the exception of one paragraph will appear in the February issue of The Ladies' World. Large prizes are being offered by the magazine for the best written lost paragraph. It can be found only in the Essanay film. 5,000,000 readers will look for it to solve the mystery.

Released January 15 through the feature department of the GENERAL FILM CO.

—

MR. FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

The man voted the world's most popular photoplayer is presented in

"THE BATTLE OF LOVE"

(In Three Acts)

By Mrs. Wilson Woodrow

This complete prize mystery play is a wholesome type of the triangular love tangle, full of dramatic situations and of intense interest.

RELEASED THROUGH FEATURE DEPARTMENT GENERAL FILM CO.

Released Monday, January 4

"Sweedie and the Sultan's Present"

Sweedie's dream almost proves fatal to her husband.

Released Tuesday, January 5

"The Gallantry of 'Jimmy' Rogers"

How the ever chivalrous "Jimmy" is made the victim of a huge joke. Adapted from The Smart Set Magazine.

Released Wednesday, January 6

The Fable of "The City Grafter and the Unprotected Rubes"

By George Ade

How three city con men found that it took the country Yaps to get their bank rolls.

Released Thursday, January 7

"The Battle of Snakeville"

Slippery Slim and Mustang Pete join forces and encounter the inhabitants of Snakeville.

Released Friday, January 8

"Surgeon Warren's Ward"

(In Two Acts)

A thrilling drama of love and intrigue in army life with Richard C. Travers and Ruth Stonehouse.

Released Saturday, January 9

"Broncho Billy and the Claim Jumpers"

(Reg. U. S. Patent Office)

A Western drama featuring Mr. G. M. Anderson.

MR. G. M. ANDERSON

is presented in

"The Tell-Tale Hand"

TO THE PHOTOPLAY PUBLIC

The Essanay News, a newspaper filled with human interest stories of Essanay players, both on and off the screen, is published every other week. Subscription price 75c a year.